8. The following communication from Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting was read and referred to the Evangelistic Board:

To Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends:

On the 26th of May, last, Dorwin Gidley gave to Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting, held at Star, Idaho, a very interesting account of his work in Eastern Oregon. Based upon that report and upon information gained from visits of some of our Friends to that field, this Meeting is united in making the following recommendations:

1. That the Yearly Meeting take under consideration the advisability of erecting a chapel and a parsonage at Lime, Oregon, on ground that may be given for that purpose by a cement company operating there.
2. That the Yearly Meeting consider placing a man and his wife on that field to look after the spiritual needs of its people.

This Meeting is of the opinion that this is a needy and a hopeful field, and that it is open to Friends as a result of the work of Dorwin Gidley and D. D. Randall.

Taken from the minutes of Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting of Friends held at Star, Idaho, May 26th, 1923.

J. A. DUNBAR, Clerk.
LAURA L. ROBERTS, Recording Clerk.

9. The following communication endorsed by Tacoma Quarterly Meeting, was united with by this meeting, and the Clerk instructed to present it to the Executive Committee of The Five Years Meeting, with the request that action be taken as soon as possible.

Whereas, a tobacco company, namely "The General Cigar Company" is taking advantage of the distinguished character of the worthy leader and defender of our faith, William Penn; and

Whereas, there is being advertised throughout our nation a cigar named "William Penn"; and

Whereas, we believe that the eminent William Penn would object to having his name used in regard to the filthy tobacco weed; and

Whereas, we young Friends realizing something of the responsibility resting upon us for the safeguarding of our faith, especially of our young people, feel that a definite warning from the Friends of America should be given at this time,

Therefore, be it resolved that Rainier Heights Friends Monthly Meeting, through the Tacoma Quarterly Meeting, ask Oregon Yearly Meeting to protest against the use of the name of our Quaker forefather in regard to such advertising.

WENDELL VOTAW, President C. E.
ELMA BURGOR, Secretary.

appreciated; Mary Jane Newlin, Jesse Edwards, and F. Marion George were appointed to answer this letter.

18. The following communication from Springbrook Monthly Meeting, endorsed by Newberg Quarterly Meeting, was read and referred to the Evangelistic and Church Extension Board:

To Newberg Quarterly Meeting:

It has been brought to the attention of Springbrook Monthly Meeting that the pastoral year ends at different dates in the various Yearly Meetings. This causes more or less confusion when a pastor is called from one Yearly Meeting to another.

We find that in perhaps most of the Eastern Yearly Meetings the pastoral year ends Eighth month 31st.

We therefore suggest to the Quarterly Meeting that it take such action as may be necessary to secure a uniformity of dates in all the Yearly Meetings.

WILFRED W. WHITE, Clerk.

The above communication was read and considered at Newberg Quarterly Meeting held Fifth month 12th, 1923. The matter was approved and the clerks were asked to forward same to Yearly Meeting.

Other items of special interest—Almost all meetings report wall pockets kept supplied with good tracts and papers.

Boise reports visits made to State Capitol, Soldiers Home and several business places, where religious literature was distributed.

Marion sent four S. S. picture rolls and twelve picture scrap books to China.

One committee in Portland mails the Church bulletins once a month to absent members and shut-ins. Another observed Good Book Week when short talks were given at prayer meeting, S. S. and church services in the interest of good literature. Not having a library this committee secured a list of good books from church members that they were willing to loan; this list was posted, and the books loaned through the literature committee.

Newberg wishes attention called to the fact that a large number of books have been added to the Pacific College Library. These books should be of much benefit to christian workers and others.

The Committee had handled approximately $100 worth of books during the year, thus putting approximately 175 christian books and pamphlets into circulation.

$20.00 received from Yearly Meeting Treasurer.

$ 3.00 Paid for expenses for Yearly Meeting program.

The balance used in purchase of books.

Respectfully submitted,

IDA J. LEE, Superintendent.

An interesting and practical address on this subject was given by E. R. Martin, representative of the American Sunday School Union.

21. The report of the Superintendent of Christian Stewardship was read and appears below:

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF CHRISTIAN STEWARDSHIP OF OREGON YEARLY MEETING

I find on a hasty inquiry that there are five Storehouse Leagues.

Three hundred and seventy-four tithers are reported, but the above number is not all the tithers in the Yearly Meeting.

Sermons on Stewardship have been preached by all the pastors in each Quarterly Meeting. And the subject has been presented in the Christian Endeavors and Sunday Schools as way opened.

One program has been rendered.

The financial condition of the meetings where there are Storehouse Leagues is reported good.

We are thankful for the spirit of tithing there is in Oregon Yearly Meeting, but many more should prove the Scriptures.

The blessing of God is upon the man who gives one tenth to the Lord. He who is afraid to keep that for himself that belongs to our Saviour, but gives freely of his income, will be rich in spiritual things and no poorer in the temporal realm.

This subject is one of the most important of our church work and should be pushed in every way possible.

Our young people and children should be taught the value of tithing.

LUCINDA E. WELLS, Superintendent

These reports were satisfactory to the meeting.

22. The following communication from Salem Quarterly Meeting, was read and referred to the Evangelistic and Church Extension Board: Refer to Minute 85 of Minutes of 1922.

23. The following report of the Ministerial Association was read and the recommendation was referred to the Executive Committee to bring to this meeting a workable plan:

REPORT OF THE MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

The Ministerial Association of Oregon Yearly Meeting, met in annual conference at First Friends Church, Portland, Oregon, February 5-7, 1923.

A number of practical problems were helpfully discussed in the various sessions.

Owing to the absence, on account of sickness, of L. Clarkson Hinshaw, the Conference sermon was preached by Frederick J. Cope.

Two very strong addresses were given, one by Edward Mott, on "The Virgin Birth in its Relation to the Atonement;" the other by Walter B. Hinson, pastor of the East Side Baptist Church, on the subject, "The True Church."

The association passed the following resolution:

Resolved: That in view of the alarming prevalence of the divorce evil, we re-affirm the position of our church as set forth in the Uniform Discipline and protest against the prevailing laxity along moral and social lines.

The following minute was adopted and directed forwarded to Yearly Meeting, requesting that suitable action be taken:

"These Conferences have met a long felt need in the lives of the pastors as well as other ministers and christian workers. We feel, therefore, that there should be presented to the Monthly Meetings the benefits and blessings of such a gathering and that they be asked to agree to stand their share of a pooling plan to defray the traveling expenses of at least the pastors in charge of Monthly Meetings, or regularly recognized mission points maintained by the Yearly Meeting."

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President	Carey Jessup
Vice-President	William E. Allen
Secretary-Treasurer	Ida J. Lee
Program Committee	Charles I. Whitlock, Abram Astleford, Frederick J. Cope, Lindley A. Wells, Lisle Hubbard
Membership Committee	Chester A. Hadley, Myrtle Russell, Nathan Swabb, Carroll G. Tamplin, Ezra G. Pearson

IDA J. LEE, Secretary.

24. The Meeting adjourned to meet at 10:00 a. m.

SIXTHDAY—10:00 A. M.

25. The meeting met according to adjournment, and settled into a short season of devotion, and our thanksgiving to our Heavenly Father was voiced by L. Maria Deane.

26. Milo S. Hinckle gave a practical address on Christian Stewardship, presenting the subject in its broad sense, covering every part of our lives and impressing the thought that we are the Lord's and that we owe to him the acknowledgement of this ownership.

27. At this time the Foreign Mission Work received the consideration of the meeting.

We regret that on account of ill health, the President of the Mission Board was unable to be present.

The reports of the officers not being on the table, they will be read at a later session.

Extracts were read from the report of the American Friends Board of Foreign Missions; the full report appears in the appendix.

Charles C. Haworth brought greetings from Cuban Friends and the Sunday School Association of Cuba, and gave a short and interesting resume of the work there.

William Murphy brought the mission message in song.

Milo S. Hinckle gave the address on this subject, taking the following text as a basis: "But ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost has come upon you; and ye shall be witnesses unto me in Jerusalem and in Judea and in Samaria and unto the uttermost parts of the earth."

He stressed the need of intercessory prayer and gave an interesting review of the work under the supervision of the American Friends Board of Foreign Missions, and presented some of the problems that are facing that Board.

28. Meeting adjourned until 2:00 p. m.

SIXTHDAY—2:00 P. M.

29. The meeting met according to adjournment and paused for a few minutes of devotion at which time Everett E. Scotten lead us in prayer.

30. The Yearly Meeting Treasurer read his report, which having been properly audited, was approved by the meeting and appears on page 36.

31. The reports of the officers of the Evangelistic and Church Extension Board were read, approved, and appear below.

REPORT OF THE GENERAL SUPERINTENDENT

Recently American Quakerism in Delegated Assembly officially reaffirmed its faith in the Historic Doctrines of our Church, and ordered their publication as the authorized Declaration of Faith of the Five Years Meeting. At such a time of unsettled conviction, religious drifting, and frequent pulpit pronouncement of materialistic teachings, this action of the Five Years Meeting should be received by our membership with profound gratitude and thanksgiving, and should set at rest our fears as to the foundation upon which we are building.

However, our greatest unity of purpose and co-operation in service, will largely depend upon the degree to which our leaders embody the essence of those doctrines in their public ministry and in the teachings contained in our official periodicals. Old Testament prophecy and New Testament teachings, distinctly proclaim the great responsibility connected with the ministry of God's word. Perhaps the ministry of our Church has never been characterized so much by its scholastic attainment and oratorical art, as by its power to visualize Christ and the efficiency and unction by which it proclaimed Him. Throughout our history the abiding seal of God upon such a ministry, has been the type of Christian character it has produced under the Holy Spirit's operation.

No past generation ever imposed greater responsibility upon our ministry for declaring a positive gospel message, presenting Christ as an all-sufficient Saviour from sin. Neither have past generations offered a greater challenge to our membership, to leave the world's low standard of life with its foolish, vain, and worldly amusements, and to live within God's will, enriched by His grace and concerned with the interests of His kingdom.

Doctrinal teachings are usually effective in the salvation of the lost, about to the extent that their principles are embodied in the character of the church membership and are translated by them into acts of faithful living. The Apostle begins his history of the Apostolic Church with the significant statement: "Of all that Jesus began both to do and TEACH." It is only by a Divinely called and baptized ministry, supported by a membership separated from the world unto God for holy living, that we can hope for the co-operative presence of the Holy Spirit. Within the purpose of God the organic forces and activities of the Church stand for Evangelism. If we fail to function within the divine purpose, we can not hope to continue in the spirit and power of Christ.

Questions involving our doctrinal basis, arising out of our relation with the correlated interests of American Quakerism have been settled, giving each Yearly Meeting the privilege and placing upon them the responsibility of developing their work in harmony with our accepted tenets of faith. Oregon Yearly Meeting's acceptance of this privilege and responsibility should include the calling and employment of only such workers, whose ministry will accord with and emphasize those doctrines; and whose service will contribute to the effective development of the program of church extension for the home and foreign field as amended, approved and adopted by the Yearly Meeting in its sessions from year to year. It will be a great spiritual achievement for us, for our ministry to embody in its message the highest conception of Church doctrine, faithfully sustained by our membership living within the holy relations with God those doctrines provided for, and our combined influence and resources contributing to our entire program of church activity throughout its vast field of service. But is it not by such service that we can rise to the dignity of our calling, and occupy our Master's vineyard to His glory and to our eternal crowning?

Pastoral Work

He who is the prince of the power of the air; the enemy who sows tares among the wheat, still manifests his cunning to defeat a God-commissioned Church. We can not say to what extent he connives through heartless speculations and soulless corporations to manipulate markets, preventing profits, causing losses, and making it hard for Christians to finance the interests of the Kingdom of God. But this has been a very hard year for our work in those districts where they depended upon the apple and potato crops for an income. Our members are manifesting Christian fortitude and the spirit of sacrifice, that the interests of the Church and Kingdom may not fail. The pastors have served faithfully in both pastoral and pulpit ministrations.

