Minutes of Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends 1937

1. Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends, met, in the providence of God, in its forty-fifth annual session, at Newberg, Oregon, at 9:30 A. M., June 9, 1937.

2. The meeting settled into a period of devotion and Helen Cammack, our missionary from Bolivia offered prayer. Other Friends expressed thanks for the presence of God in our midst and for the privilege of attending the session, and voiced an earnest desire for the leading of the Holy Spirit throughout the sessions of the Yearly Meeting. The Presiding Clerk set forth the importance of movement which is real progress. He spoke also of the advantage of studying the past in order to gain an impetus for future accomplishments.

Portland Quarterly Meeting requests that instructions be printed on report blanks for the Education Committee indicating the school year to be reported.

It is also requested that report blanks be correlated so that certain items do not overlap—that is, on different reports asking the number of resident members, the answers do not agree.

Taken from the minutes of Portland Quarterly Meeting held Sixth Month Fifth, 1937.

15. The reports on the State of Society from Quarterly Meetings were read, a summary of which follows:

Summary of the Reports on the State of Society.

The meetings expressed praise to their Heavenly Father in the many manifestations of His grace and blessings. All the meetings report that the meetings for worship have been regularly held and for the most part well attended. Some express regret that the prayer meetings and business meetings are not so well attended. Most of the members live true and consistent lives and are careful in the training of the children under their care. The practice of daily Bible reading and prayer is observed in most of the families of the meetings. Some meetings express regret that some of their members attend places of amusement inconsistent with Friends teaching.

The members of the meeting take an active interest in the cause of peace and temperance and abstain from the manufacture and sale of intoxicating beverages.

Most of the meetings speak highly of the work of their young people in the local services and in outpost work. Radio services have been conducted by some meetings. Services have also been held in missions and jails. Several meetings reported revival meetings which were definitely owned of the Lord. The pastoral care and preaching of the Word has been satisfactory.

16. The Clerk gave instructions to the Representatives as follow:

(1) To propose to the next session of the meeting names of persons to serve as Presiding Clerk, Recording Clerk, Reading Clerk and Announcing Clerk.

(2) To determine a ratio for raising funds and distributing documents.

(3) To propose funds to be raised for church work, and to nominate a Friend to serve as Treasurer for the ensuing year.

(4) To propose the name of one person in each Quarterly Meeting to receive and distribute documents.

(5) To propose names of persons to serve on the Printing Committee.

17. At the inspirational hour Albert L. Copeland brought a message from John 1:38 emphasizing the thought of dwelling with Christ.

18. The meeting adjourned until 2:00 P. M.

WEDNESDAY, 2:00 P. M.

19. The meeting convened according to adjournment, and spent a few minutes in devotion.

20. The Representatives presented the names of the following persons to serve the Yearly Meeting as Clerks. The Yearly Meeting approved:

Presiding Clerk: Edward Mott.
Recording Clerk: Mary C. Sutton.
Reading Clerk: Milo C. Ross.
Announcing Clerk: Walter C. Cook.

21. An exigency has arisen as only one auditor is present and the clerk presented the matter to the meeting. The name of J. Harlan Smith was approved to assist the auditor.

22. The meeting extended a vote of appreciation for the work of Sophia E. Townsend as Recording Clerk and Frederick Baker as Reading Clerk.

23. An invitation was extended from Newberg Quarterly Meeting to the Yearly Meeting to attend its fiftieth anniversary to be held at the regular Quarterly Meeting at Newberg in November.

24. A communication was read from Portland Quarterly Meeting relative to the emergency which may arise in connection with a possible future war and with the training of young men for a particular service, such as the relief of distress and first aid. It is the wish of the meeting that this matter be referred to the Peace Committee and that they should formulate some plan of action to be presented to the meeting at a later session. Joseph G. Reece was to present this matter to the Peace Committee.

CHRISTIAN STEWARDSHIP

25. At an hour devoted to the Stewardship department, Marie Haines, the Superintendent presented the following report:

Number of members in Yearly Meeting.....	2,924
Number of Tithers last year.....	700
Number of Tithers this year.....	744
Number of Storehouse Leagues.....	3
Number of members in Leagues.....	101
Number of pages of literature distributed.....	200

Prune Hill reports of tithers. Mrs. Elizabeth Braithwaite, Superintendent of Portland Quarterly Meeting Stewardship Department, felt a special concern for this work the past year. She has spoken in thirteen monthly meetings and at three Quarterly Meeting sessions very acceptably. The Yearly Meeting Superintendent accompanied her, also speaking some each time. Chester Hadley visited each monthly meeting in Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting bringing the stewardship message. Greenleaf monthly meeting observed a stewardship month, presenting the subject each Sunday in Christian Endeavor, Sunday School and church. Two monthly meetings held study classes. Five dollars was received during the year and spent in the interest of the work.

Marie Haines, Superintendent

Joseph G. Reece sang a solo, "Speak, My Lord." Marie Haines gave a demonstration showing the importance of tithing and bringing all the tithe into the storehouse.

Milo Ross talked on the general subject of tithing and presented a booklet that he had prepared on the tithing problem of the farmer.

Helen Cammack spoke on tithing as practised in Bolivia.

LITERATURE

26. Grace Hadley, the Superintendent of Literature had charge of this department. She read selections from Thomas A. Kempis' book, "The Imitation of Christ" showing that in Jesus there is no disappointment. Francis and Leah Ohse sang a duet, "Christ is Not a Disappointment."

The Literature Committee reported that they had communicated with Herman Macy in regard to his paper, "Friends and Communion." It seemed best because this paper had been printed in the Friendly Endeavor and because of the expense of printing to let the matter drop. The report of the Literature Department was read and accepted by the meeting as follows:

Number of tracts distributed.....	9,354
Number of papers distributed	4,023
Number of libraries.....	25
Number of books in libraries	3,008

There have been eighty books loaned by individuals and a number of the booklet, "Why Baptizeth Thou?" have been sold or given away. A great number of papers have been given to jails and hospitals.

Grace Hadley, Superintendent.

Albert L. Copeland gave an address on the subject of literature, in which he showed that the literature that lasts has beauty, truth and universality of the qualities of human nature, and all these are in their noblest forms in the Bible.

TEMPERANCE

37. The work of the Temperance Department was presented by Harold P. Mills, the Superintendent of that Department. He mentioned some of the new difficulties that the people are facing and the need for a united front. His report was accepted.

Esther Miller told of the work that the young people did in the Newberg Campaign to vote Newberg dry.

Permission was granted the Superintendent to add to the report as the reports from the meetings come in.

Hayword Johnson spoke on the activities of the Anti-Liquor League. The League is planning three objectives for the coming year: to organize a Junior Anti-Liquor League; to pass a law prohibiting liquor advertising, and a law prohibiting minors from going into a store that sells liquor.

Monthly Meetings reporting regular temperance features on Temperance Sunday	18

Many of our members in the three quarterly meetings in Oregon have cooperated in the work of the Oregon Anti-liquor League, and many of the women throughout the Yearly Meeting have been active in the W. C. T. U. Two illustrated temperance addresses and a moving picture program depicting the effects of alcohol were presented at Pacific College during the year. Several temperance sermons, addresses, demonstrations, dramas, etc., have been presented outside our denomination. A temperance department in the Friendly Endeavor was suggested by the Temperance Department of Portland Quarterly Meeting. Many members of Portland Quarterly Meeting either went in person or wrote letters to the City Council of Portland protesting against gambling and gambling devices. No official report was received from Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting. The Temperance Department there has been very active. Among other things they have conducted radio programs and the Quarterly Meeting Superintendent and others connected with the W. C. T. U. have made alcohol education demonstrations before four thousand school children and high school pupils.

During the years of partial prohibition a generation of young people grew up who were not here in the days of the old saloon or at least cannot remember the wreckage and devastation it produced. During those years alcohol education almost vanished completely from the schools; and the churches and Sunday Schools relaxed in their activity. The result has been that when the eighteenth amendment was repealed, thousands of young thrill-hunters, ignorant of the effects of alcohol, thought of experimenting with liquor as a mere lark. Any attempt to restore prohibition, must, therefore, begin with an educational program among the young people, especially those of high school and college age. The Yearly Meeting Superintendent of this department has, accordingly undertaken the educational side of this matter as his special work. It proved to be almost impossible to complete the work he had planned for this year but most of the Yearly Meeting was covered and several appointments filled outside the Yearly Meeting. In doing this work nearly three thousand miles were traveled and the illustrated lectures presented to nearly fifteen hundred people.

Prohibition can be regained,—provided we follow the proper course, the first steps of which will be to recognize the magnitude of the task then relying upon God's help, to enlist every available ounce of man-power and woman power, old and young and contribute financially, not only liberally but sacrificially and then combine forces and organize for a mighty allied drive. Guerilla warfare carried on by scattered and poorly organized groups will never withstand the advance of the organized liquor interests which have come back with power and energy multiplied many fold. For this reason every Friend residing in Oregon is urged to support to the limit the Oregon Anti-Liquor League, Inc. Those in Idaho and Washington are urged to combine with similar organizations for the purpose of presenting a united and thoroughly organized front against the encroachments of the liquor traffic.

But important as this is, why should the Temperance Department confine its attention to "Public Enemy No. 1" and ignore that rapidly growing horror, the Narcotic traffic? In 1936 the drinking people of America spent the stupendous sum of $3,500,000,000.00, (yes three billion five hundred million dollars) for alcoholic beverages, but in the same year the drug addicts of this country spent $1,825,000,000.00, for "dope."

Marijuana, relatively new in this country, is another thing that has come to plague us. This substance comes from the deadly loco-weed. The active principle in this drug tends to produce criminal insanity, giving the victim, an irresistible impulse to kill and commit other acts of violence. In many cases a single indulgence is sufficient to fix the habit for life.

Tobacco hardly needs space here, but the superintendent believes this department should at least provide materials for instruction covering all these plagues.

The most interesting feature of this report is reserved until the last.

It is the account of the splendid work done by the young people of Newberg which resulted in John Barleycorn's hasty retreat from town. If you want a job done that requires action get the young people at it. Miss Esther Miller was the leader in this battle and her report follows:

REPORT OF NEWBERG YOUTH MOVEMENT ACTIVITIES.

The young people of various churches in Newberg organized under the leadership of Friends young people in a campaign which resulted in causing Newberg to become a "dry" town.

During this campaign advertisements were run in the local newspapers; several sets of handbills were distributed; automobile stickers were given out; poster and essay contests were held; and a play given by the young people.

Over one hundred dollars was raised by the participants in this election and was spent in propaganda informing the Newberg citizens of the actual condition in regard to the sale of alcoholic beverages, their deteriorating effect and lack of usefulness as a means of creating civic revenue.

Esther Miller
President of Newberg Youth Movement.

The superintendent wishes to take this opportunity to express his deep appreciation and thanks to every one who has cooperated in any way in the work of this department.

Harold P. Mills
Superintendent.

This report does not contain the activities of Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting.

