Minutes of Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends Church, 1925

FIFTH DAY—10:00 A. M.

1. The thirty-third annual session of Oregon Yearly Meeting was held, according to adjournment, at Portland, Oregon, beginning at 10:00 A. M., Sixth month 11, 1925.
2. The meeting settled into a season of devotion in which the presence of the Holy Spirit was manifest. Several earnest prayers were offered, after which I. Gurney Lee read the third chapter of Philippians and gave a few well-chosen comments.
3. From properly signed reports from the Quarterly Meetings, the names of Representatives, Alternates, Caretakers, and persons to serve on Finance and Nominating Committees were presented.
4. Minutes were read for the following visiting Friends: Fred C. Harris, a minister from Hughesville Monthly Meeting, Damascus Quarterly Meeting, Ohio Yearly Meeting; Rachel E. Lockwood, Elder and assistant Pastor of First Friends Church, Pasadena, Pasadena Quarterly Meeting, California Yearly Meeting. A number of Friends were introduced who were in attendance without minutes. Many words of welcome were spoken and the hope was expressed that they might feel free to deliver any message that the Holy Spirit might direct.

21. The Superintendent of Christian Stewardship made the following report:

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF CHRISTIAN STEWARDSHIP

We note with gratitude an ever increasing number of members living up to the light in regard to Christian Stewardship. Some meetings report quite an increase of tithers.

Newberg Quarterly Meeting reports thirty-nine over last year, and seventy-two give systematically. Two meetings in Tacoma Quarterly Meeting report 100 percent of their resident membership tithe, and one other meeting reports that all but two families tithe. These are among the smaller Monthly Meetings.

The pity of it is, there are quite a large number of our members who realize that the teaching of Christian Stewardship is the "Ideal," but are not willing to give of themselves and their means and trust God as they should.

In looking over some of the former reports of this department, I find that there have been vacillating conditions. In 1922, there were 808 tithers reported, but since then we have not reached that number in any report. The failure may be on the part of the Superintendents not getting their reports in carefully, but we are of the opinion that it is the pressure of the times, people losing their touch with God, and among the first things they do is to withhold from paying God the tithe, using it for the furtherance of their own financial interest and leaving God's work and workers to retrench or live on such meager incomes that they cannot be at their best in His service.

Oh! how we should pray for the day to come when the laymen will be settled in their conviction and become as unmoveable in their trust in God as we expect the missionaries and ministers to be.

I received $25.00 from the treasurer of the Yearly Meeting the last of December, and purchased twenty-three books at a cost of $23.45, which are in circulation at the present time; also spent sixty-three cents for postage, leaving a balance on hand of ninety-three cents.

Let me urge the Monthly Meetings to appoint one or more as the membership would demand, to keep the teaching of Christian Stewardship before the people.

Word has been received from different meetings in Tacoma Quarterly Meeting expressing appreciation of the Circulating Library. During the past year we have placed another in the Yearly Meeting, and have two more of twenty volumes each almost ready to send out.

In referring to the report of one year ago we note with gratitude the advance that has been made in this department of God's work during the year.

Respectfully submitted,

IDA J. LEE, Superintendent.

The Superintendent gave a few timely remarks on the subject, followed by a helpful talk by Clarence G. McClean, of the Pacific College faculty.

23. Meeting adjourned to meet at 10:00 A. M. Sixth Day.

SIXTH DAY—10:00 A. M.

24. The meeting met according to adjournment. William E. Allen led us in earnest prayer.

25. Routine business was laid aside for a half hour to listen to our Philadelphia Friend, Frederick J. Libby, who came to us in the interest of "The National Council for the Prevention of War."

26. Minutes of the previous session were read and approved.

27. A minute was read for Frank W. Michener and Nellie, his wife, of Truro, Iowa, signed by the Clerk of Iowa Yearly Meeting.

28. The Foreign Missionary work claimed the attention of the meeting at this session. The report of the Superintendent follows:

FOREIGN MISSION REPORT

The Foreign Mission Board herewith presents the usual annual statistics, and other items of interest, as the reports from our five quarterly meetings reveal. It appears that a goodly number of our Bible schools have missionary stories or other exercises each Sunday or less frequently, and that nearly all of our Christian Endeavors Societies have had mission subjects in their prayer meetings. The report shows that there are several Woman's Missionary Societies in operation, and that mission study classes have been conducted in a number of places. The number of missionary books reported to have been read is very small. Springbrook reports eleven subscribers to The Missionary Advocate. Middleton sent a box of dispensary material to the mission field; the Elizabeth Fry Bible Class of First Church raised $15.00 to furnish a hospital bed; and Chehalem Center gave $18.91 for hospital supplies for Africa. The First Church in Portland sent a box valued at $51.15 to the mission; the Second Church in Portland sent gifts valued at $48.91 to the missionaries; Tacoma sent a box valued at $15.00 to the mission, and gifts valued at $10.00 to the missionaries; and West Piedmont sent a box to the mission and gifts to the missionaries. Besides these boxes and gifts, Newberg sent $20.00 to our missionaries; Sherwood sent $6.35 to our missionaries; Melba sent $47.47 to the Chilson family; and Scotts Mills sent $66.06 to the Chilson family and $55.00 to other missionaries. A number of children in Star Sunday School were given ten cents each to invest for missions; and the $3.00 thus distributed were increased to $42.00, which amount was sent to the Orphanage school in Africa.

Respectfully submitted,

FREDERICK J. COPE, Chairman.

The Missionary Board made the following financial recommendation for this year. That we raise for:

Arthur Chilson and family .....	$1800.00
Lois Cope .....	650.00
Correspondence course for Missionary girls.....	25.00
Native girl's school and upkeep.....	1165.00
To refund borrowed money for Lois Cope's India travel.....	200.00
Total .....	$3840.00

Respectfully submitted,

FREDERICK J. COPE, Chairman
J. HARLAN SMITH, Secretary.

The recommendation was approved by the meeting.

The statistical report appears in the Appendix.

Elizabeth Ward and Isabella H. Clark opened the program with earnest prayers.

Exceptionally interesting letters were read from Edna Hill Chilson and Lois Cope, missionaries on the African field.

A minute was read for Edgar T. Hole, a returned missionary from the African field, and now acting as Field Secretary for the Five Years Meeting, a member of New York Monthly Meeting.

We were glad to welcome him and listened with great interest to the missionary address given by our brother.

Because of lack of time, the Report of the American Friends Board of Foreign Missions, was not read but directed printed in the minutes. It appears in the Appendix.

29. Meeting adjourned to meet at 2:00 P. M.

SIXTH DAY—2:00 P. M.

30. The meeting met according to adjournment and the Presiding Clerk led in a word of prayer.

31. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

32. The following recommendation was read from The Meeting on Ministry and Oversight pertaining to the appointment of elders. This recommendation met the approval of the meeting, "That we follow the method of appointment of Elders as found in the 1902 print of the discipline of Oregon Yearly Meeting, page 27, chapter 7, paragraph 1, which reads as follows:"

Monthly Meetings shall annually appoint a committee of three to co-operate with a committee of the Local Meeting on Ministry and Oversight, in proposing for the station of Elder, persons who in their judgment, possess the proper gifts and qualifications therefor. When these nominations are received, the Monthly Meeting, shall forward them to the Quarterly Meeting on Ministry and Oversight for its consideration. If approved by that meeting, the Monthly Meeting may proceed with their appointment.

Also page 40, chapter 12, paragraph 7. The Local Meeting on Ministry and Oversight shall annually appoint a committee of two to co-operate with a committee of the Monthly Meeting in nominating to the Monthly Meeting persons for appointment as Elders. There shall not be less than three Elders in each Monthly Meeting who shall serve for three years and as nearly as possible one-third of their number shall be appointed each year.

33. The following report from the Representative body became the action of the meeting:

(a) Auditing Committee:

James L. Simpson, Carroll G. Tamplin, E. Worth Coulson.

(b) Printing Committee:

Levi T. Pennington, Marguerite P. Elliott, Edward Mott.

(c) The matter from Salem Quarterly Meeting referred to that body received its consideration and the following recommendation was made:

That the phrase, "From among the Representative body" be eliminated. Making the ruling read—"We recommend that the appointment of the members of the Nominating Committee hereafter be made by the Quarterly Meetings, the names sent up as the names of the Finance Committee now come, exercising care to have one an experienced person."

The Representative body also recommends that the Christian Endeavor Union be permitted to take an offering at the session Saturday evening. These recommendations were approved.

34. A request came from the Board of Managers of Pacific College that the trustees of the Yearly Meeting be permitted to sell the "Wooton" property in Salem, which was willed to Oregon Yearly Meeting in trust for Pacific College; the proceeds to be invested in bonds suitable for Endowment purposes. This request was granted and the trustees of the Yearly Meeting directed to make arrangements for the sale.

35. The Permanent Board presented memorials for Jesse Edwards and Louisa P. Round, with the recommendation they be filed with Yearly Meeting documents.

