10. A communication was read from Baltimore, expressing regret that there would be no epistle from Baltimore Yearly Meeting this year, owing to the fact that the drafts of their epistles were lost at the time of the death of Allen C. Thomas, their Presiding Clerk.

11. The following communication from the Executive Committee of the Five Years Meeting was read and directed to be printed in the minutes:

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE FIVE YEARS MEETING TO THE CONSTITUENT YEARLY MEETINGS

DEAR FRIENDS:

The Executive Committee of the Five Years Meeting has been under a deep concern over certain disaffection among the membership of various parts of the Five Years Meeting.

We have no desire to evade any part of the responsibility for this disaffection which properly belongs to the Executive Committee. We are conscious of having sought earnestly and conscientiously to do our duty faithfully and to serve the best interests of the Kingdom of God and the Society of Friends, yet there is no disposition to lay upon others all the responsibility for the disaffection which exists among us. We desire earnestly to see and to be shown how we can better face our responsibilities and better do the tasks which Friends of the various Yearly Meetings have laid upon us.

We are convinced, however, that much of the disaffection has resulted from lack of understanding on the part of a conscientious and valuable element of our membership. Sometimes we have evidently failed to make clear our aims and purposes; sometimes those aims and purposes have been misunderstood; sometimes false statements have in some way been started and have been disseminated by some whose sincerity we do not question but who we are sure should have sought to verify the statements before passing them on.

In view of the existing situation, we desire first of all to urge upon our membership, and we would speak to ourselves as well as to others, that fervent love which goes far beyond mere tolerance; that love which gives us a desire to think the very best we can of our brothers in Christ, however much they may disagree with us; that love which suffers long and is kind; that love which is greater than either faith or hope; that love which rejoices not in iniquity, but rejoices with the truth; that love which alone can really draw us together and hold us together.

We are convinced that those who hold positions of responsibility in the work of the Five Years Meeting have saving faith in our Lord Jesus Christ, which we recognize as the prime requisite for Christian service, and that they are loyal not only to the fundamentals of the Christian faith but also to those doctrines which characterize us as a denomination. We urge the utmost care on the part of our members that they do not wrong our leaders by believing or circulating unjust reports in regard to them; and we urge upon our leaders the importance of making clear their faith in Christ and their adherence to the fundamental of Christian faith, lest the cause of Christ suffer because their allegiance to Him is not fully known.

We feel that there should be continuously a clear note of evangelism in our publications; and we heartily commend the work of the Home Mission Board in preparing for a Five Years Meeting conference on Evangelism and in its plan to secure and put at the disposal of Yearly Meetings strong evangelists to emphasize in a positive, constructive way the fundamentals of the Gospel of Christ.

Though we have co-operated with other Friends and other religious denominations in certain things on which we hold common ground, we desire that our membership understand that we recognize the deity of Jesus Christ as fundamental in our faith, and we could not consider any movement toward organic union with any religious group which does not accept this basis of Christian truth.

We have no desire to exceed our authority in any matter of denominational work.

It has seemed necessary at some times in the past, on account of the exigencies of the work, to do some things in a way more arbitrary than was satisfactory to us or to many of our members. But we are seeking earnestly to do our work for the present and for the future in such a way as to recognize fully the autonomy of the yearly meetings and to secure their full co-operation.

We are conscious of criticism of the financial management of the work of the Five Years Meeting, the Forward Movement and various Boards of the Five Years Meeting. While we are sure that much of this criticism is based on misunderstanding; and while we feel that our Friends would have made such expenditures as have been incurred if they could have increased their own personal receipts as rapidly as the receipts have been increased for the work of the Lord; yet we do earnestly desire to practice the most careful economy consistent with the best interests of our denominational work. It will be noted, for instance, that the financing of our united activities is on a much reduced scale from last year, and that our united work is hereafter to be under the regular organization of the Five Years Meeting, with the extra organization eliminated.

In conclusion, we would urge upon all our members the importance of whole-hearted devotion to the actual advancement of the Kingdom of God. In this hour of the world's great need and of the Christian church's great opportunity: in this hour when Friends have one of the greatest opportunities since the birth of our denomination to present to the world a religion of vital relationship with God and of loving service to all mankind, how can we justify the dissipation of any of our energy in opposition one to another? Let us all seek to draw near unto God; thus we shall be drawn nearer together. In truest devotion let us draw near to Him; in truest love let us draw near to one another; in truest loyalty let us go forth to carry His gospel to the ends of the earth.

On behalf of the Committee,

ALLEN D. HOLE, Chairman
WALTER C. WOODWARD, Secretary.

Richmond, Indiana, June 4, 1921.

12. Resolutions were read from Salem and Portland Quarterly Meetings requesting the release of those of their members who could not conscientiously support the Five Years Meeting Boards, from such support; and the request was referred to the Representatives for their consideration and further report.

13. Reports on the spiritual condition of meetings were read from Portland, Salem, and Boise Valley Quarterly Meetings, and a verbal report from Newberg Quarterly Meeting was given. 14. A communication was read from Portland Quarterly Meeting, referring to Oregon Yearly Meeting for action, the request of Rainier Heights Monthly Meeting and Quilcene Monthly Meeting that a Quarterly Meeting be established in the state of Washington, of which Quarterly Meeting these meetings shall be a part. This matter was referred to the Representatives for their consideration and further report to the Yearly Meeting.

15. The Representatives were instructed to propose to the next session of this meeting names of persons to serve as Presiding Clerk, Recording Clerk, Reading Clerk and Announcing Clerk; to determine a ratio for raising funds and distributing documents; to propose funds to be raised for the church work; and to nominate a Friend to serve as Treasurer for the ensuing year; to propose the name of one person in each Quarterly Meeting to receive and distribute documents; to propose names for Nominating, Auditing and Printing Committees.

FIFTH DAY—2:00 P. M.

Presiding Clerk—Levi T. Pennington
Recording Clerk—Marguerite P. Elliott

The following printing committee was appointed:

The following were nominated as auditing committee:

J. Sanger Fox, Frank D. Roberts, Paul H. Lewis.

21. The Superintendent of Systematic and Proportionate Giving presented the following report:

We are glad to acknowledge with gratitude the blessing of God upon this department of our work during the past year. Wherever and whenever honest, sincere souls seek humbly to walk in His will, He is very faithful in revealing His truth to them and helping them to adopt a method of reckoning which meets His approval and so satisfies their own hearts. We are glad to have been able to help Him some in this by keeping the matter before people's minds. Nearly all of the meetings have been faithful in this, and have made substantial progress, our total number of tithers this year being about 500.

We notice, however, that a few of our meetings have failed to appoint any person or persons to attend to this work, and to that extent the work has been hampered, and in some cases we have no record of any work which may have been done. We find it increasingly difficult to secure new and suitable literature on the subject of stewardship; however, we have distributed about 1,000 pages.

We have appreciated the co-operation of the pastors in presenting the matter about 30 sermons having been preached on this subject. We think it wise to keep the matter much before the minds of the membership, not only for the enlightenment of those who do not tithe, but for the help and encouragement of those having recently determined to do so, because until the habit has become fixed there is great temptation to indifference in this as every other phase of Christian life and especially in these times of high prices and scarcity of money. Satan is out to defeat God's plans in any and every way possible, and this way he, no doubt, finds particularly effective, not only in slowing up the work financially, but in blighting the heart life of the individual.

Inasmuch as the term "Christian Stewardship" is a more scriptural term, and also in our judgment, more nearly embraces the whole subject than the one in use at present, we beg to suggest that the name of this department be changed from that of "Systematic and Proportionate Giving" to that of "Christian Stewardship."

Respectfully submitted,

STELLA CROZER, Superintendent.

22. The report with the recommendation—that the name of the department be changed to "Christian Stewardship" was adopted; Quarterly and Monthly Meetings note the change.

23. Lindley A. Wells gave an interesting and convincing address on the subject, reminding us that the paying of the tithe is the duty of all Christians.

24. The following report of the Literature Department was read and adopted:

LITERATURE REPORT—1921

In presenting the annual report of the work of this department we feel there are some encouraging features. We note, especially, the increase in the general interest in good literature; also some advance in active work.

The following summary is a partial and estimated report:

No. Tracts distributed	4256
Also pages besides	7100
No. Papers	2759
No. Libraries	11
No. Books in same	759
Books added during year	84
No. Books loaned	697
No. Friends Papers taken	459
No. Other Religious papers taken	399
No. Bibles or portions of Scripture given	94
No. Meetings or conferences held	4

Other items of especial interest—We note with regret that some of our homes are not supplied with religious periodicals. To meet, in a measure, this need, almost all of our churches have wall-pockets, cases or stands for tracts and other literature for general distribution.

Boise and Melba Monthly Meetings report a number of religious booklets given away.

Greenleaf Monthly Meeting reports 30 copies of "Bud Robinson's Hospital Experience" sold and distributed. A table was kept filled with free literature at the Holiness Camp Meeting by the Boise Literature Committee.

Rosedale has had 15 books in circulation. 33 copies of St. John's Gospel were sent to State Institutions and five others given out. Interested members of the meeting gave five subscriptions to the Gospel Minister and 10 to the Christian Witness.

Highland gave 200 Scripture Text Calendars to State Institutions.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT

It is somewhat difficult to sum up the Missionary work of Oregon Yearly Meeting with the meagre reports at hand.

