RULE DIFFERENCES

1. In all running events, the athlete is given two false starts but is disqualified on the third.
2. An athlete must attempt each event or is disqualified from the entire competition.
3. Only three attempts are allowed each athlete in the long jump, shot put, discus, and javelin. (regular three attempts at each height in the high jump and pole vault are given.)
4. All distances and heights are measured in meters. Following are the approximate yard equivalents of the metric distances run in the decathlon.

100 meters about 109½ yards
110 meters about 120 yards
400 meters about 437½ yards
1500 meters about 1640½ yards
(Mile is equal to 1760 yards.)

5. A wind gauge is no longer used since a recent rule change allows a mark to stand, in the decathlon regardless of the wind velocity.