The meeting listened to the reading of these memorials and directed that they be filed as recommended, but that they be printed in the Minutes in a condensed form. Levi T. Pennington was appointed to attend to this matter.

36. The subject of Evangelistic and Church Extension Work claimed the attention of Friends at this hour.

(a) The report of the Evangelistic Superintendent was read, approved and appears below. The statistical report is printed in the Appendix.

(b) The following recommendation from the Evangelistic Board was approved by the meeting:

"That L. Clarkson Hinshaw be retained as Evangelistic Superintendent for another year upon the same financial basis as last year, which was two thousand dollars and traveling expenses."

(c) The members of the Board were united in asking for an appropriation of thirty-seven hundred dollars for the work of the department the coming year. Since this amount will not meet the needed expenses, they request the privilege of raising a minimum of one thousand dollars by free will offerings in the different meetings. This request was referred to the Finance Committee.

REPORT OF THE EVANGELISTIC SUPERINTENDENT

How necessary it is to state again and again that the way of the Cross is the only way of Salvation! When the late Henry Reed of England, was dying, he took his pen and wrote the following:

"After all that I have said, preached and written for upwards of forty-five years, I wish it to be distinctly understood that the ground of the hope that is within me (which hope is full of immortality and eternal glory) is not repentance towards God, although it is written, 'Except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish;' nor is it faith, although it is written, 'Without faith it is impossible to please God;' nor is it a new creature, although it is written, 'Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God;' nor is it holiness, although it is written, 'Without holiness no man shall see the Lord.' Repentance did not die for me; faith did not die for me; the new creature did not die for me; holiness did not die for me. My confidence is not in the gifts, but in the Giver, the Eternal Son of God, who became man, and as my Substitute, atoned for my sins. On his finished work alone does my soul rely for pardon, holiness and heaven; and He only, is made of God unto me 'wisdom, righteousness, sanctification and redemption.'"

How full of hope, and of warning, are the precious words of this dying man. Creaturely activity with its counterfeits and substitutes, false notions and unscriptural conditions, abound on all sides, obscuring the simple Gospel. Organizations are multiplying and their leadership crying, "This is the way, come thou with us!" Only recently I was admonished, by a seemingly serious-minded man, to cease wasting my time with the church, and to accept services with a very modern organization where my activity connected with its movement would really count something for humanity.

Charlotte Elliott was a great sufferer, yet amid her agonies she wrote that never to be forgotten hymn, "Just as I am, without one plea, but that Thy blood was shed for me, O Lamb of God, I come!" When increased weakness deprived her of gathering with others at the Church and of bowing with them at the Chancel rail, she wrote again: "My Bible is my Church. It is always open, and there is my Lord ever waiting to receive me. There I have my confessionals, my thanksgiving, my hymns of praise, and a congregation of whom the world is not worthy—prophets, apostles, martyrs and confessors—in short all I need I find here." How humble in spirit, how triumphant in faith, how full of heavenly assurance, are the words of that blessed Saint of God.

Nor are the lives of Henry Reed and Charlotte Elliott but lone oases along life's desert trail. Wherever tears of repentance and prayers of consecration have smitten the dry rocks of human hearts, and faith has cried for mercy and grace, the streams of Salvation have flowed until God has raised up a spiritual ancestry who have bequeathed to the Church of this generation an inheritance of evangelistic conquest and missionary zeal, such as no other Church leadership has ever known.

God has not forgotten us because we are a feeble folk, compared with many of our sister denominations. Heading our Quaker movement stand those whose faith in God, whose vision of Christ and fearless ministry of Truth, make them without peers in the realm of spiritual leadership. All through our history, God has kept the seal of Pentecostal power upon our message as it faithfully proclaimed the Gospel of Christ.

What a rich heritage those ancestors have bequeathed us! What a field of suffering humanity await us! What a message of a mighty Christ we have for them. If Paul could say to the Church at Corinth, "The ends of the world have come upon us;" then certainly we can say the ends of the Quaker world are now upon us. What shall our answer be? There is but one answer. It is, "Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, and today, and forever." We have but one Message, Jesus Christ—Light, Life, Home and Heaven.

If clouds of unbelief are gathering about us, then beware! With clouded vision and weakened faith we cannot write a page of Quaker history upon which the "Fire of God" is falling and from which the "Image of Christ" is shining. We cannot lead our forces in the path of Truth while battling against sin and death, by holding aloft the Torch of ancestry, with only its charred embers as evidence of the Holy Fire which lighted their way.

Christ's commands of evangelism are imperative. The urge of ancestral faith and conquest impel us. Lost souls at home, and millions perishing in foreign lands, cry loudly to us. In the name of God shall we not marshal our forces and give to these the Bread of Life, and the healing power of His love? Some of us have given the best of our lives to the Church, seeking to assist in the extension of the kingdom of God. Today we are ready to stand by her altar with undying devotion, and fill up our days preaching the Cross of Christ. But if there be those within our borders who would deny the Fundamentals of our Faith, those who would set aside His Deity, His substitutionary suffering and the efficacy of His blood, then with theses we cannot go. Neither shall we be led into the uncertain paths of "come-out-ism," with the organized forces of the Church rent asunder. Therefore let us put on the whole armor of God, that we may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil, while giving to the world the Bread of Life.

Does the task appear difficult, conditions confusing, opposition threatening? Then, perhaps, we all should visit Bedford's cell and once more see Christian fleeing from the City of Destruction. See him in the midst of distracting influences, appealing voices, and at the seeming ending of his way. Then as Light falls anew upon his path, he sticks his fingers open and Christian disappears amid the glories of the Celestial City. And if the running still makes us weary, and the pathway seems dreary, and the wicket gates open slowly, then with open Bibles we had better visit Calvary, and bow again at Pentecost. Then starting our race anew, we shall be able to cry, "Behold the Lamb of God, who taketh away the sin of the world."

It has been said, "Many a man would have lived longer if he had died sooner." May there never be cause for this to be applied to Oregon Yearly Meeting, because God has apparently entrusted us with her destiny. So let us remember that the Church is the body that Christ loved and gave Himself upon the Cross to sanctify, that it might be unto Him a glorious Church. If our Yearly Meeting is to reveal His glorious redemptive power, thereby upholding the good name of our branch of His Church, we must incorporate in our character and declare in our message, those doctrines of grace centering in the Cross of Christ. In so doing we must keep the unity of the Spirit, in the bonds of peace, for "united we stand; but divided we fall."

Pastoral Work

I shall not attempt any extended review of the local fields. Most of the pastors are present and can, in a few words, give you a more adequate conception of their problems and needs. But the most difficult and unpromising fields have given distinct and marked evidence of spiritual growth and increased community interest. The more promising ones have experienced a year of splendid attainment.

The new parsonage for Rainier Heights meeting at Seattle, has been finished and dedicatory services were held the 27th of February. This is a good modern building with seven rooms and basement. A good garage has been built. Also a small but neat cottage which now accommodates the Primary department of their Bible School. These improvements have cost $7,600.00. The Monthly Meeting recently received twenty-one into membership. Their Bible School and Church services are steadily increasing in interest and attendance.

The meeting at Star, Idaho, has disposed of its parsonage, which was very inadequate and poorly located, and has purchased lots adjoining its Church property. They are building a modern parsonage.

It seems almost imperative for the Lents meeting to have a new church plant before another winter season. The present building cannot properly shelter an audience through another rainy season. It is poorly located, and is too small to accommodate their growing interest. They have purchased a new building site, well located, and will soon begin the erection of a modern building designed to provide accommodations for their work. We sincerely hope that the entire Yearly Meeting will assist in this much needed improvement for one of our centrally located meetings.

Present indications suggest but few changes in our pastoral work. Ernest E. Taylor resigned as pastor of Tacoma meeting, to accept work in other fields. Paul H. Lewis has accepted a call to that meeting.

Evangelistic

Paul B. Lindley of Ohio Yearly Meeting, conducted revival services for the following meetings: Greenleaf, Boise, Scotts Mills, Lents, Highland, Piedmont and Rosedale. Some of these revivals were held too late for their results to be included in this year's reports.

J. Newton Walker had the assistance of two of his sons, who are Free Methodist ministers, in a revival at Quilcene. Newberg joined with the other churches of the city in a Union Revival, conducted by Charles Poling. The other meetings have had the assistance of our own ministers.

Carl F. Miller was called into the limits of Puget Sound Quarterly Meeting, Indiana Yearly Meeting, to conduct evangelistic services for Fred E. Carter, pastor of Everett meeting.

During the year we have held nineteen revival services. The results as reported are two hundred twenty-four conversions, two hundred fifty six renewals, one hundred thirty-eight sanctified, and one hundred forty added to the membership. The evangelists were paid one thousand three hundred fifty-two dollars and nineteen cents.

