REPORT OF BIBLE SCHOOL AND RELIGIOUS EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

The different schools reported many things that they had done, that could not come under the above headings.

One school reported special effort on Missionary teaching, having given 15 minutes for missionary talk in each session.

Mite boxes have been introduced and boys and girls have collected Bible pictures, picture rolls and extra Sunday School supplies for China Peniel mission as well as for our own missionaries in Bolivia.

Another school filled and sent Friendship chests to the Philippines.

Several schools report having taken up offerings for the American Sunday School Union and the Children's Farm Home. Other schools reported that they collected food for the poor at Christmas time.

One Sunday School reported that they gave two plays, after which collections were taken for the missionary work in Africa and for the American Friends Service Committee work.

Another meeting reported that they operated a Sunday School bus in which part of the children were brought to Sunday School.

Two schools reported having started new Sunday Schools and are backing them financially.

One school reported having given approximately 30 Bibles, Testaments, or Books as rewards for 100% attendance. Another gave 25 New Testaments to pupils.

Throughout Boise Quarterly Meeting Decision Day was observed on March 29. Three meetings reported that several children bowed at the altar and found God.

Many other things were reported but I could not include them all in this report.

ESTHER GULLEY, Superintendent

REPORT OF TEACHERS' TRAINING DEPARTMENT

As a Teachers' Training Department the past year we have tried to concentrate on three projects; first, to add to our library; second, to arouse interest in reading helpful literature by circulating this library in the different Quarterly Meetings; third, to make a study of the best books for Teachers Training classes which could be recommended for use during the coming year.

During the past year we have made substantial additions to the Sunday School library, including as far as possible, books to meet the need of each department. For the teacher of Beginner and Primary ages there are, "Methods with Beginners" by Danielson, "Primary Method in the Church School," by Munkries. For those teaching Junior and Intermediate ages, "Girlhood and Character," Moxcey; "Fireside Stories for Girls," "Jesus and a Boy's Philosophy of Life," "Through the Gateway," "Childrens Story Garden." For Teachers of Young People, "Across Borderlands," "Dramatized Bible Stories," "Phunology." For Teachers of older pupils, "Senior Method in the Church School," "How to Teach Religion," by Betts, "Religious Education in the Family," Cope, and the series of books on regular Teachers Training work.

All ages would be interested in the books which deal with our own denomination in story form, "Story of Quakerism," by Emmott, and Violet Hodgkins' fascinating "Book of Quaker Saints." A number of new tracts, biographies of Quaker leaders have also been added to the library. Young people would find it an interesting addition to any social gathering to tell, as though it were a personal experience of the stirring experiences of George Fox or Margaret Fell, of Elizabeth Fry in her struggles for better prison conditions, of John Woolman with his beautifully sensitive spirit or of Levi Coffin and his strategies in connection with the "underground railroad."

These books have been circulated most in Tacoma, Boise Valley and Newberg Quarterly meetings the past year, and so Salem and Portland will have first access to them after Yearly Meeting.

We have tried to make a careful study of books on Teacher Training work which we felt were adapted to the needs of Oregon Yearly Meeting and have selected the following: For those who wish to do advanced work, Betts, "How to Teach Religion," and Athearn's "Church School" and the "Pilgrim Teachers Training Course" are outstanding. For those who wish something less ambitious there are Roberts' "Teaching in the Church School," Moninger, "Training for Service" and Barbour's "Making the Bible Desired." We wish to call special attention to a new book in the field which we feel would suit any class as the first text. It is written by a woman who has had years of experience teaching in a small Sunday School and the educational background to share that experience in the most helpful way. McLester's "Our Pupils and How They Learn" is written in interesting conversational style telling of a workers council where each brings his or her problems to the group for discussion. These books are on display during Yearly Meeting and we hope those interested will find time to look them over.

No amount of reading can take the place of a knowledge of the Bible and the personal religious life of the teacher, but we feel that knowledge and life may be better shared with our pupils as we study more the technique of learning.

Since we have just received the appropriation for the year we feel that in recognition of difficulty most meetings have in raising their Yearly Meeting stock, we should make our request for five dollars, instead of ten for the coming year.

LYRA M. DANN, Superintendent

Helen Cammack, who was in charge of the children's work during Yearly Meeting, outlined the plan of the work which was being done, and gave helpful suggestions for efficient Daily Vacation Bible School work.

Marjorie Votaw gave a talk on the serious calling of the Sunday School teacher.

38. The report of the Superintendent of Temperance was presented as follows, which was approved by the meeting, with expressions of commendation for the excellent and sacrificing work of the Superintendent.

REPORT OF THE TEMPERANCE DEPARTMENT

Summary:

Temperance Sermons.....	17
Addresses.....	33
Programs.....	20
Short Talks.....	11
Meetings have regular monthly temperance talks in S. S.....	10
Meetings have occasional temperance talks in S. S.....	5
Pages of literature distributed.....	3450
Used in the various activities of temperance work.....	$109.91
Many meetings report participation in the W. C. T. U., Anti-Saloon League, and L. T. L. work.

Two report letters of protest were written to legislators.

Most reports show activity in temperance work among the membership and throughout the community.

For several years, the wet element in our country has advocated repeal of the prohibition laws. They suggest we adopt the Canadian system known as "Government Control," claiming that that is the ideal solution of the liquor problem.

Desiring to obtain first hand information with regard to the workings and effects of this system, your superintendent made a trip to Vancouver, B. C., on the 26th of last August. There for a week I investigated and observed the traffic and interviewed all classes of society seeking to learn the varied opinions as to the merits and demerits of their plan. I returned home firmly convinced that the whole scheme is vicious and a dismal failure.

During the year, I have had a part in two quarterly meetings, given seven short talks, and twenty-one addresses; fifteen of these in the various monthly meetings and six in response to invitations outside our denomination.

The stage fare and incidental expense of the Canadian trip was approximately forty-five dollars.

In filling the various appointments it has been necessary to drive over 800 miles. Figuring car maintenance at four cents per mile would make this expense $32.00, or a total of $77.00.

Against this I have applied the $10.00 allowed by the Yearly Meeting to the temperance department for the years 1929 and 1930, also a collection of seventy cents (the only one taken) leaving a net expense of $56.30. This amount I gladly contribute to this service for the Master.

Remarks: The year's review of Prohibition in the United States shows this to have been a very controversial subject in politics and in the press, and a leading subject of general conversation. It seems destined to be a dominant issue in the elections of next year.

There are always two sides to this question—just as there are two sides to a piece of sticky fly paper. First, let us list some of the outstanding events and interests that are opposed to prohibition and later those favorable to it.

For several years the opposition has been plotting and organizing for a concerted attack upon our statutes. The leading organization in this regard is the Association against the Prohibition Amendment. This is composed of seven multi-millionaires with a combined wealth in excess of 40 million dollars; all these men would profit by the return of liquor. One of these is John J. Raskob, head of the Democratic National Committee. This explains his insistence that his party declare for repeal.

This group is sowing the country deep with unauthoritative literature, seeking to discredit our laws and advocating defiance and open violation of them.

A recent poll of 1000 leading newspapers shows 70% of them favorable to the wet cause—a serious situation.

In the elections last fall we saw a noticeable increase in the number of Democrats in Congress, but this made no material difference in the wet and dry situation. 300 of the 456 Representatives and 76 of the 96 Senators being pledged as dry.

The subject of nullification or repeal has been before the legislatures of 16 states during the winter sessions, but in most cases was met with emphatic rejection. At the present time there are only five states that have repealed their state enforcement acts.

The International League of Prohibition Adversaries is holding a convention in Paris at the present time. The avowed purpose of this gathering is to devise plans and subscribe money looking to the repeal of Prohibition in the United States.

"There's a dark and a shady side to life—there's a bright and a shiny side, too." On the first of July of last year, enforcement of Prohibition was transferred from the Treasury department to the department of Justice. Under a new set of officials with but one objective, we notice a constant increase in the number of arrests with longer jail sentences; the breaking up of strong liquor rings and a general improvement in enforcement all along the line.

By July first, all the 500 additional agents authorized by the last Congress will be at work. The increasing number of arrests for bootlegging and operating stills, does not indicate more violations as the opposition would have us think, but efficiency of enforcement.

The wet element made much of the decision by Judge Clark of New Jersey claiming the 18th amendment was illegally adopted, hence invalid. This forced an appeal to the Supreme Court of the U. S. By unanimous decision Judge Clark's findings were reversed and the amendment declared valid. Associate Judge Roberts read the decision adding that "unless and until" it was modified by legislative processes, the 18th amendment must remain in the Constitution. This shows the fallacy of nullification.

