While no definite action has been taken authorizing either procedure, the Monthly Meeting instructed this committee to present to the Yearly Meeting the consideration as to whether a lease of the property or authorization of its use might be granted to Newberg Monthly Meeting.

TO THE MEETING OF MINISTRY AND OVERSIGHT OF OREGON YEARLY MEETING OF FRIENDS,

From Portland Quarterly Meeting of Friends, held Sixth month 8, 1928:

This Meeting is united in asking the Yearly Meeting on Ministry and Oversight to request the Yearly Meeting to give an interpretation of the last clause of the second paragraph of Chapter III of the Discipline regarding the organization of local congregations.

35. The following recommendations were received from the Evangelistic and Church Extension Board:

TO OREGON YEARLY MEETING:

The Evangelistic and Church Extension Board in a meeting held Sixth month 14, 1928, unanimously decided to report to the Yearly Meeting that we favor the proposition sent from Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting, and pledge ourselves to the task of securing an Evangelistic Superintendent, and of being able to propose to the Yearly Meeting next year the name of a suitable person to serve in that capacity, and in the interim, we accept the following suggestion coming from the Executive Committee of the Board, namely, that we request the Yearly Meeting to empower the Board to send out some member of the Board to look after the work in the different parts of Yearly Meeting when need arises, the Board to bear the expenses of such person from its funds, and to provide for the care of his work while he is away from it.

On behalf of the Board,

MARIETTA LEWIS, Secretary.

At a meeting of the Evangelistic Board Sixth month 13, 1928, a committee was appointed to formulate a proposition in regard to the relation of the Board with the Christian Worker's League of the Yearly Meeting. Later the following proposition was submitted, and accepted and directed forwarded to the Yearly Meeting for approval:

The Christian Worker's League, which came into being last Yearly Meeting, has functioned acceptably during the past year. It has served to unite the common interests of our young people who are called to Christian service.

Its creation has presented several questions for solution, among them that of vital and sympathetic coordination with some department of the church that would sponsor its action and advise in its program of activities. The nature of its objectives naturally bring it under the supervision of the Evangelistic and Church Extension Board of the Yearly Meeting.

We feel therefore that there should be an advisor from the Evangelistic Board appointed to meet with the Executive Committee of the League and in the event that the Yearly Meeting secures a Superintendent, that he should serve in that capacity.

We further suggest that no work be undertaken within the limits of the Quarterly Meetings without the approval of the Quarterly Meeting Superintendent or the Evangelistic Board. Work outside the Quarterly Meetings should be approved by the Advisor or by the Board.

By direction of the committee appointed at the meeting of the Board, Sixth month 13, 1928.

CHESTER A. HADLEY, Chairman.

These recommendations were approved by the meeting.

36. The subject of Foreign Missions was the order at this time. The following report of the Board was read:

REPORT OF FOREIGN MISSION BOARD

The following is a summary of the five Quarterly Meetings of Oregon Yearly Meeting. The report of Boise Valley Monthly Meeting was lost in the mail and not included:

The interest in missionary work has been very satisfactory during the past year, considering the fact that we have had no definite progressive missionary plan.

The missionary committee at Springbrook had charge of the mid-week prayer meeting once each month. Nearly all of the Sunday Schools have some sort of missionary information or stories once each month. There has been a marked increase in missionary book reading. Springbrook reported 50 books read, which is the largest number reported by any meeting.

Salem Quarter reports two mission boxes sent at a value of $35, besides gifts to the missionaries. Newberg Quarter sent one box, value not given, and three gifts to missionaries valued at $25. Boise Valley Quarter sent one box valued at $5.00 and a gift to missionaries not valued. First Church at Portland sent Christmas gifts to Chilson, value not given.

Matilda Haworth of Central American Mission visited two societies in Boise Valley Quarter, in October, 1927. A large number of women from the different missionary societies of the Quarter, joined with Boise Friends at Boise, in observing the annual day of prayer for missions.

The various Christian Endeavor societies have a regular practice of having a missionary meeting once each month.

J. HARLAN SMITH, Chairman

EFFIE R. TAMPLIN, Secretary.

The program was opened with a duet by Mrs. Frost and Rachel Lundquist. A short pageant was put on by some Newberg young people, which gave much food for thoughtful consideration.

Allison H. Rogers, a returned missionary, gave an interesting address on India.

Arthur B. Chilson arriving late had only time to bring greetings.

37. Meeting adjourned to meet at 2 p.m.

SIXTH DAY—2:00 P. M.

The meeting convened according to adjournment and settled into a short season of devotion.

The Minutes of the preceding session were read and approved.

38. We were glad to note the attendance of Arthur B. Chilson, missionary on furlough from the African Field, in which he has served for the past twenty-six years.

39. The following report was made by the Permanent Board: It was approved by the meeting.

REPORT OF PERMANENT BOARD

The Permanent Board of Oregon Yearly Meeting met in a called session at Newberg, Oregon, on March 17, 1928, with eleven members present, to consider matters concerning property of the Yearly Meeting in Seattle, Washington.

The following resolution was passed:

Resolved, that the Trustees be authorized to borrow money (not to exceed $1000.00) to pay off claims against said property. Also that they sell this property and sign deed for same, if suitable sale can be made. I. G. Lee is asked to go to Seattle and make final settlement.

A. R. MILLS, Clerk.

The Permanent Board of Oregon Yearly Meeting met in regular session, June 14, 1928, with fourteen members present.

The Trustees of the meeting report that they have borrowed $900.00 and paid off claims against the Seattle property.

The sale of the property was considered at this time, and we recommend that the property be sold to Pauline Knight for $3000.00.

Also a request comes from Lorenzo White of Scotts Mills, for a quit-claim deed to property in Scotts Mills. In order to remove a cloud from title to such property, we recommend that he be given such deed.

40. A continued report from the Representatives was read and approved:

REPORT OF REPRESENTATIVES

The Representatives recommend that the request of the Evangelistic Board to take an offering on Sunday afternoon for the purchase of a tent be granted.

The Representatives return the communication from Newberg Monthly Meeting to the Yearly Meeting and suggest that it be referred to the Board of Trustees, this Board to report to at a future Session. The Representatives wish to express their sympathy with the request if it can be worked out satisfactorily.

Having considered a request from the Evangelistic Board, the Representatives recommend that this Board be allowed to take an offering on Sunday morning of the Yearly Meeting, and in the local Monthly Meetings throughout the year, as need may arise.

Having considered a request from the Christian Endeavor Executive Committee, the Representatives recommend that the Yearly Meeting allow the Christian Endeavorers the privilege of taking an offering on Saturday evening, this money to be used in its general work.

41. The Epistles from Canada, New York, Baltimore, and New England Yearly Meetings were read.

42. The Department of Evangelistic and Church Extension had charge of the afternoon program.

The following report was read by the President of the Board:

REPORT OF THE EVANGELISTIC AND CHURCH EXTENSION BOARD

It is a feeling of humility in the service of our Lord, and gratitude to Him for His blessings during the past year that the Board presents the following report:

The work of the Board in the various Quarterly Meetings has been under the supervision of the Quarterly Meeting Superintendents, and they will supplement this report by such remarks as they deem necessary.

A meeting of the Board was held at the time of the Ministerial Conference in Salem, and frequently at other intervals during the year, the Executive Committee has met and directed the activities of the Board, by correspondence and personal conference with the leaders in the various meetings.

During all, or a portion of the year, the Board from the funds at its disposal has aided in the pastoral support at the following meetings and places where services are held: Boise, Melba, Valley Mound, Quilcene, North East Tacoma, Kelso, Sherwood, Middleton, Marion, Rosedale, and Sprague River.

The pastors at these places have been as follows:

Boise: Wm. J. Murphy.

Melba: A. Clark Smith.

Valley Mound: Herman H. Macy.

Quilcene: Kenneth Eichenberger and M. F. Crosbie.

N. E. Tacoma: Marjorie Brown Votaw.

Kelso: Violet Littlefield Bolliger.

Sherwood and Middleton: Lewis C. and Myrtle M. Russell.
Marion and Rosedale: Arthur J. and Elizabeth Haldy
Sprague River: Olive M. Birch.

Soon after last Yearly Meeting, Inez E. Batchelor and Nettie C. Springer held some meetings at La Grande, Oregon. These meetings were a blessing to the people, but it did not seem wise to start a work there at that time. However, there are a number of Friends in and near La Grande and there may be opportunity to do some further work there. Boise Monthly Meeting has erected a new church building at a cost of about $7000.00.

