Members who refuse or fail to answer written and posted communications sent out by the authority of the Monthly Meeting may be dropped from the list of membership upon the vote of the Monthly Meeting at any of its stated meetings.

Taken from the Minutes of Salem Quarterly Meeting held May 20, 1922.

17. The report of the Superintendent of Christian Stewardship follows:

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF CHRISTIAN STEWARDSHIP

In presenting this report it is with thankfulness that during the past year some have seen "the way of God more perfectly" as to their means and are paying the tithe to Him. Christian Stewardship means much more than merely paying the tithe; it may or may not mean giving more than this amount, but it has much to do with what we do not give in the ordinary acceptance of the term. I am glad "God loves a cheerful giver."

There are reported 808 tithers which is an increase of 296 over last report. Three of the Quarterly Meetings report Store House Leagues with a membership of over 200. Literature has been distributed to the amount of several thousand pages. The pastors of the Yearly Meeting have given attention to this subject in 24 sermons and there have been several meetings or conferences devoted to this very important matter. It is a cause for thankfulness that so many of the young people are serving the Lord in this way.

I would like to urge faithful and conscientious effort on the part of many more to pay their debt to Him and receive the spiritual and also the temporal blessing that does come to those who "seek first the kingdom of God."

REBECCA W. H. SMITH, Superintendent.

18 Edna Hill Chilson gave the address on the subject and especially interesting to us was the description of the way in which the native African carries out this Biblical instruction.

We were pleased to have Esther and Rachel Chilson sing in the native African language.

19. The Statistical Secretary's report was read in part as follows, and the tables appear in the Appendix.

REPORT OF STATISTICAL SECRETARY

To Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends:

The Statistical report for the year ending 4th Month 1st, 1922, is herewith presented. The gain, except for the receipt of the two Monthly Meetings of Entiat and Tacoma, is far below that of last year.

The loss by death exceeds the gain by birth by three. Additions by letter exceed the letters issued to other denominations by fifty-five.

The gain by request is in excess of the loss by disownment, discontinuance of name, and resignation by only eighteen.

We have received by Certificate from other Yearly Meetings fifteen more than we issued Certificates for, to other Yearly Meetings. The letters issued to non-resident members seems to have performed no great mission this year. Sixty-nine letters are reported sent and but seven answers received.

Respectfully submitted,
S. LEWIS HANSON, Statistical Secretary

No report received from Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting.

The twenty dollars appropriated by the Yearly Meeting has been invested in books and tracts. About one hundred dollars worth of books has been handled by the committee the past year. It is the thought of this committee as soon as sufficient funds have accumulated to put a circulating library in the Yearly Meeting.

IDA J. LEE, Superintendent

21. Lisle Hubbard gave an interesting address, impressing the thought that the well-rounded mind is that for which we should strive, being careful that the reading placed before the young people be such that will make them strong mentally and spiritually. Some discussion followed.

29. The reports of the officers of the Foreign Mission Board were read and approved, and are printed below.

REPORT OF MISSIONARY COMMITTEE

If we judge the missionary interest of Oregon Yearly Meeting by the amount of money given for that purpose we might safely say that it is on the increase; for we gave nearly $200.00 more this year than last, or $8,810.00 for all missionary purposes. The increase was small to be sure, but better than if we had gone short $200.00. On the other hand, we gave about $400.00 less to the American Friends Board than last year. Friends, should we not care for our own first? If we give as much to missions this coming year as the past year, we could support two stations and their missionaries and the school for the missionaries' children and their missionary teacher, and have some $2,500.00 left. We would have our own Field and could spread and increase without limit.

We hope you will study carefully the statistical table giving reports from the different Monthly Meetings. First Church of Portland leads in the amount per resident member given for missions with $7.00 per member. Newberg comes next averaging $3.85 per resident member.

The Missionary Committee has sent out during the past year two Bulletins to each Pastor to be read to the congregations. All the meetings report some kind of work being done to arouse missionary interest.

The Yearly Meeting Superintendent of Missions has represented the missionary work wherever he has had opportunity.

Signed, O. J. SHERMAN, Chairman.

30 The reading of the report of the American Board of Foreign Missions was deferred to another session.

31. The following disciplinary change is recommended by the Foreign Mission Board:

We recommend that the Discipline be changed in paragraph 7, page 62, Disciplinary Regulations of Oregon Yearly Meeting, to read thus:

The Missionary Committee shall consist of three members from each Quarterly Meeting appointed by the Yearly Meeting, one-third to retire each year.

The matter is referred to the representatives for consideration.

SIXTH DAY—2:00 P.M.

34. The meeting met according to adjournment. After a period of silence D. D. Keeler and Matilda Haworth offered earnest prayers.

35. The minutes of the Fifth day afternoon and Sixth day morning sessions were read and approved.

36. The Superintendent of Literature, not being able to attend yesterday's session, was given the privilege of presenting a vital phase of this subject. She especially emphasized the harm that will surely come from the "Shorter Bible," and offered the following recommendation, action on which was deferred to a future session.

It is becoming a well known fact that much of the Literature of the present day, including Text Books, Magazines and general publications, is so permeated with rationalistic, evolutionary and destructive teachings as to be a menace to the faith of this and the coming generation.

We call especial attention to the "Shorter Bible," the principle involved in the making of which strikes heavily at the inspiration of the Holy Scriptures. The aim of the abbreviation as set forth by the author is to reduce the Bible to "Those parts which are of vital interest and practical value to the present age." Such a reduction of Scripture under an editor-in-chief who is a leader in the school of destructive criticism can only be disastrous in its results.

These matters are cause for grave concern. And realizing something of the responsibility resting upon us, we feel that a definite warning from the Friends of America should be given at this time. We, therefore, recommend for the safeguarding of the faith, especially of our Young People:

1. That Oregon Yearly Meeting strongly protest against the use of such publications in our own and public schools and libraries.

2. That an aggressive warfare be waged against this broad-casting of skepticism and infidelity.

3. We express our sympathy with and appreciation of the work of the Fundamentals Conferences in their effort to secure text-books free from evolutionary and rationalistic teaching and give our moral support thereto.

4. Furthermore, that Oregon Yearly Meeting send such a protest to the Five Years Meeting asking their co-operation in the above recommendation.

38. The Yearly Meeting Superintendent of Evangelistic, Pastoral, and Church Extension Work gave his report which was adopted by the meeting and was directed printed in the minutes.

REPORT OF EVANGELISTIC SUPERINTENDENT

Again we meet in Annual Session to review the results of our labors, to consider our present problems, and to plan for the year before us.

From the reports that I have received it appears that a total of 191 conversions, 354 renewals, 147 sanctified, and 256 added to our membership are the results, under these headings, of our work. The usual tabulated report will appear in the minutes.

It is quite impossible to present in written form the accomplishments of service for Him who hath said "My word shall not return unto me void." We accept with grateful hearts the many evidences of His blessing and faithfulness. We will not be discouraged because of the problems and difficulties that would impede our progress. But with abiding faith we would seek to know His will and trust His guiding grace.

Amid the surging tides of human thought, with a multiplicity of voices shouting their panacea for the world's disorders, we desire to remain unmoved within the ranks of the Prophets, Apostles, and their Spirit-filled successors crying aloud, "Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world." Progress may seem slow and disconsolate souls say "since the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were," yet we believe that the world's moral and spiritual needs can only be met through the Gospel of Christ.

Our church was born in the flames of a divine evangelism breaking the shackles of a cold, formal religion; redeeming souls from sin and bestowing the precious gift of the Holy Spirit. Only as we cherish and sustain the fires of such a Pentecost upon the altars of our hearts, our homes, and our churches, can we maintain a quickened, spiritual membership, out of which will develop a God-called and anointed leadership, adequate for our present momentous tasks.

Evangelistic

Meetings having had the services of evangelists from other denominations are: Tacoma, Fred Canaday; Rainier Heights, H. Elliott; Woodland Park Ave., H. Elliott; Piedmont, Joseph Smith and Fred Canaday; Sherwood, Rev. Brymer.

Meetings having had a Friend evangelist from outside the Yearly Meeting are: Greenleaf, Star, Boise and Melba, William Kirby.

The remaining meetings have used evangelists within the Yearly Meeting.

Four out-posts are reported where preaching services are held, and there is one other to my knowledge, not reported.

We are glad to report as additions to our evangelistic force the name of D. D. Randall, a missionary for the American Sunday School Union, located at LaGrand, Oregon, and now a minister of Boise Quarterly Meeting. Also Clayton Brown, a missionary for the Union, located at Blackfoot, Idaho, and a member of Boise Quarterly Meeting.

Pastoral Work

Some difficulty was experienced during the year in filling vacancies caused by pastors resigning to accept calls extended to them from other fields. The pastors at Rainier Heights, Woodland Park Ave., Quilcene, and Star, have placed their resignations to become effective at this time, or soon following the close of the Yearly Meeting. The Board is busy endeavoring to supply these vacancies. The meeting now has 21 pastoral charges.

Church Extension

Woodland Park, an out-post, about 12 miles from Rainier Heights and just outside the city limits in the center of a large district, has built a temporary church with living rooms for the pastor, in the rear.

Rainier Heights owns lots in a good central location, but has not commenced to build.

Two new buildings have been dedicated during the year. These are Tacoma, in Tacoma, Washington, and Highland, in Salem, Oregon. Each of these are well arranged modern structures, with seating capacity and rooms for the Bible School classes, sufficient to accommodate the needs of the splendid fields in which they are located. Improvements of this character, located in two such cities, and involving such evidences of growth and advancement, should appeal to the appreciation and just pride of the supporting constituency of any Yearly Meeting.

Extension work for a meeting no larger in numbers, in such an extensive and in some respects difficult field, so far removed from the great body of Friends, is no small task. The distance we are compelled to bring workers involves costs. Our own workers should be put to work, and we should seek to create an atmosphere and environment that will develop workers. Every department should make its contribution. With a stretch of about 1,400 miles to the nearest and about 2,000 miles to the second nearest Friends schools, we owe it to our young people, to the field we occupy, and to the church at large, to rally our forces and by helpful relationship and sacrificial service make Greenleaf Academy and Pacific College the greatest possible assets to our work. Adjusted, confidential relationship, and strong team work is needed if we would possess our promised land.