We believe the different Quarterly Meetings are actively interested in sending the Gospel to those who sit in darkness; the work has not been confined to missionary interests in the American Friends Board of Foreign Missions.

One meeting is supporting Independent work in Japan; several contributing to the support of one of our own number in that Field.

One Quarterly Meeting is supporting a man and his wife, members of that Quarterly Meeting in Central America, under California Yearly Meeting.

Another meeting sends its contributions to China through Peniel Mission and Oregon Holiness Association.

Several meetings report increasing interest in Missions as evidenced by increased giving, and have constructive plans for the coming year. Following are some of the suggestions and plans: Have Missionary letters read at Bible School and Church Services; Take Missionary magazines and keep the people informed of the needs of the fields.

One meeting has a Missionary Sermon and free will offering once a month.

Another plans a missionary program at the Sunday night service, once a month, specializing on the different Fields. Four report missionary programs or stories, once a month in Bible School and three Bible Schools give all offerings to Missions.

We believe there are more Bible Schools giving special Missionary instruction than reported. There is one Women's Missionary Society in the Yearly Meeting.

Some have felt a difficulty in raising their money on account of a lack of unity.

While there was not a full Committee meeting we have every evidence that the Committee would unite in recommending the support of the Missionary work in Africa.

Signed,

O. J. SHERMAN, Chairman,
EFFIE R. TAMPLIN, Secretary.

Permission is given to change the report and incorporate belated reports.

41. The Yearly Meeting Superintendent of Evangelistic and Church Extension Work, gave the following report:

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT

Each passing year brings its difficult problems and tasks. Many of which challenge the courage, tests the faith, and prompts the soul to seek wisdom and guidance from God. For Satan is not defeated and the power of sin broken; and the kingdom of God established within the heart of man, and his life brought under the reign of righteousness without resistance, conflict and crisis.

Yet, to one called and commissioned of God for leadership in proclaiming the message of a conquering Christ, the challenge of the battle, is but the signal for victory. Only the record written by the unerring hand, guided by infinite wisdom, opened and read beyond life's checkered battle field, will reveal the eternal values and infinite accomplishments of faithful service under God's ordering.

Conditions within world Governments testing their power of existence, their laws of citizenship, their moral and social order, seem to have been reflected within the church. The Society of Friends has not escaped the affection. The spirit of unrest, of uncertainty and of discontent is apparent within her ranks. Her clearest vision of redeeming truth expressed in Articles of Faith or Statements of Belief; her best sanctified judgment in matters of Discipline and Church Government, contained in Disciplinary rules and regulations, seem all to be challenged as heavy dogmatic creeds and binding fetters of more ignoble days. Having a tendency to stifle the spiritual life and to hinder the development of individual liberty.

One can but wonder whether an extreme individualism asserting religious conscience, beliefs, and conduct of life, in contravention of the accepted Faith and standards of the Church might not become a restless, rushing stream, bearing upon its turbulent waters the rich spiritual heritage bequeathed us by generations of Godly men and women whose spiritual vision attracted the attention and claimed the admiration of the world.

In the midst of these conditions, diversified individualistic tendencies, questioning of church doctrines and government, there is certainly great need for earnest prayer, clear thinking, seer-like vision and safe guidance, lest we go astray upon a trackless main. Our past history attests the necessity for the sanctifying grace and guidance of the Holy Spirit for human leadership if our church is to be preserved in the unity of the Spirit and bonds of peace. With abiding organic soul passion, evangelistic fervor, and a positive gospel message exalting Christ as the eternal Son of God and all sufficient Saviour of men. The mere intellectual acceptance of our Articles of Faith and the adjustment of the moral life to the standards of our Discipline; or the rejection of those doctrines and standards and seeking to apply the principles of christianity to the needs of humanity, would alike be disastrous. Only as we continue to know experientially the Christ of our Faith, in regenerating power, and to preach His message with the Holy Spirit sent down from Heaven, that men may receive "power to become the sons of God" and are added to our fellowship because they are "born of God", can we hope for perpetuity as a church with the distinctive badge of discipleship.

To whatever extent these influences may have affected Oregon Yearly Meeting her ministers and pastors seem well united in the purpose to maintain the activities of the work in keeping with the recognized Faith and standards of the church. The development of mutual sympathy and helpful relationship, during the year, has been gratifying and encouraging.

Many evidences of growth and development in various lines of church work, have been very manifest in most of the larger and stronger meetings. This is equally true of some of the smaller and weaker meetings. While others of these weaker meetings presents conditions and problems, not so easy of improvement and solution. Which seem to require a larger service and wiser methods if they are to rise above their present situation, or, if indeed some of them are long to continue their present efforts. This involves no word of censure, or lack of appreciation of their pastors, some of whom have successfully cared for much larger congregations in more responsible fields. In a few cases the pastors were without experience in pulpit and pastoral leadership. It would be strange if these, in the midst of such difficult fields without the inspiration and guiding counsel of a stronger membership, were not now able to see where wiser methods, and approach by more accessible avenues, with greater tact in the personal, home, and pulpit appeal, would in some instances have made the work easier and resulted in greater returns.

But the young preacher is usually compelled to begin his pastoral duties in these difficult fields. His first move, involving his security and protection from unnecessary censure and defeat, should be to nestle closely and confidently in the heart and counsel of the officary of his meeting. If mistakes in judgment and failure from unwise methods must occur, it is always better for him, for the church, and for the community, that they should be the mistakes of the pastoral committee, rather than his alone. Many evidences of weakness, and absence of effective efforts, would not be so apparent to the church and to the community if the pastoral committee met regularly, at short intervals, with the pastor for prayer, counsel, and guidance. In fact, it may not be too much to say that the coming revival, for which we hope and pray, could best begin with the pastoral committees closeted with the pastors within their studys, until the revival fires were kindled within their soul's and spread with consuming flame through out the entire church.

Again the earliest possible impression that he is their pastor, should be made to grip the entire community. A definite understanding and arrangement with the pastoral committee by which he is informed of, and able to be the first one present, aside from the physician, on occasions of sudden sickness, painful accident, death or any disaster, that brings alarm and sorrow will quickly give this impression. The general duties of pastoral care, with words of sympathy, comfort, and prayer, however difficult to perform should faithfully and energetically follow up this impression until he is established in the community confidence and appreciation, as "our pastor."

He is also their preacher, and of tremendous importance are the first impressions he makes upon their minds in his pulpit ministrations. I dare to say that these should be, that he knows how to pray and to get an audience with God in their behalf. This cannot be if the public payer is stale, lifeless, and containing elements of defeat. It must be like refreshing rain falling upon parched and thirsty ground. Like heavenly sunshine rending the clouds and breaking through the tempest, falling with warm and healing rays upon torn and bleeding lives. The victory which overcometh the world; the prayer of faith.

But still he is to preach. He need not, "open his mouth in parables, and utter dark sayings of old" in order to grip the audience. Sane people do not expect an apple sprout just planted, to perform the functions of a ten year old tree. But they do demand that it grow. Young preacher make every sacrifice necessary, cut out the popular magazine, the daily paper, any thing, every thing; at any cost, at all cost, closet your soul with God, burn midnight oil in bible study and prayer, until by inward growth, enlarged soul vision and mental grasp of mighty truths you convince your audience that if you are but a "pulpit sprout" you are a live and growing one. When the congregation knows that you can graciously accept counsel of the pastoral committee, and successfully organize them into an effective spiritual force; that you have become the community pastor; who, in prayer can reach the throne in their behalf; and that you are growing in pulpit power, then thank God and take courage. Then after many years of successful service, involving various pastorates, your present audience fails to appreciate you along these four lines of service, preach your farewell sermon and move on. Life's too short to sleep on the job.

I venture to suggest the following programme of co-operative service for these weaker meetings, under the direction of the Church Extension Board. The careful selection of a Gospel Team, from the stronger meetings, to carry out a programme of vital, pertinent, subjects in a series of Two Days Meetings involving a community dinner on Saturday and an All Days Sabbath Service. This to be followed at proper intervals, with Gospel Teams from the Christian Endeavor Union; the Bible School Board; and the Missionary Committee. These latter services to begin on Saturday night with a membership meeting for counsel and earnest prayer, preparatory to an All Days Sabbath Service. Always careful to select workers and to plan a programme that will connect with the local church and community needs, giving inspiration and hopeful outlook. Also to present the larger vision of church activity within the home and foreign fields, making the local church and community feel that their task is an essential part of that larger service. This programme to reach its culmination in the annual revival effort, conducted by an evangelist assisted by two or three young people as leaders of song and music, filled with evangelistic fervor and who know God in prayer. Most of these meetings are so located, that with proper interest and organized effort one or two Auto loads of members from stronger meetings could be present each night of the campaign.

Some such strenuous programme of intensive co-operative effort, it seems, should be brought to the assistance of these meetings.

The immediate need of some of the stronger meetings is larger buildings, with more modern facilities, necessary to enlarged and effective department work. The meeting at Star, Idaho, built an addition to their house at a cost of about $2,200.00, and are now harder pressed to care for their growing audience than before they built. Rosedale has a house in course of construction, nearing completion, which when completed will be adequate to care for the community needs. Highland church has the blue prints of an attractive and well arranged building, and are progressing nicely with their financial campaign preparatory to its construction. The meeting at Boise is growing in influence and attendance. They have passed resolutions, and appointed a committee, preparatory to the necessary agitation and constructive preparation for the selection of a more central location and construction of a much needed larger building. Entiat meeting occupies a good cement basement, and have purchased most of the lumber for a building there on, and are waiting for the present financial stringency to improve a little, when they will proceed with its construction. Tacoma is just completing a modern building, of sufficient size and location, to meet their need. Rainier Heights meeting is in great need of a house. They have purchased a lot and are planning for the building. The growing audience at Greenleaf is causing that meeting to see the need for a larger and better equipped building.