38. Hubert C. Mardock and his wife Audrey sang a duet, "I am Naturalized for Heaven Now." Albert L. Copeland brought a second inspirational talk from John 6:68 showing that Christ alone has the words of eternal life.

The meeting adjourned to meet at 2:00 P. M.

THURSDAY, 2:00 P. M.

39. The meeting convened at the appointed hour and engaged in a period of silent devotion.

EVANGELISTIC AND CHURCH EXTENSION

40. The General Superintendent of Oregon Yearly Meeting, Chester A. Hadley, read his annual report on the work of the Yearly Meeting. The report was accepted and a rising vote of appreciation was expressed. The report is as follows:

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE GENERAL SUPERINTENDENT

Introduction

To draw a word picture of the general conditions of Oregon Yearly Meeting is rather difficult although extremely interesting. As I set myself for the preparation of this Annual Report I have prayed earnestly that we might face the responsibility honestly and make those needed improvements which the report will disclose.

Financial Analysis

The action of the Yearly Meeting last year which changed our financial relationship and made the United Budget more nearly a United Budget in fact has been an interesting experiment throughout the year. We are convinced that the plan is working and when it is more generally understood will be very much more efficient than the divided program which we had prior to 1936. Briefly stated the change which was made last year was as follows:

All money sent by the Monthly Meetings to our Yearly Meeting Treasurer marked as United Budget was divided between the home and foreign work on the basis of their askings. This year the division was approximately sixty per cent to the foreign missionary work in Bolivia and forty per cent to our Church Extension work at home. All designated amounts were used as directed. As we study the receipts which will appear in our treasurer's report we discover that the Missionary Board suffered more from this action than the Evangelistic Board. The total askings for the Missionary Board was $4,000.00 and the total askings for the Evangelistic and Church Extension Board was $2,500.00. The total receipts from the United Budget was $5,159.52. Of this amount the Missionary Board received $3,009.66; the Evangelistic Board $1,914.86 and the balance of $235.00 being divided among the various Boards.

The Missionary Board, however, was favored by receiving special designated gifts for its regular program to the amount of $582.88 which brings our total receipts for the regular program to $3,592.54, leaving a shortage $409.46 and for the first time in the history of our Missionary Program we have failed to meet the regular obligations of the salaries in full to our missionaries on the field. We find ourselves three fourths of one month's salaries in arrears in this present time, which means $250.00. We have until September to make this shortage up, but bear in mind that the salary consideration of $335.00 per month must be kept up as well. The total response however to our Missionary Program has been most gratifying. We faced the heavy responsibility of the transportation of the Tamplins and Helen Cammack amounting to $1,200.00 as well as the purchase of property and the erection of a chapel amounting to $1,210.65. Of this later amount, however, all but $300.00 was a special gift from one individual. The total amount raised for our missionary work by the Yearly Meeting amounted to $6,091.98 or an increase of $1,638.50 over that of last year.

The Evangelistic Board fared better although they did not receive the total amount of their askings. The reason for this was because they did not appropriate the entire amount. It appears now as though we will be able to pay all of the outpost men in full for their year's work. The total received for the Evangelistic and Church Extension Board from all sources was $2,056.59 and it is interesting to note that the total receipts of last year for all purposes in the Yearly Meeting were $9,684.65, while this year the total amounted to $11,288.62 or an increase of $1,603.97 which is largely accounted for in the increase in the missionary department.

The total receipts for the Fixed Expense amounted to $2,494.74. The total amount of Fixed Expense for the year 1936 and 1937 was $2,385.00 which reveals the fact that many of the Monthly Meetings are taking care of the amounts which they were behind in previous years. We are still carrying on our books indebtedness incurred years ago when the Evangelistic Board's appropriation was included in Fixed Expense. There has been the desire of the Financial Secretary and the Treasurer to include each year in this fund a sufficient amount to retire that indebtedness and decrease the interest which has amounted to a considerable sum since the loan was first negotiated. It was gratifying to see an increase this year over the actual askings of $109.74. If every meeting would honestly face the amount of Fixed Expense which they owe for years that have passed and turn it into the treasurer it would reduce this indebtedness almost half and not necessitate an increase in our Fixed Expense to carry the balance.

Church Extension Analysis

As we turn our attention to this important phase of the work of our Yearly Meeting it can be said along with the expressions of last year, "It has been another year of expansion." Although the number of outposts this year are not as many as last, this is not an indication of any lack of interest. Some of the outposts not reporting to us officially are still in operation, carrying on under Monthly Meetings or under the auspices of Gospel Band work of the Christian Endeavor organization. However, those points which we are serving and the open doors which we are contemplating entering, present to Oregon Yearly Meeting a challenge such as she has never faced before. When one realizes just what is happening to this great northwest country, the devastation of the middlewest states, followed by the attempt of the government to re-settle all of the families involved in catastrophes, has made its impression upon every phase of life here in the northwest and we find ourselves facing the problem of ministering to these people who belong to meetings in the middle west and who are now seeking homes in our midst. I am quite sure that before we properly approach this problem it will be necessary for the Yearly Meeting to establish a colonization committee, composed of thoughtful business men, whose duty it will be to inform meetings throughout the eastern and western section of our country of the possibilities here and of places where they might locate to advantage to themselves and to the Church.

Two Outstanding Points Discussed

There are two outstanding points now under consideration that will illustrate this point perhaps better than any other. Last year's report included an interesting account of the East Bench Vale Meeting. This Meeting has passed through a serious experience this year, losing four of their families who moved to another location where they have established a meeting. It is a project resulting from the Owyhee Dam, four miles north of Ontario, called the "Dead Ox Flat." These two, East Bench Vale and Dead Ox Flat are offering wonderful opportunities to the farmer-minded of our people who will dare to pioneer and face the hardships of beginning days.

On Sunday, May 16, of this year, four Quaker families gathered together at Dead Ox Flat to start a Sunday School. Twenty-three persons were present at this time. Two young Quaker boys who have felt the call to preach the Gospel are members of two of the families mentioned and they are alternating every other Sunday in preaching at this new point. One man in Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting purchased an acre and a third of ground of desirable property in the center of the tract and has presented it to Oregon Yearly Meeting to be used for the erection of a building for worship and for a parsonage. Other Quaker families are contemplating moving to this section and I fully expect that within the next few years we will have an established Monthly Meeting at this point.

An appeal will soon be presented to the Yearly Meeting for funds for the erection of a church at Dead Ox Flat and if the response is as generous as it has been in the past we will soon have a suitable place of worship for these people who have shown themselves courageous in their venturing out to establish homes and their desire to worship the Lord and to minister to the spiritual needs of the new field.

Church Extension Analysis

While Vale suffered a serious loss by the removal of these four families, Zenas Perisho is doing excellent work in that community. I visited that field recently and was delighted to see the improvement that they have made to the church since its dedication.

The pastor has had work for the past year on a ranch just across the road which has made it possible for them to live more comfortably, but it has hindered the pastoral work he would like to see accomplished. I predict for this place a steady development and growth and believe that the Yearly Meeting was under the direction of the Lord in establishing work in this field. It is a pioneer venture, but nearly every tract in that large project has been taken up and homes have been erected on many of them.

Cour De 'Alene and Spokane Have Future Possibilities

The committee made a careful investigation of openings at Couer de 'Alene, Idaho and Spokane, Washington and are convinced that doors are opening to us in these two places. It should be said that the work at Couer de 'Alene is fourteen miles south of that city on the North and South Highway in Idaho.

On May 9 I visited this congregation, preached for them in the morning and afternoon. I was delighted with the character of the meeting and with the response of the congregation to the presentation of the truth. A real revival spirit was on the people and three people knealt at the altar in the afternoon service. These people have gone into that district from the midwest and Roy Dunagan, who was their pastor in South Dakota was asked to take the work. It has been carried on in an interdenominational way and the people, with their pastor, are eager to work under a denominational leadership, and while it has not been completely settled it is hoped that within the next few weeks the entire congregation will become a part of Oregon Yearly Meeting with Roy Dunagan serving them as their pastor. Roy Dunagan is a Friends minister and is transferring his membership to Lents Friends Church within the limits of Oregon Yearly Meeting.

The opening of work in Spokane presents an entirely different problem and will have to be cared for along different lines. A committee is working with Harold Lund in the matter and have several propositions which may develop in the near future.

Ardenvoir, Washington Secures Pastor

When Robert Morrill resigned at Ardenvoir last year to take up pastoral work at Marion, it seemed for a time as though the work had entirely disappeared but as the weeks passed there was evidenced a real desire to have at least a Sunday School and so within the community itself there came the urge to carry on and an announcement was made that Sunday School would again be held. Two families of Friends lived in the community and they were active in the beginning of the revival of the Sunday School. There was a hearty response and it increased in size as the Sundays passed. It soon became evident that they needed leadership and Harry Hadley, Monthly Meeting Evangelistic and Church Extension Chairman who had started the work, made inquiry in the community and found that they were anxious for someone to come and help them. On the other hand God was preparing the way and putting upon the heart of Richard Brown of Salem, Oregon, one of our young preachers, a real concern to enter this field and immediately following the sessions of the Yearly Meeting he will take up the work and minister to the people in that needy district. This place needs our prayers and particularly should we remember Richard Brown as he goes to minister to these fine people.

We now come to some of the older points. Some of them that perhaps seem a bit out of line of outpost work in that they have been under the care of the Yearly Meeting for a number of years. But one cannot expect mushroom growth when it comes to establishment of meetings. There must be the time of seed sowing as well as the time of ingathering and establishment of the work before it can truly be called a matured work and able to care for itself.

Woodland, Idaho Meeting Plan Church Home

We find that the work at Woodland, Idaho is steadily although slowly increasing in interest and the people of that community are rallying to the appeal of their pastor for the erection of a new church. They have worshipped for all of these years in the school house, and while it has been perfectly satisfactory, yet the natural desire for every meeting is to have a home of their own. Dillon and Fern Mills are finishing a year of excellent work and we should remember them daily at the throne of grace.

Northeast Tacoma Organizes Monthly Meeting

Northeast Tacoma, under the leadership of Lewis and Myrtle Russell has been organized as a Monthly Meeting during the past year. There is no other church for miles around and so their field is a large one indeed. The church stands as a light house in a community, filled with young people and children, who need the Gospel message.

Survey Made at Kelso During Year

Eugene and Gertrude Hibbs took the pastoral care of Kelso meeting last September. This work has always presented a difficult problem and for a number of years the Board has seriously considered the best move to make relative to its future. Interest and attendance increased from the very start and we now have a Sunday School with an average attendance of thirty-three. However, the meeting for worship does not have as good an attendance as the Sunday School.

A recent survey of the community was made by the pastor who gave to each family a questionnaire asking various questions relative to their attitude towards the work which we are carrying on. About forty percent of these questionnaires were returned answered and out of the forty there was only one that expressed an indifferent attitude towards our continuing th Gospel work in the community. The major portion of these questionnaires filled out came from a cross section of the community and expressed a real concern for us to continue the Sunday School and some of them promised at least moral support and better attendance than in the past.