In my first report I emphasized the necessity for sufficient funds, that a small per cent, might be held in reserve for new work in towns and community centers. Since then at least five or six calls from railroad towns, asking for organized service, have come to us. But with a depleted treasury, we have seen them occupied by other denominations. Deep at the heart of our complications and needs, is the necessity for this Board to be firmly and securely related to the confidence and appreciation of the Yearly Meeting; adequately financed and jointly with the other Boards, developing a program of work that will rally our forces, and that will bind them to its task with cords woven in the looms of heaven.

Home Mission Department

For the last fifty years isolated members have been a great factor in our church extension work. Evangelistic forces have made them the nucleus of revival efforts and the basis for organization. The opening for settlement of the Indian Territory by the Government, of great areas in Kansas and Texas by railroad construction, and in Colorado and the great Northwest by railroad and irrigation enterprises, resulted in so many Friends selling their homes to enter these districts that Monthly Meetings and in some instances almost entire Quarterly Meetings were disorganized. This resulted in great opportunities for extension work. Also in such large numbers of isolated members that some Yearly Meetings enacted disciplinary measures enabling meetings to drop from their records such members as did not respond to correspondence. Within the last 25 or 30 years thousands of members have been "dropped" from our records.

Finding it easier to follow the way of least financial and organic resistance our extension forces have gone into these new territories and rural districts, much to the neglect of the large cities and great community centers, until we are frequently spoken of as a "Rural Church," and sometimes in such phrases as would suggest we are unfit for city functions. There continue to go annually from our Quaker homes hundreds of the world's choicest spirits to add dignity to the most lofty professional vocations, to contribute to the highest spiritual attainments and most effective church service the cities afford.

Back of this wholesale dropping of members and lack of a proportionate percent of churches in those great world centers, lies the tragedy of an undeveloped system, whereby a United Church could assume the burdens too great for the Yearly Meetings, after having cared for their more general needs.

This work of evangelization and organization in large cities and community centers, extending in its scope to the mountaineers of the South, is the great task of the Home Mission Department.

Historical Setting of Other Home Mission Tasks

In the seventeenth century many Friends owned slaves, but recognized that the Gospel should be preached to them as well as to others. About 100 years later, under the ministry of John Woolman, they were led to see that the system of slavery was wrong and freed their slaves many years before the Emancipation Proclamation.

Their testimony against slavery grew in intensity as their knowledge of its evils increased. However, Quakerism has never majored on defensive rebuttals of doctrinal negatives, cowardly stated, but in boldly proclaiming evangelical truths revealing God through Jesus Christ as the Saviour of men, supplemented by constructive sacrificial service. Therefore, following the Emancipation Proclamation, Ohio Yearly Meeting appointed an "Executive Committee on Freedmen" and recommended that the subordinate meetings raise $10,000.00 for the relief of Freedmen. Eleven years later that committee turned its work over to the Home and Foreign Missionary Board; its treasurer, John Butler, reporting that $27,557.60 had passed through his hands.

Oliver P. Morton, Governor of Indiana, who helped Friends secure exemption from military service during the Civil War, telegraphed certain Friends in Richmond to meet his train when he passed through their city, and left with them the following message for the Church: "There is now a service you can render the Government, one that you can do and should cheerfully do. Go South and take care of the refugee women and children coming within the Union lines for safety, in the neighborhood of Helena, Arkansas." Friends effected an organization called "the Executive Committee on Freedmen" and sought to give relief to the desolate and homeless.

In April of 1864, General Buford, Post Commander at Helena, succeeded in having Friends open an Orphan Asylum under the direction of Calvin and Alida Clark, which was housed in buildings in Helena. Later Colonel Charles Bentzona, and each man of his regiment, gave one day's pay; enough money to purchase 20 acres of ground ten miles north of Helena, and materials for the buildings. On a public occasion the Colonel read the deed to the property, which, on behalf of the regiment, he presented to Alida Clark, who received it on behalf of Indiana Yearly Meeting, pledging the Bible as the basis of all teaching in the Institute.

Today our only vital touch and official connection with the American Negro is that Orphan Asylum developed into Southland Institute. Something of the greatness of our opportunity for evangelization may be realized by remembering that one of every ten American citizens is a negro; that his combined landholdings in America is equal to an area of about 40,000 square miles, representing 500,000 homes, and including 64 banks and 398 newspapers.

President Grant in his first annual message, in speaking of the Indians said, "I have attempted a new policy toward these wards of the nation—which I hope will be attended ultimately with great success. The Society of Friends is well known as having succeeded in living in peace with the Indians in the early settlement of Pennsylvania. They are also well known for their opposition to all strife, violence and war. These considerations induce me to give the management of a few reservations of Indians to them, and to throw the burden of the selecting of agents upon the Society itself."

This action of the President brought together in Chicago, December 26th, 1868, a delegate body representing Ohio, Indiana, Western and Iowa Yearly Meetings, "To consider the present and prospective condition of the Indian tribes of our country." Soon after this all the other Yearly Meetings in the United States joined with them, unitedly accepting the opening made under Grant's Administration for the Christian Civilization of the Indian.

The organization was called "The Associated Executive Committee on Indian Affairs," and was assigned Kansas and the Indian Territory, which embraced 144,000 square miles, and contained about 20,000 Indians of 26 different tribes. Friends were responsible only in a more general way for other and more civilized tribes in the eastern part of the Indian Territory. The committee accepted this assignment in the light of God's leading. It met seven times the first nine months, then three times a year, later twice a year, after which it has met in annual session.

This organized effort of American Quakerism, though rested upon insufficient plans for financial support, has resulted in the church having at present a number of Mission Stations and Monthly Meetings with property rights and church buildings in what was then the Indian Territory but now one of the great states of the Union.

Organization of the Home Mission Department

By action of the Five Years Meeting in 1917, its Evangelistic and Church Extension Board, its Board on Welfare and Condition of the Negro, and its Social Service Board, were merged into a "Home Mission Board." This Board was incorporated in 1919, and accepted from Indiana Yearly Meeting the official transfer of the property and administration of Southland Institute. By special request of the Associated Committee on Indian Affairs, the Board accepted responsibility for co-operation in management and financial support of the Indian work.

Hence it will be seen that the Home Mission Board represents the Home Mission Department.

The Home Mission Department represents a concern for an intelligent and carefully developed system by which the Yearly Meetings may effectively concentrate upon the tasks heretofore stated.

Evangelization and organization in large cities, and in community centers; extending in its scope to the mountaineers of the South; evangelization and organization among the Negro and Indian Races.

Foreign Missionary Department

We are all sufficiently acquainted with the work of this department, the various fields it now occupies, and the stations and workers it seeks to maintain, that I need mention but a few phases of its work.

Contact with our missionary spirit and an examination of our records is good evidence of our interest in Foreign Missions. The following tabulation, taken from the official statement of the Central Office, based upon the number of Active and Associate members reported showing the amount per capita for the year 1921, and for the five year period closing with 1921, indicates our relative standing with the other Yearly Meetings:

NAME OF YEARLY MEETING	PER CAPITA 1921	PER CAPITA FIVE YEAR PERIOD
New England	$4.24	$2.70
Baltimore	3.85	3.60
Iowa	2.70	1.95 2-5
New York	1.41	.75 3-5
Indiana	1.36	1.37 3-5

Wilmington97	.85 4-5
Western76	1.10 1-5
Canada54	.37

North Carolina35	.58 3-5

California reported $37,795.01, or $6.72 per capita for her Foreign Mission work for 1921, and $94,915.03 for her home interests for the same year.

This record reveals no very grave reason for criticism of our meeting for not sharing these federated obligations.

According to the best available information we raised for the year 1921, $8,810.42. In the division of this sum the largest amount—$3,165.73 went to the A. F. B. F. M. The next largest sum to the program of California Yearly Meeting. The remainder was divided among several other Missionary enterprises. This lack of unified, constructive effort, is featuring every department, and is weakening every interest and activity of our work.

North Carolina, Kansas, Nebraska, California, and Oregon Yearly Meetings represent the largest undeveloped Church Extension territory of American Quakerism. An examination of the above tabulation, together with other records easily available, will show that each of these Yearly Meetings, except Oregon, has a strong program based upon the development of its home field. Believing that this Yearly Meeting has just as good a right to such a course of action, and that it can never realize its best development and highest achievement, amid present disconnections and disintegrating influences, I appeal to every member for loyal support of a simple program of evangelism based on the Gospel of Christ and provided for by our Church Discipline.

The Divine Formula for World Evangelism and Our Uniform Discipline

Two years ago this Yearly Meeting wrote into its discipline a set of questions defining its standard of qualification for ministerial candidates and for those to be appointed to the station of elders. These questions emphasized the baptism with the Holy Spirit, as the essential qualification. All biblical teaching relative to the bestowal of the Spirit, centers in Christ's resurrection and pre-ascension declaration, recorded in Acts 1:8. The first half of this text contains the promise of power for the church, by the gift of the Holy Spirit; the second division contains the Divine formula for evangelism as the task to engage the church who has accepted Him.

The Uniform Discipline accepted this formula and related its program to it as follows:

First. "Ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem." Accepted by the discipline as the Yearly Meeting field, and provided for by the Church Extension Department.

Second. "And in all Judea and in Samaria." Treated by disciplinary measure as large cities and community centers, extending to the mountaineers of the South; and including the Negro and Indian Races. Provided for by the Home Mission Department.

Third. "And unto the uttermost part of the earth." Recognized as the Foreign field, and provided for by the Foreign Missionary Department.

Relating this Yearly Meeting to that program, upon the basis of last year, we have the following:

For the Church Extension Department, an appropriation of $4,000, with no building fund or any provision to assist in a program of church building. The Board, chosen proportionately from every Quarterly Meeting, seeking to overcome this handicap, unanimously adopted a system of Pledge Cards running for a series of five years, and calling for free will subscriptions for churches built with its approval. This plan was not acted upon favorably by several meetings, including three of the strongest ones, and $437.50 was the largest amount we were able to contribute to any one building.

For the Home Mission Department, no financial or organized contact.

For the Foreign Missionary Department, a contribution of $3,165.73, with $5,-644.69 given to various other missionary stations.