Church Extension

Last year the Yearly Meeting united with the Board and directed the Superintendent and workers to put on "A more aggressive and definite extension program in the home field." We at once responded to the appeal of the Indians in the Klamath Indian Agency. The Sprague River Town Site Company kindly presented to us a title to a lot for building purposes. We at once purchased a tent, of square dimensions, with seating capacity for about three hundred, which was erected upon the lot. With the approach of winter the Indians furnished lumber and put under it a supporting frame, with side-walls and floor.

Ivey C. and Isabella H. Clark were asked to accept the pastoral work, and assumed their duties in November. Twenty-eight Indians have, upon their request, been received into membership by South Salem meeting. Mrs. Wallace, Government nurse for the Indians, has had her membership transferred to this meeting, also. These members, together with following applicants, will be retained upon the records of South Salem Monthly meeting for the accommodation of the Evangelistic Board, pending the organization of the work at Sprague River.

A building committee, composed of Indians and Whites, is now operating. Part of the money has been subscribed and some of the lumber is now on the lot. The committee plans to have the building erected this summer.

For about two years we have been conducting a Bible School and preaching services in North East Tacoma, where there are at least one hundred families who were without any other church privileges. The interested women of this community secured the deed to a lot of one hundred feet frontage, and presented it to Friends. We have built upon that lot a very neat building of bungalow style, twenty-four by forty-eight feet, with a seating capacity for at least one hundred and fifty.

This building was opened for services on the eighth day of February. A little exterior work will finish it and it will be dedicated free of debt. The Yearly Meeting was not asked for any financial assistance for this Extension Work. Jennie R. Pressnal, of Highland meeting, gave the first dollar for the building. Then the good women of North East Tacoma, and our members of Tacoma meeting, secured the funds and material for the building.

A. J. Totten and wife, of Ohio Yearly Meeting, who have had extensive experience in accredited City Mission work, were placed in charge of this work until our Yearly Meeting convened.

We purchased a building site in a new addition to Kelso, Washington. We have built upon this lot a good building twenty-eight by forty-six feet, with a seating capacity for one hundred and seventy-five or two hundred. This plant has cost one thousand five hundred dollars, plus four hundred thirty-six dollars of donated labor, making a total cost of approximately two thousand dollars. The interior of this building is not finished, and its estimated cost is not included in this statement. There is due on the building a balance of three hundred thirty-five dollars and thirteen cents. There are unpaid pledges to apply on this amounting to thirty-six dollars, leaving a balance of two hundred ninety-nine dollars and thirteen cents unprovided for.

Dillon Mills and wife were placed in charge of this Extension work and have been living in Kelso caring for it for some time. I am sorry to say that so far they have not received any financial assistance from our Board. The building was opened for services on Easter Sunday, and dedication services were held on the twenty-fourth of May.

In attempting the work of these three Extension fields, thereby assuming in a very small way the responsibility the action of the Yearly Meeting placed upon us, we soon found that the Yearly Meeting had failed to include in its action any provision for financing its proposed intensified program. We were forced to meet this emergency.

There being due the Yearly Meeting from "Unpaid Balances of Assessments" the amount of twenty-three hundred dollars, and believing the percent of that amount due the Board would meet this emergency, the Superintendent and Treasurer were directed to place the facts before the local meetings and ask for payment. This did not impose any new obligation upon the members, or call for an offering, that would not be applied upon their indebtedness. But it did provide for the liquidation of the "Unpaid Balances" of the Monthly Meetings to the extent of every dollar given by the members.

Perhaps a short review may be helpful just at this point. By geographical boundaries, our territory embraces three states, more than two thousand miles removed from the center of Quaker interest. Our entire membership is listed at three thousand, four hundred five. Only two thousand, two hundred and thirty-seven of these are resident members. This nucleus constitutes the foundation which must support our extension program, and is the center around which must of necessity be gathered an increasing, sustaining membership. This year twenty four pastors have been entrusted with the leadership. They have made three thousand seven hundred and ninety eight pastoral calls upon our members, and eighteen hundred and five calls upon non members. Their morning services have had an average attendance of seventeen hundred and fifty three, and their evening services an average of eleven hundred and sixty seven, making an average of one thousand three hundred seventy-two for their Sabbath services.

Out of this resident membership of two thousand two hundred and thirty-seven, an average of five hundred eighty-four have attended their mid-week prayer meetings, thereby assuming responsibility for the spiritual life and power of the church. An average of five hundred and one have attended their Monthly business meetings, thereby assisting in the effective organization and direction of her spiritual resources.

This resident membership pays nine dollars per capita per year, or two and one-half cents per day, for this pastoral service. This provides these pastors with an average salary of eight hundred thirty-four dollars and fifty-seven cents.

Three years ago we indicated a desire for a Foreign Missionary program. It was my prayerful desire and fervent hope to unite our membership in the support of an enlarging Missionary Program centering in Africa. With the public endorsement given by the Yearly Meeting at that time, I believed that the reflex influence of such a growing foreign enterprise would stimulate and inspire us to a united Church Extension campaign in the home field. This year our resident membership has given per capita to this program, less than one-half cent per day.

Church Extension, built upon a gospel basis, is inseparably composed of home and foreign evangelism. It cannot be developed disproportionately, and the supporting membership held unitedly together. Failure to unite in the support of either division will cause the other one to suffer corresponding neglect.

Saul of Tarsus could not wage a lone defensive battle against Roman court and Jewish Sanhedrin. In the light of a midnight vision, supported by a united church, he must face westward and kindle the fire of a Foreign Missionary movement to lighten the pathway of western civilization. The Reformation produced the Protestant movement. But that movement could not endure sustained only by voice of protest against a papacy controlled Church, with its ministry of indulgences, of transubstantiation, and the worship of the Virgin Mother. But declaring for the private use and interpretation of the Scriptures, of justification by faith and personal access to God, the Protestant movement swept beyond the home field, lifting the mantle of darkness from foreign lands.

Our recent great evangelistic movement could not confine its activity within our Yearly Meetings. But reaching out into heathen lands, that movement has placed upon the church responsibility for the development of a great Foreign Missionary enterprise. With this responsibility upon her, American Quakerism is now facing one of the greatest crisis of her history.

This crisis is now affecting each division of our own extension work. But we cannot escape our share of responsibility for a Missionary movement, which is the direct fruitage of a Ministerial Ancestry, which God has blessed. Neither can we become a great constructive, evangelistic body, contributing our full strength effectively to the correction of what we consider Modernistic tendencies which we hold responsible for the present crisis, until our members are built unitedly around a program of extension work, embracing home and foreign interest. Therefore believing this, and that we would be the stronger to meet the crisis, I sincerely hoped that we might unitedly assume responsibility for a constructive Extension Program with secure foundations and expanding territory within our Yearly Meeting; and with a growing foreign interest, centering in Africa, as the spiritual fruitage of the Truth we so ardently proclaim.

If this is realized, this Yearly Meeting must face the problem of larger tasks, involving greater financial investments. We should select county seat towns or other centers of growing population, in such districts as afford extension opportunities. Then by concentrated evangelistic and pastoral effort seek to organize a central meeting in these cities, and from these central meetings extend our efforts to the outlying districts until we have sufficient number of meetings to organize a Quarterly meeting.

We are in great need of this constructive extension work and our territory offers the opportunities. This kind of extension work will be unitedly supported by our members, only in the proportion that our several local meetings are willing to unite in an enlarged and growing Foreign Missionary program.

Boise Valley Quarterly meeting is built around two growing towns, Caldwell and Nampa, with no meeting in either town. Three years ago we held revival services in Nampa with a view to organizing, and a building lot was purchased. At that time a council was held in Caldwell to consider the advisability of work there. The financial depression which so suddenly swept over the state, was felt so keenly by our members that the lot in Nampa was sold and the work temporarily abandoned. With indications of returning business activity, I again call attention of the Yearly Meeting to the necessity of preparation for organized work in Caldwell. This is not only a problem for Boise Valley Quarterly meeting, but for Oregon Yearly Meeting as well.

During the year we have listened to an earnest appeal to take up organized work in an incorporated town of about six hundred inhabitants, whose only religious service is a Sunday School, attended by fifty or sixty of their young people. This call comes with renewed emphasis as we enter upon this year's program.

Again, I am remembering letters which have just come to my files from two widely separated Foreign Mission fields. These letters state that each Missionary is doing the work of from two to three persons, and that they cannot continue this service indefinitely. That if there is no relief provided by Friends at home, their fields will have to be abandoned, or turned over to some other denomination. One letter says, "The churches here do not want to be turned over to another denomination any more, than those in the States would want to be."

I need not make use of superlatives in defense of the services received to create a basis of appeal to the intelligence of this Yearly Meeting for a better financial support for our pastoral department. Nor need I produce more convincing evidence to show that a Yearly Meeting cannot sustain an effective and growing pastoral program for its home and foreign fields with a daily support of three cents per member.

With a growing sense of the vastness of the field we occupy; with deepening convictions of its possibilities for growth and expansion; with increasing devotion to God, shall we not this day dedicate our lives anew to the task before us? Shall we not by organized constructive work, begin to lay a foundation for enlarging our home forces. Shall we not this day unitedly decide to send an answer of hope to these appealing voices from our Foreign Mission fields, by giving them the assurance of an organized sustaining arm of growing power?