Vancouver Church Purchases School Bus; Reduces Debt; Increases Sunday School Attendance

The Vancouver Friends Church has shown a remarkable growth under the leadership of Allison Rogers who undoubtedly is reaping where others have sown for that is the way the work of God goes on. Van-cover has long been a part of our outpost program although it has been established as a Monthly Meeting for considerable time. The Church has been placed upon a reducing scale in the matter of support and there remains three years for them to receive help from the Yearly Meeting, unless they reduce their indebtedness entirely before that time, as the understanding with them was that they were to pay off the debt of one thousand dollars on the building and were to receive help until the entire amount was paid. The work of reducing the debt began under the ministry of Chas. Beals and at present has been brought down from one thousand dollars to five hundred and thirty-five dollars.

Recently Vancouver Church purchased a Sunday School Bus for one hundred and sixty-five dollars and each Sunday, Raymond Stone, Sunday School Superintendent, brings in forty children to Sunday School, as a result Vancouver Friends Sunday School is now over the one hundred mark in attendance.

Again we come to some of the newer outposts in the Yearly Meeting, having told about those that have been established for a longer period of time.

Johnstown Outpost Plans Revival For Summer.

Over at Johnstown, Idaho, Curtis Morse reports a recent increase in Sunday School and Church attendance. This is a very difficult field and they desire very much to have a revival meeting there this summer. Arrangements are being made for such a series of meetings if possible.

Nampa Church Prospers; Ideal Cited in Development of the Monthly Meeting.

Nampa Friends Church has had a unique history in its development from an outpost to an established Monthly Meeting. It became a Monthly Meeting so soon that one is liable to think of it along with the older established meetings in Boise Valley.

One of the outstanding things about Nampa Friends Church has been its financial status. Under the leadership of Edward Harmon the Church began about two and a half years ago. The newly organized church faced the responsibility of purchasing a Church building for $750.00. In the April issue of the Friendly Endeavor an appeal was made by Edward Harmon pastor of the Church for help in financing the building. In response to that appeal over sixty dollars came in to the treasury of Nampa Friends Church. The Church still has $287.50 to pay on the building and they have set themselves to raise that money during the next year.

Certainly it is unusual for a church to face the responsibility of financing themselves completely from the very start as Nampa Church has done. They have never received a cent of money from the Yearly Meeting for pastoral support and, although having received a small amount from the Quarterly Meeting, yet they turned more money back into the Quarterly Meeting Treasury than they received.

Nampa Church is to be highly commended for purchasing a Church Building, establishing a Monthly Meeting, assuming the responsibilities of an established Church toward the Yearly Meeting work and paying the salary of their pastor right from the start.

Rose Valley Plans New Buildings; Progress Phenomenal.

Oscar Brown who closed his year's work at Kelso, Washington last September, moved into the Rose Valley community out of Kelso to become the pastor of a most interesting work in that community. Five acres of ground have been purchased by the Yearly Meeting. Oscar has furnished the lumber for a parsonage and a garage and has done most of the work himself in the erection of the garage in which they are now living. They will soon begin operations on the parsonage and it is hoped before fall to have them comfortably housed in the new building. A set of plans has already been drawn by Donald Edmundson for the parsonage.

God has blessed the efforts put forth in this place and souls have been saved during the year. They are meeting the challenge of this rapidly developing community in a remarkable way. New homes are continually being built upon small acreages, the community being settled mostly by young married people who get their income from laboring in the large Longview sawmills.

The devotion and consecration of Oscar and Ruth Brown with their two babies to take care of, deserves our heartiest commendation. They need our help and our prayers and we must not fail them or any of our outpost workers.

Rosemere Improves Property; Sunday School Attendance Grows Fast

James and Mildred Raymond, members of the Piedmont Friends Church, felt definitely called to undertake the work at Rosemere Friends Church, Vancouver, Washington. Miller and Hazel Porter left this promising field to become pastors of the South Salem Monthly Meeting. The Raymonds have labored faithfully during the past months and the Sunday School attendance has increased. They have shown a fine spirit of cooperation in the program of the Yearly Meeting and have added materially to the improvement of the parsonage, making it much more comfortable than it was.

James Raymond is a postal clerk in the Post Office in Portland, Oregon but lives in the parsonage at Vancouver in the Rosemere district and drives back and forth to work daily. He has given liberally of his tithe to the improvement of the parsonage and Mildred has done fine work in many departments of the Church.

Prune Hill Circuit Prospers During Year.

Prune Hill Extension work, under the leadership of Frederick Baker, has become the center of outpost activities touching communities for a distance of twenty-five miles along the Columbia river, reaching from West Mill Plain, five miles east of Vancouver, Washington, to Mt. Pleasant, twenty-three miles east of Vancouver. This strip of territory is from five to ten miles in width. Three well established outposts are now in operation with a Sunday School enrollment near the two hundred mark. Glen Haworth, a student at Portland Bible Institute, has had charge of the work at West Mill Plain. Edward Haldy and Merle Green who graduates from Portland Bible Institute this year have had the leadership at Mt. Pleasant. Frederick Baker is completing his third year as pastor at Prune Hill Friends outpost.

God's hand of blessing has been upon the outpost work out from Prune Hill. Recently I conducted a morning service at Prune Hill and helped in an afternoon service at Mt. Pleasant which was under the direction of the Gospel Band. Following testimonies from the Gospel Band I gave the message and six people knelt at an altar of prayer. The work at Prune Hill has been conducted in a most ideal manner. They have caught the vision of Church Extension work and of the expansion of the kingdom of God.

One contributing factor, which has made the work possible, has been the fine attitude of the Camas School Board toward the Constructive work which is being done. They have been very friendly and fair in their dealings with us. Recently an open door at Oak Park, a part of Camas, Washington, attracted the attention of Frederick Baker, who has oversight of the work in that district. Here again the Camas School Board showed its friendly attitude and has granted permission to use the splendid grade school plant at Oak Park for religious services on the basis of two dollars and fifty cents a week for lights, janitor services and heat. Oak Park has a population of several hundred people, has a Grade School enrollment of eighty-five and no Sunday School. A recent survey was made, covering nearly two hundred families, and it disclosed a strong desire on the part of the people for a local Sunday School and Church. This field will make the fourth outpost established in this district.

We plan to enter this field immediately following Yearly Meeting which means that from eight to ten officers and teachers, as well as other workers, must be secured.

Mary Allen Gives Full Time To Parish Work.

We have been very fortunate in having a full time parish worker for the entire field mentioned. Miss Mary Allen, a member of First Friends Church, Portland, Oregon who for years has felt the call to parish work and who has had splendid training in the Portland Bible Institute, University training and as government social work, has been laboring on the field for nearly three years. Her untiring efforts and complete abandonment to the work for which she has felt called is indeed inspiring. Her one consuming passion seems to be to visit in the homes of these communities, to acquaint them with the work of the Sunday School and Church, to bring them to and from services, and most of all to lead them to a definite decision in accepting Jesus Christ as their saviour or sanctifier.

For over a year, Mildred Hadley of First Friends Church has been helping in the work at Prune Hill as Sunday School teacher, Junior Church leader and Christian Endeavor worker and has made a valuable contribution to the work.

Mention should also be made here of the faithful services of Stuart and Violet Richey of Lents Friends Church who have driven nearly one hundred miles each Sunday to help in the work at Mt. Pleasant. They have been a real blessing to the Sunday School there.

Another contributing factor in the success of the outposts has been the indomitable work of Frederick Baker who has had oversight of the home missionary effort ever since its beginning in September 1934, almost three years ago. To him belongs a large share of the credit for the development of the work in this section of our field. His interest in Church Extension is always at white heat.

One would imagine that being secretary to the Superintendent, assistant editor of the Friendly Endeavor and student at College would be enough for any man; to him they are but means to an end. He has endeared himself to the people of the Prune Hill, West Mill Plain and Mt. Pleasant communities and is setting a pace that will challenge anyone in the Yearly Meeting to follow.

Other factors in the success of the Prune Hill work has been the policy of putting everyone who finds Christ as their saviour to work immediately; the publishing of a Church Bulletin; the sending of a parish paper into three hundred homes; the use of several school busses for Sunday School transportation; the major emphasis of evangelism in Gospel Band work and in the regular services of the Church.

Analysis Of Missions

The Missionary Department will of course receive more attention when the Annual Report of our Field Superintendent is given, so this report will deal as usual with the activities at home. We have been faced this year with a tremendous challenge and hard problems, but God's hand has been evidently upon our work and the response of Oregon Yearly Meeting to its missionary program is gratifying to the utmost degree. While I noted the fact we were $250.00 behind on our Missionary support I am fully convinced that before September, which is the end of our pastoral year, we will have this matter cared for. We cannot ask our Missionaries to make the sacrifice they do in the hardships of that difficult country with its high altitude and we at home fail to minister to them in accordance with our agreement. Of course we understand that this is free will, and unless it comes in we cannot pass it on to them, but surely we will not let $250.00 stand between us and the discharge of obligations which the whole Yearly Meeting assumed last year.

We have had also the financial challenge of the transportation of the Tamplins to the field and Helen Cammack's return on her first furlough. This was met without the slightest degree of trouble or unfavorable reaction.

When told that if we would raise $350.00 for the finishing of the purchase of property at La Paz, Bolivia we would receive $750.00 as a gift for the erection of a chapel on that property the Yearly Meeting responded and in a very short time the entire amount was raised so we can honestly say that it has been a great year of financial victory for the Yearly Meeting.

A recent cablegram from the field announced the final transaction on the purchase of the property and by this time no doubt the native workers are preparing the ground, getting everything ready for the erection of the chapel and other buildings which we hope to have erected.

We are also happy to announce the return of Helen Cammack and to report that she is in excellent physical condition, considering the handicaps of the hardships during the four and one half years service in that land.

We are praying that God will strengthen her physically during her stay at home so that she will be better fitted when she returns next year.

Analysis Of Various Boards

This has been a year of unusual activities for many of the boards. The Christian Endeavor department conducts the three annual conferences and meets the needs of our young people in a spiritual and recreational way that is most unusual. As the years have passed since Twin Rocks Conference was started it is gratifying to see the next generation take hold of the work started, carry on, assume leadership and prove the worth of this venture of faith which in its beginning presented so many problems that at times it seemed that the better thing to do was to drop the entire project. Further reports of the Christian Endeavor Department will be heard Saturday night when the president reads his annual report to the young people.

Temperance Department Very Active

The Temperance Department under the leadership of Harold Mills has made a greater contact with most of the Yearly Meeting this year than has been done in many years. It was my pleasure to be with him and hear his lecture on the danger of intemperance and to see the pictures he gave to the young people of the Church, School groups and to the meetings as the way opened throughout the northwest.