But few pastoral changes have occurred during the year. It seemed within the will of God to take to Himself from the scenes of earthly conflict one of our efficient evangelistic pastors, Luranna M. Terrell. The Lents pulpit is being supplied with local talent, pending the arrival of their pastor, Fred B. Cope, September 1st. H. Elmer Pemberton resigned the South Salem work to enter the evangelistic field. Nathan D. Swabb accepted the work, temporarily, but has since consented to continue as their permanent pastor. Blain Bronner closed his work at Marion, and Lisle Hubbard has accepted that pastorate. Guy W. Furbay resigned the work at Melba, and Edgar Potter will take his place. Claude Barker was called to work outside the Yearly Meeting, and J. Finley Hunt is now in charge of the work at Tacoma. Homer L. Cox has resigned as pastor of First Friends church, Portland, effective September 5th. This will terminate a period of nine years of very successful work.

J. L. Glasscock of Cincinnati, Ohio, conducted revivals at Greenleaf, Boise, Melba and Piedmont. With the possible exception of two or three other revivals, the evangelistic work of the year has been done by our own workers. The tabulated report will indicate the results, so far as we can compute them, and need not be given in detail here.

Much of the information sought by answers to the questions contained in the blanks for pastors reports, is to enable the Executive Committee to intelligently view and consider the conditions and needs of the local meetings, and not to be reported for publication in our annual minutes. If carefully answered they would give information as to the per cent of the membership attending the mid-week prayer meeting, and monthly meeting, thereby entering with the pastor into the vital life and responsibility of the church. What per cent of the "Additions" to the church was by "Letter" from other Denominations, and what per cent was by "Request," resulting from conversions. Also the average attendance, during each quarter, at the regular Sabbath services, thereby indicating to what extent the meeting was reaching the unchurched element. They would show to what extent the church is meeting the needs of the Associate members, who constitute almost one-fourth of our membership. The Discipline anticipates an early acceptance of Jesus Christ as their personal Savior and their transfer to the Active member.

The large number of children who leave at the close of the Bible school, not remaining for the hour of worship and who do not attend the prayer meeting, in contrast with the scenes of yesterday when family benches filled, with every member of the home present, were characteristic of a Friends service; together with the ceaseless attractive and fascinating worldly amusements of this age, present conditions of imminent peril. A campaign of "Childrens Meetings" conducted simultaneous with the church revival, by some one especially gifted in bringing the message of Christ to them, followed by some plan of special recognition of their needs in the regular service and pastoral ministry would certainly be fruitful.

During the year I have traveled 3,400 miles. Have given 130 sermons and addresses.

Respectfully submitted,

L. C. HINSHAW

TO OREGON YEARLY MEETING OF FRIENDS:

The Statistical report for the year ending 4th month 1st., 1921, is submitted in the customary form.

Table No. 1, indicates a net gain of 122, while table No. 2, shows an increase of 99 for the year. Altho a majority of the Monthly Meetings report their records correct, there appears need for the inauguration of a record inspection campaign. A study of Table 1, results in interesting observations, some of which are encouraging while other do not indicate favorable conditions. The births exceed the deaths by seven. The total gain by request, of 160, more than exceeds the loss by discontinuance of name and letter. We received 87 by certificate from outside the Yearly Meetings and issued 36 certificates to other Yearly Meetings.

The nonresident membership of 945 considered in connection with the report of the 234 letters sent and the 33 replies received, presents a problem.

Respectfully submitted,

S. LEWIS HANSON, Statistical Secretary.

42. Statistical table is printed in Appendix. Page 60, 61.

43. The following recommendations from the Evangelistic and Church Extension Board were made and were very heartily endorsed by the meeting:

I. We recommend that L. Clarkson Hinshaw be retained as Yearly Meeting Superintendent, under the same terms as last year.

II. We recommend an appropriation of four thousand dollars for the work the coming year. This was endorsed by Representatives.

44. Frank W. Dell brought a helpful message on "Church Efficiency."

45. The following report of the Trustees was adopted by the meeting:

REPORT OF TRUSTEES

We have filed a copy of the Minutes of 1920, as the official record of the Yearly Meeting.

The note given by Sherwood Meeting for $340.00 has been paid, with $17.00 interest, which is deposited in the United States National Bank, Newberg, with the Incidental Fund of $25.00

On behalf of the Trustees,

A. R. MILLS.

46. The statistical report was read and is printed in the Appendix. Page 64.

52. The Representatives made the following report and it was adopted by the meeting:

1st. "In the matter of the resolutions from Salem and Portland Quarterly Meetings asking that Oregon Yearly Meeting excuse from the moral and financial support of the work of the Five Years Meeting and its various boards those who are conscientiously opposed to the support of these activities of our denomination, we propose that the Yearly Meeting direct the following statement to all of its subordinate meetings:

DEAR FRIENDS:

1. The right of freedom of conscience is one for which Friends have stood from the beginning, and for which it is their duty still to stand faithfully. Oregon Yearly Meeting has neither the right nor the desire to require that any member of the body do the thing which his conscience forbids, nor fail to do the thing which his conscience enjoins.

2. We recognize the fact that the decision of the Yearly Meeting in reference to its general policies and program of activities must be determined by the judgment of the majority, and the importance of working together through common channels for the accomplishment of common purposes. It is very important that unity of action be preserved so far as is possible.

3. At the same time liberty of conscience must be granted to the individual without such being made to feel that he is disloyal, if, conscientious against responding to the appeals for voluntary support of the various Boards of the Five Years Meeting.

4. We urge that our members seek diligently to know the truth before reaching a decision unfavorable to any of our united work.

5. We also recognize our united responsibility to use our influence to correct any evils which may exist rather than to let the evils continue without an attempt to correct them.

Taken from the minutes of the representatives, June 10th.

A. G. STREET, Chairman,
LYRA B. MILES, Secretary.

64. The Report of the Superintendent of Education follows:

EDUCATIONAL REPORT

In looking over the work of education for the past year, we have felt that it has been a very good year and that progress has been made along different lines. The work of our educational institutions has been unusually successful.

Almost all of the Quarterly Meetings report several educational addresses and sermons preached during the year. Salem Quarterly Meeting reports one Quarterly Meeting session during the year was devoted to Pacific College, also Educational meetings were held by individual meetings.

All the Quarterly Meetings report that one of their chief problems is lack of funds. One Quarterly Meeting reports that one of their chief needs is greater interest on the part of their membership who believes in Christian Education in the institutions founded for that purpose.

It seems that one of the great concerns of the Church should be not only to develop educated Christian leaders but also to develop an intelligent, thinking membership. This need is imperative for the maintenance of our educational institutions and the growth and perpetuity of our Church. An un-informed, un-reading Quakerism is a contradiction in terms.

65. Report of Greenleaf Seminary follows:

REPORT OF GREENLEAF SEMINARY

While our enrollment during the year was only 46 regular students, a number much below that which we have had in former years, we hope to be able to overcome some of the things which may have caused this decrease and in the near future get the enrollment to what it should be.

Soon after the Holidays a short course covering two hours per week for eight weeks was offered by the Biblical Department in which 14 students were enrolled. This course proved very satisfactory, so much so that we found it advisable to offer a similar course for the coming year.

A number of the Academic students took special work in the Bible Department and all students took at least one hour a week of Bible study. Much interest was manifested by the students in a new appreciation for the Word of God.

There were nine graduating from the Academic Department. Elizabeth Nelson received the scholarship offered by Pacific College.

Our teaching force has done very good work this past year. Miss Marie Roberts has been especially valuable to us because of the work she has been able to do by way of chorus, and other vocal work.

Mrs. L. Maria Deane has by her earnest teaching created a strong desire on the part of the students to study the Bible.

The students for the most part have really enjoyed the Bible study, a condition which does not always exist when students are required to take the work as ours are.

Mrs. Elma J. Sanders has done as usual very conscientious and thorough work in her classes and has in every way been a faithful worker in all her connections with the duties of the faculty.

An active Literary Society was maintained throughout the year and for one number of our Lecture Course the school gave a Home Talent Program.

As a result of the two weeks services conducted by J. L. Glasscock all but four of our students who were not already Christians, claimed conversion and many professed sanctification.

Following these meetings there was a marked interest in Christian work and as a result student prayer meetings were organized in which the students took very active part, and the faculty were aware of a great improvement in the conduct and attitude of the students toward their work, as a result of the transforming power of God which had come into their lives.

At the same time we are emphasizing the spiritual needs of our students we are also putting all the possible emphasis on the necessity for diligent study and the value of a high standard of scholarship.

It is our determination that our students shall not be developed along any line to the detriment of any other equally important factor in the molding of their character.

We feel that God's approval has been on our efforts during the past year and whatever success we may attain in the future we are expecting it to be by His leading and we expect to give Him the honor.

Very respectfully submitted,
FRANK D. ROBERTS, President.