In view of the correlated divisions of such a program, as contained in Acts 1:8, we can only hope for best results in rallying our forces for harmonious, constructive, and continued efforts, by a recognition of the related position of each division; with financial support and appreciative emphasis placed accordingly. In both the scriptural and disciplinary order the Extension Department of the Yearly Meeting is the foundation and basis for such service, and therefore cannot be neglected without imperiling the others. Christ emphasized this by saying: "What king going to war with another king, doth not first examine his home base. What wise man buildeth his palace, without first providing a rock foundation upon which to rest it." Both the Home and Foreign Missionary Departments recognized this during the crisis year of 1921, by constantly appealing to the reserve strength of the Yearly Meetings. Indeed, the related interests of this program require such recognition on their part; and that the Yearly Meeting develop its field and build its structure to accept the responsibility of contributing to their fields, thereby continuing its evangelistic efforts upon the co-operative basis thus provided.

Such a united effort must depend upon the heart attitude and soul purpose of the Pastoral leadership, faithfully sustained by the wise counsel and prayerful support of the pastoral committee. Such a leadership will need to be supplemented by a good degree of grace to enable a Yearly Meeting of Quakers to hold unitedly and successfully to such a task. But who can read Acts 1:8 and doubt that just such a program is the objective of the gift of the Holy Spirit, and that one of His functions is to supply that grace and co-operative leadership? Can we offer a more convincing evidence that we have received Him than in the faithful development of the task He has assigned?

Therefore, I beg leave to ask the Yearly Meeting to pass upon the following recommendation:

First. That the Church Extension Department be given as liberal an appropriation as the related interests and financial conditions will permit.

That the system of Pledge Cards developed by the Board, to raise money to assist in building churches, be approved and that privilege be given the Board to keep it before the entire membership.

That this Board in the prosecution of its work shall exercise due care to secure such pastors, evangelists, and workers, who by their teaching and influence will contribute to the upbuilding of the organization and collective interests of the Yearly Meeting.

Second. That such steps be taken as may be deemed necessary to effect contact with the Home Mission Department.

Third. The American Friends Board of Foreign Missions, in session May 10, 1922, having approved of the following:

That we therefore accept the definite work in Africa as hereafter stated; retaining the privilege of asking the A. F. B. F. M. for other definite work as our offerings increase.

Support of Arthur B. Chilson and family	$1,780.00
Support of Lois Cope	860.00
Support of the Girl's Orphanage School.....	1,000.00
Total	$3,640.00

Fourth. That there be appointed a Yearly Meeting Treasurer.

That the subordinate meetings be directed to send all funds for any and every department of the Yearly Meeting and the Five Years Meeting, by whatever method or agency raised, through the Monthly and Quarterly Meeting Treasurer to the Yearly Meeting Treasurer, with definite instructions, including the name of the contributing meeting, organization, or individual, and the exact distribution to be made of the money sent.

That the Treasurer be directed to keep a correct accounting of all money received and released, according to the information received.

That the accounting for all money indicated for the Five Years Meeting shall include upon his books its division among the departments for which it was raised; and this information showing such division shall accompany each remittance made.

That all meetings contributing to missionary interests outside our Yearly Meeting work be cordially and earnestly invited to send their contributions to the Treasurer, with instructions as to its distribution and destination; that the Treasurer be instructed to keep an accounting and make remittance of all such contributions, in order that the meeting may know in its annual sessions its exact relation to all its varied interests, and its financial standing.

Explanatory

The Program of Evangelism embodied in this report is rested upon our three-fold statement of Faith as set forth in the Uniform Discipline, and involves the restatement of its message in harmony with the inspired dictum that God "hath made of one blood all nations of men" and with the command of Christ, "That repentance and remission of sins should be preached in His name among all nations."

Relating this program to the Church Extension, the Home Mission, and the Foreign Missionary Departments as proposed, by no means involves an endorsement of the committees and officers representing them, within the Yearly Meeting, or the Five Years Meeting.

This proposed action would not interfere with any meeting or member of any meeting, from contributing to any other department; nor conflict with the Self-Appportionment principle of the United Budget.

Therefore, it retains for the Yearly Meeting and its subordinate meetings full constituted rights and privileges in the election and appointment of committees and officers who are in accord with our standards of Faith; and to protest within those rights and privileges, against the continuance in such positions of any who are at variance with the accepted doctrines of the church.

Upon this basis it is passed to the Clerk for action.

Respectfully submitted,

L. CLARKSON HINSHAW

The Committee appointed last year to consider the request of Rainier Heights and Quilcene Monthly Meetings for a Quarterly Meeting to be set up in Washington, met at Tacoma on January 27th, 1922; Members present: L. C. Hinshaw, F. M. George, B. S. Cook, Frankie L. Martin and I. G. Lee. L. C. Hinshaw was chosen for permanent chairman and I. G. Lee, secretary.

Pursuant to a request from Entiat and Tacoma Monthly Meetings to be included in the organization of the Quarterly Meeting, a conference was held with the delegates from these two monthly meetings, together with those of the two petitioning meetings.

It was the united judgment of the Committee that the time had come to grant the request of these meetings; accordingly on January 28th, 1922, we, your committee, did set up and establish a Quarterly Meeting to be known as Tacoma Quarterly Meeting of Friends, to be held at Rainier Heights (Seattle) on the 4th Seventh day in Second Month; at Tacoma on the 4th Seventh day in Fifth Month; at Quilcene on the 4th Seventh day in Eighth Month; and at Entiat on the 4th Seventh day in Eleventh Month.

57. Walter C. Woodward gave an interesting address embodying a report of the work of the American Friends' Service Committee.

58. The following resolution was presented by the presiding clerk and was made the action of the meeting; the clerk was directed to send same to the proper authorities:

Whereas, There are still in Federal prisons a considerable number whose offenses against the government were based on conscientious objections to what they were required to do or to refrain from doing; and

Whereas, There seems to us to be no possible advantage in and no adequate reason for further imprisonment of these political prisoners, either from the standpoint of public safety or national patriotism; and

Whereas, There is an earnest desire on the part of Friends that all other conscientious objectors may have the same consideration which has been accorded to Friends and for which we are extremely grateful; therefore be it:

Resolved: That we humbly and earnestly petition our government for the immediate pardon and release of all Federal political prisoners whose incarceration is due to conscientious objections to war.

59. The meeting was greatly interested in the orations given by two Pacific College students, Cecil F. Hinshaw and Cecil E. Pearson. These orations had been given at contests the past year.

67. Report of Greenleaf Seminary was read and is printed below:

REPORT OF GREENLEAF SEMINARY

The enrollment during the past year was forty-nine in the Academic Department, six in the Biblical Department and twenty-six took advantage of the eight weeks Bible short course. Six graduated from the Academy and none from the other departments.

The faculty has been congenial and competent. Miss Marjorie Brown has given as good a course in Science this year as the school has ever had. Mrs. Hilma Hawthorn's work has been thorough, and attractive to the students. Mrs. Deane's work has been up to her usual high standard of efficiency. Each student has come under the influence of her clear teaching and has learned to have a love and reverence for God's Word. The study has been a study of the Bible more than a study about the Bible. Students have been converted and sanctified at the close of these classes. A student Prayer-meeting has been held once each week throughout the year.

The school has had the usual activities, such as athletics, literary and various social functions. In addition to these we have had, for the first time in the history of the school, a triangular debate. Our team met Roswell and Parma high schools; the decision was a tie.

An effort was made to develop a closer co-operation between parents and teachers, with a view of reaching a better understanding of their mutual problems in dealing with the students, in guarding their social life as well as in aiding them to better utilize time for study, both at school and during study hours at home. Three meetings were held to discuss these problems, at one of which Dr. Springer, of College of Idaho, gave a very helpful talk on "The Value of the Denominational School."

Early in March the Board, realizing that there would be a deficit of about $2,000, largely because of unpaid interest and tuitions, decided after prayerful consideration, to launch a campaign for the raising of this amount. The campaign met with a very hearty response and many expressed a regret that they could not do more for the school. We are grateful to our Heavenly Father that the amount was oversubscribed and has been mostly paid in as per terms of payment.

The meetings that were held by William Kirby early in the winter were a great blessing to our students. The clear teaching of the deep spiritual truths as presented by him have left their mark. This work has been well followed up by our pastor, Lindley A. Wells, who has met the students at the chapel period once each week.

While we feel that we have come far short of accomplishing all that we would like to have accomplished during the year, some did not succeed as well with their work as we had wished, some whom we had hoped might be brought to Christ are yet out of the fold and out of touch with their God who would perhaps like to call them to some special work in His service, yet we do feel that our Lord has been with us and blessed us in our efforts.

Very respectfully submitted,

FRANK ROBERTS

68. The following report from Pacific College Corporation was read and adopted:

REPORT FROM PACIFIC COLLEGE CORPORATION

The annual Pacific College Corporation meeting was held the evening of June 16th, at Wood-Mar Hall. In the beginning, acknowledgement was made in thanking and praise that the hand of the Lord had been upon us in blessings in a marvelous way the past year.

For the first time in the history of the Corporation the President of the Board was absent, being detained on account of ill-health.

His report was embodied in the report of the President of the College, which with the report of the treasurer were directed to the Yearly Meeting.

The recommendation of J. H. Rees and A. R. Mills by the Pacific College Board, S. Lewis Hanson and Jesse Edwards by the Permanent Board of the Yearly Meeting and T. W. Hester by the Alumni Association to serve as members of the Pacific College Board for a term of three years was endorsed by the Corporation and directed to the Yearly Meeting.

Upon the recommendation of the Alumni association Gladys Hannon and Meade Elliott were made members of the Corporation.

The Vice President, J. H. Rees, and the Secretary are directed to express the appreciation of the Corporation for the long and faithful service of E. H. Woodward, President of the Board, and our sincere sympathy with him in his present illness.

Respectfully submitted.