Stewardship Department Very Active

The stewardship department also extended its circle of influence in a most satisfactory manner. Under the leadership of Marie Haines visits were made to many of the Monthly Meetings and she, together with Elizabeth Braithwaite who had a real concern to visit meetings, were acceptably received. I was also asked by the Stewardship Superintendent of Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting to visit the Monthly Meetings of that quarter in the interest of tithing. This I did, speaking in all but two of the meetings. These two were visited by Marie Haines and Elizabeth Braithwaite. These stewardship programs will undoubtedly bear fruit in the definite decisions of many to accept the divine plan of tithing as the proper method of dispensing the funds that belong to the Lord.

The other departments carried on their work satisfactory and it has been gratifying to see the increase of interest on the parts of the Superintendents in the work which the Yearly Meeting has asked them to do.

Spiritual Analysis

A study of the tabulated reports from the Yearly Meeting relative to the spiritual victories is very satisfactory. While the sum total of spiritual victories from all sources is approximately the same as that of last year, namely about twelve hundred, yet an analysis of the reports from the various meetings shows an increase of seventy-seven seekers at the altars in our regular Church services during the year. This is indeed encouraging and it should be. It reveals an earnestness on the part of our preachers and people and a real desire to see definite victories won regularly throughout the year. May we seek earnestly to increase this vital part of our program for unless we can point to victories won in the spiritual life we are no better than social organizations. We must accept the great commission of going to the world and telling them the personal message of redemption through the blood of our Saviour Jesus Christ

A further analysis of the spiritual life and victories of the Church over all of Oregon Yearly Meeting reveals again the fact, as in the years of the past, God has favored us with good pastors, men that are willing to make any sacrifice necessary, men who have felt that urge of, "woe is me if I preach not the GoSpel." A glance through the statistical report which will appear in our Yearly Minutes will show that the average salary for the thirty-two men who receive remuneration for their services is forty-eight dollars and seventy-nine cents per month. One need not look very far in that figure to read stories of sacrifice and of consecration and to feel the real privation which such a limited support must of necessity make. Yet in all of my visits to the various Monthly Meetings I have never heard one word of complaint. Surely God has favored us with a group of Godly men and women whose consuming passion is the salvation of souls.

Superintendent Sounds Warning

I return now to the same note of warning that I gave in my report last year when I called attention to the increase in financial interest and the response given and I called upon people, as I call upon them now, to respond in an earnest way to the actual needs of our pastors. Each one of them faced the depression years cheerfully and in many ways were better supplied because of the purchasing power of the dollar at that time over that of the present. Where it is at all possible I call upon the Monthly Meetings to face this matter and wherever it is within the realms of possibility to make a substantial increase in your pastor's support and again I urge that in the rural meetings where commodities are available and money scarce that the social committee be definitely charged with the responsibility of seeing that provisions are canned or in other ways prepared for the pastor or parish workers. This will mean much to those who are giving their time to extend the kingdom of God. Please do not neglect this. You can enjoy your own provisions so much better this winter if you have the satisfaction of knowing that you have helped your own pastor by sharing with him the things that God has given to you.

Evangelism Fruitful

We have also had Spirit filled Evangelists to stir our hearts to decision. Hubert C. Mardock has again rendered invaluable service in various meetings. Leonard Craven who recently moved into the limits of Oregon Yearly Meeting from Kansas was used throughout the Monthly Meetings of Boise Valley Quarter. Denver B. Headrick held meetings at Vale, Oregon and Star, Idaho. Frederick Baker held a meeting at Mt. Pleasant, Washington. Edward Harmon held a revival at an outpost near Boise, Idaho. Harry Hays conducted a revival service at Riverside Friends Church. Evangelist Wilson of New York held a meeting at Greenleaf Friends Church. Josephine Fich, a member of Vancouver Friends Church who has had special training in Young People's and Children's work was used throughout the limits of Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting this winter in Children's Evangelistic Services. Her work was rich in results and far-reaching in effect as scores of children gave their hearts to the Lord under her excellent leadership. There may have been other evangelists used in other meetings held but we have no report of them.

Pastoral Analysis

A few changes will be made in the pastoral situation this fall. It is impossible at the present time to say who will fill the places vacated. If possible we hope to supply that information before the minutes are printed. Clayton S. Brown who has served Boise Meeting for the past six years has resigned his work in that place. His work during the years has been of a very commendable nature. Upon his entering the field Boise Church was heavily in debt and had received help from the Yearly Meeting in the erection of their Church and during these years they have practically eliminated the indebtedness and the increase in attendance and interests has been notable. Walter and Gladys Cook have also resigned their pastoral care at Star Friends Church, having served in that place for the past three years. Arthur and Elizabeth Haldy accepted the pastoral work at Sherwood and Middleton, Oregon. James and Mildred Raymond entered the work at Rosemere, following the removal of Miller and Hazel Porter to South Salem Friends Church, filling the vacancy rendered there by the resignation of Charles C. Haworth. Milo C. Ross accepted the call to serve as pastor of Greenleaf Meeting following the resignation of Fred Harris. Carey Jessup also accepted the call to serve as pastor at Entiat, Washington. This information is made in this report because it came in too late to be included in the Minutes of 1936-1937.

Analysis Of Publications

A trend in the Yearly Meeting which has been of value has been the growth of the different publications. Sixteen years ago the first issue of the Friendly Endeavor was published. It has had a steady growth during that time and this last year a new plan has been put into effect which seems to be meeting with the favor of the people throughout the Yearly Meeting. It is the combining of the parish paper for different localities with the Friendly Endeavor publication making it possible for a Church to have a parish paper at a very nominal sum. This plan has trebled the size of the paper and doubled its circulation in six months time. It has made possible a frontpiece for the paper and has caused considerable interest and pride in the paper judging by the many new requests for the paper throughout the Yearly Meeting.

This past year the circulation of the Christian Endeavor Lesson helps, published by the Christian Endeavor Union of Oregon Yearly Meeting has almost doubled in circulation, helps being supplied to two other Yearly Meetings aside from our own. It is also of interest to note that many churches are now putting out mimeographed bulletins which are filling a need in the churches using this medium of advertising.

Analysis Of Publicity

In Portland Quarter under the direction of L. Dell Lamb, publicity chairman for Friends, a new point of efficiency has been reached. From every quarter over the Yearly Meeting has sounded forth the thought that "too long Friends have hid their light under a bushel." Through the fine work of Dell Lamb publicity has been given Friends in Portland Quarterly Meeting all out of proportion to the size of the Church. It reveals that newspapers will publish Church news if it is presented in proper journalistic style. The Superintendent would encourage others quarters to take advantage of this open door of opportunity for informing people about the work that Friends are doing in this great northwest.

Personal Analysis

During the months of May, June and July I supplied the pulpit of the Staub Memorial Church in Portland, broadcasting the services each Sunday morning and considered it a real opportunity in the presentation of the Gospel Message. I enjoyed the spiritual fellowship with the fine group of people at this church very much.

I conducted a class at the Quaker Hill Summer Conference at Payette Lakes, Idaho and from there I went east and during the latter part of July I attended the summer conference of the Christian Endeavor Union of Kansas Yearly Meeting at Camp Wood, Kansas. From there I traveled on farther east and was also privileged to attend various monthly meetings and quarterly meetings within the limits of Ohio and Baltimore Yearly Meeting. I was privileged to attend the first service of Western Yearly Meeting and to give a message at that time.

Here at home I was privileged to visit many of the monthly meetings with Carrol and Doris Tamplin who were home on furlough from the field in Bolivia.

The number of sermons, missionary addresses and lectures were one hundred and eighteen. The letters written were one thousand three hundred and fifty. Numerous committee meetings and personal interviews were held. The miles travelled were 30,000.

Surely we can say that this has been a great year. It has not been spectacular, but it has been substantial and the interest in our home and foreign field is such that no longer do we feel any question as to the attitude relative to our program.

As we face this next year with the problems of economic, social and religious stress throughout the world, with many nations on the verge of a collapse and men's hearts failing them because of fear for the things which are happening all about us, may we more than ever adhere to the truism that OUR GOD IS ABLE and that our blessed Lord is the "same yesterday and today and forever," and that we have a refuge in the rock of ages and that under the shadow of the almighty we can put our trust and know that whether He comes or delays His coming we can face the challenge of our work so that when He calls us to Himself either as individuals or a Yearly Meeting we may hear Him say, "Well done."

41. The following communication was received from the Executive Committee:

"The Executive Committee recommends to the Yearly Meeting that Chester A. Hadley be retained as General Superintendent with a salary consideration of $1,500.00, the same as last year, and also travel expense of $250.00."

Oliver Weesner, Pres.
Grace Hadley, Sec'y.

This report was accepted by the meeting by a rising vote.

42. The statistical report of the Evangelistic and Church Extension Board was read in summary by Oliver Weesner, President of the Board. This was approved by the Yearly Meeting and appears in full in the Appendix.

43. Outpost workers were introduced. They told the details of conditions and achievements in their fields; Richard Brown for Ardenvoir; Dillen Mills for Woodland; Margaret Morse for Johnstown; Edward Baker for Center Point, (Idaho); Ruth Brown for Rose Valley; Gertrude Hibbs for Kelso; LeRoy White for Dead Ox Flat; Roy Dunagan for Couer de' Alene; Frederick B. Baker for Prune Hill; Francis Ohse for Salem Heights; Edward Haldy for Mt. Pleasant; Glen Haworth for West Mill Plains; James and Mildred Raymond for Rosemere.

Chester Hadley said that many doors were now open for workers in this great northwest.

"We have audited the accounts and records of the Treasurer of Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends for the year ending May 31, 1937, and we find them to be correct and kept in a very satisfactory manner.

Respectfully submitted,
Cecil F. Hinshaw
Chairman of Auditing Committee.

This was accepted by the meeting.

50. A report from the Executive Committee was as follows:

"The Executive Committee report that they have under consideration the communication from Portland Quarterly Meeting regarding the report blanks, and ask for more time to revise and unify the same."

This report was accepted.

51. The communication from Portland Quarterly Meeting on Ministry and Oversight relative to the matter of recording ministers was acted upon favorably by the meeting it appears below:

"The following recommendation was reported on favorably by the Meeting on Ministry and Oversight of Portland Quarterly Meeting:

Feeling that the steps relative to recording of ministers needs to be clarified, Portland Quarterly Meeting on Ministry and Oversight presents the following statement to the Yearly Meeting on Ministry and Oversight for its consideration and action.

If favorably acted upon we further recommend that the matter be forwarded to the Yearly Meeting for final action.

If both bodies accept the proposition we then propose that the statement be printed in sufficient number to be placed in the remaining disciplines and that they be sent to the Monthly Meetings to be given to those members who have already purchased disciplines .

PROPER STEPS TO FOLLOW IN THE MATTER OF RECORDING MINISTERS IN OREGON YEARLY MEETING OF FRIENDS

Step No. 1:

The local Meeting on Ministry and Oversight should be thoroughly satisfied that the person under consideration has the gift in the ministry. (See page 50, paragraph 1 of chapter 7 on Recording Ministers.)

Step No. 2:

If convinced favorably, the local meeting on Ministry and Oversight sends this information to the Monthly Meeting for its consideration and action. (If the Monthly Meeting does not concur then, the matter is dropped.)