This report must close. The deficit of two hundred ninety-nine dollars and thirteen cents on the building at Kelso should be provided for. The needs of our three new extension pastorates should be considered in connection with our budget for this year.

During the year I have traveled twenty-two thousand, one hundred and eighty-seven miles; four thousand, three hundred and ninety-one being by auto. I have delivered one hundred and ninety sermons and addresses.

Respectfully submitted,

L. CLARKSON HINSHAW.

37. J. J. Handsaker made a plea for the work of the Near East Relief and the following recommendation was approved by the meeting.:

"Inasmuch as reliable reports indicate the continuance of much distress in the Near East and as thousands of children there are totally dependent on America for aid, be it resolved that we recommend to the churches continued co-operation with the Near East Relief and that a co-operating committee be appointed by the Yearly Meeting."

38. A proposition was made that two friends be appointed to carry messages of love to the following friends who were detained at home on account of illness: Oliver and Isabella Kenworthy, Orlando J. Sherman and Rebecca Ong. Lindley A. Wells and Marietta Lewis were appointed to that service.

Also that Amanda M. Woodward be requested to carry messages of sympathy to Milton and Mary Jane Newlin and Evangeline Martin; and that Carl F. Miller be requested to visit Charles and Esther Townsend; William E. Allen to visit Mary Richie.

39. Meeting adjourned to meet at 10:00 A. M. Seventh Day.

SEVENTH DAY—10:00 A. M.

40. The meeting met according to adjournment and settled into a short period of devotion.

41. The minutes of the previous day were read, corrected and approved.

42. Reverend Asa B. Snider, Secretary of Federation of Churches of Portland was introduced.

43. Levi T. Pennington reported that he had attended to the condensing of the Memorials as directed at a former session.

44. A partial report of the Nominating Committee was read and approved. It appears in the Directory.

The matter referring to the consolidation of the Home Mission and Social Service committees was referred to the Representative body.

45. The subject of Peace was before the meeting for consideration. Frederick J. Libby again came to us with a message on that important subject, in which he gave some practical suggestions for the Peace committee.

46. This meeting unanimously endorses the work of The National Council for the Prevention of War.

47. The report of the Peace Committee was read by J. Allen Dunbar in the absence of the Yearly Meeting Superintendent of that department. The report was approved and appears below.

To Oregon Yearly Meeting, 1925.

The following summary for the Peace Department is made from incomplete reports from four Quarterly Meetings:

The outline is much the same as last year. The distribution of literature seems to have been the chief line of activity.

11300 pages are reported circulated.

31 copies of The Messenger of Peace are taken.

20 copies of "War, Its Cause, Consequences and Cure."

10 copies of "The Abolition of War" have been circulated.

6 Peace sermons and, addresses given.

2 Peace meetings have been held.

3 Bible Schools report having regular Peace exercises.

One Christmas pageant emphasized the Peace message.

A quantity of Peace posters have been used.

Resolutions in opposition to the enactment of legislative measures not in harmony with Peace ideals have been sent to Senators and Representatives.

While the goal for which we strive may not be near, there is cause for encouragement in the fact that interest is growing and that men and women of marked ability are devoting their time and talents to the furtherance of this cause.

Respectfully submitted by request of Cecil Pearson, Yearly Meeting Superintendent,
S. LEWIS HANSON.

(c) The report of the Peace Association of Friends in America, with the treasurer's report were directed printed in the Minutes. These reports appear in the Appendix.

48. The following report of the Service Committee was read and approved:

SERVICE REPORT

The report from the Quarterly Meetings being so incomplete, it is not possible to make a definite report. One meeting reports some services held and some money sent to the committee; another reports money sent to both Service committee and Near East Relief.

There being a lack of co-operation in this service, it might be best to discontinue the Quarterly Meeting superintendents, but I would suggest that the Yearly Meeting appoint someone to the position of Yearly Meeting Superintendent that we might keep in touch with the Service work and do such work as ways may open.

MILO P. ELLIOTT, Yearly Meeting Superintendent.

The report of The American Friends Service Committee was received and appears in the Appendix.

49. The meeting adjourned to meet Seventh Day at 2:00 P. M.

SEVENTH DAY—2:00 P. M.

50. The meeting convened according to adjournment.

51. A letter from the Executive Committee of "The Five Years Meeting of the Friends in America" was read and it is printed in the Appendix.

52. The summary of "The State of Society" was read and approved.

SUMMARY OF THE STATE OF SOCIETY

The spiritual condition of our members, with some exceptions, is good, and the meetings for worship and discipline are regularly held.

Attendance at the Sabbath morning services is good, but the evening services are not as well attended; an increase in numbers attending the mid-week prayer meeting was noted.

Even in these busy days an encouraging number of the members are faithful in family worship.

Generally the conduct of our members with each other and the world is consistent.

Out-post work is being done in a number of our meetings. Religious work in institutions, jails and other reformatories was reported.

Our pastors are well recognized in Ministerial Associations in the several communities.

A number of our young people give evidence of calls to the Ministry and other special Christian work.

One pastor has been active in "shop meetings" bringing a gospel message to the men at the noon hour.

The pastors are faithful in their ministry. Special revival services have been held in all the churches.

There seems to be a spirit of earnest longing throughout the Yearly Meeting that souls may be won to Christ.

53. The list of ministers was read and corrected. The list appears in the Directory.

54. The Treasurer of the Yearly Meeting made his annual report which was approved by the meeting. It appears on page 31.

55. The statistical report of the Superintendent of Education appears in the Appendix. Reports were made by Pacific College Corporation, President, and Treasurer.

56. These reports were approved and are printed below.

REPORT OF PACIFIC COLLEGE CORPORATION

To Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends:

Pacific College Corporation at its regular annual meeting held June 12, 1925, duly elected the following as members of the Board of Managers of Pacific College for a term of three years:

John H. Rees, Springbrook, Oregon
 Alpheus R. Mills, Springbrook, Oregon
 S. Lewis Hanson, 1110 E. Salmon St., Portland, Oregon
 Clifford N. Terrell, Newberg, Oregon
 Thomas W. Hester, Newberg, Oregon.

Respectfully submitted,

HERVEY M. HOSKINS, Secretary.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT OF PACIFIC COLLEGE

The following annual report of Pacific College for the school year 1924-25 is presented with a profound sense of gratitude to God for His blessings, and to faculty, Board, student body, auxiliary, and all others who have contributed to the measure of success which has attended the work of the year.

In general it may be reported that the college has had a good year, with an excellent faculty, a student body of fine spirit and enthusiasm, and the usual loyal support from those whose earnestness and sacrifice have made possible the work of the past and of the present. The work of Vice President Perisho during the president's absence has been much appreciated.

Religious Work

The usual lines of Christian activity have been carried on by the student body. The Y.M.C.A. and the Y.W.C.A. have been as always quite the most important organizations in the institution. The deputation work of these associations has been carried on with enthusiasm, as has the Bible study, mission study, and other lines of Christian activity. A full delegation of young men attended the Pacific Coast Conference at Asilomar, California, during the Christmas holidays, where they faced the problems of the world from a Christian standpoint with fellow Christians from all the states and countries about the Pacific. And a group of students will probably be in attendance at both the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. conferences at Seabeck.

In addition to the regular work of the associations, a number of other religious activities have entered into the life of the students this year. Various religious leaders have appeared in the college chapel services and the Christian Association meetings. Perhaps the most notable of these was Sherwood Eddy, who addressed a great audience which included the entire student body of the college and academy, the High School students of Newberg, and a goodly number of leading people from Newberg and other towns about. A tremendous impact was made on this great audience, not only along the line of the usual Christian appeal, but for the Christian doctrines of peace, which was presented most enthusiastically by Mr. Eddy, whose views during the war were far different from the strong peace position which he now holds.

In addition to this visit of Sherwood Eddy, and other ministers who have addressed the student body, two evangelistic campaigns have been conducted in which the students of the college were deeply interested. One was a series of meetings for the students themselves conducted by Raymond S. Holding, pastor of the Newberg Friends meeting, in which many of the young men and women were helped. The other was a series of union meetings for the town of Newberg, conducted in the Friends meeting house under the leadership of Charles Poling. Many were brought to an acceptance of Christ in these meetings, and the students of the college were not only helped but were helpful in the meetings.

Successful Scholastic Work

From the standpoint of scholarship, the year has been a very successful one. The faculty has never been so large nor on the whole so well qualified for its tasks. It is gratifying that only one of this efficient faculty is to be off the force next year. Mrs. Ardis Roberts Michener has resigned and her resignation has been reluctantly accepted. Her place as teacher of English in the Academy has been filled for next year by the election of Miss Esther Binford, who will also have charge of physical training for the young women of the school.

