Curtis and Margaret Morse Complex: Home of the Bruins

All Bruin home games are played at the Morse Athletic Complex located on Fulton Street across from Wheeler Sports Center in Newberg, Ore. A donation from Curtis and Margaret Morse in February, 1989, provided a complete renovation of the baseball field. New dugouts and a press box were completed in the summer of 1989. The new concrete dugouts were built by VOW (Volunteers on Wheels). The Morse donation also provided for total renovation of the women's softball field and a new playing surface for the men's soccer team. The facility continues to improve yearly and Smurfit Newsprint has recently donated all the lumber for a new indoor hitting facility to be located in the northwest area of the complex. The field dimensions are 335 feet down the left field line, 375 in the left center field alley, 400 to straight away center, 370 in right center and 330 down the right field line.

Athletic Director Craig Taylor

Craig Taylor is in his third year as George Fox College Athletic Director, but he has been associated with the Bruins for 17 years as player, coach and professor.

The AD has been coach of GFC's women's basketball teams since 1981 when he rejoined the coaching and PE staff after two years with a sporting goods retailing firm. From 1976 through 1979 Taylor was the Bruin baseball coach while also serving as assistant basketball coach.

Taylor, associate professor of physical education, coached Lady Bruin softball from 1981 to 1988, then resumed last year with a 8-17-1 season.

Taylor, 39, came to George Fox in 1971 as a junior forward for the men's basketball team. In 1972-73 he helped the Bruins to the NAIA District 2 basketball title, the only GFC team to represent the district in the NAIA national basketball tournament in Kansas City until 1990.

Taylor graduated from George Fox in 1974, named both Outstanding Man in Teacher Education and Outstanding PE Major. He received a master of science degree in education from Linfield College in 1975. While enrolled in graduate courses he was a residence hall director at GFC, in that position for three years. Currently he is in a doctoral degree program at Oregon State University.

As softball coach he directed his teams to a 91-86-1 record and in 1985 he was named NAIA District 2 Coach of the Year for softball. He has coached the Lady Bruins in basketball to a 122-112 record.

Taylor is a member of the NAIA District 2's Executive Committee, serving since 1985.

At George Fox the athletic director is responsible for athletic department functions, including eligibility and compliance with GFC and NAIA regulations, budgeting, and department and sports center management.

About George Fox College

George Fox College, in its Centennial year, is one of America's best colleges. This year, for the thirdtime, it was given that designation by U.S. News & World Report magazine. GFC was ranked eighth in Western Regional Liberal Arts Colleges, including colleges and universities from Oklahoma to Hawaii. George Fox was rated second in academic reputation.

This year, for the third time, the College was named to the Templeton Foundation Honor Roll of Character Building Colleges, the only Oregon college selected and one of 108 in the United States.

George Fox College is the outgrowth of a desire by early Willamette Valley Quaker settlers who established Pacific Academy in 1885 for the Christian Education of their children. The college division was organized in 1891 to provide more advanced instruction for students. In 1949, because of the many colleges in the Northwest with Pacific in their name, the College was renamed George Fox in honor of the founder of the Friends (Quaker) Church.

Accredited by the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools, the College offers 30 majors in eight divisions: Education, Fine and Applied Arts, Language Arts, Natural Science, Religion, Social Science, Physical Education, and Business. George Fox is one of 13 members of the national Christian College Consortium. The College has a student-faculty ratio of 16/1. College enrollment is 1,073.

George Fox students come from 17 states and 8 foreign countries. Nearly 40 religious denominations are represented on campus.

The college's most prominent alumnus is the late President Herbert Hoover, who attended Pacific Academy.

GFC Athletics

Intercollegiate athletics is an integral part of the overall education program at George Fox. Men's varsity athletic teams represent the College in baseball, basketball, track, cross country, and soccer. Women students compete in volleyball, basketball, track, softball, and cross country.

George Fox College competes as an independent on the varsity level. Its schedules are coordinated with the Northwest Conference and with other independents in the Northwest. George Fox is a member of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA), District 2, and in some sports, the National Christian College Athletic Association, Region 8. For students not participating in the varsity program, GFC has a complete intramural program including flag football, basketball, volleyball, softball, racquetball, and tennis.

Athletic facilities include the Coleman H. Wheeler Center for Sports and Physical Education; Colcord Field, which includes an all-weather rubberized track; tennis courts; and the Curtis and Margaret Morse Athletic Fields complex containing baseball diamond, softball field, soccer field, and archery range. The Morse complex dedication was in February 1989.

Wheeler Center, completed in 1977 in a $2.7 million project, includes the James and Lila Miller Gymnasium with three basketball courts and seating for up to 2,500; multipurpose, class, and weight rooms; faculty and administrative offices; handball courts; dressing and therapy rooms.

Pat Casey

Head Baseball Coach
(University of Portland)

Since Pat Casey arrived at George Fox College, the Bruins have done nothing but win, something they had never experienced before in their baseball program. Casey gave the school its first winning season in school history during his first year as head coach, along with a division championship. The Bruins have won three straight Metro-Valley championships and have an impressive 59-24 NAIA record during those 3 seasons. The Bruins have taken on a major college schedule, playing nearly every Pac-10 school and spending the spring break in California playing NCAA schools. Hard work and discipline are the ingredients Casey hopes will make the players winners on and off the field. That same hard work has earned Casey three consecutive Coach of the Year honors in the Metro-Valley conference.

Casey starred in football, basketball and baseball at Newberg HS. He then went on to the University of Portland playing three seasons with the Pilots, breaking several school records. He was an All-Conference player each of his three seasons. As a junior he was drafted by the San Diego Padres and played five seasons in that organization before being traded to the Seattle Mariners where he spent two seasons in the Pacific Coast League in Calgary and later with the Portland Beavers. Pat and his wife Susan have two sons, Jonathan and Brett, and a daughter, Elie.