In November the Board sent Chester A. Hadley and Frederick J. Cope to confer with Friends at Quilcene relative to the pastoral work of that meeting. Following the termination of the services of Kenneth Eichenberger, M. F. Crosbie has served the meeting as pastor. This field needs the careful consideration of the Board, relative to the future policy of our work there.

The out-station in North East Tacoma has been under the pastoral care of Marjorie Brown Votaw. The reports from there show an average Sunday attendance of fifty. The Superintendent of Tacoma Quarterly Meeting reports many places in their field open for Friends work. A new meeting has been established by Tacoma Quarterly Meeting at Bethany, in Seattle.

Violet Littlefield Bolliger has had the pastoral care of the out-station in Kelso, and has devoted her entire time to the work. The attendance and interest in this work has gradually increased under her care. The Board considers it unfortunate that the building there was placed in the outskirts of the town, and believes a building located more centrally would be much more conducive to the development of our work. Frederick J. Cope conducted a short series of meetings during February, and the Chairman of the Board visited the field during the time these meetings were being held. There was an attendance at that time of from forty to fifty. It is our opinion that the time has not yet come for the establishment of a Monthly Meeting, but if a satisfactory local organization could be effected, it would be a benefit to the work.

Portland Quarterly Meeting has also conducted an out-station at Vancouver, Washington, during the year, Ida J. Lee for part of the year, and Denver Hedrick, following her, had pastoral care of this work.

Last July, Frederick J. Cope and the Chairman of the Board visited our work at Sprague River on the Klamath Indian Reservation. The attendance at the services we held were between 50 and 55. A few weeks later, Inez E. Batchelor and Nettie E. Springer held a series of meetings there.

The report for the year shows an average Sunday attendance between twenty-five and thirty.

The Board is conducting negotiations with the Methodist Church relative to the future of this work, but these negotiations have not yet reached a stage where we have any definite report to make regarding them. The needs of this field are great and the difficulties are many.

Title to the property in Seattle of the former Rainier Heights Meeting has been vested by the Court in Seattle in Oregon Yearly Meeting, and the property is now under the care of the Yearly Meeting Trustees.

Evangelistic Services have been held in various meetings by the pastors and by such persons as the meetings have called. Any further report of these services will be made by the Quarterly Meeting Superintendents.

Many of our young people, during the past year, have helped and led in services, in churches, school houses, Sunday schools, and other outposts.

In our young people, the Yearly Meeting has a great asset. And we need to devote ourselves earnestly to the task of assisting in the development, direction, conserving, and use of this asset.

The Board recognizes the need for a Yearly Meeting Superintendent, and also recognizes the care that needs to be exercised in selecting a suitable person for this position. We earnestly and prayerfully pledge ourselves to the task of seeking the proper person and earnestly solicit the prayers of the entire Yearly Meeting for our guidance.

Sumbitted on behalf of the Board,

OLIVER WEESNER, Chairman.

The Statistical report appears in the appendix.

The report was supplemented by verbal reports given by the Quarterly Meeting Superintendents.

43. Rev. M. C. Clark, pastor of the Free Methodist Church, and Rev. C. H. Hopkins, pastor of the Nazarene Church, Newberg, Oregon, were introduced and responded in a few well chosen words.

44. The Statistical Report was read and appears in the appendix.

45. Dolly Snow, a representative, requested that she be excused from further attendance on this meeting. The request was granted.

46. The meeting adjourned to meet at 10:00 a.m., Seventh Day.

SEVENTH DAY—10:00 A. M.

47. The meeting convened according to adjournment and we were led in earnest prayer by Jennie Clinton.

The minutes of the previous session were read and with a correction, approved.

48. Isaac Stanley from Seattle Monthly Meeting, Indiana Yearly Meeting, was recognized at this time.

49. Reports on the State of Society from the different Quarterly Meetings were read and the clerk was directed to prepare a summary of the reports for printing in the minutes.

50. The report of the Nominating Committee was read, approved, and appears in the Directory.

51. The subject of Peace and Arbitration claimed the attention of the meeting.

The following report was read from the Superintendent of the Service Committee:

REPORT OF SERVICE COMMITTEE

During the year the committee made an appeal for clothing and funds to be sent to Philadelphia. The amount of clothing received was not sufficient to justify a freight shipment, consequently it was turned over to the County Health Service of Yamhill county. Something over thirteen dollars in money was sent to the support of the American Friends Service Committee.

The committee also co-operated with other committees in arousing opposition to the proposed big navy bill. It is with a profound sense of thankfulness that we note the utter

MILP. ELLIOTT, Superintendent

Attention was called to a few important facts from the report of the American Friends Service Committee and the meeting instructed the recording clerk to cull extracts from this report to print in the minutes. These are printed in the appendix.

The report of the Superintendent of Peace was read and approved as follows:

REPORT OF PEACE SUPERINTENDENT

The progress of the work for world peace during the past year should have a two-fold effect upon the advocates of peace, and especially upon Friends. It should encourage us, and it should add to our determination to push the battle for peace with still greater determination and persistency as the opposition to the progress of peace increases, as it certainly will.

Two notable achievements have come about during the year which are of interest to the promoters of peace.

Our Relations with Mexico

The first of these has to do with our relationship with Mexico, our neighbor to the south. America was nearer than most of us realize to a war which would have been disgraceful and dishonorable, and which might have been fraught with far more serious consequences than could be anticipated merely from the size and strength of Mexico. The protest of hundreds of thousands of our people against hostile operations against our neighbor and their demand that our difficulties be adjusted by other means than force, lead not only to the averting of a real war but to the development of the best feeling which has existed between the United States and Mexico for many years.

The Big Navy Bill

The other achievement of the peace advocates of America which is most notable came about through the protest on the proposed Big Navy Bill. The regular naval appropriation bill, which provided for the construction of warships for replacement purposes, went through Congress without opposition; but in addition to this, the Big Navy Bill originally provided for seventy-one new ships, but made no provision concerning the time when these were to be completed, and gave the President power to terminate or hold up the building program in case of a successful naval conference.

When the bill went to Congress, however, a section was added in the House providing that all of these vessels should be started within five years and completed within eight years, and taking from the president the power to hold up building operations in case of a successful naval conference.

This proposal for the launching, by America, of the greatest naval building program ever inaugurated by any country in a time of peace, aroused such a storm of protest from all parts of the country, a protest in which Friends had a large share, that the number of ships proposed to be built was cut from seventy-one to sixteen. Though the bill as thus reduced passed the House, it was placed so far down the program in the Senate that action was not had upon it, and the Senate adjourned with the bill unpassed.

It will come before the next Congress, however, and Friends should be ready to know the facts and to act upon them in such a way that America shall not be the leader in another race of armaments which will lead us straight toward another and a worse world war.

The Outlawry of War

Another matter which has commanded the keenest interest on the part of peace advocates is the proposal for the renunciation of war, in which our own country is now in negotiation with other governments. The movement was started by a proposal by Aristide Briand of France, that the United States and France outlaw war as between these two countries. Secretary of State Kellogg of the United States suggested that the proposition be enlarged to include other countries; and a multi-lateral treaty for the outlawry of war is now being considered by the great powers, and has already been approved by some of them. This treaty will come before the Senate at its next session, and they may need much encouragement if they are to give our country the place of leadership we ought to have in the Outlawry of War.

Work of the Year

The actual peace work done during the year in Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends differs very widely in different meetings. The reports indicate that some meetings have done absolutely nothing; while some have shown a very commendable degree of activity and not a little originality in planning and carrying out their work for peace.

Only two monthly meetings reported that the peace committee met at the beginning of the year to plan their work. It is not to be wondered at that so little was done in some places, for nothing was planned. Every committee should meet at the beginning of the year and make definite plans for the year's peace activities.

In all, nineteen meetings were held during the year in the immediate interest of peace. As nearly as can be judged from the Quarterly Meeting reports, about half the meetings held no peace gatherings throughout the year. Of the peace meetings held, addresses on some phase of the peace question constituted a main feature in most of them, though there were some programs, some conferences, and some contests in oratory, essay writing, etc; and two Sunday Schools report a ten minutes talk each month on the subject of peace.

A total of thirty-five sermons or addresses were given on some phase of the peace question within the year. This is an average of more than one address for each monthly meeting, but some meetings reported that there had been no particular mention of peace throughout the year.

There are forty-seven subscribers to the Messenger of Peace; but more than half of these subscriptions are provided to the pastors of the various meetings by the peace department of the Yearly meeting. There are thirty copies of other periodical peace literature reported. The Bulletin of the National Council for Prevention of War has the largest circulation, followed by the Christian Century and The World Tomorrow. One meeting reports that the only peace literature taken in the meeting is the Messenger of Peace which the Yearly Meeting committee sends to the pastor.

