4. Credentials were read for the following friends:

Josiah Dillon, a minister of Bethel Monthly Meeting, Kansas Yearly Meeting.

Asa E. Woodard, a minister of Hinckle Creek Monthly Meeting, Western Yearly Meeting.

Isaac Ellis, a minister of Central City Monthly Meeting, Nebraska Yearly Meeting.

Evangeline Reams, an elder of Columbus Monthly Meeting, Ohio Yearly Meeting.

Charles Lescault and Lenna Lescault, ministers of Earlham Monthly Meeting, Iowa Yearly Meeting.

W. F. Sturgis and T. J. Jones, fraternal delegates from Entiat Monthly Meeting.

Wm. R. Harris, a minister of Lone Star Monthly Meeting, Kansas Yearly Meeting.

John L. Kittrell, a minister, and Cora Kittrell, of West Branch Quarterly Meeting, Indiana Yearly Meeting.

William Kirby, a minister of Des Moines Monthly Meeting, Iowa Yearly Meeting.

Emory J. Rees, without credentials, a missionary from Africa, representative of the American Friends Board of Foreign Missions, of Vermilion Grove Quarterly Meeting, Western Yearly Meeting, was present.

Many expressions of appreciation for the presence of these Friends were spoken.

5. The following committee was appointed to prepare returning minutes for visiting friends: Louisa P. Round, Evangeline Martin, Lurana M. Terrell, Amanda M. Woodward, Catherine E. Dickey and Mary Presnall.

6. The printing committee was directed to secure a typist for the Yearly Meeting.

7. The following persons were appointed to serve as a press committee: Chester A. Hadley, E. H. Woodward, J. Sanger Fox.

8. Replies to communications sent to Representative W. C. Hawley, Senator Charles L. McNary and Senator George E. Chamberlain, by order of last Yearly Meeting, were read.

9. A communication from Salem Quarterly Meeting asking that the Peace and Temperance committees be merged into one committee, to be known as the Peace, Good Citizenship Committee, was referred to the following committee for their consideration: Malinda H. Williams, Laura P. Townsend, Margaret King, B. Frank Hinshaw, H. Elmer Pemberton, I. Gurney Lee, Nate L. Wiley, Jesse Edwards.

10. A communication from Salem Quarterly Meeting requesting the Yearly Meeting to instruct its trustees to transfer titles to properties back to Monthly Meetings, upon request of said Monthly Meetings, was referred to the representatives for their consideration.

11. Statistical reports were read and will appear in the appendix to the minutes.

The statistical report for the year ending April 1, 1920, is herewith presented:

The report on letters to non-resident members is unsatisfactory and I am confident, quite incomplete. Since there are 1,070 of these, and 94 answers were received to 245 letters sent out, there seems to be a need for more knowledge of our non-resident membership. Some interesting comparisons may be made by referring to table 1.

The deaths exceed the births by three and, also, the loss by letter exceeds the gain by three. The total gain by request is 175. This overbalances the rather large loss of 110 by disownment, discontinuance of name and resignation.

Respectfully submitted,

S. Lewis Hanson, Acting Statistical Secretary.

12. The representatives were instructed to propose to the next session of this meeting names of persons to serve as Presiding Clerk, Recording Clerk, Reading Clerk and Announcing Clerk; determine a ratio for raising funds and distributing documents; propose funds to be raised for the church work, and nominate a Friend to serve as Treasurer for the ensuing year; propose the name of one person in each Quarterly Meeting to receive and distribute documents; propose names for Nominating, Auditing and Printing Committees.

13. The meeting adjourned to 2 P. M.

Fifth Day—2:00 P. M.

14. The meeting convened at 2:00 P. M., and paused for a few minutes in devotion.

15. The following report of the representatives was read, and the persons nominated were appointed:

Chairman—Milo P. Elliott.

Secretary—Catherine Dickey.

Presiding Clerk—Levi T. Pennington.

Recording Clerk—Oliver Weesner.

Reading Clerk—Marguerite P. Elliott.

Announcing Clerk—Chester A. Hadley.

It was agreed that the representatives from each Quarterly Meeting name two members to serve this meeting as nominating committee. The following were chosen: Letus Williams, Laura Roberts, Sarah Hall, Marion Cook, W. Lloyd Taylor, Ida J. Lee, Thomas W. Hester, John H. Rees.

The following were nominated for auditing committee: A. G. Street, Elmer Pemberton, J. Sanger Fox.

To receive and distribute documents: A. G. Street, R. F. D. 2, Caldwell, Idaho; F. M. George, 195 East 39th street, Portland, Oregon; David D. Keeler, 1143 Commercial street, Salem, Oregon; Jacob Marshall, Newberg, Oregon.

16 The reading of statistical reports was continued, and they will appear in the appendix to the minutes.

17. The Superintendent of Systematic and Proportionate Giving presented the following report:

We note with gratitude an ever increasing number of our members seeing the light in regard to Christian Stewardship. One meeting reports their number having doubled during the past year, and nearly every meeting reports more or less gain.

Some meetings report their finances in such satisfactory condition that it has been unnecessary to make any public appeal in regard to giving. In addition to the work done by the regular organization in this department, credit should be given the Forward Movement for some good results from their Stewardship Campaign. The pastors, also, so far as reported have been helpful in keeping the matter before the membership.

Piedmont reports having organized a Storehouse League with very satisfactory results, though the membership is small. We notice that wherever the Storehouse plan is followed, the financial condition of the meeting is very gratifying.

The pity of it is that there is quite a large number of members who, while willing to acknowledge their stewardship and pay the Lord's tenth, cannot see their way clear to turning this money over to the church for administration. So far as we know there are only a few meetings where this is done unreservedly. We believe that when the individual, recognizing God's claim upon the tenth for His direct work, pays that tenth to the church, God's recognized agent on earth, then the individual's responsibility ceases, and the responsibility for its proper administration is upon the church. To be sure, the individual is still responsible for the right use of the remaining nine-tenths, and we believe his love for God will, or should, prompt him to bring in "the offerings," also, for whatever need he sees either in the regular church work or outside.

While "The silver is mine and the gold is mine," saith the Lord," and "the cattle upon a thousand hills," yet His work has been hampered, and many, many souls have gone down in darkness because Christ's professed followers have selfishly kept God's tenth for their own use. No doubt the stripes, or punishment of the former will be laid upon the latter.

How our hearts rejoice as we look forward to the glad day, we trust in the near future, when Christ's church shall so bring in all the tithes that there shall be, as God says, "meat in mine house," that is, a sufficient supply of material things for adequately carrying on His work at home, and spreading the Gospel "to the uttermost parts."

Respectfully submitted,

Stella Crozer, Superintendent.

18. Several persons testified to the blessings the Storehouse League and tithing have brought to them.

19. The following report of the Literature Department was read:

The Literature Department has been laboring under some disadvantages, no funds having been appropriated for its use. The expenses which have been incurred, however, have been met by private means.

Owing to the fact that we had no report blanks, the reports from the different Quarterly Meetings came in in somewhat irregular form, hence could not be accurately tabulated. However, we are encouraged by the interest manifested in this work, as the following will show:

Number of tracts distributed.....	3,731
Pages of other literature distributed.....	2,484
Papers distributed.....	1,533
Number of libraries.....	11
Books in libraries.....	803
Books added during the year.....	11
Books loaned.....	56

Friends papers taken.....	337
Other religious papers taken.....	297
Bibles or portions of scripture given.....	1,947
Meetings or conferences in interest of literature.....	4
Church wall pockets or tract boxes.....	4

Character home libraries, mostly good.

C. B. Williams, a member of Scotts Mills meeting who is traveling in isolated places, has distributed 16,000 tracts, 250 books, 400 mottoes and 50 Testaments.

Boise Valley reports several religious books loaned and read.

Portland quarter reports the distribution of many tracts, papers, help-books and Bibles.

Ida J. Lee, Superintendent.

20. Guy W. Furbay gave a short talk on "How to Save the Young People from Unwholesome Literature."

Charles I. Whitlock gave a short talk on "What Service May Friends Render at this Time in the Field of Literature."

21. The recording clerk was directed to make a summary of reports on the state of society.

22. The meeting decided to fix a time for considering our relation to the Five Years Meeting.

23. The meeting decided to consider our relation to the Five Years Meeting on sixth day, sixth month, 11th, in the afternoon following the report of the Superintendent of Evangelistic and Church Extension work.

24. The meeting adjourned to meet at 10 A. M. sixth month, 11th.

Sixth Day—10 A. M.

25. The meeting convened at 10:00 A. M. The meeting paused for a few moments in devotional service.

26. James L. Simpson and Florence Simpson, his wife, the former an Overseer and the latter an Elder with credentials from Tacoma Monthly Meeting were present. C. Frank Conover and Blanche Austin Conover, missionaries from Africa, were also present. The meeting appreciated the presence of these Friends.

27. The following report of the Treasurer of the Yearly Meeting was read:

Respectfully submitted,

Oliver Wæesner, Treasurer Oregon Yearly Meeting.

We, the Auditing Committee of Oregon Yearly Meeting, have this 11th day of sixth month, 1920, examined the treasurer's books for the year closing sixth month, tenth, 1920, and certify same to be correct to the best of knowledge and belief.

Signed in behalf of Committee,

A. G. Street, Chairman.

28. A communication from the American Bible Society relative to an appropriation was referred to the finance committee.

29. The following report of the Superintendent of Foreign Missions was read:

Oregon Yearly Meeting Missionary Report for the year ending April 1, 1920.

As we study the reports for the year, coming in from each Monthly Meeting, we notice that our financial support has gone to nearly every field where Friends have work.

Through the American Friends Board our funds have gone to Mexico, Cuba, Jamaica, Africa and Palestine. From various Monthly Meetings money has gone to Central America, Alaska, Japan, China, India and some of the meetings have reported money sent for relief in Syria, Austria and other fields. It would seem that we have truly taken the world into our hearts.

There are more meetings reporting special missionary instruction in the Bible Schools than ever before, some Schools giving all offerings to Missions and others giving the offerings on one day in the month. Salem Quarterly Meeting reports 36 missionary sermons and many parts of sermons. Portland Quarterly Meeting, 43 sermons and addresses; Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting, 23 sermons; Newberg Quarterly Meeting, 30. In the Yearly Meeting there has been a total of 88 sermons and 82 special missionary meetings.

Several Monthly Meetings have reported going "over the top" in money sent to the American Friends Board, this meaning they have raised $2.00 or more per member.

O. J. Sherman, Chairman,
Effie R. Tamplin, Secretary.

30. The following report of the Treasurer of the Foreign Mission Board was read:

W. E. Crozer, Treasurer.

31. Statistical reports of the Foreign Mission Board were read and will appear in the appendix to the minutes.

32. Emory J. Rees, C. Frank Conover and Blanche Austin Conover gave interesting talks on the missionary work in Africa.

33. The meeting adjourned to meet at 2:00 P. M.

Sixth Day—2:00 P. M.