Step No. 3:

If the Monthly Meeting acts favorably, it shall report back to the local meeting on Ministry and Oversight and the person concerned shall be notified by the local meeting on Ministry and Oversight and asked to prepare a written statement of his belief in the fundamental and distinctive doctrines of the Christian faith as held by Friends and recorded in the discipline of Oregon Yearly Meeting of 1934.

Step No. 4:

This written statement together with the action of both the local meeting on Ministry and Oversight and the Monthly Meeting is then forwarded to the Quarterly Meeting on Ministry and Oversight by the clerk of the local meeting on Ministry and Oversight; the written statement to be read at this meeting.

Step No. 5:

Upon receiving such information the Quarterly Meeting on Ministry and Oversight shall appoint a committee to consider the subject as outlined on page 51 and line 17 of the discipline of Oregon Yearly Meeting.

Step No. 6:

This committee shall report to the next Quarterly Meeting on Ministry and Oversight their judgment in the matter. If the decision of the Quarterly Meeting on Ministry and Oversight is favorable to the joint request of the Local Meeting on Ministry and Oversight and the Monthly Meeting, then the Quarterly Meeting on Ministry and Oversight shall forward its action together with the written statement of the candidates belief to the Yearly Meeting on Ministry and Oversight. The matter shall then be referred to the Yearly Meeting Committee on Ministry together with the written statement for investigation and consideration. The Committee on Ministry shall report its findings to the Yearly Meeting on Ministry and Oversight for final action. The reading of the written statement in the Yearly Meeting on Ministry and Oversight shall be optional.

Step No. 7:

The Yearly Meeting on Ministry and Oversight shall inform the Yearly Meeting and the local Monthly Meeting involved of its action.

This recommendation was approved by the Yearly Meeting on Ministry and Oversight and directed forwarded to the Yearly Meeting.

PEACE

52. Levi T. Pennington, Superintendent of Peace, presided at this meeting.

Ward L. Haines read the report of the American Friends Service Committee, which was accepted by the meeting and appears below:

REPORT OF AMERICAN FRIENDS SERVICE COMMITTEE

The first part of our report deals with the work of the Foreign Service Section. The committee maintains Friends centers in four European capitals: Paris, Berlin, Vienna, and Geneva. Peace through better understanding is the object of these International Student Houses. In Vienna, Friends are still administering relief to victims of the civil war of 1934.

The terrible suffering of women and children caused by the tragic civil war in Spain, has drawn the attention of the committee. Workers have been sent to Spain where they have joined with Friends from London in the work of establishing relief agencies.

Social Industrial Section

The home service work is known as the Social-Industrial Section.

During the past summer, 258 young people were volunteer workers in a service of love for unfortunate and underprivileged humanity in depressed communities, without pay, and, in most cases, paying their own expenses. Although the work projects in the twenty institutions and seven work camps were all located in the eastern part of the United States, Oregon was represented by at least a few volunteer workers.

Peace Section

The Peace Section is striving to keep before the world today the historical testimony of Friends that Christianity and war are irreconcilable. During the summer, ten institutes of International Relations, with about 1500 students enrolled, were held in strategic centers of the United States. One was held at Reed College in Portland. These institutes are training schools where peace educators are supplied with the latest peace news and methods for use in their home communities. This section also promotes peace education through support of the Nofrontier News Service, World Events, and Trend of World Affairs. These editorial services and bulletins are estimated to reach more than 11,000,000 readers.

The Emergency Peace Campaign was organized by the Secretary of the Peace Section and others as a national drive to keep the United States out of war. The Service Committee is acting as treasurer of this movement.

Total expenditures for the year were approximately $181,000 an increase of $27,000 over the previous year. The A. F. S. C. receives no Yearly Meeting appropriations. It depends almost entirely upon contributions for its continuance.

Ward L. Haines,
Superintendent.

The Superintendent of the Peace Department then read his report as follows:

REPORT OF PEACE SUPERINTENDENT FOR 1936-37.

We have seen during the past year such marked conditions of "Wars and rumors of wars" that friends of peace, which should include all Friends, have seen the need for redoubled efforts.

The efforts of Friends throughout the Yearly Meeting have taken a number of somewhat new directions during recent years, a number of them along the line of cooperation with other peace agencies rather than strictly denominational efforts. Among these cooperative efforts for peace may be mentioned:

1. The Emergency Peace Campaign. This movement, born in the heart of a Friend, and promoted and manned and financed largely by Friends, has commanded and almost commandeered the services of many workers from other peace organizations, such as the National Council for Prevention of War, the Fellowship of Reconciliation, etc. A number of our members, including the superintendent of peace, have participated in this campaign, which is to continue in some form during the coming year.

2. The Pacific Northwest Conference on International Relations. This enterprise, promoted and sponsored by the Peace Section of the American Friends Service Committee, has a Friend of Oregon Yearly Meeting as its executive secretary, another as its secretary, and still others on its executive committee. The second conference for the Pacific Northwest was held last summer, again with Friends on its program; and a program has been arranged for the conference this coming summer which it is hoped will be still better than the two which have preceded.

3. The National Council for Prevention of war. This organization continues its steady and unflinching work of education and agitation, informing the nation as to the peace situation, promoting right pressure upon those whose actions through the national government can do most to prevent war or produce it, and doing the many other services for the cause of peace which make this such an effective organization.

4. The Fellowship of Reconciliation. This thorough-going pacifist organization has in its membership a number of Oregon Yearly Meeting Friends, who work in this program of uncompromising opposition to all war.

5. The American Friends Service Committee. While this is not wholly a peace agency, its home service, foreign service, etc., are carried on in part for better understanding and peaceable relations between man and man, race and race, nation and nation.

In addition to these organizations and our own yearly meeting peace work, there are not a few Friends who work independently, as individuals, and whose communications to public officers and other peace efforts never get into reports.

It is particularly necessary that we be on the alert these days, lest we may tacitly and by implication permit the nation, including ourselves, to be bound by legislation which is not at all what it purports to be. A bill before Congress which has been widely favored because of its title, is ostensibly intended to "equalize the burdens of war" and to "take the profits out of war," whereas it actually would put into one man's hands the power to determine prices, to draft whom he will, with no exemptions except as he provides them, and contains other objectionable features, aside from the fact that it presupposes the impossibility of preserving peace.

The work of the year as reported shows that there are wide differences in different parts of our field in our attitude toward the peace movement. A number of monthly meetings made no reports whatever to the quarterly meeting superintendents as to any peace work of any kind during the year, while still others frankly admitted that they knew of no peace work done during the year.

From the various quarterly meetings 32 meetings were reported in the immediate interests of peace. These consisted of peace programs, Emergency Peace Campaign meetings and gatherings of other sorts, in which an address on the subject of peace was always a feature.

A total of 10 sermons and addresses were reported, while in some of our Sunday Schools peace teaching is given regularly. Few of the meetings report and distribution of peace literature, but from one quarterly meeting comes the report of the distribution of 2,152 pages of such literature.

Peace periodicals taken include The Messenger of Peace, Peace Action, and World Events, among others. There is no serious effort made in most meetings to secure information as to the number of such periodicals subscribed for.

Salem Quarterly Meeting reports $35.00 raised in the Quarterly Meeting to carry on peace work, and Portland Quarterly Meeting reports $25.00 raised for this purpose. The other quarterly meetings make no report on this point.

Only two of our members are reported as having participated in contests in oratory, debating, or essay writing on the peace question. So far as known or reported none of our members are engaged in military service.

It has been impossible to learn how many communications to government officials on the subject of peace have been sent by meetings or individuals. One quarterly meeting reports three by meetings and nine by individuals. Another reports ten individual communications, and another several. Portland Quarterly Meeting reports the circulation of petitions to get a constitutional amendment on the ballot which would repeal compulsory military training in state supported schools. Posters and bulletins were placed on church bulletin boards in this quarterly meeting and a number of its members attended the Institute of International Relations last summer.

Harold P. Mills, peace superintendent of Portland Quarterly Meeting, conducted a class at the Twin Rocks conference last summer on the subject "In Case of War." The attendance and interest in this class far exceeded his expectations. Not less than 150 were present at the Sunday morning meeting of this conference committee. This same quarterly meeting superintendent has accepted invitations to conduct similar classes at Quaker Hill and American Lake Conferences during the coming year. He also gave three addresses, one on Armistice Day at Piedmont, and one at Prune Hill, and the other at the Christian Endeavor Rally at Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting in February.

Sceva B. Laughlin, peace superintendent of Salem Quarterly Meeting, reports that Friends generally participated in the campaign last fall to make military training at the state school optional rather than compulsory. South Salem has regular monthly peace talks before the Sunday School. This report states that one pastor expressed himself as feeling that a sermon on peace would be outside the regular gospel message, and adds, "There seems to be a rather common feeling that work for peace is not a vital part of the work of the ministry. Perhaps this failure is due to the acceptance of our peace message as something traditional and referring only to passive resistance rather than as something dynamic that requires study and positive action on our part and an attempt to remove the causes of war. Some do not seem to have the faith to believe that war can be eliminated from this world."

Perry D. Macy, Newberg Quarterly Meeting superintendent, prefaces his report with these words: "The past year has shown apparent gains in the cause of peace, not only in the stronger sentiment for peace but in more cooperation among the various peace agencies on definite objectives, and in the direct activity on the part of our government to preserve peace. Though the peace emphasis in the Society of Friends has not diminished or been forgotten, we find more and more that our most effective efforts are those made in cooperation with others. One notable cooperative effort during the past year has been the Emergency Peace Campaign. Though Friends have had much to do with the organization of this movement, the active participants in it who have touched our own Quarterly Meeting have been mostly non-Friends. A group of college and university students carried out a very intensive and well planned one-day campaign last summer which touched three of our meetings as well as many other churches in the vicinity of New-berg. Others have spoken in the college chapel in connection with the same movement."

His report closes with these words: "If we keep in mind the living connection between the peace message and the spiritual emphasis of Friends, we need not fear either an over-emphasis on unspiritual social activity on one hand, or fruitless spirituality on the other."

Special mention should be made of the peace work in connection with Pacific College. Notable peace speakers appear before the student body, the Christian Associations and the International Relations Club, and the last named organization, not all of whose members are Friends, has done some excellent service in carrying the peace message to outlying points, as well as to some of our own meetings.

Among the suggestions for the work of the ensuing year should be mentioned the proposal for more adequate study, more earnest effort to spread peace propaganda, and greater effort, both as meetings and as individuals, to reach and influence government officials whose action may save us from war or plunge us into war.

Most of the Yearly Meeting appropriation the past year was invested in "Peace Action," the bulletin of the National Council for Prevention of War, which was sent to the quarterly meeting and local meeting peace leaders, pastors, etc. The Yearly Meeting Superintendent has during the year given eight addresses dealing with the subject of peace, and has cooperated with the Emergency Peace Campaign, the National Council for Prevention of War, and the Pacific Northwest Conference on International Relations.