A total of $62.25 has been raised in the Yearly meeting for the work of peace. Most meetings have made no financial contribution to the cause.

Twenty-one young Friends have during the year participated in contests, in orations, debating, or essay writing, on phases of the peace question.

So far as reports were made, only one member of the Yearly Meeting is engaged in active military service.

It is impossible to make an accurate report of the amount of peace literature which has been distributed. The reports would seem to indicate somewhere between 5,000 and 10,000 pages. In other than strictly denominational channels our members have had a hand in distributing very much more than this, however.

Outside of the work reported among Friends, the superintendent has given nearly a score of peace addresses, in Utah, Idaho, Washington and Oregon.

Suggestions for Peace Work

Among the suggestions made by Monthly meeting and Quarterly meeting peace leaders are following:

- Special prayer for the League of Nations.
- Special prayer for the nations now engaged in war, as China.
- More interest on the part of members of Friends meetings in the subject of peace.
- An appropriation for the peace committee of the Monthly meetings.
- Active cooperation of Friends with other peace organizations.
- The taking of some periodical dealing especially with the subject of peace by every Quaker family.
- Emphasis on the fact that the peace message is a vital part of the gospel message.
- Peace and harmony among our own meetings and among our own members.
- More Bible study on the subject of peace.
- More peace talks and exercises in the Bible School.
- More frequent mention of and emphasis on Friends' position in regard to war, in all of our local meetings, especially for the benefit of young people.

Various Peace Activities

A number of ways for advancing peace were used in different Quarters which it is not easy to tabulate. The following are worthy of mention:

Friends of the Yearly Meeting quite generally protested to the President, the Secretary of State, the Secretary of War, Senators, and Congressmen against the Big Navy Bill, our early attitude toward Mexico, and intervention in Nicaragua. One monthly meeting and one Quarterly meeting registered these protests on behalf of the membership, and a large number of individual letters were written.

Two bronze medal contests were held on the subject of the "Outlawry of War," emphasizing peace from a Biblical standpoint. One of these programs was given in three places. Two bronze medal winners joined with neighboring towns in a silver medal peace contest, won by Lela A. Jones of Star, Idaho.

Two books recommended by the Yearly Meeting's committee were placed in Monthly meeting libraries, and others were put into active circulation.

Peace literature has been furnished to local papers and published by them.

Letters have been written to President Coolidge and others seeking to stimulate them in their work for amenity among nations.

A protest was sent from one meeting to the Daughters of the American Revolution, protesting against their attitude in support of militarism.

Various members of our meetings are members of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, Councils for World Friendship, State Council for Prevention of War, etc.

One meeting has a peace message in the church bulletin each week.

Envelopes carrying peace slogans have been used by some as a means to counteract the advertising by the War Department in the cancellation of stamps.

Strong emphasis was laid on the getting of the peace message to children, for the development of a new generation of peace lovers.

One peace essay contest was held for students from the sixth grade to high school seniors. Local prizes amounting to $10 were given. Some splendid work was done by those who participated, though there were not so many of these as there should have been.

One peace committee had charge of a booth at the Pacific College community fair. It was well decorated with peace posters, and attracted considerable attention and interest. A large amount of peace literature was distributed from this booth, much of it going to people outside the Society of Friends.

Two Suggestions for the Coming Year.

There are two things that ought to be emphasized as we look forward toward the work of the coming year.

The first of these is the necessity to keep ourselves genuinely intelligent on the peace question. To this end we need to receive informational literature.

In the second place we should as Friends push earnestly our own efforts for peace. With this so distinctly a part of our message to our world, it would seem that any Friends meeting which permitted a year to go by without some special emphasis on peace could hardly be considered as carrying on its real Quakerly obligations.

Fuller association than most of us have known with other lovers of peace will contribute to both these ends. During the year in Oregon, friends of peace have organized the Oregon Council for Prevention of War. Membership in this organization at present costs only fifty cents per year, and half of the membership fee pays the subscription to the Bulletin of the National Council for Prevention of War.

The next war awaits the world, and we shall come to it unless we find the path to peace. Every Friend should do his part in advancing the interests of this cause which has always been so dear to the Quaker heart.

Respectfully submitted,

LEVI T. PENNINGTON, Peace Superintendent.

52. A committee was appointed consisting of Chase L. Conover, Levi T. Pennington and Charles C. Haworth to take under consideration the subject of Life Imprisonment as suggested by George N. Hartley in an issue of the American Friend, and to which the author has called our attention, requesting the consideration of the subject. This committee was directed to report at the session Second day.

53. The following report was read and approved:

The committee appointed on interpretation of Discipline Part II, Chapter III, second paragraph, last sentence, recommends the following interpretation:

Inasmuch as the first paragraph and the first sentence of the second, evidently apply to the organization of a local meeting on the basis comparable to that formerly known as the Preparative Meeting, it appears that the last sentence, under question, is superfluous, except as it may be interpreted to authorize a Monthly Meeting to establish a business meeting for a particular congregation when its local interests make such meeting advisable; such organization to consist of members and actively supporting non-members.

We therefore recommend that it be so interpreted.

54. The Ministerial Association requested the time of the meeting of that Association at Yearly Meeting be placed on the Provisional Program at 4:15 p.m. on Sixth Day.

The request was granted.

55. The following communication from the Five Years Meeting was read:

EDWARD MOTT, Clerk of Oregon Yearly Meeting,
Portland, Oregon.

Dear Friend:

At its sessions held October 18-24, 1927, the Five Years Meeting directed that a copy of the following Minute be sent to Oregon Yearly Meeting:

"Oregon Yearly Meeting not having a delegation here, this Meeting regrets the withdrawal of that body from our membership. We hope and pray that that Yearly Meeting may be blessed of God in its Christian work."

On behalf of the Five Years Meeting,

WALTER C. WOODWARD, General Secretary.

The meeting adjourned to meet at 2:00 p.m.

SEVENTH DAY—2:00 P.M.

56. The meeting convened according to adjournment.

The Minutes were read and approved.

57. The Christian Endeavor Union requested that the nomination of the Quarterly Meeting Superintendents of that department be made at the time of the Christian Endeavor rallies and reported to the Quarterly Meetings, in order that the nominations may come in the regular order.

58. The Permanent Board recommends that the Yearly Meeting put a new roof on the Yearly Meeting house at Newberg, Oregon. This matter was referred to the Trustees of the Yearly Meeting in cooperation with the Trustees of the local meeting, with power to act, and also they are empowered to borrow the money for payment of the same.

59. The following recommendation was presented by the Foreign Mission Board. The meeting sincerely and prayerfully approved the recommendation.

TO OREGON YEARLY MEETING:

In view of the fact that, particularly during recent months, the blessings of the Lord has been upon the work in Africa, in a very remarkable way, in that many hundreds of natives are being definitely saved and sanctified, and

Whereas, in view of the fact that the Board of Foreign Missions has no definite program for future activities ready to present, at this time, and

In view of the fact that the Board has unquestioning confidence in the faithfulness, orthodoxy, and spirituality of Arthur B. Chilson and his wife, Edna Chilson; and of Jefferson W. Ford, and his wife, Helen F. Ford, therefore:

The Board of Foreign Missions is united in proposing to the Yearly Meeting that we undertake the responsibility of supporting Arthur B. Chilson and family, during the coming year, to the amount of $1900.00, this Yearly Meeting to be relieved of the payment of the proportionate part of this amount for any part of the year, during which, if any, they may be performing service for others than Oregon Yearly Meeting;

And the Board of Foreign Missions is united in proposing that the Yearly Meeting undertake the responsibility of providing, during the year, the amount of $1900.00 to be applied on the expense of the transportation of Jefferson W. Ford and family to return to the field in East Africa, which is under the management of the American Friends Board of Foreign Missions, none of which is to be forwarded to that Board until definitely needed for the purpose for which given;

And the Board of Foreign Missions is united in proposing to the Yearly Meeting that we provide $150.00 to be used to meet the transportation expenses of Arthur B. Chilson from Wichita, Kansas to Newberg, Oregon, to attend our Yearly Meeting this year. Making a total budget of $3,950.00

We further suggest that the Yearly Meeting ask the American Friends Board of Foreign Missions, through its office at Richmond, to send, each three months to our Board of Foreign Missions an itemized statement of receipts and expenditures in connection with these funds;

And that any surplus funds which may accumulate may remain in the treasury until Yearly Meeting next year, unless distributed with the approval of at least two-thirds of the members of this Board.

We further suggest that this program be presented to the Executive Committee of the American Friends Board of Foreign Missions, through its President, and that when approved, it becomes our program of Foreign Missions for the coming year.