66. The following report of E. H. Woodward, Chairman of the Board of Pacific College was read:

To PACIFIC COLLEGE CORPORATION:

In submitting a report to your body on behalf of the College Board at this time I am glad to be able to say that the work of the school year has been very gratifying. When President Levi T. Pennington was granted a leave of absence two years ago, we were very fortunate in being able to secure John D. Mills, who has filled the place as acting President very acceptably in the interval. He has done excellent work for the college and has endeared himself to those with whom he has been associated in school work and in the community, and it is with regret that we must part with him as he leaves for another field.

President Pennington will return for the opening of the new school year and will be given a hearty welcome by students, faculty and all who are connected in any way with the college.

It is a pleasure to be able to announce that few other changes are to be made in the makeup of the faculty for next year, for all have been doing most satisfactory work.

We are under great obligations to the Woman's Auxiliary to the college for the helpful assistance the women have given, both personally and financially, during the year in adding to the comfort and efficiency of the dormitories, the amount expended by them amounting to nearly $600 in cash.

The campaign that has been under way for increased endowment during the past six months is still on and the situation is very critical, as we are far from the goal. Dr. W. V. Coffin, endowment secretary of the Educational Board of the Five Years Meeting, has spent much time here as leader in the campaign and has been most helpful in every way. He is courageous and hopeful under the most trying circumstances and will yet win out if he is given the helpful co-operation the cause deserves. I desire to urge upon every member of the corporation the necessity for action at this time, with the hope that every one may get under the burden and help in making this a successful campaign for the standardization of Pacific College.

E. H. WOODWARD, Chairman of Board.

67. The following report from Pacific College Corporation was read:

REPORT FROM PACIFIC COLLEGE CORPORATION

Pacific College Corporation meeting was held 6th Month 10, 1921.

There was a large attendance from Oregon and an interested delegation from Idaho.

The report as read from the President of the Board, the Acting President of the College and the treasurer were directed to the Yearly Meeting.

Upon the recommendation of the Alumni Association and the College Board, Asa Sutton, Effie Terrell, Perry Macy and Sewell Newhouse were elected members of the Corporation.

E. H. Woodward and W. F. Crozer who were nominated by the College Board. H. A. Hinshaw and Asa Sutton, who were nominated by the permanent Board of the Yearly Meeting. Hervey M. Hoskins who was nominated by the Alumni Association and S. Lewis Hanson, who was nominated by the Corporation, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Homer L. Cox, were elected members of the College Board.

The report of the committee appointed October 20, 1920, to formulate an addition to the by-laws stating the attitude of the College to the doctrines of the Church is as follows:

"It is understood and agreed that the instructions and standards of Pacific College shall be in harmony with the fundamental doctrine of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, as held by Friends and set forth in the Richmond Declaration of Faith."

All persons engaged to serve as members of the teaching force of the College shall be informed of this provision.

This action of the corporation is reported at this time to comply with the wish of the Yearly Meeting in regard to the request from Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting.

Respectfully submitted.

E. H. WOODWARD, President
EVANGELINE MARTIN, Secretary.

69. The report of Acting President, John D. Mills, of Pacific College was read as follows:

REPORT OF PACIFIC COLLEGE

In submitting my final report as Acting President of Pacific College I wish to take advantage of the opportunity to express appreciation of the men and women with whom it has been my privilege and pleasure to work while serving in this capacity. The members of the Board of Managers of the College are serving with genuine Christian devotion, "bearing burdens grievous to be borne." They are already finding their reward in the young lives that are going forth from the institution and we cannot but have faith to believe that a full reward will be given them. The success of the College in the last two years, deprived as she has been of her executive head and thus placed under a temporary leadership, is due in almost complete measure, to the co-operation of the faculty. Each member of the teaching force has labored with unselfish interest for the good of the College and has guarded as carefully the welfare of the school as though bearing full responsibility for its management. It is a cause for constant wonder that a group of men and women of such marked ability could have been gathered together by the College and held in her service with the exceedingly small financial inducement she has been able to offer.

Attendance

The year past is noted for increase of attendance, passing, for the first time, the mark set before the establishment of a high school in Newberg. The number of college students increased 23 per cent compared to an increase of 11 per cent of Academy students. The classification by religious denominations is as follows:

Friends 103; Methodist Episcopal 12; Presbyterian 5; Free Methodist 4; Christian 3; Baptist 2; Congregational 1; Evangelical 1; Nazarene 2; German M. E. 1; Union 1; Christian Science 1; Wesleyan M. E. 1; no church affiliation 5; total 141.

Degrees Granted

The following were graduated from the College on June 8th, with the degree of A. B.; Marjorie Brown, Paul S. Elliott, Henry J. Keeney, Esther I. Terrell.

The following young people completed the four years Academy course and were granted diplomas accordingly: Hubert Armstrong, E. Delight Carter, Wilfred Crozer, Mariha Ehret, Mary K. Elliott, Frederic Hinshaw, Lucille Johnson, Horace Terrell.

The following were granted diplomas testifying to the satisfactory completion of the Commercial Course: Violet Fastabend Keeney, June Whitlock.

General Characteristics

The year has witnessed many remarkable instances of loyalty to the College on the part of the students thereof. They have gladly and willingly co-operated with the faculty and management. The endowment campaign gave increased opportunity for an expression of this spirit. The intercollegiate activities in various lines offer also an opportunity for the expression of this spirit and in all of them Pacific has been creditably represented. Our representatives have not only proved themselves able participants in the contests on field and platform but have always kept in view the deals of the college and have successfully endeavored to exemplify these ideals.

Physical Education

The tendency of intercollegiate athletics is to develop the students who are already most nearly perfect physically and to ignore the students in most need of physical exercise. It has been the aim of the College to develop interclass games so as to bring onto the floor and field the largest possible number of students. A women's class in physical culture was conducted throughout the year by Miss Jessie Laird of the Newberg High School. An adequate physical foundation for a happy and successful life is of decided importance.

Library

While the library of the College is not large the selection of books has been made so carefully that each of the departments has the best books in its particular field, for use as reference. The state librarian recently visited the library and warmly commended the selection of books. During the past year there have been added several notable sets including the Cambridge History of English Literature—15 volumes; the Cambridge History of American Literature—4 volumes; American Statesmen—25 volumes; American Men of Letters—23 volumes and single volumes and small sets enough to make a total of about 200 volumes. Over 35 of the choicest periodicals—religious, educational and general, come regularly to the library reading room.

Improvements

The Ladies' Auxiliary undertook the interior redecoration of the Men's dormitory during the summer vacation. The new rooms, made a year ago by the division of the upper story, had been used during the year in the state the carpenter left them; all of them had at least two different colors on the walls and some of them four and these colors did not always harmonize. The repainting of these rooms together with the large hall below changed the dormitory so greatly that the ladies decided to use a little spare cash left over in a few of the most needy rooms in Canyon Hall, the women's dormitory building. Friends of the College in Portland and Salem, hearing of the work, sent in contributions and the funds continued to hold out as room after room was finished, until all the rooms needing redecorating had received attention. Like the meal in the widow's barrel, the money held out until the work was done. The remarkably improved atmosphere of the two dormitories this year is due in part to the improved appearance of the halls and rooms.

Dormitory Life

Mrs. Elwood Johnson as Matron of the girls dormitory, has had the full confidence of the girls and has acted the part of a mother to both boys and girls. Mr. Lester B. Wright as governor of the Men's dormitory has enjoyed the full co-operation of his fellow students who were resident therein. It is well to make the dormitory life one of the marked features of Pacific College and we believe it has been so this year.

Religious Spirit

The aim of the management of Pacific College is to make the atmosphere of the institution religiously warm and vital and in every way conducive to the development of stable Christian character and earnest Christian workers. Two series of meetings were held, one by H. Elmer Pemberton and the other by Chester A. Hadley. The former, held in union with the local meeting, was of over two weeks duration and was marked by a large number of definite decisions and resultant blessings. Especially large was the number making consecrations for service and seeking for the baptism of the Holy Spirit.

The latter series continued only over the week-end and brought much blessing and inspiration. The Christian Associations have filled a large place in developing the Christian life of the students and in organizing them for effective service. The number of Bible classes conducted by the two associations show an increase and the enrollment very good. Several series of Bible lectures were given at the Thursday chapel hour during the year and proved helpful and instructive. The visits of the ministers of the Yearly Meeting through few in number were sources of inspiration. The attendance at chapel services of Dr. W. V. Coffin, Rev. Charles O. Whitely, President H. Edwin McGrew and many others have made the chapels of the year notable.

Faculty Changes

Perry D. Macy, an alumnus of Pacific College was added to the faculty last summer, taking the position of Professor of History and Economics. Professor Macy is a man of experience having served a number of years as Pastor and three years as field secretary of New England Yearly Meeting. The force of last year remains almost intact for the coming year. The resignation of Lyra B. Miles, who has served Pacific College two years, the first one as acting professor of English and the past year as Professor of Psychology and Education, has been accepted with deep regret. Miss Miles has made her department one of the strongest of the College, and her work in the class is a constant proof of the value and correctness of the principles of education which she teaches. Her place will be filled by Willard R. Shattuck, a member of Oregon Yearly Meeting who received his Master's Degree from Willamette University at the present Commencement time. The Department of Home Economics has not been filled for some years and the splendid equipment furnished by the ladies of the College Auxiliary has lain idle. It is a pleasure to report that Miss Murl Clark, a member of the graduating class of Penn College has been secured for this position. Miss Clark comes with unexcelled recommendations.

The return of President Pennington to his duties as executive head of the College and Professor of Philosophy and Bible completes the teaching force, perhaps the strongest in the history of the College.