No way has been found as yet for the establishment of the sort of training for service suggested for consideration last year. The Emergency Peace Campaign has offered opportunities for young people to work in the cause of peace, as has the Institute of International Relations, while there have been many opportunities for social and semi-public service through the American Friends Service Committee.

With the hope that we may very earnestly push the work of peace during the year that is to come, this report is respectfully submitted.

Levi T. Pennington
Peace Superintendent of Oregon Yearly Meeting.

The report was accepted.

Paul S. Elliott, Executive Secretary for the Institute of International Relations presented maps which showed the work that has been done by the Emergency Peace Campaign. He also told of the Peace situation at the present time.

J. J. Handsaker, Northwest Secretary for the National Council for the Prevention of War presented a number of books that should be read to understand the peace situation. He urged everyone to become awake to the world situation at this time.

53. The Report of the Legislative Committee was as follows:

REPORT OF LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE

The fact that our members are in three states, makes united activity on state legislative matters impracticable, though attention has been given by individual members of the committee to state legislation, especially on matters of peace, temperance, and other matters of morals.

Cooperation in matters of law which touches all of us is largely cared for through such departments as peace and temperance. Much has been done to influence legislation in this way.

On behalf of the committee,
Levi T. Pennington, Chairman.

The report was accepted.

54. Albert L. Copeland gave the inspirational message from John 18:38 asking the question, "What is truth?" The answer is: "Jesus is the Way, the Truth and the Life."

FRIDAY 2:00 P. M.

55. The meeting convened at the appointed time and was led in prayer by the clerk.

56. A communication from the Yearly Meeting on Ministry and Oversight was as follows:

59. The Communication from Portland Quarterly Meeting was acted upon by the Representatives and they approved it as follows:

"In accordance with the direction of the representatives to the clerks of that body regarding the revision of the wording of a proposition presented by Portland Quarterly Meeting, the clerks submit the following:

In consideration of the number of inactive resident and nonresident members we recommend that the Yearly Meeting call to the attention of the overseers of the monthly meetings their duties as given in the Discipline on page 47 section 4, paragraph 1 and also page 72, section 3, paragraph 4 in regard to delinquent and absent members and to report to their Monthly Meetings, and the Monthly Meetings are urged to proceed according to discipline so that our membership lists may be properly revised at the earliest possible date."

Approved by the Representatives Sixth Month 11, 1937

Walter P. Lee, Pres.
Charles C. Haworth, Sec'y.

60. Florence Hart and Leah Ohse ask to be excused as Representatives. The meeting acted favorably on the requests.

61. A suggestion from the Yearly Meeting Statistician was as follows:

"To Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends:

The Quarterly Meetings should be urged to appoint Quarterly Meeting Statisticians, if such have not already been appointed. A list of these might be a useful addition to the minutes.

Respectfully submitted,
Loyde W. Osburn
Yearly Meeting Statistician."

The meeting favors requesting the Quarterly Meetings to appoint Quarterly Meeting Statisticians. This information is to be carried back by Representatives to their meetings.

FOREIGN MISSIONS

64. The work of the Foreign Missions Board was presented by the Superintendent, Joseph W. McCracken.

The financial report for the Missionary Board was read by totals and will be found in the appendix.

Chester A. Hadley, the General Superintendent presented the seventh annual report of the Field Superintendent of the Board of Foreign Missions of Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends

SEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE FIELD SUPERINTENDENT FOR THE YEAR 1936-1937

The words of Jesus, to His disciples, "Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields for they are white already to harvest," were never more appropriate than at the present time with relation to the field in Bolivia.

As we returned to Bolivia our hearts were filled with thanks to God for the fine body of missionaries that He has given to the mission to carry on the work of gathering in the "harvest."

We recalled the years when we were but two or three. Native workers were almost totally lacking. The field appeared to us so immense, the workers so ridiculously few in comparison to the task; the enervating burden of the unrestrained wickedness of the people to whom we came to minister, together with the struggle to make physical adjustments to the elevation, all combined to flood us with a sense of overwhelming responsibility.

To add to our already great burden there came the three years of war with Paraguay. The cities, towns and villages were depopulated of men. Our few prospective workers were scattered; some killed in action; some took sick and died of disease; others fell as prisoners of war; while still others mysteriously disappeared and were passed to the list of "lost" soldiers. Hatred filled the hearts of many and fear took its toll. Suspicion of foreigners impeded the activities of the missionaries. Romanists took advantage of their political power to inaugurate a period of intense persecution of and propaganda against the "foreign devils from Wall Street," as they call the missionaries. But the words of Jesus, "Lo, I am with you, even unto the end of the world" and "Pray ye the Lord of the harvest that He thrust forth laborers into His harvest" were very precious to us in those days.

"Weeping may endure for a season, but joy cometh in the morning." Thank God for the answer to the prayers and groanings of those dark days. Upon our return we found the peace terms fairly well established, the war forces demobilized, prisoners of war—terribly emaciated and sick—returned to their homes, the men attending the services freely and without fear of the military patrols, a military government in charge of post-war affairs. And now, as this report is being written financial and commercial conditions show signs of returning normalcy.

A word of appreciation for the valiant and able management of the Mission during the past year is certainly in order. A look at the "field" of believers showed progress and increased attendance. A look at the "field" of established stations revealed spiritual health and pastoral care. A look at the monthly reports shows a new station opened at Puerto Perez with don Felix Hermosa, wife and baby girl as pastors. There has also been a decided activity in the field of evangelization, carried on by the believers themselves.

A look at the "field" of missionary personnel with their spirit of sacrifice, their zeal for the work and the possibility of the fulfillment of the long-dreamed-of and long-prayed-for occupation of important market centers brought tears of joy to our hearts and eyes.

Howard and Julia Pearson were feeling the urge of the Spirit to be out in the unevangelized fields. After much prayer the matter of opening the large mining and stock-raising quarter to the south-west of La Paz, with Corocoro as a center, was laid upon us. Some advances were made to the Methodist-Episcopal Mission which had been forced to lay down the work there several years ago. Having their full consent and cooperation a further survey of the field was made by a visit there. The hearty cooperation of the few remaining believers in the town was readily secured, and a house and hall for services were rented.

Since the opening services God has put His seal of approval by adding daily such as should be saved. The hall, with seating capacity of 85 has been continually overcrowded, many standing in the aisles and doorway and many others turning away because of lack of standing room. The Pearsons report seeking souls at the altar in practically every service. Surely this was a field "white already to harvest." The sincere help of the City Council was manifested by the loan of a number of seats from the Municipal Theatre until we could have mission benches made. A larger hall is already a necessity.

The Gospel work in this city (Corocoro) is among the best social and official classes. The many surrounding Indian villages and communities provide ample opportunity for work among the Aymaras.

A look upon the yet unevangelized sections reveals a decided hunger and demand for some kind of Gospel work. Calls and requests come from many quarters asking for some one to come and teach them how to be saved. Many report having heard of the Gospel from a soldier companion in the war. They accepted the Gospel and did what they could to evangelize their families and neighbors upon return to their homes. And now they come asking for someone to come and teach them how to repent, pray and be saved from sin. One man said, "In my town there are fifteen men and their families who are waiting for you of the Friends Mission to come and teach them how to be saved."

In a recent meeting of our men here in La Paz one of them said "Pastor, we have been leaving the whole burden of evangelization to you. It is too heavy a burden for you to bear alone. We want to help you. Tell us where and when to go and we shall gladly leave our work and take the message." Another replied, "I also am ready to go. God has been talking to me about giving all of my time and strength to the work." Others spoke in the same manner. They indicated the places to which they might go with the Gospel. As a result a league of volunteers has been formed with three Gospel teams, and a systematic plan of evangelization of this part of the field has been settled upon, under native leadership.

To the south of us lies a large section of country that has never yet been touched by the Gospel. One wealthy man from that section said to me one day, "If you could give us a missionary doctor I would donate the land (with legalized titles) to the mission for the construction of a mission and hospital." How long will it be before we may enter these multiplying doorways of opportunity? Let a mighty volume of prayer for these untouched fields unite North and South America in a bond of mutual obligation to these who are dying without a knowledge of God and salvation!

A high spot in the history of the development of the Mission work was reached during the annual conference, when the wives of a large group of men who feel called of God to preach the Gospel took their places beside their husbands, saying that they too are willing for the men to answer the call of God to go, and that they will go with them anywhere the Lord may send them.

The ministry of Paul Enyart (missionary to Bolivia from Westfield, Indiana) as conference Evangelist was blessed of the Lord and no less than 75 seekers bowed at the altar of prayer during the three days of Bible classes and services.

Due to the growing needs in Corocoro it has been decided to locate Esthel Gulley with the Pearsons for this year to lend her help there.

A growing group of native workers in La Paz makes it possible to continue with a small missionary personnel in this city.

The mission as well as the people will feel greatly the absence of Helen Cammack from the field while on furlough. A request from the Indians at the Lake states that during the time she has been among them (above two months) she has come to understand them and talk to them in their dialect, and that they do not want her to go home to Oregon. Could we not keep her in Bolivia? We have tried to explain to them something of the necessity of her return to the homeland but they do not understand. They will await anxiously the day of her arrival in Bolivia again.

Doris Tamplin has already taken over the pastoral work of the mother church here in La Paz, in addition to her other duties as treasurer and secretary of the mission. Her consecration to Bible study and class work is contributing largely to the nationalization of the Sunday School and evangelistic work of this church. Her motto is "We are saved to Serve," and so labors to give opportunities for service to those who have been truly saved and sanctified.

As we look out on the fields, so closed in about us, of unevangelized territory this year our hearts are full of joyful anticipation. The open doors are more numerous than ever before; the people more receptive and those who feel the call of God on them are mature men of several years faithful walk with the Lord, and they are more in numbers than in other years. We ask your prayers and devotion to what promises to be one of the most progressive years in the history of evangelization in Bolivia.

As a missionary body we express our gratitude to the response of the Yearly Meeting to the urgent need of property and adequate mission headquarters in La Paz. We report that due to Latin American slowness of action the property transaction has not yet been negotiated. We are still hopeful and prayerful. It is our urgent desire and prayer to be able to report to the Next Yearly Meeting sessions that the property has been bought and the Chapel erected. Pray with us to this end.

Sincerely,
Carroll G. Tamplin
On Behalf of the Mission.

Translation of Enclosed Epistle:

Beloved brethren of the Church in Oregon:

During the three days and a half of our Annual Conference, from March 25, to 28, inclusive, God blessed us greatly with His Spirit and Word, also with His messengers.

Not only we of the church received new blessings during the conference, but also many sinners were saved from their sins. Brethren, we shall continue with greater courage in prayer in the work of our Lord, Jesus Christ.

But we are also sad. Following the war in Bolivia the work of the devil has grown a great deal. Brethren help us indeed with the salvation that you have received of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Don Carlos, (Carroll G. T.) reported to us in the conference that there had come from a number of places those who were asking for missionaries. We give thanks to God for all the missionaries who are working in our midst, and also thank you for them.