We, the Board of Foreign Missions, pledge ourselves to make an earnest and prayerful effort to present to the Yearly Meeting next year, for its consideration, a challenging program for the future foreign mission activities of the Yearly Meeting.

Respectfully submitted,

J. HARLAN SMITH, Chairman.

EFFIE R. TAMPLIN, Secretary.

60. The subject of Education claimed the attention of the meeting. The following report was read by the Superintendent of Education. It was approved:

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF EDUCATION

There has been throughout the year a good degree of interest among our members in the education of our children and young people. Our own schools, as will be shown in the reports of the President of Pacific College and of the Principal of Greenleaf Academy, have maintained a high standard of scholarship and of Christian life. It is our earnest desire to safeguard in every possible way our children and young people during the very impressionable years of their school life. With this end in view, we should continually emphasize whenever possible the study of the Bible.

It is very encouraging to note the increasingly large number of our young people who are in special training for definite Christian work. This should mean, if Friends in the Northwest are faithful, the winning of many souls for Christ, and the enlarging of our work for Him in this great field.

Sunnyside meeting reports one service conducted by some of the students from Pacific College. The Sunday afternoon service of the last Portland Quarterly Meeting was conducted by the educational department.

Respectfully submitted,

RUSSEL LEWIS, Superintendent.

A short address on Christian Education was given by Tilman Hobson. The following report from Greenleaf Academy was read:

REPORT OF GREENLEAF ACADEMY

The results of a school-year's work cannot be estimated at its close by the opinion of one person or by the marks on scholastic records. Life alone is the tester of the skill, carefulness, effort and character that has been developed or encouraged in an individual during school terms. The purpose of Greenleaf Academy has been character development as well as the maintenance of a high scholastic standard and we feel that the efforts during the past year have been directed towards these ends.

The religious environment consisting of the Greenleaf Friends Church and others in the neighborhood, and of the revival efforts held at Nampa and Caldwell by Dr. Bulgin and party, at Huston by Rev. Beskin and Rev. Root, and in Greenleaf by Myrl Huff, has led to the conversion of many of the students and has been an aid to others in developing spiritually.

Financially, this has been the best of recent years for the Academy, partly because of an enlarged enrollment and an increase in tuition, and also, because of the prompt cooperation of the supporters of the institution and a generally prosperous condition throughout the community. The enrollment was thirty-seven, the first semester, and thirty-six the second.

The parents and patrons are looking forward to a very successful year with President Roberts again at the head of the Academy and Miss Olive Terrell and Miss Mildred Choate as his assistants, and prospects for a larger enrollment and a more prosperous year are bright.

We expect and pray for a happy continuation of the essential work at Greenleaf Academy.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN DEAN.

Respectfully Submitted,

OLIVER WEESNER, Treas. Pacific College.

The following report of the President of Pacific College was read and approved:

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT OF PACIFIC COLLEGE

In presenting this report at the close of the thirty seventh year of the work of Pacific College, acknowledgement is made of the blessing of God and of the faithfulness of many friends of the institution. The year has been one of success along all the lines of activity for which Pacific College stands. A faithful and efficient faculty with an earnest and industrious student body have completed a year's work which has been among the best for many years. The largest class for more than a score of years was graduated in 1928.

Scholastic Work of the Year

In the work of the curriculum, the year just closed has been more than usually successful. There are always a few in any student body who do not fully appreciate their opportunities for intellectual development and who are always for this reason a problem. But there are never many of this class in the Pacific College student body, and this year there have been fewer than usual.

At the Commencement exercises, June 13, the following were granted their degree; Bachelor of Arts—Marie Hester, Lolita Z. Hinshaw, Lois Jones, Mary Mills, Martha Mueller, May Pearson, Edna Ralston, and Retha Tucker; Bachelor of Science—Mildred E. Choate, Wendell Hutchens, and Edris Raycraft. The highest honors of the class were shared by Mildred E. Choate and Lolita Z. Hinshaw.

The Junior prize was awarded to Rosa Aebischer.

The J. Wilbur Elliott Memorial Award was given to Ralph Choate, for the greatest contribution in Christian life and service made by any Freshman during the year. This award, given by the family of Milo P. and Olive Elliott, is determined by a committee consisting of three members of the faculty and a representative of each of the three upper classes of the college.

Four students received the Commercial diploma, Dorothy Chenevert, Wilma Cornell, Juliet Godwin, and Hallie King.

There were ten members of the Academy graduating class as follows—Edward Baker, William Coleman, Charles Crane, Alice Crozer, Juliet Godwin, Beryl Hale, Della Hanville, Mabel Kendall, Raymond Neal, and Donald Schmeltzer. The Pacific College scholarship, given, as are all Pacific College honors, on the basis of scholarship and character, was awarded to Beryl Hale.

Faculty Changes

Pacific College has been particularly fortunate in having long service from most of the members of its teaching force. Nine of those who have been on the faculty during the past year have been serving the college for more than ten years each, and the average term of the eighteen members of the force is more than nine and a half years of active service on the Pacific College faculty.

This year there is a larger change in the force than usual, though part of it is only temporary. Floyd W. Perisho, professor of Chemistry, Dwight W. Michener, Professor of Economics and Sociology, and Hubert E. Armstrong, instructor in History and assistant in athletics, have all been granted a year's leave of absence for graduate work.

Eva L. Miles, Professor of German and French, Esther Binford, instructor in English, director of Physical Training for women and faculty resident in the dormitory for women, and Leona Watland, Librarian, have resigned and the resignations have been reluctantly accepted by the College Board.

Emmett W. Gulley has been secured as a new member of the faculty, to take entire charge of the work of Physical Education. During 1928-29, he will teach the work that is given in the department of Sociology and Economics, during the year's absence of Professor Michener. Emmett Gulley is a graduate of Pacific College in the class of 1917, with a master's degree from the T. Wister Brown Graduate School of Haverford College, and has a year's additional work in the Hartford Theological Seminary. He has been for the past four years field superintendent of New York Yearly Meeting of Friends, and was for five years in mission work in Mexico.

Dorothy Verplank has been secured as the successor of Esther Binford. She will take the English teaching, the dormitory work, and the work in the Physical education for women. Dorothy Verplank is a graduate of Whittier College with a year of graduate work in the T. Wister Brown Graduate School of Haverford College and with experience in the women's dormitory at Whittier.

Helen Hester Wood, a graduate of Pacific College in the class of 1924, with a year's work later in Friends University and with three years of successful teaching experience, will teach the work in college chemistry the coming year during the absence of Professor Perisho, and will also assist in the Academy.

Horace C. Terrell, who did his preparatory work and most of his College work in Pacific College, but who took his degree from Earlham College and has graduate work since, with several years of successful teaching experience, will handle some teaching in college and academy and will assist in the work in Physical Education while going on with some advanced study himself. He will also have charge of the men's dormitory.

The vacancies left by the resignations of Eva Miles, Professor of German and French, and Leona Watland, Librarian, have not yet been filled.

Religious Work of the Year

The usual lines of Christian activity have been carried on during the year with perhaps more than the usual vigor, at least along certain lines. Through the deputation work of the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A., eighty preaching services were held during the year, not only among Friends but among others, and one regular service of Sunday School and Church was maintained throughout the year. Two week-end conferences and two evangelistic meetings were held, and a meeting of the deputation group was held each week, with an average attendance of eighteen. The Christian Association meetings were held with their usual large attendance, and helpful messages were brought by students, faculty members, and ministers and other Christian leaders outside of the College community, and helpful services were maintained by the College student leaders themselves. Bible study, mission study, and the other usual activities of the College Christian Associations have been maintained, and in many ways the students have made helpful contributions not only in the Newberg meetings but over a much wider field.

The students and faculty co-operated whole-heartedly in the services of Passion Week, conducted in the Friends Church by the pastor, Gervas A. Carey.

The Christian work of the college constitutes so large a part of the activities that a detailed account of it would be far too long for this report.

Death of Evangeline Martin

The college suffered the loss, during the past year, of Evangeline Martin, who has been a member of the College Board for many years and for most of her long term was secretary of the Board, though for years before her death she was incapacitated by illness. She maintained a lively interest in the work of the Church and College, and especially in the young people, to the very end of her life.

Financial Progress

Ever since the college received its recognition in 1925, as one of the standard institutions of the state, it has been known that we must soon add at least $100,000 to our endowment funds. The College management are now inaugurating a campaign for this additional endowment, the effort being put on as a campaign for a $100,000 banquet to be given in Portland during the month of September. The plan is to sell 1,000 banquet tickets at $100 each.