J. H. REES, Vice-President
EVANGELINE MARTIN, Secretary

69. Report of Levi T. Pennington, President of Pacific College was read and is printed below:

ANNUAL REPORT OF PRESIDENT OF PACIFIC COLLEGE FOR THE YEAR 1921-1922

To the Board of Managers of Pacific College, the Pacific College Corporation and Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends:

The largest attendance in the history of Pacific College, the largest financial resources since its beginning, and the greatest advance toward the full recognition of the college by the educational authorities of the state are some of the things for which sincere gratitude is felt, and for these and other blessings from the hand of our Father we wish to express our gratitude, not forgetting those through whom these blessings have come to us in large part, because of God's moving upon their hearts, as we believe.

One year ago those upon whom rested the immediate responsibility at that time for the college management were engaged in a strenuous effort to complete the raising of another $150,000.00 fund for the paying of the college indebtedness, the securing of additional equipment as required, and the increase of the college endowment. By the first of August this seemingly impossible task had been accomplished, and the college authorities were in position to undertake those advances which were necessary that the college might have the recognition the lack of which has placed us under so serious a handicap for years.

Before these advances could be made, however, it was necessary to learn just what things it was necessary to do. The standards required had not been made sufficiently definite so that changes could be made with confidence until a visit of inspection was made by the representative of the United States Bureau of Education. Early in the college year the college authorities began their efforts to secure this inspection.

Not until March 16th did the inspector arrive, however. And then, though the report was promised within a few days, it was not actually received until May 23.

Immediately faculty and college board began the work of meeting the conditions for standardization, which were made far more clear than ever before, though somewhat changed from the requirements named by some of the previous inspectors for the United States Bureau of Education. Changes in the faculty, in the number of college departments, in the equipment of library and laboratories and the more complete separation of college and academy are among the things which are required. These additions to our teaching force, library and laboratory equipment, etc., are being made as rapidly as possible. While no definite prediction has ever been made or will now be made, it is the definite hope of the college management that the necessary changes may be made so that the college may be fully accredited within the next year. It should be borne in mind, however, that the necessary changes will require time and may require additional funds. All friends of the college should have patience, and should remember that Pacific College is steadily advancing, while some of the other colleges of the State, though backed by denominations far stronger numerically than our own, have not been able even to hold their own while we have been advancing, and one of them is threatened with the loss of standardization while another has lost that recognition. Pacific College is nearer to it than ever before, and it is hoped may have it before the end of another year, though it may require longer time to make all the changes and adjustments necessary.

Faculty Changes

Of the present faculty of twelve in addition to the teachers in the Music Department, all but two are to be on the force the coming year. Professor Willard R. Shattuck, head of the Department of Education, has resigned to take up work elsewhere; and Professor Floyd W. Perisho, head of the Department of Chemistry and Biology, has been granted a year's leave of absence for graduate work in the University of Iowa, where he hopes to win his Master's degree within the year.

These two places must be filled and another teacher added to the college staff, and one at least to the staff of the Academy in order to meet the requirements of the United States Bureau of Education.

Religious Activities

The regular Christian activities of the Student Body have been carried on this year as usual. Both the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. have done good work, with their regular meetings for prayer, testimony, teaching, etc., their mission and bible study classes, their gospel band, and all the Christian activities which are so regular a thing with the students that they go on without thought or comment for the most part. More than the usual amount of deputation work has been done this year, and meetings in various places have testified to the good that has been done by the visits of these young people who have conducted meetings at various points, some of them regularly and some as there was special call for help.

Intercollegiate Activities

On the athletic field, on the oratorical platform, on the debating floor, and in various other ways our students have met the students of other colleges during the past year. Not only have our contestants given a creditable account of themselves in the contests, but they have so represented the college in other ways as to do us good, and in some cases to show distinctly the difference between the standards of Pacific College and some of the other schools.

Both the regular State Oratorical contest and the State Peace Contest were held at Pacific College this year, the latter by special invitation, the contest being conducted by Pacific College. In both these contests Pacific was well represented, and in each case by a peace oration. Both contestants ranked well, Pacific's representative winning first place on thought in the Peace contest.

A gift of $125 for prizes by Mary and Helen Seabury of New Bedford, Massachusetts, made possible the giving of this peace contest. Cecil E. Pearson, our representative in this contest, was awarded a prize of $25.00 by the Peace Association of Friends in America for his victory in the local contest.

Other Facts of Interest

The college awarded the A. B. degree this year to Ellis H. Beals, Anna Hester Mills, Cecil E. Pearson and Ellis Locke Silva. Anna H. Mills was the winner of class honors.

A class of nine were graduated from the Academy, as follows; Adella Armstrong, Paul Brown, Herman Elliott, Dorothy Leffler, Gerald Pearson, Albert Reed, Ann Silver, Elizabeth Wheeler and Wendall Woodward. The Pacific College scholarship was divided between Ann Silver and Wendall Woodward.

The commercial diploma for shorthand and typing was awarded to the following: Beryl Deputy, Martha Ehret, Alfred Everest, Lena Fankhauser, Cecil Goodrich, Vietta King, Florence Nye and Frances Nye.

The Junior prize was divided between Pauline Terrell and Harriett Hodgkin, both of whom had done remarkable work during the year.

It is fitting that mention be made of the inestimable service done for the college during the closing weeks of the financial campaign by Stacy J. McCracken of Friends University, and of the courtesy shown by Friends University in giving him leave of absence from the work there to assist a sister institution in its time of need. Mention may well be made also of the work of Dr. William V. Coffin, whose faithful service continued until his severe illness compelled him to abandon the work just before its completion, though it was his faithful service which had much to do with making the final success possible.

As always for many years the Ladies' Auxiliary has been an invaluable aid to the work of the college. How the college could have got its work done thus far without this organization of faithful women it is difficult to see. They already have extensive plans on foot for work the coming year.

A series of meetings in the Newberg church, early in the year, in which Lindley A. Wells was the evangelist, was participated in by students and faculty, to the great help of many.

For years the college has had a faculty far superior to what might be expected from the size of the college and the salaries paid. With the still further advance made imperative by standardization requirements, the present college student body could be doubled and a considerable increase in the academy could occur with the new faculty amply able to care for them well. It is hoped that every meeting will push during the summer an active campaign for new students, especially in the college department.

The Future

Always an educational institution should have the forward look. It would be folly to suppose that the problems of the college are solved, or would be if the college had now full recognition as a standard institution. But through the sacrifice of friends of the college in the West, and through the generosity of Friends in the East who differ from us in many ways but who are one with us in the desire to advance the kingdom of God through the Society of Friends, we are far better fitted to do our work than ever before. With the blessing of God continuing upon us, it is hoped that with each passing year Pacific College may be of greater service to Oregon Yearly Meeting, to the Society of Friends and to the kingdom of God and the men for whom Christ died.

Respectfully submitted,

LEVI T. PENNINGTON, President Pacific College

84. The Auditing Committee reports "That the accounts, checks and vouchers of the treasurer of Evangelistic, Pastoral and Church Extension Board have been examined and compared with the report and found correct."

85. The report of the Superintendent of the Bible School Department was read, and with the exception of the amount of appropriation adopted and is printed below.

REPORT OF YEARLY MEETING BIBLE SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT

We feel that we can truly say that the Bible School has made some progress in the past year. Not all of our ideals have been attained by any means, but many of the staff's undertakings have been accomplished. The Yearly Meeting Bible School library has been in circulation the most of the year. Rallies have been held in Newberg, Salem, and Portland Quarterly Meetings. Each school within the Quarterly Meeting had a place on these programs. In two of the Rallies very strong outside Bible School workers were brought in to give the addresses.

As we look at the little which has been accomplished and see the many needs with their opportunities lying out before us, we are convinced that we are only in the infancy of Bible School work in Oregon Yearly Meeting. There is a great need for Teachers Training Courses throughout the field. There is no doubt but that a little along this line would greatly increase the efficiency of our Bible Schools. Whereas there are but very few teachers and workers meetings, every school should hold them regularly. There should be a higher standard of efficiency along the lines of organization, grading, Bible School, week-day activities, etc.

The administration believes that there should be some change in the relationship between the Bible School and the Monthly Meeting. We believe the old Monthly Meeting Bible School Committee for which there is no disciplinary requirement, should not exist. Some of the larger schools in Oregon Yearly Meeting have already discontinued this Committee. For the establishment of a closer union between the Monthly Meeting and the Bible School, the Superintendents of the school and each department should be officials of the Monthly meeting, elected by it. All other officers of the school should be elected by the school, the nominating committee being appointed by the Superintendent. Teachers should be chosen by the Superintendent and his cabinet (his assistant, the superintendents of the departments and the pastor of the church) except where organized and adult classes are granted the privilege of choosing their own teachers. Even here the ratification of said body should be required.

The Yearly Meeting Bible School Superintendent should come in personal contact, at least once each year, with every one interested in Bible School work in the entire Yearly Meeting. This could be done by the Superintendent's spending about two evenings with each Monthly meeting school; the first with the teachers and workers.

the second with the entire school. This would require the greater part of two weeks' time within each Quarterly Meeting and, if the Superintendent were a pastor, the supplying of his pulpit for two Sundays during the year while he was working in the farther removed Quarterly Meetings. It would also require a Yearly Meeting Appropriation of $75.00 instead of one of $35.00.

Each Quarterly Meeting should have once a year an all-day Bible School Rally, instead of an evening Rally. It should be a real event—a full day of instruction, recreation, worship and good-fellowship.

In the light of these suggestions which make up but a mere skeleton of the truth, the Bible School begins to look like a real tangible institution, something which cannot be confined to paper and ink. And if the written ideas are at all pleasing, surely the realization of the thing itself will be both pleasurable and profitable.

NATHAN SWABB, Bible School Superintendent.

86. The Statistical report of the Bible School Superintendent was read, but not being complete, it is referred back to be completed for recording. (Report was not completed so does not appear in Appendix.)

87. The organization of the Oregon Yearly Meeting Ministerial Association was reported as follows:

President	L. C. Hinshaw
Vice-President	Carl F. Miller
Secretary-Treasurer	Ida J. Lee

88. The Mission Board recommends that L. Clarkson Hinshaw be appointed Yearly Meeting Missionary Superintendent; this recommendation was approved by the meeting.

89. The Christian Endeavor Union recommends that the Quarterly Meeting Superintendents present the matter of supporting Rachel and Esther Chilson, to their various Quarterly Meetings and also that money for the work be raised by individual societies and be sent through the Monthly Meeting treasurer; the meeting unites with the recommendation.

