30. The Superintendent of Bible Schools and Religious Education read the following report which was approved by the meeting. The statistical report appears in the appendix.

REPORT OF THE BIBLE SCHOOL AND RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Special Things That The Schools Have Done During The Year.

The reports were received from every school in the Yearly Meeting but the statistical part was not accurate. However it was as complete as we can reasonably expect, considering that not all of the items were understood and interpreted the same.

I will mention a few of the things being done by some of the schools besides their regular work.

Several of the schools contributed to the Childrens' Farm Home. Middleton contributed $13.23 to the China Famine Relief and Chehalem Center canned 50 quarts of fruit for a Baby Home in Portland. Newberg and Sunnyside filled ten friendship treasure chests for the Filipino children. Newberg also gave one course in the study of the New Testament for which High School credit was given. The little Sunday School at North East Tacoma held a branch Sunday School on Sunday afternoons. Piedmont Sunday School stimulated interest in their Sunday School by organizing a children's orchestra. Kelso was active at Christmas time in giving gifts and good cheer to the elderly people in their vicinity. In the Tacoma Quarterly Meeting all but the Tacoma Sunday School reported that they had Daily Vacation Bible Schools. Rosedale and Greenleaf were the only Sunday Schools having Daily Vacation Bible School besides Tacoma Quarterly Meeting. Star and Boise contributed to the Latin American Million Testament Campaign.

Valley Mound, Rosedale, Kelso, with Newberg and Tacoma Quarterly Meeting held some very interesting contests. Kelso held one attendance contest for which 18 pupils received Bibles as rewards. Rosedale conducted interesting story telling contest. Scotts Mills had a successful Rally Day campaign. Tacoma tried a very unique device for memorizing Scripture verses. Poster contests were held among the separate Bible schools culminating in a Quarterly Meeting contest. They found this method of memorizing Scripture so effective that they would like to recommend the plan to the rest of the Yearly Meeting. Four schools participated in the Newberg Quarterly Meeting contest. It was interesting to notice that every Bible school reported that they put forth special effort to lead the boys and girls to Christ. Kelso is to be commended for successfully winning 12 of their pupils to Christ during the year. May God bless those boys and girls.

As we all go back to our own Sunday School classes, clothed with a spirit of evangelism, let us pray that God may open our eyes to see more nearly as Christ sees the infinite value of saving a soul as well as life for Christ.

Respectfully submitted,
Esther Gulley, Superintendent of the Bible School Department

REPORT OF TEACHERS TRAINING DEPARTMENT

The efforts of this department this year have consisted in helping those interested to become acquainted with some of the literature available on the subject of Christian Education. Since our own library was very limited a list of books which might be borrowed from the Oregon State Library Commission was compiled and sent to each meeting. Those in Washington and Idaho are unable to use the Oregon Library so there is a greater need for adding to our own books for circulation.

Through the assistance of the Yearly Meeting Superintendent a number of new books have been added for circulation the coming year. A table has been arranged so that they can be used during the Yearly Meeting sessions. In order that the circulation of these books may not be hindered a small balance of the appropriation is reserved for postage during the lean months of the Yearly Meeting treasury. We feel justified in asking for the coming year for an appropriation of $10.00, the same amount granted last year.

D. D. Randall, a missionary of the American Sunday School Union, and a minister of Greenleaf Monthly Meeting, addressed the meeting on the subject of, "The Power of the Bible in Sunday School Work."

31. The following report of the Superintendent of Temperance was read and approved:

REPORT OF TEMPERANCE DEPARTMENT, JUNE 13, 1930

Summary:

4,824 pages of temperance literature have been distributed,
18 subscriptions to temperance papers have been reported,
7 temperance lectures given,
12 temperance talks; besides four monthly meetings reported regular monthly talks before the Sunday Schools and two have occasional talks.
$52.00 has been collected and used in the work of this department.
Chehalem Center Monthly Meeting had a very good blackboard cartoon showing the evil effect of the father's tobacco habit upon his children.
Boise Quarterly Meeting reports much temperance activity by the W. C. T. U.

of their districts, distributing much literature and keeping the cause of temperance before the public schools.

Several Monthly meetings report sermons have been preached, literature distributed, and other work done but as no record was kept these are not included in the general report.

In the Portland district a special effort has been directed against the cigarette.

Remarks:

Although the accomplishments as recorded by the several Quarterly Meetings may seem somewhat meager, I feel that much work has been done and much progress made that the records do not show. The work of the Temperance Department consists in a large measure of personal work. The committee member finds many opportunities to be helpful, in the course of his employment, in his social and business contacts and in the home. Modesty, perhaps, restrains us from proclaiming these things from the housetops. The same Scripture that admonishes us not to be overcome of evil also instructs us to overcome evil with good.

Throughout the Nation, we find some conditions that give occasion for alarm. The wet element is organizing as never before. There are many who seek to discredit the prohibition laws and hamper their enforcement. Certain tobacco interests are engaged in a nation-wide campaign of advertising seeking to enslave women and girls as they have men and boys. They encourage excess as virtue. Many of their claims are scientifically and fundamentally untrue, and are based on deception and fraud.

While the above conditions prevail, friends of temperance find much reason for encouragement. Herbert Hoover, our honored President, is proving to be a capable leader and is making good his campaign pledges as regards prohibition and law enforcement. The transfer of authority and responsibility from the Treasury Department to the Department of Justice, now taking place, assures us of less duplication and less "buck passing," on the part of officials, with more unity of action. This shifting process should reduce, to a great extent, the amount of alcohol released from government bond houses that, in the past, found its way into illegitimate channels. The complete breaking up of the notorious "Rum Row," off the Florida coast proves the effectiveness of enforcement when backed by determined officials. Recent customs agreements between our government and Canada greatly minimize the flow of illegal liquor from across the border. The prohibition poll, as taken by the Literary Digest, does not accurately portray the sentiment of the electorate, no safeguards being placed to prevent minors, aliens, delinquents and any unscrupulous persons from voting as many ballots as they can secure. These reports, as published and broadcast, tend to give to the world the impression that the American people regard Prohibition as a failure. Instead, recent elections reveal that when a candidate has filed on a strictly wet platform he has almost invariably gone down in defeat. This in districts where the poll indicated three or four to one for repeal. The public hearings before the Wickersham Committee as well as the Committee's recommendations have strengthened public sentiment for enforcement.

By their unethical advertising methods, the cigarette interests are causing many manufacturers and purveyors of sweets and food products to combine against them and by their misleading statements, exploitation of womanhood and other offenses are crystallizing public opinion that we hope may result in the ultimate outlawery of this body, mind, and soul, destroying traffic.

Friends, are we doing all God wishes us to do for the cause of temperance? Are we exercising our right of franchise? Are we careful to see that only candidates of known moral character are elected to office? And when elected do we remember them in prayer? May each of us feel more concern for the cause of temperance and work harder for its success, is the wish and prayer of your Superintendent,

W. M. Heacock

The Superintendent concluded with stirring remarks against the wet propaganda active now in our country, and also against the increased cigarette advertisement.

32. The Clerk was directed to send to the Premier of Canada an expression of our appreciation of his successful efforts on behalf of the prohibition of the exportation of intoxicating liquor over the U. S. border; and also to prepare and send to the proper parties a protest against the cigarette advertising campaign. Levi T. Pennington and Morris Heacock were directed to prepare these communications.

33. At this time the inspirational address was given by Gervas A. Carey.

34. The meeting adjourned to convene at 2:00 P. M.

FIFTH DAY 2.00 P. M.

35. The meeting convened according to adjournment, followed by a period of silent and vocal prayer.

36. The change of dates and locations for the holding of Tacoma Quarterly Meeting was read and will be found in the directory.

37. The following resolution, passed by Tacoma Quarterly Meeting was read and directed to be placed in the minutes:

"Resolved that: Whereas God in His infinite wisdom has taken suddenly from our midst, during the session of Tacoma Quarterly Meeting, held 11th month, 23rd, 1929, our brother and co-laborer, Murrie F. Crosbie, we as a Quarterly Meeting with sorrowing hearts bow submissively to the wisdom of our all wise Heavenly Father: that we express our love and appreciation for his work among us by writing in the minutes of Tacoma Quarterly Meeting this resolution.