34. The meeting convened at 2:00 P. M. and paused for a short period of devotion.

35. The Yearly Meeting Superintendent of Evangelistic and Church Extension Work gave the following report:

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT

Introductory

Perhaps no one has felt more keenly than myself the embarrassing circumstances under which I entered upon the duties which the office of Superintendent of Church Extension interests involves. My pastoral duties where I was serving and the adjustment of various interests prevented me from reaching your field until three months after the adjournment of your Yearly Meeting. This deprived me of that valuable introduction to the workers, and to the various phases of their work and field problems, which is obtained by personal association and conference, during the sessions of a Yearly Meeting.

I am grateful for that kindly sympathy and helpful co-operation accorded me by the Executive Committee in enabling me to overcome these difficulties. Immediately after my arrival a meeting of the Evangelistic Board was called. After a few moments of getting acquainted, followed by prayer for guidance, the Board unanimously agreed upon a program of service involving a tour of the Yearly Meeting field. This itinerary of service to be followed by the attendance of the Quarterly Meetings in their various sessions.

I began visiting the meetings here on the coast during the fruit harvest when their Sabbath services were reduced to the lowest point in attendance and enthusiasm. Yet there was marked evidence of God's blessing graciously bestowed upon faithful service and trusted leadership; so much so that during these getting acquainted services I was privileged to bow with pastors and workers at the altars, while souls sought God in definite blessing.

Quarterly Meetings in Session

The busy part of the season having passed, my impressions and feelings were greatly helped as I met with Friends in their Quarterly conferences. Despite the varied business interests representative of departmental activities which crowd into the sessions of such gatherings, and which essentially must be cared for, it is an omen of great significance when they terminate in seasons of great spiritual awakening in which the penitent confess their sins, the blackslidden in heart renew their covenants, and believers seek and receive the Holy Spirit in sanctifying grace. Nor are such evidences of Divine favor confined to these occasions. Pastors frequently report definite results in their regular services. One wrote saying, "Now for four Sabbaths there have been from one to four seekers at the altar every Sabbath." From the view point of our denominational interests as well as our responsibility to God we can not over stress the importance of holding our services in the power of God. If we put aside outward symbol and ritualistic observance, we must lead the people into the conscious presence of spiritual realities embodied in a Divine personality, or our meetings will lapse into cold, lifeless and uninviting formalism.

Pastors and Ministers

These local manifestations of revival grace are most refreshing to pastors and their co-workers while facing difficulties and problems growing out of universal disturbed commercial interests, social relations and spiritual apathy following the stress of war. Their faithful ministration and devotion is a convincing evidence of their faith in the divine authenticity and credibility of the Bible and the ultimate triumph of its message of redemption centering in Christ as the only begotten of the Father. With increasing desire and passion they labor to give the message of Christ's substitutionary offering, and vicarious suffering upon the cross, to sinful men. "From age to age, the suffering and death of Christ have been a hidden mystery and rock of offense to the unbelief and pride of man's fallen nature, yet to the humble penitent whose heart is broken under the convicting power of the Spirit, life is revealed in that death." While many are the agencies and organizations which along lines of Social Service are contributing the by-products of Christianity to a bruised, scarred and bleeding world so desperately in need, the church of Jesus Christ is the Divinely called out and commissioned ecclesia to carry the gospel of Sinai, Calvary and Pentecost to the citadel of soul death, moral degeneracy and social chaos. Thus as a Spirit filled and Divinely guided church we are enabled to extend Christ's kingdom within the hearts of men we will effectively contribute to individual redemption, community regeneration and the world's disorder. True democracy and national greatness, of which we hear so much, can only be realized to the extent that the fires of pure religion are kept burning upon the altar of human hearts.

Church Extension

The Yearly Meeting is rather isolated. It is about 1,200 miles from our eastern limits to the western limits of Nebraska Yearly Meeting, and 700 miles from our southern limits to the northern limits of California Yearly Meeting. While Canada Yearly Meeting occupies the Dominion of Canada to the north, with Indiana Yearly Meeting having one Quarterly Meeting sandwiched in between on the northern part of Oregon Yearly Meeting's territory.

A glance at the chart which I have prepared will show the territory which the Yearly Meeting now occupies is in ten counties of three states. It has twenty-one Monthly Meetings and nine Outstations. Twelve of these are in cities and towns, eight are in villages, and ten are in rural districts. Nineteen churches and fifteen parsonages constitute the Yearly Meeting housing facilities. Twenty-two persons are now engaged in pastoral work.

A few meetings have increased their pastoral support for the coming year. But some pastors are serving on financial support insufficient to meet their actual expenses; and in some of these cases the meetings could easily increase their support.

The meeting at Rosedale has commenced preparation to replace its church house with a more commodious building, which is much needed to care for the growing interests in the Bible school and church services.

Boise Valley and Salem Quarterly Meetings have included $500.00 in this year's budget for their Church Extension work.

Aggressive and constant Pastoral Evangelism led by the pastors, supported by their Committees and accentuated by the entire membership is necessary not only for the life and development of the church, but to prepare the field and sow the seed for the special revival effort. Unless the church "stirreth herself to lay hold on God" and through soul travail and intercessory prayer keeps alive the spirit of evangelism, it will be difficult to reap a harvest of souls in the evangelistic efforts and much more difficult for the church to care for the spiritual development of these who are saved.

The policy of Church Extension which seems to be followed quite largely is, when a sufficient number of Friends to constitute a nucleus have located in a community, to then hold a revival and organize the work. Also there are Outstations opened up and developed by the pastor in charge of a congregation and the strong spiritual characters of his congregation who will assist him in such work. These methods are not to be undervalued or neglected.

But there should be a more directing and constructive effort along with the foregoing plan. The more strategic centers of growth and development, where Friends as well as others are sure to settle, should be entered by the Church Extension force. The strength of the entire Yearly Meeting, through its Evangelistic Board, should support the Quarterly Meeting when it has been decided to enter such a center. Not only in the calling of the evangelist and the selection of a competent pastor, but financially to the extent of injecting the element of aggressiveness and permanency necessary to command the confidence of the surrounding constituency. In the absence of any adequate Extension fund, this would involve a system of pledge cards, or some uniform plan, by which the entire Yearly Meeting could be solicited giving them full information concerning the work involved.

Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting has built its work around two such centers which the interests of their field demand shall be entered and an organized work effected soon. While some of the other Quarterly Meetings, perhaps, should go beyond their present limits and select some central opening around which may be built a supporting constituency of Meetings and Outstations.

Contributing Agencies

The value of a well organized and efficiently equipped Bible school, under the leadership of Spirit filled officers and teachers, as a fruitful field from which a church receives converts and recruits its membership is recognized by all pastors and their church Boards. A careful and earnest presentation of the Gospel truth by the teachers leading up to a personal acceptance of Christ opens the way for and makes more fruitful the pastor's message and appeal. A uniform presentation of the cardinal teachings of the Gospel, continuity of thought involving the laws of grace under which Christian character is developed and the practical application of the principles of Christianity to the problems of life, on the part of the Bible school forces of a Yearly Meeting, lays the foundation for an intelligent, effective and co-operating church membership. These constructive efforts of the Bible school should be provided for by the church in her Authorized Bible School Helps, and adopted and used by the schools of the Yearly Meeting in order to husband to the best advantage the fruits of our labor for Christ and the church.

The Y. P. S. C. E. has long since proven its importance as a department for Bible study and training for Christian work. Resting by constitution of organization and spirit of teaching upon the basis of church faith and embodying in pledge and attitude the spirit of loyalty to church interests and activity it presents a group of young people dependable under responsibility, trustworthy for important spiritual functions and possessing talents and ability for initiative in leadership. They should be heartily encouraged by the church and more largely associated with her general program of work.

By official review the educational interests will be presented. To whatever extent the idea of mental equipment approaching an educational standard of efficiency in preparation for service may be questioned, it remains a fact that by demand of the common people such a standard really exists. From isolated rural communities and hamlets and from villages as well as cities comes alike the appeal for trained leadership. No church can play fair with its young people without holding before them the character of equipment required. The importance of our educational institutions as centers where such training may be received is very apparent. The needs of this age demand a preparation which lays a sure foundation for and development of unshaken faith in God and the gospel of His Son.

Now that the influence of the press is so universal and its function so important no church can be at its best without the aid of so valuable an asset as an Authorized Church Paper. No single human agency can do more to keep her in intelligent touch with her task and to clarify her vision and correlate her activities. In its columns may be gathered and through them proclaimed to all the very essence and soul of the great evangelical truths as preached in her pulpits. While the riches of infinite grace as experienced and attained by the ripest of her saints awaiting translation may be told to souls hungry for His blessings.

Modern inventions have eliminated distance, removed barriers and made the world our neighbor. Complicated conditions surround us while the world field facing us presents to the church a task of such magnitude and labors so abundant as to almost overwhelm her. Ringing out of the dim centuries of the past rises the prophetic call, "Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth; for I am God and there is none else," Christ carried that world message through the bloody sweat of Gethsemane, through the dying agonies of Calvary, into the darkness of the tomb and out into the victory of resurrection life. Then hurling it back through the fires of Pentecost upon the heart of the church, commissioned her in terms of world vision and purpose. Now at her front door-yard lies the world's perishing myriads. This may be the day of Friends final testing! Are we able? No amount of organization, however perfect in its working and complete in its structure, will afford us strength for the emergency; neither will the rejection of that organization and the dismemberment of its structure. Quakerism will never come into her own as a mighty evangelizing power in the hands of God until these contributing agencies, through her Evangelistic forces, Publishing Boards and Educational leaders come to a confidential understanding and harmonious interpretation of the essentials of her message. And, rallying their combined forces for united and progressive evangelism based on the Gospel Fundamentals, give evidence of the answered prayer, "That they may be one. That the world may believe that I have sent them."

General Conditions

Notwithstanding the degree of blessing and victory attained the year has been one of severe trial and testing. During the winter months heavy snows and weather of unusual severity contributed to irregular church attendance. Pastors, by quarantine regulations, closed their regular services and reduced their pastoral visitation to a minimum until there was developed a conscious lack of personal touch and organized influence and activity. The prevailing epidemics disrupted evangelistic programs. Several meetings were compelled to delay their revival efforts until the beginning of spring work, thereby reducing their attendance and curtailing their scope of influence.

The absorbing and universal stress of war with the various campaigns and the general upheaval of unrest and prevailing uncertainty during the period of reconstruction seem to have contributed to a general neglect of spiritual interests on the part of the masses. The evangelistic results obtained have been due to local efforts in the absence of any general revival wave characterized by potential spiritual fervency.

For some time evidently there has been developing within the Yearly Meeting a feeling of unrest and dissatisfaction concerning the work of the Boards of the Five Years Meeting and the publication of the Authorized Church Literature. This growing sentiment crystalized into conviction sufficiently to be presented to the Yearly Meeting one year ago in the form of Resolutions and a Proposition. The Resolutions being explanatory of the dissatisfaction and suggestive of corrective measures were made the adopted recommendations of the Yearly Meeting. And the members of this Yearly Meeting who held official connection with the Boards of the Five Years Meeting were "directed and required" to use all their influence and authority to carry out the corrective measures suggested. The Proposition contained a proposed course of action effecting the relation of the Yearly Meeting to the Five Years Meeting as an organization. After consideration it was directed down to the Quarterly Meetings for their action with instructions to report to the 1920 sessions of the Yearly Meeting.