90. The meeting was informed by a communication from Ezra H. Woodward that the subscriptions taken at last year's meeting to liquidate a subscription made by our delegates to the Five Years Meeting for the work of the Home Mission Board, have not all been paid. The meeting decided to take a subscription at this time to cover this amount and if after this obligation was met, there should be a surplus, that it go to the Evangelistic Board for its Home Mission work.

91. The Entertainment Committee asked that the meeting decide whether the Tacoma Quarterly Meeting representatives be accorded the same privilege in the matter of entertainment as has been accorded to Idaho Representatives.

The meeting granted this courtesy.

92. The resolution according to Minute 16 was discussed and became the action of this meeting.

93. J. Emel Swanson, Lindley A. Wells, William Sturgis, Eliza Hagey, at their request were excused from further attendance at this meeting.

94. The following communication from the Meeting on Ministry and Oversight was read and approved:

The following communication was presented by Lindley A. Wells to the Meeting on Ministry and Oversight. After consideration it was directed to be sent to the Yearly Meeting at large for its further action.

Newberg, Oregon, June 16, 1922.

Since the three-fold Declaration of Faith as expressed in: "Belief," as contained in the uniform discipline Part I, Chapter I, Section 3, reprint of discipline for Oregon Yearly Meeting, 1911; "The Declaration of Faith," issued by the Richmond Conference in 1887; and "George Fox's letter to the Governor of Barbadoes," was understood to be the doctrinal basis upon which the Yearly Meetings established the Five Years Meeting in 1902, and inasmuch as a record of that fact does not appear in the Minutes of the Five Years Meeting when the same was organized, and since the minute recording the Five Years Meeting's approval of these documents in 1912, is so worded as to be unsatisfactory to a large number of Friends in the Yearly Meetings composing the Five Years Meeting,

Therefore, we are united in the belief that Oregon Yearly Meeting at this time should request the Five Years Meeting to go on record as accepting these related documents as the officially authorized Declaration of Faith of the Five Years Meeting of Friends in America; and that Ministers, Teachers, Missionaries, and all persons holding official positions in the Five Years Meeting should hold views in accord with the teachings contained therein.

Clerks: CHESTER A. HADLEY
STELLA CROZER

95. Returning Minutes were read and approved for Arthur K. Hendrickson, Arthur B. and Edna Hill Chilson and two daughters, and for Evangeline Reams.

96. The meeting unites with the suggestion that a message of sympathy be sent to George H. Moore, President of the Five Years Missionary Board, who recently suffered the loss of his beloved wife, Jane D. H. Moore.

97. The Meeting adjourned to meet at 1:30 P. M.

SECOND DAY—1:30 P. M.

98. The meeting convened as adjourned. A short period of devotion followed in which Dorwin Gidley offered prayer.

99. Minutes of the morning meeting were read and approved.

100. The superintendents of departments are instructed to send to subordinate superintendents plans or outlines for the year's work, as early in the year as possible.

101. The Summary of the Spiritual Condition of Oregon Yearly Meeting was read and is printed below:

SUMMARY OF SPIRITUAL CONDITION OF OREGON YEARLY MEETING

The meetings are united in expressing thankfulness to our Heavenly Father for His blessings and leadings during the past year.

The messages of the various pastors have been helpful, spiritual and well adapted to the needs of the people.

Attendance upon Sabbath morning service is reported good, but a negligence in attendance at Sabbath evening and mid-week meetings is noted.

Daily family devotion with reading of the Scripture is maintained in the majority of families.

The conduct of members is reported as uniformly Christian and consistent, and there is an encouraging unity of purpose and harmony of action in advancing the Kingdom of Christ.

Outpost work is being carried on in most of our Quarterly Meetings.

Evangelistic services have been held in all the Quarterly Meetings.

The Spiritual condition of the church is increasingly good.

102. The summary of American Epistles was read and appears in the Appendix.

103. The Representatives made the following report which was adopted by the meeting.

REPORT OF REPRESENTATIVES

The Representatives recommend that the Yearly Meeting pay S. Lewis Hanson $25.00 as Statistical Secretary, a part of which will cover the actual expense of the past year.

That the Yearly Meeting appoint Dr. Byron Morris, W. E. Crozer and Hervey M. Hoskins to purchase a set of books for the Treasurer, to be used this year.

The Representatives were unanimous in the recommendation of the appointment of Oliver Weesner as Treasurer.

That eight months of the Yearly Meeting apportionments be paid by November 30th, the remaining becoming due March 31. If not paid when due that 8% interest be charged on all delinquent funds.

The Representatives recommend the adoption of the following report of the Finance Committee:

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF TEMPERANCE

We are thankful to our Heavenly Father for victories won, but we realize that much work is yet to be done if we are to cope with the many devices of the Tobacco Trust. As followers of Jesus Christ we must be on the alert if we would save our boys and girls, and throw around them wholesome Christian influences.

107. The following report of the Ministry and Oversight Body was adopted:

REPORT OF MEETING ON MINISTRY AND OVERSIGHT

Two meetings of this body have been held, in each of which God's presence was manifest, and our hearts were united and warmed in a sense of His love and blessing. Several very helpful messages were given; some in regard to our responsibility to our meetings.

The business was conducted in a spirit of love, charity and co-operation. A recommendation from Newberg Quarterly Meeting on Ministry and Oversight in regard to the reports sent to this body received our careful consideration and the following recommendation was directed sent to the Yearly Meeting:

We recommend that the directions for such reports made by Oregon Yearly Meeting in 1912, and reprinted in 1916 in leaflet form, include the matters referred to in Part 1, chapter 12, section 1, paragraph 2 of the Discipline relating to the character of the ministry and its adaptation to the needs of the meeting, and of special work entered upon.

And further that there be a reprint of same Directions with this matter included in the last paragraph.

Respectfully submitted,

CHESTER A. HADLEY
STELLA CROZER, Clerks.

108. The report of the Press Committee follows:

REPORT OF PRESS COMMITTEE

On behalf of the Committee,

A. R. MILLS.

By standing the Friends showed their appreciation for the hospitality of Newberg people.

111. The Permanent Board informs this meeting that Allen Smith was appointed Clerk for the year.

112. The following report of the Social Service Committee was read and approved:

REPORT OF SOCIAL SERVICE COMMITTEE

Reports of work done in this department have come in a rather wide variety again, and yet more nearly approaching uniformity perhaps, than in any previous year.

The following items have been used as a basis in trying to summarize the reports from the various meetings.

1. Attentions given new families.
2. Assistance given to families or persons.
3. Help given Children's Homes.
4. Religious services held at hospitals, public institutions, factories, etc.
5. Flowers and calls to sick and aged.

Five meetings report efforts having been made to get into helpful touch with new families moving into the church community, and inviting them to attend services.

The needy appear to have been cared for by nearly every meeting, though not itemized in every case.

There are definite reports of 16 comforters, 4 quilts, 4 sheets, 3 blankets, several hundred quarts canned fruit, dried fruit, vegetables and other supplies, Christmas boxes, etc., and $157.95 in cash. Our Dorcases have been faithful in every meeting, reporting a large number of garments having been made or mended and donated to needy ones, either at home or abroad.

Considerable quantities of fruit, vegetables, etc., have been given to Rescue and Children's Homes, besides money—the exact amount not known, one Quarterly Meeting reporting $255 expended. The Salem and Portland meetings report religious services having been held in jails, Rescue Homes and State Institutions.

Nearly all report kindly ministrations to the sick and aged in flowers, invalid dishes, Bible readings, etc., but few statistics given.

Total amount money reported spent in the above kinds of work, $1059.22. Boise Valley and Tacoma Quarterly Meetings made no report.

Respectfully submitted,

IDA C. BATES, Superintendent.

REPORT OF THE AMERICAN FRIENDS BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS FOR THE YEAR ENDING MARCH 31, 1922

TO THE FRIENDS OF OREGON YEARLY MEETING,

DEAR FRIENDS:

Achievement even in the face of unusual difficulties might well characterize the foreign missionary work of Friends during the year under review. A marked falling off in receipts made it necessary for the Board to reduce its office force far below the standard of efficiency, to keep no less than twenty missionaries and accepted candidates at home, and to severely reduce the appropriations for each field. As a result schools were greatly handicapped and in some instances closed, whole stations were left without a missionary in charge and excessively heavy burdens were placed on the shoulders of those who were on the field.

But good has come in spite of these handicaps. The weakening of the missionary forces necessitated the transfer of a larger measure of responsibility to the native church. As might be expected the transfer was made with a feeling of fear on the part of the mission body and hesitancy on the part of the indigenous church. But the way in which the responsibility has been borne gives cause for abounding thankfulness and optimism. In the matter of financial support, evangelism, and self-government, the church has evidenced a life and power which have surprised all who have watched the events of the past year. That Christianity has rooted deeply into the life of the people on Friends' mission fields may be seen from even a hasty review of the year's work.

Africa

Christianity is gradually winning over paganism among the Kavirondo tribes in East Africa.

Never before have so many people come to the hospital for medical aid. Dr. Bond reports 312 in-patients and 210 operations. The total treatments given at all the stations came to 23,569. Four boys and three girls serve as assistants in the hospital. It is the doctor's plan to find boys from the different districts who will spend a few months at the hospital in learning to dress ulcers and dispense simple remedies so that they can do this work in their own community under the supervision of the mission doctor or missionary in charge. Daily religious services for the patients are held at the hospital.

Since last year's report, a Boarding School for African girls has been opened at Lirhandu under the care of Roxie Stalker and Roxie Reeve. Reading, writing, Bible, gardening, mat and basket weaving, are among the courses offered. So popular has the school become that it will not be long until the mission will have to erect other buildings or refuse admittance to those who may come.

Most gratifying are the reports of the growth of the native church. Six Monthly Meetings are in successful operation. The Maragoli church has taken steps to set up a Quarterly Meeting. In the matter of tithing and free-will offerings, the church has been most exacting. All of the educational work among the Maragoli tribe has been paid for out of native contributions and the church has a bank account of 120 pounds sterling. Other tribes are rapidly advancing in the matter of self support. The matter of evangelism rests heavily upon the Christians with the result that many go forth each week to carry the message to those who have not yet identified themselves with the church.