Be it further resolved; that we send in sympathy and love to his sorrowing widow, Lillie Crosby, a copy of this resolution.

Be it further resolved; that we send to Oregon Yearly Meeting a copy of this resolution.

On behalf of Tacoma Quarterly Meeting,
Verna Brennan
Denver B. Headrick

38. The Epistles from Indiana, Ohio, North Carolina, Western, and Iowa Yearly Meetings were read.

39. A partial report of the nominating committee was read and approved and will appear in the directory.

40. The Evangelistic and Church Extension Board presented the following report of the year's work which was approved by the meeting.

REPORT OF THE PASTORAL, EVANGELISTIC AND CHURCH EXTENSION DEPARTMENT

Another year has passed into history. What will be the final results of that history? Will its achievements receive the "well done," of our Lord, or will it receive the rebuke given the "slothful" servant? A careful examination of our work and its attendant responsibilities, should quicken us into a vital action that will lessen the failures and improve the degree of work attained.

The sessions of the Executive Committee, and of the Board, have maintained a splendid spirit of unity, of mutual understanding, and a desire for the best interests of the work throughout the year.

By action taken through the Executive Committee, the President and Vice-President were named to present the needs of our work to the various meetings and make appeals for additional funds. In all meetings visited we were well received and the response was encouraging. It was impossible for us to reach all of the meetings. This was unfortunate both for the financial needs of the Board and for the interesting of the membership in the work of this department. But from those visits, including the appeal made during the sessions of the Yearly Meeting, there was received in cash and pledges, over nine hundred dollars. This is a very encouraging feature of the work, for it is an informed, interested membership that responds.

By direction of the Executive Committee, the President of the Board visited meetings in Tacoma Quarterly Meeting in July and September of 1929, also in March 1930, with the Vice-President, he visited in the same Quarter in the interests of the Board. In November, 1929, he visited all of the meetings of Boise Valley Quarter and attended the sessions of that Quarterly Meeting held at Valley Mound.

The policy suggested by the Board a year ago, that of reducing allowances made to established meetings, was put into effect with a splendid response from the meetings involved. And we have assurance of some that when the indebtedness of their church property is met they will release all allowances. We feel that with patient effort and the co-operation of Friends generally, the financial stringency of the Board will be met and overcome, and that without hardship to any one.

There is cause for encouragement in our extension points. Each of them is under the direction of workers in whom the Board has full confidence. Their patient, determined attitude, and their willing sacrifices, are a real inspiration to those who know something of their efforts and problems. We here can give but a brief summary of their work.

At Vancouver, Washington, the work is under the leadership of Everett E. Scotten and is growing steadily and solidly. They have erected a nice stucco building and are striving hard to liquidate the debt incurred. During the past year they have been granted a Monthly Meeting by Portland Quarterly Meeting, and are laying definite plans for extension the ensuing year.

The work in Kelso, Washington, is under the direction of Walter and Gladys Cook. Here Friends own a small, comfortable church building in the rear of which live the workers. They are meeting with, and overcoming some real problems, and surely their labor will not be in vain. A business, or preparative, meeting has been established here by First Friends Monthly Meeting of Portland Quarter.

In North-east Tacoma, Washington, Wendell and Marjorie Votaw work patiently on, and it seems to some of us, almost in obscurity. In this community, five miles from any other church, Friends have a small church building. While it is not far off the great highway between Tacoma and Seattle, yet as one enters midst the stumps and other remains of logged off land, it seems this is indeed a pioneer district. These workers are making an investment through sacrifice that is bearing fruit in the community for righteousness and leading souls to Jesus Christ.

This work is your work, Oregon Yearly Meeting! These splendid workers are your representatives, supported by your money and your prayers. Let us see to it that they have what they should of each. With this responsibility we cannot, we dare not, be "slothful."

The negotiations with the Methodist Church, as mentioned in the report of the President of this Board in 1928, concerning our work on the Klamath Indian Reservation, was consummated the past year and the property deeded over by the Trustees of Oregon Yearly Meeting as provided in the Minutes of 1929. In order to clarify this situation, a statement may be necessary. A year ago in my report, mention was made of negotiations entered into with officials of the Nazarene Church, but these did not fully develop and later the M. E. Church officials again desired the property which was deeded to them as above stated.

The passing of this work out of the jurisdiction of Oregon Yearly Meeting will no doubt be cause for real regret, and we wish it might have been otherwise; but the hope for a substantial white settlement at Sprague River that seemed likely when this work was first undertaken did not develop, and the place holds no prospects beyond a mission point for which there are insufficient funds, and no adequate policy for handling.

The activities of the Christian Workers' League were again placed by the Board in charge of the Vice-President who will make report of that work.

With thankfulness to Friends for their sympathy and support of this department; with grateful appreciation to members of the Board for their helpfulness, and more especially to the faithful members of the Executive Committee for their constant sympathy, prayers and unity, I close this annual report with an earnest appeal to the membership of Oregon Yearly Meeting that the incoming administration be given the full support in interest, prayers and finances which this department should receive and must have, if Oregon Yearly Meeting fulfills her God-given mission in spreading the Gospel of the grace of God through our Lord Jesus Christ, in this field for which we are responsible.

On behalf of the Board,

Edgar P. Sims
President.

41. The statistical report of the Board appears in full in the appendix.

43. The following recommendation of the Evangelistic and Church Extension Board was read and approved:

From The Evangelistic and Church Extension Board

The direction of the Yearly Meeting given two years ago that the Evangelistic and Church Extension Board bring to the Yearly Meeting the name of a person to serve as Superintendent of this Department has been given much thought.

A committee was appointed from the Board, 8th Month 3rd, 1928, to endeavor to secure a suitable person for this position. After earnest care, no such person having been secured, the matter was so reported to the Yearly Meeting last year, and was left for further care of the Board. On 11th month 12th, 1929, a committee was appointed from the Board to make further effort in this matter. After much prayerful endeavor, this committee proposed that the Board recommend to the Yearly Meeting that it call Chester A. Hadley, present pastor of the First Friends Church in Portland, Oregon, to the position of Superintendent of the Evangelistic and Church Extension Department with a support of $1,200 per year and that he have the privilege of holding evangelistic meetings during the year with the consent of the Board and that offerings be taken at such meetings to be used to augment this support for the Superintendent. This recommendation was unanimously accepted by the Board.

Respectfully submitted,

Edgar P. Sims, President

Marietta Lewis, Secretary

44. The request of the Evangelistic and Church Extension Board for an appropriation of $3,000.00 for the work of that Board with permission to take offerings and solicit funds was referred to the finance committee.

45. The period devoted to the consideration of the Evangelistic and Church Extension work was concluded with a message from Edgar P. Sims, President of the Board, on, "Enduring Hardness as a Good Soldier."

46. The meeting adjourned to convene Sixth Day 9:30 A. M.

52. The committee appointed at the 1929 session of Yearly Meeting on receiving ministers from other denominations reported the following findings:

The committee appointed to study the matter of receiving ministers from other denominations and to investigate the procedure of other Yearly Meetings reports that out of reports from eleven of them, nine follow the same course as obtains in our Yearly Meeting, and two have Yearly Meeting committees which pass on the credentials of such ministers as a final action.

Edward Mott, Chairman.

No action was taken by the meeting.

53. The following report was read by the Superintendent of the Service Committee:

REPORT OF YEARLY MEETING SUPERINTENDENT OF SERVICE COMMITTEE

The interests of the American Friends Service Committee have been placed before the Yearly Meeting during the past year in two ways;

First, due to an unusual industrial emergency that arose during the autumn of 1929 in the textile regions of the south eastern cotton states an appeal was sent to each Meeting in the Yearly Meeting explaining the situation and asking those who could to contribute money and clothing to be used in the relief of destitute families at Marion, North Carolina. Fourteen Meetings in the Yearly Meeting acknowledged receipt of the appeal and collected clothing sufficient to make a shipment of 257 pounds. This shipment was gratefully received by the committee working at Marion, North Carolina.

Approximately $50.00 was collected specifically for the Marion relief, which with other amounts contributed toward the general support of the American Friends Service Committee, (Some of which was forwarded direct and did not pass through the hands of the Yearly Meeting Treasurer,) makes a total of $83.45 contributed to the Service Committee during the past year.