The consequent discussion and agitation growing out of conflicting opinions and diverse judgments concerning matters of such vast importance and possible grave developments, with the involved uncertain decision and course of action, has not contributed to a confidential understanding and hearty co-operation of forces. Prior to the presentation of those documents to the Yearly Meeting some Monthly Meetings by action of their own had withdrawn their moral and financial support from the American Friends Board of Foreign Missions, while others have since the Proposition was received antedated the decision of the Yearly Meeting and withdrawn their support. Of the 3,073 members reported last year, only 188 are taking our Official Church Paper. According to Post Office address, these are distributed through our territory as follows: Newberg, 71; Portland, 28; Springbrook, 14; Salem, 12; Caldwell, 9; Greenleaf, 6; Star, 4; Wilder, 4; Woodland, 3; Dundee, 3; Rex, 2; Homedale, 2. Boise, 20 La Grande, 2. The remaining 26 copies represent an equal number of Post Office addresses, throughout our territory. The Penn Bible School Quarterlies are being used as follows: Springbrook, Sherwood, Rex, and Salem use the Teachers', Adult, and Intermediate; Portland, the Teachers', and Intermediate; Newberg, the Teachers', and Adult; Greenleaf, the Intermediate; Woodland, the Adult.

I have reviewed these facts as frankly and as impartially as I can in order to remind you that the gravest crisis in the history of the Yearly Meeting is now pending. A decision reached by the mere test of voting power may be far removed from an alignment of forces necessary to conserve the unity of the Yearly Meeting and to make effective her testimony for the truth which our church has declared fundamental. Any decision which may express ever so clearly and eloquently in phrases and sentences our conception of that truth is not enough. Whatever the decision and course of action involved may be the test of its wisdom and power of its influence will be whether there is ballast of character, vision of soul and cohesive power for united action. Failure to unite in a progressive, constructive program embracing the departments of church work recognized as essential, and accepting a policy of independent action led by personal leaders and local meetings, would be tragic in its effect upon all our Yearly Meeting interests, and result in loss of influence with the evangelical forces of American Quakerism.

The spirit of unrest and discontent has swept through the country disturbing social relations, commercial interests and threatened the functions of government. Notwithstanding the colossal efforts at organization and the unparalleled programs involved, it is clear that the religious world has not escaped that spirit of unrest. But "God still lives" and His truth is as eternal and as enduring as the attributes which constitute His Deity. In view of these facts I beg to suggest that there never has been a time in the history of our work when we needed to know more definitely our Father's will. It is a good time for all to turn from personal preference and desire, and with deep purpose of heart and consecration of intelligence, through prayer to seek guidance of Him who hath said, "My sheep know my voice."

Personal

During the nine months of my service I have traveled 12,051 miles. Have attended 173 services and given 129 sermons and addresses and written 275 letters. My salary and expenses have been paid in full by the Treasurer of the Board.

I desire to record my gratitude to God for His care and keeping, and for the warm welcome and hearty co-operation accorded me by the ministers and consecrated workers of Oregon Yearly Meeting.

Respectfully submitted,

L. Clarkson Hinshaw.

36. The following reports from the Quarterly Meetings on the subject of withdrawing from the Five Years Meeting were read:

Pursuant to instruction handed down to the Quarterly Meetings by Oregon Yearly Meeting in the matter of our relation to the Five Years Meeting, this Quarterly Meeting requested each Monthly Meeting to consider the question with the result that report has been returned and become a permanent record of this Meeting that a majority of each Monthly Meeting voted to withdraw from the Five Years Meeting. Portland Quarterly Meeting held June 5, 1920, at First Friends Church by majority vote sustained the action of each Monthly Meeting.

Taken from the minutes of Portland Quarterly Meeting, held June 5, 1920.

H. A. Hinshaw,

M. Alice Hanson, Clerks.

The subject of withdrawing from the Five Years Meeting, having been directed to the Quarterly Meetings by the Yearly Meeting in 1919.

The Quarterly Meeting Clerk had informed the different Monthly Meetings and they had given thought, prayer and discussion to the matter.

After earnest, kind, serious, consideration the meeting decided to report to the Yearly Meeting that we favored remaining in the Five Years Meeting.

Taken from the minutes of Newberg Quarterly Meeting held Fifth Month Eighth, 1920.

Oliver Weesner, Clerk.

The proposition "To withdraw from the Five Years Meeting," which was considered by Oregon Yearly Meeting in 1919, and referred by it to the several Quarterly Meetings; was by Salem Quarterly Meeting referred to its several Monthly Meetings, and by them prayerfully considered, and reported as follows to Salem Quarterly Meeting held at Rosedale 5-15-1920.

This Meeting voted 42 to 0 in favor of Oregon Yearly Meeting withdrawing from the Five Years Meeting in 1920.

Signed on behalf of Salem Monthly Meeting of Friends held at Salem 4-8-1920.

Clifton Ross, Clerk.

Marion Monthly Meeting unanimously favors the proposal to withdraw from the Five Years Meeting.

Modenia M'Neal, Clerk.

We, as a Monthly Meeting, favor the withdrawal of Oregon Yearly Meeting, this year, from the Five Years Meeting.

Taken from the minutes of Scotts Mills Monthly Meeting held 5-5-1920.

E. W. Coulson,

Lila Brougher, Clerks.

Rosedale Monthly Meeting favors the proposition to withdraw from the Five Years Meeting, but recommends that a constructive program be inaugurated.

On behalf of Rosedale Monthly Meeting of Friends held 5-5-1920.

Mary S. Cammack, Clerk.

After much discussion, in which Friends expressed their views, it was moved that Oregon Yearly Meeting remain a part of the Five Years Meeting, but that we earnestly strive to remedy any tendency which seems unorthodox.

The vote was as follows:

To withdraw, 2; to remain, 24.

Taken from the minutes of South Salem Monthly Meeting held 4-1-1920.

Carl Miller,

Clara H. Elliott, Clerks.

We endorse the reports of our several Monthly Meetings and report the same to Oregon Yearly Meeting as our report.

On behalf of Salem Quarterly Meeting of Friends held at Rosedale 5-15-1920.

W. E. Way,
Marguerite P. Elliott, Clerks.

The proposition in regard to Oregon Yearly Meeting withdrawing from the Five Years Meeting, directed down to the different Quarterly Meetings for their consideration, with instructions to report to the ensuing Yearly Meeting their action thereon, has at this time claimed our serious and prayerful attention, with the result that while Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting believes for Oregon Yearly Meeting to withdraw as proposed would be untimely, unfair, and would tend to defeat the purpose and end that is sought by the action, we also believe that before we can legally and honorably withdraw, a clear, definite protest should be made to the Five Years Meeting through its General Secretary, against the prevailing conditions that have prompted the above proposition. We, therefore, direct that the following minute be sent to the Yearly Meeting for its endorsement, and if endorsed by the Yearly Meeting, that it be sent to the General Secretary of the Five Years Meeting.

"Since there has arisen much dissatisfaction throughout the Friends Church in this country, concerning our publications and the action of some of the Boards of the Five Years Meeting, we wish to call attention to the fact that the Five Years Meeting of 1912 did decide that all its publications should hold steadfastly to the sound doctrine of the Scriptures (Published Minutes of the Five Years Meeting of 1912, sections 37 and 96). The Five Years Meeting has further recognized that the final test of faith and doctrine is found in the Scriptures, and the Friends interpretation of them as set forth in our Uniform Discipline (page 7), George Fox's letter to the Governor of the Barbadoes (page 11), and the Richmond Declaration of Faith.

Notwithstanding this requirement, we find, in our Bible School literature, a liberal interpretation of Scripture tending toward destructive criticism, and recommendation of periodicals and books whose authors are known to hold in question the authenticity, historicity, and integrity of the Bible. With all respect for the editor and the difficulties under which he labors, we hold that he with his associates is responsible for what is published, and we as a component part of the Five Years Meeting, expect the matter of this literature to conform to the standards of the Five Years Meeting.

There also exists a concern that our influence upon society be primarily spiritual, and it is a source of disappointment not to find in the American Friend those things which would lead into and develop a vigorous spiritual life. Instead, we find a disproportionate attention and emphasis upon social service and political reconstruction, to the neglect of the teachings of the Bible on the redemption from all sin through the merits of the shed blood of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Further, we demand in the recognition of ministers and the selection of missionary candidates, that the meetings and Boards responsible for such action, shall give special attention to the spiritual life and experience of those who go out to represent us, and all such be urged to take their intellectual training in schools which are known to be in harmony with our standards of Scriptural doctrine.

In conclusion, we demand on the part of all our Boards and Publication Staffs, that they review the requirements to which the Five Years Meeting has pledged itself, and conform thereto, as we hereby pledge ourselves to this standard, and to no other. It is therefore understood that if these conditions are not remedied by the next Five Years Meeting in the re-organization of its various Boards, Oregon Yearly Meeting will feel at liberty to withdraw should it so elect."

This proposition was carried with a vote of 42 in its favor and 39 against.

Taken from the minutes of Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting of Friends held at Star, Idaho, 5th month 22, 1920.

J. W. Jones,
Laura Roberts, Clerks.

37. A number of communications on the subject of withdrawing from the Five Years Meeting were read.

38. The meeting decided to consider the resolutions received from Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting as recorded in minute 36.

39. The resolutions received from Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting as follows were adopted and the clerks were directed to forward them to the General Secretary of the Five Years Meeting.

40. The meeting gave a vote of appreciation to the presiding clerk for the fair manner in which he conducted the business of the afternoon.

41. The meeting adjourned to meet at 10:00 A. M. Sixth month, 12th, 1920.

Seventh Day—10:00 A. M.

42. The meeting convened at 10:00 A. M. and paused for a few minutes in devotions.

43. The following summary of the reports on the state of the church was read and adopted:

The reports from the Quarterly Meetings indicate that the spiritual condition of our members is good, and that many have experienced growth and development in spiritual life during the year.

Meetings have been regularly held except that it was reported that one meeting was not held for a few weeks on account of influenza. Meetings for worship have been well attended, except some of the Sabbath evening meetings in two of our Quarterly Meetings, and some of the mid-week prayer meetings in two of our Quarterly Meetings.

A large number of our families have daily family devotion but it is apparent from the reports that some neglect this form of worship.

The membership generally strives conscientiously to maintain a right relationship with each other and the world and to live as becometh followers of Christ.

Our pastors have been faithful and sound in their ministry. Many have been definitely blessed during the past year and the spiritual life of our members has been enriched. There were a number of conversions, renewals and sanctifications.

One Quarterly Meeting reported the Bible Schools are growing in interest and there has been marked increase in their attendance. Another Quarterly Meeting reported that they realize there is a constant danger in allowing the cares of this life to take up too much of our time and effort. Another Quarterly Meeting said that care is taken to train the children in upright and useful lives but there appears to be some lack in efforts for their conversion and growth in grace.

44. The nominating committee presented a number of nominations which were adopted and made appointments by the Yearly Meeting. The names will be found in the appendix.

45. The meeting expressed its sincere appreciation for the very valuable and faithful service in the work of the Yearly Meeting entertainment committee, rendered by Semon J. Madson, deceased.

46. William H. Brown, an overseer, and his wife, Lottie M. Brown, were present with credentials from Tacoma Monthly Meeting. The meeting welcomed them among us.

47. The following report of the Treasurer of Evangelistic and Church Extension Board was read and adopted:

Marietta Lewis, Treasurer.