Endowment Campaign

The campaign for an increased endowment sufficient to enable the College to take her place among the legally recognized standard colleges of the state is, we hope, nearing completion. The visit of Dr. Coffin, endowment secretary of the Friends Forward Movement, and Charles O. Whitely early in October prepared the way for the active campaign which began with the return of Dr. Coffin and Charles O. Whitely together with President McGrew in December. At a meeting held in the Newberg Friends Church in December attended by about 200, nearly half of whom were college students, $25,000 was pledged. Almost $10,000.00 was pledged at a meeting held at First Friends Church of Portland a little later. A partial canvas among the Friends of Salem Quarterly Meeting and the business men of Newberg brought the total subscriptions to about $47,000. Dr. Coffin then went East and through his efforts and the efforts of President Pennington $51,000 was raised among eastern Friends. Dr. Coffin returned to Oregon in April. Asa F. Sutton has been associated with him since that time in a thorough canvas of the Friends of Pacific College in the Northwest. To date a little over $105,000 of the $150,000 has been raised. Thus $45,000 stands in the way of Pacific College and standardization.

The Future of Pacific

Pacific College gives many evidences of being a divinely established institution. Her service to the Friends of the great northwest is inestimable. There is no field in American Quakerdom with greater opportunities for growth and expansion than this field where it is planted. An adequate vision of the possibilities before you on account of the door of opportunity now so widely open, a consecration of abilities and wealth to our Divine Lord, a co-operation and unity of action such as becomes the followers of Jesus will bring a great harvest to Oregon Yearly Meeting in the near future and the future of Pacific College is inseparably bound up with the future of Oregon Yearly Meeting.

85. Report of Permanent Board was read and approved as follows:

The Newberg city Council has contracted for the paving of the street on the north of the grounds and also for a cement sidewalk, the cost of which is estimated around $3,500; repairs that have been made on the building, and others that are necessary, will amount to probably $700.

Of this we recommend that the Yearly Meeting pay half of the cost of paving and laying the sidewalk, and for the second half, the Yearly Meeting pay three fifths and Newberg Monthly Meeting two-fifths; that the Yearly Meeting pay three-fifths of the cost of repairs, not to exceed $700, and Newberg Monthly Meeting three-fifths.

Respectfully submitted,

E. H. WOODWARD, Chairman.

86. On recommendation of the Representatives a subscription was taken to cover a pledge made by the delegates to Five Years Meeting for Home Missions, amounting to $146.00.

87. Report of the Bible School Superintendent follows:

REPORT OF BIBLE SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

In answer to a questionnaire sent to the Bible Schools of the Yearly Meeting asking for the greatest needs the reply was almost unanimous that the greatest need was for trained teachers who realized the size of their jobs. In striking contrast with this need only twenty-five in the Yearly Meeting are reported to have taken some definite training work the past year. It is encouraging to note that this is a substantial increase over the number reported last year but when three hundred and ninety-one teachers and officers are necessary to carry on the Sunday School work the percentage is all too small. One school reports a local teachers training class while the teachers from two other schools have attended a local training school for religious workers.

We find that the majority of the schools have small Sunday School libraries but only one reports books for the Sunday School worker. We feel that no teacher can adequately meet the task before him without supplementing his own knowledge and insight with that of others who are masters in one particular field. It is impossible for many to attend schools or teachers training classes but through the study of helpful books the isolated teacher may come in contact with the richest experience of others. In emphasizing the need for definite training in regard to Sunday School methods we do not mean to imply that such training can ever take the place of the spiritual preparation necessary for a teacher, which we feel is recognized thruout the Yearly Meeting.

In order that such books may be examined personally and read by those who cannot afford to buy them a small workers library including the following volumes has been purchased for the use of the Teachers in the Yearly Meeting;

Cradle Roll Manual
 All about the Primary—Sudlow
 The Unfolding Life—Lamereaux
 How to Tell Stories to Children—Sarah Cone Bryant
 Songs for Little People
 The Sand Table—Faris
 Child Study and Training—William Forbush
 A Course for Beginners in Religious Education—Mary Rankin
 Manual For Training in Worship—Hartshorne
 Missionary Program Material
 Girlhood and Character—Moxcey
 Juniors, how to teach and train them—Baldwin
 The Home Department—Karnell
 Superintendent and His Work—Brown
 Pilgrim Teachers Training Course, 1st Year
 Story of Quakerism—Elizabeth Emmott.

These books have been loaned over the Yearly Meeting and during the sessions have been on the literature table for examination. They will be circulated over the Yearly Meeting during the coming year and we urge those interested to purchase the most helpful copies for local libraries.

The program for the Bible School session of the Departmental Conference held at Salem was furnished by the department.

88. The statistical report of the Bible Schools was read.

89. Mrs. Myrtle Kenworthy, Harlan J. Smith and Elbert Russell gave instructive talks on the subject of Bible Schools.

90. The Superintendent of Temperance made the following report:

We are thankful to our Heavenly Father for the victories that have been won over the Liquor Traffic, and our prayer is that we may realize that we have a great foe to fight in the Tobacco Trust. The effect of tobacco on the young can not be overestimated. It has led millions of boys downward but never a single one upward. It decreases spirituality, it not actually destroys it, but it never led a single soul to salvation. It never adds anything good to the body, mind or soul, but always subtracts. Tobacco is injuring our girls as well as our boys.

94. Clarkson and Alice Mendenhall, from North Carolina, were introduced to the meeting.

95. The following summary of the reports on the state of the church was read and approved:

REPORT OF STATE OF SOCIETY

The reports from the Quarterly Meetings indicate that the ministry is clear and forceful and that the spiritual condition of our members is good, with few exceptions. Meetings are regularly held and the Sabbath morning services well attended; some lack of attendance at Sabbath evening and mid-week services is noted.

A majority of our families have daily family devotion.

The conduct of our members toward each other and the world is generally consistent though in some meetings more unity is desirable. One meeting reports a fair degree of unity in the individual meetings, but a desire is expressed for closer unity among the meetings.

Young Peoples and Bible School Work is reported in a flourishing condition.

There have been conversions and accessions to the church in most of the meetings.

One Quarterly Meeting reports that some members are actively engaged in Bible School Work in neighboring communities, and that several members are engaged in Home Mission work.

Two members have heard the call and have gone to the Mission Field.

96. The remainder of the Statistical report was read and appears in the Appendix.

97. The Printing Committee makes the following recommendations:

That the fifty disciplines on hand be bound.

That 1,000 copies of the additional disciplinary regulations be printed.

That blanks be printed according to minute 82 of last year; that copy be sent to printing committee by heads of departments by August 1.

98. These recommendations were adopted by the meeting.

99. Report of Press Committee read and approved:

Reports of the activities of the Yearly Meeting have been sent to the local and city papers,

E. H. WOODWARD, Chairman.

101. The following recommendation from the Missionary Committee was read and approved:

O. J. SHERMAN, Chairman.

102. We paused for a few minutes to listen to a message from R. J. Handsaker on "The Near East Relief Work." A collection of $38.35 was taken for that worthy work.

103. The following report of the Entertainment Committee was read and approved with the thanks of the meeting:

105. The following report of the Social Service Superintendent was read and approved:

REPORT OF SOCIAL SERVICE

Reports have been received from four meetings in Salem Quarter and two in Newberg Quarter.

Salem Quarterly Meeting

Highland reports a number of calls have been made on new families, by our pastors, also by some of our members. Assistance has been given to needy families in both money and provisions. Money has been sent to Albertina Kerr Nursery Home.

A series of Bible lessons was given at the Deaconess Hospital by our pastors and services held at most of our State Institutions.

In all the work of this department $471.83 has been spent. We feel that the Holy Spirit has led in the work and God's blessing has been upon it.

South Salem—The first eight months of the year our pastor took his turn with others preaching at the various State Institutions. The Young Peoples Society organized a Sabbath School at Prospect and have supplied workers for the school and a minister, each Sabbath afternoon for the meeting.

A room has been furnished at the Deaconess' Hospital at an approximate expense of $150.00. A donation of money and provisions was made at Christmas time. This with other money used for relief, amounted to about $50.00. Many of our members have visited and cared for the sick.

Rosedale reports that new families have been visited and invited to church and Sabbath School.

About $23.00 in cash and $15.00 worth of provisions have been used by the committee in relief work.

Scotts Mills—A Sabbath School was conducted in an adjoining community the past summer, and assistance was rendered in a tent meeting conducted by Robert Brymer at Marquam.

One of our members, C. B. Williams, has given the most of his time the past year in distributing tracts and Bibles in northern California, often holding street meetings in the evening. The amount of money expended for this line of work is $3334.80

Newberg Quarter

Sherwood Meeting—Due attention has been given to those locating in the community. Assistance has been given to the amount of $70.00 in cash, six quilts, 700 lbs. vegetables, $73.36 have been given to the Children's Home. Bible readings have been held with the sick and aged and flowers sent.

Newberg Meeting reports:—125 calls made. 100 lbs. vegetables, 82 quarts of canned fruit and $60.50 used in this work.

Owing to the manner of reporting the work it is impossible to summarize in figures the work done, except to give total amounts of cash including the value of donations where the latter has been reported, which is as follows:

Salem Quarterly Meeting	$4044.63
Newberg Quarterly Meeting	203.86

Total	$4248.49

REPORT OF MEETING ON MINISTRY AND OVERSIGHT

Two meetings of our body have been held during Yearly Meeting.