Second, in Newberg various phases of the work of the Service Committee were presented before the different departments of the Sunday School once each quarter. These programs included one report by one of the Peace Caravans and other items of interest regarding the activities of the Service Committee in this country and other countries where the Gospel of Christian service is being preached in an exceedingly practical and effective way.

In considering the work for the coming year, your Superintendent would make two suggestions;

First, that each meeting appoint someone to have in charge the matter of getting information regarding the activities of the American Friends Service Committee before the membership of the Meeting. Some Meetings would doubtless find it desirable to add this responsibility to the work of the Social Service Committee or perhaps the Peace Committee. Such a combination of responsibility would avoid unnecessary complexity of organization. On the other hand it would make possible getting into touch with the local Meetings through regularly constituted channels rather than by special emergency measures as are necessary now.

Second, that the general nature of the activity of the American Friends Service Committee has profoundly changed since the days of spectacular war relief. Then physical relief was obviously the thing that needed to be done. Now such activity as that carried on in Marion North Carolina is only an incident, a side line when compared with the aggressive, constructive program of demonstrating that Jesus' way of life does work when put to the test of actual practice. This fact has resulted in the establishment of one or more Meetings for Worship in the various centers of Europe and Asia where representatives of the Service Committee are located. These Meetings are now focal points from which constantly radiate the dynamic spirit of love that changes men's lives and thus regenerates and redeems human society. In other words the American Friends Service Committee is at the present time a definitely missionary enterprise.

It is believed that if these facts are fully appreciated and the means provided for getting adequate information to the membership of the local Meetings, that participation in the work of the American Friends Service Committee will become a definite source of inspiration and blessing to Oregon Yearly Meeting.

Superintendent of Service Committee Work.

54. The request that two members be appointed to represent this Yearly Meeting on the American Friends Service Committee was granted. This request was referred to the Nominating Committee.

55. The Superintendent of Peace read his report, which was approved by the meeting.

REPORT OF PEACE SUPERINTENDENT

To Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends:

Dear Friends:

There are certain things which apparently need to be said over and over in connection with our work for peace,

One of these things is that we ought to be at it.

An extract from one of the reports contains the following statement, "We realize that there can not be universal peace until our Lord returns. Let us therefore pray for his soon return and work harder than ever before for the spreading of the gospel, for the night cometh when no man can work."

There are several things to be said in connection with such a statement as this. One is that if universal peace means all that the expression might, certainly the statement is true, just as it would be true to say that universal righteousness, universal liberty, universal sobriety, universal health, or any other good thing that effects human life is impossible in any such world as that in which we live. A second thing that may be said is that however sure we feel as to the accuracy of our interpretations of Scripture and our certainty as to the course which human events are to take from now on, we can hardly be more confident that war is always to exist among the nations than our fathers and our grandfathers and our great grandfathers were that slavery as a recognized institution among civilized peoples, was to exist unto the end of time; or more sure than many people, as thoughtful as we are, as studious as we are, as earnest as we are, as diligent in their study of the Bible as we are, have been in times past that they knew the course which future events were to take. It may be that God's mercy has in its provisions beyond our knowledge and even beyond our faith. No prophecy concerning evil yet before the world could well be more definite, positive, or specific than the prophecy which God gave to Jonah, "Yet forty days and Nineveh shall be destroyed." But the mercy of God found a better way than that in response to the faith of Nineveh. May one not hope that there may be depths to God's mercy for this world that our faith has not yet compassed? A third thing that may be said concerning this matter is probably more vital than either of these. Supposing that universal peace is impossible in the present age; does it follow that we can not prevent some of the war that would otherwise occur? And if we can prevent warfare ought we not to exhaust every resource in our efforts to defeat so far as we may this gigantic evil which negates everything which the church of Jesus Christ is seeking to accomplish?

At any rate, this is the attitude which Friends officially have always taken, that God and the obligations which we owe to our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ require us to labor for the advancement of the cause of peace; and not alone for peace between man and God through faith in Him who loved us and gave Himself for us, but for peace between man and man, between class and class, between race and race, between nation and nation.

There are many things in the affairs of nations to encourage our hope that we may help to prevent much of evil which wars entail; and many things to stir us to the realization that we need to be vigilant and active and courageous if we are not to lose some of our apparent gains in the world's progress toward law instead of war.

Perhaps the most outstanding event of the year has been the Five Power Naval Conference in London, the treaty growing out of which is now before the United States Senate for ratification. While most of us are probably disappointed that more progress was not made toward actual reduction of armaments, and while it may be justly said that we have a right to be disappointed even in the attitude of our own representatives at London, our first disappointment has been succeeded, with many of us, at least, by a feeling that progress has been made in the right direction, and that it will be far better for this treaty to be ratified than that it should be rejected by the senate. Some of the Friends of Oregon Yearly Meeting have been active in urging the ratification of this treaty.

The Multi-Lateral Peace Pact, called frequently the Briand-Kellogg Treaty, has yet to be made effective. That it has been too lightly considered by more than one nation is all too manifest. Everything that we can do toward making this the actual working agreement among the powers rather than merely, "a scrap of paper," as it may become if it is not given force and effectiveness, will be a real contribution to the cause of peace. Let our representatives in government know that we expect them to consider America actually bound by this treaty renouncing war, and to act as if they believed it. Let our attitude, as a body and as individuals, be always clear to our government officials, from the President down.

Much of the work of Oregon Yearly Meeting in the interests of peace it is hard to tabulate. Probably we have done no more effective work than in this getting of our views before our United States government officials, especially before the President and Secretary of State, our representatives at the London Conference, and our Senators, who must accept or reject the treaty growing out of the London Conference. This work should continue, in the judgement of the superintendent of this department, until the treaty is ratified.

The co-operation of thousands of lovers of peace, which has, so far as one can humanly see, prevented more than one war since the close of the World War, is made possible by organizations devoted especially to the cause of peace, with which Friends have largely co-operated. The names of all of these organizations would make a considerable catalogue; perhaps the most important of them is The National Council for Prevention of War, by regional and state organizations in the Pacific Northwest, under the able leadership of J. J. Handsaker, 612 Stock Exchange Building, Portland, Oregon. Many Friends are co-operating in this organization, which keeps them informed as to the situation regarding national and international affairs affecting the peace cause, through the Bulletins of the National Council and through correspondence. Individual membership in this National Council and in the Oregon Council for Prevention of War is open to all, the annual fee being one dollar. This entitles one to the Bulletin, perhaps the best medium of information as to the progress of the peace movement now published.

Of course The Advocate of Peace, now embodied in The American Friend for those who take that paper, but still published as a separate periodical for those who do not, is the standard source of information for those who desire to keep up on the work for peace among our own denomination.

The reports received from the Quarterly Meetings indicate that more than a score of meetings were held in the interests of peace specifically, and that 27 peace sermons and addresses have been given.

Three silver medal peace contests have been held, and one gold medal contest. These have aroused much interest in the cause of peace, and much of this where it is likely to do most good, in the hearts of young people and children. As many contests are in preparation and are to come in the immediate future as were held all last year, according to the reports.

It is estimated that 3,145 pages of literature have been distributed, according to the reports from the quarterly meetings.

Nine communications are reported from meetings to government officials in the interests of peace. In reality this means more than nine, for in most cases when a meeting has taken action it has been with a communication to the president, the senators and perhaps to other government officials.

It has been impossible to learn the number of individual communications to government officials. One quarterly meeting reports "several," another "many," another "one," etc. There is no more effective way to influence government action than by getting our personal convictions before our representatives, from the president down.

One quarterly meeting reports $52 contributed to the cause of peace through membership in the National Council for Prevention of War, two other quarterly meetings have approximately the same number each, and one quarterly meeting has paid out $24.51 for peace posters, books and other literature.