We, the Auditing Committee appointed by Oregon Yearly Meeting, certify that we have this 11th day, sixth month, 1920, examined the books and records of the Treasurer of the Evangelistic and Church Extension Board and find same to be correct according to the information furnished, and we further recommend that in the future vouchers be preserved and filed with the reports showing each item of expense of this department.

Signed—

A. G. Street,
H. E. Pemberton,
J. Sanger Fox, Committee.

48. The committee appointed to consider the subject of uniting the departments of Peace and Temperance made the following report which was adopted:

We, your Committee, met and considered the subject placed in our hands, that of uniting the departments of Peace and Temperance under the head of Peace and Good Citizenship, came to the conclusion that it was not best to make any change at this time.

On behalf of the Committee—

Malinda H. Williams, Chairman.

49. The following report of the Peace Department was presented by Evangeline Martin:

On account of the death of the Quarterly Meeting's Superintendent, no report was received from Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting.

From reports received three sermons on Peace have been preached during the year.

Portland Quarter reports the distribution of Peace literature in the way of thirty copies of the Messenger of Peace. Also, that a strong message for Peace was carried one month on the Bulletin of First Church.

Several letters have been sent to our Senators and Representatives protesting against Legislation pertaining to the increase of military equipment and against armed intervention in Mexico.

Six dollars and twenty-five cents were sent by Portland Friends to the Yearly Meeting's Superintendent to assist in buying prizes for a Peace Contest.

All the Quarterly Meetings contributed to the $50 forwarded to the Five Years Board for its work. The $5 appropriated by the Yearly Meeting has not been used.

Respectfully submitted,

Evangeline Martin.

50. The Fifty-first annual report of the Peace Association of Friends in America was read and will appear in the appendix to the minutes.

51. The proposition to send the Messenger of Peace into every family of the Yearly Meeting for four months was referred to the Finance Committee for their consideration.

52. A number of Friends discussed some phases of our attitude on peace.

53. The following report of the Yearly Meeting Service Committee was read:

A questionnaire was sent to the different Monthly Meetings for data which was requested by the American Friends Service Committee. Answers were received from all meetings except West Piedmont and Quilcene.

These answers show the following:

62. The Woman's Auxiliary to Pacific College presented the following report:

Some have felt that it might be well for the Auxiliary to give at this time a brief review of work done during the years it has been trying to serve the College.

Organized about ten years ago, it has held pretty close to its original purpose "to enlist a larger constituency in the interest of the College, to aid in its better equipment for work, and to have a general oversight of the Dormitories." And while it would be most unseemly for us to boast in any wise, of our accomplishments, we do feel that the results of our efforts along these lines have been worth while.

Our most constant work has been in the upkeep of the Dormitories, keeping an adequate supply on hand of table and bed linen, dishes, silver, kitchen ware, etc.

Our largest single undertaking in dollars has been subscribing $3,000 for College Endowment. This was done in 1913, to be paid in twenty equal payments, six of which have been made at present. By special arrangement with the Board, we pay interest on the note through the money expended through the year on Dormitory upkeep, improvements, etc. In addition to this, cash subscriptions have been made to the College work amounting to $200 or more.

Probably our second largest undertaking was the installing of the Domestic Science Department, with its electric ranges, hot plates, utensils, tables and other necessary equipment, all of which cost us something over $500. We have been grieved to see this splendid equipment lying idle, as we know the Board has been, and we all trust that with the better financial basis the Board will be able to keep a teacher employed in this department, which is in great demand by the students.

Some time previous to this we had cement walks laid on and around the campus, for which we appropriated $200 at one time and a little more was paid on it later.

About that time we undertook the remodeling of the old College building into a Boys' Dormitory. We paid on this about $300 which did not put it in the shape we wanted, but merely made it inhabitable, and we are have been working on it more or less ever since—are now trying to get the walls painted.

At the time of the building and equipping of Wood-Mar Hall we spent considerable money on furnishing and fixtures, the largest single item of which was the desk arm recitation chairs, which cost us about $200.

Later we helped install the Commercial Department in the second story of the old College building, paying out around $100 for same.

There are many other items, too numerous to mention separately, such as laying the gravel drive and buying shrubbery for the campus, furnishing rest room in the building, etc., etc.

No doubt some are wondering how we obtained the wherewith for all these undertakings.

Our most constant income has been annual dues, of $1 per member, which has averaged around $200 per year.

Then we have bought and canned for, or donated to, the Auxiliary about 500 quarts of fruit each year, which is sold to the Dormitory Club at a nominal figure, much below what it would cost them on the market.

We have published a cook book, held Autumn Markets, served banquets for the College classes and Associations, sold cleaning paste, run ice cream and candy booths on various occasions, held Jingle Socials, at which each member must tell in rhyme how she earned the dollar she brings, and many other things, also too numerous to mention.

Twice each year we hold food and fancy work sales, which have come to be looked forward to by the townspeople and from which we always receive good returns.

One time we put on a concert at the College and came through with a goodly sum—on the wrong side of the balance. Our efforts have frequently brought us large returns—in experience, but not much else.

We wish to acknowledge here, with gratitude, the help received from time to time from branches of the Auxiliary in Salem, Portland and Puget Sound Quarterly Meetings, both in dues and donations of various kinds.

Most of all we acknowledge the help and blessing of our Heavenly Father, as we have undertaken in these various ways to assist young people in preparation for their life work.

Respectfully submitted,

Stella Crozer, Secretary.

63. The report of Acting President John D. Mills of Pacific College was read as follows:

REPORT OF PACIFIC COLLEGE

As Acting President I hereby submit the report of Pacific College for the year 1919-1920:

Lights and shadows intermingle in the year's history. The granting to President Pennington of a leave of absence in the middle of the vacation period left the College without an active head. Professor Perisho was placed in charge of the campaign for students and the work of preparation for the school year and continued to direct the affairs of the College until the end of the second week of the first semester. I arrived in Newberg the 10th of October and found the largest student body in many years enrolled and every department of the College running smoothly. I entered thus, in the midst of the college year, on a work new to me both in class room and office, and with a student body and faculty nearly all of whom were entire strangers. As I look back on this, it seems to me to have been a most hazardous thing to do. The absence of President Pennington, with his splendid abilities and his intimate knowledge of every detail of the management and work of the College, has been greatly felt and only the loyal, earnest co-operation of the members of the faculty has made it possible to carry on the work with any degree of efficiency. In the second week of the second semester an epidemic of la grippe or influenza, unprecedented in the history of the College, swept over us. Probably sixty per cent or more of the students were affected and lost from one to three weeks of school in consequence. These students took up their work again in much physical weakness so that they felt greatly the strain of the strenuous days following and the extra curriculum activities suffered noticeably. Following closely upon the epidemic came the financial campaign. In order that I might be free to give my time to it, the other members of the faculty, although already overburdened, took over my work. Despite all these extra difficulties and extra tasks the year came to a close with good spirit, the feeling being general among students and faculty that the year has been a splendid one.

The attendance the past year has been the largest in many years. Only one former Freshman class exceeded the one of this year. The Academy classes were also large. If the upper classes in the College had kept pace with those, there would be even greater cause for encouragement. It is interesting to note that about seventy per cent of the students were Friends.

Graduates

A class of three was graduated from the College with the degree of Bachelor of Arts, viz: Irene Hodgkin, Frances Elliott and Mary E. Pennington. The Senior honors went to Irene Hodgkin. The Junior prize was awarded to Esther Terrell.

The following have finished the prescribed course in the Academy and were awarded diplomas: Murray C. Gregory, Eva L. Miles, Alfred Terrell, Daisee Matilda Leffler, Cecil R. Hinshaw, M. Estelle Stroud, H. Brooks Terrell, Helen R. Hester, R. Davis Woodward, Reta P. Hanson, Cecil F. Hinshaw, Beth Paulsen. The College scholarship was awarded to Cecil F. Hinshaw whose average grade for the four years' work was 95 per cent.

Diplomas certifying that they have finished the Commercial course were awarded to Lillian Massman, Harriett Hodgkin, Helen Mendenhall, Blanche Carlisle, Alfred Terrell, Pauline Terrell, May Bernice Wallen, Clara Hall and Hattie Jermo.

Faculty Changes

Professor Addie E. Wright resigned her work at the beginning of the second semester, this step being made necessary by her own temporary loss of eyesight and the serious illness of her father. Her place was well supplied by Miss Mary Marlatt. Professor C. E. Lewis, Head of the Department of Public Speaking and Governor of the Men's Dormitory, has resigned to enter another line of work. His place has not yet been filled. Professor R. W. Lewis, who has been completing his work for the Master's degree at the University of California, will again be at the Head of the Department of English. Professor Lyra B. Miles, Acting Professor of English during the past year, will remain as Professor of Psychology and Education.

Improvements

The increased enrollment made necessary additional rooms in the men's dormitory and four more were finished and equipped. The old furnaces under the dormitories and Science Hall were also removed and replaced with ones which proved adequate to meet the needs. It is hoped that further improvements, largely in the nature of painting and furnishings, can be made this summer. A splendid stereopticon lantern and projector was added to the College equipment early in the year. Special mention should be made, I think, of the fine flag pole and flag presented by the Freshman class at commencement time.

Religious Spirit

The religious life of the students showed a marked development during the year. The Christian Associations began the year somewhat disorganized. The lack of Bible and Mission study classes was greatly felt and partly as a result of this lack, the meetings held by Daniel S. Hodgkin were not as effective as they otherwise might have been. Following the meetings classes and prayer groups were organized and the spiritual tone of the school improved greatly from then on. The spiritual forces of the College are, to no small degree, dependent on the spiritual forces of the Yearly Meeting and it is only right and fitting that the leaders in our Yearly Meeting work should feel a heavy responsibility along this line.

The visit of the Life Work deputation of the Five Years Meeting was one of the most important events of the year. Many of the students were greatly helped by the opportunity for counsel thus afforded. A full delegation was sent to the Student Volunteer Convention held at Des Moines during the holidays. This convention of over seven thousand students, gathered to face the great multitudes of the nations who are without the knowledge of Christ and the salvation He has purchased for us, made a profound impression upon the members of the delegation. To provide for the sending of this delegation such a distance was a great undertaking, but it was successfully accomplished and the results obtained paid well for the effort.

Student Activities

The College has been creditably represented in the inter-collegiate activities of the state. Both the basket ball and base ball teams won a majority of their contests. Chi Sung Pil, of Seoul, Korea, a Freshman in the College, won sixth place in the State Oratorical contest. The Agoreton Literary Society, the men's society, which had ceased functioning several years back, was revived and became a very live, aggressive society. The Ladies' Literary Society also enjoyed a splendid year.

Endowment Campaign

Early in March at a meeting of the Board of Trustees, with all but three members present, it was unanimously voted to undertake a campaign for $175,000 additional funds. The considerations actuating the Board in making this decision are, in part, as follows: First, the present funds are not adequate to meet the running expenses of the College and a yearly deficit, running into the thousands is causing the indebtedness of the College to mount to formidable proportions. Second, the present cost of living has increased so much that it is no longer just, nor possible, to hold our teaching force without a very substantial increase in salaries. Professors who were already giving as much as one-half of their possible salaries to the College could not be asked to continue when the high cost of living reduced even that meagre pittance by one-half. Third, the College must go forward at least to a place that will procure for her standardization according to the laws of the state. It is becoming next to impossible to hold students in the upper college classes under the present status of the College. The same considerations that take so many away before graduation keeps perhaps as many more from entering at all.