The following were graduated from the college, each of them taking the Bachelor of Arts degree: Hubert E. Armstrong, Newberg, Oregon; Olive Armstrong, Newberg, Oregon; Esther Delight Carter, Everett, Washington; Mary Katherine Elliott, Newberg, Oregon; Reta P. Hanson, Vancouver, Washington; and Florence Lee, Newberg, Oregon. The faculty found two members of this class so nicely balanced in scholarship and character that they were unable to determine any difference in excellence on the basis of which to make an award of the Senior Honors, and so by the unanimous vote of the faculty a joint award was made to Mary Katherine Elliott and Florence Lee.

The same condition obtained in the matter of the Junior Prize, which was awarded jointly to Mildred Tucker and Albert I. Reed.

The following students were given the Academy diploma: Rosa Aebischer, Ruth Campbell, Robert Coleman, Wilbur Elliott, Rose Ellen Hale, Gwendolyn Hanson, Bernice Hinshaw, Wesley Hollingsworth, Olive Kendall, Stanley Kendall, Wesley Schaad, Marie Scotten, Donnie Smith and William Sweet. The Pacific College Scholarship, which is awarded for the highest scholarship and character for the full four years academy course, was awarded to Rosa Aebischer. Commercial diplomas were awarded to Daisy Bisbee, Esther Burgess, Rose Ellen Hale, Gwendolyn Hanson, Vernon Newby and Zella Straw.

Losses by Death

The entire college community has been saddened more than once during the year by death. One of the students of the college, Harold Rinard, prominent in the various forms of student activities was called by death before the Christmas holidays. Jesse Edwards also passed from works to reward during the last month of the calendar year. He had been a member of the board ever since the establishment of Friends Pacific Academy in 1885. And shortly before the close of the year, Louisa Painter Round, a minister of the church and one of the warmest friends and supporters of the college, was called home. Service of Mary Mills, who with her husband was such an earnest supporter of the college, also ended during the year.

Financial Advancement

The insistence of the United States Bureau of Education that recognition as a standard college must be delayed until the assembling of a cash endowment of $200,000 has kept Pacific off the list of colleges fully recognized, though in all matters educational it is fully up to the requirements. Substantial progress has been made in the raising of this endowment, as the annual report of the certified public accountant who audits the books will show. Many payments have been made of pledges given the college in the past, and not a little new money has been raised. President and Mrs. Pennington made a trip to the east in the interest of this campaign, and while conditions were exceedingly difficult, they secured cash contributions of somewhat over $10,000, with pledges for early payment of some thousands of dollars more.

Future Financial Plans

When it is realized that the college would right now be on the standard list if all the money now due it had been paid, every friend of the college will make every possible effort to make payment of his obligations just as soon as may be. It is hoped that it may not be long until enough of these old pledges have been paid so that the college may have the recognition to which it is entitled educationally, but from which it is barred by the lack of funds.

With the hope that God's blessing may continue upon the college, and with gratitude for His favor shown in so many ways, we face the future trusting in Him.

Respectfully submitted,

LEVI T. PENNINGTON, President.

90. Report of Home Mission Department:

The work assigned to this department has been so narrowed and an apparent overlapping with the Evangelistic Board that it has been hard to really accomplish much. Only Newberg and Salem Quarters have made any report.

Salem reported their young people have held several meetings at the State Tubercular Hospital on Sunday afternoons, and have sent eighty-nine picture cards and Sunday School papers to Fort Klamath.

Two services in the interest of home missions has been held and some money given.

Respectfully submitted,

J. HARLAN SMITH, Superintendent.

91. The report of the Social Service Department:

The following report shows that our Social Service workers have been very busy, more work having been done this than the previous year. The reports are as accurate as could be expected without having the proper blanks on which to make them.

There has been given as follows: 554 quarts of canned fruit and vegetables, 8 quarts of jelly, 10 pounds of lard, 7 sacks of dried fruit, 3 sacks of fresh vegetables, 2 sacks of flour, 2 loads of wood, and 99 sacks of bread. Two truck loads of fruit and vegetables were given to the North Pacific Evangelistic Institute. The "shut-ins" also were remembered, having received twenty-five boxes of candy, potted plants and flowers. Two hundred and eighty families were called on and as a result of prayers with them several conversions and renewals were experienced.

THE EPISTLE FROM LONDON YEARLY MEETING

Of the Religious Society of Friends

Held at Scarborough from the 20th to 27th of Fifth Month, 1925

TO FRIENDS EVERYWHERE:

DEAR FRIENDS: Two thoughts are impressed upon us in this Yearly Meeting: the greatness of the present human need, and the eternal strength and overcoming power of the Creative Life.

Man's need is great, in his spirit and in his social life. We are all burdened with the complexity of our modern existence, with the inward struggle of human souls for light, and with the vast sorrows of our social and world order. Faced with these problems and the call to build the City of God, we withdraw in spirit to the Source whence our strength and our qualification must come. For we depend upon the stream of the life of God becoming that of our own life, and thus our work becomes the work God does through us. As we serve others we ourselves become enriched with perception, knowledge and love; we "watch the Master work, and catch hints of the proper craft." (R. Browning, Rabbi Ben Ezra.)

In communion with the Universal Life we realize that there is poverty and weakness in isolation of spirit. Our communion with others grows with our communion with God; it is indeed one and the same. It is because we are His and He is ours that His service is perfect freedom. We are the servers and the served, the lovers and the loved.

The spirit of man finds itself awe-stricken in the intimate presence of the one Eternal Father, the Lord of manifold life, and sees, in Jesus, God revealed as love. The Soul of all things reveals Himself also in our own natures. We have to seek Him diligently, if we would find Him, though at times, in a moment, we are conscious that He is there. He is behind all things. Life pulsates, because He wills it. Life lived apart from Him is barren and unnatural. The measure of the inflow of the Divine is the measure of our growth and of our use in the world.

The challenge of the world's suffering comes as a mighty call to service, to the pursuit of a resolute search for truth, and to a personal and corporate dedication. In this service we must know the source of power. The Creative Life is free and boundless, but we men and women often lack the vital touch, and hence our corporate life is weak and ineffective.

Dear friends, the secret of this overcoming power lies in a first-hand experience of God, a lying open to the inflow of His Spirit. Men need to know their oneness in Him and to feel His life in theirs. In this should lie the power of our meetings. True worship is the linking of spirits in holy communion, bringing us into a place where God and men are one. We long that each of our meetings may come to feel itself to be a living communion, the spirits of all linked to all in the love of Christ. It is here, too, that we may realize the wider spiritual life, our oneness in the Spirit with those on earth and with those beyond: the souls of all in the hand of God.

A living touch with God and an inner communion with our fellows in worship are not for ourselves alone, but are to be sought for a definite purpose—to bring re-creative force to the healing of men. To be conscious of the Real Presence in our midst is to be sensible of a great liberation. As each surrenders to the Life of the meeting, waiting for the moving power of the Spirit, this point is reached. From this we can—and, if we are faithful, must—step out with confidence and joy into the life of men, and serve. There is a service required of all our members in our Meetings for Worship: it is that they may be willing to lay themselves open to God's Spirit, that He may use them in words of prayer or praise or ministry. We earnestly hope that all will seek the joy of this service.

In the wider service of daily life, our business capacity, our time, our faith, our love, are needed to grapple with the problems of poverty, of race and colour, of national hatreds, and the break-down of the economic structure causing such grievous unemployment at the present time.

In this service hardship and pain must be faced. George Fox, in Scarborough Castle, knew them both. Yet, knowing the secret of the overcoming power born of communion with the Living God, he could "walk cheerfully over the world answering that of God in everyone." (George Fox, Journal, Bicentenary Edition, Vol. 1, p. 316) In virtue of this he could give his life to the uttermost for the Kingdom of Christ his Lord.

Christ calls to men to follow Him in a fearless service. It is a service beset with difficulty, demanding courage and character. It offers men and women no easy path, but a constant sacrifice, a sharing in the broken body of the Lord, "who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame." (Hebrews xii, 2) It brings with it the joy of faith and vision, and the blessed fellowship of God and men. It offers to all who suffer and to all the wronged ones of the earth the outstretched hand of friendship, and a new life.

Jesus Christ moves forward. With Him let us move forward also, and face each difficult problem of our present civilization in the power of the fellowship of the Spirit. This is the Call for Service to all who love their fellow men.

Signed in and on behalf of London Yearly Meeting,

ROGER CLARK, Clerk.

THE FIVE YEARS MEETING OF THE FRIENDS IN AMERICA

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

TO OREGON YEARLY MEETING OF FRIENDS, NEWBERG, OREGON.

DEAR FRIENDS: That you may know something of the concerns which have rested upon those whom you have chosen to serve in the interests of the Five Years Meeting, the Executive Committee sends this informal letter of friendliness and encouragement.

A great variety of subjects pertaining to the life and testimony of the church have come before the Committee. For some months past the problem of securing a larger and more adequately trained ministry has given the Committee much thought. A number of meetings are without pastoral help and there seems little likelihood that all of the needs will be immediately met. The Committee would encourage our colleges to give more attention to the searching out and training of young people with ministerial gifts, and expresses the hope that the church as a whole will manifest such interest in her younger members that they may see in the ministry a glorious opportunity to serve Jesus Christ.