It seems that an unusual number of pastoral changes will occur this year. Paul H. Lewis, Fred E. Carter, Carl F. Miller, Nathan D. Swabb, J. Finley Hunt, Calvin R. Choat, Carroll G. Tamplin, and Charles C. Haworth have, or soon will, close their services with their respective meetings. At the time of this writing not all these vacancies have been supplied. Charles I. Whitlock has accepted the work at Chehalem Center, Carl F. Miller, at South Salem; Earnest E. Taylor, at Tacoma, and Raymond S. Holding of Central City, Nebraska, at Newberg. The Board is doing all it can to assist the remaining meetings to secure pastors.

From year to year we are more and more impressed with the need for earnest, intensive, spiritual pastoral care. Social visiting, pleasant greetings, and sinless amusements may all add to the common happiness of the family circle. But the faithful, Godly shepherding of the flock will certainly lead the spiritually anointed pastor and his assistants beyond these surface family conditions, to where misunderstanding, trouble, sorrow, sin and death have left their gloom, there to minister in God's name until every member of the home shall be conscious of the fresh touches of infinite tenderness and grace, and be girded anew with hope, courage, and faith. It is only where such faithful service prepares the soil, and sows the good seed of the Kingdom, that we may expect the greatest ingathering from our evangelistic services.

Evangelistic and Church Extension Work

With but one or two exceptions the meetings have held special evangelistic services. Nearly all of these services have been conducted by our own workers. Several of the meetings have held week-end Bible Conferences, conducted by the faculty of the North Pacific Evangelistic Institute, and report occasions of profitable instruction and helpful inspiration.

Rainier Heights Meeting, in Seattle, has about completed a very good building on the rear end of their church lot. This building has a temporary shed extending the full length of one side, which, with the first floor space, is arranged to accommodate their Bible School and Church services. The second floor space is divided into living rooms for their pastor. This means a saving of $50.00 per month for the meeting in rent. When the growth of their work warrants the erection of a church building, and the temporary shed is removed from the present one, it will leave them a modern parsonage of splendid arrangement and commendable appearance. The increased attendance at all their services, and other evidences of growth, are very encouraging.

Tacoma meeting is conducting a Bible School in Northeast Tacoma, about ten miles from their meeting, and in a wholly unchurched community. They are occupying the school building, and are planning to hold revival services soon, when it is hoped the foundation may be laid for more permanent and aggressive work.

Mrs. Ward, of Piedmont, is holding services alternate Sabbaths, at Broad Mead, with increasing interest and splendid prospects for substantial developments.

Paul Lewis is preaching in the West Chehalem community.

The Superintendent of Salem Quarter arranged for a two weeks revival service at the country village of Beuna Vista, which was held with increasing interest. By request Friends are holding services there every two weeks, with prospects of another and more protracted revival effort.

Repeated appeals having been made to Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting for ministerial and pastoral services at Lime and other points in eastern Oregon, and Dorwin Gidley was sent into that district about eight months ago. Although rather aged for pioneer mission work amid such primitive conditions, he reports for the eight months, five hundred and seventy-five visits to homes, one hundred and eighty-nine sermons preached, three Bible Schools and four prayer meetings organized, and fourteen souls led to Christ. His ministry on more than one Sabbath has involved walking ten miles and preaching three sermons. About nine or ten points are now included in his itinerary.

Personal reports indicate that some other extension work is being done in Boise Valley Quarter.

We are glad to see a growing interest in our Church Extension work, and an increasing conviction that one of its primary needs is a fund to draw from that will enable us to enter new fields upon a basis that will assure proper care and maintenance until it is developed to a self-supporting basis. There are not many fields in this part of our territory where we have found Friends families' located in sufficient numbers to form a nucleus for organization, but there are a few towns where a few families have located and we are hoping for opportunity for definite work with them.

This year our work will include an effort to locate the isolated Friends within the three states our field embraces, and by correspondence and personal visitation, ascertain their needs and the opportunity for extension work in these communities.

During the past year I received from one man $100.00, with words of cheer and assurance of prayerful solicitation that others might follow with their offerings, closing with the statement, "This is for new work in needy fields, to be used as you think best." The Home Mission Board of the Five Years Meeting, during its recent sessions made a guaranteed pledge of $15.00 per month for the work in Eastern Oregon.

We are deeply grateful for these, and for all other indications of interest in the work. Certainly Church Extension work within our home field, is the great department around which the forces and resources of our Yearly Meeting should be gathered for constructive service in extending Christ's Kingdom.

Foreign Missions

The recent sessions of The American Friends Board of Foreign Missions were characterized by a sense of relief from the pressing financial embarrassment it had been facing, about one-half of its indebtedness having been paid, and assurance being given that the remaining deficit would soon be met. B. Willis Beede was chosen General Secretary. The Board adopted a program involving $93,324.71, while its entire askings remained at $109,000.00.

Dr. Turner, Secretary of The Foreign Missions Conference of North America, gave us an address on "Propagating the Missionary Message in the Home Church." He said, "All missionary programs should be of such a nature as to contribute to the spiritual life of the membership." That this would, "involve making Christ the center of every missionary entertainment or program." He related the incident of a young missionary to China, returning to awaken the home church to the great need for China's evangelization, when Hudson Taylor asked him, "And what shall you talk to them about to awaken their interests?" "I shall talk to them of China—China and her need first and last, should I not?" Mr. Taylor replied: "If you would succeed, talk to them of Jesus Christ and of Calvary until they have seen China through Him."

A. Edward Kelsey, of Ramallah, Palestine Mission, closed an inspirational address with a word picture of Gibraltar as he beheld it from the deck of his ship, under the glory of a midnight moon. There it stood, receiving upon its bosom the surging billows of the Atlantic Ocean and the Mediterranean Sea, the victor of centuries! With its heights now lit up with great electric lights, piloting the ships of two seas past the reefs, o'er looking Europe's tragedy. This rock he likened to Christ our rock, who surviving the centuries, remains the Light of the world, the Redeemer of men, the only healer of Europe's wounds and the world's disorders. He declared he no more feared the combined attacks of modern criticism upon the Christ of God, than he feared the lashing billows of the storm-tossed seas upon the foundations of Gibraltar.

Robert L. Simpkin gave a geographical view of the Chinese Province in which Friends Yearly Meeting is located, and the town, Chung Tu, where the Union University is located, in which he and his assistants are given creditable positions, for the instruction and training of young Chinese, whose life work will make the new Chinese Republic. Closing he said, "I shall soon return to my work; in doing so I shall have to take my life in my hands, not knowing that I shall ever see you again, for banditry exists in China, and will exist until Christianity comes and there is still 'no other name given under heaven among men whereby they must be saved.' But I do know my Master, my Christ, my God." With tender emotions and amid tears, he plead with us all to live in the same fullness of joy that had sustained and strengthened him while upon the foreign field.

Edgar T. Hole presented the following statistics, showing the financial contributions of the Native Christians of the Marigoli District, Africa:

1917.....	(Shillings)	35.62
1918.....		144.40
1919.....		536.24
1920.....		2282.78
1921.....		5351.88
1922.....		5617.87

In 1918, they began to contribute to the support of their native teachers. In December of 1920, they assumed entire support of those teachers, relieving the American Board entirely. They have built two permanent buildings and have over 4,000 shillings in the bank.

The Cuban churches have contributed $13,663.97, during the past year. Mr. Beede reported that a New Testament revival had swept over one Cuban field during the year. The natives crowded the houses and stood outside to hear the gospel message.

Emmet Gulley and Clyde Roberts reported that between two and three hundred persons had confessed Christ within the past two or three months in Mexico.

Thus closed the sessions of the A. F. B. F. M., during which Christ seemed to be exalted as the central character, around whose program of missionary conquest the Board appeared to earnestly endeavor to rally the forces of our Church.

One year ago we accepted the support of definite work in Africa, which had been submitted to us by extract from the minutes of the American Friends Board. A foot note on the minutes stated, "That for the present, Arthur Chilson's services would be needed in carrying out the plans for a special campaign for funds, and that his return to the field would probably be delayed for some time on this account." About this time we were advised by the Board, and this was confirmed by Mr. Chilson, that we would perhaps have to raise the money for Chilson's transportation, or see them detained on the home field and our program fail.

Upon Chilson's release by the Board, they accepted pastoral work at Friends University, there being no money available for their return to Africa. With the receipt of this information, our Missionary Board convened for counsel and direction. This resulted in the investigation of the cost of their transportation and Mr. Chilson wrote, saying, "I feel sure that $2000.00 will be sufficient, but my experience has been that it costs from $100.00 to $200.00 more than planned." We at once put on a campaign to raise this money, and our treasurer soon sent Chilson's the $200.00 allowed by the Board for out-fitting the missionaries, and later the $2,000.00. Upon landing in Africa, Mr. Chilson's expense bill was $197.68 in excess of the amount sent him. By order of our Board, our treasurer sent him this balance, making a total of $2,397.68.

Transportation for the Chilson was not mentioned in the program submitted to us by the American Friends Board, nor was it embodied in my recommendation to the Yearly Meeting, and therefore was no part of the program we adopted. Hence this action has been without the official knowledge, or direction of the Yearly Meeting. I have reported it in detail that the meeting may now intelligently sanction and approve, or condemn and disapprove of our course of action. However, the Chilson family landed safely in Africa, about the middle of February.

We desire to emphasize the necessity for promptness in the support of our accepted work in Africa. These missionaries and the needs of their work, are wholly dependent upon our promised support. We should sustain them promptly to the extent of our obligation. Nothing short of regular monthly remittances will meet their needs, and answer our obligations. It is hoped that each pastor will emphasize this, and see that the necessary organization for its accomplishment is effected by his congregation.

The Christian Endeavor Union

In keeping with the custom of a number of the Yearly Meetings, our Christian Endeavor Union meets in Annual Conference. These Conferences have been held each year for a period of five years. Class work, inspirational addresses, open forum, and evangelistic meetings constitute the major part of the program.

These meetings have been held at various points, the Union having no permanent place for meeting. Two years ago a plat of ground was secured at Twin Rocks, Oregon, on the Tillamook beach. This plat was bought by several members of the Christian Endeavor, and is to be given to the Union. Later a large tract of ground surrounding this was donated to the Union on the condition of improvement. Shares were sold to secure the necessary amount to erect buildings upon the ground, and at the present time nearly $4,000.00 has been raised.

At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the Christian Endeavor Union, the matter was carefully considered and it was decided to go ahead with the plans for building, feeling that the Conference was of sufficient value to the young people of the Yearly Meeting to warrant the undertaking.

This year the Conference will meet at Twin Rocks, near the ground donated for our permanent use. Dates and the program of the Conference will be announced at the proper time, and we hope for a profitable gathering.

Caring for Our Aged Ministers

During the year our attention was called to the condition which these times of financial stringency, infirmities of age, and continued sickness had brought upon one of our aged and honored ministers and his faithful wife. This information was definitely conveyed to the several meetings of the Yearly Meeting, whose financial response was sufficient for their present needs.

The matter was taken up with the chairman of the Board of the Five Years Meeting having the care of Aged Ministers and Missionaries, and our Friend is now receiving quarterly assistance from that Board. This Board of the Five Years Meeting is asking American Friends for the sum of $3,000.00 to be used this coming church year for the care of our aged Ministers and Missionaries, who are lingering with us, hopefully awaiting the moment of their passing to eternal blessedness. It would seem an unbounded duty, and a great privilege for Oregon Yearly Meeting to assume its per cent of a fund set a part for so noble and so worthy a cause.

The usual tabulated statistical report will appear in the printed minutes, and need not be reported here.