Cuba

The "dance of the millions," a phrase used by the Cubans to designate their period of great prosperity, is a thing of yesterday, and the people have been attempting to recover from the financial crash which came to the whole Island.

With the sudden decline in the price of sugar, industry came to a standstill, huge mills employing thousands of men were closed, land formerly used for the production of cane was allowed to grow up to weeds, business houses went to the wall, and the banks declared a moratorium.

As might be expected such a condition has had its effect upon the work of Friends in Cuba. In some instances the attendance upon our schools has been cut down and the collection of tuition fees has been rendered difficult. "When so-and-so pays me, I'll pay you" is frequently in the ears of the missionaries.

The effect of the depression has not been wholly bad, however. Many have come to see that material possessions are often as sinking sand and that they must build on something more substantial. An unmistakable tide of new interest in things eternal is beginning to set in, and the National Church is in condition to take advantage of it. Marked growth in things spiritual is recorded by every missionary writing of the state of the church. The leadership is growing in experience and ability, the young people show a deepening interest in the whole work of the church, and many carry with them a real concern for the spread of Christianity among their fellowmen.

In Havana Province where Arthur and Ellen Pain are at work a revival of religion similar to that experienced by early Friends broke forth last summer. Many were brought to a clear sense of their need of Christ and openly confessed their faith in Him.

That the people are making progress in the matter of the support of their own work is indicated by the fact that last year $19,033.83 were contributed for educational, philanthropic and religious work. The future of the work appears to be most encouraging. With wise, patient and firm supervision the National Church will become an increasing factor in the Island.

West China

Turmoil and confusion are much in evidence among the Chinese. "The government, although Republican in name, is more corrupt than under the Manchu regime," writes Robert L. Simkin, "It is really a military despotism. Each 'General' enlists larger and larger numbers of coolies who, having experienced a comparatively easy life as soldiers, are seldom willing to return to their former hard labor. Rather than be disbanded, these soldiers turn bandits. 'The robbers are soldiers and the soldiers are robbers.'"

"In some countries the magistrate has definite understanding with the brigands and shares in the proceeds of their robberies; in others he is powerless to oppose them, as they are better armed than his own soldiers. Knowing that their tenure of office is precarious the officials have little incentive to undertake public improvements or to plan for the future. Too often their chief thought is to fill their own pockets and provide against the famine which they know will overtake them when they are turned away from the public crib."

Hatred for Japan and fear that the Allied powers might carve and divide China among themselves have contributed to the feeling of insecurity and unrest.

In spite of these internal troubles the work of the West China Union University at Chengtu has made steady advance. There are now eight substantial brick buildings and five groups of temporary buildings occupied by students. Thirty missionary families occupy twenty-five residences.

The enrollment has been as follows:

University (Junior and Senior Colleges)	136
Middle School (High School)	259
Bible School	51
Lower Normal School	21
Summer Normal School	80

Quiet and yet powerful Christian influences are at work in the University and the number who leave the school without a personal knowledge of Jesus Christ and his way of life is very small.

An interesting bit of work is developing in the Manchu section of Chengtu. A chapel and a lower primary school for boys and girls have been opened in rented quarters. Chengtu Monthly Meeting of Friends is responsible for this venture. There is preaching in the chapel two afternoons a week and a meeting for women once a week. The regular attenders seem particularly to enjoy Friends way of worship and enter heartily into the meeting.

In thinking over the situation in the Chinese Republic one cannot but be impressed by the tremendous opportunity and need for the Friendly Message of direct access to God without the aid of any external agency; a salvation through Jesus Christ that enters every avenue of ones life and affects every act, thought and deed; the sacredness of personality; peace, and love and good will as a way of life which will settle all difficulties be they social, economic or political, national or international.

Jamaica

The outstanding achievement of the year on the Jamaica field was the opening of Lyndale Home for East Indian Orphans. For a number of years past an orphanage was conducted at Seaside. The quarters were very much restricted and the mission came to feel that it was not adequately meeting the need in Friends' territory. Generous gifts from a few Iowa Friends and the Jamaica Church made it possible for the mission to purchase a large estate house and more than an acre of ground. The Lyndale Home is certified under the government as an Industrial school for East Indians and receives government aid sufficient to care for 18 of the thirty girls. In the coming years this school will undoubtedly contribute largely to the intellectual and spiritual advance of the people.

The work begun at Prospect, Port Antonio, by Mary White in 1917, has gone rapidly forward. A few years ago Prospect was one of the worst parts of Port Antonio. Drinking, gambling, immorality and killing were common. Today there is a chapel in the section, and forty-five staunch Christians are on the church record book. Law, order and decency prevail.

Recently Mary White employed a native woman to undertake social settlement work. Sewing and basket-making classes for the girls and women are proving very popular.

Marked improvement is shown in the matter of giving. Practically all church expenses, except ministers' salaries, are cared for by the native church. Seaside meeting recently replaced the windows which were blown out of the chapel by the 1917 hurricane. One hundred and forty dollars have been contributed by this meeting for Friends' work in Africa and other funds have been used to relieve the Board of some financial obligations.

Mexico

"Protestantism in Mexico has been more universally recognized this year than ever before. The national government has taken several opportunities publicly to recognize the work. It asked the Evangelicals to participate in the centennial celebration and furnished them with an auditorium for their ceremonies. President Obregon has contributed to the Young Men's Christian Association and the members of his Cabinet have recognized in various ways the importance of the work of Protestantism."

In 1919, Friends entered into a co-operative effort with six other denominations in Mexico for the purpose of establishing a union press and a Union Theological Seminary. Both lines of work have made distinct progress during the past twelve months. President Andres Osuna, former governor of the State of Tamaulipas, and one of the best known educators in Mexico, was appointed manager of the press last year. He has far reaching plans which will make the work more efficient and helpful.

The Seminary is coming to be a most important factor in the evangelical life of the Republic. Fortunato Castillo, a Friend from Matehuala, completed a three-year course there last year and is now in charge of the work in his home city. Don Ramon Martinez, former minister at Matamoros, is in the Seminary. Thus one of the most urgent needs, that of an adequately trained Christian leadership, is being gradually met.

Some very intensive evangelistic work has been done in various parts of the territory assigned to Friends with the result that four new monthly meetings have been established and other congregations will soon be ready for a monthly meeting. At its December meeting the Quarterly Meeting took action looking toward the division of the field into three Quarterly Meetings. When this step has been taken a Mexican Friends Yearly Meeting will be asked for. The native church has throughout the year given evidence of unsuspected power and ability. With proper guidance during the next few years it should rapidly attain into complete independence.

Because of a lack of funds the Board has been compelled to lease the farm at Victoria to Emmett Gulley for two years, thus freeing him from regular mission activities.

Since the close of the revolution a new eagerness for education has taken possession of the people and our mission schools have been crowded with boys and girls. Perhaps the greatest contribution that Friends can make to the Mexican church will be that of giving a thoroughly Christian education to those who must lead in the economic, educational and religious life of the Republic. Already many graduates of our schools are to be found in school and government positions. Their influence is telling for righteousness and peace.

The aggressiveness of Protestants in Mexico has stirred the Catholic Church to renewed activity and some of the Christians especially in Matehuala and Cedral have been subjected to severe persecution. We are glad to report, however, that such persecution has helped in setting forward the cause of Protestantism.

Palestine

The period under review has been a banner year for the Palestine work. Last July the Boys' School graduated the first class since the war. Two of the boys planned to enter the American University at Beyrout, another came to America and the fourth expected to teach in one of the government schools.

The boarding schools at Ram Allah opened in the fall with a record attendance. So eager were the boys to enroll that some came three or four days ahead of the date set for opening to make sure that their places were not taken by other boys who might attempt to enter later. They came from all parts of Palestine and from beyond the Jordan. There are now nine Moslems, two Catholics, ten Protestants and some fifty-five Greek Orthodox boys in attendance. Seventy-eight girls are now under the care of Alice W. Jones, the most efficient principal of the Girls' School. "The spirit of the school is the best that it has been since the war. The five girls who are to graduate in July are earnest and very helpful. A girls' branch of the Y. W. C. A. is proving an aid to the development of the Christian life of the older girls. The younger girls have a meeting of their own."

Rosa E. Lee has been most faithful and persistent in the village school work. Seven schools have been maintained throughout the year in Mohammedan villages. Some relief and medical work has been carried on. Between fifty and sixty more schools could be opened if funds were available.

The outstanding event of the year from a religious point of view was the Conference held at the Boys' School last September by the United Mission Conference of Syria and Palestine. The theme of Conference was "Witnessing for Christ." The best ways of presenting the Christian message to Mohammedans, Jews and the native Christian population were discussed. At the evening sessions the assembly hall was crowded full of Mohammedans, Protestants and Christian Jews. Reports indicate that the gathering has been productive of much lasting good.

Last July, John and Ruth Haramy sailed for Palestine to carry forward the splendid work which Moses and Mabel Bailey had been doing at the boys' school. Reports indicate that their work has been most successful. It is with deep regret that they find it necessary to resign from the school and return to America. Through the generosity of New England Friends, money was provided with which to send Mildred White to aid Alice Jones in the girls' school. Since her arrival she has endeared herself to all with whom she is associated. Edna Haviland who returned to America last August, has spent the time in rest, conference work and study.

At Home

Last year Friends contributed $104,524.65 for foreign missions. This sum was inadequate to meet the needs for the work as organized and although steps were taken to materially reduce the forces, a deficit of $47,093.91 was carried over into the present year. This burden of debt should be raised before the Five Years Meeting in September. After carefully surveying the needs and opportunities abroad the Board at its meeting in May, found it necessary to ask for $120,000 for the coming year's work. In order to cut the budget to this figure the Board was compelled to cut the salaries of married workers $200—the salaries of single workers, $100. Other very serious reductions in the home and field budgets were made. Whether this amount shall be raised, and whether the doors of service shall be entered rests squarely upon the shoulders of every Friend in the Five Years Meeting.

Generous weekly or monthly contributions will enable the Board to carry forward the work entrusted to it. Irregular and paltry giving will cripple the Board and prevent the carrying of the Gospel to thousands of men, women, boys and girls. Large sums from a few are not needed so much as regular sums from a multitude of Friends.