The closing part of the financial solicitation is to take place in Portland under the leadership of Eric V. Hauser, proprietor of the Multnomah Hotel and head of many other Portland business enterprises. But previous to the campaign in Portland must be the solicitation among the people of Newberg and vicinity and among Friends throughout the Yearly Meeting. Pacific College, is very largely a local enterprise for those who are not Friends, and there should be a keener interest and a larger measure of support from Newberg and vicinity than from any other quarter among non-Friends; but among Friends, Pacific College is not in any sense of the word a local institution, and the entire Yearly Meeting should get back of its college and support this campaign to the limit.

Very little solicitation has been done in Portland, but it has been fruitful. The campaign in Newberg is now on and has already brought in more than $5,000, of which those directly connected with the college, student body, faculty, and board, have contributed nearly $2,000. Eastern Friends have already contributed nearly $2,000 so that $8,000 is already assured on this $100,000 campaign, in addition to a conditional contribution bringing the total up to $20,000.

If the Friends of the Yearly Meeting will display the same devotion to the college that has been shown in other years, this campaign will succeed beyond question, and the college can be assured of a permanent place among the Quaker institutions of higher education in America.

Facing the Future

We live in a world of permanence and change. Outward things are being transformed with almost unbelievable rapidity, and the world of things in which we live differs from the world of things into which we were born more widely than the world in which Methuselah was born differed from the world as it was when he died. The world of thought is also changing with a rapidity that is almost unbelievable and sometimes disconcerting. But human nature is not to be transformed over night by a scientific discovery or the development of a new and revolutionary method in industry. The human heart must receive true spiritual life through the new birth or it will continue, in the 20th century as in every other, "dead in trespasses and in sins." Always the times of readjustment are "the times that try men's souls," whether these readjustments are social, political, economic, intellectual, or spiritual. Advancement in intellect makes certain intellectual readjustments as inevitable as the auto, the radio, and the aeroplane make inevitable readjustments of another sort.

Our young people are going to make some of these intellectual readjustments, whether we like it or not. They may make them in an environment that is non-Christian, and that does not even have reverence for the whole truth, to say nothing of regard for the half truth which we have known. Or these adjustments may be made in an environment that is reverent and positively Christian, where the truths of History and Science, Sociology and Mathematics, Philosophy and Ethics, and the other things which constitute a liberal education, are taught with a reverent recognition that all truth is God's truth; and with the consciousness that not all reality can be weighed in scales, measured with a tape line, or scrutinized under the microscope. The Christian College has for its task the opening of a larger world of truth to the expanding mind of young men and young women, while at the same time maintaining those basic things of morality and religion, of Christianity and Christian righteousness, which constitute always the real concern of the church.

Pacific College is trying to carry out the motto on its seal, "Christianity and Culture;" to give what its slogan expresses, "A liberal education under the best Christian influence." For the achievement of this end, it asks the prayers of all its friends and craves the blessing of the God of all wisdom and grace as it faces the future with faith in Him.

Respectfully submitted,

LEVI T. PENNINGTON, President.

SEVENTH DAY—8:00 P. M.

65. The meeting convened according to adjournment and was led in prayer by Ezra G. Pearson.

66. The Christian Endeavor department had charge of the session.

The following report was read by the Superintendent:

REPORT OF THE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

Showers of blessing from the hand of a loving Heavenly Father have fallen upon the Christian Endeavor during the past year.

We, as all other spiritual organizations, are confronted with problems of attempting to estimate and tabulate spiritual values and spiritual progress. In cognizance of this fact, we feel that such a report as we must necessarily make cannot be very comprehensive.

We are happy to report an increase in number of members during the past year. We also rejoice that there has been a decided growth in the spiritual life of the young people. We feel that an increase in numbers will follow such a spiritual growth.

It has been our earnest endeavor throughout the year to heartily support the work of the church at large and the respective local churches. We wish to express our heart-felt appreciation for the unstinted support and co-operation that the church has given to us. We feel that the work of the Christian Endeavor is more fully understood by the Yearly Meeting at large than ever before.

Society Organization

We are happy to report that Christian Endeavor Societies have again been organized at South Salem and Marion. We are also glad to report that a live Christian Endeavor society exists in the Monthly Meeting at Bethany in Seattle, which Monthly Meeting has recently been added to the Yearly Meeting. A new work recently started at North East Tacoma reports a live, flourishing society.

The Friendly Endeavor

The Friendly Endeavor has been ably edited by Helen Cammack during the past year. It has endeavored to serve the Yearly Meeting as best it could. Second class mail rates have been secured which have been of a decided financial benefit to the paper.

The Summer Conference

It has become quite evident that the Summer Conference has enjoyed the blessing of the Lord and has become a permanent institution in the Yearly Meeting. The Conference last summer was a time of unusual blessing in which many of our young people took new ground in Caanan. A nice dining-hall with a capacity of 125 was built last year, and a new auditorium, with a seating capacity of 500, is now under construction. We feel that this new building is in direct answer to the prayers of the people of the Yearly Meeting. A campaign for funds to erect the building was carried on throughout the Yearly Meeting, and the members have rallied in a most commendable manner.

The Workers League

The call of God to Christian Service has rested so heavily upon some of our young people that they cried out with the Apostle Paul, "Woe is me if I preach not the Gospel." In response to this urge upon their souls, the Worker's League has been organized to co-operate with the church in carrying the Gospel to a dying world. This League has been quite active and is now being placed under the supervision of the Evangelistic Board.

Respectfully submitted,

WALTER P. LEE, President.

ALTHA I. ALLEN.

Pennington, Newberg, Oregon, Vice-President of the Oregon Council.

73. The chairman of the Trustees made the following recommendation:

That the action of the Yearly Meeting according to Minute 105, page 49, in the Minutes of 1910, in reference to the signing of the Minutes which are filed by the Trustees, be rescinded.

The meeting approved the recommendation.

74. The subject of Bible Schools claimed the attention of the meeting and the report of the Department was read and approved. Statistical table appears in the appendix.

REPORT OF BIBLE SCHOOLS AND RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Reports have been received from every Bible School in the Yearly Meeting.

Although reports may be somewhat imperfect, and our goal has not yet been reached yet the summary shows an increase in 18 points over that for 1927.

Many schools report much additional work done beside that called for on the report blanks.

Special programs have been given by the majority of our schools at Christmas, Easter, and Children's Day.

Rally Day has also been observed in part of our schools.

Many of our schools have special teaching on Temperance, Missions, Peace, Quakerism.

Some of our schools have had Peace essay contests.

Many of our schools have had Bible memory contest work—The Quarterly Meetings of Newberg and Boise Valley have given special emphasis to this work.

All the Bible schools in Portland Quarterly Meeting were represented in the essay contests on Tobacco and narcotic drugs.

First Friends school, Portland, had a Travel contest, during which time all their Bible schools were visited, and a brief history of each school given as they passed each point.

East Tacoma Bible school has but one resident member of Friends, yet this school has doubled its enrollment and attendance, promoted church attendance and have had 25 definite decisions for Christ.

Quilcene, Bethany, and Entiat, our northernmost schools, each sent good reports, showing loyalty to the church, and much interest in Bible school work.

As superintendent of this department I have given nine talks and addresses to Bible schools the past year, and have endeavored to promote a greater interest in this most important department of our church work.

Recommendations

1. We recommend that our teachers and officers put forth a greater effort to make our Bible schools soul saving stations, by winning their pupils to Christ and the church.

2. A closer cooperation between superintendents, officers and teachers, by holding monthly Workers Councils, or Cabinet Meetings.

3. That we make the most of our Quarterly Temperance lessons, by having appropriate programs at such times, and that we teach the harmful effects of the deadly cigarette in connection with our temperance lessons.

4. That special teaching be given on the subject of peace, and Quakerism.

5. That we endeavor to promote Daily Vacation Bible schools and attendance at same.

6. That we make an effort to enlist all our church members in our Bible schools and all our Bible schools in the church.

7. We also recommend that we put on a forward campaign for better trained teachers and officers and more regular attendance of same, and that more time be given to daily

Bible study and lesson preparation, in order to be better able to carry forward this most important work for Christ and the Church.

Respectfully submitted,

JENNIE R. PRESNALL, Superintendent.

The children who have been attending the meetings which have been held for them during the Yearly Meeting, gave a short exhibition of some of the important lessons they had learned.

Gervas A. Carey gave a few pertinent remarks on this subject.

75. The Temperance report was read and approved:

TEMPERANCE REPORT

Number pages Temperance literature distributed	1996
Number Temperance lectures	6
Number Temperance sermons	21
Number Temperance programs	25

REMARKS: One Quarterly Meeting reports five temperance essay contests, one Silver Medal contest on Temperance and Tobacco, one paper written on tobacco, and a letter written in the interests of the cause. Members of the church have made talks to groups and individuals on the subject twelve times. Some of our Quaker boys have taken part in programs of other churches discouraging the use of tobacco.