The campaign is yet in the process of organization. Among people of the local community good progress has been made. A business men's committee has been formed and is directing the campaign locally. Plans are made and organization perfected for a canvass of the city and vicinity by teams of business men and there is every reason to believe that Newberg will give the campaign her full support and that the amount raised here will be all we ought to hope for. Without doubt the determining factor in this campaign is Oregon Yearly Meeting. Given the full support of the Friends in Oregon Yearly Meeting, Pacific College will succeed in this great undertaking. Lacking it, success or failure will make little difference either way. Certainly this is the time when the Yearly Meeting must decide whether she wants Pacific College or not. If Oregon Yearly Meeting wants Pacific College, she has no time to waste. Men of sober judgment are a unit in saying that the success of this campaign means the life of the College and failure means death.

Respectfully submitted,

John D. Mills, Acting President.

64. John D. Mills and Levi T. Pennington gave talks on the work and needs of Pacific College. This was followed by a discussion of the College work.

65. The following report of the finance committee was adopted:

We, your finance committee, unanimously recommend the following ratio in distributing the Yearly Meeting Budget:

Newberg Quarterly Meeting.....	27 per cent
Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting.....	27 per cent
Portland Quarterly Meeting.....	24 per cent
Salem Quarterly Meeting.....	22 per cent

We further unanimously recommend that the Evangelistic Board be permitted to receive a free will offering sixth month 13th day at both the morning and evening services.

On behalf of the Committee—

A. G. Street, Chairman.

W. Lloyd Taylor, Secretary.

66. Permission was granted to the Christian Endeavor department to take an offering at the evening session.

67. The meeting adjourned to meet at 8 P. M.

Seventh Day—8:00 P. M.

68. The meeting convened at 8:00 P. M.

Second Day—10:00 A. M.

73. The meeting convened at 10:00 A. M. The meeting paused for a few minutes earnest devotion.

74. James Welch, a member of Seattle Monthly Meeting, was present with credentials from Puget Sound Quarterly Meeting. He was welcomed among us.

75. The following report of the Yearly Meeting on Ministry and Oversight was read:

Two sessions of the Meeting of Ministry and Oversight were held.

The devotional periods were freighted with prayer, praise, thanksgiving and admonition, cementing our hearts together in love for Him whom we worship.

An unusual number of visiting ministers and friends were present handing out to us precious, God-given messages, much to the edification of the body.

The questions referred to a committee last year (the same to be propounded to prospective ministers) were adopted and directed to the Yearly Meeting for further consideration.

Respectfully submitted,

Chester A. Hadley,

Evangeline Martin, Clerks.

76. The following report of the auditing committee was read:

We, the Auditing Committee of Oregon Yearly Meeting, hereby certify that we have examined the books and accounts of the Treasurer of the Missionary Committee and find same to be correct.

Signed—

A. G. Street,

H. E. Pemberton,

J. Sanger Fox.

77. The Nominating Committee presented a number of nominations. These were approved and the names will appear in the appendix to the minutes.

78. A communication from Sherwood Monthly Meeting requesting Oregon Yearly Meeting to convey the title to Lot 5, Block 8, in the town of Sherwood to Walter S. Bowen and Ivy M. Bowen was read and referred to the representatives.

79. The following was received from the Meeting on Ministry and Oversight with the recommendation that it be made a part of the discipline and was read. It will be considered at a future sitting of this meeting.

The following set of questions were adopted by Oregon Yearly Meeting of Ministry and Oversight at its second session, June 17, 1920, and are directed to the Yearly Meeting for its approval. This includes, also, the recommendation in the Preamble that the same become a part of the Discipline.

Chester A. Hadley,

Evangeline Martin, Clerks.

Meetings on Ministry and Oversight or Pastoral bodies shall not recommend anyone to be recorded as a minister or appointed as an elder, nor shall they secure the services of anyone as pastor or evangelist who cannot subscribe fully in the affirmative to the following list of questions, and we recommend that these questions be embodied in the additional Disciplinary Regulations for Oregon Yearly Meeting, a suitable number of copies being furnished to each Monthly Meeting for their use:

1. Dost thou believe in the One only wise, omnipotent and eternal God, the Creator and upholder of all things?

2. Dost thou believe in the Deity and Manhood of the Lord Jesus Christ; that His willing sacrifice on the cross of Calvary was a satisfactory offering to God for the sins of the whole world, and ended and fulfilled the ceremonial law of Moses; that He arose from the dead and ascended into heaven and now sitteth at the right hand of the Father, our Mediator, Advocate and Intercessor; that man, having been led by the Holy Spirit to repentance, is pardoned, justified and made acceptable to God through faith in the atoning Blood and mediation of the Lord Jesus Christ; that this salvation is the free gift of God; that it is offered to all, that all have power to accept or reject it?

3. Dost thou believe in the Holy Spirit, the promise of the Father, whom Christ declared He would send in His name; that He has come and convicts the world of sin; that He leads to repentance towards God and, as the Gospel is known, to faith in the Lord Jesus Christ; that He glorifies Christ by taking of His and showing to believers; opens to them the truths of the Gospel as set forth in the Holy Scripture and, as they exercise faith, guides, sanctifies, comforts and supports them; that through Him the Lord Jesus Christ performs the work of grace in hearts of men?

4. Dost thou believe that man was created in righteousness and true holiness, without moral imperfections or any kind of propensity to sin?

5. Dost thou believe in the fall of man through disobedience to God by yielding to the temptation of Satan; in the depravity of the human heart resulting therefrom, and that, in consequence, all men have sinned and have come under condemnation?

6. Dost thou believe that thou hast been born again and thus become a child of God?

7. Dost thou believe in the Baptism with the Holy Spirit as a second definite work of Grace and that the result of this baptism is deliverance from the pollution, nature and love of sin?

8. Dost thou believe that thou hast been baptised with the Holy Spirit, and if thou hast not yet received this baptism art thou earnestly seeking for it and wilt thou continue to seek until this blessing is experienced?

9. Dost thou believe that the Holy Scriptures were given by inspiration of God; that they are to be believed and accepted in their entirety, and that whatever doctrine or practice is contrary to them is to be rejected as false?

10. Dost thou believe in the spirituality of worship, that the one Baptism of the Gospel dispensation is that of Christ who baptises His people with the Holy Ghost, and that true communion is a spiritual partaking of the body and blood of Christ by faith?

11. Dost thou believe in the resurrection of the just and the unjust and in the great judgment day and that the wicked shall go away into everlasting punishment, but the righteous into life eternal?

12. Dost thou believe that the Lord Jesus Christ is the head over all things to the Church; that He calls to and qualifies for the service of the Gospel, and that the gift and qualification to judge of it are from Him to be exercised under the guidance of the Holy Spirit?

13. Dost thou believe that all war is contrary to both the spirit and letter of the gospel?

Ernest E. Taylor,
I. Gurney Lee,
Jay J. Cook, Committee.

80. The following report of the Yearly Meeting Superintendent of Bible School work was presented:

REPORT OF YEARLY MEETING BIBLE SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT

At a time when the world has been torn by strife and dissention, when as never before the teachings of Jesus need to be embodied in the life of every individual, we believe that the work of our Bible Schools must receive an increasing amount of our most earnest support. Since the church of tomorrow and the responsibilities of all her activities depends largely upon the Bible School of today, we feel we are inadequately prepared to meet this tremendous task.

We find throughout the Yearly Meeting sincere, consecrated teachers handicapped by lack of equipment, lack of opportunities to gain inspiration and help which comes from Teachers' Training classes or local councils in regard to Sunday School problems. Only one Sunday School reports teachers attending Teachers' Training classes and only two report regular teachers' councils. We urge all Sunday School workers, in addition to the study for the regular lesson, to acquaint themselves with Sunday School literature, for instance such books as "The Fourfold Life" by Harold Humbert, "Girlhood and Character" by Marie Moxie, "Life in the Making" by a group of authors, and many others. The Oregon State Library Commission has a splendid Sunday School workers' library which is available to anyone in the state by writing for the books desired and paying the necessary amount of postage and we urge the teachers in Oregon Yearly Meeting to avail themselves of this privilege.

There have come from different parts of the Yearly Meeting requests that the Bible School Department be permitted to have enough time at Yearly Meeting to present some phase of the work adequately and that this come at such a time that Sunday School workers who cannot be away over Sunday can attend. Requests have come, also, for visits, books to be loaned and suggestions which could not be met from lack of funds.

We look forward to the time when Oregon Yearly Meeting will feel that the religious instruction of her children is of sufficient importance to have a Director of religious education devoting his full time to that work. In the meantime the work must be carried on as it has been in the past by these whose lives are already full and have little opportunity to do the visiting and give the attention efficient work demands.

During the coming year we hope to hold at least one Sunday School rally in each Quarterly Meeting at Quarterly Meeting time. We would like to purchase helpful books to be examined and loaned to workers throughout the Yearly Meeting, blanks need to be printed and suggestions sent out to each Monthly Meeting. These things cannot be done without an appropriation larger than the one for the past year and we ask to be granted for the coming year thirty dollars in addition to the usual appropriation of five.

We ask the members of Oregon Yearly Meeting to pray that during the coming year the Bible School workers may be instrumental in bringing many of its members to accept Jesus Christ.

Respectfully submitted,

Lyra B. Miles, Superintendent.

81. The statistical report of the Bible Schools was read and will appear in the appendix to the minutes.

82. The printing committee was given authority to have blanks printed for the various departments of church work, upon the request of the heads of the departments.

83. John Kittrell and Ernest Gregory gave interesting talks on Bible School work, which was followed by a brief discussion.

84. The Temperance department gave the following report:

A citizen of Yamhill county found to be carrying intoxicants and the prosecuting attorney not attending to it properly; prosecuting attorney was notified by a member of one of the local temperance committees that a petition would be circulated to put him out of office, if he did not attend to it, so prosecuting attorney brought certain citizen before county court and he was properly fined.

13. Dost thou believe that all war is contrary to both the spirit and letter of the gospel?

106. The press committee presented the following report:

The press committee has attended to the business assigned to it. Papers in Portland, Salem, Seattle, and Idaho have been informed of the things of interest transacted by this body.

Respectfully,

Chester A. Hadley, Chairman.

107. The printing committee made the following report:

Your printing committee have attended to the object of their appointment.

Levi T. Pennington, Chairman.

108. The following recommendation of representatives was adopted:

We, your representatives, recommend that the reference concerning the "Messenger of Peace" being sent to each home be referred to the various Quarterly Meetings with instructions that they attend to this matter severally.

Catherine Dickey, Secretary.

109. The following report of the committee to prepare a letter to non-resident Friends was adopted together with the letter prepared and the printing committee was instructed to have 700 copies printed.

We, your committee appointed to write the yearly letter to non-resident members, have attended to this task and present the letter herewith for your consideration.

In undertaking this work we have reviewed the situation which has resulted in more than one-third of our members being non-residents and desire to make the following recommendations:

1. We desire to remind the overseers that it is their duty to keep in close touch with this class of our membership, including a careful, up-to-date address list. There are only a few of our meeting who are careful in the discharge of this duty.