In the spirit of Him who was ever giving to all who were in need may we not face our common task confident that if we are faithful in prayer, giving and sacrificial living the Master will lead us into fields of rich and rewarding service.

A copy of the treasurer's statement is attached to this report.

ANNUAL MESSAGE FROM ASSOCIATED EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF FRIENDS ON INDIAN AFFAIRS

TO OREGON YEARLY MEETING OF FRIENDS

DEAR FRIENDS:

Our Committee is fifty-three years old this month, but during the past few years we have been renewing our youth. Fresh discoveries of actual pagan practices, gross immoralities, and dense spiritual darkness among Indians living today near our missions in Oklahoma, have roused us to greater effort. We have caught a fresh vision of what may be done and what we as Friends are expected to do for these remnants of tribes. A new group of missionaries, young, strong and deeply consecrated, has joined the few older workers left on the field. We are facing changed conditions and adjusting our methods of work to meet new needs. Opportunities for saving the Indians are opening before us in a remarkable way.

Close co-operation has continued throughout the year between the Associated Executive Committee on Indian Affairs and the Board of Home Missions, the latter contributing the services of its Executive Secretary and Home Mission Board Office, also bearing the expense of practically all publicity regarding our Indian missions.

The outstanding facts realized by our workers regarding the Indians of Oklahoma this year have been that they are being assimilated rapidly into modern American life, some tribes much more rapidly than others, and that the process is changing the Indian for better or worse, but more often for the worse. One whole tribe under our care, the Osage, is threatened with complete extinction. The estimate has been made by a trained nurse among them that within the next twenty-five years, nine-tenths of the tribe will be dead unless disease due to excesses and immoral living can be checked.

The greatest service which we as Friends can render them now appears to be to help them through this period of assimilation that they may keep as much as possible of the good which is native to their race, may escape the white man's vices, and as they lose faith in their old religion that they may find our God and eternal life. In some places, we are discovering that we can help them best by ministering to the religious needs of an entire community, both Indian and white, encouraging and helping the Indian to worship with the white man; in other places they are not yet able to do this and need separate opportunities for worship if they are to worship as all. All our workers are agreed that the spiritual needs of the Indians are desperate. Their souls are being steadily starved by a white population which either does not care or does not know how to feed them spiritually.

Our work passed through some dark valleys of discouragement this year, such as the day we had to give up plans for the primary day school for the Osages for lack of funds; the months when salaries were late because the treasury was empty; and the time we discovered that Friends had been grossly misrepresented among the Otoes and the tribe cruelly wronged by those we had trusted for years. It was exceedingly hard to plan the work of six missions with very little knowledge of what their support would be and sad to have to turn deaf ears to calls from Indian boarding schools to send our missionaries to visit and teach groups of Indian children in those schools who had registered as Friends.

But the year brought its bright spots also. At two of our Missions, Indians have begun to attend religious meetings with the white people, where they have not been doing so before. More Indian children are going to school regularly than ever before.

At every station, evidence is increasing of growing confidence in our workers on the part of the tribes. White communities surrounding three of our missions have responded to our requests for financial co-operation and have begun to contribute towards making those missions partly self-supporting. There have been also many letters, requests for information, greetings sent to our missionaries, and special gifts from Friends all over the country, indicating increasing desire and purpose in almost every Yearly Meeting to stand by the Indian work. When little Velma Arlene Batten, our youngest missionary, was born at the Big Jim Mission in January, Friends in New England, Baltimore, Wilmington and Iowa Yearly Meetings showered her with gifts of love, some of which have been shared with needy Indian babies. Other Friends have sent gifts to several of our Mission homes, have helped through times of illness, sent Easter greetings and otherwise encouraged our workers with assurance of their prayers and co-operation. Such assurances double our missionaries' strength.

At the Annual Meeting of our Committee, May 8-9, 1922, it was decided that our Shawnee Indian Mission must be closed, though Lawrence and Amelia Lindley will be retained as superintendents. The reasons for this, (largely lack of funds) are explained in The American Friend of May 25th. Partial self-support is to be developed as rapidly as possible in the Big Jim, Kickapoo, and Wyandotte Missions and special effort this year concentrated upon the Otoes and Osages whose needs are acute. This does not mean that Big Jim, Kickapoo, or Shawnee Indians no longer need us, but only that their need is less desperate than that of the Otoes and Osages. An appropriation of $10,000 for our Indian Mission work was proposed by the Board of Home Missions, to be paid out of its budget, but lack of assurance that the Home Mission budget will be raised threatens to reduce this appropriation to $8000, or less. Such reduction will make impossible much work we had hoped to do this year.

We feel this is a time for much earnest prayer, tactful and wise guidance and continued effort. We need your help and ask you to appoint one or more representatives on our Committee for the coming year, who will co-operate actively with us. Kindly inform us of the names and addresses of Friends appointed.

Sincerely your Friends,

ASSOCIATED EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE ON INDIAN AFFAIRS

RUTHANNA M. SIMMS, Executive Secretary

WALTER SMEDLEY, Chairman.

MESSAGE FROM BOARD OF HOME MISSIONS OF THE FIVE YEARS MEETING OF FRIENDS

TO OREGON YEARLY MEETING OF FRIENDS

DEAR FRIENDS:

The past year has been one of great encouragement and fresh vision to the Board of Home Missions of the Five Years Meeting. Repeatedly, letters and messages have come to us encouraging increased united effort towards evangelism in certain spiritually hungry sections of America where Friends seem more responsible than other denominations. The importance of a growing and deepening Christianity at home as necessary for maintenance of our foreign mission work is more and more clear, and a fresh realization has come of the nearness and blackness of spiritual darkness among groups of America Indians and Negroes whose salvation has been entrusted to the Society of Friends. There have been dark days when some plans had to be given up, and constant struggle to avoid the necessity of closing other parts of our work, because of shortage of funds, but progress has been clearly evident in many places.

In two large cities, Chicago and Detroit, there has been decided growth of membership, attendance, spiritual power and influence of Friends Meetings resulting from co-operation of other Friends through our Board. In the great section just East of the Rocky Mountains where thousands of American are without any opportunity for group worship, an experienced worker has been secured, Charles Replogle, who is entering upon a systematic program of Christian extension in joint co-operation with Nebraska Yearly Meeting and with our Board. In the Tennessee Mountains, J. Edward and Daisy Ransome are being used of God in the transformation of whole communities of mountaineers who have taken decided forward steps this year.

In Oklahoma, vacancies in all of our six active missions among the Indians have been filled and our present group of eleven missionaries, including five young Friends, have welded themselves into a splendid co-operating staff of workers who are making substantial progress with a definite constructive program of effort. They have faced facts, conquered difficulties, overcome prejudice, saved souls, and are winning some young people to the church. They are also starting three of our Missions on the road to self support. Our whole program of work among the Indians has been practically revolutionized during the past three years.

At Southland Institute, the boarding school for Negro boys and girls in Arkansas, a new barn has been built, a trained Director of Agriculture employed, the Domestic Science Department strengthened, and definite plans completed for advance in the academic department next year. Community farmers' meetings, conducted twice each month by the Director of Agriculture, and an evening "Opportunity School" for adult illiterate Negroes are both meeting with eager response and extending Southland's influence out into a very needy neighborhood.

During the past year also, H. Elmer Pemberton, of your own Yearly Meeting, has been engaged to give his entire time to evangelistic work, his salary and expenses being guaranteed by the Home Mission Board though borne usually by the Yearly Meetings which call him to service.

Most encouraging of all have been the evidences of a growing spirit of brotherhood and co-operation among Friends. Chicago Friends have written the Board offering, after careful figuring, to increase the amount to be raised by themselves towards their local budget this coming year, in order that $500 of the amount sent them last year may be released to give the same sort of aid to some other Meeting in a large city. With a similar spirit, Nebraska Friends are suggesting that they will be glad to have Charles Replogle co-operate with Kansas Yearly Meeting as well as Nebraska, in his work in Colorado, where both Yearly Meetings have members. Yearly Meeting Committees have offered also in at least four different instances to link their efforts with those of our Board to promote our united home mission work.

We hope you have read "Home Spun Tales of Home Land Trails" and that you will read our Annual Report published in Friends Missionary Advocate for June and also in separate pamphlet form. Orders will be filled at 10 cents per copy. Other literature regarding our work will be supplied on request.

Our expenditures and liabilities for last year totaled $45,361.39, towards which $42,075, was received from all sources, obliging us to carry over a deficit of $3286.39 into this year. For the coming year, we need $43,500 to carry on properly the work under our care. This estimate has been submitted to all Yearly Meetings but if pledges under the self-apportionment plan do not justify us in expecting it will be raised, reductions must be made on all fields. Such reductions are being figured at the present time.

In Oklahoma, the Otoe and Osage tribes of Indians are in extremely critical conditions. The coming year may determine whether these tribes will be lost or won for God. The Osages particularly are dying rapidly as a result of immoral and pagan lives. Upon Friends their hope depends almost entirely. They need two more missionaries. Both tribes need church buildings and we are trying to provide them.

Through Southland Institute, Friends have a wonderful opportunity to strike at the very roots of race prejudice in a very hot bed of troubles in the South, but to do the job well we ought to send at least two more teachers and an evangelist there next year.

These are only glimpses of the opportunities which are wide open before us as your Board of Home Missions. We hope there may come to you this year the joy of entering into them as never before.

Sincerely your friends,

BOARD OF HOME MISSIONS OF THE FIVE YEARS MEETING OF FRIENDS

RUTHANNA M. SIMMS, Executive Secretary
ELLISON R. PURDY, Chairman.

FIFTY-THIRD ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PEACE ASSOCIATION OF FRIENDS IN AMERICA FOR YEAR ENDING MARCH 31, 1922

TO OREGON YEARLY MEETING OF FRIENDS:

One year ago in introducing the fifty-second Annual report of the Association, attention was called to a marked change in public opinion, indicating a definite increase in readiness to rely upon the effectiveness of peaceful methods in dealing with international questions in which difficulty in reaching a satisfactory solution might be found. Today, as we review the events of another year, we find increased cause for thankfulness in the fact that the force of convinced public opinion reached the point which made decisive action in the reduction of expenditure for military preparation not only possible but imperative, and gave evidence of the strength of conviction concerning the efficacy of peaceful means as contrasted with appeals to force by the universal approval which greeted those memorable words of President Harding recording his own changed attitude toward the means to be employed in settling difficulties, when he spoke as follows:

"I once believed in armed preparedness, I advocated it. But I have come now to believe there is a better preparedness in a public mind and world opinion made ready to grant justice precisely as it exacts it. And justice is better served in conferences of peace than in conflicts at arms."

