SOCCER 1985

PREVIEW OF 1985

The 1985 outlook is bright for the Bruin Boosters. A good nucleus of returning players plus a number of fine freshmen give optimism. Returning Players: Paul Beck and Daryl Moore head the list of returning players. Both made the All-Far West team during their first year of varsity competition and will be counted on to control the field. Jim Quatier, who was brilliant in the goal last year, will be back to repel shots for the Bruins. Dan Hyatt, a hard-nosed defenseman, is back. Dan played hurt all year, but still was able to contribute greatly to the Bruin defense. Ken Sutton's versatility will be a big asset to the Bruin cause this season. New Bruins for 1985: The new Bruins are headed by Andy LaVeine, a midfielder from Tigard, Ore., who has played on the Oregon Select team, and Steve Benson, from Seattle Christian High, an All-Nisqually League performer at midfield. Giving some scoring punch to the Bruins will be Tim Hyatt, a speedster from Grants Pass, Lance Mitchell of Seattle, Dan Wanek of Grants Pass, Doug Riley, an all-league forward from Everett, Wash., and Chae Yi from Ontario, Ore., via Seoul, Korea. Adolphus Onua, NAIA District 2 high-hurdles champion from Nigeria, could make the Bruin's front line explosive. Dan Seale from North Clackamas Christian, and Rick Renner of Crooked River, Ore., will be counted on to provide tough defense.

1984 IN REVIEW

A 2-10 record may appear to be a disaster, but considering that it was the first year of varsity-level soccer after a five-year layoff, the season was not as bad as it might seem. Fielding a team that had virtually no college experience (only four players had played in a college game prior to 1984), the Bruins battled through a tough NAIA District 2 schedule. The biggest weakness, besides lack of experience, was the inability to score goals. The defense kept the Bruins close in most games, but putting the ball into the net was a problem. The Bruins had a number of players honored for their efforts during 1984. Joel Keith was named an NAIA Academic All-American. The senior from Hillsboro was an outstanding player throughout the year and carried a 3.91 GPA in mathematics. He also was named to the NAIA District 2 All-Star soccer team, which included all soccer-playing schools on the West Coast. Keith and Paul Beck were named co-MVP for the team, Jon Guenther was voted Most Inspirational, and Dan Hyatt was selected as Most Improved.

COACHES

Paul Berry: A native of Los Angeles, Berry is starting his second year as coach of the Bruins. Berry comes into the 1985 season with a career soccer coaching record of 44 wins, 32 losses, 5 ties. Berry coached at Cedarville College three years, leading the Yellow Jackets to three Mid-Ohio conference titles and two NAIA District 22 championships. He coached in the All-Ohio North-South College Senior Bowl and was named NAIA District 22 and Mid-Ohio Conference Coach of the Year three times. Berry then moved back to Los Angeles to head the soccer program at Los Angeles Baptist College for two years. After a time in college administration and private business, Berry returned to the coaching ranks last year to help start the soccer program at George Fox College.

Berry attended Biola University and California State Long Beach. He holds a B.A. and M.A. in physical education from CSLB. He also holds a USSFA coaching license. Berry also is involved with Athletes in Action, coaching and directing summer teams that travel throughout the world using athletics as a means to share the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

Tim Tsohantaridis: A native of Greece, Tsohantaridis joins the George Fox staff this year in a combination role. Besides coaching soccer, he also is Director of Christian Life/Chaplain. Tsohantaridis' soccer experience is broad. A four-year letterman at Barrington College, he played in the Senior Bowl soccer game in Miami in 1976. In 1973 he was a member of the U.S. National team and in 1977 he played for the New England Team of the NASL.

Tsohantaridis gave up his professional soccer career to study at seminary with the goal of going into full-time ministry. He was head soccer coach at Barrington College in 1980 and recently coached at North Ridgeville High School in Ohio, while also pastoring a church in that community.

ABOUT GEORGE FOX COLLEGE

George Fox College is the outgrowth of a desire by early Willamette Valley Quaker settlers who established Pacific Academy in 1885 for the Christian education of their children. The college division was organized in 1891 to provide more advanced instruction for students. In 1949, because of the many colleges in the Northwest with Pacific in their name, the College was renamed George Fox in honor of the founder of the Friends (Quaker) Church. The College is governed by a 42-member Board of Trustees elected by Northwest Yearly Meeting of Friends Church, which comprises more than 8,000 members in 57 churches in Oregon, Washington, and Idaho.

The 60-acre rural, tree-shaded campus a half-hour drive from Portland has undergone major expansion in the last seven years with nine new buildings constructed at a total investment of nearly $10 million. The new facilities include a $2.7 million sports complex, an $800,000 academic building, two residence halls in a $1.25 million project, a $1.3 million fine arts/religion center, a $170,000 television center, a $520,000 dining commons/student center expansion, a $320,000 residence hall, and a $2.6 million chapel/auditorium opened in the fall of 1982. A new $100,000 all-weather track has been added, along with a new athletic field complex including baseball field, two softball diamonds and soccer field, completed in 1981.

Accredited by the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools, the College offers 27 majors in six divisions: Education, Fine and Applied Arts, Language Arts, Natural Science, Religion, and Social Science. George Fox is one of 13 members of the national Christian College Consortium. The College has a student-faculty ratio of 15/1.

George Fox students come from 18 states and 5 foreign countries. Nearly 40 religious denominations are represented on campus.

Alumni of George Fox are primarily in service-oriented vocations of Christian ministries, education, social work, and medical fields. The College's most prominent alumnus is the late President Herbert Hoover, who attended Pacific Academy.

GFC ATHLETICS

Intercollegiate athletics is an integral part of the overall education program at George Fox. Men's varsity athletic teams represent the College in baseball, basketball, track, cross country, and soccer. Women students compete in volleyball, basketball, track, softball, and cross country.

George Fox College competes as an independent on the varsity level. Its schedules are coordinated with the Northwest Conference and with other independents in the Northwest. George Fox is a member of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA), District 2, and the National Christian College Athletic Association, District 7.

For students not participating in the varsity program, GFC has a complete intramural program including flag football, basketball, volleyball, softball, tennis, and racquetball.