2. We feel it might be wise to have a Yearly-Meeting-wide pruning of our lists, removing the names of all those whose present address is unknown, unless the local meeting has reason to believe that their interests are still with the church.

3. We believe a large number to whom this yearly letter is sent fully intend to reply but put it off until forgotten. We, therefore, recommend that the overseers of each meeting prepare and send at least one, and preferably two or three, follow-up letters at suitable intervals.

4. We recommend the pastor of each meeting to take special note of these resolutions and bring them to the attention of the overseers.

110. The following recommendation from the Permanent Board was adopted:

At a meeting of the Permanent Board a memorial for Roby Jane Brownell Stroud was read, which was directed to be forwarded to the Yearly Meeting with the recommendation that it be filed with the records of the Yearly Meeting.

E. H. Woodward, Clerk.

111. The following report of the ministerial association was read: The Ministerial Association of Oregon Yearly Meeting met in conference session at the Greenleaf Friends Church, Greenleaf, Idaho, January 6-8, 1920. A very interesting and helpful program was rendered, dealing with various church problems and with the spiritual life of the ministry. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, L. Clarkson Hinshaw.

Vice President, I. Gurney Lee.

Secretary-Treasurer, Ernest E. Taylor.

Program Committee, H. Elmer Pemberton, Homer L. Cox, Laura P.

Townsend.

Ernest E. Taylor, Secretary.

112. The epistle of Dublin Yearly Meeting to Oregon Yearly Meeting was read and will appear in the appendix to the minutes.

113. If the epistle of London Yearly Meeting is received soon enough it will be printed in the appendix to the minutes.

114. Statistical report of the Evangelistic and Church Extension Board was presented and will appear in the appendix to the minutes.

115. The summary of the epistles from the American Yearly Meetings was read and will appear in the appendix to the minutes.

116. The following report of the epistle committee was adopted, and the epistles proposed to be sent to Dublin and London Yearly Meeting and the epistle to the American Yearly Meetings were adopted.

We, your Epistle Committee, have attended to the work for which we were appointed. We wish to acknowledge the acceptable help of Stella Crozer on this Committee.

Signed on behalf of the Committee—

Emma M. Hodgin.

117. No letters to be sent to children, aged Friends, and those unable to attend the Yearly Meeting having been prepared, it was proposed and adopted that the committee appointed this year prepare the letters for next year.

118. It was proposed and adopted that the Clerks be instructed to furnish to members of Oregon Yearly Meeting who may desire to attend the Peace Conference of All Friends to be held in London an official statement that they are members in good standing of the Yearly Meeting.

119. Upon the recommendation of the representatives, Oliver Weesner was appointed treasurer of Oregon Yearly Meeting.

120. The Clerks were instructed to furnish Evangeline Kludas, who is soon to sail to Japan to engage in missionary work, a letter certifying her good standing as a member of Oregon Yearly Meeting.

121. A short report of Greenleaf Seminary was given and the complete report will appear in the minutes.

REPORT OF GREENLEAF SEMINARY

On April 30, 1920, occurred the twelfth annual commencement of the Greenleaf Seminary, with three students graduating from the Biblical department and nine graduating from the Academic department, thus completing a very successful year's work.

School opened on September 8, 1919, with about sixty students enrolled in both departments. Through additions and withdrawals during the year the average number of students remained about the same.

Five teachers were employed in the two departments and some new subjects were taught in addition to the former outline for the Academic course.

As was announced a year ago, that an endowment campaign was to be launched, we are all gratified to know that our efforts, by God's assistance have been rewarded and an endowment of $54,135 has been raised and is now in working order.

Early in the year the board entered into an agreement with Preston Mills for the lease of his property at Greenleaf for dormitory purposes where some ten girls were accommodated under the able management of Mrs. Eli Perisho as matron.

While some grave financial problems have confronted the board of trustees the past year, we are proud to say that the outlook for the future is brighter than ever before for our school.

Steps have been taken for the incorporation of our institution and we trust this will be completed soon.

Believing that we are in the right as God would have us be, we trust him for guidance which leads to sure success.

Signed by—

A. G. Street, President of Board

122. The following report of the Social Service Committee was read:

Salem Monthly Meeting reports $367.38 for Home Missions.

Scotts Mills, $513.00.

Total Expended.....$1,096.38

123. Acknowledging the mercies of our Heavenly Father, acknowledging our utter helplessness without His help and leading, and praying most earnestly for His leading, this meeting adjourned to meet, the Lord willing, at Newberg, Oregon, Sixth month 9th, 1921.

Levi T. Pennington, Presiding Clerk,

Oliver Weesner, Recording Clerk,

Marguerite P. Elliott, Reading Clerk.

SUPPLEMENT

To the Minutes of Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends

THE EPISTLE FROM LONDON YEARLY MEETING

To Friends Everywhere—

Dear Friends—The welcome company of fellow-members from the communities of Friends in China, India, Syria and Japan, and from Ireland, America, South Africa, Australia and New Zealand, and the reports of Friends fresh from service in foreign fields and in war-wasted Europe have given us a new sense that men, with all their diversities, are of "one mould and blood," and are made for fellowship together in the one family of God. A vision has come to us of a world-order in which love breaks down all barriers, and unites our separate lives with the life of God and of our fellow men.

The adventure of this wider life lies before our Society. Three hundred years ago the men of the "Mayflower" went out to their new world with the message ringing in their hearts that "the Lord had more truth and light to break forth out of His holy Word." A hundred years later John Woolman, the prophet of a new social order, was born, who came to know himself, as he tells us, to be so mixed with his fellow men in their misery that thenceforth he might not consider himself as a distinct or separate being. Are we going forward to the new world that lies before us today confident that truth and light will break forth to guide us, and devoted to the service of joining our lives to the lives of our fellows?

The call is loud. Europe, as General Smuts has written, "lies in ruins, exhausted by the most terrible struggle in history, with its peoples broken, starving, despairing from sheer nervous exhaustion, mechanically struggling forward along the paths of anarchy and war. Old ideas of wealth, of property, of class and social relations, of moral and spiritual values, are rapidly changing. A new heart must be given, not only to our enemies but also to us, a contrite spirit for the woes which have overwhelmed the world, a spirit of pity, mercy, and forgiveness. * * * A new spirit of generosity and humanity, born in the hearts of the peoples in this great hour of common suffering and sorrow, can alone heal the wounds which have been inflicted on the body of Christendom."

How can we gain this new spirit? How can we break loose from our fears and suspicions and from the grip of complacent materialism, and face the issues with new faith in God and man? How can we cast out those old loves and thoughts and aims of our lives which have contributed to the ruin of the world, and love and think and act, at any cost, as the hour demands?

Only by a fresh sense of the presence and character of God.

He has been defined in words that make Him an unreal abstraction; crude human passions have been associated with His nature; He has been presented to men as the authority upholding national ambitions or class or ecclesiastical tyrannies; in one or other of these ways His nature has too often been kept out of our lives or we have even presumed to impute His name in the evils of our so-called Christian civilization. But, if we feel our need of Him, and sincerely want to know His reign and will and nature, and are willing to let them re-mould our lives and heal the diseases of our world-order, we can turn away from these unsatisfying notions and see Him for ourselves—so far at least as here on earth we can see the fulness of God. There is One who has not only seen Him but has lived Him out in His own life, the man Jesus. God is like Jesus Christ, and we can rule out of our thoughts of Him everything that conflicts with the character of Christ. "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father."

Jesus was the man of the people, who knew their joys and sorrows because He lived as one of them. He learnt life at the carpenter's bench in Nazareth. He knew the trouble His mother had in patching the old garment, the value of the woman's lost coin, the cost to the widow of her two mites, the difficulty of the poor woman in getting justice from the unjust judge. He took our common life and daily toil and made them into divine things. The crowded cities of Galilee were His home. His heart went out to the helpless and the diseased; to the oppressed poor; to the rich, starved of true fellowship; and to the self-righteous, separated by hardness of heart from their fellows and from God. He gave Himself to men without reserve, in loving fellowship; their life and lot came into His life; those who opened their hearts to Him knew His life, and overcoming love came into their lives. When His people refused Him and crucified Him, His love still sought them undespairing.

This is how Jesus lived and died and still lives on among men.

This is how God lives among men.

This is how we are to live among men.

In our hearts we must know this life of unity with God and our fellows, and we must then from our hearts live it out as God's way of life for the world. It will open our eyes to the oppression caused by many of the economic and other privileges which we have often taken for granted, and in opening our eyes will abase our hearts. It will send us forth to break down the social and educational barriers, and to abolish the servitudes, which mar the fellowship of the human family. It will take us with Jesus not only into lowly service but also into clear-sighted truth. We shall find our lives brought alongside the lives of others in practical fellowship. We may have to give up what the world counts most dear, but we shall be lifted into the joy of love. Our feet will be beautiful with reconciliation as we go in and out among men with the gospel of peace.

Dare we live above possessions and passions in this way of discipleship, in sincere comradeship with Jesus and with mankind? Dare we see Him as He is, and leave all in order to follow as He shall lead us? Dare we rely to the uttermost, as He did, on the fact of the love of God? If we will take into our hearts His love and His way of life, and live them out in our relationships—industrial, social, international, inter-racial—then indeed we may go forward, in the courage of quietness, to the joyful adventure of establishing that commonwealth, glorious beyond man's dreams, which Jesus proclaimed as the reign of God upon earth.

To each of us, however small our opportunities may seem, some part of God's work will be given to do, a part greater than our fears or even than our present faith. We shall find that our hearts are made strong in prayer and joyful in praise, our eyes are kindled to see the truth, our feet can go on God's embassies, our hands can help to heal, our lips and lives can speak His love. And, through us, men in their need may again see God in the face of Jesus Christ. Through Christ's life possessing us, we shall be enabled to say to an agonising world, as Browning's David said to Saul in his agony—

O Saul, it shall be

A Face like my face that receives thee; a Man like to me
Thou shalt love and be loved by for ever; a Hand like this hand
Shall throw open the gates of new life to thee! See the Christ stand!

TO ALL FRIENDS ON THE AMERICAN CONTINENT

Dear Friends—Epistles from many of the Yearly Meetings on the American Continent have brought to us a living sense of our common heritage, and our hearts are drawn out to you in the love of God. We rejoice in the presence with us of Friends not only from America, but from Quaker outposts in Asia, South Africa, Australasia and Madagascar, as well as of members of the Society, both American and British, who are engaged in relief work on the Continent of Europe. Our hearts are filled with gratitude for the stimulus which comes to us through personal contact with those who are actively laboring in our common service for humanity.

We are cheered by the evidences of the Spirit of our Lord and Master which you are expressing in many ways. We rejoice in the success which has met your efforts for Temperance Reform, and look with deep sympathy on the stand which many of you have made against the military spirit in your land. We earnestly pray that God may abundantly bless all your efforts for the extension of His Kingdom. The spirit in which you are meeting your own problems and striving to enter the many avenues of world-wide service to which Friends are being called, has brought to us a sense of spiritual unity, love and fellowship. We have heard with deep interest from some of our members who have recently been privileged to visit you, of the educational work you are doing in your schools and colleges, and the value of this work to the life of the Church. As we strive for the coming of the Kingdom of Christ on earth, we realize the need for the intellectual training and equipment of those who, trusting in the power of the living Spirit of our Crucified and risen Lord, are being fitted to answer worthily the call of God to dedication of heart and life.