Another interesting feature of the work for peace has been the Peace Caravan work in which three of our young women Friends spent ten weeks last summer in spreading the gospel of peace not only among Friends but in larger measure in the small towns and villages in Oregon and Idaho where peace messages are seldom heard. This work has been done under the direction of The American Friends Service Committee, which organization has cut the number in the young women's teams down to two each, instead of three as heretofore. Two of last year's Pacific College team have again arranged to represent the college and Friends in the spreading of the gospel of peace. This peace caravan will be available for work in Friends meetings during the coming summer, and meetings desiring them should make early arrangements, as their itinerary will be arranged soon after Yearly Meeting. Those who do not make such arrangements during Yearly Meeting may correspond with the members of this caravan team, Della Hanville and LaVerne Hutchens, both of Newberg.

A number of our meetings conduct regular peace programs in their Bible Schools. Newberg meeting has such a program each month, as does South Salem. Other schools have them at less frequent intervals.

The sending of Treasure Chests to the Philippine Islands is a peace project in which a number of our meetings have been much interested. The results of the sending of the school bags to Mexico last year seems to offer ample justification for activities of this sort, as did the earlier sending of dolls to Japan. One Bible School, Newberg, sent ten of these Treasure Chests, and another, First Friends of Portland, sent six.

Other Activities Reported Are

Judging at peace declamatory contests.

Affiliation as a meeting with The National Council for Prevention of War.

Addition of five peace books to a Monthly Meeting library.

One member has given six peace talks in his own city, and several outside, and has prepared a pamphlet for the use of Methodist Young People in the work of peace.

South Salem presented a pageant, "The Color Line," which featured the possibility of international and interracial good will.

In addition to the work reported by the various quarterly meeting superintendents, the yearly meeting superintendent has been personally active in the cause of peace, having given since last report nearly a score of peace addresses, to churches, ministerial associations, teachers institutes, regular church services, mass meetings, high school audiences, and other gatherings, the last one a Memorial Day address at the invitation of the American Legion Post. Most of these addresses have been entirely apart from the work of Friends as most of the openings have been outside Friends meetings and by invitation of non-Friends who are interested in peace.

Among the suggestions which come from the quarterly meetings for the work of the coming year are the following:

Name committee members who have genuine interest in Peace and belief in the need for the delivery of the Peace Message.

Co-operate in community effort.

Give regular instruction in peace, especially to children and younger members.

Give peace sermons and addresses in harmony with the convictions and vision of our most competent leaders.

Other suggestions are found, though not intended as suggestions, perhaps, in the reports. There may be a reason for the meagerness of reports. One quarterly meeting chairman, for instance, remarks that, "the chairman has not been active enough to arouse much interest." The entire report from one quarterly meeting was, "Some of our members attended a peace meeting, Levi T. Pennington, speaker." With due recognition of the excellence of that attendance, it seems fair to say that this is not a sufficient contribution to the cause of peace for a quarterly meeting of Friends, for some of its members to attend a peace meeting arranged by another organization. Nor do we believe that this constitutes all the peace work of this quarterly meeting. But it is all that was reported.

Another suggestion comes in the report from another quarterly meeting, which says, "This report deals mostly with one meeting. The other reports as received do not add anything, but contain a note of helplessness and despair, a note which should not be allowed to dominate the situation."

Is it all hopeless, our effort for peace? Are all our prayers and labors to come to naught? Is the Prince of Peace to be completely defeated so far as peace among the nations is concerned? Or have Friends always been right in their feeling and their faith that the blessings which Christ pronounced upon the peace makers included those who make peace between man and man, between class and class, between race and race, between nation and nation?

Let us go forward, not only in seeking reconciliation of man to God, but in the promotion of peace among the peoples of the earth. Let us, never let the world believe that we consider guns and armor plate stronger than love and good will and understanding. Let us move forward, not losing our place as leaders in this great movement.

"He maketh wars to cease unto the ends of the earth. He breaketh the bow and putteth the spear in sunder. He burneth the chariots in the fire. Be still, and know that I am God. I will be exalted among the nations. I will be exalted in the earth. The Lord of hosts is with us. The God of Jacob is our refuge."

Respectfully submitted,

Levi T. Pennington,

Yearly Meeting Peace Superintendent.

56. The Superintendent recommended that the following communication be adopted by the Yearly Meeting and copies of it sent by the clerk to the President of the United States, the Secretary of State, The United States Senators from Oregon, Washington and Idaho. The meeting approved the recommendation, and directed the clerks to forward the same.

Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends, with its membership located in Oregon, Washington and Idaho desires to express to the government of the United States and especially to the President of the United States and the Secretary of State, our sincere appreciation of every effort made during the past year for international understanding, peace and disarmament.

We have been disappointed that more progress was not made at the London Conference toward the actual disarmament which we feel the world had a right to expect in view of the signing of this multi-lateral treaty for the renunciation of war. But we feel that some progress has been made in the direction of giving effect to this treaty, and we would urge each of the United States Senators from these three states especially to labor for its ratification, and as opportunity offers for further steps in the direction of international disarmament, good will and peace.

57. At this time the meeting was addressed by Frederick B. Sainty, a member of London Yearly Meeting, who told of his own convictions against war, and of the sentiment for peace among the English people. J. J. Handsaker, Regional Director for the National Council for the Prevention of War, also spoke briefly on the work of that organization.

58. Gervas A. Carey again gave the address of the inspirational hour.

59. The meeting adjourned to convene at 2:00 P. M.

67. The clerks were directed to sign a minute to be granted to Levi T. Pennington, and his wife Rebecca Pennington for religious service in certain eastern yearly meetings in America, and London and Dublin Yearly Meetings in the British Isles. S. Lewis Hansen, Lyra M. Dann, Chester A. Hadley were appointed a committee to draft such a minute.

68. The attention of the meeting was turned to the work of the Foreign Mission Board. The Superintendent read the following report which was accepted by the meeting:

REPORT OF BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS

The following report, together with the tabulated statistics, herewith presented, has been summarized from the reports received from the Superintendents of our five quarterly meetings which compose Oregon Yearly Meeting.

In nearly all of the Bible schools in the yearly meeting, missionary stories, or other items of interest, are presented monthly; and nearly every report indicates the missionary lessons are used in Christian Endeavor meetings. Newberg, Springbrook, Greenleaf, Star, South Salem, First and Second Churches of Portland and West Piedmont report mission study classes.

Some of our meetings made no financial offering toward the support of the program adopted by the yearly meeting last year; and some of the meetings giving to the support of other Friends missionary work, did not indicate the field to which their offerings were given. However, we have the following information to present. Scotts Mills sent $46.40 to India; The First church in Portland sent $155.00 to Central America, and $223.39 to India; West Piedmont sent $59.14 to Central America; Melba sent $70.91 to Walter and Geneva Bolitho, in India; Boise sent $2.37 to India; individual members of Star meeting sent $269.75 to Central America; and Greenleaf sent $100.00 to Vercia Cox, in China, to be used for the support of teachers in the Girls School.

South Salem sent gifts to missionaries, valued at $17.35, and three boxes to missions, valued $13.14; but did not indicate the field to which sent. Entiat sent a box to Carroll and Doris Tamplin, in Central America, valued at $25.00; and West Piedmont sent gifts to Geneva Bolitho, in India, valued at $12.00. The Second church of Portland sent gifts valued at $6.12, together with $2.00 in cash to pay duty charges, to the Fords, in Africa; and a gift of $17.56 in cash to the Tamplins, in Central America. A personal offering of $10.00 was added to the Tamplins, by Arthur Winters and wife. Individual members of the Second church sent gifts, valued at about $3.75, to the Bolithos, in India; and gifts valued at $2.00 to Alena Calkins, in India. Also, members of the Second church sent $5.00 to India, to help with the expense of the Christmas celebration.

Picture rolls and cards were sent to Central America, and to South America, by Salem meeting.

Newberg reports having received more than the usual number of visits from returned missionaries and others. Chehalem Center appreciated a visit from May Replogle, from Alaska; and Star received inspiration and blessing from a visit from Carrie Wood. Boise expresses a need of an increased number of visits from returned missionaries, and of Superintendents. Other meetings have been benefited by similar visits.

The Second church of Portland reports that returned missionaries, who are members of that meeting, have conducted eighteen meetings among other people, mostly those of other denominations.