The periods of worship have been characterized by an earnest spirit of devotion and desire that God's presence be manifest in our midst, which was realized.

A number of Friends from outside the Yearly Meeting were in attendance and brought helpful and inspiring messages.

The business of the meeting was conducted in a spirit of unity and co-operation.

Our nominating committee reported the names of Chester A. Hadley and Stella Crozer as clerks, and were made our appointment.

Some quotations from the American religious press, which placed our church in a false light before the world, received our consideration and steps were taken to correct the same.

Respectfully submitted,

CHESTER A. HADLEY,
STELLA CROZER, Clerks.

ANNUAL REPORT AMERICAN FRIENDS BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS FOR YEAR ENDING THIRD MONTH 31, 1921

TO OREGON YEARLY MEETING OF FRIENDS,

DEAR FRIENDS:

The work of this Board embraces now, foreign missionary activities in six foreign countries. More than seventy American Friends have this year represented the church in these lands. More than two hundred native workers are associated with our missionaries as teachers, evangelists, pastors, Bible women, hospital attendants and dispensers. Twenty-eight Monthly Meetings have been set up and one hundred and ten Bible Schools are regularly maintained. Apart from the Bible Schools there are on our six fields one hundred and twenty mission schools, including boarding institutions and day schools. All of these might properly be termed Bible Schools, inasmuch as the Bible is regularly taught in each one. The twenty-eight Monthly Meetings report over twenty-one hundred full members, while thirteen hundred and fifty individuals not yet on the membership list are receiving regular and systematic instruction preparatory to church membership. This group does not include a much larger number of people on each field who are directly and continuously under the influence of the missionaries but who are not yet receiving regular instruction.

In the following paragraphs under each field heading we have included a few of the more significant and interesting references appearing in recent letters and reports from the mission field.

Africa

Monthly Meetings are now in operation at each of the five main stations in our East Africa field. These Monthly Meetings show remarkable aptitude in dealing with matters of business which are peculiar to themselves. The native members are especially persistent in their efforts at watching over the membership and in seeking to reclaim those who seem to become lukewarm in their Christian profession. Eighty-five persons were received into full church membership during the year; between six and seven hundred have professed conversion and are now under instruction, being prepared for active church membership. Positively startling is the increase shown in native church contributions this year. A year ago the plan of tithing was introduced into all the meetings, and now practically all of the members and many of those who are on the candidates list are practicing systematic giving and contribute at least a tenth of all their income. One Monthly Meeting—Maragoli—reports $456.55 as having been contributed toward the work of the church during the year. Another—Lirhandi—reports $28, and two others—Kaimosi and Malava respectively—report fifty and sixty-five dollars contributed. The significance of these figures is better appreciated when one remembers that many of these members are school boys and girls, whose income is very small. The practice of tithing is proving a great blessing to those who follow it, and it is bringing the people to realize that they can support their own churches. In time, they will doubtless be able to care for all the expense connected with the school work.

The hospital at Kaimosi is now practically complete and patients have been cared for throughout the past year. The opportunities for surgical work are rapidly increasing as the people are becoming more used to the idea of receiving surgical attention and have been able to observe the beneficial results from operations which have been performed, as well as from the treatment of disease by medicine. Increasingly the people are coming to the hospital with all sorts of diseases and ailments.

The medical work is doing much to break down suspicion and prejudice against the white man, and the way is thus opened to present the Christian message.

The members of our Africa Mission, with the co-operation of B. Willis Beede, who spent several months on that field during the past autumn and winter, have recently completed a very thorough survey and study of their field and of the work which the Mission is now doing, with a view to laying out a program of work to occupy the Mission for several years in advance. With wise foresight the Mission in Africa has shown itself ready and anxious to look ahead and plan for the future, even while today's work is being done.

Cuba

It is with distinct satisfaction and gratitude that we record a very significant though unspectacular development in the Cuba work, in that the church on the field is at the point of undertaking a much larger share of responsibility for its own work, its own organization and its own support. Years of painstaking and careful training have prepared a considerable number of the Cuban church leaders for places of responsibility and leadership and many of them have shown discerning judgment as well as devotion in the work they have done for Christ.

Mission schools in Cuba this year have in most instances been crowded to their full capacity. Three new rooms last summer were added to the school building at Holguin, relieving somewhat the overcrowded condition in that institution. A few boarding pupils at Holguin have been taken this past year in rented quarters, and our missionaries now insist that if the Cuba Mission is to do the work expected of it both by Friends at home and by the Cuban people of that district, we must at once establish a full-fledged boarding school with adequate quarters and equipment. The Mission last summer purchased a tract of fifty-five acres which it is believed will serve admirably as the site for the proposed boarding school. Every year of delay in erecting the boarding school building, the missionaries tell us, lowers the mission in the estimation of those who are looking to us for education of their children. To provide satisfactory quarters for the boarding school will require, it is estimated, $100,000, one third—and perhaps one-half—of which can probably be raised on the field.

The evangelistic work in Havana province this past year has been conspicuously successful. Tent meetings have been held in many of the villages, with most gratifying results. The Mission feels keenly the necessity of taking further steps to conserve the results of this work, and to build up in the Havana province field, a group of strong, self-supporting Friends meetings.

Jamaica

Our work in Jamaica this past year has been occupied largely with strengthening lines of activity already begun, rather than with extension. This policy has in part been forced upon the Mission owing to the shortage of workers throughout the year, a condition which, it should be noted in passing, has prevailed as well on several of our other fields, and which demands immediate correction. "If Friends at home could only realize," writes a missionary in Jamaica, "how this work needs added hands! Will it always be necessary to kill off the work horses before they are half finished with the work and compel them to do a half satisfactory work because they must stretch so much over their limit?"

Our missionaries and the native church members as well have expressed their gratitude over the completion of the meeting house at Amity Hall, begun nearly ten years ago as a memorial to Arthur Swift. The structure is made of concrete and is a substantial and satisfactory edifice. The material from the old wooden meeting house has been used in building a new school house. Other property improvements have made the equipment at Amity Hall better than that at any other point where Friends are working in Jamaica, with the single exception of Seaside.

The day schools in Jamaica the past year have shown a gratifying increase in attendance, due in part at least to the improvement in economic conditions in the Island. Unfortunately there has not been the same improvement in attendance upon Bible Schools due to the indifference of the parents and in many cases to the fact that children do not have clothing in which their parents are willing for them to attend meeting or Bible School. The number of tithers among the churches in Jamaica has increased this past year and contributions both to local church support and to missions have been larger than before. Temperance teaching is having its effect in arousing sentiment against the use of alcohol which is, sad to say, all too prevalent in the Island of Jamaica.

At a point formerly known as Ft. Stewart, lying between Annotto Bay and Buff Bay, and known now as Spicy Grove, a small piece of property has been purchased as a site for a church and school building. A group of church members is resident in this district and those who know the place believe that a strong work can be built up.

At the very close of the year another piece of property was in the process of being purchased, a short distance from Highgate Station where Friends have had work for several years past. The new property is known as Lyndale, and consists of a house of sixteen rooms and about two acres of ground. This property will be used as a home for the East Indian Orphanage which has, up to the present time, occupied a part of the girls' school building at Happy Grove, connected with the Seaside Station. Funds covering half the purchase price of the Lyndale property were provided by a family of Friends in Iowa who have often before remembered the missionary cause in a substantial way. The other half of the funds needed was raised on the field.

Mexico

This year marks the fiftieth anniversary of the establishment of Friends' missionary work in Mexico and as such it is to be suitably observed by the church in that country. Almost every letter from our workers in Mexico refers to the obviously providential way in which opportunities for Gospel service are opening up before them. Villages and towns long closed against missionary efforts, either by unfavorable political conditions or by the prejudice and opposition of the inhabitants, are now open and eager for Christian teaching. Much as we wish that workers both foreign and native were more numerous, we are profoundly thankful that the work is in such good shape and that we have as many laborers in the Mexico field as we have; for opportunities for proclaiming the Gospel to eager listeners have not, within the recollection of the present generation, been so attractive in Mexico as they are today.

Each station and outstation where Friends are at work in Mexico seems to offer one or more features of particular interest and encouragement. The work at Matuhual is especially noteworthy. With no resident missionary, all the departments of work have been carried on as at the other station. The splendid enthusiasm and courage of the Mexican workers is an inspiration to the native workers in other places. The neighboring village of Cedral is usually thought of as one of the poorer fields, but the church at that point has lately shown renewed activity, and the Cedral Monthly Meeting plans to extend its work to neighboring villages and ranches and to put another worker into the field. At Victoria the schools are filled to overflowing and our representatives there insist that more adequate quarters for the school work must very soon be provided. We are reminded at this point that it is nearly two years since the Mission purchased, at a very satisfactory figure, a splendidly located tract of ground as a site for new boarding school buildings. No move has yet been made toward providing the building on this new and better location. An evidence of healthy growth in the meetings in Mexico is to be found in the increase in giving toward the work of the church. Both by their gifts and by their personal service, members of the meetings in Mexico are helping to carry the Christian message into the country districts and neighboring villages and towns.