Our people have co-operated generally with the Anti-Saloon League in its efforts to secure "dry men" in executive, legislative, and judicial offices. Encouragement was given the management of Linfield College when its anti-smoking rule was under attack. Anti-tobacco blotters and pledge cards have been distributed and fifteen subscriptions to the "No Tobacco Journal" taken.

Portland Quarterly Meeting reports $108.64 expended in the promotion of the Temperance cause. Our Sunday School workers are generally faithful in giving Temperance instruction. A large number of our women are active in the work of the W.C.T.U.

Respectfully submitted,
OLIVER WEESNER, Treasurer, Oregon Yearly Meeting.

The Auditing Committee made the following report:

AUDITING COMMITTEE REPORT

June 15, 1928.

Your Committee appointed to audit the books of the Oregon Yearly Meeting Treasurer, Oliver Weesner, report they have looked over his books from June 10, 1927, to June 15, 1928, and have found them correct. We would commend the Treasurer's careful and painstaking manner of keeping the accounts.

Respectfully submitted on behalf of the Committee,
JOSEPH N. SMITH, Chairman.

87. The following report was read and approved:

TO OREGON YEARLY MEETING OF FRIENDS:

Your Committee to whom was referred the matter presented by George N. Hartley, does not feel ready to recommend the action proposed by him.

We deplore the nation-wide disregard for law and its lax enforcement. We recognize the evils incident to the uncertainty of punishment and its frequent lack of severity in proportion to the crime. We are convinced that society has suffered much from the release of unreformed prisoners who constitute a continued menace to society. We recognize the demoralizing effects of capital punishment on the public in general, and would gladly sanction a suitable substitute for this method of punishment.

However, there seem to us to be so many practical difficulties in the way of actually carrying out the radical innovation in the field of criminology proposed by George N. Hartley, that we do not feel free to recommend that Oregon Yearly Meeting endorse the proposed plan.

Signed on behalf of the Committee,
CHASE L. CONOVER.

88. The following condensed resolution on Temperance was read and approved:

Whereas, the organized enemies of prohibition have with boldness challenged the authority of law and have held up to ridicule and contempt those principles of righteousness and social justice for which the Church stands; and

Whereas, these anti-prohibition forces are concentrating their forces in an effort to place in public offices as many men as possible who are unsympathetic to the prohibition movement, therefore,

Be it resolved by Oregon Yearly Meeting of the Friends Church that we earnestly request our membership to support only those candidates for election who are clearly committed to the strict enforcement of the eighteenth Amendment and the national prohibitory laws as well as all other provisions of the constitution and the laws of the nation.

89. The Epistle Committee reported that epistles had been prepared for London, Dublin, Germany and the American Yearly Meetings, and forwarded for the approval of the meeting. With some minor corrections they were approved and the clerk instructed to sign and forward the same.

90. The following resolution was adopted by the meeting:

REPORT ON THE LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE

The Legislative Committee propose the following resolutions:

Whereas, the moral condition among the Indians on the Klamath Reservation is reported to us to be corrupt and regrettable, due in a large measure to lax enforcement of prohibition laws and to immoral co-habitation; and

Whereas, we have been informed that there are no adequate Federal laws to regulate immoral co-habitation among the Indian ward of the Federal government; and

Whereas, the State laws and officers seem to have no adequate authority over these wards of the Federal Government; therefore be it

Resolved, that we, Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends, in annual session assembled in Newberg, Oregon, do most respectfully petition the Congress of the United States to enact such legislation as may be necessary to correct the present immoral conditions existing among the wards of the Federal Government because of the prevalence of immoral co-habitation.

On behalf of the Legislative Committee,
LEVI T. PENNINGTON, Chairman.

91. The committee on Returning Minutes reported that Minutes have been prepared for Tilman Hobson and Abbie E. Hobson, Myrle Hough, Nettie C. Springer, and Inez E. Batchelor. We also wish to note the acceptable service of Arthur B. Chilson. This report met with the approval of the meeting.

92. The following report was made by the Press Committee, and approved by the meeting:

REPORT OF PRESS COMMITTEE

Daily reports have been furnished to the Morning Oregonian, the Telegram, the Journal and the News of Portland, and the Oregon Statesman and Capital Journal, of Salem.

One of the committee had been asked to furnish the report to the Newberg Graphic and another to send a report to the American Friend.

93. The Printing Committee reported that it had attended to the printing of the 1927 Minutes, blanks as requested by Superintendents of Departments, and the programs for Yearly Meeting.—MARGUERITE P. ELLIOTT, Chairman.

This report was adopted.

94. The following report of the Caretakers was adopted:

REPORT OF CARETAKERS

We, the Caretakers, have endeavored to fulfill to the best of our ability the duties assigned us.

Signed on behalf of the committee,

STELLA HUBBARD, Chairman

95. The Foreign Mission Board, and the Ministerial Association reported their organizations and they appear in the Directory.

96. The subject of Home Missions and Social Service claimed the attention of the meeting. The following report was read and approved.

REPORT OF HOME MISSIONS AND SOCIAL SERVICE

The important lesson given to the church at Corinth by the Apostle Paul concerning the body of Christ, and the relation of each member of that body one to the other, may well be applied to the various departments of the church. While some may be more vital than others, yet each in its place is necessary to the proper growth and development of the church.

When it really functions, the department of Home Missions and Social Service, by its practical interpretation of Christianity, truly, "adorns the doctrine" and convinces the world of the love of Christ which constrains us to minister in His name.

The Apostle James defines pure religion as that which cares for the fatherless and widows in their affliction as well as to keep unspotted from the world. A holy life must find expression in a life of service, in other words, it must "turn beliefs into energies."

No definite Home Mission work has been taken up by the Yearly Meeting except that in care of the Evangelistic Board. During the past year, five sermons on Home Missions have been given and nineteen talks in Sunday Schools. Newberg and Portland Quarterly Meetings both report needed supplies in the way of clothing and fruit sent to our workers at Sprague River, the various items of which are included under the Social Service report. Newberg also sent a Christmas box to Philip Frazier and wife in Oklahoma. Salem Monthly Meeting reports the largest amount of money raised for Home Missions, which included Holiness Association work and that given to the American Sunday School Union. A total of $1351.86 has been expended in the Yearly Meeting.

Number of sermons or addresses on Social Service	3
Number of programs given	0
Talks in Sunday School	9
Services held in jails, industrial schools, public homes, etc.	65
Visits to those in jails, industrial schools, public homes, etc.	6
Calls (by lay members) on sick or needy	1325
Drives or outings given	202
Amount or approximate value of food stuff given during the year	$229.05
Bushels of vegetables given away	50
Quarts of canned fruit, jelly or vegetables	680
Pounds of dried fruit given	250
Other food stuff given, Eggs, pies, cakes, lard, honey, chickens.
Number of garments given away	369
Shoes, hats, 8 comforters, 12 yds, dress goods, rug, baby crib, feather tick.
Bouquets of flowers or plants given	1021
Amount of money expended	$773.63

Newberg reports assistance given in caring for the sick. Salem 606 pages of literature and several hundred Sunday School cards to the T.B. Hospital, also used 2062 pages of literature in other places, and gave abundant care to the sick and needy.

Portland Quarter distributed fruit, flowers and Sunday School papers in wards of hospitals, spent five days in hospital caring for sick, and also assisted in nursing other cases of sickness, assisted in funeral services and gave hope and cheer to those needing sympathy. Employment was secured for five women, a Bible class is taught each week, and one pastor has held thirty meetings with men in shops.

Tacoma has one active Missionary Society, and they sent a mission box valued at $17.50, and made 44 garments for those in need.

Boise Valley gave money to the Red Cross for flood relief, to a family in case of accident for hospital services, and to a needy widow in time of bereavement. Thirty letters were written in the interest of the church, a number of children were cared for in time of sickness, and donations were made to three families at Christmas time, and a box of gifts, beside gifts of money.

Some meetings reported money given to church extension work, which has not been included in this report since it does not belong to the Home Mission and Social Service department.

Respectfully submitted,
EDITH M. MINCHIN, Superintendent

Abbie E. Hobson gave the address. The subject discussed was, "The Need of the Hour."

97. John Henry Douglas, Jr. and Mellie Douglas, from California Yearly Meeting, were recognized at this time.

98. The Trustees made the following report on the communication from Newberg Monthly Meeting:

In the absence of some one to look after said grounds, we deem it not advisable to use the grounds as a play-ground.