We eagerly look forward to the Conference of All Friends, as a time when we may be brought into closer touch with one another and at which new visions may come to us of the work to which God has called us, and our faith be quickened to respond to His Will.

The world is torn and bleeding in the aftermath of war and we have been saddened by the suffering and hopelessness which have been described to us by workers from the stricken lands of Europe. We rejoice in the new opportunity which has come to you in the feeding of the children of Germany, and are sure that the great responsibility thus placed upon you is being accepted with humility and courage. To feed the hungry, to comfort the fatherless, to provide homes for the homeless, to bring to stricken hearts a practical message of love and reconciliation, is a task worthy of the followers of the Prince of Peace. Young Friends from Britain and America have been and still are working side by side in this service of healing, and we pray that we may go forward together into a future full of immense possibilities and hope. This fellowship of service will surely be a factor of real value in cementing our two great nations in a bond of fraternity and good understanding in the strength of which they may work together for the Peace of the World.

Thus we turn to the future with a renewed sense of our responsibility. Everywhere men and women are finding in material forces the bankruptcy of their hopes and in many lands there is evidence of hunger for a better way of life. On the Continent of Europe there is not only a craving for our sympathy but a growing desire to hear our message. God is calling us to fresh ventures of faith; but we feel how utterly inadequate and unworthy we are to answer His call. Ready to our hands lie tasks that require the united strength of all who are willing to devote their lives whole-heartedly to the cause of the Kingdom on earth. There can be no permanent structure of good which is not built upon the foundation of the love of God revealed in Jesus Christ; and this structure can only be reared through the agency of human lives that are openly and avowedly consecrated to the service of making that love known. It is only His Spirit, expressed in the daily lives of us all, that can show us the glory of the Father of all, and the beauty of His Son, our Savior, and draw all men into one great family of love.

FROM DUBLIN YEARLY MEETING, HELD IN DUBLIN BY ADJOURNMENTS, FROM THE 29TH OF FOURTH MONTH TO THE 4TH OF FIFTH MONTH INCLUSIVE

To Oregon Yearly Meeting—

Dear Friends—Assembled in our Yearly Meeting, we have greatly appreciated your letter of fraternal greeting. The accounts of your concerns, spiritual and temporal, should, we feel, spur us on to renewed and more effective zeal.

Within the last year the war cloud has in part been lifted, but as we look out over a desolated world we realize that the seeds of war are still in the hearts of men and women, and that by the saving power of our Lord Jesus Christ alone can they be prevented from springing up and bearing their sad harvest of hate and death. It has been borne in upon us that the state of our Society in Ireland and the world over will be judged by our effectiveness in healing the world's troubles; by bringing to the needy ones not alone the necessary food for the body, but also the spiritual food for which men, in the dire distress of these times, especially hunger. May we all strive toward this end, by keeping in ever closer touch with our Savior, the personification of Love.

We rejoice in the great opportunity which has been given to you by your government of relieving the starving children in Central Europe.

We are watching with sympathy and interest the effect of the Prohibition Law in your country, and trust that a lasting success may crown the effort.

We look forward with much interest to the Conference of All Friends in London, where our Delegates hope to meet in person many of you whose helpfulness we may have known hitherto only in the spirit.

In these troublous times in our country we feel the need more than ever of your sympathy and prayers, that our faith fail not, and that we "be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good."

In loving remembrance of the fellowship that exists between your Yearly Meeting and ours, we remain,

Your friends,

W. Bewley, Clerk.

SUMMARY OF AMERICAN EPISTLES

A reading of the epistles from the American Yearly Meetings shows an increased interest along all lines of Church activity. They speak of encouraging earnestness in all the regular departments of our church work, but in all the messages from our sister Yearly Meetings the emphasis is placed upon our attitude as Friends toward the great need of the world today that we may rightly interpret the reality of Christ and His redemptive power in the human heart. Friends everywhere are feeling their responsibility for bringing their message of love and good will to the world.

On this subject California says: "In the midst of the crumbling ruins of the social order, the intolerance of men, the disdain of the world and its vanity and pleasure seeking, the cross still standeth fast, its arms outstretched to the poor, sin-intoxicated victims on every hand as the trysting place appointed by God, as He cries, 'Look unto me and be ye saved all the ends of the earth for I am God, and besides me there is none else.'"

Baltimore says: "Although the Great War is over, wars are still being waged and the spirit of war abides. Even in our own country, from one end to the other, the social order is being threatened seriously, and racial and class hatreds are painfully apparent. We trust that this unrest betokens the coming in of a better order; but we are more and more convinced that the only way towards permanent peace—international, national, social and industrial—is the way of Jesus Christ. Let us ask ourselves, in all sincerity, if our faces and lives are set in this direction, and what we are doing as individuals and as a Church to hasten the day of a world brotherhood of peace and justice. A most serious danger threatening our country is the persistent effort which is being made to introduce compulsory military training of our youth. We should exert all our influence to prevent the accomplishment of this aim to fasten militarism upon our country."

All Friends in America are rejoicing over the great victory of national Prohibition. Yet they recognize that victory is not yet won and that much remains to be done along the line of temperance education and law enforcement. In this connection Iowa reminds us that we should "remember that the victory is only partial as yet and at best, all moral reformation is inadequate unless backed up and undergirded by spiritual transformation."

Canada says: "We are encouraged by the efforts of our sister Yearly Meetings to develop much needed leadership and ministerial numbers and power through Friends' Colleges."

Ohio says: "In these days of social unrest, of the spirit of militarism and selfish greed, we must stand responsible, if we do not provide for our children, as did our fathers before us, a 'guarded Christian education.' This must begin at the family altar, and continue in schools, whose teachers have for their Master, the Christ. We urge upon parents the need of Friends' educational institutions as builders in the Christian life of our children."

Several epistles speak definitely of the help and inspiration of the Forward Movement. California's epistle says: "The Movement toward church co-operation which has sprung up has within it the possibility of very great good and we are prayerfully considering what there is for us in the great federation of the churches now being developed. Such vast sums realized, and great programs outlined by the leading churches show us something of our limitations and we may be in danger of belittling our own possibilities, but the victory for Christ and human souls will not be won merely by men and money, needful though they may be, but in inquiring of God, and in faithful obedience to His commands. 'Not by might, not by power, but by my Spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts.' One of the things which we feel sure will cheer your hearts as manifesting our desire to be in the front ranks of the Onward Movement of the Five Years Meeting of Friends, is that we have launched a definite campaign for church extension, and the Yearly Meeting has over and above a largely increased budget for the current year, directed that ten thousand dollars be raised to help in building two new churches in communities where they are much needed and with the Divine blessing we trust, for still greater expansion on these lines."

Nebraska Yearly Meeting says along this line that "the report of their Evangelistic and Church Extension Board has called forth expressions of highest commendation. Developing the rural meeting as a community center has been one of the phases of the work that has proved encouraging."

New York notes that "A general representation from our rural meetings has given the Yearly Meeting a more representative character than has frequently been the case and points to a very friendly rivalry between our city and country meetings, as both so much need each other." New York also emphasized the importance of "the reading of good books and the taking advantage of the opportunities books afford of making new friends and gaining new view points."

Indiana says: "This does, indeed, seem to be a time for Friends to arouse themselves as never before since the time of George Fox to the call of the hour * * * The need among the Indians and Negroes is so great that Friends must do far more work in these fields. May we be found ever more faithful than were our predecessors when the call came to them more than a generation ago. We can stretch forth a helping hand during these days of social unrest and aid in so many ways in making our land one of peace and harmony. We can help our foreign brother, who is living in our midst, as we have never done before."

North Carolina concludes her epistle in the following appealing way: "How shall we advance? By organization of resources, by expansion of field and activities, by co-operation of individuals and groups. But these are not sufficient. 'If Thy Presence go not, carry us not up hence' prayed one of old whom God had commanded to move forward. Do we have the courage to follow the Divine Presence, the Spirit of Christ? As once before, so now again, he says, 'If any man will come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross.' For Christ every road is closed but the way of the cross. His followers must take the same course. These are days when the world demands reality. The cross must mean something more than a badge of distinction or a declaration of belief. Its characteristics are renunciation and sacrifice, trust in spiritual forces in the face of apparently overwhelming material power, and loving service to friend and foe in the hour of need. Dare we follow Him in the way of the cross which is the way of life for the world?"

FIFTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PEACE ASSOCIATION OF FRIENDS IN AMERICA FOR THE YEAR ENDING MARCH 31ST, 1920

To Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends—

As we review the work accomplished within the past twelve months, take account of present needs and opportunities, and seek to see what steps must be taken in the immediate or near future, we are reminded again and again of words of Christ which come now with compelling authority of commands, now with the illumination born of a clear vision of means to be employed which alone are effective, now with the uplifting power of the assurance of the final triumph which is to come—words such as these—

"Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature. teaching them to observe WHATSOEVER I HAVE COMMANDED YOU."

"A new commandment I give you, that ye love one another."

"And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise."

"Agree with thine adversary quickly whilst thou art in the way."

"If thou rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee * * * go thy way, first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift."

"He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do."

Work Done the Past Year

The principal lines of work undertaken the past year are as follows:

1. Enlarging and altering the form of the "Messenger of Peace" by (1) making the size of page the same as that of the majority of the standard magazines, and (2) adding an attractive cover; thus (3) increasing the amount of reading matter supplied in each issue.
2. Offering a cash prize of $25.00 to the winner in a peace oratorical contest in each Friends' college where such a contest may be held.
3. Attempting to enlist the interest and services of an increased number of contributors of articles of marked merit for publication.
4. Continuing the preparation of material for the peace department in the "American Friend."
5. Publishing a limited amount of pamphlet literature.
6. Conducting a somewhat extensive correspondence on various phases of the work, particularly with those especially interested or likely to be especially interested in the question of universal compulsory military training.

Present Demands and Opportunities.

There is a sense in which it seems to be correct to say that an especial opportunity and demand for a presentation of the righteousness as well as the efficiency of the way of life directed primarily by love rather than by coercive force, have come to us as a product of the Great War of the past few years.

The terrible truth about war that could not be told while the war lasted, including the fearful after-effects of war which the whole world is now experiencing, has produced a reaction of feeling which demands an expression of condemnation of war. On the positive side there comes, also as part of the reaction from war, from many different sources proclamation of that great fundamental truth apparently forgotten by almost the whole world for years, "Christ's way is the only way."

With the conviction growing among men everywhere that not only among nations, but between opposing groups or classes "Christ's way is the only way," the demands and opportunities of the present and the immediate future for wise effort in promoting the practice of Christian fellowship and brotherhood seem greater than ever before.

Objectives for the Coming Year.