When Congress voted to modify the Jones Law, many persons regarded it as an indication the members were retrenching. This did not prove to be the case. The famous 5 and 10 provisions were retained for dealing with large offenders while smaller penalties were set for minor offenses.

A matter that promises much for the dry cause is the new movement to band the youth of the nation to be known as the "Allied Youth," sponsored by the "Allied Business Men" and assisted by the "Allied Campaigners."

Even as the world has been watching America as she made unrivalled progress under our experiment of Prohibition, so we have observed the several provinces of Canada in their experiment of Government Control of Liquor, to see this change to Liquor Control of the Government and a debauched citizenry. That some of our neighbors to the north realize the failure of their experiment is evidenced by the fact that the people of Victoria, capital of British Columbia, by a majority of 1713 voted to close the beer parlors with the end of the fiscal year. Let us hope and pray that this leaven of reform may spread throughout the entire dominion.

By way of summary I wish to quote the words of Dr. Deets Pickett, secretary of the Board of Temperance of the Methodist church. He says, "There is no evidence of popular revolt against prohibition, such sentiment being skilfully manufactured by men employed at salaries of $10,000 to $25,000 a year."

W. M. HEACOCK, Superintendent

He followed with an exhortation to continuous aggressive temperance agitation.

39. The Yearly Meeting united in the suggestion that the Temperance Superintendent send to the Mayor of Los Angeles a letter expressing our approval of his action in supporting the national sentiment for prohibition while abroad, and deploring the fact that others did not follow the same course.

40. At 11:30, the inspirational hour, Chester A. Hadley brought a message, "The Love of our Lord Jesus Christ."

41. The meeting adjourned to convene again at 2:00 p. m.

FIFTH DAY 2:00 P. M.

42. The meeting met according to adjournment, and silently waited upon the Lord for His blessing.

43. The epistles from Nebraska and California Yearly Meetings were read.

44. The report of the statistician was read by Quarterly Meetings, approved by the meeting, and appears in full in the appendix.

45. The Nominating Committee submitted nominations for members of the Evangelistic Board, which were approved by the meeting and appear in the directory.

46. The Evangelistic and Church Extension Board presented its statistical report which appears in the appendix.

The Yearly Meeting Evangelistic Superintendent read his report of the year's work, as follows:

PASTORAL AND CHURCH EXTENSION DEPARTMENT

Jesus said, "Upon this rock will I build my church and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." This conversation between Jesus and His disciples was at a time when men were questioning the identity of the man of Galilee. His works had stirred the land; His teachings had revealed a depth and authority never before exhibited by a prophet. Naturally the question arose, "who is this man?" Peter, by divine revelation, settles for all time his identity as the Son of God, and Jesus settles for all time his relation to the church as its foundation and its protector.

Centuries removed from that event, we find ourselves today in the midst of a questioning world asking again the age old questions, "Who is He?", "Why did He come?", "What has He done?", "What claim has He upon us?" Wonderful, isn't it, that that quiet conversation yonder in the coasts of Caesarea Philippi should echo on down the years and be as insistent in its answer as when it first began. Other men spoke words of wisdom and counsel in those days; but their words are forgotten. What makes the difference? Jesus is the Son of God.

To answer the question today requires the same divine revelation as then; each of us must come to that revelation by the Spirit of Truth which will "guide us into all truth." The church can justify her existence only as she fulfills her obligation in the discharge of this tremendous task. A hungry, needy world waits today as then for a clear declaration as to the Son of God. Oregon Yearly Meeting has definitely settled her position upon this question and her ministry is dedicated to the end that the Son of God may be exalted to his rightful place. Materialistic teaching and Modernism which tends to rob Him of His Deity has no rightful place in our midst. Our declarations are clear and certain, and we have "set ourselves in defense of the Faith." But well worded statements as to doctrinal position, and nice sounding minutes as to "the State of Society" will not serve in themselves as safeguards in this time of test. These must be the natural outgrowth of honest convictions and conditions, else they but become "dead timber" that weighs down rather than holds up. It is necessary, therefore, that we maintain constantly our vigilance, "keeping the faith" alive in our own hearts.

He who promised that the "gates of hell should not prevail against the church" set forth plainly that only as the church built upon the "sure foundation" would this protection be granted to her. Truly we say today, "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God." Humbly we pray, "grant us Thy promise of safety from the storm of the 'gates of hell.'"

The action of last Yearly Meeting placed a Superintendent in the field again after several years without the services of such an office. In no uncertain voice the Evangelistic Board was directed to find someone for the place. This year has been one of beginnings and there remains much to be done that time would not permit to accomplish. The arrangement for the Superintendent to held meetings throughout the Yearly Meeting was responded to in a very gratifying way. Nearly every meeting requested his services, and they were taken in the order received. The actual work as Superintendent did not begin until September 1, so that there has not been a full year in which to work or to report, but seven revival meetings were held in various parts of the Yearly Meeting. Statistics as to the result of revivals are very unsatisfactory, but eternity alone will reveal all that they accomplish. However, there were seventy-five seekers at the altar during the winter, for which we thank God and pray that much more than appears on the surface may result from the efforts put forth.

The advisability of this method of procedure in our revival work is open to question. Much time was taken from administrative work and the demands upon the Superintendent during the various meetings were heavy enough to hinder seriously the best results. Some of the pastors with a real concern for holding meetings refrained from doing so, fearing that it would interfere with the program of the Board. This condition must be remedied in such a manner as to give the pastors and meetings full liberty in calling the worker of their choice for their special meetings.

During the year I have visited every Quarterly Meeting at least once in their regular sessions; I have spoken in every Monthly meeting; and have responded to outside calls in a number of cases. The actual number of sermons preached is 140; miles traveled, over 15,000. The courtesy of the railroads in extending annual passes has made it possible to keep the traveling expense under $150.00.

Besides the meetings held by the pastor, several other men were used within our limits. William J. Murphy, who for a number of years served as pastor at Entiat and Boise felt led to enter the evangelistic field and resigned his place at Boise last fall to follow his leading as the way might open. He was used at Greenleaf to lead singing for their Fundamental Conference; at Star, to assist the Superintendent in the meeting there; at Melba and Valley Mound, where he conducted the services alone. He also came to Vancouver and helped in the meeting there, then to Kelso, North East Tacoma and Entiat. God richly blessed him in his step of faith and much good resulted from his labors in our midst. He has been in Kansas Yearly Meeting for some time and reports indicate that his service there has been very acceptable. Fred Harris, from Ohio, while visiting relatives in Greenleaf was asked to hold their meeting, which resulted in great victory and blessing. Frank W. Dell, Superintendent of California Yearly Meeting, held a profitable revival for Newberg monthly meeting; his work in Visual Education is outstanding, and the result of his work among the children was very gratifying. Harry Hays, from Ohio, held a meeting for Bethany meeting in Seattle and while this meeting was held after March 31, I report it here because it will be so far removed from next year's memory. Several of the pastors held their own meetings and in each instance report permanent results.

Two monthly meetings have made much needed improvement on their meeting houses. Entiat, which for years has worshipped in the basement as the first unit of their church, dared to think of finishing the superstructure. Work was begun and carried on as they had money to pay until the last $400.00, which was borrowed and used in order to finish all the work at once. They have made an appeal to the Yearly Meeting Board for financial help and the Superintendent has solicited in several meetings in their behalf, receiving the money to be used as a loan to the Entiat meeting, they to repay it to the Board to become a part of a revolving loan fund which we hope to build in time to substantial proportions.

Melba found herself "growing up" and found her building too small for her needs. Three gracious revivals held there during the year resulted in 40 seekers and nearly as many being received into membership. This rendered their plant inadequate for Sunday School purposes. After prayerful consideration they began operations to enlarge the building at a cost of about $500.00, which they hope to be able to handle themselves without the help of the Board.

God moves in many ways to accomplish his ends. A letter addressed to Dillon Mills from some friends that had moved into Kamiah, Idaho, asking for help in their field resulted in Paul Mills responding to that call and immediately after his marriage to Wilma Witham, they moved to that place and at the present time are doing excellent pioneer work in that point that, at one time years ago, was a Friends work. They are there without cost to the Board, but are working in harmony with our program. The vision and zeal of this young couple deserves our prayers and interest.

At Twin Rocks, Oregon, where the C. E. Conference is held annually, another opportunity presented itself to the C. E. executive committee which resulted in placing Evert Tuning there on the Camp grounds to care for the grounds and to conduct such religious services as might be advisable. He reports a hard but challenging field, and solicits our prayers for them there.

These two new points are encouraging and with the large number of young people that are answering the call to the ministry, Oregon Yearly Meeting faces a challenge that is tremendous. The Workers League, which is a group of our young people definitely called to full time Christian service, has been active this year in many ways. Their report will appear in another place, but it is fitting to mention them here and solicit your prayers for them in their problem of finding open doors for their gifts. They are planning a series of tent meetings this summer.