Respectfully submitted,

L. CLARKSON HINSHAW.

RECOMMENDATION OF EVANGELISTIC BOARD

We note with appreciation the development of our department this year. Under the direction of our Superintendent, L. Clarkson Hinshaw, we are developing a constructive and progressive program from year to year. As indicated by his report, we have been able in a small way to note aggressive development of new fields.

Other promising points are at present under the careful consideration of the Board. In view of these gratifying results, as well as a profound conviction that his services should be retained in the same capacity as formerly, we therefore recommend to the Yearly Meeting that L. Clarkson Hinshaw be again appointed General Superintendent of the Evangelistic and Church Extension Department, at the same financial support as last year.

By direction of the Evangelistic Board,

CHESTER A. HADLEY, President
MARIETTA LEWIS, Secretary.

The above recommendation met with the unanimous approval of the meeting.

32. The following report from the Evangelistic and Church Extension Board on the subject referred to it according to Minute 18, was united with by the meeting:

The communication from Newberg Quarterly Meeting, which was referred to us was fully discussed and the Board was unanimous in the support of the decision that there should be a more uniform date for the beginning of the pastoral year, in all the Yearly Meetings. We have received reports of the activities of three Quarterly Meetings. In these meetings lectures and addresses were given and bulletins distributed throughout the year. Thus the needs and opportunities for giving were kept before the meetings that they might realize their responsibility.

The total amount of money raised and forwarded to the Service Committee and various "Near East Relief" organizations was $965.00, the greater part of which came from Portland Quarterly Meeting. There were several packages of clothing collected and forwarded.

After careful consideration of the proposition referred to this Board from Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting, relative to definite improvement at Lime, Oregon, we unite in the feeling that the opportunity at this place is promising for Home Mission work, and that it should be promptly embraced.

We recommend that Lindley A. Wells and Professor Frank D. Roberts assist Dorwin Gidley in making a careful survey of the field as they return to Idaho, ascertaining from the Superintendent of the Company operating at that place, their attitude as to our opening work, secure such concessions as they may be willing to make, and report their findings to the Executive Committee of the Board for its action.

REPORT OF GREENLEAF SEMINARY

To the Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting of Friends:

We would indeed be ungrateful to our Heavenly Father if we should fail to give thanks for all that He has been to us during the year just closed.

The enrollment has shown a slight increase over that of a year ago, and the spirit of co-operation and loyalty among the students and teachers has been expressed in many ways.

*No Report has been received from Portland Quarterly Meeting.

A football team and a girl's basketball team were organized in the fall, and each team made a good showing.

The regular Literary Society was kept up during as much of the year as seemed practicable, considering the other duties of the students. A debating team was organized which debated with the Star High School. Even though they were defeated in the debate, they did work which was profitable to the students. The annual program given by the Junior Class was appreciated by a full house.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees a few weeks before the February Quarterly Meeting, when the subject of finances and the probable deficit of the year were being discussed, it was decided that the President, perhaps with some of the students, should visit each of the meetings and take the time of the regular Sunday morning service to tell the people of the work of the school. This effort seemed to meet with some favorable results as was manifested in the February Quarterly Meeting, when the Board proposed that the amount of the deficit be apportioned among the meetings, to be raised. The apportionment was willingly received and is being raised.

During the Evangelistic Services held early in the year by L. Clarkson Hinshaw, almost the entire student body acknowledged Christ as their Savior, and although some did not remain true, we feel that some others have been growing in grace and today are more firmly established than ever before. The school has been sending out workers to either help in, or take charge of, services in the surrounding communities, and in one place a Sunday School has been organized which seems to be prospering. We have had a student prayer meeting each week which has been well supported by the students. Aside from this the members of the faculty have taken time for special prayer. We have been asking the Lord to help us to build up a Christian standard among the students that will demand Christian living and Christian service as well as a profession, and we are seeing evidences that He is doing it. Whatever may have been our failures or successes this year, we feel that for the coming year we must raise the standards. We must not be satisfied with anything short of the highest standards of scholarship, of moral conduct, and of Christian living.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK D. ROBERTS.

REPORT FROM PACIFIC COLLEGE CORPORATION

The annual meeting of the Pacific College Corporation was held at the college on the evening of June 15, 1923.

The meeting was opened with prayer voiced by Lindley A. Wells, expressing gratitude for the manifest blessing of God upon the institution in the past and in the present, and claiming His promises for the future.

The passing on during the year of E. H. Woodward, President of the Corporation, was felt in a marked way.

The reports of the President of the college, the Treasurer, and the President of the Woman's Auxilliary were read and directed to the Yearly Meeting.

Evangeline Martin and Milo P. Elliott were recommended by the College Board, Anna B. Miles and O. J. Sherman, by the Permanent Board, and C. J. Edwards, by the Alumni Association, to serve as members of the Pacific College Board for a term of three years. This was endorsed by the Corporation and directed to the Yearly Meeting.

Upon the recommendation of the Alumni Association, Laura Hammer and J. Ray Pemberton were made members of the Corporation.

Respectfully submitted,

A. R. MILLS, Vice-President
EVANGELINE MARTIN, Secretary.

Immediately following the Corporation Meeting the Board organized as follows:

President Alpheus R. Mills
Vice-President Hervey M. Hoskins
Secretary Evangeline Martin
Treasurer W. E. Crozer.

REPORT OF THE WOMAN'S AUXILIARY TO PACIFIC COLLEGE

This has been a good year for the Auxiliary. The committees have worked hard and faithfully, and they, with some help from the Salem and Portland Auxiliaries and the Alumni, have succeeded in raising between five and six hundred dollars.

The largest item of expense is $400.00 for endowment pledges.

Before the opening of College in September, the dining room in Canyon Hall was painted, new curtains furnished, table linen, and new dishes of uniform design purchased, at an expense of about $150.00.

A carpet was purchased for the lower hall and other needs supplied.

Sick students have received the best of care from Miss Johnson, the Governess. Employment has been secured for worthy students.

In many other ways the Auxiliary has tried to minister to the comfort and help of the students.

We are truly grateful to the Portland and Salem friends for their contributions to our sales, and their money. Also to the Alumni and old students and friends who responded so gladly to our "Penny-a-Day" fund. All this help and interest has been greatly appreciated.

The needs will be just as great next year and your opportunity to help in this good work is ever before you. It gives me pleasure to announce at this time a gift of $50.00 from a friend who does not wish her name known. May her tribe increase!

On behalf of the Woman's Auxiliary to Pacific College.

REBECCA PENNINGTON, President.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT OF PACIFIC COLLEGE

Newberg, Oregon, June 15, 1923

To Pacific College Corporation:

In making this annual report, it is fitting that grateful acknowledgments be made, to the student body and faculty whose co-operation and faithfulness have made possible the good year's work which has just closed; to the woman's auxiliary, the college corporation and the college board for their faithful support of the school; to the patrons and friends whose continued loyalty is a continual inspiration; and most of all, to God, whose hand has been upon us for good during the past year.

The year just closed has been in many ways the best in the history of Pacific

College. The largest student body, the largest and best prepared faculty, and the best equipment in the way of buildings, library, laboratories, etc., have made this year one for which all friends of the college are grateful, and should inspire us to greater efforts still for a still greater and better future.

Progress Toward Standardization

The college has not yet been given full recognition as a standard institution, but all of the conditions for standardization have been met except one, and it is hoped that this one may very soon be satisfied. Many of the changes made during the past year have been with the direct aim to meet as fully as possible the advancing requirements for standardization.

As was announced a year ago, the report of Dr. George F. Zook, specialist in Higher Education for the United States Bureau of Education, was received only a short time before the annual meeting of the corporation last year. There had not been time before that meeting for definite action to meet the requirements named in this report.

Improvements Made

At a meeting of the college board shortly after last Yearly Meeting, action was taken providing for a number of improvements to meet the requirements of the Bureau of Education, and these have been carried out since that time in the following changes among others:

The number of regular departments has been decreased to eight, with a full-time professor at the head of each, every one of these professors having at least a Master's degree or its equivalent. The departments as at present organized are as follows:

Philosophy and Bible, including work in philosophy, ethics, biblical and church history, biblical interpretation, etc.

Psychology and Education, with studies on the working of the human mind and preparation for the teaching profession.

History and Political Science, including various courses in the history both of ancient and modern peoples, forms of government, etc.

Economics and Sociology, providing courses dealing with the social and economic life of man, both past and present.

English and Literature, embodying work both in the production and the appreciation of good English.

Modern Languages, including German, French and Spanish.

Mathematics and Physics, including new work in Electricity.

Chemistry and Biology, with considerable additions to the work offered, especially in the former.

In addition to these full departments, college work is also offered in Public Speaking, Home Economics, Greek, Latin, etc.

Another step toward meeting both present and future standardization requirements has been the complete separation of college and academy, in buildings, faculty and student body. To this end the south half of the old college building has been thoroughly remodeled, providing for the preparatory department a large study and assembly room, and four good class rooms, with cloak and toilet rooms in the basement. These rooms, with the three rooms of the commercial department, occupy the whole of the south half of the old college building, and are heated by an adequate furnace which was installed when the building was remodeled.

In connection with this change, the laboratories for Chemistry, Physics and Biology were removed from the old college building. The physical and biological laboratories were installed in much better quarters in the basement of the main college building, Wood-Mar Hall. For the chemistry laboratory a new building was erected, 24x36 feet, which has greatly increased the effectiveness of this department.

Not only have these laboratories been given better quarters, but over $2,000 worth of new equipment has been provided, and more is ordered and on the way.

The library has also been greatly enlarged. Over 2,000 new books are being added to the shelves, and in addition to these carefully selected volumes hundreds of books have been given to the college, many of them as valuable as the books purchased. The library is for its size exceptionally good and serviceable. Over 2,000 more books must be added in the next two years to provide for advancing standards.

Stacy J. McCracken Financial Secretary

The college has provided for meeting now all the requirements for standardization except the financial one. It was hoped that the completion of the last subscription campaign would secure this standardization, but after a long correspondence with Dr. Zook of the Bureau of Education, his decision was finally announced that in view of advancing educational standards recognition could not be given on the basis of pledges, but the college would be required to show $200,000 in cash and negotiable securities above all college indebtedness. To meet this situation and to put the college into financial condition which will assure standardization, the college board has secured Stacy J. McCracken an financial secretary. He closed his service for Friend's University this week, and within a few weeks will be actively at work on this great task for Pacific College. He will seek to make collections as rapidly as possible on the subscriptions already taken, and to raise additional sums to provide not only for present but for future standardization requirements.

Changes in Faculty

There are to be four changes in the faculty for the coming year. Perry D. Macy ends his three years service as head of the department of History and Political Science; Grace Michener Conover closes her work at the head of the department of Psychology and Education; Chester Jones has completed his year as acting professor of Chemistry and Biology; and Mary E. Pennington closes her service as head of the Academy English department.

The successor of Perry D. Macy will be Algie I. Newlin, a graduate of Guilford College with a Master's degree from Haverford. He has also had successful experience as a teacher. Chase L. Conover is transferred to the professorship of Psychology and Education, his place as head of the department of Economics and Sociology being taken by Dwight W. Michener, a graduate of Penn College, with a Master's degree this year from Haverford. Floyd W. Perisho returns to his position at the head of the department of Chemistry and Biology, after a year's leave of absence for graduate work for a Master's degree in the University of Iowa. Ardis Roberts, a graduate of Penn College in 1922, and a graduate student of Bryn Mawr the past year, will succeed Mary E. Pennington, in charge of the Academy English work.

Spiritual Activities

As always the spiritual interests of the college have been a primary concern of faculty and student leaders. The Christian Associations are quite the most important student organizations in the college, and they have carried on their usual work the past year, in addition to their regular weekly prayer meetings doing work along such lines as bible study, mission study, deputation work by which needy communities are given gospel service, etc. An enlarged program of Christian service is already planned for next year.