The financial program, adopted by the Yearly Meeting last year, has been fulfilled by the board. However, the amount sent to Jefferson Ford, for the purchase of a Ford car, was a little in excess of the actual amount needed. The first careful estimate of cost was that it would be about $965.00 to $970.00, not including mud chains and other little necessities. The Board sent the full $1000.00 to Jefferson Ford; but when he bought the car, there was further saving in the price; and the car, all complete, cost only $963.00. Jefferson Ford offers to refund the $37.00; but, if the Yearly Meeting approves, the Board will be glad for Jefferson Ford to use this surplus to apply on operating expenses. Expressive of their appreciation of the kindness of this Yearly Meeting, in providing the Ford car for their use, Jefferson Ford writes the following, which are quotations in part from his letter: "It will be impossible to tell you adequately how we do appreciate this gift." "We certainly are thankful for the way Oregon Yearly Meeting has helped us, both in getting us to the field, and now in providing the car for our work." At the time of his writing, the car was in use, and had been driven about four thousand miles, proving to be entirely satisfactory, and equal to every emergency.

Through R. Esther Smith, the board received a request from the Friends Mission in Guatemala and Western Honduras, asking that $200.00 of the $1000.00 promised to their work be paid to Carroll and Doris Tamplin. This request was granted; and the remaining $800.00 was forwarded to the Treasurer of that mission. Mable F. Adell, Treasurer of the Friends Mission in Guatemala and Western Honduras, writes fully, expressing their appreciation of the offering of this Yearly Meeting to their work; and saying, "May God richly bless Oregon Yearly Meeting in her sessions and deliberations in this year's convocation, as well as bless her individual members in all the months of the coming year."

Very respectfully submitted,

F. J. Cope,
Chairman

The full statistical report appears in the appendix, parts of which were read at this time.

69. The following recommendation of the Missionary Board was accepted by the meeting:
To Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends:

During the past year the Foreign Mission Board has continued to give careful and prayerful attention to the formulation of a challenging program for the future missionary activities of the Yearly Meeting. We have continued the consideration and investigation of the fields which were before us last year, and have given attention to all suggestions concerning any field which may have been mentioned.

Thru information gathered and feelings expressed, the Board believes it is necessary for Oregon Yearly Meeting to adopt a missionary program upon which we can unite, and for which we will be responsible. In so doing we are overlooking no obligation previously assumed. Money now in the treasury for the Chilson family will continue to be held for them, and additional funds, individually designated for them, will be likewise held, until Esther and Rachel complete their college work, according to action of this meeting last year. Inasmuch as their return is two or more years in the future; not wishing to encroach upon the East African Field where Friends are already at work; feeling that we as a Yearly Meeting, as well as needy fields, will suffer loss thru a continued dividing of interest and scattering of missionary funds; and in it all having a sense of divine guidance that has been prayerfully sought, we propose the adoption of the Bolivian field in South America.

We believe it to be a confirmation of the Lord's leading, that the following proposal has just come to us. This proposal had not been made at the time we felt a new field should be adopted. It has affected our final choice of definite field. The proposal follows:

To the Missionary Board of Oregon Yearly Meeting:

The Friends Mission, Chiquimula, Guatemala, offers to Oregon Yearly Meeting the work and workers at La Paz, Bolivia, South America.

It consists of Juan Ayllon and wife, Tomasa, a congregation of some seventy Indians of the Aymara race, and a few of the Cholo Class beginning to believe. There is an organized Monthly Meeting and a larger established meeting held annually in November that in time will become a Camp or Yearly Meeting.

The work is sound in doctrine, evangelistic in spirit, maintains a small Bible Training school, night school, a Bible depository, a small medical department, and other church activities in addition to renting two chapels in the city.

The work is five years old and has come to its present state and condition at a total cost of about $4,500.00, contributed in most part by the native churches of the Central American field, accompanied by their tears and prayers.

If assumed by Oregon Yearly Meeting it is very probable that the Central American churches will wish to make a monthly offering to the Ayllons, but this cannot be well determined until their annual meeting next January.

Under God we make the offer of this work to Oregon Yearly Meeting for its direction and care, in which the mission in Guatemala will maintain no part in future management. We do this believing in the integrity of Oregon Yearly Meeting as to soundness in the Quaker faith and the doctrine of Holiness. We take this step in the fear of God and with confidence in our brethren and collaborators of Oregon Yearly Meeting, believing that, if you enter Bolivia as a mission field, you can better care for the future development of the growing interests there.

On behalf of the Mission,

Signed, R. Esther Smith, Supt.

Newberg, Oregon, June 11, 1930.

We as a Board are united in presenting this proposition to the Yearly Meeting, with the recommendation that it be accepted; and with a request that this Board be authorized to proceed to make and to put in operation, plans for the establishment and development of this field.

On behalf of the Board,
F. J. Cope
Chairman.

This action was to be interpreted so as not to preclude donations to other missionary fields of Friends, and that such gifts may be sent through the Yearly Meeting Treasurer.

70. The meeting adjourned to meet Seventh Day 9:30 A. M.

SEVENTH DAY 9:30 A. M.

71. The meeting met according to adjournment, and settled into a period of devotion.

72. The minutes of the previous day were read and approved...

73. The proposition of Edgar P. Sims in regard to the distribution of missionary funds was referred to the Missionary Board.

74. Announcement was made of the death of Ralph Jackson, pastor of the Friends Meeting at Emporia, Kansas, and brother-in-law of Scott Clark now serving the Yearly Meeting in the evening services. The meeting paused for a few moments for prayer and expression of appreciation and sympathy.

75. The Epistle Committee presented their report:

Your Committee appointed to prepare epistles have written epistles to Dublin, London and Germany Yearly Meetings and the American Yearly Meetings with which we correspond. On behalf of the Epistle Committee, William J. Murphy.

These epistles were read, adopted, and directed to be signed and forwarded.

76. The committee appointed to draft a minute for Levi T. Pennington and his wife presented the same which was approved by the meeting and directed to be signed by the clerks.

77. The recommendations of the Missionary Board were adopted, as follows:

If the Yearly Meeting acts favorably upon our report relative to our new field of service, we make the following additional propositions:

(1) That the Board of Foreign Missions of Oregon Yearly Meeting be authorized to incorporate under the laws of the state of Oregon.

(2) That to the missionaries being sent from the United States to our field of service a suitable salary be allowed. Also that a reasonable allowance be provided for support of dependent children and that reasonable allowance be made for medical care. We further suggest that the term of service be five years, more or less, dependent upon health and other conditions.

(3) That the Superintendent of Evangelistic and Church Extension work of the Yearly Meeting be made Superintendent of Foreign Missions; that he represent the Board in this work among our meetings at home; that for this service he receive $300 for the year, payable from the regular funds of the Board.

(4) (As revised by the Board) That the Yearly Meeting undertake to raise during the year $3,000.00 or more for the support of this work. Since Oregon Yearly Meeting has for many years supported the work in British East Africa, now under the American Friends Board of Foreign Missions; and since many of its members desire to continue to support that work: that all moneys received by the Treasurer of the Yearly Meeting designated for that field shall be forwarded to the American Friends Board of Foreign Missions for that work.

Respectfully submitted,

F. J. Cope, Chairman.

78. Upon the recommendation of the Board the Yearly Meeting united in the proposal to send to Bolivia as our first missionaries to this field Carroll G. Tamplin and Doris M. Tamplin his wife, who have already served four years in Central America under California Yearly Meeting.

79. The following recommendation of the Missionary Board was read and approved by the Yearly Meeting:
To Oregon Yearly Meeting:

Inasmuch as the missionary work in Bolivia was offered us in confidence that the work will be conducted along definitely orthodox lines, we therefore ask the Yearly Meeting to require that missionaries going to the field, meet the same requirements in doctrines and Christian experience as now apply in the recording of ministers and the calling of pastors.

Respectfully submitted on behalf of the Board,

F. J. Cope
Chairman.

80. The report of the statistician was read and appears in the appendix.

81. The list of the ministers of the Yearly Meeting was not read but referred to a committee who were to check and correct the addresses. The committee were I. G. Lee, Allan Smith, Margaret King, Verna Brennan and Helen Cammack.

82. The reports on State of Society were read and the clerk was directed to make a summary of these reports to be printed in the minutes.