The program of work to be undertaken for the coming year should in general emphasize fundamental principles sufficiently to make clear the broad foundations upon which this phase of Christian work rests and also suggests the application of these principles to some of the specific situations with which we are confronted in this period of world reconstruction and reorganization. The program of work must also take account of means adapted to the ends we have in view. With these considerations in mind, the following objectives have been agreed upon as including some of the more important lines of work which should claim the attention and enlist the co-operation of Friends for the next year, viz:

1. To promote thoughtful consideration of the Christian view-point concerning international relations and the social order.
2. To assist by such means as we can command in the prosecution of suitable lines of work in the various meetings of the Five Years Meeting, in order that intelligent public sentiment may be created, and a feeling of individual responsibility aroused.
3. To furnish information promptly to our members on questions of immediate importance which come within the field of our work, such as the question of universal, compulsory training, with suggestions as to appropriate action to be taken.
4. To co-operate at all times with other organizations working in other ways or in other fields towards ends similar to our own, among which should be named especially the American Friends Service Committee, and the World Alliance for Promoting International Friendship through the Churches.

Financial Report.

The accompanying statement of the Treasurer shows the amounts of money received and paid out the past year. With somewhat increased resources for next year as a result of contributions made during the Forward Movement campaign, we shall be able to reach a larger proportion of Friends than heretofore; and if the amount placed in our hands is increased sufficiently, we can readily reach practically our entire membership. We hope, however, that Friends will not be satisfied with work done merely for our own members, but that we should plan definitely to reach many outside our membership with the truth on this important phase of the gospel of Jesus Christ. Respectfully submitted,

ALLEN D. HOLE, President.

April 22, 1920.

TO THE OREGON YEARLY MEETING OF FRIENDS—

Dear Friends:

As your representatives we send you a message of loving greeting.

That the opportunity of expressing here, on your behalf, to this heartsick people the message of goodwill which we feel for all, whether so-called friend or foe, has been afforded to us we count an inestimable privilege. We are constantly aware of our shortcomings in endeavoring to live according to our professions, nor do we feel that our part here in this reaching for the true Christian life differs essentially from yours, or is one whit more important. We are all laborers in the same vineyard. From one is required one kind of service and from another quite a different kind. In this connection, the words of our valued co-laborer in this city, Coder Catchpool, written, when in the early days of the Great War he was serving in France with the Friends' Ambulance unit, seem particularly appropriate.

"It has been an inspiration to me in my work out here to read in 'The Friend,' and in the letters from all the dear home folk, of the wonderful work you are doing for Peace. I felt from the very first that we had work to do both at the very front and there—that it was all part of the same work—how unworthy I felt of being among those that went out, what a privilege it was! But the work at home is absolutely as important, and more praiseworthy, because less interesting. . . ."

At times, as we go about amongst the crowds in these large cities, we feel utterly lost, unknown, powerless, and it seems presumptuous to think that our puny efforts can have any effect on the vast events of Empires. It is, then, reassuring to realize that faithfulness to the highest that is in us is our utmost possible contribution; beyond that we cannot see and cannot go.

It has been a help to meet frequently with our fellow-member, Max I. Reich, and to enter even a little into his labors, for which the field seems to open so wide. It has also been a privilege to meet here and to work with some of our Friends from England, both women and men. That some of them, after having spent two or more years in prison for Conscience' sake, should feel it right to come here to live indefinitely as Quaker Ambassadors amongst and to minister in loving humility to those who have regarded them as enemies is truly inspiring. They have cast aside the thought of their worldly advancement, of ease and of comfort. The vital principle of Love is guiding their lives into positive service, to which inevitably comes the loving response of other hearts, breaking through the barriers of language, of past misunderstandings, of hate. To us, too, as we have been enabled to express by halting word and deed a message of Christian Goodwill, has come the not unexpected revelation that German hearts are warm, that they respond just as inevitably as do others' to the one unconquerable force, Love. And when it is realized that the gifts we bear come not as from conquerors to conquered and are particularly to the children, those altogether innocent victims of the madness of war, the response is the more immediate.

Printed on the ticket received by every child and mother to whom our meals are served is the following (in German, of course):

"To the Children of Germany with a message of Goodwill from Americans through the Religious Society of Friends (Quakers) who for 250 years and during the war just passed have believed that only Love and Service, never War and Violence, can accomplish lasting good."

This has produced some touching responses in the hearts of those who have seen it. And yet it is by deeds, by our every action, and not by words, that we would make clear whom we strive to serve and by whose life measure our own.

We have purposely avoided description of the details of our work; accounts of it are doubtless available for those that are interested. Suffice it to say that we have only just begun actual child-feeding, February 26th, after a good deal of time spent in necessary organizing and waiting for food cargoes. It seems that the program now possible of execution, owing to the effective work of those in charge of the matter at home and the co-operation of many others, should prove an important factor in tiding the children over until the harvest, the most dreaded months, we are now told, being the Fifth and Sixth. In this work, which is largely one of business organization and administration, we are constantly forced to remind ourselves that our task is fundamentally a religious one—and endeavor to express in our lives our belief that Love and Service only can accomplish lasting good.

We are, with love, your friends,
GERMAN MISSION OF THE AMERICAN FRIENDS' SERVICE COM-MITTEE.

REPORT OF THE AMERICAN FRIENDS BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS TO OREGON YEARLY MEETING OF FRIENDS:
RICHMOND, Ind., Sixth Month 1st, 1920.

Dear Friends:

As a Board of the Church, responsible to it for the administration of foreign missionary work, we take pleasure in submitting this statement briefly setting forth conditions existing on our mission fields and at home.

Within the past twelve months, nine Young Friends have entered foreign missionary work and are now on their respective fields: Lewis C. and Ruthanna C. Moon, members of Wilmington Yearly Meeting, working now in British East Africa; Moses and Mabel G. Bailey, members of New England Yearly Meeting, now in Palestine; Edna C. Haviland, a member of New York Yearly Meeting, also in Palestine; Merle L. and Carrie H. Davis, from Kansas Yearly Meeting, working now in Cuba, and Douglas L. and Rebecca J. Parker, members of Wilmington Yearly Meeting, now in Mexico.

Counting these new missionaries and Robert L. and Margaret L. Simkin, who are being transferred from the staff of the Friends' Foreign Mission Association of London to the American Friends Board of Foreign Missions, we have now a total of seventy-one missionaries working in the following countries: In Africa, 18 American workers; in Cuba, 21; in Jamaica, 11; in Mexico, 12; in Palestine, 7; in West China, 2. Working with these American Friends in their respective countries is a much greater number of native ministers, teachers and other workers, most of them responsible not to the Foreign Mission Board, but to their own Monthly and Quarterly Meetings.

The property held by the Board in these countries includes meeting houses, boarding and day school plants, dwelling houses, and industrial plants, representing a total value of several hundred thousand dollars. In all, thirty Monthly Meetings have been established in the five fields where the Board has carried on work during the past year; 65 or more Bible Schools have been maintained, and about the same number of elementary day schools in connection with each one of which the Bible is regularly made a subject of instruction. On each of our fields, there is one or more boarding or higher school, a total of ten in all. Other institutions maintained include a hospital, two printing presses, a sawmill, two orphanages, two mission farms. These provide, as will be inferred, a wide variety of types of work and of training. Every one of them is an evangelistic agency and an evangelizing force. All of them have it as their great objective to proclaim to the people of these respective countries, both by precept and by example the life-giving Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. Our foreign missionary activities, enlisting as they do the service of more than seventy American missionaries and between two and three hundred persons native to the countries where the work is carried on and providing the necessary expense of so many institutions and departments of work, call for an annual financial outlay of considerable size. Last year it was estimated that $155,000 would be needed to care for only the more pressing requirements of the work.

Unfortunately, the full amount asked for was not realized; only $115,000 were received which could be applied to the $155,000 budget. As a result, our current cash balance has been reduced from $17,000 to $10,000; and it has, further, been necessary to postpone for the present many items of expense which were regarded, alike by our missionaries and by the Board, to be of pressing and urgent necessity. Among these items which were called for in last year's program, but which had to be eliminated for lack of funds, were the purchase of a new site for a boarding school in Cuba and the erection of a residence for teachers; the purchase of much needed school equipment for Jamaica; a girls' boarding school building in Africa, and two dwelling houses for missionaries and two school buildings on that same field; in Mexico, building and other improvements on the mission farm. Also, the amounts needed for current expenses on some of our fields had to be substantially reduced.

This year the estimates from the field, together with those for the necessary expenses of administration and missionary education in the home field, called for a total expenditure within the present year of approximately $300,000. It is difficult to see how this estimate can be reduced without seriously crippling some of our missions or departments of work, but the Board has felt it to be necessary that our expenses this year be reduced to $250,000, and this is the basis upon which it is proposed to carry on the work.

It has been the practice of the Board to ask the church to provide only those funds which we regard to be essential to the proper maintenance and expansion of the work, not calling for funds for which there is not an obvious and pressing need. It is especially unfortunate, therefore, that so many items this past year have been unprovided for and we must register it as our solemn conviction that, unless the full amount of $250,000 asked for this year is provided, the work must seriously suffer. As in every other enterprise, so also in foreign missionary work it takes two dollars or more now to do the work formerly accomplished by one. Missionaries' support has had to be increased, the cost of mission equipment has increased greatly within the last three or four years, and the expense of travel is notoriously high. As citizens of a country whose resources in life and treasure were comparatively untouched by the great war, while those of other western countries were seriously depleted, Friends cannot be content with any trivial measure of beneficence. With the needs of the world crying out to us and with opportunities for service multiplying before our workers abroad, shall we not insist on matching these needs and the devotion of our representatives with liberal financial support.

Space forbids our describing at all adequately even the more outstanding results in evidence from the work of the past year. In each field there is reported a growing sense of responsibility on the part of the native Christians manifesting itself in a readiness to give more time to evangelistic and other church work and in increased financial contributions. One Cuban young man, for instance, all this year has gone every other Sunday to a town fifteen miles away from his home to direct a Bible School and help in the meeting for worship. In Africa voluntary preaching bands have visited outlying villages, many hundreds being thus brought within sound of the Gospel week by week. One of the African congregations reports a notable increase in contributions to the work of the church. In 1917, the members gave 17 rupees (the value of a rupee being approximately 32c in normal times); in 1918, the contributions were 72 rupees; in 1919, 305 rupees. In Mexico and in Jamaica natives of these countries have shown conspicuous skill in school management, several serving as principal or director of schools of considerable size and importance. The reopening of our Palestine work this year has been highly gratifying both to those Friends who have in the past been most closely in touch with the work at Ram Allah and to those who have more recently become vitally interested in that field.

A step which we had much satisfaction in taking this year has been the appointment of a competent medical advisor in the person of Dr. J. G. Vaughan, formerly a medical missionary in China, now secretary of the medical department of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church. In addition to arranging for the medical examination of missionary candidates in order that we may avoid sending to the mission field those who are not physically sound, Dr. Vaughan will exercise a health supervision of our missionaries on the field and will suggest the occupation or the treatment which he regards to be most beneficial for each missionary coming home on furlough.

Detailed statements covering the work on each of our mission fields and recounting the home activities of the Board will appear in "The Twenty-fifth Annual Report of the American Friends Board of Foreign Missions." For further information regarding our work we would refer Friends to this forthcoming Annual Report.

Assuring the members of Oregon Yearly Meeting that we appreciate deeply their active support of the work committed to our care, as we do also the privilege of serving in this important department of the church work, we are,

Sincerely your friends,

THE AMERICAN FRIENDS BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS.
