

1991

Contents

Ralph Beebe

George Fox University, rbeebe@georgefox.edu

Follow this and additional works at: http://digitalcommons.georgefox.edu/heritage\_honor

Part of the Higher Education Commons, and the History Commons

---

Recommended Citation

Beebe, Ralph, "Contents" (1991). A Heritage to Honor, A Future to Fulfill : George Fox College 1891-1991. Paper 2.
http://digitalcommons.georgefox.edu/heritage\_honor/2

This Chapter is brought to you for free and open access by the Archives at Digital Commons @ George Fox University. It has been accepted for inclusion in A Heritage to Honor, A Future to Fulfill : George Fox College 1891-1991 by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ George Fox University.

Contents

---

CHAPTER ONE—1885 to 1911	1
Newberg's Quakers establish Friends Pacific Academy in 1885 and Pacific College in 1891.
CHAPTER TWO—1911 to 1926	21
Levi Pennington guides the Academy and College through difficult years that lead to recognition by the U.S. Bureau of Educational Standards.
CHAPTER THREE—1926 to 1941	37
Sacrifices by a heroic faculty help the College survive a severe economic depression. The board decides, in 1929, to close the Academy.
CHAPTER FOUR—1941 to 1954	55
Theological controversy takes a heavy toll as the College seeks its identity. The trustees change the name to George Fox College in 1949.
CHAPTER FIVE—1954 to 1969	71
The College and its founding church unify. Milo Ross leads the school to full accreditation in 1959.
CHAPTER SIX—1969 to 1982	95
George Fox College grows and becomes financially stable during David LeShana's presidency. Eight new buildings are added to the campus.
CHAPTER SEVEN—1982 to 1991	117
After several difficult years, GFC rebounds to record enrollment, financial stability, and national recognition with Edward F. Stevens as President.
APPENDIX	141
The Religious Antecedents of George Fox College, Chronology, Presidents, Board of Trustees, Honorary Degrees Granted, Alumnus of the Year, Associated Student Body Presidents, The Crescent Editors, L'Ami Editors, Building Names, Campus Maps	