SUMMARY OF THE REPORTS ON STATE OF SOCIETY

The meetings for worship have been regularly held. Some report an increased attendance of non-members. Several note need of more interest and better attendance at the evening meetings.

Family worship is not universal, but a number of families in each quarter find this a vital element in their spiritual life.

The young people are growing in grace, are taking more responsibility, and are recognized and used in the various activities, and in deputation work, outside Sunday Schools, mission, and jail work.

Thru the past year a number of series of evangelistic meetings have been held, with gratifying results in the main. This work has been done largely by the pastors of the Yearly Meeting. One Meeting reports that the adult membership has experienced a deepening in spiritual life.

The presence of visiting Friends has been a source of blessing in one meeting.

From each quarterly meeting there come expressions of increasing zeal in the work of evangelizing, and also a distinct sense of much land yet to be taken, both among our own membership and in adjacent fields.

83. The Yearly Meeting Treasurer's report was read and approved. The report follows:

South Salem meeting held an educational fellowship supper with Levi T. Pennington as speaker of the evening.

Floyd W. Perisho, Supt.

The statistical report appears in the appendix.

The report of Greenleaf Academy was read and approved as follows:

REPORT OF GREENLEAF ACADEMY FOR THE YEAR 1929-1930

We believe the school year just closing has been one which the Lord has been pleased to bless. In all things we have tried to do the work according to His will. The co-operation of the students with the teachers has been good. The conduct and industry of individual students has not always been perfect, and the scholarship in some cases was not what it should have been, but whenever a definite proposition was presented by the teachers we have always gotten the hearty co-operation of the students. The co-operation among the faculty members has been ideal.

The total enrollment for the year was 45, forty of this number finished the year's work.

Faculty Changes

Miss Olive M. Terrell, who has been a member of this faculty for four years, has resigned to take up special work in the Los Angeles Bible Institute. Miss Terrell has been a faithful worker in the community and her services will be greatly missed, however she has felt that she ought to be getting into this work so we are glad for her to be getting the preparation for the work to which the Lord is calling her.

Charles A. Beals has been secured to fill the place left vacant by Miss Terrell. Mr. Beals graduated from the Academy in 1924 and from Pacific College in 1929. Since that time he has been employed by the C. C. Anderson Co., working in their Boise store. He will teach History and coach athletics.

Miss Mildred Choate, who has been teaching English and American History, is to have the Latin and English.

Mr. William Murphy has not been able to decide whether he can continue with the music or not. He has been giving two days each week to music in the community; one half day at the public school and the rest of the time he was kept busy with private lessons and chorus work at the Academy. Two recitals were given during the year by the Academy students and three numbers were entered in the district high school Musical Contest. The grade pupils presented a Cantata at the close of the year which was a fitting demonstration of what they had been learning throughout the year.

Mr. Charles Moore came to the school once a week and conducted the chapel service and after chapel had charge of the First and Second year Bible class.

Progress

Some things have been accomplished during the past year for which we are very thankful. Last Fourth of July a 35 foot metal flag pole and a large wool flag were dedicated to the use of the school. This very appropriate gift was very largely the result of the efforts of the sophomore class of that year.

Early in the fall a movement was started which resulted in the erection of a very commodious gymnasium on the campus. This building is 72 by 50 with a playing floor 40 by 60 and a stage in the west end, provided with dressing rooms on either side thus giving a place for many of the public programs of the community as well as a place for gymnasium work. It cost about $1,500 and is nearly paid for. Enough money is subscribed to finish the payments. This achievement was fostered by the Alumni Association, and even tho people of the community gave liberally of their time and money, the credit for the actual realization of the whole thing largely belongs to Earl Antrim and Guy Tucker. Their constant faithful planning and work produced the results.

About $25.00 was spent for Laboratory apparatus during the year and a little more than that was spent in the Library for books and equipment.

Special Meetings

Our Pastor Charles T. Moore held a series of meetings at the church, closing December first. These meetings were very profitable to the spiritual welfare of the students. As has been the custom for some years the entire student body attended the day meetings at eleven o'clock and a large percent attended the evening meetings. A number seemed to be thoroughly converted and others became more firmly established in the faith.

Commencement

The Baccalaureate sermon was preached by Mr. Ralph J. Milton, Presiding Elder of the Columbia River Conference of the Free Methodist church. The six members of the graduating class each delivered an oration at the Class Program Thursday evening, May 29. Friday morning, at 10:30 May 30th, Gov. H. C. Baldridge delivered the Class Address and the Diplomas were presented. The members of the class are: Granger Longstroth, Dwight Madden, Macy Williams, Helen Williams, Viola Tuning and Marie Settle. Each one of them expects to go on to school and some of them are preparing for special Christian Work.

Viola Tuning and Helen Williams tied for the Pacific College scholarship this year and the Junior scholarship was earned by Phyllis Macy.

The year has closed. The records are made. Sometimes the efforts seem fruitless, but we can only do our best and leave the results with God.

Very respectfully,

F. D. Roberts

Respectfully submitted,
by Oliver Weesner,
Treasurer Pacific College.

The President of Pacific College presented his annual report and it was approved as follows:

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT OF PACIFIC COLLEGE 1929-1930

With a sincere sense of gratitude to God for his blessings during the past year, and to all the friends of Pacific College who aided in any way during the year just closed, I present this 19th annual report as president of Pacific College.

Scholastic Work of the Year

There are two outstanding things in the work of the college from the standpoint of its student body. The first is the discontinuance of the Academy, not one year at a time but three years all at once, which has resulted in a decided decrease in the faculty force required. The second thing is the enrollment of the largest Freshman class in the history of the college, with a goodly number entering other classes. There is a prospect of a still larger Freshman class for next year which makes it seem likely that Pacific College will follow the course of other colleges which have abandoned their preparatory departments, and will eventually have a larger enrollment of exclusively college students than it formerly had of the students in both college and academy.

The scholastic work of the year has been marked with success, though it has been more difficult than usual to prevent the extra curricular activities, which constitute a large part of a student's education, from interfering with the regular work of study, class room and laboratory.

A class of six was graduated from the college on Commencement Day, June 10. Genevieve H. Badley, Frank L. Cole, Esther L. Gulley, Lela R. Gulley and Generva M. Street received the Bachelor of Arts degree; and Ben C. Huntington received the Bachelor of Science degree. Eldon L. Everest, whose work was not quite completed at Commencement time last year, was awarded with the Bachelor of Arts degree as of 1929.

The highest honors of the class from the standpoint of scholarship and character went to Genevieve H. Badley.

The Junior Prize, for the best work done during the Junior year was awarded to Laurene Gettman.

The J. Wilbur Elliott Memorial Award, to the Freshman man adjudged to have made the greatest contribution in Christian life and service during the year went to George I. Donnell.

Eight members were included in the last class to graduate from the preparatory department of the college. They were Meredith Davey, Veldon J. Diment, G. Burton Frost, Eldon Newberry, Carl V. Sandoz, Margaret Jane Weesner, Winifred L. Woodward, and Archie E. Yergen.

The Pacific College scholarship, the highest award given a graduate of the academy was awarded to Margaret Jane Weesner.

Extra Curricular Activities

No student can ever be educated by the work of another; no student can be fully educated even by his own activity in a purely intellectual way. The extra curricular activities of such a school as Pacific College constitute one of the largest elements in the education of a student. In the small college there is vastly more opportunity for this extra curricular activity on the part of the individual student than in a great institution where the individual student is lost in the great mass of the student body.

The students have as heretofore co-operated in activities which were not exclusively student activities. The exercises of Hoover Day were greatly aided by the entire student body, and especially by more than a score of students who gave their time and energy not only on that day but on days that preceded and followed. The same is true of their co-operation in the college lecture course and in various other college enterprises.

The most important of the extra curricular activities of the student body, this year as always, has been the carrying on of the Christian work of the institution. This work has centered about the Young Men's Christian Association and the Young Women's Christian Association, though much co-operation has been given by individual students in work which was not organized by the Christian Associations.

The deputation group has held weekly meetings and done faithful and efficient service in a number of meetings of Friends and in other places where gospel service has been needed and has been rendered by these earnest Christian students, both faithfully and efficiently. The regular Christian Association meetings, the Bible study groups, the devotional part of the weekly student chapel have been part of the work of the Christian leaders of the student body inside the college as their participation in the regular and special services of the church has characterized their work off the campus.