Also on account of the taxes, on the parsonage property, we think it best not to have it on the Yearly Meeting property.

This became the action of the meeting.

99. On account of the shortness of the time for the business of the last session of the Yearly Meeting, only extracts were read from the following epistles: Kansas, Iowa, Indiana, North Carolina, Western, California, and Ohio Yearly Meetings.

100. The following report was read from the leaders of the Children's meeting.:

REPORT OF CHILDREN'S MEETINGS

Five children's meetings have been held, and their interest in, and response to, the presentation of the Gospel has been gratifying indeed. Some show a marked years growth in Grace since last Yearly Meeting.

Miss Inez Batchelor gave a very vivid illustrated lesson to the children, on Sunday afternoon. Carrie Wood and Olive Birch brought them Missionary lessons on Monday.

We believe the future holds much for these children who, at so early an age have said: "Here am I, send me."

The attendance each day has been as follows: Thursday, 10; Friday 30; Saturday, 27; Sunday 127; Monday 14.

Respectfully submitted,
MARY S. MILLS
ESTHER GULLEY, Leaders.

101. The meeting acknowledged with thankfulness the kindness of Newberg Friends and the women who have served us so well in the kitchen and dining room. The meeting kindly acknowledged the services of the Clerks.

102. The entertainment committee made the following report which was approved by the meeting:

REPORT ENTERTAINMENT COMMITTEE

Meals served, 1258, of which 782 were guests. The amount to be paid by the Yearly Meeting amounts to $49.45.

103. B. C. Miles and Anna B. Miles having attended Baltimore Yearly Meeting, some Quarterly and particular meetings of Philadelphia Yearly Meeting, gave a short but interesting report of their visit.

104. With thankful hearts for the blessings of our Heavenly Father in His leading during this Yearly Meeting and asking that His presence may continue with us as we go to our home meetings, this Meeting adjourned to meet Sixth month 12, 1929.

EPISTLE FROM LONDON YEARLY MEETING OF THE SOCIETY OF FRIENDS

DEAR FRIENDS:

Man's life is full of striving and suffering. And because we are bound together in a common life none may escape the struggle or the pain. Thinking together of these things we have recognized the claim on us of this fellowship of search and suffering, and have felt again our great need, the need of all men, for light and power and guidance.

This has brought us into a deep experience, for we know that these gifts belong to the life of God, that only in His presence our restless strivings cease. The way of life is found as we seek first the will of the living God. As we follow Jesus Christ in our own lives and in the life of our Society, we come to know in increasing measure what He knew in fullness as the mainspring of His being—"I and my Father are one."

Some know this penetration of spirit as a daily illumination. Others, who dare not claim so much for their individual vision, have yet often known the joy of communion where Christ in our midst, we are made one in the fellowship of power and of overcoming love. This real presence lies at the heart of life. The Quaker community, in all its work and activity, is driven back for power and for guidance to this touch of the living God. In silence, without rite or symbol, we have known the Spirit of Christ so convincingly present in our quiet meetings that His grace dispels our faithlessness, our unwillingness, our fears, and sets our hearts aflame with the joy of adoration. We have thus felt the power of the Spirit renewing and recreating our love and friendship for all our fellows. This is our Eucharist and our Communion.

This sacrament of the Presence, binding us as one in the life of God, open to us at all times, we need to foster with much penitence and prayer. For though Christ, the expression for us of the Father of Lights, is ever among us, our love is weak and there are times when the tide of our strength and our devotion is very far out, when the mystery of God with us seems far away, when our spirits make little response or none to the divine invitation.

In so far as this lack of vision is due to changing intellectual conceptions and to the currents of modern thought, the way through to a deeper faith will lie in a fearless and disciplined use of our minds. Intellectual sloth is sometimes the root of moral failure and spiritual weakness. Yet no intellectual wrestling will of itself bring the reality of God to us. There are times when we must be willing to wait in quietness and humility until God becomes His own interpreter, until we find Him within, whom so often we are tempted to seek without. In the hurry of modern life we must make room and time for God Himself to speak to us.

This lack of vision should cause us to be tender in spirit one to another, not seeking to press where the Lord of life Himself is patient. Knowledge we need and patience we need; we need no less to give ourselves to the sacrament of daily life, finding the good, the true, the beautiful around us and in other folk. Could we but take this communion of the common life, how it would change our habitual ways of thought and action. We should no longer treat anyone as an inferior; we should find the meanest service which we receive from others or render to them transfigured by the light of that upper room where our Lord and Master washed the disciples' feet. If we really entered into this oneness of a common communion with all our fellow men and with the whole creation, it would mean many a simple but radical change in the ordering of our lives. It would bring us to the place of self-denial which will become the place of insight. As we thus seek to find and serve Christ in His brethren, we shall be granted moments of vision according to our need.

In these days together, when we have been very sensible of the covering of prayer, we have known something of this joy of communion with our Lord and with one another. If we do not at once see full and clear solutions of our problems, personal and social, yet this is our confidence, that in living communion with God there comes to men enlightenment, and creative and overcoming power.

The call is urgent to the communion life, the life lived in the spirit of Jesus Christ "who for the joy that was set before Him endured the cross, despising the shame."

Signed in and on behalf of London Yearly Meeting,

HAROLD J. MORLAND, Clerk.

THE RELIGIOUS SOCIETY OF FRIENDS OF PHILADELPHIA AND VICINITY

Third Month 30, 1928.

TO FRIENDS IN ALL LANDS:

DEAR FRIENDS:

"Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended, but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark, for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." This is the spirit with which we would encourage one another and all Friends everywhere to face the days that lie before us.

We are fully aware of the world's great needs,—its physical needs and its more urgent spiritual hunger. We believe that a great and difficult task awaits the hands of Christ's followers, the translation of words into deeds, of principles into life, but the application of His teaching to the complex problems of society and even to our own personal conduct in a problem that not only challenges our courage but often confuses both old and young among us. When we compare the warnings of Jesus in regard to wealth with our own attitude toward it, we are uncomfortable, but when it comes to action we are honestly puzzled as to what we ought to do.

Once long ago truth was hidden from the wise and prudent and was revealed to babes. Are we too wise and prudent? Do we calculate too anxiously the immediate consequences of our actions forgetting that principle is the surest guide and that the most far reaching results are often beyond our knowing?

Do we live the kind of Christianity that made the founders of our Society a vital force? They affected the thought and institutions of their day. Our brief efforts during the war to live out some of the implications of our peace testimony gained for us a reputation which is unsustained by our present easy and acquiescent lives. Assuredly we are called to fresh forms of strenuous revolt against the shallowness, the materialism, the love of pleasure of our time, and against many of its standards of value or success.

We have seen the transforming power of Christ in history and in personal experience. We know that Christianity can change the world. But if Christians are to change it, they will have to renew their efforts towards a fresh and more convincing demonstration of the transforming power that we call love. Love is something more than outward service, important as that service is. It is an attitude, a spirit, from which all loving action flows. It regards every man with boundless faith and unquenchable hope. It sees him as a "vast reservoir of spiritual force, unused, undeveloped, perhaps even unborn, but waiting for liberation." It unites us with all others, making us feel that we are "inseparable elements of one another" so that when others hunger we hunger, when they thirst we thirst, when they are in prison we are in prison and when they rejoice we rejoice.

Here is our high calling. To think of it, to speak of it, to preach it, is one thing, an easy thing. But to live it is infinitely difficult. Assailed by the temptations of life and the pressure of the world about us, too often our faith falters, our convictions give way, our efforts relax. We compromise and conform. But for what are we united in the world as a Society of Friends if it is not to encourage one another to more triumphant faith and more persistent love? Let us lay aside every weight, suffering gladly if need be, knowing that only so can we experience the full joy of victorious love. And to whom shall we look for inspiration and strength if not to Him, who, when the forces of darkness and death seemed to be closing in about Him, rallied His followers with the message, "Be of good cheer, I have overcome the world"

THE RELIGIOUS SOCIETY OF FRIENDS OF PHILADELPHIA AND VICINITY

Sixth Month 1, 1928.

TO OREGON YEARLY MEETING:

DEAR FRIENDS:

For more than 250 years the Religious Society of Friends has consistently opposed war. They have often been misunderstood, and many have suffered great hardships for upholding their peace principles. The World War of 1914-18 hastened the pace of both Pacifists and Militarists. Great advances have just recently been made toward the renunciation of war by the Nations of the World.

Our special concern in addressing you at this time is in connection with the alarming increase of military training in the Educational Institutions of the United States.

We believe you will agree with us that all military training in High Schools and Colleges is objectionable, and that compulsory military training should by all means be wholly eliminated from all "Land Grant" and other Colleges, etc.

