Tilikum Application for Retreat Use

George Fox University Archives

WHO RETREATS?

Jesus said to His disciples, "Come ye apart." The Christian needs to insert a "comma" in the sentence of his life—he needs to pause for renewal.

Retreat, as the word implies, is a temporary withdrawal from the mainstream of life—a time for you to meditate, study, interact, and take inventory of your life. The idea is to reenter the mainstream with renewed purpose and understanding of God's will in your life.

MAY WE HELP YOU WITH PROGRAMMING?

We have found from our years of experience that the combination of setting, leadership, program, and spirit is used by the Lord to strengthen participants. The director and other resource people are available to help you in all aspects of retreat planning:

- Retreat planning and training, and consultation in program aids—using media philosophy of small groups, or drawing from the library of selected books and cassette tapes.
- Help in programming through speaking, or supervising recreation.
- Directing and programming of entire weekend.

DIRECTIONS TO TILIKUM FROM NEWBERG

RENTAL AGREEMENT

1. Campers will provide their own towels and bedding.
2. Youth groups through high school will be accompanied by adequate adult leadership.
3. A curfew will be agreed upon by Tilikum staff and youth retreat leaders, and observed.
4. Use of tobacco is discouraged because of health dangers and fire hazard. Smokers are requested to smoke outside.
5. The possession or use of alcoholic beverages or nonprescribed drugs is prohibited.
6. Rooms will be in order when checking out.
7. The group will be responsible for breakage and destruction of camp property.
8. The renting group is as responsible to fulfill the reservation agreement as Tilikum is to fulfill its part in providing the service. We are here because of our commitment to provide a ministry to you. Our rates are set in relation to providing this ministry. A cancellation within six weeks of the scheduled activity jeopardizes the delicate balance of meeting operating costs. Each group therefore is held accountable for 75 percent of the guaranteed minimum if a cancellation is made within six weeks of the scheduled retreat opening. However, if another group can be scheduled for your cancelled dates within that six-week period, 50 percent of your fee will be refunded.

"In the absence of office tensions, rounds of duty, noise of machinery, study and tests, sales pitches, telephones, TV, and even regular God-given duties—in their absence it's easier to make God the object of attention. When He has our attention, He reveals Himself, instruction comes, discovery comes, and then possibly a renewing and filling that results in fruitful discipleship."

CENTER FOR RETREATS

Tilikum, an interdenominational, nonprofit retreat center, is located in the Chehalem Valley near Newberg, Oregon, a 45-minute drive from Portland and Salem, and is a ministry of George Fox College, Newberg, Oregon.

Tilikum functions as a support organization to the Christian community, serving as a regional center for creative ideas in outdoor ministries.

TILIKUM OFFERS:

GROUNDS

A quiet country setting, acres of woods and meadows for rambling, and lake for canoeing.

FACILITIES

"Bakers' Illahee," accommodating 45 overnight guests, has carpeted meeting rooms with fireplaces, sound system, seven rooms for sleeping, dining room/solarium, and recreation rooms.

FOOD SERVICE

Home-style cooked meals are provided so that group members can participate fully in the program and be assured of nutritious meals prepared by an experienced food service team.

RECREATION

Recreation is not designed to be the main feature of a weekend retreat. Times will be provided for participating in relaxing activities. These include outdoor activities like walking, canoeing, fishing, swimming; indoor table games, pool and foosball; and things like volleyball, box hockey, basketball, and campfires in the Multipurpose Building.