The activities of our Government in behalf of peace and world co-operation have been noted by the Committee. We have rejoiced in the desire of the President to lead us as a nation into the World Court and have been encouraged by his unwillingness to place his stamp of approval upon the holding of a Defense Test Day celebration on Armistice Day. In behalf of the church, the Committee has encouraged him to make the day one of peace and good will rather than a day for the cultivation of the war spirit.

Feeling the need both for closer contact with the various Yearly Meetings and a deeper understanding of the many lines of work which are engaging the attention and efforts of Friends of the Five Years Meeting, the Executive Committee decided at its May session to invite the Evangelistic Superintendents to attend the next meeting of the Committee in May, 1926.

Edgar T. Hole, who has given full time to the united work of the church, and Fred E. Smith, who has worked jointly with the Committee and with the Executive Committee of Indiana Yearly Meeting, report a growing sense of responsibility for and loyalty to the great common tasks which have been undertaken by Friends. They have found Friends eager to know more about the work of the Five Years Meeting, and appreciative of the difficulties as well as the achievements of the different Boards. This growing sense of solidarity and common sharing in the mission of the church to give the gospel of the grace of God as revealed by Jesus Christ to all mankind is cause for thanksgiving and hope.

The Committee has given much thought to the financial askings of the Boards. After carefully reviewing the work and needs of each Board and agency, the Committee decided to set before the church a minimum sum of $150,000 for the year 1925-26. While this sum is somewhat larger than that contributed by the church during 1924-25, the Committee felt that if every Friend would work loyally and persistently during the year and give as the Spirit of God may direct, the whole budget would be raised.

As has been said so often of late, the Religious Society of Friends stands before an open doorway of world need and world service. Peoples, races and nations believe in our simple testimony of peace, good will and redeeming grace. With out stretched hands, many are pleading with us for the words of eternal life. May we become so fully identified with the Master in His death and resurrection that with fulness of life and power we may be used of Him in ministering sacrificially to human need.

We are in love, your friends.

On behalf of the Committee,

ALLEN D. HOLE, Chairman.

WALTER C. WOODWARD, Secretary.

FIFTY-SIXTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PEACE ASSOCIATION OF FRIENDS IN AMERICA

For the Year 1924=1925

TO OREGON YEARLY MEETING OF FRIENDS:

DEAR FRIENDS: In the Annual Report of this Association submitted one year ago, attention was called to two well marked tendencies in public sentiment on questions related definitely to governmental policies respecting international peace and its alternative, international war. The tendencies referred to one year ago were, first, the growing conviction among Christians generally that the methods used in war are always and inevitably unchristian, thus leading likewise inevitably to the conclusion that a Christian citizen can neither engage in war nor lend even moral support to war; and secondly, the increasing activity of those who seem to believe that force ready to take human life on a vast scale is in reality the method of last resort in the settlement of dispute and disagreements between nations.

It seems to be true that in the twelve months since our last report was written these two tendencies just referred to have continued to gain strength, each in its own field, with the result that now the division of our citizens into two groups on the basis of these two divergent points of view has advanced to a stage which is in some respects critical. One of these phases which demands immediate, thoughtful attention and appropriate action is described in the following language in a Message to the Churches, prepared by the Commission on International Justice and Goodwill of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America. The sentences in the Message referred to are theses, viz:

"Patriotic Christians in America are facing today a crisis in their program for a warless world. While they are urging the co-operation of the United States in constructive programs and institutions for world justice, goodwill and peace, colossal preparations for war go steadily forward. The patriotism of Christians is challenged unless it repeats the shibboleths of jingoists. Confessions of loyalty to Christ and to country are suspected unless they declare the supremacy of the State."

In this crisis there is, of course, no doubt as to the position Friends will take. A group of Christians which maintained, as Friends did, their testimony against war by repeated official utterances and declarations while war hysteria was at its height, can be counted upon to remain consistent to its position in time of peace. But is this enough? Do Friends have any other and more effective method of helping to make our nation, and other nations of the world really Christian in act and deed than by passing resolutions, recording minutes, and sending memorials and petitions to governmental officers, important as all of these methods of working may be? Is not the conflict which is raging in the whole world today in very truth a conflict of ideas? Are we not really witnesses today of a struggle between truth and error, between right and wrong in which, as always, the truth if it is to prevail must be incarnate in human beings who give themselves over to the cause of Truth?—a struggle in which, after all, there are no on-lookers—a struggle in which we are all, inevitably, participants whether we think we are or not; for again in this day as in the days of old it is true that "he that is not for Me is against Me, and he that gathereth not with Me scattereth abroad."

Activities the Past Year

The activities of the Peace Association of Friends in America for the past year have included, as usual, efforts to give assistance in every way possible in furnishing information and in stimulating activity on the part of individuals and groups to the end that individual conviction on the peace question may be strengthened, and public sentiment crystallized and brought to bear in an influential way on the many problems arising for solution. Specifically, the offer of money for prizes in Peace Oratorical Contests in Friends' Colleges in the Five Years Meeting has been continued, a considerable amount of peace literature has been distributed, and an extensive correspondence has been carried on in the interest of the work.

The largest single item in our program the past year has been the expansion of the MESSENGER OF PEACE. In accordance with the general plan announced in 1922, and approved in principle by the Five Years Meeting that year, the size of page has been increased and a plan to make the issue of full magazine size in number of pages once each three months has been inaugurated. The efforts so far made have met with many words of commendation, and additions to the list of subscribers are coming in. Since support in the form of subscriptions will in the end determine whether the enlarged form adopted for this year can become permanent, Friends everywhere are urgently requested to express in this way their approval of the advanced step taken, at least until the plan inaugurated can be given a fair trial. Each Yearly Meeting is asked to make definite arrangements for securing new subscriptions within its limits.

Financial Statement

The statement of receipts and disbursements which follows, covers the five quarters ending March 31, 1925. The report is made for five quarters instead of for one year, as heretofore, because of the request made by the Executive Committee of the Five Years Meeting that the fiscal year of all Boards and agencies of the Five Years Meeting be made uniform.

Respectfully submitted,

ALLEN D. HOLE, President.

REPORT OF THE AMERICAN FRIENDS BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS For the Year Ending March 31, 1925

TO THE FRIENDS OF OREGON YEARLY MEETING:

DEAR FRIENDS: Once more it is the privilege of the American Friends Board of Foreign Missions to set before you some of the events which have transpired during the year on the Mission fields committed to the care of Friends.

For years past the way of Christ as held by Friends has been presented to the black peoples in Kenya Colony, East Africa, and in Jamaica; to the Arabic speaking people of Palestine; and to the descendents of the Spanish and Indians of Cuba and Mexico. These peoples differ in environment, cultural attainments, social status and intellectual achievement, but all are one in their need and longing for fellowship with God made possible through the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ.

That the Gospel is God's power unto salvation—a salvation which includes the physical, social, intellectual, economic and spiritual life of man—is abundantly evident from the reports which have come to hand from our missionaries. Turning to the field let us briefly review some of the activities of the year.

Africa

Of outstanding significance was the visit of Dr. Thomas Jesse Jones of the Phelps Stokes Foundation and his assistants, to Kenya Colony early in 1924. A careful study was made of the educational work being done by each Mission operating in the Colony. Largely as a result of the Commission's recommendation an Education Ordinance was passed by the Government. It provides for the advance training of supervisory teachers in a Government school, and naturally raises the educational standards of the Mission bodies. Jeremiah Segero successfully passed the entrance examinations and will represent Friends in the Government school.

While our East Africa field is restricted geographically, we are extending our influence far afield. Many of the Kavirondo young men have gone to work for the English settlers to the east and north of the Reserve. They have clamored so insistently for schools that several of the settlers have been compelled to appeal to Friends for teachers. Twenty-three of these farm schools have been taught by boys who have received their training under our missionaries. In this way hundreds of young men are being given a Christian education which will keep them from the corrupting influences of the materialistic western civilization which is rapidly sweeping in upon the life of Africa.

Within the Reserve the educational work has made steady advance. At some of the stations it is impossible to keep pace with the demands for schools. All of the village schools are evangelistic centers where most of the church members are recruited.

The Normal Training School at Kaimosi has had a successful year. More young men from the northern part of the field have attended. In time Kaimosi will be the center of the educational activities of the Mission.

The Africa Friends church has made commendable progress. New members have been added to all of the monthly meetings and a spirit of evangelism has been noticeably present among the Christians. The Annual Native Conference proved to be a time of great spiritual quickening when many made confession of sins and sought forgiveness and empowering to walk in the Jesus way of life. The native churches in the Maragoli and Lirhandia districts provide the full support of all their church and educational work. Progress along this line is reported in the other districts.

During the year 5000 booklets have been printed and 130,000 Scripture portions have been published for use in the Sunday Schools. This makes a total of 702,500 pages—some what more than last year.