The few changes which will be made in the pastoral situation have not been completely arranged. Merrill M. Coffin answered the call to serve at First Church in Portland, and began his services there in September last. Carl F. Miller came to Newberg Meeting to fill the pulpit there. Clayton Brown took the work at Boise following William Murphy's resignation. Bernard E. Mott accepted the work at Piedmont under a divided program in which the Portland Bible School and the monthly meeting shared the services and place of worship together. Out of this situation has arisen a problem which we hope will result in the change of location of the meeting to another place of worship some little distance removed from the present site. Abram Astleford took the work at Chehalem Center just following Yearly Meeting last year; Edward F. Harmon responded to a call to serve the meeting at Middleton, following the removal of Lewis C. and Myrtle Russell to Valley Mound, Idaho, to fill the place of Herman H. Macy, who filled the vacancy at Scotts Mills occasioned by the removal of William E. Allen from the limits of the Yearly Meeting to take work in California Yearly Meeting. The rest of the meetings retained the pastor serving them the previous year.

This has been a year of financial depression, yet we have come through the year with all bills paid to date, and a substantial balance in the treasury to our credit. There are also unpaid pledges and unpaid Yearly Meeting Stock to the amount of approximately $650.00 which will be available for our use for the coming year. Each Quarter has made an honest effort to raise the entire amount of its assessment and in each case has come to Yearly Meeting much nearer paid up than last year. This is cause for thanksgiving and praise. Many institutions are retrenching and finding it difficult to secure necessary funds to meet their obligations. Let us take courage and meet the coming financial year with interest and enthusiasm. God is able.

47. The following recommendation of the Evangelistic and Church Extension Board was read and approved:

To the Yearly Meeting:

At a previous meeting of the Board it was decided to recommend to the Yearly Meeting that Chester A. Hadley be called to the service of Superintendent of the Evangelistic Board for a period of two years; but after considering the present financial condition of the Yearly Meeting at the suggestion of the Superintendent it was decided to recommend that he be called for one year, at the same salary as last year, namely $1,200.00.

MARIETTA LEWIS, Secretary

48. Denver B. Headrick, President of the Christian Worker's League, reviewed briefly the past history of the League and outlined the plans for the immediate future.

56. The Yearly Meeting Superintendent of the Friends Service Committee presented his report as follows:

REPORT OF YEARLY MEETING SUPERINTENDENT OF SERVICE COMMITTEE

The work carried on in the Yearly Meeting during the past year by Friends interested in the activities of the American Friends Service Committee have been of two types. First, cooperation with local peace committees and other organizations fostering work directly or indirectly connected with the cause of peace, and second, definite programs or informational material having to do more specifically with the program of the American Friends Service Committee.

In connection with the first line of activity, the Service Committee has assisted in circulating petitions asking the United States Senate to take action regarding the affiliation of the United States with the World Court. The Service Committee has also encouraged and, where possible, assisted Friends in communicating with senators, representatives and other government officials regarding various phases of the peace problem.

In connection with the second line of activity, the principal work done was in Newberg Monthly Meeting, where the pageant "Good Will Dimes" was put on with remarkable success. In connection with this activity the "Ruler Banks" were filled in with dimes by a considerable number of Sunday School children resulting in the contribution of $23.60 to the American Friends Service Committee.

Respectfully submitted,

CHASE L. CONOVER, Superintendent

The meeting accepted the report. Extracts from the report of the American Friends Service Committee appear in the appendix.

57. The report of the Yearly Meeting Superintendent of Peace was read and approved by the meeting.

REPORT OF PEACE DEPARTMENT

Peace, like any other value, must be attained by hard and persistent work. It must be bought with a price. International peace will be a reality when we as individuals, and as nations are willing to pay the price for peace.

It is not enough, however, for us to want peace or even to be willing to make the necessary sacrifice to attain it. We must also know how to go about organizing and educating for peace. It is in this regard that the Society of Friends stands in a unique position to lead and direct the formation of public opinion in the direction of World Peace.

The peace reports from the various quarterly meetings in Oregon Yearly Meeting show clearly that individual Friends and congregations of Friends are taking seriously the responsibility of paying the price for peace. One Friend from Tacoma Quarterly Meeting writes as follows:

"I wish our church might be alive to this fundamental principle of our society. Ever since the days of our founders, Friends have been recognized as the leading church opposed to war. It is therefore our duty, and right now is an opportunity to promote the principle of world peace. There never was a time when so many people were trying to find some solution for the war menace."

A more detailed summary, of the quarterly meeting reports, shows that eight public meetings were held specially in the interests of peace. Eleven peace sermons and addresses have been given besides a much larger number of short peace talks before Christian Endeavor societies, Sunday School classes or in connection with the closing exercises of Sunday School. Some meetings have a peace talk in connection with the Sunday School once each month, others once each quarter.

Three peace contests have been held, all in Tacoma Quarterly Meeting.

Something over 1000 pages of peace literature have been distributed and some mention was made of peace periodicals taken by Friends.

Other peace and good will activities reported include a program featuring interracial cooperation between Negro and white boys singing together in Sunday school. Moses Votaw, Peace Superintendent of Tacoma Quarterly Meeting cooperated with the Women's Temperance Union in putting on a peace meeting. He also cooperated with the Unity Club in putting on a peace program.

Salem Quarterly Meeting appointed a delegation to meet the Ambassador from Japan who was visiting in Salem at the time of the May quarterly meeting. This delegation presented a message of good will to the Ambassador.

In some meetings, Friends sent peace articles to the local newspapers and cooperated with other peace organizations in circulating petitions regarding the World Court. Friends also assisted in circulating books regarding peace and war.

Under the heading of communications to government officials the reports show that at least ten monthly meetings and quarterly meetings sent official communications to government officials in Washington relative to various phases of the peace problem. In addition to these communications something over 100 individual Friends sent personal communications or signed petitions that were sent to their senators in Washington. This estimate is almost certainly very much under the actual number of Friends who signed the petitions calling for action regarding the World Court.

The reports show that $18.45 has been spent in various ways in the cause of peace. This item also is probably very much less than the actual amount spent which has not been reported.

Recommendations for the Coming Year

Although Levi T. Pennington, who was appointed by the Yearly Meeting as Superintendent of the Peace Department of Oregon Yearly Meeting, has not been in the Yearly Meeting during the year and is not here at present, nevertheless there are several suggestions that it would seem any superintendent of peace work will find useful.

There are strong indications in the peace reports that Friends are not adequately informed regarding the present international situation relative to peace and war. An exceedingly practical suggestion in this regard is for Friends to subscribe for the monthly bulletin published by the National Council for the Prevention of War, which is probably the most authentic and concise source of information available. It is also evident that more peace lessons and talks should be included in the various activities of the Christian Endeavor societies and Sunday Schools. This seems to be particularly true due to the fact that some localities have given very little attention to the problem of peace. This is tragically indicated in one report where a quarterly meeting superintendent tells of being at a very prominent peace meeting at which he was the only Friend present.

One quarterly meeting superintendent suggested that the report blanks be given out at the first of the year in order to give the quarterly meeting superintendents as well as the monthly meeting chairmen of peace committees a better idea of what information to keep and activities to pursue. This recommendation would seem to be an exceedingly practical one and one that might easily be put into practice.

Another recommendation would be that Friends as individuals should appreciate the opportunity of communicating directly and personally with those in authority, such as the President of the United States, the Secretary of State, Senators and Representatives in Washington, D. C. One report brought out this fact very forcibly in these words: "We must also remember that our own personal letters are the most effective mediums of conveying public opinion to our representatives."

In conclusion it would seem that some meetings might find it possible to follow the lead of the First Friends Church in Portland in issuing a special bulletin directly or indirectly related to the cause of peace. The First Friends Church bulletin for May 17, 1931, is, in addition to giving church announcements, definitely in recognition of Good Will Sunday. Although each item in the bulletin is of tremendous interest and value, one section touches so directly and specifically the very heart of the peace problem that we are taking the liberty of using it as the conclusion of this report. It is our conviction that if the individual Friends of Oregon Yearly Meeting will put these principles into practice in their relations with each other and thus allow these principles to become contagious in the society of which we are a part, and in the world in which we live, the problem of world war will soon be solved.

The bulletin quotes the following resolutions suggested by Dr. Henry T. Hodgkin, a prominent English Friend, who was for years affiliated with the National Chinese Christian Council.