The college was greatly helped by the evangelistic meetings held in the Newberg Friends Meeting under the leadership of L. Clarkson Hinshaw, Yearly Meeting superintendent. So far as help to the students is concerned, it is possible that meetings in the college itself would be more advantageous; but the college has gladly co-operated in this and other evangelistic efforts for the help of the church and the community.

In addition to the usual spiritual messages from faculty and others in the college chapel services, a special series of vocational addresses was arranged to show the opportunities for Christian service in various occupations. The series was given, one address each week, as follows: "The Ministry," Dr. W. B. Hinson of Portland; "Business," U. S. G. Miller, of Newberg; "Christian Association Work," Meade G. Elliott of Salem; "Teaching," Amos C. Stanbrough of Newberg; "Foreign Missions," Carrie B. Wood of Nowgong, India; "Home Missions," E. R. Martin of Portland; "Medicine," Dr. William Rees of Portland.

Community and Other Service

During the year the college students and faculty have co-operated in many forms of community and humanitarian service. Young women of the Y. W. C. A. have conducted a Saturday Story Hour for children in one of the rooms of Wood-Mar Hall. The college made a canvass of the north half of the county outside of Newberg, in the special Smyrna Relief campaign, and also assisted in the regular Near East Relief work. Assistance was also given in the campaign for the Children's Home; a campaign was conducted in the college for the Students' Friendship Fund; and contributions were continued for the work of the American Friends Service Committee.

Enlarged Physical Education Work

The college has been able to give more than the usual attention to physical education this year. The usual athletic sports were carried on, and in addition football was taken up again after several years in which the game has not been played. But most important of all has been the introduction of systematic physical training for all students, both of the College and Academy. This work has been made possible, under the direction of Professor Jones, through the employment of Theodore Cramlett, a senior, who has had charge of the gymnasium work.

Not only has this work been conducted for the benefit of the college itself, but a class was also maintained for business men and others. This class met twice a week, and probably forty or more of the business and professional men of the city took advantage of it.

Near the close of the season the members of these gymnasium classes, both college and city, gave a very interesting gymnasium exhibit which brought much favorable publicity to the college and its work. This systematic physical training is to be continued the coming year, with Theodore Cramlett employed for full time service.

Intercollegiate Activities

The college has been creditably represented in many forms of intercollegiate activities. In addition to the athletic contest in which the students have participated, there has been participation in two intercollegiate oratorical contests, two intercollegiate debates, and various student conferences, especially of a Christian character. It is felt that Pacific makes a real contribution to the Christian life of the students of the state in these conferences.

Personal Work of President

It may be of interest to know something of the work of the president aside from class instruction, correspondence, college administration, etc. In addition to the hundreds of class recitations, private conferences with students and teachers, committee meetings, etc., the president has participated in over one hundred chapel services during the past year, has presided at thirty-five faculty meetings, has attended two hundred and ten religious meetings and fifty-five other meetings such as college board meetings, peace meetings, educational gatherings, etc., and has given over sixty special addresses in addition to ordinary chapel talks. Many calls for addresses have had to be declined because of lack of time. While every effort has been made to do these extra services in such a way as not to interfere with the regular work, it has been felt that it is to the advantage of the college that it should be represented frequently by its president and other members of its faculty in educational, humanitarian and religious gatherings, and it is hoped that these opportunities for service may be accepted in the future as in the past.

Graduates of 1923

Degrees were graded this year as follows:

Flora E. Campbell, A. B.	Richard A. Haworth, A. B.

A Forward Look

With the coming of Stacy J. McCracken, it is hoped that the financial affairs of the college may immediately begin to improve. As soon as we can make sufficient advance in the way of cash and negotiable securities, standardization will become possible. With standardization will come the opportunity for larger service to the church, the state, the world. With earnest determination to do our full duty in the cause of Christian Education and to advance our standards as rapidly as we may, and with the earnest prayer that God's guidance may be ours and that His blessing may be upon us as we follow His guidance, let us go forward.

Respectfully submitted,

LEVI T. PENNINGTON, President.

The report shows the following items of interest:

SUMMARY OF STATE OF SOCIETY

With some exceptions there is a growth in grace and spiritual attainment among our members.

With possibly one exception, the attendance on public worship has increased the past year.

The majority of resident families maintain family worship and are careful to strive to lead their children to a knowledge of Jesus Christ as their Savior.

A good degree of unity is noted.

The pastors without exception, have preached a full gospel.

Several meetings report special prayer meetings each week.

A goodly number of our members are engaged in spreading the Gospel in needy fields.

78. Memorials for Phebe Minthorn Hammer, Dr. H. J. Minthorn, Mary E. K. Edwards, and Ezra H. Woodward, were read and directed filed.

89. The report of the Bible School Superintendent in which he called our attention to recommendations made in last year's report and the following new recommendations, was read and appears below.

REPORT OF YEARLY MEETING BIBLE SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT

(Report of Yearly Meeting Superintendent of Religious Education)

During the past year the Yearly Meeting Bible School library has been in circulation in Newberg and Tacoma Quarterly Meetings. One Quarterly Meeting Bible School Rally was held in Tacoma Quarter, with most gratifying results.

The statistical reports from the Quarterly Meetings, though better than last year, are still too incomplete to warrant the compiling for the printed minutes.

The Superintendent was enabled to meet with all of the Monthly Meeting Bible School Boards in Tacoma and Boise Valley Quarterly Meetings, during the year, with the exception of Quilsene Monthly Meeting. This visiting trip into the outlying Quarterly Meetings was combined with a business trip in behalf of other departments of church work so that only about one third of the expense of the trip, or $15.00 was charged to the Bible School Department. Three weeks were spent in the accomplishment of this task.

In each place the recommendation appearing in the report of last year was discussed. It is gratifying to note that after personal presentation of this resolution it was generally accepted.

With a knowledge of the fact that we would be unable to continue in the work of this department another year, no future program has been outlined. We had hoped the recommendations in last years report might soon establish a system of uniformity throughout the schools of Oregon Yearly Meeting, in the matters with which they deal. At any rate we believe the succeeding administration should labor along this, or some other line of uniformity. With this thought in mind we restate, in part, the recommendations as they appeared in last year's report. "The administration believes that there should be some change in the relationship between the Bible School and the Monthly Meeting. We believe the old Monthly Meeting Bible School Committee, for which there is no disciplinary requirement, should not exist. Some of the larger schools in Oregon Yearly Meeting have already discontinued this committee. For the establishment of a closer union between the Monthly Meeting and the Bible School, the Superintendent of the school and each department should be officials of the Monthly Meeting, elected by it. All other officers of the school should be elected by the school, the nominating committee being appointed by the Superintendent. Teachers should be chosen by the Superintendent and his cabinet (his assistant, the superintendents of the departments and the pastor of the church) except where organized and adult classes are granted the privilege of choosing their own teachers. Even here the ratification of said body should be required."

In compliance with the request of the Board of Religious Education of the Five Years Meeting, our Yearly Meeting Board named the following persons to represent Oregon Friends on the International Sunday School Council of Religious Education in their respective states:

Washington.....Lottie M. Brown
 IdahoProfessor Frank D. Roberts
 OregonAsa F. Sutton

The Five Years Board further recommends that we change the name of our Yearly Meeting Bible School Board to harmonize with the name of their Board. Thus we would take the name of Board of Religious Education of Oregon Yearly Meeting. It is also strongly urged that we have a Yearly Meeting Superintendent of Teacher Training.

In conclusion we offer a sample report of a monthly meeting nominating committee as it should appear relative to the restated recommendations of last years report.

Report of nominating committee of — Monthly Meeting of Friends:

For Presiding ClerkMr. or Mrs. A.
 For Recording Clerk.....Mr. or Mrs. B.
 For Recording Clerk.....Mr. or Mrs. C.
 For Bible School Supt.Mr. or Mrs. D.
 For Supt. of Home Dep'tMr. or Mrs. E..
 For Supt. of Primary Dep'tMr. or Mrs. F.
 For Missionary CommitteeMr. or Mrs. G. H., etc.
 For TreasurerMr. or Mrs. C.

We have given only a few of the church officers and one committee. According to the recommendation no Bible School Committee would be appointed.

NATHAN SWABB, Bible School Superintendent.

The recommendation referring to the abolishing of the Sunday School Committee was referred to the subordinate meetings to do that which is best adapted to that particular meeting.

The meeting ratified the action of the Bible School Committee in the appointment of the persons named to be our representatives on the Council of Religious Education.

The name of the Bible School Committee was changed to Board of Bible Schools and Religious Education.

90. The report of the Superintendent of Temperance was read, approved, and appears below.

REPORT OF TEMPERANCE COMMITTEE

The work was not as entirely organized during the year as would have been desirable, but considerable activity was manifest in the various Quarterly Meetings, though reports have been difficult to secure.

The agitation of the Temperance question before the public has been through Temperance programs, Temperance lectures, distribution of literature and pledge-signing campaigns. Copies of the State cigarette law have been distributed and posted, and letters have been written to legislators in regard to adequate and effective enforcement legislation. Many of our members have co-operated in the enforcement of the laws against the sale of intoxicants.

The study of Temperance lessons in the Sunday School has been continued.

One meeting reports a Loyal Temperance Legion, and also records the fact that hundreds of cigarette and cigar stubs have been crushed by the children who are members of it. One of our members is a Justice of the Peace, and liquor law violators who have been convicted before him have received severe sentences.

A note of warning has been sounded in one report warning against intemperance, or extravagance in high priced automobiles, dress, jewelry, etc.

There is a strong feeling among our members that we should be much in earnest for the promotion of anti-cigarette sentiment, legislation and law enforcement.

On behalf of the Committee,

CECIL F. HINSHAW, Chairman.

91. The report of the Social Service Superintendent was read, approved, and is printed below.

REPORT OF SOCIAL SERVICE AND HOME MISSION SUPERINTENDENT

This department of work has been quite active during the past year. It is difficult to give an accurate, condensed report as the lines of work have been so varied, and no uniform report blanks have been available.

Salem Quarter reports services held at a Hospital and the State Institutions, besides two Sunday Schools conducted in communities adjoining the Scotts Mills meeting. They also sent a large quantity of canned fruit to the North Pacific Evangelistic Institute, and to a Children's Home.

Boise Valley Quarter reports special services held at the State Penitentiary.

Tacoma Quarter has sent fruit to the Washington Children's Home Finding Society, and to the Portland School.

Besides the special work the above mentioned meetings have done, they with many other meetings, have been faithful in looking after the needy in their various localities.

There has been about five hundred quarts of canned fruit, twelve quilts or comforters, one hundred articles of clothing, and many flowers distributed to the needy and shut-ins, besides about $260.00 in cash and groceries.

Respectfully submitted,

J. HARLIN SMITH, Superintendent.

92. The report of the Children's Services was read and appears below:

REPORT OF CHILDREN'S SERVICES

The services began Thursday with twelve children present. Friday there were twenty-two. Saturday it increased to thirty-five. There was one more boy than girl, this being unusual in children's work. I commented on it and encouraged the boys to see if they could make such a record the next day, but the girls came out ahead Sunday afternoon, there being forty-seven girls and thirty boys.

The attention has been splendid and the interest good.

When asked if they would like to thank the Evangelistic Board for their thoughtfulness of them in providing such meetings, they all voted most heartily, and wanted me to ask that similar services might be held next year.

The six children who were saved felt their need so much that they remained after the rest were dismissed, and came and expressed their desire to be prayed for. They each made individual confession to Jesus and testified afterward that their burdens were lifted.