The students have again made a notable contribution toward the lecture course of the college. For years a joint committee of student body and faculty have handled this course, the students doing most of the work of actually selling the tickets. This year the college tried a decided innovation in the presentation of a ten number course, five of which attractions were secured through a Lyceum organization, the other five being contributed by the college faculty and student body. Some of the students participated in the concert given by the music department- the students themselves gave a play under the direction of Esther Binford, who is in charge of the college dramatics, and the faculty furnished the three other numbers, a lecture by Perry D. Macy on the early history of Oregon, a lecture by the president of the college and a concert by the college faculty male quartet. This sort of a lyceum course seemed to meet the approval of the patrons of the course, and the same general plan will be followed next year.

The increasing use of such means as pageants and plays in the various lines of work in the church has been one of the influences which has lead Pacific College to the introduction of dramatic work in the college. Not only is this work now given as extra curricular work, but classes are given in the creation and presentation of pageants, plays, etc. Three student body plays have been presented during the past year, in addition to plays by college classes and other organizations.

The biennial May Day celebration occurred this year and was perhaps more than usually successful. One of the principal features of the day was a beautiful pageant prepared by the dramatic department.

One of the most interesting things in the Public Speaking work of the college this year was the debate on the question of disarmament with the University of Hawaii. This was a no-decision debate and Pacific had the unfortunate side of the debate from the standpoint of Quakerism, so that we were able to rejoice in the splendid presentation by the Hawaiian students of the case for disarmament quite as much as in the able effort on the part of our own students to present the other side of the case and to point out the difficulties of immediate disarmament. Both the young men and women of the college gave a good account of themselves in intercollegiate debating.

In athletics as heretofore the college has sought to make athletics a means for the adequate and healthful physical training of our entire student body rather than merely a means for beating somebody. The amateur standing of our athletes is never questioned nor questionable; the sportsmanship of our teams has won the admiration of those who have beaten us and those whom we have beaten. The college has been creditably represented by both young men and women in various intercollegiate athletic contests. The men have competed in soccer, basketball, baseball, tennis and track; and the women in volley ball and tennis. Our soccer team completed its second season with only one defeat last year by a team which was defeated by Pacific College twice this year. The revival of track last year was followed this year by a very successful track team which won more than its share of victories and established some enviable records.

Another extra curricular activity of our students has been their glee club work. A Woman's Glee Club of nearly a score and a Men' Glee Club but little smaller, gave concerts at Newberg, Portland and Salem; and smaller groups from these organizations have furnished music on a number of other occasions.

As promised last year, a team consisting of Della Hanville, LaVerne Hutchens and Ethel Newberry represented the college in the peace caravan work of the American Friends Service Committee during the summer of 1929. The American Friends Service Committee has cut the size of the woman's teams to two, the same as the men's teams, and this year the college will be again represented by Della Hanville and LaVerne Hutchens.

Hoover Day

The Hoover Day celebration already referred to, and which in some form will probably become an annual feature of the college life, was planned in honor of that member of Oregon Yearly Meeting and former student of Pacific who now occupies the White House as the chief executive of the United States.

The opening event of the Hoover Day celebration was held in the college in connection with the unveiling of a tablet in honor of Herbert Hoover. Part of the program occurred in the college chapel and part in the main corridor of Wood-Mar Hall, the principal college building. The program in the auditorium was opened with a congregational hymn led by Professor Alexander Hull, head of the music department. This was followed by the invocation by W. S. Gleiser pastor of the Newberg Methodist Church. Alpheus R. Mills, president of the college board, then presented Clarence J. Edwards, a member of the first class graduated from Pacific College, who presided and introduced the principal speaker of the day, Dr. Walter C. Woodward of Richmond, Indiana, General Secretary of the Five Years Meeting of Friends in America and editor of the, "American Friend," a graduate of Pacific College in the class of 1898 and a boyhood friend of Herbert Hoover, as well as one who was associated in the work of child feeding in Germany which Herbert Hoover as head of the American Relief Administration turned over to the American Friends Service Committee. Following this address and the singing of America by the congregation, the company adjourned to the corridor on the first floor, where Alpheus R. Mills as president of the board presented the bronze tablet to the college, and Amanda M. Woodward and Anna B. Miles drew back the American flags which veiled the tablet. The president of the college made a brief speech of acceptance on behalf of the college administration, Professor Chase L. Conover on behalf of the faculty, and Ben C. Huntington, president of the Senior class and retiring president of the student body, on behalf of the students. The singing of the college song by the college students massed on the north stairs completed this part of the exercises of the day.

This bronze tablet, two feet by three feet in size, bears the following inscription:

IN HONOR OF
HERBERT HOOVER
Humble Country Boy
Earnest Student
Distinguished Engineer
Effective Administrator
World Philanthropist
Promoter of Peace
Eminent Statesman
President of the United States

A Tribute of Love and Esteem From His Boyhood School PACIFIC COLLEGE

Following the unveiling and dedication of this tablet tea was served to the guests of the college under the direction of the hospitality committee appointed for Hoover Day, and the guests were shown about the campus and the college buildings.

Following this the guests were taken in automobiles to various places in and about Newberg associated with the early life of Herbert Hoover. These spots included the old academy building, in which he was a student; the site of the present Friends Meeting and Yearly Meeting House, which was formerly the site of the college; the site of the old Friends Meeting house, in which Herbert Hoover attended meeting when a boy here; the home in which he lived with his uncle when a boy; the pasture, now a city park, in which he cared for his uncle's cow; and the old swimming hole where he used to swim and near which he used to fish.

The banquet in the evening was held at Legion Hall, and about 200 of the friends of the college, from Newberg, Portland, Salem and other places, enjoyed the banquet itself and the program in connection with it. Besides the invocation by Clayton D. Brown and music by Professor Alexander Hull accompanied by Blyth Owen Cramlet, three selections (with encores) were given by the college double male quartet; and with the president of the college acting as toastmaster the following program was carried out in honor of President Hoover and in appreciation of the college which he has not only honored by expressions of appreciation but has aided repeatedly in a financial way:

On behalf of the United States Government, George Neuner of Portland, United States District Attorney.

On behalf of the state government, Hal E. Hoss of Salem, Secretary of State.

On behalf of the City of Portland, Mayor George L. Baker (whose actual address was given in the afternoon, as it was impossible for him to be present at the banquet in the evening).

On behalf of the City of Newberg, Charles B. Wilson.

On behalf of the state educational institutions, Dr. Burt Brown Barker of Portland, Vice-President of the University of Oregon.

On behalf of the independent colleges of Oregon, Dr. Leonard W. Riley of McMinnville, President of Linfield College.

On behalf of Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends, Chester A. Hadley of Portland, pastor of First Friends Church.

On behalf of the college board, Thomas W. Hester of Newberg.

On behalf of the Alumni, Lyra Miles Dann of Corvallis.

On behalf of the Pacific College Faculty, Russel W. Lewis of Newberg.

On behalf of the Student Body, Ralph E. Choate of Greenleaf, Idaho, president of the student body.

All the guests were registered during the day, and their names and a full record of the day will be sent to Herbert Hoover and deposited in a niche back of the tablet. A picture was taken of men and women who knew Herbert Hoover when he was a boy.

The college is extremely grateful to all those who assisted in making this Hoover Day celebration possible and successful. While the financial returns were not all that had been desired, nor even all that had been expected, it was felt that the college was greatly benefited by this observance.

Faculty

The college is particularly fortunate that it is able to retain for the coming year the entire present teaching force. The only change for the coming year is in the appointment of Alexander Hull, who has headed the music work of the college for years, as Professor of Music in closer relationship to the college than heretofore, and on a salary instead of being remunerated by music tuitions.

The President of the college has been granted leave of absence for work in the east for at least the first half of the academic year.

The College Mourns

Two deaths during the year have touched the college very vitally, one of a member of the board, the other a member of the faculty.

The death of Dr. William Rees removes from the college board one of its most loyal members, whose counsel and help have been greatly appreciated during all the years he has been on the board. Tyra A. Hutchens of Portland was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Dr. Rees.