1. I will always seek to discover the best and strongest points in my brother's position.
2. I will give him credit for sincerity.
3. I will try to avoid classifying him, and assuming that he has all the characteristics of the class to which he is supposed to belong.
4. I will emphasize our agreements.
5. When others criticise, I will try to bring out favorable points.
6. When there is misunderstanding, either I of him, or he of me, I will go to him direct.
7. I will seek opportunities to pray together.
8. I will try to remember that I may be mistaken and that God's truth is too big for any one mind.
9. I will never ridicule another's faith.
10. If I have been betrayed into criticising another, I will seek the first opportunity of finding out if my criticism is just.
11. I will not listen to gossip and second-hand information.
12. I will pray for those from whom I differ.

The meeting was then addressed on the subject of Peace by David Norcross, Secretary of the Northwest Council for the Prevention of War.

58. Chester A. Hadley gave the inspirational address at this time, on the "Fellowship of Jesus."

59. The meeting adjourned to meet at 2:00 p. m.

SIXTH DAY 2:00 P. M.

60. The meeting convened according to adjournment, and waited before the Lord in a time of silent devotion.

61. The Nominating Committee submitted their completed report which was accepted by the meeting and appears in the directory.

62. Upon the recommendation of the Nominating Committee the department of members of the International Sunday School Council was dropped from the minutes.

63. The Nominating Committee presented as a committee to compile a correct edition of the discipline, to be submitted at the next Yearly Meeting.

Marguerite P. Elliott
Chester A. Hadley
Edward Mott

Oliver W. Weesner
Anna B. Miles

The meeting approved the nomination.

64. The committee appointed in minute No. 36 to consider a revision of the discipline on the matter of divorce and remarriage made the following report:

To Oregon Yearly Meeting:

Your committee appointed to consider and bring recommendation on the subject of divorce in relation to the Ministry and recognized leadership in this Yearly Meeting, believing that the leadership of the church should be clear and abstain from the appearance of evil, recommend as follows:

That no person shall be recorded or retained as a minister or in the place of recognized leadership who is divorced and re-married while the former companion is living.

We further recommend that the ministers of this Yearly Meeting refrain from uniting in marriage any person known to be divorced, except the divorce be given for the cause of fornication as stated in the Scriptures, in which case the innocent party may be eligible for remarriage.

On behalf of the committee,
CHESTER A. HADLEY

The meeting approved the recommendation as legislative action at the present time, and as a committee to present the same for disciplinary action at the next Yearly Meeting the following persons were named: Chester A. Hadley, I. G. Lee, Elizabeth W. Ward, Frederick J. Cope, Oliver Weesner.

65. The attention of the meeting was turned to the Foreign Missionary Department.

The Chairman of the Board read parts of the statistical report, which appears in full in the appendix.

The Yearly Meeting Superintendent presented his report, and also the first report of the missionaries on the field, Carroll G. and Doris Tamplin as follows:

REPORT OF FOREIGN MISSION DEPARTMENT

Three months followed the action of the Yearly Meeting before the Missionary Superintendent took the work officially. Immediately after last year's sessions, however, plans and schedules were made for the itinerary of the Superintendent and the Tamplins throughout the limits of the Yearly Meeting. This extended trip began with a visit to Boise Quarter early in October, where we were graciously received in every monthly meeting.

This trip was followed by visits to every Quarter and to every Monthly Meeting. Interest and enthusiasm increased materially in the Yearly Meeting as a result of these contacts. Emphasis was put upon a steady constant paying of the Missionary Budget to the Treasurer. The effect of this emphasis was soon apparent and by the first of December it was evident that enough money would be on hand to start proceedings for the passports necessary for the trip. Perhaps the highest pitch of interest was reached when Portland Quarterly Meeting presented the Tamplins with $430.00 as a Christmas gift to be applied on their transportation. This was above the regular missionary budget for the Quarter and made possible immediate action. By January first the details of the trip were arranged, sailing dates and reservations had been secured and on January 10, 1931, our first missionaries from the homeland to Bolivia, the Tamplins, were on their way, with all bills paid and with a substantial balance in the bank to the credit of the Board.

Inasmuch as the Central American Mission Station had offered to make regular contributions to our work in Bolivia it was deemed advisable to route the Tamplins via Central America; this was at a small extra expense, but subsequent events proved it to be well worth while. The native church in Central America pledged one third of all their receipts to the support of Juan and Tamasa Allyon in Bolivia. Just what that will be remains to be seen.

Proceeding from Central America the Tamplins again took up their journey to South America, and on February 27, 1931, Carroll and Doris Tamplin and the two boys Jonathan and David, found themselves, by Divine Providence, in the land of their call and of Oregon Yearly Meeting's choice for labor. Letters have been sent to every meeting telling of their experiences. The opportunities of that land seem un-numbered and the work which they are doing since arriving indicates that the need for reinforcements is great and perhaps immediate. Truly, a great opening is presented to Oregon Yearly Meeting. We must not fail to enter every proper door for service.

Too much cannot be said in appreciation for the way in which the membership at large has rallied to this work. It has heartened the Missionary Board and caused them to "expect great things from God," and under grace we promise to "attempt great things for God." We must think in terms of expansion, nothing but a shortage of funds has kept this work from being one of the largest in Bolivia. The Indians have confidence in Juan and Tamasa; the officials have shown their confidence and have provided equipment to some degree for their educational work.

A cable from Carroll Tamplin received June 8, 1931, asks for $1800.00 to be appropriated for land purchase purposes this year; this should be granted and enough beside to assure them that they can undertake a permanent location and secure the necessary sanitary healthful surroundings so essential to "foreign missionaries." The need for means of transportation is also urgent. Roads suitable for automobile or motorcycle reach out from La Paz in many directions.

Since arriving on the field a work has been opened at Amakari on Lake Titicaca. To reach this work it is necessary to take a sailboat which is slow and uncertain. To quote from Carroll's letter we read, "Also to make this trip across the lake we have to take a sailboat. These are subject to terrible delays because of winds, and have no protection whatsoever from rain and water splashed on board. Also there are no sanitary arrangements for the trip which often takes 15 to 18 hours. With an auto or motorcycle with a side-car we could make the trip much more quickly, more modestly, and with some independence of weather conditions."

The work at the lake is under the care of Tata Cipriano Mamani and his wife. The school numbers 45 children. God has opened the door there in a wonderful manner. Souls are being saved and the surrounding communities are stirred by the messages. While Carroll and Juan were holding meetings there in April the chief of an Indian village some 18 miles distant came requesting a gospel service in their town. With some twenty natives from Amakari, Carroll and Juan made their way to the village where they were received by the mayor, an Indian, and conducted to the Catholic Church, which was the property of the community, Juan preached and at the invitation, the mayor led the way, followed by his head men and 100 of the natives, they knelt in prayer and tears coursed down their cheeks as they confessed their need and asked God for pardon. What shall we do, Oregon Yearly Meeting? Shall we let such opportunities pass by unheeded?

"Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh harvest? Behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest." John 4:35.

CHESTER A. HADLEY, Superintendent

FIRST ANNUAL REPORT OF THE WORK OF THE BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS OF OREGON YEARLY MEETING OF FRIENDS IN BOLIVIA

Though we have not yet completed three months of service in Bolivia we feel that a report of the present status of the work is due to the present session of Oregon Yearly Meeting. God's presence has been manifestly with us and we praise Him for it.

Our souls have been greatly blessed in our contacts with the Ayllons and the Aymara brethren. The spiritual condition of the church is splendid; Bible reading and family worship, as well as regular attendance upon the regular services of the church and evangelistic effort in the surrounding communities, being above the average. We find the brethren deeply edified, and many of them walking in the experience of full salvation. Evangelism is the heart and soul of the Aymara Church, and many of the brethren have felt the "call" to the fields, and as rapidly as possible are being prepared for the work.

On fourth month third to fifth we held the formal sessions of our Annual Conference. Much time was given to classes on spiritual themes. The preaching of the Word, both morning and evening, was blessed with a precious increase in the number of believers and sanctification of the brethren. There was an altar service at the close of each preaching service and there was never a fruitless call. At least six districts were represented in the Annual Conference and it was interesting and heart-touching to hear the reports of the work from the various churches and districts.

We have believers in at least twelve cities and villages. Some of these young believers are suffering much for the sake of the Gospel. In Taraco there is a young believer who has had the door of his house beaten down once and many threats made upon his life. In Chicharro an armed mob of Indians, with the support of some corrupt officials, descended upon our little congregation of believers with the intention of beating the brethren and burning their homes. The unexpected presence of Juan Ayllon (who met the mob alone in the mountain as they were on the way to Chicharro) turned the tide and spoiled the plan. However, five of the Indians were imprisoned and Juan detained in a private house. The officials were drunk and offered no protection to Juan when three Indians beat him with whips and one kicked him in the stomach. After three days of being detained by drunken officials and treated disrespectfully Juan was secretly dismissed and made his way to the Baptist Farm on the shores of the Lake, and from thence to La Paz. Here he secured an edict from the Prefect demanding the cessation of the unlawful persecution. However, the five Indians had already been sent on to the county-seat to jail where they were detained fifteen days. The accusations against them were that they had prayed that it should not rain, were instigating a revolution for the overthrow of the Government, had threatened to destroy the Catholic Church, and that they had threatened to burn the wooden cross, that the Tomanists had carried in procession, and sell the charcoal in Achecache.