Miss Cable has been splendid help in the work, and it rejoices my heart to find such young people who feel a call to preach to children. May God raise up more who will hear Jesus say to them as he did to Peter, "lovest thou me?" And when Peter said, "thou knowest that I love thee," "He saith unto him, feed my lambs." The next two times he asked the question at Peter's answer, He said, "feed my sheep." Have we not failed in the past to see that Jesus put the lambs first in his commission to Peter to feed the flock?

That God may bless the ministers of Oregon Yearly Meeting in helping them to show their love to Jesus by feeding the lambs as well as the sheep, is my earnest prayer.

John 21:15, 16, 17.

R. ETHOL GEORGE.

93. The matter referred to the Executive Committee of the Ministerial Association was approved by the meeting and is printed below:

According to instruction of the Yearly Meeting the Executive Committee of the Ministerial Association has taken into consideration the matter referred to it, and recommend that:

The pooling plan be as follows:

1. That each pastor shall submit to the Treasurer of the Ministerial Association a statement of his traveling expenses.
2. That the Treasurer send to each Monthly Meeting whose pastor is in attendance a statement of its share of the expense.
3. That each Monthly Meeting's apportionment be based upon the percentage of the Yearly Meeting's and Quarterly Meeting's assessment

The Committee also recommends that the Monthly Meetings be informed of this action of the Yearly Meeting.

IDA J. LEE, Secretary.

94. The Committee on "Letters to Aged Friends" presented a copy of the letter to the meeting and it was approved.

95. The following report from the Evangelistic and Church Extension Board was read, approved, and appears below.

REPORT FROM THE EVANGELISTIC AND CHURCH EXTENSION BOARD

1. On account of an oversight the following clause was omitted from our recommendation to the Yearly Meeting relative to the beginning of the pastoral year; namely, that the General Superintendent's year begin at the same time as the pastoral year. We therefore ask that this clause be added to the former minute.

2. The following minute was approved and adopted by the entire Evangelistic Board, and is presented to the Yearly Meeting as a matter of information, and we ask that it be printed in the minutes.

After a careful consideration of the work of the Board covering a period of several years, we are united in feeling that the time has come when our contribution to any pastor should be upon a proportionate basis, with the Monthly Meeting in question contributing the major per cent of the support.

It is understood that this Board reserves the right to use its own judgment as to the advisability of helping any point.

It is further understood that meetings whose pastors are receiving such financial help from this Board shall be under obligation to support the program adopted by the Yearly Meeting.

3. We have considered the proposition from Salem Quarterly Meeting in regard to a Church Building Fund, and are not ready to recommend the adoption of the suggested plan as it now stands, and ask the privilege of rearranging it and reporting next year.

Respectfully submitted by direction of the Board.

MARIETTA LEWIS, Secretary.

96. The report of the Secretary of the delegates to the Five Years Meeting was as follows:

The delegates to the Five Years Meeting held at Richmond, Indiana, September 5-12, 1922, were all present at the first five sessions of the meeting.

Chester A. Hadley was called away by the sad news of the death of his father. There being no alternates present from Oregon, H. Elmer Pemberton was asked to fill the vacancy, which was approved by the Five Years Meeting.

L. Clarkson Hinshaw was chosen chairman of the Oregon delegation.

Lindley A. Wells was appointed as a member of the Business Committee.

Levi T. Pennington was chosen to serve on the Executive Committee.

Every delegate attended all the sessions, except when hindered, which rarely occurred.

CARL F. MILLER, Secretary of Delegation.

97. The matter of the Deficit of the Five Years Meeting Boards was presented, our portion of the sum being five hundred dollars; it was referred to the delegates of the Five Years Meeting to formulate plans whereby this amount may be raised.

98. Fred E. Carter and the Chairman of the Evangelistic Board were requested to convey the sincere thanks of the meeting to the pastor of the German Methodist Church for the use of his church which was so kindly granted.

99. The meeting expressed its thanks to the Entertainment Committee, the Clerks, and all who in any way helped in promoting the welfare of the people in attendance.

100. With sincere gratitude that God has enabled us to transact the business of the Yearly Meeting in unity and harmony, with the earnest desire that we may continually grow in love for God, for one another and for the World for whom Christ died, and with the prayer that God may guide us as we go forward in His service, we adjourned to meet Sixth month thirteenth, next, if God wills.

REPORT OF THE AMERICAN FRIENDS BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS FOR THE YEAR ENDING MARCH, 31, 1923

To the Friends of Oregon Yearly Meeting:

DEAR FRIENDS: Again we present to you a brief survey of the work which has been accomplished by the church in her foreign missionary undertakings during the past year.

It is with gratitude that we report a marked decrease in the deficit which has been such a burden to the work. A year ago the Board's total deficit was $47,093.92; on March 31, 1923, it was only $25,428.34. With the effort which is now being put forth on the part of various Yearly Meetings to raise their share of the balance of the deficit this remainder should be reduced materially within the coming few months.

The year under review has witnessed one of the most successful mission study campaigns ever conducted among Friends. More than 24,000 sheets of lesson material dealing with our home and foreign mission work were mailed to Friends in all parts of the country. Reports which have come to hand indicate that large numbers of men as well as women and young people engaged in the study and that the church as a whole has gained a much clearer knowledge of the work abroad. Another evidence of a missionary quickening among Friends is the increasing demand for Quarterly Bulletins, letters from missionaries and general information from the field.

Illness has made serious inroads upon some of our fields, two families being ordered home by physicians from Africa, and one single worker from Cuba. Several others have been far from well. This condition has been produced in part at least by the heavier burdens which they have been compelled to bear because of the enforced retrenchment which has kept a number of sorely needed workers in the homeland. In addition to detaining workers it has been necessary to reduce materially certain activities on the field and to entirely eliminate some others.

But this period of curtailment and readjustment has not been without its triumphs, however. On every field there has been a noticeable quickening along financial and evangelistic lines. The national church has been quick to undertake a larger measure of self support, and the evidences are not a few that the members have a growing sense of responsibility for the evangelizing and Christianizing of the people about them. Advance steps have been taken both by the Mission and the national church which might not have been taken had the Board been able to adequately meet every need.

In an attempt to more helpfully minister to the church on the field, the Board at its meeting in September, approved the following recommendation: "Our great desire to evangelize has led us to undertake to cover the whole field as rapidly as possible; following our passion to save the falling grain, we have sought to extend our borders wherever an opening was afforded. Our present inability to man the fields compels us to the sober and unanswerable fact that only a well trained native leadership can accomplish the task. By restricting our efforts to a more intensive training of native leaders—dozens to one America—we will ultimately and more rapidly in the end bring the larger field under the sway of the gospel message.

"We may well consider, therefore, the confining of our main effort to a few strategic centers, increasing our training capacity, developing our successors, and intensively cultivating the native church in a few places to be self-sustaining and self-propagating. The temporary surrender of some localities that this purpose may be realized will mean the winning of great territories in the future that can never be reached otherwise. This policy of selecting strategic centers as training stations, selecting types of missionaries best fitted to do such work, preparing the native church to evangelize and Christianize its own field, thus making the Mission and Board, as soon as possible, unnecessary to the field, is recommended as the sanest and wisest course of missionary procedure under any condition."

In line with this policy the Board has chosen Victoria, Mexico; Holguin, Cuba; Seaside, Jamaica; Ram Allah, Palestine; and Kaimosi, East Africa, as centers where more intensive education will be done with a view to the producing of a sufficient number of thoroughly trained national leaders to meet the ever growing needs of the national church.

A careful survey of each field reveals many encouraging signs of stability and outreach.

Africa

One of the most significant happenings of the year on the Africa field was the opening of the Boys' Normal Training School. "It had been talked of for eighteen years," writes Emory J. Rees, "but it was always discussed as something future. We talked of buildings, principals, entrance conditions and of the kind of boys we wished to see come out of the school. But it was something to be done at some future time when the conditions were favorable. Then one day when everything was unfavorable we just did it and the school came into being. There was no principal, no building, no curriculum, no very definite plans, no boys and but little money, but in the face of all this shortage of what was necessary to a successful school we decided to start it forthwith. And the school has done a year of successful work. Twenty five boys entered the boarding department for the first half semester and twenty-four completed the semester. The number increased to thirty-five for the second semester." Two of those who enrolled were sons of chiefs and four were sons of head men. Bible, Swahili, arithmetic, writing, English, hygiene, geography and current events, were among the courses taught.

The Mission press reports a phenomenal year. Three books consisting of 4500 copies and 336,200 pages bear the imprint of 1922. Fourteen hundred reading charts were printed on muslin in forty-eight point type. About 100,000 copies of Scripture portions were printed. The total sales of vernacular books amounted to 3,151 copies of which 499 were Scriptures, while the sale of Swahili books totaled 146 copies. Since returning to the field in 1921, Emory J. Rees has translated Romans, I and II Corinthians, Galatians, Ephesians, Philippians, Colossians and a part of I Thessalonians. He hopes to complete the translation of the New Testament within the next two or three years.

In the medical department two phases of the work were particularly stressed; i.e., the training of native assistants, and evangelistic effort. Boys were given several weeks' training at the hospital and then sent out to each of the other four stations to assist the missionary in charge in caring for the dispensary work there. They are able to wash and dress ulcers and wounds and to dispense simple remedies. Religious services were held daily at the hospital. The out patients who came in for treatment were gathered together for a meeting before medicines were given out. The attendants frequently read the Bible to the patients in the hospital and had prayer with them. All assistants were chosen with the thought that they should do personal Christian work among their fellowmen. The hospital work is now at a standstill while Dr. Bond is at home on furlough.

The building department has been particularly busy sawing logs, repairing buildings, erecting a home for the doctor, laying the foundation for one of the boys' Boardings School dormitories, burning 100,000 bricks and helping in bridge building.

The Girls' Boarding School at Lirhandu, reports a prosperous year. A year ago all except five of the girls came from the Maragoli tribe. Now there are some eighteen from other tribes. The work in this school includes gardening, writing, arithmetic, basket and mat making, sewing, geography, Swahili and Bible.

The schools in the reserve have been largely attended by the boys and girls and a number of new schools have been started. In some of the districts the school work is supported entirely by native contributions.

A year ago there were five Friends' Monthly Meetings in East Africa. One of these Monthly Meetings, (Maragoli) grew so large that it was divided into two monthly meetings, and a quarterly meeting with a membership of some 900 Friends, was set up. This growing church on the field is the hope of the future in Africa, and should be carefully nurtured and trained that it may become entirely self-supporting, self-propagating and self-governing.

Cuba

The Cuban church has passed through a period of financial depression which called for many readjustments—a period which has had salutary results both from a material and spiritual standpoint.

The church reports a membership of 448 Friends, and 634 candidates, preparing for membership. Twenty three Sunday Schools report a total enrollment of 1482. The young people have five Christian Endeavor Societies with a membership of 311. In commenting on this number, Zenas Martin says, "It might well be larger, but think what a Gideon's Band of 300 young people may do for the church of Cuba, in the future."

The financial table shows receipts as follows:

From the Monthly Meetings	$2176.03
From the Sunday School	679.45
From the Christian Endeavor	146.56
From the Day Schools	9796.52
From other sources	865.41
	$13,663.97

The work at Velasco and Puerto Padre has been in the hands of national leaders during the year. At Gibara, Ora Wright has been a guiding force. Iva Pickering returned in September to help at this station. Under the able leadership of a Cuban minister, the church has gone steadily forward.

The missionary spirit has been particularly noticeable at Banes. Two out stations, Mulas and Macabi, were opened through the efforts of Jose Garcia. Louisa Guijarro opened her home for religious services and devoted a large share of her time in personal work with the girls. The church is active in civic affairs and helped to make the last city election honest and free from physical conflict.