Palestine

The Boy's and the Girls' Boarding Schools at Ram Allah, have this year enjoyed what may be called their first year's work under normal conditions since the close of the war. Thousands of dollars had to be spent in repairs and refurnishing of Mission property and although much remains to be done, the Mission property is now in fairly satisfactory condition. The Boys' School this year cared for forty-eight boarders, and these lads have come from almost every section of the country, three or four even entering the school from beyond the Jordan. In the student body are Moslems and Christians—the latter mainly Greek Orthodox who are in the majority. These are, as a rule, Christian only in name. In the Girls' School, thirty-seven boarders have been enrolled this year. The religious training and the Christian home life which the boys and the girls receive in their respective schools are having their effect. Most of these students come to the school Christian by race, but not by conviction. During the past year several have been converted, as clearly shown by their lives as well as by their profession, and others evidently are near a definite decision for Christ.

The village work begun a year ago by Rosa Lee has continued with the emphasis upon relief work and upon education. Soap, milk, clothing and food have been distributed to those in need. Medical aid for the sick and friendly advice for those in trouble have been freely given. It has been remarked lately that fewer babies die in the villages since the American lady came to Bier Zeit. During the past year schools have been conducted in eight villages. The enrollment at the close of the year was 250 in these village schools. In each instance the school has occupied the best quarters in the village. Four of the seven school houses, the report states, have glass windows, a blessing seldom enjoyed in those parts. Religious teaching in the village work is given at every opportunity, personal work with individual claimings much of the time of the workers. In the Ram Allah meeting house, services for worship are regularly maintained with satisfactory attendance during the summer vacation. During the school year the meeting house is practically full every Sunday.

West China

Robert L. Simkin and his wife, Margaret L. Simkin, have continued this past year at Chengtu in the Province of Szechwan, working in the West China Union University of which institution Robert Simkin is the treasurer. He is also in charge of classes in religious education and Biblical subjects, besides being superintendent of the Friends' dormitory adjoining the University grounds. Looking only at chaotic political conditions or at other unfavorable facts, it would be very easy to conclude that little or no progress is being made. China's great need, as Robert Simkin so forcibly points out, is for well-trained men and women who are able to put into practice, the high ideals so loudly proclaimed during the early years of the revolution. Christian missions are developing and training these men and women.

For many months civil war has been raging in Szechwan and there is no particular object at stake, each party being intent merely upon gaining the ascendancy over its opponents. Mails have been held up, commerce and travel have been seriously interrupted. At the end of the year 1920, conditions were reported to be a little better than previously.

The opium evil has increased greatly during the year. County magistrates have been guaranteed immunity from punishment if they would permit the planting of the poppy and have collected taxes upon the plant at so much per hill, and shared the money with government officials.

In the face of these unfavorable conditions it is encouraging to note the real depth of the change which is taking place in the lives of the students, especially in the Friends' dormitories at the West China Union University. In the dormitory there is a small group of dependable leaders who are taking a very large part of the burden of church and school. The Chinese members of the central executive of the Society of Friends in West China show splendid courage and ability in dealing with problems which formerly seriously baffled the missionary when he had to shoulder the responsibility alone.

Must the Present Advantage be Lost?

In the face of the facts set forth above, the Board has been forced to retrench. It is evident that God's blessing in rich measure has rested upon this work. The openness of multitudes at this time to receive the Gospel shows that the doors of opportunity have been providentially opened. Notwithstanding all this, we have had to direct that expenses be cut down, making it necessary for our missionaries to draw back from openings which both they and the Board firmly believe it was the Lord's will for them to enter.

Why has this been necessary? Because the home church has not provided money enough to go forward. Eighty missionaries—counting those ready to go out this summer—look now to this Board for support. To keep their work going requires the expenditure of over $16,000 a month. We had to start this year with a deficit of $15,000 and the question now is, where is the money coming from to pay off this debt and to provide the heavy monthly charge required for the operation of our mission churches, schools, orphanages, industrial plants, hospital, printing press, and for the support of the men and women who work in them. It must come through the liberal offerings of men and women in all our Yearly Meetings whom the Lord has blessed with a measure of this world's goods and who are concerned for the spread of His truth.

Until additional funds are in sight, the Board has directed that expenses be reduced one-fourth and further reduction must shortly be made unless missionary offerings within the next few weeks are far more ample than heretofore.

If the successful continuance of the work on our six mission fields rests heavily upon the heart and the conscience of this Yearly Meeting, we beg you to say so in terms unmistakable. Emphatic advice to your constituent meetings would doubtless help to arouse them to the urgency of this crisis.

As we urge an immediate increase in missionary offerings, we would plead also the cause of the other Boards of the church and would encourage all Friends to contribute promptly and generously toward the United Budget of the Five Years Meeting.

About 55 per cent of all money contributed toward the United Budget comes to the treasury of the American Friends Board of Foreign Missions and is used in the support of the work described in this report.

Realizing that the work and the welfare of eighty American Friends laboring in foreign lands is at stake, the church will not fail to see the necessity of devoting her money to the cause in which the missionaries are investing their lives, nor will Friends fail to provide that moral and spiritual backing which they can alone furnish as they pray for the work and workers on these distant fields.

A summary of our treasurer's statement for the year ending March 31, 1921, is attached.

This report is submitted according to the direction of the Discipline, on behalf of the ROSS A. HADLEY, General Secretary.

FIFTY-SECOND ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PEACE ASSOCIATION OF FRIENDS IN AMERICA FOR THE YEAR 1920-21

TO OREGON YEARLY MEETING OF FRIENDS,

DEAR FRIENDS:

In submitting this our fifty-second annual report, summarizing our activities for the past year, we note with thankfulness a marked change in the trend of public opinion, a change which indicates clearly an increasing reliance upon the effectiveness of peaceful methods in dealing with international difficulties.

Growth of Sentiment Favoring Peace

In general it can be said that throughout the year the change has been toward a continually greater emphasis upon the importance, even the necessity of creating and maintaining conditions favorable to the growth of international confidence, friendship, and good will. The fact that the pressure of economic and financial difficulty has been one of the chief causes operating to bring about this change of emphasis has served but to enforce anew the truth too easily forgotten, namely, that material prosperity depends absolutely for its maintenance as well as for its development, upon the continual presence and activity of those invisible, intangible but intensely real and positive factors in human life, faith, confidence, and assurance—qualities which in their fullness flow only from the practice of love toward God and love toward one's fellowman.

As an illustration of the change in attitude here referred to may be mentioned the gradual but marked growth of sentiment favoring a substantial reduction in armaments. The reduction in number of men authorized for the Army, together with reductions in appropriations for both the Army and Navy as compared with the estimates submitted by those departments of the government, must be regarded as definitely indicating the trend of opinion among the citizens of the United States generally. Likewise the strong demand for an international conference on the subject of limitation of armaments is further clear proof of a tendency to return to the view-point which was the prevailing one before the beginning of the World War.

Other striking indications of the reaction from the intensely militaristic attitude so generally present for the past few years are:

1. The temporary collapse of the campaign for universal compulsory military training, the details of which need not here be recounted, and—
2. The growth of sentiment opposed to all war under whatever pretext it may be waged. Evidence of the growth of this sentiment is to be found in various directions, but none is perhaps more striking than the adoption by the American Branch of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom of a pledge which each member is urged, though not required to sign, reading as follows:

"Believing that true peace can be secured only through reconciliation and good will and that no cause justifies the organized destruction of human life, I urge immediate and universal disarmament and promise never to aid in any way the prosecution of war."

Work the Past Year

The rapid change in sentiment just referred to has in part determined the scope of our activities, especially because of the demand thus created for literature setting forth definitely the grounds for carrying on active campaigns of education regarding universal, compulsory military training, and reduction of armaments. Leafletson both of these subjects have been circulated, the number used reaching 12,000 for one leaflet on the question of Compulsory Military Training. The subjects have also been kept prominently before the readers of the AMERICAN FRIEND and the MESSENGER OF PEACE.

In addition to work carried on by means of literature, Friends were present as delegates at the National Congress on Reduction of Armaments, held in Chicago in May, four being appointed by the Peace Association of Friends in America, and eleven by the Executive Committee of the Five Years Meeting. The President of the Association was present at four of the Yearly Meetings in 1920, viz.: North Carolina, Wilmington, Kansas and Indiana, speaking at each place on the subject of peace.

Work for the Next Year

While we are thankful for the definite trend of public sentiment toward peace, we see in it a call yet more imperative for persevering, patient work in the future. The one great continuing need is that there should be proclaimed in their fullness, the great truths upon which alone steady progress toward peace can be assured. When business conditions are so thoroughly unsettled, and nations are bankrupt, we are told that it is to be expected that from the very force of circumstances the ways of peace must be sought. But let it be remembered that unless the message of peace had been proclaimed again and again throughout all the years that have passed, unless there had been men and women who through all the years remained true to the vision of the better way which had been made clear to them, there would not have been sufficient knowledge of an avenue of escape into which economic difficulties could drive men in an hour of doubt, almost despair, such as the world is now facing. The seed that has been sown is even today bearing fruit. And so, the great need for the future is that while joining with the forces now actively seeking peaceful ways for the nations, we shall also continually speak of those other great truths which lie deeper than economic or political necessity—those truths which inevitably lead to an understanding of the priceless value of the individual human soul, and as inevitably quicken the conscience of each one who hears and heeds, until life among one's fellow men becomes more and more lifted in the conscious presence of the Father of us all.

Change in the Financial Year

While the close of the year covered by the annual report remain as in the past the middle of May, thus covering the period ending just before the time of holding the first of the Yearly Meetings for the year, the financial year has by vote of the Executive Committee of the Association been changed to agree with the calendar year and will therefore, hereafter be considered as closing on December 31. The attached report of the Treasurer is therefore, for the nine months from April 1, 1920 to December 31, 1920, inclusive.