The missionaries present in the conference were as follows:

Paul C. Enyart, from Coroico, Nor Yungas.
The Tamplins, from La Paz.
Helen Cammack, from La Paz.
Esthel Gulley, from La Paz.
The Pearsons, from Corocoro.
The Mamanis, from Amacari.
The Hermosas, from Puerto Perez.

We thank you for the Tamplin family whom you have returned to us again in Bolivia.

We remain somewhat reduced because of the going of Miss Helen from our midst. We trust that she may rejoice among you in spiritual blessings and be returned to our Bolivia.

We remain, praying,
Your humble brethren,
Maximiliano Loza
Julio Ticona.

EDUCATION

73. The meeting considered the work of the Department of Education. In the absence of Ruth Crozer, the Superintendent of the Department, Mary C. Sutton acted in her place.

Statistical report of the Education department was read and approved and will be found in the Appendix.

Ivan Adams, the principal of Greenleaf Academy gave the following report:

REPORT OF GREENLEAF ACADEMY FOR YEAR 1936-37.

In closing this, the 29th year of Greenleaf Academy it is with a feeling of the blessing of the Lord during our school year. A successful year would have been impossible without divine counsel.

The Greenleaf Academy is one of the few remaining Friends Academies. We feel, however, that the Academy is filling a unique place in the educational field, and that this is no time to disband.

The Academy is fully accredited as a four year secondary school by the Idaho State Board of Education. This accreditation enables us to take our proper place among the high schools of the state.

The Academy year has been characterized by unusual activity. The success of these activities is directly traceable to the industry and cooperation of the student body.

The registration is the largest in recent years. Fifty-three students enrolled. Of these, four were from Alaska, one from Oregon, and several from Kansas.

On December 4, the combined Boys' and Girls' Choruses under the direction of Mrs. Holmes presented the Operetta, "An Old Kentucky Garden." The Operetta was well received by a large audience.

The Academy this year joined the Big Ten Basketball League. Our team made a creditable showing winning five of the eight league games played. New suits were added to the Basketball equipment. Six letters were awarded in this sport.

Miss Jackson again coached the Junior Class Play. The play, "Daddy Long Legs," was a success in every way, even though the staging is very difficult for High School production.

Two of our students, Lela Hawley and Frances Dunbar, entered the District Declamation Festival. Lela gave a dramatic reading, and Frances gave a humorous reading. Both were adjudged "Superior" and were eligible to enter the Southern Idaho Festival at Twin Falls. At this festival, Lela was again rated "Superior," while Frances received the rating "Good" from the judges.

Almost the entire Student Body participated in the District Music Festival at Boise. The Academy was represented by a Boys' Chorus, Girls' Chorus, Mixed Chorus, Piano Soloist, and several vocal soloists. All who participated gave good performances. The Girls' Chorus was highly praised by the judges.

With all this activity we have tried to place the proper emphasis upon scholarship. Several students have been on the Honor Roll every six weeks period during the year.

Ample opportunity has been given for Christian growth and decision in Chapel services, in student prayer meetings, and in the local church services. Many were helped in their Christian lives by our evangelist, Leonard L. Craven.

Seven Seniors were graduated by the Academy on May 28th. Florence Rinard received the scholarship offered by Pacific College. Iverna Hirst was awarded the scholarship to the Northwest Nazarene College.

Our pastor, Milo C. Ross, gave the Baccalaureate Sermon this year to a capacity crowd at the Greenleaf Church.

Dr. R. Wayne Gardner, vice-president of Northwest Nazarene College, gave the Commencement address on the subject, "I Live." He based his address on the verse "I live, yet not I but Christ liveth in me."

The increased enrollment this year, and the splendid cooperation of the Greenleaf Church and community have been very gratifying.

We are looking forward with prayer and anticipation to the coming year.

Respectfully submitted,
Ivan L. Adams, Principal.

The report was approved by the meeting.

A duet was sung by Eugene and Jean Coffin, "He is No Stranger to Me."

The Woman's Auxiliary to Pacific College gave the following report:

"The regular meetings of the Woman's Auxiliary to Pacific College have been held during the year with a larger membership than for several years.

Wood-Mar Hall and the campus have received more of our attention this year than the dormitories. A new carpet and a window shade has been purchased for the President's office. And later we hope to have new drapes for the window and to refinish the walls and woodwork.

But the outstanding project for the year has been the gathering of funds for the new dormitory for women. Letters were sent to many friends of the college. A banquet was held with Frank Branch Riley as toastmaster, which was well attended and proved a good introduction to our local solicitation which is still being carried on quite actively. As a result of our efforts we have $1,773.31 in the bank and $526.00 in pledges. We hope to have a much larger amount to report next year.

Respectfully submitted,
Rebecca Pennington, President.

The report was accepted.

The Pacific College Corporation submitted the following report which was accepted by the meeting:

"To Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends.

At the annual meeting of the Pacific College Corporation held Friday evening, June 11, 1937, the following were chosen members of the Board of Managers of Pacific College for the regular term of three years, and their names are herewith submitted for approval:

Levi T. Pennington, the President of Pacific College gave his annual report as follows:

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT OF PACIFIC COLLEGE 1936-37

It is with an earnest sense of gratitude to God and with sincere appreciation of the fine cooperation of the college board, college faculty, woman's auxiliary and student body that this annual report is presented.

Forty-fourth Annual Commencement

On the day before the opening of this yearly meeting, the forty-fourth annual commencement of Pacific College marked the close of another successful year.

The following were graduated with the degrees indicated:

Howard Roscoe Adams, A.B.	Allen Lewis Hadley, A.B.
Arlouine Lucile Bennett, A.B.	Willard Merle Hehn, B.S.
Mary Berthena Brooks, A.B.	Esther Lucile Miller, A.B.
Mary Elizabeth Collver, A.B.	Rachel Ellen Pemberton, A.B.
John Allen Dimond, A.B.	Louis Sandoz, A.B.
Jean Gardner Coffin, A.B.	Ruth Estelle Wilde, A.B.

Three others who had not completed all the work for graduation will receive the following degrees on the completion of their work:

Eldon Alva Bush, B.S.	Delmer Borden Putnam, A.B.
Ned Green, B.S.

The highest honors of the class, good for a year's scholarship in either of two eastern riends colleges, were awarded on the basis of scholarship and character to Mary Elizabeth Collver of Portland.

The Junior Prize, awarded on the same basis, went to Maisie Burr, of Newberg. Both in the matter of scholarship and character her record was decidedly exceptional. But another member of the Junior class also had work of such exceptionally high grade and was of such character and service to the college that he was given honorable mention. This student was Lewis M. Hoskins of Newberg.

The Wood-Mar Plaque, given to the college by the class of 1935, and awarded by the senior class to that other class which in their judgment has been of greatest service to the college during the year and has furnished the best leadership, was awarded to the class of 1938, the same class which won it last year.

The commencement address this year was given by Benjamin D. Dagwell, Protestant Episcopal bishop for the Diocese of Oregon. Milo C. Ross gave the closing address to the Christian Associations, and the president of the college preached the baccalaureate sermon, as is the custom. The commencement concert this year took the form of a sacred cantata, "Ruth,".

Changes in the College Force

Since the death of Herman C. Miles a year and a half ago, Pacific College has been seeking earnestly to find a field secretary to take his place. The college authorities feel that they have found this man in the person of Veldon J. Diment, who graduated from the college three years ago, and whose record in the college and activities in the service of the Oregon State Christian Endeavor Union and in other ways have gone far toward fitting him for the difficult and very important task of the solicitations of students and funds. It is earnestly hoped that Friends may give him a cordial and a generous reception whenever they are visited by him and may cooperate with him to the fullest extent.

The only change in the teaching force was made necessary by the resignation of Veva E. Garrett, who for two years has been serving the college most acceptably as teacher of dramatics, and public speaking, director of physical education for women, and matron of the dormitory for women. This place has been filled by the election of Lois McCurley, who has just taken her degree from Friends University. She is highly recommended by those who have written to the college about her, which includes a number of members and former members of Oregon Yearly Meeting.

Another change in the force has come through the retirement of Ernest D. Schmoe from the position of superintendent of buildings and grounds. The position has been filled by the appointment of Harlan T. Jones, for years superintendent of buildings and grounds and treasurer of Nebraska Central College.

Another Anniversary

An outstanding feature of the work of Pacific College is the long faithful service of its faculty. In December a dinner was given in honor of Oliver Weesner, who a year ago completed his twenty-fifth year of service on the campus, his twenty-seventh since his election to the force. Many united in this well-deserved honor to one who has served so well, not only the college board but the local church and community, the Yearly Meeting and the Kingdom of God.

Students Aid

During the past year the college has continued its policy of offering to students opportunities for self help rather than giving them free tuition or other unearned assistance. We have been especially eager to furnish to as many students as possible these opportunities for self help, and during the year just closed the college has given jobs to help toward the meeting of college expenses to 18 young men and 18 young women; it has directly helped 13 young men and 4 young women to off-campus jobs by means of which they could help themselves; and 10 young men and 3 young women of the student body are known to have had jobs during the college year by which they supported themselves in whole or in part. This constitutes more than 64 per cent of the student body; in addition to those who have definite work to do at home or in business in which their parents engage.

In some of these cases the student does not by this work cut down the college income. But wherever work is given by the college itself to pay for tuition, it means just that much less to apply on faculty salaries. The college has between $3,000.00 and $4,000.00 available for student loans, and it seems only fair to suggest that Friends throughout the yearly meeting give the students coming from their meetings the financial backing which will enable them to use these loan funds which will be greatly to the benefit of the college itself, and will enable the students to give their efforts more undividedly to the educational work for which they come to college.

Extra-curricular Activities

The past year, as is always the case, the extra-curricular activities of the students have constituted no small part of their education. The usual athletic sports, both intercollegiate and intramural, have been engaged in, by both men and women, football, basketball, baseball, volley ball, tennis, hiking, soft ball, etc.

The work in debating has been even more extensive than that of last year, with the college acquitting itself very well; there has been more activity in oratory than in some years; and one of our students won the state extemporaneous speaking contest.

The activities in the interest of peace, social welfare, racial harmony, and international good will have been extensive as usual. One of the new developments along this line has been a series of presentations of the peace cause in other communities than Newberg by the International Relations Club. A number of notable speakers have addressed the student body on the subject of peace, including Dr. J. Nevin Sayre, executive secretary of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, which has not heretofore been represented by anyone so high in the councils of that organization. The college has cooperated continuously with the National Council for Prevention of War and the Emergency Peace Campaign.

The Christian Associations continue to be the outstanding extra-curricular organizations of the student body. Both associations have had a successful year, with their varied program of weekly religious meetings, often addressed by well known and important speakers, their deputation work, and all the other activities carried on by these organizations which have for their special field the spiritual welfare of the students and those whom the student can influence.

A Look Ahead

The work which the field secretary has already done and the cooperation which he is receiving give promise of the largest freshman class and the largest student body the college has ever had. It is hoped that this promise may be realized.

