Thank You!

Tilikum, like all camps, needs various items to keep its program going. Friends of Tilikum have helped to supply many of these needs. During the summer months the camp has received medical supplies, kayaks, signs, rope, Tupperware for the kitchen, tents, a vise, electric stove, candy for campers, Visqueen, lumber, large coffee pot, as well as many other things.

To meet Kraig is to remember him for a long time—his outstretched hand and "Hello, I'm Kraig Saks," his yodelling, Hava Nagila, quoting Bible verses to himself. These are all "Kraig." I remember this summer as having been better, spiritually, because God used Kraig as he shared Jesus with campers. This University of Oregon senior doing his recreation field work here stimulated many by his love for the Lord. As one camper stated: "The pamphlet, the songs, and seeing you so full of love, life, and Jesus has made a real impact on me. Thanks, Kraig."

Tilikum Provides A First

Beginning in December, we will provide every other month a special weekend devoted to "training for Christian leadership." Tilikum desires to work hand in hand with the local church and is being established as a center for creative new ideas for ministry and mission.

Jack Mathews, codirector of Discovery, Inc., will be with us Friday, December 1, through Sunday noon, December 3, for a weekend devoted to the inner discovery and recognition of the Holy Spirit's gifts to us for ministry. It will be a Christian journey inward for a missionary journey outward. Don't miss this exciting weekend of personal growth. The group will be limited to twenty-five participants, so register now by writing Tilikum, or calling 538-2763. Total cost—$17 per person.

A Tilikum Retreat Means Spiritual Advance

Tilikum has the elements for a meaningful retreat experience—facilities, food, atmosphere, recreational opportunities, and assistance in programing.

Retreat Rationale

Mark 6:31, 32—"And Jesus said to them, 'Come with me by yourselves to a quiet place and rest a little while.' For there was an endless stream of people coming and going, and they had no time even to eat. So they got off in their boat to be by themselves in a quiet place."

Dear Mr. Fawver:

Our firm, FISHER, WALLIN & LONG, architects and planners, is eager and pleased to be a part of your development of Camp Tilikum.

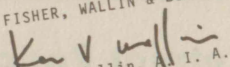

Architecture can help stimulate the camper and support the well defined goals of Camp Tilikum. The combination of the Northwest Coast Indian theme and some new, innovative ideas to support that same theme could further reinforce and harmonize an already exciting environment.

Man to Nature can be enhanced by buildings that seem to grow with and into nature. Then the man to man relationship becomes a natural experience and one aspect of the man to God relationship -- the respect of His creation and the use of our God given talents can be achieved.

We are looking forward to working with you.

Sincerely yours,

FISHER, WALLIN & LONG architects

Looking Ahead

These are exciting days as we look ahead to the full development of Tilikum, following God's leading. We envision a twofold thrust—a retreat center with lodge for eighty people, overlooking the lake, and across the lake open sleeping shelters for small group camping.

Plans are also underway for erecting a large all-weather multiuse shelter. Pray for us as we set the course for Tilikum's future.

Klahowya, Snass, Tum-tum

A secret code? Not for those who camped at Tilikum this summer. The Chinook jargon, Northwest Indian games, Indian sauna, and water activities were normal activities in an exciting camping program.

Tilikum was used an average of six days a week this summer by 28 different groups, giving us almost 1,300 camper days.

We thank those who came as campers, counselors, and helpers, and those behind the scenes who planned and prayed. God was in our first summer of ministry. His Spirit was in evidence in Bible studies, private counseling, and times at the lakeside chapel.

Tilikum Is Nonprofit

Tilikum is a nonprofit organization, dedicated to the ministry of helping people "be built up in the church, the body of Christ." Will you let God use you as a means of meeting our financial needs—operational and developmental? Your gifts can be sent through your church or to Tilikum directly.