Eva Hummer Hull, for nearly twenty-two years head of the piano and violin teaching of the college, also died during the year. As an artist of rare ability, a teacher of rare skill and a friend to students and fellow teachers her place cannot be filled.

Other Board Changes

During the year there have been two resignations from the college board. J. Harlan Smith, who has moved to California, has resigned, and his place has been filled by the appointment of Joseph McCracken of Scotts Mills. Milo P. Elliott also resigned after twenty years of continuous service. His resignation was accepted with a hearty expression of appreciation for his long and faithful service. Curtis W. Parker was selected to take his place.

Facing the Future

The Friends of Oregon Yearly Meeting have supported Pacific College with a generosity which has been a wonder and admiration of Friends in many other parts of the United States. The college earnestly solicits the continuation of the support of the Yearly Meeting, not only in a financial way, but by your interest and our prayers. The college is doubtless not all that you wish it might be. It is certainly not all that the college management wish it might be, but it is seeking to carry out its motto, "A liberal education under the best Christian influence." It is seeking continuously to uphold not only the basic things of the gospel on which evangelical churches are agreed, but those peculiar truths which Friends have particularly stressed. The college can continue only as the Friends of Oregon Yearly Meeting give it their loyal support.

With confidence that God, who has helped us hitherto will not forsake us if we continually find His will and do it faithfully, we face the future with hope and courage.

Respectfully submitted,
Levi T. Pennington

The meeting received and approved the following report of the Women's Auxiliary to Pacific College:

REPORT OF THE WOMEN'S AUXILIARY TO PACIFIC COLLEGE

The Woman's Auxiliary to Pacific College has carried on during the past year the usual enterprises for the help of the college.

We provided for the recalcimining of a large proportion of the interior of Wood-Mar Hall, and made other improvements in this main building. New rugs were provided for the main hall of the women's dormitory. Besides these things, the usual provisions were made for replacements and additions to kitchen equipment, supplies etc.

The chief financial enterprise of the Auxiliary this year, as for several years past, was the community fair. The net proceeds of this fair this year amounted to about $700.00. Several other smaller enterprises were carried out, such as the banquet for the Alumni Association, for the Gold Letter Club of the college, the Junior-Senior banquet, and assistance in the Hoover Day banquet.

One other action of the Auxiliary will perhaps be of interest. At the east entrance to the city we have erected a sign in Gold and Navy Blue, the college colors, on a heavy metal post and bracket, which points to the college and bears the inscription, "Pacific College, Herbert Hoover's Boyhood School."

On behalf of the Auxiliary,

Rebecca Pennington, President

The period allotted to this subject was concluded with an address by Levi T. Pennington on the preventive value of Christian Education.

96. The report of Home Mission and Social Service Superintendent was read as follows, and approved:

REPORT OF HOME MISSION AND SOCIAL SERVICE COMMITTEE 1930

I have itemized this report by Quarterly Meetings so that you might see the interests of the various sections of the Yearly Meetings.

Home Mission and Social Service work is so much a part of everyday living that much of it is hard to report and each Quarterly Meeting Superintendent says his report is not complete because so much has not been reported from the various meetings. Even then these reports indicate that more than $3,000 has been spent besides all the other gifts and services for this part of God's work.

We trust that the food, money, clothing, flowers, and various services given have ministered to seeking spirits and discouraged hearts as well as to physical comfort, and that all has been given in a spirit that has met the poet Lowell's version of giving:

"He who gives himself with his alms feeds three, Himself, his hungry neighbor and Me." (Christ)

SEVENTH DAY 7:45 P. M.

104. The meeting convened according to adjournment and settled into a short period of devotion.

105. The report of the children's meetings was read and approved:

REPORT OF THE CHILDREN'S MEETINGS

The children's meetings have been attended with interest by 27 different children, with an average attendance of 16. Ten monthly meetings were represented. The little people gave evidence of enjoying the spiritual truths as they were pressed home by the use of Scripture, symbol, object lessons, story and song.

Several responded in prayer and personal testimony to a heart relationship with the Heavenly Father. We feel that the time with the children has been well spent and we pray that God's word will not return unto Him void but it will accomplish that whereunto it was sent. Bertha May Pennington assisted acceptably in these services.

Respectfully submitted,

Hazel K. Porter

106. The Yearly Meeting Christian Endeavor reported their organization which appears in the directory.

107. The President of the Yearly Meeting Christian Endeavor read the report which was approved and is printed below:

REPORT OF THE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

To our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, we express our humble gratitude for the blessings, prosperity, and success which have attended the Christian Endeavor throughout the past year.

Perhaps the work of this year is less easily tabulated than that of past years, however, we feel some definite work has been done.

It is gratifying to note that several Quarterly Meeting C. E. Rallies have been held throughout the Yearly Meeting. The holding of such rallies should be strongly encouraged since through these a stronger bond of fellowship between the societies is established.

Two banquets were held this year, one at Salem for the Western part of the Yearly Meeting at which there was an attendance of 375, the largest we have ever had, and the other at Greenleaf for Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting at which there was an attendance of 150. These banquets have proved to be not only times of fun and fellowship, but times of real blessing.

During the past year two Summer Conferences were held. The twelfth annual conference of the Christian Endeavor was held at Twin Rocks. The attendance was very gratifying. We feel that it was, as it has been throughout its history, a source of real spiritual help and blessing to our young people. The services of the Chilson family in the conference were greatly appreciated. Truly they labored under the anointing of God.

For those in Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting another conference was held at Lake Wallowa, Oregon. This conference was quite well attended and we feel that the young people were strengthened in the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ.

We were happy to allow the German Baptists the use of the conference grounds at Twin Rocks for a week's conference.

The Friendly Endeavor has been published regularly during the past year. We are thankful for the financial support so kindly given.

In an effort to establish a common goal of endeavor, a chart with a group of goals was presented to the Christian Endeavor societies of the Yearly Meeting. We believe that the chart has been helpful.

We are facing the coming year with renewed interest. The coming year presents a real challenge to us. There is much to do but we are enthusiastically facing the task. In the love of our Savior we will work and pray as never before; we will advance. "If God be for us who can be against us?" Christian Endeavorers, forward! Under the banner of the Cross of Calvary we cannot fail.

Respectfully submitted,

Walter P. Lee, President.

EXTRACTS FROM THE REPORT OF AMERICAN FRIENDS SERVICE COMMITTEE,

To Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends, held at Newberg, Oregon,

Seven centers of interpretation and understanding are maintained in foreign countries. Most of this work is carried on jointly with the Friends Service Council of London and Dublin Yearly Meetings.

The work in Moscow continues very much as it was a year ago. Alice Davis and Mrs. Danilevsky are at present translating a devotional book, written by Count Leo Tolstoi, into English.

Dorice White continues as head of the Center and she also teaches English. In view of the present Russian attitude toward religion, it is heartening for us to be able to continue our contacts there.

Geneva is of ever increasing importance in international circles; likewise our center and hostel have from all reports gained very appreciably in their influence on the spiritual and international life of Geneva. A MEETING WITH THIRTY-TWO adult members and twenty children is maintained in Geneva, but frequently the attendance goes as high as seventy people representing three or four, and sometimes more, national groups. Often the speaking is done in as many as three languages. The Geneva Hostel also emphasizes international understanding in that among the twelve students at present living in the Hostel eight different countries are represented. Our work there is little short of a SPIRITUAL LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

Gilbert and Minnie Bowles, who have spent thirty-five years in Japan, are returning to this country for a furlough in 1930-31, and have been invited by the American Friends Service Committee to make a study of our various centers on their journey. Through them we hope to develop a closer sense of fellowship between the center in Tokyo where Hugh and Elizabeth Borton represent the American Friends Service Committee, and our centers in Europe and America.

The peace work of the Committee has continued to develop in intensity and in scope.

Over a year ago a small newspaper release service was started providing international news notes for small county newspapers. Only editors who have been interviewed by a member of our staff and have agreed to use the material receive it. That service has grown until it is reaching about two hundred papers and approximately two and one-half million people. Recently we have had a request for it from a syndicate representing two thousand small county newspapers throughout the country.

Henry J. Cadbury, Chairman.