We now have in this region, known as The Canton of Tiquina (a kind of community of free Indians composed of some six villages) a maximum number of believers amounting to about two hundred, and have located our first Aymara pastor, Cipriano Mamani, there. This community has been so opened to the Gospel since the persecutions there that, upon our recent visit there, we were besieged with calls to go and preach in other villages and the Roman Catholic Church was opened to us by the Indian headmen and we entered and preached the Gospel with the idols at our backs, a heap of human skulls covered with a blanket under the altar to our right, and over a hundred hungry souls seated on the floor before us! When the altar-call was given the hundred, with one accord, the headmen in the lead, moved forward and the walls of the old idolatrous Roman Catholic Church echoed with the prayers of repentance and the cries of victory!

Just across the peninsula, a scant twenty-five miles distance away from this work, lies the present heart of South American Romanism and ancient site and ruins of the Inca Sun-worship, Copacabana. This is a strategic center and it is wide open to us, there being no other mission at work there. On this peninsula, dividing Lake Titicaca in two, there are at least two thousand Indians waiting for the Gospel. The pastor lives in the village of Amakari (one of the villages composing the canton of Tiquina) and makes a circuit of the other villages once a month. He also has a school in Amakari, with 45 students and a 4-hour day, of primary grade, with government recognition and supplies.

Other villages, such as Corocoro, Taraco, Lajas, are without pastors. In La Paz we have two congregations, both in rented houses, and hold cottage meetings in another section of the city. Our headquarters is in the section called Chijina, an Indian section, with limited capacity and unhealthy conditions. The other rented house is in the section Miraflores, and the third section where we hold meetings is called Sopocache. We count above one hundred believers in the three sections. Here in Chijina we have three schools—a day and a night school of primary grade, and the Bible School. Doris gives two hours a day to the day school. Juan and I have charge of the Night and Bible Schools, giving two classes to each evening. In the three schools here there are about 20 students. We have also government recognition of the primary schools, but have not yet secured the materials. Each student pays a small matriculation fee, and this with the government supplies will make the schools self-supporting with the exception of the rental of the school room. We are much cramped for room and very busy, but we felt that we must do something for the children of the believers, as well as do something definite toward the education of the Tamplin and Ayllon children. We have also government permission to establish a like school in the section of Miraflores, but have not been able to take up that work yet.

Near La Paz, reachable by street-car, is a village called Obrajes. There also we have believers who are making for regular meetings. We have arranged to hold services there on Saturdays (We hope no one will think we are Adventists). Another of our Bible-School students has married and feels that the Lord would have him go to Obrajes to care for the work there. Hence I presume that he will soon be on his way. He will be self-supporting except for some offerings that may be directed to help him in the expense of travel in his evangelistic work. We hope he may later go to the Lake to help the pastor there.

STATISTICAL REPORT

Number of organized congregations . . . . .	3
Number of villages and cities with believers . . . . .	12
Number of schools of primary grade . . . . .	3
Number of students in primary grade . . . . .	58
Number of Bible Schools . . . . .	1
Number of Bible School students . . . . .	6
Number of native pastors . . . . .	2
Number of missionaries . . . . .	4

Calls for pastors and teachers come to us from many quarters. They say they want a "Salvation Church." How we wish we might multiply our strength and numbers so as to answer all. Two questions will be uppermost in your minds as you hear this report—"What are your most urgent needs?" and "What can we do to help?"

The Needs of the Mission are many, but we feel that we should present to you four most urgent needs:

1. Our first need is property—mission-owned. The mission is now in cramped and unsanitary conditions. We need property in large enough quantity to allow some privacy in family life, give adequate chapel and school room, allow some garden space, permit some play ground room beside the street for the children and, most urgent of all, room enough to install some sanitary equipment and to separate ourselves from the filth of the neighbors.

2. An auto or motorcycle is imperative. We find that much exercise in this elevation, 12,500 feet, is prohibitive. Much time and strength could be saved in the making of our many errands to the distant center of town for La Pax is much like Seattle only more so—any way one goes it is either up or down hill. Also the machine, preferably an auto, could be used to great advantage in our journeys to the Lake and other yet untouched regions.
3. A small printing press could be used immediately for the printing of our Aymara tracts and hymn-books. Plenty of type of the "c, g, j, k, h, q" series are necessary for the guttural Aymara.
4. An Evangelistic Fund! Our Bible School has been so arranged as to leave Juan and me free for Evangelistic journeys every alternate month. For these trips of evangelization we will need resources beyond the missionary tithes and salaries. An Evangelistic fund would be a splendid contribution to the mission.

How You Can Help:

1. Loyal support to the missionary Board and its program.
  2. Special offering over and above the regular apportionment. Write to the Missionary Superintendent for information as to the special needs of the mission.
  3. Organize Missionary Societies, Study Classes and Prayer Bands in your monthly meeting or Quarterly Meeting. Meet regularly with plenty of time for prayer. Write us freely for information as to definite things to pray for. Let us know who are praying for us and the work with intercessory prayer.
  4. This little mission, started by Central America and the Ayllons is already one of the greatest evangelizing forces at work in Bolivia. Give it your prayerful consideration, daily intercession and confidence. A firm foundation is laid. Think in terms of a Greater Oregon Friends Bolivian Mission.
  5. Begin to think about those investments, deposits and that property that you would like to have continue the work of the Evangelization of the Aymara and other Indians of Bolivia after you have gone on to your reward. Your testament, or will, made out to the Missionary Board for this work can be used to the glory of God and the salvation of souls.
  6. If you can think of any other way to help—write it down and do it.
- Our hearts and minds are with you in these days. May God pour out His richest blessings upon the sessions of 1931. Enclosed you will find a copy of a letter from the Aymara brethren in Aymara and Spanish. I have translated it freely. Believe us,

Your Fellow-laborers,

CARROLL G. TAMPLIN, Superintendent

These reports were accepted by the meeting.

66. The Missionary Board presented the following recommendations, which were accepted by the Yearly Meeting:

To Oregon Yearly Meeting:

The Missionary Board is united in presenting the following recommendations for your consideration.

Because of the unsanitary conditions in La Paz, threatening the health of our missionaries, together with the important expansion of the work on the field, it is necessary for us to ask for increased financial offerings. Therefore, the board recommends that the Yearly Meeting undertake to raise four thousand dollars or more, during the year, for the support of the work in Bolivia.

We recommend that as long as meetings, or individuals, feel an obligation to support the work in British East Africa, they should be allowed to do so.

We recommend that the Superintendent of Evangelistic, Pastoral and Church Extension work be continued as Superintendent, on the home field, of our foreign missionary work; and that for his services this board be authorized to give, from the funds of the board, four hundred dollars, with an additional allowance of fifty dollars for traveling and other expenses.

On behalf of the Board,

F. J. COPE, Chairman

67. At this time the meeting was addressed by Merrill M. Coffin.

68. The Yearly Meeting directed the Clerks to send a cablegram greeting to Carroll G. and Doris Tamplin, and Juan and Tomasa Ayllon, our missionaries in Bolivia, and a cash offering was taken to defray the expense of the same, amounting to $13.81.

69. The meeting adjourned to meet at 9:30 a. m., Seventh Day.

73. The Epistle Committee was directed to add to the epistles already prepared, one addressed to the native church in Bolivia, as a reply to a letter read from them in connection with the missionary reports.

74. The names of members deceased during the past year was read, and the list appears in the directory.

75. The matter referred to the Representatives in minute No. 12 in regard to the raising of Yearly Meeting stock was taken care of by the following recommendation:

We recommend that the heads of Yearly Meeting departments meet once each year, preferably sometime during the first two weeks of January, at the call of the Superintendent of Missions, and of the Evangelistic and Church Extension Board, for the purpose of considering their work and presenting their askings.

We further recommend that for this year the Quarterly Meeting Treasurers and the Superintendent of Mission, and Evangelistic and Church Extension Board, meet with the heads of Departments at this time to consider the askings and forward them to the Monthly Meetings for their consideration and voluntary pledges. When such pledges are made they shall be forwarded to the Superintendent. Upon receipt of the total information as to amount pledged this information shall be sent to the Quarterly Meeting Treasurers and heads of Yearly Meeting departments.

We further recommend that $100 be appropriated to meet the expenses of the above bodies.