In November of 1924, Dr. A. A. Bond and family, and Margaret R. Parker, a graduate nurse, sailed for Africa. Recent reports indicate that they are having many opportunities to minister both to the physical and spiritual needs of the people.

Cuba

During the year the question as to the future of Friends work in Cuba has been given earnest consideration both by the Board and by the Mission on the field. An insufficient income has made it necessary for the Board to seek ways of freeing itself of financial responsibility for some of the work which it has been undertaking.

Early in 1925, the situation was clearly set before Cuba Friends. After facing the facts, the church said, in substance, "We have been given the Gospel as taught by Friends. We have accepted it and are now Friends and cannot be anything else. We will support our own work rather than have it given to another denomination." Moved by this inspiring demonstration of loyalty and devotion on the part of Cuba Friends, the Board decided to retain a small group of American workers both in Havana and Oriente Provinces to work with the people in the schools and churches.

Jamaica

Garvism with its spirit of discontent, drought for a long period followed by torrential rains, and banana plant disease, have combined to make the work of Friends in Jamaica extremely difficult. Many people have been out of work so much of the time that they could not buy sufficient clothing to wear to church and others found it necessary to move to other places in an effort to gain a livelihood.

But the church and school activities have gone forward and many have been won to Christ and built up in the faith. In spite of economic trouble the people have been most generous in their giving, and incomplete returns show a total of more than $16,000 given for the various school and church activities.

Lyndale Home reports a successful year with a splendid group of Christian girls in attendance. All of the girls who have left the home during the past two years have made a brave and successful fight to support themselves honestly and to keep their names above reproach. This speaks much for the quality of moral and religious training which they have received in the Home.

During the year the Swift Industrial Home and School for Boys has come into legal being. When the influenza epidemic swept over Jamaica some years ago many children were left orphans. H. Alma Swift opened her home to more than twenty orphaned boys. In time she received government aid and took steps to organize the Home and School. A few months ago she turned them over to the Foreign Board to operate. This gives us two strong schools, one for boys and one for girls, in the west end of our Jamaica field.

Mexico

Mexico has gone through a presidential campaign with only slight disturbances. Progress both in the political unification of the Republic and in the division of the large estates among the people is being made. When this class becomes sufficiently large it will serve as a preventive to the recurrence of revolution with its attendant bloodshed, poverty and turmoil.

Friends have continued to support the Union Evangelical Seminary, the Union Press, the union weekly periodical El Mundo Cristiano, and the Union Bookstore. Great good has been accomplished by these union agencies. Some thirty-four young men are in training for future leadership in the Mission church. Through the bookstore and union paper a constant stream of Christian literature finds its way into all parts of the country.

During the year Rev. Andres Osuna, Executive Secretary of the National Committee on Co-operation in Mexico, has waged unrelenting warfare upon the liquor interests. He has gained the sympathetic attention of students, political leaders and labor groups, with the result that large areas of the country are going dry.

At Victoria a strong meeting ministers to the spiritual wellbeing of the people. The meeting for worship have been well attended and whole families have been brought into the church. The work is entirely self supporting and the affairs of the church are largely in the hands of Mexican Friends.

Due to poverty among the people and to the opening of a Government school the attendance in the grades at Victoria was cut to 160 pupils last September (1924). Nearly forty pupils were enrolled in the normal and high school classes.

At Matehuala the church and school work has been under the care of Fortunato and Maria Castillo. They are loyal, hard working Friends who deserve much commendation for their sacrificial labor. Although surrounded by a bigoted, intolerant people, these Friends have faithfully witnessed to the saving and sustaining power of the living Christ.

At Matamoros the church has struggled along for some months without the help of an American Missionary. A small school has been successfully conducted by some women Friends.

Mexico is a virgin field awaiting the time when Friends can enter with a sufficient force to carry forward a constructive program of evangelization.

Palestine

November 20, 1924, was a good day in the Palestine Mission's evangelistic history. On that day a copy of the Bible was taken for the first time to a Mohammedan village. Parts of the Bible have been repeated to the people, but on that day Nahmeh Shahlah read from the Book and no objection was raised.

Nahmeh Shahlah has had a wonderful year as a Bible woman among the Mohammedan villagers. She has instructed ignorant mothers in the care of their children, given medical treatments, reconciled estranged husbands and wives, and spoken words of comfort and cheer from the Gospel.

Six village schools are in operation under the care of native teachers. Many children attend daily, to sing, study, read, play and listen to Bible stories. These schools do much to overcome the fear, superstition and opposition which lurks in the minds of the peasant folk.

An average attendance of eighty-five girls has been maintained at the Ram Allah Girls' School. These girls come from Christian, Mohammedan and Jewish homes.

At the Boys' School ninety-seven pupils have been enrolled. Education for boys has gone steadily forward under the supervision of the British Government. Village schools to the number of 190 have been opened by the Department of Education. Already the effect of this improvement is manifest in the better preparation of the boys attending Mission schools. The possession of a laboratory at the Boys School has been a source of satisfaction and encouragement. Though it is but the nucleus of an adequate laboratory it is a real nucleus and already shows signs of growth through the addition of new pieces by Mr. Shaheen, the Physics teacher, and the boys. A microscope is needed and the dream of a wireless has not materialized; the cupboards are not very fine and the benches resemble baseball bleachers, but it takes greater deficiencies than these to dampen the enthusiasm of the eager young students.

China

Wars and rumors of wars has been the lot of the people in West China. No one knows how many "Generals" dominate the Province of Szechwan, but every one knows of the oppressive and unjust system of taxes which has been levied by these war lords.

With funds provided by Haverford Friends a substantial and attractive home has been erected for Margaret L. and Robert T. Simkin. Robert Simkin has taught Church History, Religious Education, and Old Testament in the University and Religious Education Institute. The Friends' Day School and Chapel on Industrial Street continue to grow, the enrollment reaching nearly seventy. A Sunday School, classes for women in the afternoon, and a night school conducted by the Young Men's Christian Association keep the premises well occupied.

The Board Meeting

The treasurer's report which was presented to the Board members in annual session revealed the encouraging fact that the receipts for the year had covered the actual expenses of the work and that a small amount had been paid on the 1923-24 indebtedness. This report was made possible only by the curtailment of certain lines of needful activity.

The budget for 1925-26 was carefully worked out and then submitted to the Executive Committee of the Five Year Meeting for review. As finally passed it stands at $95,000. With this sum the Board can care for the greater part of its actual work. Without it the work will have to be further restricted. But from the generous giving of Friends during 1924-25 the Board felt sure that it could expect to receive as much or more during the coming year.

It was a joy to the Board members to be permitted to accept Jessie Luella Hoover who graduated from Penn College in June, for service at Seaside, Jamaica. She will assist in the Happy Grove Girls' School.

R. Solomon Tice, who was accepted for service in Mexico last year but did not reach the field, plans to proceed to the field in the fall accompanied by his bride.

The Board was also made glad by the reports which indicated a growing loyalty among Friends in all parts of the Five Years Meeting to the foreign mission work of the church. To every Friend who has toiled, prayed and given for the cause abroad the Board would express its hearty thanks.

May the coming year witness a deepening of the loyalty and an outreaching to the uttermost parts of the earth with the gospel of love, hope and saving grace.

A copy of the treasurer's report is attached to this report.

AMERICAN FRIENDS SERVICE COMMITTEE

TO OREGON YEARLY MEETING OF FRIENDS:

DEAR FRIENDS: During the past year, the American Friends Service Committee has continued to help all Friends in America in rendering a bit of service to a needy world. The members of your Yearly Meeting who have been appointed to serve on this Committee have been very faithful in their duties and through them, we have received moral, spiritual and financial support. We appreciate very much the splendid way in which your Yearly Meeting has responded to the appeal for funds during these past months.

Germany—Since our last report, the child-feeding work in Germany has been turned over again to the Deutscher Zentralausschuss, an organization representing all the national charitable organizations in Germany. We were able to leave a certain amount of food in their hands, but we are glad to say that the national and local officials have seen fit to add much more to it. At the present time, over 750,000 children are being fed one warm meal a day, but we are happy to say that 82 percent of the food is coming from the Germans themselves, and 18 percent from America. This is just the reverse of the situation in 1920, when Americans provided 83 percent and the Germans 17 percent. The fact that the government has found it necessary to feed such a large number at this time is indicative of the food shortage throughout that country.

We have taken a more direct interest in Germany in anto-tuberculosis work. With some of the money remaining from the Allen Committee drive, we have purchased Cod Liver Oil, Evaporated Milk and Cocoa, and have distributed it through the German organization to children's hospitals, children's clinics, and children's tuberculosis homes. We believe that such work will result in much good, not only in continuing to protect the child life in Germany, but also as a further proof of the interest of Americans in the welfare of these people.