The Holguin School has been able to secure better teachers than in times past. All of the new teachers except one, are members of evangelical churches. Henry Cox, who returned to the field in February, expects to open a Biblical Department for the training of church workers. The addition of this department will greatly increase the usefulness of the school. The pupils are for the most part choice students who give themselves with abandon to their work. They come from such homes as these: the former mayor of the town, the present mayor, the state representative, lawyers, doctors, and the secretary of the Board of Education, who prefers our school to those which he himself has charge of.

Jamaica

Friends' territory in Jamaica comprise an area some seventy miles long and from one to twelve miles wide. In this area are eleven Friends meetings and Bible Schools, twelve hundred members, ten day schools enrolling near one thousand pupils, one high school and one girls' orphanage.

Montclair Hoffman, headmaster of the Boys' Department of Happy Grove School has succeeded in raising more than $1000 with which to erect a Boys' Dormitory. H. Edwin McGrew, President of Penn College, and his wife, have been asked by the Mission to be present for the dedicatory service early in July.

At Prospect, Port Antonia, Matron Ophelia Brown has conducted a most successful social settlement. The work began February 6, 1922, with two girls. At the end of the month nine girls were in regular attendance. By October 31, 1922, the number had increased to twenty regular attendance. Plain needle work, knitting, embroidery, slipper making, ironing, cooking, making preserves and soap, are among the courses offered. Through this work girls have been kept from immorality and trained for useful service in the community.

The churches at Cedar Hurst, Orange Bay and Spicy Grove, under the leadership of Charles S. Vincent, an East Indian graduate of Friends University, Wichita, Kansas, have adopted the duplex envelope system and report increased regular offerings for the support of the work.

Sada Stanley writes thus of the Lyndale Home: "Our first full year at Lyndale has drawn to a close and we feel that the school is fairly well established. During the greater part of the time we have had thirty girls in residence. Fifteen of these are East Indian orphans supported by the Educational Department of the Government. Every care is taken to train the girls in honesty and uprightness of life. Morning prayers are conducted immediately after breakfast and in the evening. Earnest effort is made to lead each girls to know Christ as her personal Saviour and guide."

Mexico

"The Evangelical Church in Mexico, is growing rapidly," writes Dr. S. G. Inman, Secretary of the Committee on Co-operation in Latin America, "and this growth is felt in the nation at large probably more than in any other Latin American country. Various departments of the government and social and educational movements are demanding that the evangelicals furnish leadership for temperance, labor, educational and other reforms. "The union paper, El Mundo Cristiano, under the new editor's guidance is developing a wide influence." The Union Seminary in Mexico City, has become the real center of much of the Protestant work in the city. Friends have a student in the Seminary at the present time and Douglas L. Parker, who is now connected with the Service Committee, is a member of the faculty.

The center of Friends' activities in Mexico is at Victoria, where a strong church and educational work is carried on. Although without a resident minister the meeting has grown both numerical, and in spiritual vigor. This year the school will graduate its first class since the Revolution. In all parts of the State of Tamaulipas may be found graduates of the school at Victoria. They act as a leavening influence in their communities. Through the rapid multiplication of their numbers we may well hope to make a large contribution to the material and spiritual wellbeing of Mexico.

The school at Matamoros has been closed all year because of a lack of support from Friends in America, but the church work has been maintained and a group of faithful, loyal Friends are bearing their witness to the Friendly way of life.

Under the efficient leadership of Fortunato and Maria Castillo, all departments of work have gone forward at Matchuala. The Sunday School reports an attendance of more than one hundred pupils. Believing that the Sunday School is of primary importance in the development of the work, very careful and thoughtful attention has been given to it. A model class for beginners has been organized to serve as an object lesson for the other teachers. In the normal class emphasis is placed on child psychology and the value of the Scriptures for the children.

At La Paz, a mining town a few miles from Matchuala, martyr's blood was shed last year. Excited by a fanatical and bigoted priest the people dragged out one of the Friends living there and stoned him to death. But instead of hindering the progress of Christianity in Mexico, this act has served but to encourage the Protestants, and reports which have come to hand quite recently indicate that within the past few months between two and three hundred people have acknowledged their faith in Christ. So pronounced has become this movement toward Christianity that both national workers and missionaries do not know how to cope adequately with it.

Palestine

The outstanding features of the year at Palestine have been the return of Edna C. Haviland to her post at the Girls' School and the sending of Mildred White, A. Willard and Christina Jones. All of these young people have a splendid equipment and have entered heartily into their work.

There has been marked improvement in the work of the Bible School and a special effort has been made to interest outsiders in it. One of the day school teachers, who is a member of the meeting, has a women's meeting in her own home every Sunday, at which she frequently has an attendance of fifty. During the year, four of the young people have joined the meeting. Three of them are graduates of the boarding schools and the fourth has attended the Girls' School.

Sixty girls are boarding at the school this year. About half are city girls from Jerusalem, Jaffa, Haifa, Nablus, Nazareth, Gaza and Egypt. The others are village girls. The whole spirit of the school is most satisfactory and the girls are growing in the things that are true, pure and lovely.

From Samaria, Galilee and from across the Jordan come pupils to the Boys' School. Sixteen represent Mohammedan homes, twenty Protestant homes, and the rest Greek Orthodox. Constant emphasis is placed on Christianity and all the boys attend the Bible School, meeting for worship and Christian Endeavor. All take an active interest in these religious services and many will one day go forth with a more fundamental understanding of Jesus who once walked the paths of Galilee and Judea.

Six village schools enrolling 241 children have been conducted during the year. Of these, 79 are Christian in name and 162 are Mohammedan. These schools, presided over by Christian teachers, are doing much to break down Mohammedan opposition and to create a friendly spirit among the villages.

China

During the past year Robert L. Simkin has been in America. He plans to be married to Margaret I. Timberlake early in the summer. In September they will leave for West China. The Haverford group have pledged their support and hope to secure funds with which to purchase land for building and school purposes.

The Home Base

On May 15-17, the Foreign Mission Board was in annual session. A spirit of unity and love prevailed throughout and all decisions were arrived at unanimously.

Because of the resignation of George H. Moore as President of the Board and Milo S. Hinckle as General Secretary, it was necessary to fill these vacancies. Theodore Foxworthy, Vice-President, was chosen President; Howard W. Cope, of Iowa, Vice-President; B. Willis Beede, General Secretary; and Alta L. Jewell continued Assistant Secretary-Treasurer.

After considering the needs of the various fields the Board felt led to accept the judgment of the Executive Committee of the Five Years Meeting and ask for $109,550 with which to carry forward the foreign mission work of the church.

In closing this report may it not be in place to draw the attention of Friends to two most vital needs:

1. The need for regular weekly or monthly giving for foreign missions. The Board has obligations which must be met on the first and fifteenth of each month. In order to promptly pay its missionaries, national workers and to meet other bills an assured monthly income is imperative.
2. The need for continuous intercession. The task of winning the non-Christian world to Christ is too difficult for mere humans to accomplish alone. Only as God releases power into the life of the missionary, the national church and the un-reached multitudes can the work be successful. Every Friend can help to release this power through intelligent persistent intercession and thus share in the supremely important task of giving the gospel to multitudes in other lands.

A copy of the Treasurer's Report is attached to this report.

FIFTY-FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PEACE ASSOCIATION OF FRIENDS IN AMERICA FOR THE YEAR ENDING MARCH 31, 1923

To Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends:

DEAR FRIENDS: In presenting the fifty-fourth Annual Report of the Peace Association of Friends in America, the officers of the Association desire especially to call the attention of all Friends to certain important developments that have marked the progress of events within the past year and which have, therefore, determined to some extent the particular kinds of work undertaken by the Peace Board. These developments deserve especial attention not only because of their importance in the year just closing, but also because they are likely to be important issues in the year upon which we have now entered. The developments here referred to are:

1. The renewed activity of a group of citizens in our country which in general may be designated as the militiaistic group. This group in general includes officials of the Army and Navy, together with a number of men who have formerly been in one or the other branch of these services, including retired officers of the Army and Navy and officers of various branches of these two services who are serving on part-pay. In addition to those included in these classifications are certain other citizens who have never had official connection with either the Army or Navy, but whose sympathies are so largely with a policy of enlarging the sphere of influence of these two departments of the government, that they are willing to use their influence to its fullest extent in forwarding such plans as may be approved by the officers themselves. The activity of this group includes:

(1) The task of "educating" the people of the United States to the belief that patriotic service to our country must mean far greater preparedness than is now authorized by acts of Congress.

(2) The extension of the work of training boys in military ideals and practices through summer training camps and the establishment of reserve officers' training corps in colleges, universities and high schools; and

(3) A systematic effort to secure the enactment by Congress of laws carrying larger and larger appropriations, providing for such an organization of all the resources of the nation as to make possible prompt military activity on a large scale.

This activity means, of course, that there has developed something of a reaction from the feeling which was general at the time of the Washington Conference in the autumn of 1921, and is in one sense, the logical result of the continuation of the unsettled conditions in the world, particularly in view of the unsettled political and industrial conditions in Europe.

2. On the other hand, there is a group, or there is a certain number of groups of our citizens who feel as keenly as do the militarists the necessity of some kind of preparedness to meet the unsettled conditions of the world, but who are no less firmly convinced that a movement in the direction of preparation for the use of force in taking human life in a wholesale way will add to the difficulties of our present world situation rather than create conditions which will facilitate the restoration of that feeling of quiet and contentment for which the people in every nation long. A discussion of the particular plans proposed by these several groups would not be in place in this report, but one of the general principles involved does deserve special emphasis, namely: The increasing clearness of perception of the necessity that international sentiment should be stimulated and developed to the point where war as a method of settling international disputes shall be considered a crime. The phrase which expresses this idea best is no doubt that which has been used already in many places, namely, the necessity of "outlawing war." As a means of moving forward most rapidly toward the end which the church recognizes as the true position, a discussion of plans by which war may be outlawed seem to be of the very highest importance.

3. The definite proposition made by President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes, asking that the Senate take the necessary action to permit the United States to become a member of the International Court of Justice at the Hague, places a definite obligation on all citizens of the United States to consider the question carefully and to be active in the expression of their convictions on this subject. The Peace Association of Friends in America recommends that Friends give their support to the effort to make the United States a member of the International Court of Justice.

4. The question of the responsibility of the United States for further co-operative action with the other nations of the world must also receive most earnest and careful consideration. The Peace Association of Friends in America does not attempt to specify the exact way in which this further co-operation is to be carried out, but does urge the absolute necessity of a continuation of efforts to find a practicable way in which the United States can assist in bringing about an era of international confidence and good will.

Specific Work of the Past Year

As heretofore, the officers of the Peace Association of Friends in America have, within the limits set by the resources placed at their disposal by the Church, attempted to be of assistance in supplying information on the various phases of the work as occasion demanded, in suggesting lines of activity when such suggestions seemed appropriate, and in general, to be ready to co-operate with all the other agencies of the church in carrying on the great work which has been committed to it. Specifically the publication work has been continued by the preparation of material for the AMERICAN FRIEND and in the regular issues of the MESSENGER OF PEACE, and extensive correspondence has been carried on, material for essays, debates and orations on peace topics has been supplied, and appropriations have been continued for prizes to be awarded successful contestants in peace oratorical contests in the various Friends' colleges within the Five Years Meeting. In addition, a new co-operative arrangement has been proposed by which a larger amount of personal effort can be enlisted, this co-operative work to be done under the joint management of the peace committees of the respective Yearly Meetings on the one hand, and the Peace Association of Friends in America, on the other.

The attached financial statement shows the receipts and expenditures of the Association for the fiscal year ending December 31, 1922.

Respectfully submitted,

ALLEN D. HOLE, President.

REPORT OF AMERICAN FRIENDS SERVICE COMMITTEE

To Oregon Yearly Meeting:

Within the period of twelve months just closing the American Friends Service Committee has been engaged in work in Mexico, certain mining areas of two states, Virginia and Pennsylvania, in this country, France, Austria, Poland, and Russia.