In a 15-year period, the cost of military training in our Educational Institutions has increased from $725,168 to $10,696,504. The number of Institutions giving such training from 57 to 223. Army personnel detailed to conduct it, from 85 to 1809. Students enrolled from 29,979 to 119,914.

Military training is compulsory in 78 Colleges, Universities and Technical Schools in the United States. In 44 Colleges and Universities it is elective. Twenty American cities have R.O.T.C. compulsory military training in High Schools.

There is a "Land Grant" College in each of our 48 states. A course of military training is, by law, required in all of them. Wisconsin alone, decided in 1923, to make it optional. By so doing, it suffered no diminution in the rather liberal Federal appropriations. Students who take the training of their own free will, render a more thorough and efficient service than when it is compulsory.

The 1920 National Defense Act authorizes establishment of Units where military training shall be given a "two-year elective or compulsory course."

On careful investigation, we can state with assurance that no Federal law demands any Educational Institution to maintain a compulsory system of military training.

We do not propose here to detail arguments: suffice it to say, that military drill does not compare with physical training in the development of the body. Other Nations have been noting with grave suspicion, our gigantic Naval proposals and they are wondering why "Uncle Sam" is using our Educational Institutions for military training. This suspicion if not checked, can grow into an attitude of distrust, disastrous to the peace of the world.

The situation gives us great concern. Numerous resolutions have been adopted by religious, peace and other organizations, condemning military training in civil schools and colleges; all very good, but these do not go deep enough.

Will you not, through committees, or individual action, join us in a determined, country-wide effort to, (1st) create public sentiment, which will encourage trustees and officers to abolish the compulsory feature of military training from all Land Grant Colleges? Such a move is in process. (2nd) Work for the elimination of all military training in other civil High Schools, Colleges, Universities and Technical Schools throughout the Nation?

Abraham Lincoln once said, "Public sentiment is everything; with public sentiment, nothing can fail; without it, nothing can succeed."

We will be glad, if agreeable to you, if you will take this vital matter up with any group whom you may appoint to promote this cause which we believe is of national importance.

Sincerely your friends,

GEORGE M. WARNER, Clerk.
WM. B. HARVEY, Secretary.

DUBLIN YEARLY MEETING OF THE RELIGIOUS SOCIETY OF FRIENDS

TO OREGON YEARLY MEETING OF FRIENDS,

DEAR FRIENDS:

Gathered once more as a Yearly Meeting our thoughts go out to Friends all the world over. We feel that we are part of a great Fellowship, very varied in its surroundings, very different in its problems, yet united in the desire for the betterment of the world and the ennobling and enriching of social and civic life. This can only come through our personal willingness to allow our lives to be guided and directed by the indwelling Spirit of Jesus Christ.

This is the third time Dublin Yearly Meeting (as it is generally called) has met in Belfast, thus spreading the interest among Friends in Ulster, where there are more members and more widely distributed meetings than in the rest of Ireland.

We have rejoiced in the presence of Friends from across the sea,—visitors from England and America and workers from China, Japan, Madagascar and Pemba. They have given us valuable help in the Meetings, and we have had specially interesting accounts from those who have recently visited India and attended the meetings of the International Missionary Council at Jerusalem, which was concerned with the whole future forward policy of the Christian Church.

Last Autumn some of our Members were delegates to the Five Years Meeting of Friends in America and to the World Conference on Faith and Order at Lausanne. We are glad they have been privileged to have some influence in promoting the underlying unity of love and service that binds together Friends in all parts of the world and in a real way the still more divided Churches of Christendom. We acknowledge our appreciation of the warm-hearted, friendly spirit and understanding fellowship with which these delegates have everywhere been received. An outstanding feature of the Yearly Meeting has been the Evening Session at which we received the reports from our delegates to the Five Years Meeting, bringing us into sympathetic understanding of the feelings, work and problems of Friends on the American Continent.

In considering the subject of Peace we were cheered to hear of the proposals put forward by the United States of America for the outlawry of War. These proposals seemed to us to mark a real advance towards the ideal of world-wide peace. We are sending a memorial to the British Government and also the Government of the Irish Free State urging upon them the importance of supporting these proposals which we earnestly pray may ultimately result in all international disputes being settled by means of conciliation or arbitration.

Considerable interest has been taken in the revision of the General Advices and Queries. Some of the old familiar words have come with fresh interest and have taken on new meanings as they have been studied in this connection. We have revived an old advice urging Friends to be honest in their dealings with others including public bodies.

We feel that it is of paramount importance that our children should have such sure foundations for the Faith that in is them that they may not be overwhelmed at the beginning of life by the spirit of materialism but be able to keep their ideals fresh and untarnished. A great deal can be done towards this in our schools as well as in the homes, both in the forming of character and in the arousing of practical interest in the problems which are always before us.

We realize, in the complications of modern life, how difficult is the practical application of the teaching of the Gospels; often the ideal seems unattainable, as the Apostle Paul expressed in the words "For to will is present with me but how to perform that which is good I find not." Yet this very realisation of how far short we are continually falling is an indication of spiritual vitality and if sincerely felt will lead us God-ward.

Amid the unrest of the world and the difficulties we are called on to face, we have the quiet assurance of our Lord "Lo I am with you always" and as we trust in Him we know that He will give the strength and guidance we need to do His will.

Signed on behalf of the Yearly Meeting of Friends in Ireland, held in Belfast, from Fifth Month 10th to 15th, 1928.

EDWIN B. JACOBS, Clerk.

EXTRACTS FROM AMERICAN FRIENDS SERVICE COMMITTEE

May 21, 1928.

TO OREGON YEARLY MEETING OF FRIENDS

DEAR FRIENDS:

We count it a privilege to report on the co-operative work of Friends through the American Friends Service Committee. This has been brought about through the realization that things can be accomplished by united effort. The past eleven years have seen the Society of Friends emerge from a historical past into the present—from a society that has accomplished to one that does. The thirty-four Yearly Meetings of Friends in the world have found a way to work together and have found a work to do that calls for more than earthly wisdom and strength. This has led them to seek to come nearer the divine will and has brought them into closer fellowship with each other. We can only express the hope that the bigness of the task will find Friends everywhere ready to accept the challenge to demonstrate the power of Eternal Love.

During the year, the English and Irish Friends have changed the character of their organization and have combined all their foreign work in one organization known as the Friends' Service Council. Thus they have emphasized the oneness of missionary and service work, whether it be in Christian France or non-Christian India. Thus they place themselves on record as believing that the Christianizing of the "Christian" world and the Christianizing of the non-Christian world are equally important. We feel that this is the most significant change in the Society of Friends during the year. Through the Service Committee we are thus united with the English Friends in promoting work in India, Syria, Madagascar and China, as well as in Germany, France and other European countries. The Service Committee is not yet able to contribute financially to the support of these—to us—newer fields, but we cherish the hope that in the future we may be able to strengthen the work that they are doing as a part of the responsibility of all Friends.

The Committee co-operated last fall with the Fellowship of Reconciliation in sending a delegation to Nicaragua and Latin-American countries. Our representatives on this expedition were Carolena M. Wood and Elbert Russell. A third member of the party, Robert Jones, is also a member of the Society of Friends.

Mr. Hasegawa, the Japanese student who was in America as the guest of the Service Committee, has finished his work and returned to Japan. During the year he addressed over 200 meetings and came into more or less personal contact with approximately 6000 people. He helped to break down prejudice and acquaint people with the cultural life of Japan.

In order to further interest in Interracial work among Friends, The Committee during the past year has employed Crystal Bird to interpret the cultural life of the Negro to Friends and the general public. Her charming personality and ability to speak and reveal more of the hopes and aspirations of her race have been of great benefit.

Perhaps one of the most significant things in the Peace Movement has been the inaugurating by the Service Committee of Peace Caravans. Last summer 21 young people gave the summer to peace work. The Committee provided a second-hand Ford and actual expenses plus an honorarium of $75, and the young people devoted their time to addressing public meetings, interviewing editors, ministers and others in regard to peace work. The plan proved to be so successful that arrangements have been made to send out ten teams for the summer of 1928.

On account of the strike in the bituminous coal fields in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Colorado, the Committee found it desirable to undertake to help the children of striking miners, of strike-breakers and others who were in need. About 65 bales of second-hand clothing were distributed, between 400 and 500 pairs of children's shoes were purchased, 17 dozen union suits were purchased and distributed to the most needy, and a supplementary feeding, composed of milk and crackers, was provided for about 1,000 school children.

Yours sincerely,

WILBUR K. THOMAS, Executive Secretary.