For the more practical operation of the suggested plan in future years we recommend the following disciplinary change: Page 58, Article 8 of the Discipline for 1924 reads as follows, "It shall appoint representatives to attend the Yearly Meeting on its behalf. It shall designate such number of these as may be required by the Yearly Meeting to represent it upon the Finance Committee of the Yearly Meeting." We recommend this be changed to read, "It shall appoint representatives to attend the Yearly Meeting on its behalf. It shall designate such number of persons as may be required by the Yearly Meeting to represent it upon the Finance Committee of the Yearly Meeting. This committee to be a standing committee appointed two from each Quarterly Meeting. The first year, one for one year and one for two years, and thereafter one each year for two years.

We further recommend that Article 11, page 61 of the 1924 reprint of Discipline setting forth the duties of the Finance Committee be eliminated and the following substituted in its place:

"The duties of the Finance Committee shall be to receive, consider and pass upon the askings of the various departments and such other financial needs of the Yearly Meeting as may be required, to forward such information to the Monthly Meetings for their consideration and voluntary pledges. This committee to meet with the heads of departments in their annual meeting in January."

OLIVER W. WEESNER, Chairman

The recommendations were approved, and the proposed disciplinary changes were referred to the Permanent Board, to be reported on at the next Yearly Meeting.

76. The Permanent Board was directed to determine the manner in which fixed expenses of the Yearly Meeting are to be raised.

77. The Permanent Board was also directed to consider the advisability of printing a digest of the Yearly Meeting minutes for general circulation, instead of publishing the entire copy for distribution.

78. The Representatives concluded their report with the following recommendations, which were approved by the meeting:

(1) In regard to the recommendation from Salem Quarterly Meeting referred to the Representatives we recommend that the Representatives appoint a committee to determine the cost of preparing a proper vault in this building, the Yearly Meeting house, to keep the Records, and report next year.

(2) We propose the following ratios:

Portland .....	28.7%
Newberg .....	23.6%
Boise Valley .....	27.2%
Salem .....	16.5%
Tacoma .....	4.0%
	100. %

(3) We propose the following appropriations:

Evangelistic and Church Extension Board .....	$3,000.00
Ministerial Association .....	100.00
Paving gravel and sidewalk .....	300.00
Printing and Contingent Fund .....	250.00
Christian Endeavor .....	300.00
Peace Committee .....	20.00
Christian Stewardship .....	10.00
Literature .....	10.00
Education .....	15.00
Temperance .....	50.00
Bible School .....	15.00
Teachers Training .....	5.00
Janitor .....	15.00
Entertainment .....	60.00
Street Improvement in Kelso .....	50.00
	$4,200.00

We recommend that the amount appropriated last year for Kelso hold over this year with the additional $50.00 to be appropriated as listed above.

(4) The Christian Endeavor requests the privilege of taking an offering Seventh Day night for the benefit of the Payette Lakes Conference in Idaho. We approve this request.

(5) We recommend as Yearly Meeting Treasurer Hervey M. Hoskins.

(6) The Evangelistic Board asks the privilege of taking an offering next Sunday morning at the regular eleven o'clock service for the use of the Evangelistic and Church Extension Department. Also, if it seems wise at the time we wish to take an offering on Sunday afternoon for expenses of the Christian Worker's League in their evangelistic campaign this summer. Also we wish the privilege of taking offerings in the different meetings of the Yearly Meeting during the year if need arises.

Respectfully submitted,

OLIVER W. WEESNER, Chairman
WALTER P. LEE, Secretary

79. In the absence of the announcing clerk Edward F. Harmon was appointed to fill the vacancy.

80. The subject of Education engaged the attention of the meeting. The Superintendent read his report which was approved by the meeting.

REPORT OF EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

Owing to conditions beyond our control, this report will be found rather brief and in some cases incomplete.

Early in the year letters were sent to the quarterly meeting superintendents asking for suggestions for the work and offering to cooperate in the securing of speakers for educational meetings or in the organization of conferences, and later the same suggestion was repeated with some definite plans for lines of work that might be followed.

Owing to lack of funds it was not possible to get into many of the meetings and aside from one address and the gathering of reports from the quarterly meetings very little has been accomplished by the superintendent. It is hoped that during the coming year some representative of this department may visit many of the meetings and each of the quarterly meetings for the purpose of stressing the interests of Christian Education and of learning the needs of different localities along this line.

During the past year there has been some valuable work done and much interest evidenced by some meetings.

Boise Valley reports difficulty in securing suitable speakers for educational addresses. One meeting reports the subject of "Christian Education," stressed in Christian Endeavor. Concern is expressed that Friends see the need of counseling with the young people in the selection of the proper school.

Portland Quarterly Meeting reports that one meeting sponsored a program given by the Pacific College Glee Club. In one service the need of God in school life was stressed.

At the September Quarterly Meeting one session was given over to Christian Education with E. C. Newberry as speaker.

FLOYD W. PERISHO, Superintendent

The statistical report appears in the appendix.

The report of Greenleaf Academy was read and approved as follows:

THE REPORT OF GREENLEAF ACADEMY, 1930-31

The past year of Greenleaf Academy has been the most satisfactory school year we have had for several years. The enrollment was increased, and the average attendance throughout the whole year was good. Of the 52 students enrolled during the year, one was unable to attend at all, another was compelled to quit at the close of the first semester on account of illness, and a third dropped out near the end of the last semester, leaving us a student body of 49. The atmosphere throughout the entire school organization including student body, alumni, faculty and board has been very wholesome, with a spirit of hearty cooperation prevailing.

As a tangible result of this co-operation, a design has been planned and worked out which has been adopted by the Board as the Official Emblem and Seal for the school. This seal appeared for the first time on the 1931 commencement announcements, and several rings have been ordered by the graduating class and members of the Alumni.

Athletics

The school does not encourage intensive interscholastic athletics, as we are not primarily interested in making heroes out of our boys because of their athletic prowess. We do, however, foster athletics to a reasonable extent. Our basket-ball teams played several games with other schools, and did themselves and the school credit at every game.

Religious Activities

Perhaps the most far-reaching Conference that has been held in Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting was held at Greenleaf, September 7 to 14. The three men who brought the messages were men of refinement, culture and ability. Their messages were scholarly and were given in the convincing power of the Holy Spirit. Provision was made for the students to attend all these sessions, and we are sure that many were able to get some of the fundamental truths established in their thinking in such a way that they will never get away from them. It was a profitable time for us all. Many of the other denominations in nearby towns co-operated.

Some estimated the attendance at the three meetings which were held simultaneously the last Sunday p. m. to be 2000 people.

Fred Harris, of Urbana, Ohio, held a three weeks Revival Meeting in our Church, closing Dec. 21. The Gospel was preached and was especially effective because of the sweet spirit in which it was presented. As has been our custom, class periods during the forenoon were shortened from 60 to 45 minutes, thus making it possible for the students to attend the eleven o'clock service in a body. As a result of these meetings, the spiritual condition of the school was greatly improved. Several were converted and some sanctified. The teachers have been especially solicitous for the spiritual welfare of the students, regular prayer meetings have been held, chapel services have been conducted with the thought of helping the students to live Christian lives.

Opportunity has been given for them to take part in prayer and testimony whenever it has seemed right to do so.

Early in winter Charles Beals organized a Sunday School at the "Green Top" school house. Since organizing there has been request for preaching services and he has been preaching once each Sunday. Mrs. Beals and several of the students have been helping in this work.

Students and teachers have also gone out to other points to help conduct Gospel services.

Commencement

On Sunday, May 10, Chester A. Hadley preached a very fitting Baccalaureate Sermon from the text found in Judges 9:17. "For my father fought for you and adventured his life far."

Tuesday evening, May 12, Prof. Paylor's music pupils presented a most interesting and enjoyable program. The following evening the graduating class gave their program, five members of the class delivering orations.

President C. W. Tenney of Gooding College gave the address to the graduating class Thursday morning. The burden of his message was to emphasize the spiritual side of the triangle composed of Body, Mind and Spirit.

Scholarships

The Junior Scholarship given by the Academy Alumni Association was divided between Lois Tish and Gertrude Roberts who tied for the place. The Senior Scholarship given by Pacific College was awarded to Marita Williams.

The year has closed; it is all in the past. We have done the best we knew, and we believe much good has been done, time will tell. However, there is the consciousness that all has not been accomplished that we desired. There are still those who refuse to respond to that which is for their best interests.

We shall continue to pray that God will bless the efforts that have been made, and that He will help us face the future, determined to profit by past mistakes, and thus do more efficient service for Him.