Respectfully submitted,
ALLEN D. HOLE, President.

SUMMARY OF AMERICAN EPISTLES

Almost all the Epistles from the American Yearly Meetings speak of the deep spirit of devotion and earnestness which pervaded their sessions. Friends everywhere are feeling a deep sense of responsibility for the work committed to them and rejoice as they read the epistles from other groups of Friends to find the "splendid note of spirituality, of earnest purpose, of belief in the mission of the Friends Church to interpret the life of Christ to the world." All are convinced of the need of the world for the message which Friends are peculiarly fitted to give and rejoice that they have been privileged to render service to the world in helping to establish a true spirit of Christian love.

On the subject of the Forward Movement, California writes that "the results of our Forward Movement in the matter of the survey that has disclosed to us the great unevangelized fields that lie at our very doors, besides the regions beyond, has been a great blessing to us in leading us to a deeper sense of consecration to meet this tremendous responsibility."

Wilmington Yearly Meeting says: The Forward Movement has awakened many to a new responsibility of their duty to the church and has met with a liberal financial support.

Evangelistic and Church Extension Work:

North Carolina: "We were greatly rejoiced at the encouraging reports of the Evangelistic and Church Extension work. There have been during the past year over 800 professed conversions and over 250 additions to the Church as result of evangelistic meetings. The fact that there are now over 40 pastors in our Yearly Meeting goes to show that the work of shepherding is keeping pace with that of gathering."

California: "The Sabbath School is regarded as one of the best fields for evangelism."

Missions

Wilmington: The interest in missions has been quickened by a number of our young Friends going as missionaries to various points.

Western Yearly Meeting notes the fact that their missionary interest and contribution has been the greatest in their history.

Ohio reports "a growing interest in foreign missions, and while our financial obligations have increased, we have been able to more than meet them. We are sending new recruits to aid our overworked missionaries who are now on the field. Two are expecting to sail for India this fall."

Friends Service Work

Kansas Yearly Meeting writes that this work appeals to us as one of the greatest works undertaken by the Society of Friends. It feeds the hungry, clothes the naked, and ministers to those who are sick and in prison. It removes jealousy, breaks down hatred, and makes friends of enemies. "Blessed are the peace makers for they shall be called the children of God."

Indiana says: "The reaction following the world war is felt by us all, and in more or less the same way, but we are glad to know that we are persistently going forward, believing and trusting that the only way to solve all problems is the Christ-like way; remembering that He said, 'And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto myself.' Christianity has not failed,—but men have failed to live up to the light. The gospel of our Lord will make the social and industrial, as well as the religious unrest which we now see, impossible. This is no time for idle dreaming. Let us lose sight of all minor, petty things and 'press forward toward the mark' set by Jesus when He said, 'Come unto me * * * and I will give you the rest.'"

Education

Wilmington: Such times as these are demanding men and women trained for leadership in our Christian Colleges. To this end Wilmington College having just passed through the most successful and prosperous year in her history, is laboring earnestly and untiringly.

Indiana: "The fate of the future of our Church and our nation is in the lives of those whom we are educating. The work of the secondary schools holds a place in the educational program of the Church that is unprecedented."

The message from all the Yearly Meetings note with appreciation the gains made in temperance and urge Friends everywhere "to the immediate need of keeping 'dry' men in all our legislative bodies, so that the victory over the forces of evil may not be lessened by unfriendly legislation."

Iowa says: "We rejoice in the fact that the Equal Suffrage Amendment as written by Susan B. Anthony, a Quaker woman, has become a part of our National Constitution."

THE EPISTLE FROM LONDON YEARLY MEETING OF THE RELIGIOUS SOCIETY OF FRIENDS, HELD IN LONDON BY ADJOURNMENTS FROM THE 18TH OF FIFTH MONTH TO THE 25TH OF THE SAME, 1921

DEAR FRIENDS:

In view of the gathering together in London last Autumn of Friends from all over the World, London Yearly Meeting has decided this year to break through its usual custom of writing a separate letter to American Friends, but rather to address one Epistle to Friends everywhere.

In forwarding you a copy of this Epistle, I am desirous to thank you for your letter addressed to us and to assure you of the continued interest and warm fellowship felt by us for Friends on your Continent, which sentiments found expression during the opening session of our Yearly Meeting.

WILLIAM F. NICHOLSON, Recording Clerk.

TO FRIENDS EVERYWHERE.

DEAR FRIENDS:

We face to-day a world of men in great and dire need, a world in confusion, and one that has lost its faith and the bond of an active confidence. The bitter aftermath of the war is a peace that is not yet peace. Europe is still in the entanglement of fear. The partial disarmament which has taken place is upon no sure basis of goodwill. Economic and political conditions are full of unrest. At home the industrial situation is one of constant upheaval and menace, and the tragedy of Ireland weighs upon the heart of every thinking man and woman. In this confusion many ideals are at war, and many have been shattered. Everywhere, in Europe, in America, in the East, are men and women, sensible of an impotence before the wrong and strife around them, who look vainly for a way out. Men fear for the future of our civilization, and cry out for sane and strong leadership.

It is in this very chaos of conflicting and destructive elements that we would sound the great note of a hope which springs from the heart of life and out of our own deep experience. For there is a power and a life which comes from the Source of things: an energising and redeeming force which is the light and strength on man's spirit and the meaning of his personality. There is a dynamic and re-creative love in our midst, a love revealed to us in Jesus Christ, and stronger than all the forces of disintegration and destruction. As we realize this love, we know and share in the power of God, and reach out to find this living force in all our fellow-men. For the Spirit of Love, is the great and one restorer of confidence who can speak with healing to our condition.

The way of Christ is the answer to the way of chaos. The way of Christ is to see men as souls that must answer to the call of the Spirit. He speaks to the spirit of man, for He is the very light of that spirit. Jesus had a passion for souls. He saw in all men the Divine Light, and knew each struggling soul as a child of His Father.

And under differing names that way of Christ, that true method of appeal to the spirit of man, is the way that men of goodwill and earnest desire are searching for in all the world. To us there comes a vision of a new society, where men are linked together by the sense of the life of one loving spirit in all, where soul answers to soul in the healing experience of a practised brotherhood: love in action.

What is the ground of our faith in the practical reality of this vision? It lies in our Quaker experiment of practising the presence of God in our fellowmen; of trusting freely to "the tender principle of God in all," ⁽¹⁾ and of finding the experience born of such practice to give true and wonderful results.

All our testing of the spirit of man at home and abroad, in war-time and in peace, has confirmed our faith in the way of Christ, and deepened our experience of its vitalising reality. Our vision of a society of men following this way is thus no empty dream. In so far as we have been faithful we have proved it to be true in our relations with men. Day by day, in many countries, by plain and simple people, Christ's way is tested and proved.

One of the most striking things in the history of this present time, is the fact that out of the bitter suffering of Central Europe so many are turning with eagerness to the new way of the Spirit, and seeking to find a community life which will give expression to a spiritual religion. This has drawn many to what Friends are believed to stand for, and every where our message of love finds an open door. For love does not fail, but shows in all its effects its power to redeem and reconstruct, and to bind men in a citizenship which transcends race, nation and class: that of the Kingdom come on earth.

Dear Friends, if this stirring vision of the true way of life for men is ours, it demands from each of us, and from our whole Society, a deeper sincerity and wider consistency in act and relationship. We need a more real courage as individuals, as a Christian community, to live in the light and without fear. We need to show to men in the whole life the reality of our conviction and of our inward experience. For "it is a totality of effort which God asks of the human race." ⁽²⁾

The demand upon men and women for character, strong and living faith, is in these days, great indeed. We may well doubt our little strength to meet God's call to us. Yet He has shown us the working power of His Spirit of light and love, and of His way of life for men in and through the being and thought of Jesus Christ. And that Spirit is eternally revealed in every heart of goodwill. The indwelling Word is ever there, ready when men accept Him, to save and vitalise them by His realized presence.

We are very conscious that it is not only in what men say of truth and righteousness, but even more in what they do, that lies their true service to the world. We are also conscious that we all fail in thought and in life. But in a world of lost confidence there is a constraining call to those who have aught of insight, to use that insight for the service of mankind, and to go forward with a new resolution.

The future lies before us all unknown. We do not yet see what the new world will mean. Many changes are still before us. The wide social upheaval, new ideals of light, new thoughts, new ways, new conceptions of personality, must create a new society, and the making will be fraught with many and vast difficulties.

In the task before us, we need calmness and restraint and a reconciling spirit. We need also a readiness to venture; a willingness where truth and justice are concerned, to risk our comfortable lives. We need to be delivered from the fear of the unknown.

Dare we face it all with the sure courage of Browning's Paracelsus in the triumph of truth and God's good purpose?

"* * * my foot is on the threshold
Of boundless life—the doors unopened yet,
All preparations not complete within."—⁽³⁾

We can so dare as we come to know in our own spirit a unity with God's ways, and re-dedicate our wills to the service of God and His Christ. Then with great hearts to help our fellow-men, we can rise in strength to meet the new dawn.

"Thou, O Christ, convince us by Thy Spirit; thrill us with Thy Divine passion; drown our selfishness in Thy invading Love; lay on us the the burden of the world's suffering; drive us forth with the apostolic fervour of the early Church!" ⁽⁴⁾