With the faculty force so nearly intact, and of such quality as the present teachers are known to possess, it would seem that we can have every confidence of an excellent college year from the standpoint of actual educational opportunity.

A number of new courses have been added and changes made in some others, for the sake of securing a closer relationship between college work and practical every-day living, without impairing the cultural nature of the college course.

There has been no move in the direction of lowering the standards of the college, either by abolishing the things that are required or by permitting the things which have heretofore been forbidden, such as dancing, card playing, the use of alcohol and tobacco, etc.

Pacific College still aims to give "a liberal education, under the best Christian influence, at a minimum expense."

Pacific College is like a factory in this respect, that there is a minimum requirement in order that it may do its work and produce its output. With the buildings, the teaching force, and the equipment which the college now has, we could care for twice our present student body with little additional expense. There are more than enough students who would fit into such a scheme of things as that of Pacific College to tax our equipment to its capacity, if all Friends would do what they can to send to Pacific College those who ought to be in such an institution.

This additional student body would go far toward restoring the salaries of teachers to what they used to be before the "depression". But even if our student body were doubled there would still need to be generous support of the college by gifts to current expenses. And educational requirements are likely at any time to be imposed upon us which would entail upon us the loss of standardization and prestige, if not loss of life itself. The friends of Pacific College should face without flinching the necessity of adding very materially to the permanent endowment of the institution if we wish the college to survive.

And the thought of its discontinuance is the more unthinkable when one takes an honest look at its achievements, so far out of proportion to the size of its student body and plant and the cost of education.

With confidence in God and in the friends of the college, we face the future.

Respectfully submitted,
Levi T. Pennington
President Pacific College.

This was approved by the meeting.

80. The Committee on Letters to Aged Friends reported as follows:

81. A report of the Financial Secretary follows:

REPORT OF THE FINANCIAL SECRETARY

The work of the financial secretary is hardly that which would stir the imagination or touch the emotions and the report which is herewith being given may not be inspirational in nature. However, there is ground for encouragement this year and for renewed effort among the meetings in the coming year.

During the past year the financial secretary has devoted his efforts entirely to the fixed expense of the Yearly Meeting, leaving the raising of the United Budget to the Superintendent and the Departments working with him.

The major emphasis by the financial secretary upon the fixed expense was due to the mounting debt of some of our meetings in relation to the fixed expense.

With only two or three exceptions all of the meetings have initiated a program for retiring their indebtedness to the Yearly Meeting and the results have been gratifying.

At Yearly Meeting time last year the meetings were in debt to the amount of $756.56 on the fixed expense. The first of June this year finds the meetings in debt to the amount of $639.34. This is an appreciable decrease which would have been considerably greater but for a misunderstanding in some of the meetings regarding the date of closing of the financial year.

There are only four meetings in arrears on fixed expense prior to 1936-37 while there are eleven in arrears as of June 1 of this year of which only seven owe amounts in excess of $20.00. Each item mentioned shows an improvement over last year.

This year sufficient funds have come in to meet all of the current fixed expense and allow a payment of at least $100.00 toward the reduction of the Yearly Meeting debt. This is indeed encouraging since it is the first time in Years that we have been able to make a move toward reduction of this $1,300.00 debt.

The financial secretary has sent out several general communications to all the meetings in the Yearly Meeting, has been in correspondence with the Quarterly Meeting treasurers from time to time, and has endeavored to assist others through personal contact with financial committees and treasurers.

The lack of glamour and romance in the fixed expense has allowed some meetings to neglect this part of the Yearly Meeting work. In so doing they fail to realize that the Lord's work is important in all of its branches.

The suggestion is hereby made that meetings make every effort to raise their fixed expense early in the year thus clearing the way for giving in other fields which more readily inspire and stir us.

May each member of the Yearly Meeting during this coming year avail himself of the blessing attendant upon the proper stewardship of his finances.

Walter P. Lee
Financial Secretary.

82. The Permanent Board of Oregon Yearly Meeting gave the following reports of their meetings:

83. The names of ministers and other Friends deceased during the past year were read. Memorials were read for Sarah E. Hall, Frederick J. Cope, and Ezra G. Pearson. There was a feeling of deep gratitude in the meeting for the lives of those who have passed on to their reward but have left behind the sweet fragrance of their lives, and a prayer arose that their mantle might fall on others. The list of those who have passed to their reward will be found in the Appendix.

BOARD FOR AGED MINISTERS AND MISSIONARIES

85. The Board for Aged Ministers and Missionaries submitted the following report which was read by Edward Harmon and which was considered by the meeting:

REPORT OF THE BOARD FOR AGED MINISTERS AND MISSIONARIES

The Board for Aged Ministers and Missionaries met twice since last Yearly Meeting. A great deal of research work has been done in an endeavor to find a workable plan for taking care of our aged ministers and missionaries.

Special Collection for Anson Cox, $10.41

This year we have been able to give five dollars a month to Anson Cox and ten dollars a month to Frederick and Marietta Cope. We wish that we were able to do more for these and other deserving Friends, but because of our limited finances we have not been able to do so.

Future Plans

The Board has decided to have printed and to sell Good Will Bonds. These bonds are to be printed in various denominations and sold through-out the Yearly Meeting. The money from these bonds is to create a permanent endowment fund.

We propose that the pastors and missionaries of Oregon Yearly Meeting be asked to contribute one per cent of their salaries yearly towards a permanent retirement fund. We request the Yearly Meeting to pay an equal amount toward this fund, which amounts to two hundred dollars this year. We suggest that this two hundred dollars be placed in the fixed expense.

Less Than 10c a Year

On retirement the pastor shall receive an apportionate amount from the Yearly Meeting, depending upon the years of service in the Yearly Meeting, plus the amount he has paid in. On withdrawal from the Yearly Meeting, each pastor shall receive the amount he has paid in.

Respectfully submitted on behalf of the Board for Aged Ministers and Missionaries:

Edward Harmon, President.

Owing to the lateness of this presentation of the proposition, the meeting is not in favor of including the $200.00 in the Fixed Expense for this year. The matter of giving one per cent of their salaries should be taken up first with the pastors and missionaries.

The meeting urges the Board to continue its investigation and its consideration of plans for the collection of funds for this Board.

A collection was taken for the Board of Aged Ministers and Missionaries and amounted to $70.00 cash and $104.50 pledges.

86. The report of those in charge of the children's meeting was as follows:

Children's meetings have been held in the German Methodist church each morning from 10:00 o'clock to 11:00. Because those in attendance were so young it seemed advisable to hold them but one hour. The average attendance has been 14.

Special emphasis has been placed upon prayer, Bible reading, and testimony, with choruses and messages in keeping. We have appreciated messages brought by visiting Friends. Our special speakers have been Audrey Mardock, of Greenleaf, Idaho, Albert and Alice Copeland of Western Yearly Meeting, and our own missionary, Helen Cammack, of Bolivia.

Another interesting feature was the gospel in chalk picture by Hazel Parker of Tacoma.

We trust impressions made during these days together will be lasting and beneficial for Christian life and service.

Respectfully submitted,
Jean Coffin
Olive M. Terrell.

The report was accepted by the meeting.

87. The annual conference of the Minister's Association is to be held at Greenleaf, Idaho, October 27, 28, 29, 30, and 31, 1937.

88. The Organizations of the Missionary Board, The Ministerial Association, the Board for Aged Ministers and Missionaries, and the Executive Committee were reported and their organizations will appear in the Appendix.

89. The meeting wishes to express appreciation to the German Methodist people for the use of their church.

90. The Yearly Meeting expressed appreciation to all those who have assisted in anyway, in entertainment, in preparation of meals, flowers, etc.

91. By a rising vote, the meeting expressed its appreciation for the work of the clerks.

92. The meeting adjourned to meet at 7:30 P. M.

SATURDAY, 7:30 P. M.

93. The meeting met according to adjournment.

94. The minutes were read and approved.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

95. The Vice-president, Lucile Hadley read the annual report:

REPORT OF CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR PRESIDENT

We are forced to exclaim as we review the years' Christian Endeavor activities, "Lord, thou hast given special leading and hast given thy blessing throughout the young-people's work."

The registration at last summer's conferences follows:
American Lake 75
Quaker Hill 209
Twin Rocks 350

Quaker Hill Conference felt a definite deepening and searching after God's complete will by the young people in attendance. Twin Rocks Conference was blessed when young people began to confess that the theatre, the worldly crowd, and loose living had crowded Jesus out, and then claimed Calvary's mercy to pardon their guilt and to promise

God to walk in purity in the future. American Lake Conference helped several young people to become established in the faith. Others it helped take Christ as their Saviour.

Men saw approximately 200 young people bend at altars of prayer at these three summer conferences. In humility we admit that God alone knows how many of these made an eternal decision to stand square for God through anything. But we know who have fully surrendered to God this year and right now are ready to witness for Christ. May God continue to turn wobbly young people into staunch, unshakeable, uncompromising Christians.

We praise God for our Conferences. He has made each one pleasant to remember because of His tender presence.

In anticipation of this year's summer conferences, four hundred attended the rally at Newberg in April; three hundred attended the outdoor rally at Nampa in May; and eighty five attended the banquet at Tacoma in April.

We have a failure to face in our slothful stewardship of money giving. We lacked in raising our budget. Until we, young people see that God's work can progress only if financially supported, we will forfeit God's highest blessing and our opportunities for service.

The Friendly Endeavor has increased circulation to 1,900 copies. The paper is running more pages and is being depended upon increasingly to serve as the complete church paper.

The lesson helps are also bigger editions and are serving more societies than heretofore. Besides being a help to our own societies, we have 13 subscriptions to the lesson helps going to Ohio and California. More of our own societies use our own printed helps.

We thank the editors of both papers for their arduous work.

Among its other activities in the interest of Christian Endeavor, the Executive Committee has travelled 20,310 miles and has written 727 cards and letters.

The President and the entire Christian Endeavor body has reason to be proud of the officers who have prayed and worked unstintingly.

With nearly a dozen missionaries nurtured in our Church and Christian Endeavor out in active service, and a great number of young people preparing for Christian work, we are glad to realize that we Endeavorers are going to help keep God's full message of salvation preached to an "unsalvationed" age.

Boise Valley was outstanding in its Gospel Band work this year.

In this day, when so many young people's organizations have betrayed their Christ, Oregon Yearly Meeting Christian Endeavor Union wishes to frankly state that it believes in the merit of Jesus' blood to remove guilt from young people's lives, yes, and to completely remove sin until we can walk with peace and holiness through this sin-tainted world. We are more joyous over the young people who have caught that lasting vision of Christ this last year than we are over all our programming and activities.

We want to walk continually in the presence of the Almighty.

Respectfully submitted,
Oregon Yearly Meeting Christian
Endeavor Union.
Paul Cammack, President.

The meeting expressed appreciation of the report.

105. With heartfelt gratitude for God's help and guidance in our business sessions and throughout the other services of the Yearly Meeting, and with a prayer that He may lead us ever onward and upward in His service, we adjourn to meet, at Newberg, Oregon, June 8, 1938.