Very respectfully submitted,
F. D. ROBERTS, Principal

The acting President of Pacific College presented his annual report which was approved as follows:

REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT OF PACIFIC COLLEGE FOR THE YEAR 1930-31

Due to the fact that President Pennington has been on leave of absence throughout the entire college year this report is made by the vice-president.

The absence of President Pennington from the college throughout the year that has just been brought to a close has, in some respects, caused the college year to be an unusual one from every point of view. The President's absence has made it necessary for every member of the faculty to take on extra duties in the form of class work or administrative work. Besides this, many problems have arisen that would have been easier to solve and perhaps would have been solved in a better manner had President Pennington's twenty years of experience as president of Pacific College been available. In spite of his absence, however, the work of the year has been carried on with what we believe to be a reasonable degree of success, and for whatever success attained we are truly thankful. On the other hand, for our mistakes we are sincerely sorry and trust that we have profited by these mistakes and will not continue to repeat the same errors over and over again.

Scholastic Work of the Year

The usual classwork of the college has been carried on throughout the year with a commendable degree of success. The fact that there were no faculty changes at the beginning of the year has contributed to the stability and continuity of class work and faculty point of view. The attitude of most of the students has been one of serious study, and in some individual cases very unusual scholastic records have been accomplished.

As reported last year the preparatory department of Pacific College was entirely discontinued with the class of the school year 1929-30. As the result of this change in administrative policy we have this year, for the first time in the history of the college, had a student body all of whom were college students. This fact has very materially increased the sense of unity in the student group, and we believe has made possible and will continue to make possible a higher and more scholarly type of work than was possible as long as the student body was composed of both secondary school and college students.

On the other hand, the absence in the future of a group of Freshmen who have already become somewhat acquainted with our ideals and standards of conduct will make it somewhat more difficult for us to assimilate successfully the groups of students that will come to us from various high schools scattered throughout the Pacific Northwest and California. We hope, however, that we will be able to solve this problem as it appears.

We have experienced an increasing interference with the usual scholastic work of the college due to the amount of time and energy demanded by extra curricular activities. Of these perhaps the item that bids fair to present the most serious problem in the future is the increasing number of students who find it necessary to work for part or all of their college expenses while attempting to carry on college work. This situation will doubtless continue as long as the present financial depression continues, and due to the fact that Pacific College offers the lowest annual estimate of student expenses of any standard college in Oregon, probably more students of limited financial resources turn to us because of that fact.

The members of the graduating class of 1931, with their respective degrees are as follows:

Ralph E. Choate, B. S.; Laurene Gettmann, A. B.; Lynn Hampton, A. B.; Fred Harle, B. S.; Elmore Jackson, A. B.; Helen E. Whipple, A. B.; Leland Westfall, A. B.

The highest honors of the class of 1931 for the work of the four years of college were awarded to Laurene Gettmann.

The Junior prize, which is awarded to the student maintaining the highest scholastic record for the Junior year was awarded to Doris Gettmann.

Extra Curricular Activities

The extra curricular activities of the year have included the same activities reported in previous years. In athletics, the college men have participated in soccer, basketball, tennis and track. The college women have organized teams in basketball, volley ball, and tennis. These teams have all given good reports of themselves in the various contests in which they have participated.

It is gratifying to report that our young men and women have developed high and commendable ideals of athletic competition and we hope will always place fair play, good sportsmanship and the love of the game itself above mere winning.

The young men and young women's Christian Associations of the college have contributed their usual indispensable influence to the student body throughout the past year.

The Association meetings have been held during a regular chapel period each week, and, although the attendance at these meetings is entirely voluntary, a good attendance has been noticed throughout the year. The attendance at the Association meetings during this past year has been particularly significant due to the fact that the chapel period has been placed just previous to the noon hour, which, of course, always offers the opportunity for a student to cut the Association meetings in order to lengthen the noon hour. We are glad to notice, however, that there has been a sufficiently healthy and widely spread interest in the work being done by the Christian Associations to keep up a lively interest in the Association meetings.

A number of students have participated in various forms of deputation work throughout the year and have offered their services whenever and wherever opportunity was given, and it was possible to meet the appointment.

Another popular extra curricular activity of the Pacific College student body is the participation in dramatic events, of which two should receive particular mention, during the past year. The dramatization of Louisa May Alcott's "Little Women" by the Freshman class set a very high standard for dramatic production. This play was repeated as a community benefit program at the request of an organization of business men in Newberg.

A combination of dramatic and musical ability was demonstrated in the presentation of W. S. Gilbert and Arthur Sullivan's "The Mikado," which demonstrated musical and dramatic ability on the part of the cast as well as an enormous amount of work and preparation on the part of Miss Binford and Alexander Hull, who directed the event.

The Girls' Glee Club presented three concerts, one at South Salem Friends Church, one at the First Friends Church in Portland and one in Newberg. These concerts were enthusiastically received and it is believed that the girls who participated received valuable training and experience in this line of work.

The students have participated in three state public speaking contests during the year. These include the After-Dinner Speaking Contest, the Extemporaneous Speaking Contest and the Oregon State Peace Contest. In each of these events our representatives gave good reports of themselves and in two cases won positions of honor.

Another type of activity attempted for the first time this year by the student body was the organization of an interracial conference. Students from Oregon colleges were invited to participate with particular emphasis placed upon the foreign students who were invited to be present and take part in the discussion. As a result of this pioneer event a lively interest in the problems of interracial and international situations has been awakened which has resulted in the organization of an international relations club, which has met regularly throughout the latter part of the year.

One form of extra curricular activity anticipated for the coming year which is somewhat different from previous arrangements, is in relation to the college lyceum course. In order to distribute more equally both responsibility and possible profit from the course, the faculty and student body have jointly agreed to share either profit or loss for the coming year. It is hoped that this arrangement will make possible a more enthusiastic handling of the lyceum course as well as distributing responsibility.

The Faculty

As far as is known at present, there will be no changes on the Pacific College teaching force for the coming year. In this connection it seems only appropriate that some attention should be given to the commendable loyalty and persistence shown by the members of the Pacific College faculty who are working under conditions that are very trying. As every Friend knows or should know, faculty salaries are seriously in arrears, and it is often impossible to know what amount will be available or at what particular time it will be available. In addition to this difficulty, as previously stated, President Pennington's absence from the college has increased the teaching or administrative load of every member of the faculty. This extra load, however, has been carried cheerfully and whatever degree of success may have been attained is due to the high sense of loyalty to Pacific College shown by the individual members of the faculty.

Any one who has had opportunity to come into direct contact with the institution during the past year or any other year, must have been impressed by the fact, however, that the fundamental reason for this loyalty is deeper and more far reaching than mere loyalty to an institution. This loyalty is really a loyalty to the spiritual values for which the college stands and which it strives to incorporate into the lives of its students. Stated in other words, this loyalty is in reality based on allegiance to the Kingdom of God, which we hope and believe is being carried forward by the work undertaken at Pacific College.

In conclusion, we wish again to express our sincere gratitude to our Heavenly Father as well as to all our earthly friends who have made possible the successful completion of the past year's work at Pacific College.

Respectively submitted,

CHASE L. CONOVER, Vice-President

The meeting received and approved the following report of the Women's Auxiliary to Pacific College:

REPORT OF THE WOMEN'S AUXILIARY TO PACIFIC COLLEGE

The Women's Auxiliary to Pacific College report the following improvements during the year.

In the dormitories five rooms were repapered, another bathroom provided, some changes in the hall, new dishes bought and paint and calcimine paid for besides helping with cleaning the buildings before the opening of the school year. In the college the window-shades in the chapel were painted so the room could be darkened. A pledge of $200 was made in the January Campaign for Maintenance Fund.

The Community Fair was held in December, being the chief source of raising money to pay for the $500 Maintenance pledge. The programs in the afternoon and evening were well attended. One of the new features this year was an auction sale which was held after the programs.

Four years ago an annual pledge of $500 for five years was made, and during four years $3,459.06 has been spent for the Maintenance by the Auxiliary.

The need for our money and support continues, and we hope to start with renewed energy, helping to get ready for the opening of another college year in September.

On behalf of the Women's Auxiliary,

PEARL B. WEESNER, Acting President

LOUISE HOSKINS, Secretary

86. The reports on the State of Society were read and the Clerk was directed to prepare a summary of these reports to be printed in the minutes.

SUMMARY OF THE REPORTS ON STATE OF SOCIETY

The monthly meetings report that meetings for worship and discipline are regularly held with a good attendance. The ministry is sound, helpful, and acceptable.

A number of evangelistic series of meetings have been held, with gratifying results, especially among the children and young people.

The annual reports indicate a commendable interest in all departments of the work. The members, both young and old, are active in outside work, such as community Bible Schools, meetings in jails, City missions, hospitals, and one Soldiers' Home. The radio is also being used by one monthly meeting for the giving out of the gospel message.