Mexico

In Mexico we are represented by Douglas L. Parker and his wife who are endeavoring to get in touch with leaders of Mexican thought and influence with the idea of making contacts that will enable us to bring to the people of Mexico our desire for a better understanding between our two republics.

Considerable assistance has also been given to the agricultural ventures of the Friends Mission near Victoria.

Work Among the Miners

As many of you already know this was a two fold effort; 1st, to be of service to the victims of an industrial struggle in which children were becoming undernourished and subjects to the ravages of disease; and 2nd, an effort to find channels through which we could approach leaders whom we might possibly influence to bring about happier relationships in this industrial area. We have been asked by some institutions interested in social and industrial conditions for our report and when this is completed we hope to place definite helpful facts in their hands.

France

The Maternity Hospital at Chalons-sur-Marne was completed and dedicated last sixth month. We have been sending to this institution two young women to assist us as nurses or nurses aids. At the present time we are selecting replacements for those who have been in this service for the past year. We are glad to report that the work of this institution is growing in popular favor.

Austria

The work in Austria has continued along practically the same lines as last year. We are co-operating with the English Friends. The Effort there not only includes the feeding of children under six years of age and nursing the expectant mothers, the distribution of clothing and relief for the salaried, professional and pensioned classes, but also attempts to increase the milk supply, especially for the city of Vienna. While the reorganization of Austrian finances, under the leadership of a Commission from the League of Nations, has decidedly improved the country there is continued need of our assistance and we are unable at this time to say how soon conditions will be so sufficiently improved that we will be able to close our work there. It now seems quite probable that a three year anti-tuberculosis campaign will be launched this summer.

Poland

The needs of the people in Poland continue to demand our assistance. Here again our work has not essentially changed in its nature. The constantly returning groups of refugees from Russia add new numbers to those already in need. The activities include distribution of food and clothing to returning refugees; helping to re-establish the household industries, spinning, weaving and embroidery; plowing and distribution of seed; supplying window glass; wood hauling and portable sawmill. American and English Friends are working in co-operation.

Russia

Until recently our work in Russia has been confined to the original area occupied by us at the beginning of the famine. Our work in the Minsk area which had been financially supported by the Joint Distribution Committee was withdrawn last summer.

In preparation for the last harvest we did a good deal of ploughing with our tractor outfits. The harvest from these fields is devoted to the feeding of orphans in the children's homes. The government co-operated by furnishing kerosene and oils for our tractors and the seed for the sowing. The people harvested the crops and thus we have been able to develop more fully the spirit of co-operation.

From time to time throughout a number of months we have been getting calls from the neighboring districts, Pugachev and Bashkir, for assistance. Our workers have investigated these territories and found extreme suffering and even cannibalism in many of the villages throughout the entire season. In the autumn the people of the Pugachev district, knowing that many of them would die before the winter was over, went out to the burying ground before the ground froze and prepared their own graves. In January we reached the point where we had sufficient resources of food to carry our district thru to the harvest and it was agreed to cable our workers to go into these two territories as far as our contributions would enable us.

There have been many misleading reports in the American press relative to the conditions in Russia. These have very definitely hindered us in the securing of funds, but in spite of it all we are grateful to have been able to save thousands of lives.

We are hoping for a good harvest but we will need to remain in Russia for a considerable period even after a good supply of food is grown, in order to assist these people in the critical period of reconstruction.

Work of the Message Committee

In all European countries in which we have been working there have been those who have sought to know our beliefs and ideals and, as we have had a greater purpose in view than the saving of the body, we have gladly arranged to send some of our Friends to these countries to get in touch with those who were seeking spiritual assistance as well as physical. To fulfil this purpose the Message Committee has been interested in the translation and distributing of certain of our writings and in sending to Europe recently three of our Friends, Alfred Garrett and his wife and Agnes Tierney who have been meeting with various groups and thus carrying the message in person.

The committee desires to become acquainted with those Friends and others, who feel a real concern for carrying on this very important branch of our work. Opportunities now exist and frequently arise for service in connection with the Quaker centres in Europe, and in teaching positions in foreign schools and universities.

Home Service Department

The Home Service work is arousing increasing interest among the young people. Many have expressed a desire to volunteer a period of service to people and welfare institutions in need of help in our home land. There has been a cordial response on the part of many social and educational organizations to the effort to obtain opportunities for these young people to express their idealism, and to broaden their understanding of the many social problems which face humanity.

Last year eight young persons were working with the Negro, Indian and immigrant and in industrial and settlement work. Two or three are preparing to take the consular examinations. Several have already been placed in the various fields for the coming summer or year.

It has been a source of gratification to us to realize that throughout these six years of united work we have developed such a splendid spirit of co-operation and harmony between workers from the different branches of Friends in America, and also between English and American Friends.

MURRAY S. KENWORTHY, American Friends Service Committee.

MESSAGE FROM THE BOARD OF HOME MISSIONS OF THE FIVE YEARS MEETING OF FRIENDS

To Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends:

DEAR FRIENDS: In the field of our Indian missions there is cause for great joy. The past year has witnessed more progress towards really winning "our" Indians to Christianity than there has been for many years past. Charles Wooten, our senior missionary in Oklahoma, wrote recently that more Kickapoos are attending meetings for worship and showing real interest in Christianity than for seventeen years past. In another report he says: "In the last three years the work has moved forward beyond our expectations." This is the period during which Lawrence and Amelia Lindley have been on the field, and much is due to their wise counsel and co-operation with every mission. The Bible School at every one of our five missions the past year has been entirely self supporting, expenses for lights, fuel, janitor service and so forth, have been paid, expenses of evangelistic meetings at four of the missions raised locally, substantial contributions made for missionary and relief work, and $50 contributed by the Kickapoo mission toward the United Budget for the Five Years Meeting. In creasing co-operation with Kansas Yearly Meeting is being encouraged in the hope that every Indian Mission may become eventually a self supporting, working group of American Friends. Wyandotte is almost ready for this now. Kickapoo is approaching independence, but both of these still need help and wise leadership. The Big Jim, and Osage Missions are not so far advanced, these Indians not being won yet to Christianity, and Otoe is about midway between the other four. Evangelistic meetings at Wyandotte, Otoe, Kickapoo and Big Jim Missions the past year, have brought much blessing, deepened spiritual life and added membership. At every point excepting possibly the Otoe Mission, the way is wide open for even greater progress this next year. At the Otoe Mission the need is very great, but difficulties in the way are equally great. More detailed information will be given by the Committee on Indian Affairs.

Southland Institute, also experienced a hopeful awakening the past year. Although the sudden resignation of the former director in October, just as school was opening, shifted almost overwhelming responsibility upon the new Principal and his teaching staff, most of them young and comparatively inexperienced, they have met distrust and opposition with courage and persistence, and are winning. In the last three months, the Southland community has come to the support of the school with renewed friendliness and pledges of loyalty to the new administration. Standards of scholarship have been raised, better discipline enforced, the school year lengthened, and a more adequate teaching force provided for next year; buildings made more habitable, farm equipment improved and dairy department begun.

Of far more value than any other forward step taken at Southland this year, was the spiritual awakening which resulted from the evangelistic meetings held at Southland by Charles O. Whitely, in March. The student body had not been so moved for the past fourteen years as during the ten days of those March meetings. About sixty took some definite stand as Christians, several making public confession and reparation for past misdeeds. The community also was deeply stirred and the Southland Monthly Meeting of Friends is being revived.

For years to come Negro boys and girls within a large radius from Southland Institute, will be entirely dependent upon religious or philanthropic agencies for any education beyond fourth or fifth grades. Even a State supervisor of Negro education in Arkansas, is made possible only by the payment of his salary by an agency outside the State. Southland draws students also from half a dozen neighboring states.

From the Tennessee mountains come still other cheering reports. Five series of special evangelistic meetings at different points, resulting in forty conversions; a new chapel at Chestnut Vally for which the people themselves hauled lumber and cement, mixed concrete, and did much of the building; a successful subscription school again which lengthened the school year by two months for thirty pupils; improving methods of agriculture; definite plans for building a manual training shop; these are bits from Edward Ransome's annual report which will be printed in full later.

We are disappointed that the way has not opened for us to have an appointed evangelist in the field the coming year. H. Elmer Pemberton has felt called to give his services to the Meeting at Wilmington, Ohio, as pastor, and at present the Board has no clear leading as to his successor, though we feel deeply the importance and need for this type of work.

Your friends,

THE BOARD OF HOME MISSIONS

ELLISON R. PURDY, Chairman.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE FIVE YEARS MEETING OF THE FRIENDS IN AMERICA

May 31, 1923.

Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends to be held Sixth Month 14th, 1923.

DEAR FRIENDS: Believing that you will be interested in hearing directly of the progress of the work of the Five Years Meeting since its sessions in September, 1922, we bring you this message from the Executive Committee. In general it is with satisfaction that we are able to say that the spirit of unity and renewed confidence that was so manifested in Richmond in September, has been increasingly and encouragingly reflected from all parts of the Five Years Meeting. There are continual evidences of the will to co-operate that brings hope and courage.

There are naturally many problems connected with the work awaiting solution. Some of these were referred definitely to the Executive Committee by the Five Years

Meeting in session. Our Committee has faced these problems in the same searching spirit and in the same spirit of oneness that characterized the deliberations of the whole delegate body. We desire earnestly that the church may look upon us, the Executive Committee, not as a body above or apart but as your continuation committee composed of your own members representing every department of work and every Yearly Meeting. Our interests are merely your interests—your concerns, our concern. It is only in this sense of identity that such an understanding and sympathy may be achieved as are essential to the welfare of the cause dear to all of us.

Addressing ourselves to some of the practical problems facing us, we have not been unmindful of the necessity of making every economy possible in the administration of the work consistent with sound policy. Accordingly the office of Assistant General Secretary has been vacated and further economy is effected through cutting down the working force in the Central Offices. After carefully reviewing the situation the committee on retrenchment and economy, appointed at the time of the last Five Years Meeting, of which John R. Cary, Presiding Clerk, is chairman, has reported to us that it finds no further point to which a retrenchment of expenditure would not mean the crippling of the dual service which all Friends desire the Boards to render, the stimulation and the interest of our members in their united work and the proper direction of that work as it grows and develops. "We would suggest," concludes the report, "that what should happen is for us to catch up with our Boards rather than to drag them down to the level of our past limitations."

Believing that as soon as the financial situation will permit, the offices of General Secretary of the Five Years Meeting and Editor of The American Friend should be separated in order that the General Secretary may give undivided attention to the work of promoting the general interests of the Five Years Meeting, especially in the way of wider visitation among the meetings and of establishing closer contacts with the membership in general, we appointed at our December meeting a sub-committee to have under advisement the question of securing a General Secretary under conditions which will make possible this further development of the work. The committee has the matter under consideration.

In the meantime it was felt to be of the utmost importance that provision be made for carrying forward this wider phase of the work. Arrangements were accordingly made with Milo S. Hinckle whereby he has been giving his time since February 1st, to field work in the interest of the whole program of the Five Years Meeting. He has already found most acceptable service in several Yearly Meetings and there is abundant evidence of the mutual helpfulness of such service. Both from him and from Charles O. Whitely, who has been engaged in a closely related work, there have come assurance of a steadily growing sentiment of appreciation of the united work of the Five Years Meeting, and of a willingness to join in its support. This increasing spirit of unity was very manifest at the May meetings of the various Boards and Committees. Members of the Foreign Mission Board, for example, reported that not in many, many years, if ever, has there been a time when its sessions have been so marked with the unifying power from above which comes upon those who lose themselves in devotion and consecration to the cause of Christ. Believing that this spiritual achievement is due in part to the closer understanding made possible through wider circulation, we have encouraged our Central Committee to make arrangements to continue the effective field work now being done by Milo S. Hinckle and Charles O. Whitely.