William Eves, 3rd, Elbert and Lieuetta Russell, Gilbert L. MacMaster, Hanns Gramm, Thomas and Lael Kelly, Anna L. Curtis, and Howard Yarnall have represented our American Committee in Germany during the past year. They have been especially interested in working, in conjunction with the English Friends, to establish centers of good-will in various parts of Germany, and in keeping in touch with the people who have expressed a desire to know more about the way of life as emphasized by the Quakers.

The German Quakers, of whom there are about 85, have formed a union or Bund, and are looking after the Friends' work in Germany. The service that American and English Friends can render, therefore, is very largely inspirational. We feel that we are already in touch with people who perhaps excel any of us in devotion and consecration to God.

France—Alfred and Grace Lowry, and for a few months Walter and Marcelle Abell, have been active in the work in France. A Friends' Meeting is held regularly in Paris at 20 Avenue Victoria, and the meeting room and offices are used practically every day of the week for meetings where subjects of national or international importance are discussed. also, we still continue to send two young women each year to work as nurses' aides in the Chalons Maternity Hospital.

Austria—In Vienna, Emma Cadbury with our English Friend, Headley Horsnail, has continued to supervise an extensive anti-tuberculosis campaign, and to encourage the development of a real Friends' center in our headquarters at 16 Singerstrasse. The variety of interests that is represented in this office is some evidence of the value of the work that is being done. Friends are giving encouragement to movements that look toward better social conditions and better understanding of national and international affairs.

Poland—Wilmer and Mildred Binns Young have been supervising our work in Poland. In conjunction with Florence Barrow, Jane Pontefract, Erling Kjekstad, and Jadwiga Bialowiejska, they have endeavored to establish a Friends' center in Warsaw, and to keep in rather close touch with the Kolpin Agricultural School recently established near Brest-Litovsk. The Agricultural School is meant to show what can be done not only for orphans but for the training of orphans who own land. The work has proved to be exceedingly difficult, but we are happy to report that great progress has been made during this past year.

Russia—The famine relief work in Russia was brought to an end about July 1, 1924. At that time, arrangements were made for the withdrawal of practically all of the American and English personnel, except for a few workers who were to remain and take up more work along reconstruction lines. Three American workers, Nancy Babb, Anna Haines and Alice Davis, all members of Friends, have expressed the feeling that they wanted to stay on in Russia for an indefinite period of time. They feel that their greatest contribution to the world in these next few years can be given through medical and general reconstruction work. We cannot speak too highly of these devoted Friends. We feel that their work is well worth while.

Geneva—Although deeply interested, the American Friends have not been able to take an active part in establishing a center of goodwill in Geneva. So far, we have been unable to find a suitable person to be our representative. Whoever goes must be well qualified to meet officials of the League of Nations, and assist in making friendly contacts with people of various nationalities who for the time being are resident in Geneva.

Mexico—No progress has been made in our work in Mexico during this past year. Again we have not been able to find a suitable person to represent us, and we feel that it is useless to undertake work of international importance until we have qualified people.

Home Service—We have continued to appeal to our young men and women, particularly college graduates, to render some service of national importance before they become absorbed in business or home life. We feel that Friends who refuse military service must go out of their way to show that they are able to do work of national importance for people in their own country. During the past year, fourteen young people have volunteered for such work.

Re-organization—The greatest thing that we have to report is the re-organization of the American Friends Service Committee on a more permanent basis. This organization was started in 1917, as a voluntary emergency organization. Since that time, however, it has become very apparent that Friends had a great opportunity to minister to the world's needs. Our ability to render service during the time of stress and strain of war has in itself served as a call to render service of national and international importance in times of peace. Consequently, the Committee has been reorganized, and we have appointed sub-committees on Foreign Service, Home Service, Interracial, a Central Peace Committee, and a small group to study the question of the interclass problem. We believe that by continuing an organization that can represent all Friends in work that is of common interest, we are making it possible for the Society of Friends to minister in a very much larger way to the needs of the world. It is our purpose to help each Yearly Meeting in America make its own testimony more effective.

We are very thankful to our Heavenly Father that during these past years your group has seen fit to join with other Friends in a bit of national and international service. We trust that in the years to come, we may be drawn much closer together, and while not excluding the things that seem of most importance to us as individuals, we may strengthen each other's hands in the greater tasks that confront us.

On behalf of the American Friends Service Committee.

WILBUR K. THOMAS, Executive Secretary.

SUMMARY OF AMERICAN EPISTLES

Epistles have been received from all the American Yearly Meetings. All express appreciation for the greetings of love and fellowship from the other Yearly Meetings. "A wholesome degree of activity along the different lines of church work, together with hopeful plans for the furtherance of God's Kingdom" pervade the epistles. Almost all express a feeling of thankfulness for the spirit of unity and harmony that have been manifest in the sessions of the different Yearly Meetings. The Yearly Meetings constitute a family group, bound together by family love and common interests. The epistle from New York feelingly expressed the concern "that the bond of love that has its roots in the power of Christ might 'be over all.' " Our English Friend, Joan Fry, defined the world's greatest need as the "ability to get together when men do not agree."

The sessions of the different Yearly Meetings were greatly helped and encouraged by visiting ministers and returned missionaries. Several Yearly Meetings express appreciation for the presence and services of so many young people. New England speaks of arranging special activities for her young people during the Yearly Meeting, such as daily groups for worship and discussion, story-telling hours for children, a Teacher Training class for Bible School leaders and a Bible School demonstration by children from neighboring Sabbath Schools.

The Yearly Meetings having colleges and preparatory schools within their limits report splendid progress. Different colleges have successfully completed endowments and with their institutions free from debt they express a faith that "these schools will be a powerful aid in training the youth in the principles of truth and righteousness and the appreciation of service and stewardship."

Evangelism and Church Extension are vital problems in the different Yearly Meetings. Progress has been made in these departments, but a lack of funds has hampered the fullest advancement. Along this line Baltimore's epistle says: "We have been impressed with the underlying need of such a consecration of life and spirit as will make all that we are and all that we have a contribution to the end of bringing in the Kingdom of God. A baptism of that spirit which was in Him who did always the things of the Father would assuredly provide the means of carrying on the work that is our portion in the mission and like fields. This spirit of evangelism would also unite us into one body in Jesus Christ, to the removal of every obstacle to that unity in purpose and action in which he prayed that His disciples might dwell."

Many of the epistles speak of the great need, which still exists, of diligence in law enforcement especially in the support of the Eighteenth Amendment.

A number of the epistles mention the fact of increased interest and zeal by fitting observances of the tercentenary of the birth of George Fox. Indiana says: "It is so important, we think, that as Yearly Meetings we stand together for the principles for which our fathers suffered in our effort to interpret and apply them, in the spirit of Christ, to present-day conditions, and that we sincerely strive to perfect our organization through which to do this world task intrusted to us."

MEMORIAL TO JESSE EDWARDS

Jesse Edwards was born near Coatsville, Indiana, February 18, 1849, and died in Newberg, Oregon, December 16, 1924.

In 1870 he was married to Mary E. Kemp, and shortly afterward they were both recorded as ministers. Ten years later they moved to Oregon, where most of their labors were carried on.

The interests of Jesse Edwards were broad and he served the state of his adoption in many ways, both in the church and out. As a minister he labored in many different fields in Oregon. He held numerous public offices of trust and responsibility. He was one of the founders of Friends Pacific Academy, from which has grown Pacific College, and was a member of the board continuously until the time of his death. He was interested in reforms and had a large influence for good in the public life of his community and his state.

Though in his later life he was far less active than he had been in his prime, he never lost his interest in the active affairs of the world. In his passing Newberg has lost one of its pioneers, the state has lost a citizen identified with the best things in its life, the Friends church has lost a minister whose labors were abundant, especially during his more active years, and Pacific College has lost one who has been identified with the institution from its very inception.

MEMORIAL TO LOUISA PAINTER ROUND

Louisa Painter, daughter of Thomas and Mary Painter, was born at Paintersville, Ohio, January 19, 1841, and died April 21, 1925. She had spent a long and useful life in the service of God and the help of humanity.

She was a teacher early in life, but about the age of twenty she was recorded a minister, and entered into a very fruitful service as an evangelist in North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, New York and other states. As a result of her service hundreds were brought to a saving knowledge of Jesus Christ.

She was married in 1883, to George F. Round, a minister in the Methodist church, and from then until the close of her life she was faithful in her work with him in his pastoral and other ministerial service, while at the same time keeping up her work in her own denomination.

Among the interests which claimed her thought and devotion few outside the actual work of preaching had a larger place than the work of reform and Christian education. She was for many years prominent in the work of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. She was greatly interested in Pacific College, which she supported with remarkable liberality in a financial way, considering her very limited means, and for which she ever was ready with prayer and wise counsel. The work of peace also had a large place in her heart, and she labored earnestly to advance that spirit which takes away the occasion of all wars.

An able minister and evangelist during her youth and well on into old age, broad in her sympathies but firm in her convictions, active in the many lines of church work as long as her strength permitted, and ever ready with prayer and wise counsel even to the last, she will be greatly missed among those who knew her best.