Many, but not all, families maintain family worship.

The conduct of members toward each other is on the whole commendable, and they seek to lead lives which exalt the Savior in business relations, education of the children, care of those in need, and in supporting by prayer and systematic giving those in service of the Kingdom.

There is felt need of greater care in Sabbath observance, in guarding the young against hurtful amusements, in showing at all times love and charity for others, and in every way walking humbly under the guidance of the Spirit, so as to bring no reproach upon the Church of Christ.

87. The Committee on Returning Minutes prepared a minute for Parker James, a visiting minister from Indiana Yearly Meeting, which was acceptable to the meeting.

88. The Epistle Committee reported:

Your committee appointed to prepare epistles have written epistles to Anson Cox, and London, Dublin, Palestine, Germany and the American Yearly Meetings with which we correspond. Also to the Bolivian Friends.

On behalf of the Epistle Committee,
WENDELL M. VOTAW

The epistles were read, adopted and directed to be signed and forwarded.

89. The Ministerial Association presented the following interesting information as to its activities, which was acceptable to the Yearly Meeting:

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

The Ministerial Association held a very profitable conference April 7-9, 1931. A marked leading of the Holy Spirit in the preparation of the papers was manifest by the unity of the messages.

On Sixth day, Sixth Month 12th, the Association met for the Yearly Meeting session.

The following committee was appointed to create interest in broadcasting over KOIN messages concerning Friends' work all over the Yearly Meeting:

Chester A. Hadley, Chairman
Carl F. Miller
Charles C. Haworth
Merrill M. Coffin

Herman H. Macy
Dillon W. Mills
Charles T. Moore

MARJORIE B. VOTAW, Secretary

Also its organization, which appears in the directory.

90. The Evangelistic and Church Extension Board reported its organization which appears in the directory.

91. The Yearly Meeting granted the request of the Evangelistic and Church Extension and Foreign Mission Boards that the Yearly Meeting Treasurer be authorized to borrow funds to the amount of one thousand dollars ($1,000) if necessary to meet the obligations of these departments.

93. The Permanent Board reported as follows:

The Yearly Meeting Christian Endeavor Union reported their organization for the year, which appears in the directory.

The President submitted his annual report which was approved.

REPORT OF THE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR DEPARTMENT

"O come, let us sing unto the Lord: let us make a joyful noise to the rock of our salvation." Truly this is the song of the Christian Endeavorers of Oregon Yearly Meeting. He has made our cup to overflow with blessings.

This has been a year of great progress. The missionary program has presented a great challenge which the young people have met enthusiastically and courageously. Last year the Christian Endeavorers pledged themselves to give $300 toward the support of the Allyons. While the full amount had not been raised at the end of the church year, the total amount has now been raised and paid out. This amount of $300 was aside from donations made through the church.

Again, two banquets were held this year, one at Greenleaf, Idaho, at which there was an attendance of 180, and one at Portland, Oregon, at which the attendance was about 435. These banquets have been times of real fellowship and blessing. We believe that the young people have been drawn into closer fellowship by such meetings.

The two summer conferences which were held last summer were times of great blessing and spiritual help. The conference at Twin Rocks was favored with the presence of Samuel Mosher, Superintendent of Ohio Yearly Meeting, as the evangelist. The Idaho Conference which was held at Wallowa Lake, Oregon, was fortunate in having our own Yearly Meeting Superintendent, Chester A. Hadley, as its evangelist. Both Conferences were well attended. The Christian Endeavorers of Boise Valley are establishing a permanent Conference home at Payette Lakes, McCall, Idaho, where their conference will be held hereafter.

The Conference grounds at Twin Rocks were again used this year by the German Baptists.

The Christian Endeavorers have for several years anxiously awaited an opportunity to establish a permanent work at Twin Rocks. The opportunity presented itself this year and Evert Tuning was sent to Twin Rocks by the Christian Endeavor to hold a regular Sunday School and such other services as were possible. The Lord is blessing this work, and the young people are happy to be of some service in the Lord's vineyard.

The "Friendly Endeavor" in cooperation with the Evangelistic and Missionary Boards has incorporated a new section called "The Church Window" which is edited by the Yearly Meeting Superintendent and devoted to the work of the Yearly Meeting.

The Christian Endeavor societies throughout the Yearly Meeting have been working toward a common goal as set forth in the charts.

Feeling a need for Christian Endeavor lesson helps with practical and original plans, the Executive Committee has endeavored to publish in mimeograph form lesson helps for each month since January 1, 1931.

Several deputation trips were made by the Executive Committee to individual meetings and Quarterly Meeting rallies. At these meetings C. E. helps and plans were presented.

Mailing service was carried on by the Executive Committee for the benefit of the Junior, Intermediate, and Missionary departments, and for the purpose of giving general C. E. information to the societies.

While there is yet much to do, we face the coming year with added zeal and enthusiasm. Our confidence is in the Lord of Hosts.

Respectfully submitted,

WALTER P. LEE, President

105. The Clerk of the Yearly Meeting was directed to send a letter to the Foster and Kleiser Sign Co. expressing our gratitude for their generosity in displaying along the highways, free of cost, posters advertising the International Christian Endeavor Convention.

106. An offering of $10.21 was given to be applied on the expenses of the Payette Lakes Conference.

107. Merrill M. Coffin brought the message of the evening.

108. The meeting adjourned to meet at 8:00 p. m., First Day.

FIRST DAY 8:00 P. M.

109. The meeting convened according to adjournment.

110. The meetings for worship were held as follows: At eight o'clock Charles Beals brought the message, at eleven o'clock Chester A. Hadley and Edgar P. Sims. At three o'clock the Worker's League had charge of the meeting and Frederick Baker brought the message. At the morning and evening meetings there was given for the needs of the Evangelistic and Church Extension Board in cash and pledges $550.98. In the afternoon an offering amounting to $164, cash and pledges, for the Workers' League was received. Merrill M. Coffin brought the closing message.

111. The Entertainment Committee reported:

A CONDENSATION OF THE REPORT OF THE AMERICAN FRIENDS SERVICE COMMITTEE TO OREGON YEARLY MEETING OF FRIENDS

The American Friends Service Committee is approaching the close of its fourteenth year of work.

During the summer of 1930, eighteen young men and women carried the message of peace to churches, service clubs, boys and girls camps, and all kinds of public gatherings in twenty-two states. All together they spoke to about 100,000 people. Seven leaders were sent to young peoples' conferences of the Methodist and Presbyterian churches. In these conferences they conducted classes on international relations for one week in each conference. In order to prepare these conference leaders and caravaners, an Institute of International Relations was held at Haverford College for two weeks in June, 1930. About 65 men and women attended, representing different races, nationalities and religious affiliations.

The News Syndicate, sponsored by the American Friends Service Committee for the past two and one-half years, is now serving about 300 weekly newspapers and 2,000 teachers of history with weekly news releases. Most of this material comes direct from our foreign centers.

The Committee is continuing its foreign work through seven centers, each of which presents its own particular opportunity for service.

The Berlin center is faced by problems of reparations, war-guilt and American tariff.

The center in Vienna is extending its influence through the Balkan States. A new Friends Meeting has been established by Czechs in Prague during the past year.

Plans are being made to open a Childrens' Nurses' Training School in connection with the Center in Moscow, under the direction of Anna J. Haines, an American nurse from Philadelphia.

The Friends Center in Paris sent out a Peace Caravan team during the summer that carried the peace message to the French villages.

Dr. Harry Timbres, at present in this country, will soon take up his work as director of a health program in the schools and among the villages in the neighborhood of Santiniketan, India, where the University sponsored by Rabindranath Tagore is located.

Hugh and Elizabeth Borton are to return to America during the coming summer. They have been in Tokyo for three and one-half years conducting a hostel for students from the Imperial University in Tokyo and cooperating in carrying on peace work with Gilbert Bowles and the Friends Mission in Tokyo.

Geneva continues to be one of the most important centers for international service. The student hostel has cared for from twelve to sixteen students representing seven or eight different nationalities. The Center is also the agency for cooperation between about fifty national organizations. The Center is the meeting place for the Geneva Friends Meeting, which has twenty-two members and an attendance as high as eighty during the summer. Geneva is the international capitol of the world and our Center is the meeting place for Friends and others interested in peace from almost every country.

The Home Service Section of the Service Committee has placed thirty-one young men and women in such positions as Indian schools, boys and girls camps, settlement houses, rural parishes, etc. These representatives give their time and service and receive only maintenance and $10.00 per month.

The American Friends Service Committee deeply appreciates the support received from Oregon Yearly Meeting, and bespeaks your continued interest and support.

HENRY J. CADBURY, Chairman
CLARENCE E. PICKETT, Secretary