It will be remembered that by the close of the sessions of the Five Years Meeting in September, practically half or a little more, of the funds necessary to wipe out the deficit had been subscribed. The responsibility of raising the remaining amounts was left with the Yearly Meeting delegations under the general supervision of the Executive Committee. We later sent letters to the various delegations recalling the important matter to their attention and suggesting sums that must necessarily be raised by the respective Yearly Meetings, if the entire deficit was to be removed. After different attempts to secure someone to oversee the work personally, we were fortunate in securing the services of Charles O. Whitely, Superintendent of Iowa Yearly Meeting, for the months of April and May. He has found a ready approach and a willing mind as he has gone about and has made very considerable progress. The fact that there is too prevalent a tendency on the part of subordinate meetings to place subscriptions on a mathematical quota basis has rendered the work unfortunately laborious and time-consuming. A few Friends who have come under the deep concern of the necessity of removing this incubus of debt recently made very generous subscriptions on condition that Friends arouse themselves and promptly subscribe the amount yet necessary. Approximately one-third of the deficit is still unprovided for by subscriptions.

Following the procedure laid down by the Five Years Meeting, at our meeting in December, we reviewed the needs of the various Boards for the fiscal year beginning April 1, 1923. The review was made on the basis of estimates which had been made by the Boards and worked over first by the Advisory Committee, consisting of the executive officers, and by it submitted to the Executive Committee. In view of their difficult financial situation the Boards had cut their estimates to the very bone. After reviewing and investigating the estimates of each Board in turn, our Committee finally united in presenting the needs of the Boards of the Five Years Meeting for the present fiscal year in the amount of $191,794.74. It remains for the church itself, to say whether our united work is to go forward on this very conservative basis or whether it must be still further curtailed and crippled.

We are now nearing the goal of our hopes in seeing the near completion of the task of freeing our Boards from debt. The next responsibility is no less important, that of keeping them out. There is just one straight, clear-cut road to this much desired achievement. This is the way of regular, systematic support on the part of our subordinate meetings with monthly remittances. When this simple course of action is once established, our Boards will know accurately through the year just what their income is and may thus keep their activities within its bounds. Such action will also obviate the necessity of doing the business of the church for the forepart of the fiscal year on borrowed money and will release in the aggregate thousands of dollars now necessarily paid out in interest to the actual work itself.

In this brief and summary presentation of the needs of the united work of the whole church, we wish to assure you that we are not unmindful of your own interests and problems as a Yearly Meeting. We appreciate their moment and pray for your guidance as you face them. Only as the work in the Yearly Meetings thrives and develops will the cause of the whole church be advanced. May we all be continually brought closer together in mutual helpfulness in the Spirit of Him whose name we bear.

On behalf of the Executive Committee of the Five Years Meeting of Friends in America,

ALLEN D. HOLE, Chairman
WALTER C. WOODWARD, Secretary.

SUMMARY OF AMERICAN EPISTLES

Epistles were received from all of the American Yearly Meetings except Nebraska and New York.

We are impressed with the spirit of fellowship, and recognize that our interests are one for the Kingdom of Christ.

Visiting ministers and returned missionaries have been a blessing to all by their presence and message of love.

World conditions have given the subject of Peace an unusual and increasing prominence. There is a deep concern that we stand by the principles for which our church has worked, prayed, and suffered, feeling we have not made our testimony and influence sufficiently felt in the past. Canada says: "We have had laid upon us the concern of taking a place of leadership in the cause of Peace among the organized churches of Christ. For from the united churches must come the necessary spiritual dynamic and moral leadership to create a body of Christian opinion throughout the world. A Christian opinion which will give a new kind of leadership in national and international affairs, which will dare to apply Christian principles to the affairs of nations."

Some of the epistles mention work being done by some of their members in social service in devastated Europe. All manifest interest in missionary work. New England says: "We are convinced that the future civilization of the world depends upon the intensive foreign missionary work now being done."

Our attention is called to the fact that although Prohibition has become a law, the business is not extinct. Friends are urged, in the Indiana Epistle, to continue active interest and support of Prohibition until the liquor traffic shall cease its efforts toward restoration in America.

Wilmington deplores the increase in the use of the cigarette and the growth of gambling in its various forms and other social evils. Baltimore, "Let us cleanse our hearts of selfishness and indifference and thus become ready to show clearly and convincingly to others the evils which we as Christians deplore. We have been reminded that in the early history of Christianity the Gospel was spread largely through the zeal and individual faithfulness of common men and women who 'went everywhere preaching the word.'"

Kansas and California mention the activities of Church Extension. The harvest fields are white, and commendable self-sacrifice is being made to enter these new fields.

Western Yearly Meeting set a goal for a ten percent increase in membership and all contributions last year. While not able to reach the goal, they gained sufficiently in numbers to entitle them to an additional delegate to the Five Years Meeting. North Carolina reports an increased membership of three hundred and thirty-eight. Also one hundred associate members have become active members with a corresponding increase in contributions.

Canada expresses concern for the scattered membership of the Society of Friends, who have settled in their vast country, and strongly urges Friends every where to notify the clerk of their Yearly Meeting of such removals, so they may not be lost through lack of contact.

The various educational institutions report commendable progress and an increase in the number of young people entering the ministry and other religious work.

The Bible School fills an important place in the religious education and building of character in all our Yearly Meetings and a need of more efficient leadership is felt.

We close with this thought from Ohio: "We are increasingly concerned that the church of God, which He hath purchased with His own blood, shall recognize her unique place as the chosen instrument to carry the gospel message to a world ruined by sin. We are clearly taught that man is a sinner both by nature and by choice. We do not believe there is any principle or quality in the soul of man, innate or otherwise which even though rightly used will ever save a soul. 'We must be born again.' The ground of true fellowship does not lie in social service, but in the new birth and the baptism with the Holy Ghost, whereby we are placed into the body of Christ." 1 Corinthians 12:13.

BOARD OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION OF THE FIVE YEARS MEETING OF FRIENDS IN AMERICA

June, 1, 1923

To Oregon Yearly Meeting to be held Jun. 14, 1923:

DEAR FRIENDS: Immediately upon our appointment as a Board, we organized with the following officers: Chairman, Edgar H. Stranahan; Secretary, William J. Sayers; Treasurer, Ancil E. Ratliff. William J. Sayers was nominated and was later appointed by the Publication Board as Editor of the Bible School publications.

The Executive Committee of the Board has held two sessions since the Five Years Meeting. We are seriously handicapped from the fact that there are no funds available by which the whole Board can meet.

During the nine months of our service the Teacher Training program has been almost entirely reconstructed. A new course of lessons has been selected and arrangements have been made for examinations covering the courses outlined. We are now ready to issue Teacher Training Certificates which bear our own imprint. Under our direction material has been prepared for a series of Lessons on Friends' History and Belief. This will soon be off the press and will be available through the Friends' Book and Supply House at Richmond. In addition to several articles prepared for the American Friend, two leaflets have been prepared for Church Vacation School Methods and for Leadership Training. The latter sets forth the whole matter of our present Teacher Training program.

Working through the various Yearly Meeting Committees, we have had Friends appointed on the State Sunday School Executive Committees in twenty-three states. This is in accordance with the new reorganization scheme of the International Sunday School Council of Religious Education.

We have entered into negotiations which we hope will ultimately result in the issuing of our own Teacher Training Lessons and Helps for the Graded Lessons.

At a very low expense, our Board has been officially represented in the Bible School work in North Carolina, New York and Kansas Yearly Meetings.

We are arranging, in co-operation with the Young Friends Board, to have a class in Sunday School Methods and a class in the Church Vacation School Methods taught during the Young Friends Conference this summer. We are asking the Yearly Meetings to give serious consideration to the changing of the name of their Bible School Board to conform to the Board on Religious Education of the Five Years Meeting.

We would call attention of your Yearly Meeting's Board to a proposed conference which will be held some place near Richmond, Ind., in the early part of December, this year. At this conference we desire each Yearly Meeting to be represented by one person from its Board on Religious Education. Our Board will help some in the expenses. At this conference we hope to consider the following subjects: A uniform Standard for our local Bible Schools. Uniform report blanks; Graded Lesson Helps; Ways and means to promote Religious Education throughout the Five Years Meeting. Details concerning this conference will be sent at a later date.

We trust that during your forth-coming sessions you may make provision to be represented at the proposed conference.

On behalf of the Board.

E. H. STRANAHAN, Chairman.

FROM DUBLIN YEARLY MEETING HELD IN BELFAST, FROM THE THIRD TO THE EIGHTH OF FIFTH MONTH, 1923

To Oregon Yearly Meeting:

DEAR FRIENDS: Your Epistle has reached us and we have been greatly interested in the account of your circumstances and work.

Our fraternal delegates to the Five Years Meeting have brought back very warm memories of the hospitality and kindness which they have received. As we listened to the report of that epoch-making gathering we were thankful for the uniting power of love which has made you consciously "one in Christ Jesus," enabling you to exercise loving confidence and trust in one another.

As we gather again in Belfast in Yearly Meeting, our minds review the fifteen years since we last met outside Dublin. They have been momentous, soul-stirring years and we can record with thankfulness the goodness of God through them all. Beyond the clouds we have seen His face, in the darkness and difficulty of the way we have felt His guiding hand, and we believe that our trials have drawn us closer to one another and to Him.

During the past twelve months most of our Friends have known anxiety and fear, when life and property have been in danger, and one of our members was fatally wounded on his own avenue. While deploring such terrible events we feel encouraged when we think of the calmness of the many—our own members included—as they have gone about their regular daily duties in the face of so many disturbing influences. We believe it is largely due to such bravery that our country has been saved from complete anarchy. Through all we have been conscious of the protecting and sustaining power of our Heavenly Father and to Him be all the praise.

In Ulster, a seeking spirit has come over many districts, and a revival of religious life is very apparent and has touched some of our meetings, as well as those of other denominations. We hope it may soon spread right through the country. Many are ready for just such a spiritual message as we should be able to give. It is therefore urgent that we should understand the grounds of our belief and be ready to present the teaching of Jesus Christ in a way that will help their needs.

Brookfield Agricultural School, at Moira, was founded some eighty-five years ago to provide a good education for children connected, but not in membership, with Friends. This special need having now ceased, it has been decided to concentrate efforts, as far as Ulster is concerned, on one school, and therefore Brookfields has been given up and the property is being sold. This now leaves two schools in Ireland, one at Lisburn in Ulster, and the other at Waterford, in Munster.

Newton School, Waterford, has been carried on under the greatest difficulties, many children not being able to get to school and others unable to go home for their holidays. During the summer vacation the buildings were occupied by troops for some weeks and for months past the constant firing has been a source of anxiety to those in charge of a community of young people, who do not always realize the danger or need for care.

As the area comprises the Yearly Meeting now falls under two separate Governments it is natural that Friends should have divergent interests, but on the other hand we are finding more and more points of agreement and mutual understanding and are gaining in unity.

The Yearly Meeting has sent addresses of welcome, on their assumption of office, to the Governors General of Northern Ireland and the Irish Free State.

Three members of the Society of Friends in the Southern provinces belong to the Senate of the Irish Free State, one being Vice-Chairman.

New governments give new opportunities for social progress and those of us who live in Northern Ireland are greatly interested in the proposed Temperance legislation and are working with renewed hope that some solution may be found for the terrible drink evil. Education also bulks very largely in the programme of the Northern Government and Friends are following the Bill at present before the House of Commons, with the greatest interest. We believe that we may be able to share in the increased advantages without sacrificing individuality.

Praying that in your gatherings you may experience the Divine presence and help and that you may be filled with the knowledge of His will in all wisdom and spiritual understanding,

We remain, with love, your friends.

Signed on behalf of Dublin Yearly Meeting,

THOMAS W. BEWLEY, Clerk.