Work to Promote Reduction of Armaments

Because of the critical importance of the question of reduction of armaments and other related problems in the months preceding the Washington Conference, as well as during and since that time, these questions have received a large share of attention the past year. In our publication work these topics have received especial emphasis, and much has been done through correspondence, in addresses on these subjects, and in co-operation with other organizations interested in forming public sentiment, and in organizing the sentiment thus formed so that it might be effective in assisting in the work to which the Conference was, when it convened, committed by its leaders.

The most important of these co-operative efforts was the formation of the Friends' Disarmament Council, a temporary organization representing practically all Friends in America. The first step in this co-operative movement dates (so far as the Peace Association of Friends in America is concerned), from the Spring of 1921, when the Executive Committee of the Association appointed a sub-committee of three to take such steps as might seem wise in order to secure united action by all Friends whenever specific situations might arise, national or international in scope, making such co-operative action necessary.

The situation which was in part foreseen when this sub-committee was appointed became increasingly clear as the weeks passed, and the Friends' Disarmament Council became a working organization because—

(1) Definite efforts to secure an international agreement looking towards reduction of armaments seemed to be the next necessary step if the world were to make progress toward a condition of permanent peace.

(2) From many sources outside our denomination the appeal came for Friends to take the lead in organizing the growing sentiment looking toward a warless world. Again and again it was urged that Friends were in a better position to act as leaders than any other group of citizens.

(3) The work to be done was not only national but international in scope, and, therefore, it was clear that if Friends were to lead it must be a co-operative movement representing all Friends.

With these as some of the principal considerations in mind, the co-operative work referred to was undertaken, and the results are known to all, culminating after the Washington Conference in the permanent organization with headquarters at Washington City, known as the National Council for Reduction of Armaments. It is, of course, to be understood that in this National Council, Friends become merely one of the organizations co-operating as constituent bodies responsible for the continuance of its work. Yet Friends both in an organized and in an individual way will certainly feel that it is both a pleasure and a duty to support a work in the organization of which the denomination has had so responsible a part, especially since at the present time the active officers of the National Council are both Friends, one a member of the Philadelphia Yearly Meeting at Arch Street, the other a leading member of the Five Years Meeting.

Other Work

In addition to the work especially in support of the organized effort to promote disarmament, our activities the past year have been along much the same lines as in previous years. The volume of work has been, however, greater than in any previous year, the increase being evident in practically all phases of the work, viz.: Number of letters and personal interviews, including requests for co-operative effort from the peace committees of the several Yearly Meetings, publication work, especially in the number of copies of the Messenger of Peace regularly issued, and, in conjunction with other Boards of the Five Years' Meeting, co-operation in the united campaign approved by the Executive Committee.

Peace Oratorical Contests in Friends' Colleges

One other line of work deserving special mention is that of Peace Oratorical contests in Friends' Colleges. Beginning three years ago, the Peace Association of Friends in America made an appropriation for the purpose of assisting in this work by offering cash prizes to be available to winners in such contests. These contests have been successfully held each year, the winners in most cases presenting the same oration in later contests in which other colleges of the state or district were represented. Friends' Colleges holding primary Peace Oratorical Contests this year are: Friends' University, Earlham, Guilford, Nebraska Central and Pacific.

Financial Statement

The attached report of the Treasurer shows the total receipts and expenditures for the year ending December 31, 1921. It will be noted from that report that much of the work planned for at the beginning of the fiscal year was not undertaken, because of the reduction in receipts. It is only because of this curtailment of work which had been approved as necessary that the financial statement shows a balance on hand instead of a deficit.

Respectfully submitted,
ALLEN D. HOLE, President.

THE EPISTLE FROM LONDON YEARLY MEETING, OF THE RELIGIOUS SOCIETY OF FRIENDS, HELD IN LONDON BY ADJOURNMENTS FROM THE 24TH TO 31ST OF FIFTH MONTH, 1922.

TO FRIENDS EVERYWHERE

DEAR FRIENDS:

Man's boasted civilization will destroy him, unless he takes the way of life in time. If, while mastering the forces of Nature, he makes personal advantage the end, and his brother men the means to it, he oppresses them, frustrating God's will for peace. If, fearing to lose his goods, he turns his inventive skill to perfecting guns and poison gases, he will assuredly perish.

Two ways lie before us: that which looks first to self, and that which seeks to become one with all men. The selfish life may seem the way of development and safety, but its fruits are fear and war. It contains within itself the seed of its own destruction. The life that seeks the good of all often seems rash and unwise, but it is the one hope for the world.

This we see in the life and death of Jesus Christ. The carpenter of Nazareth so Acts iv. 10. threw himself into the life of his fellows, that what hurt them hurt him more, what raised them up rejoiced him beyond measure. The powers of bigotry and selfishness nailed him to the cross, but they could not destroy his love.

The life and death of Jesus Christ throb with the message that, as he felt and loved, 2 Cor. v. 19. so God feels and loves. He showed us a Father, who shares to the full the suffering of his children, so that with them he may achieve victory and joy. Each pang in the agony of the starving Russian child the Father feels as his own. Hebrews vi. 6. Christ our Lord is nailed to the cross afresh whenever a man or a woman is crushed or marred by war, by unemployment, by vice, by despair; he is pierced with grief as we hug our comforts, fearing to follow him in loving unto death.

Grievously as we have failed, we believe that God, as Christ reveals Him, enters Luke xvii. 21 so completely into the daily life of all of us, that all can become one family in Him. We find Him indeed in our own hearts, but we find Him there far more as we unite in quietness with one another, seeking to forget ourselves and to discover his will.

This realized oneness with God and man is the greatest of all forces: it is the Kingdom of God in germ, the beginning of a world of untold beauty and joy, where sin, oppression and squalor shall be no more.

God has no human body now upon the earth but ours, yet he calls the bodies of men His own.

*W. C. Braithwaite on John Woolman
in "Red Letter Days."*

"Christ's spirit taketh breath again
Within the lives of holy men.
Each changing age beholds afresh
Its word of God in human flesh."

Do we indeed come to His aid as we see Him starving or unemployed? Are we Matt. xxv. 34-45 not driven with shame to confess that again and again we pass him by? Should we not strive to find God as Jesus found Him in every man, whether we call him British, Russian, Chinese, German, Frenchman, Orangeman or Sinn Feiner Communist or Capitalist: above all to find God in those with whom we live and work, even if they annoy or slight us?

If men fail to do God's will, how can His will on earth be done? "I would fain," said one of old, "be to the Eternal Goodness what his own hand is to a man." Are we prepared to be the hands and feet of God? If so, we must hold nothing back, but, whether in our homes, in industry or in international relations, we must follow in whatever paths he may lead us. Are we willing, should need arise, for the sake of this great quest, to face suffering and even death; or, what may be still harder, to accept whatever new ideals God may show to us?

We dare set no limit to what God can do through us if we are faithful. Let us, however unworthy our past, go forth together to the work, joyfully believing that God can, in very deed, create through men the new world in which all are made one in Him.

There are two ways only before mankind—the way of death and the way of life. Are we to shirk the issue, to let fear rule and humanity perish, or dare we, individually and together, surrender ourselves utterly to the God who wills this supreme Glory for men?

Signed in and on behalf of London Yearly Meeting,

ROGER CLARK, Clerk.

SUMMARY OF THE EPISTLES

Pulsating through the epistles is felt a spirit of thankfulness for the blessings of the past, and especially for the progress of the year just gone. Work among the Young Friends and in the Bible School has been most gratifying. The Home and Foreign mission work has received a greater impetus from the visit of missionaries and from the greater vision that is coming to the various Yearly Meetings. The need of Christian education is being more keenly felt and gratitude is expressed for God's blessing on our Colleges this past year.

In all the epistles from our sister meetings there is an emphasis placed upon the position and responsibility of Friends to-day, especially in regard to the disarmament and the peace questions. On this subject Iowa says: "It lies with Friends especially to present the moral and religious arguments for disarmament * *. The eyes of the world have been turned to the Friends as the exponents of the Spirit of Christ, and we as individuals, as separate churches, and as Yearly Meetings, must not fail to live up to the standards that the Church as a whole has set up. It is only through the daily working out of the Christ spirit in the individual and national life, that all strife and bitterness will cease, 'Where love is, there peace is.'"

Indiana says: "The way of Christ must become the way of the Nations in their relationship to one another, and Friends everywhere are obligated by their higher conception of Christian duty to point the way to the ultimate peace of the world, as the only correct rule and practice of a genuine Christian civilization."

Baltimore admonishes us: "Now is the time for us faithfully to show the way to that peace which is more than an absence of strife, a positive attitude of love which can only come from union with Jesus Christ, the Son of God."

Closely associated in several epistles with the subject of peace is the service work which has been done in the war-stricken districts of Europe. Wilmington expresses a wish that "we may be very humble, open-minded and fervent in this opportunity to show our own and other nations our ideals of true service."

Indiana Yearly Meeting, as it met for its Centennial sessions, was deeply grateful for the blessings of the past one hundred years and is looking forward to the work of the future with confidence believing that the One who has helped in the past will also give power for the future.

"The proposition to celebrate the ter-centenary of the birth of George Fox in 1924 in a manner calculated to project into the present and future the spirit in which he lived and worked," came from New York.

In conclusion we might profitably think on this paragraph from California's epistle:

"The present hunger of the world physically is terribly typical of that famine for the word of God that prevails so largely yet and as pestilence follows famine in the physical world with its awful toll of human life, so this Spiritual famine has wrought tremendous havoc by way of hate, covetousness and most destructive war. This soul hunger can only be satisfied by feeding upon the Bread that came down from Heaven, and drinking at that fountain that can effectually quench thirst. To meet this deep need of humanity calls for the combined efforts of us all with all diligence and steadfastness"
