Your committee recommends that in order to clarify Minute 16, 1912, it be changed to read:

That all Quarterly Meeting Superintendents and members of Boards of the Yearly Meeting be nominated by the Quarterly Meeting, such nominations to be given due consideration by the Nominating Committee and, if in its judgment, it would be expedient to make any changes, the nominations in question shall be referred to the representatives acting from that Quarterly Meeting for further nominations.

32. The reports of the State of Society from the various Quarterly Meetings were read, a summary of which follows:

SUMMARY OF THE REPORTS ON STATE OF SOCIETY

The meetings for worship and business are regularly held, and in the majority of cases with good attendance. One meeting has conducted a Junior Church during the past year. The ministry is uniformly faithful in the performance of duty, and sound in utterance of the truth. Many special evangelistic efforts have been made throughout the Yearly Meeting, during both the summer and winter months, with gratifying results. Several meetings carry on extension work by the maintenance of Sunday Schools at outside points. One meeting reports a growth in its Sunday School beyond the capacity of the building used.

The conduct of members is exemplary and in accord with the principles of Friends, both toward each other, and toward those outside their number. The majority of families recognize the value of family worship as a means of grace and of spiritual growth for both young and old, and are careful in directing the minds of the young toward upright and useful living.

One meeting urges that great care be taken to conduct business on the Christian standard, and another warns that Friends avoid being absorbed in temporal affairs. There is manifest a sincere interest in the various departments of work, and an unselfish support of the same.

33. The work of the department of Bible School and Religious Education was presented at this time. The statistical report was accepted.

REPORT OF BIBLE SCHOOL AND RELIGIOUS EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

The Sunday Schools show an awakening to the tremendous need of Bible study. Salem and Tacoma reported very successful Bible reading contests. People who had not previously been interested in reading the Bible read the New Testament and other parts of the Bible through several times. The Tacoma quarter gave 165 gospels to children whose parents did not attend the Sunday School. A large Bible Student Map of Palestine was given to the School who read the most chapters per enrollment each quarter. Tacoma also reports having profitable Decision Day services in the Sunday School. They helped support three branch Sunday Schools.

Rosedale reports using a Sunday School bus to gather up children for the Sunday School.

Boise Valley Sunday School showed great interest in the Bolivian Field, to the extent of giving special help to that field.

Let us follow David's example when he said, "Thy word have I hid in my heart that I might not sin against thee."

REPORT OF TEACHER TRAINING DEPARTMENT

The efforts of this department during the year have centered in the use of the circulating libraries as a means of arousing interest in helpful literature and stimulating further study. The use made of these libraries has depended upon the cooperation of the Quarterly Meeting Superintendent of Bible Schools and interested teachers in each meeting. The process of sharing these libraries is necessarily a slow one. The Young Friends' Conference, Boise Valley and Salem Quarterly Meetings have used them most during the past year. Different methods have been used in different meetings, such as reading contests, training classes, use at teachers' councils or added to the library for general reading.

Respectfully submitted,

LYRA MILES DANN

Marjorie B. Votaw gave a short talk on the Bible reading contests conducted in the Sunday Schools of Tacoma Quarterly Meeting.

William C. Eichenberger addressed the meeting on Sunday School work.

34. The heads of the various departments met during the year according to Minute 75 of last year's minutes and submit the following report of their deliberations:

To Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends,

Minute No. 75, pages 27-28 of last year's minutes directed the heads of the various Departments to meet and consider the financial program of the Yearly Meeting and to present the same to the various meetings for their consideration, they to make voluntary pledges to the same.

This Committee attended to the matter as directed. The deliberations of that body led to the consideration of the advisability of a change in the administrative department of the Yearly Meeting. A special committee composed of Chester A. Hadley, Edward Mott, Levi T. Pennington, Oliver Weesner, and F. J. Cope was appointed to prepare some sort of a proposition that would embody the ideas set forth in the discussion.

This special committee met and after careful study and consideration, united on a proposition which was presented to a meeting of the Heads of Departments March 12, 1932. The matter was considered by the larger body and was unanimously adopted, and was directed to be forwarded to the Yearly Meeting for its consideration and final decision.

The proposition is as follows:

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

I. Composed of

1. Presiding Clerk
2. Yearly Meeting Superintendent
3. Clerk of Permanent Board
4. Yearly Meeting Treasurer
5. Heads of Various Departments
(Each Monthly Meeting will be entitled to one advisory member of this group.)

II. Duties and Functions

1. To meet in mid-year to consider the askings of the various departments and adopt a budget to cover the voluntary financial program of the various departments of the Yearly Meeting.
2. To present this budget to the various monthly meetings for their consideration, the monthly meetings to notify the Executive Committee of the amount of their acceptance.
3. To consider the responses of the Monthly Meetings to this voluntary budget, and make the proper apportionment among the various boards; and to take whatever action may be deemed wise in case of inadequate responses by the Monthly Meetings.
4. To consider, adopt, and present to the Yearly Meeting in session a united program.

5. To nominate a Friend to serve as Yearly Meeting Superintendent, and present the nomination to the Yearly Meeting for action.
6. To consider requests for financial appeals during the sessions of the Yearly Meeting and for general appeals by any departments to be made within the limits of the Yearly Meeting during the year.

Under this plan the whole matter of the Voluntary Program of the Yearly Meeting can be considered an administrative affair, and can be carried out without the necessity of disciplinary changes.

The Yearly Meeting finance committee can be continued as it is, with its present functions, dealing with the appropriations of the Yearly Meeting, the auditing of accounts, etc.

The regular appropriations can be made to include the affairs of the Yearly Meeting as a whole, such as salary of the Yearly Meeting Superintendent, Printing, Janitor, Entertainment, and such other items of appropriation as the Yearly Meeting may direct. This appropriation budget to be directed to the various Quarterly Meetings as heretofore.

Respectfully submitted, by direction of the Heads of Departments,
CHESTER A. HADLEY, Chairman

The proposition was made the action of the Yearly Meeting.

35. The Permanent Board reported as follows:

The Permanent Board of Oregon Yearly Meeting met at 7:00 o'clock, Sixth Month, 8th, 1932, with nine members present.

Regarding minute 75, 1931, we recommend that there be no disciplinary change.

In regard to minute 76 we advise that the fixed expense of the Yearly Meeting be raised by apportionment.

Concerning minute 77 we recommend that the minutes be printed.

We appoint A. R. Mills clerk for another year.

We propose for members of the Pacific College Board:

Curtis W. Parker Anna B. Miles

A. R. MILLS, Clerk

The Yearly Meeting approved the report.

36. The Superintendent of Temperance presented his annual report which was accepted as follows:

REPORT OF TEMPERANCE DEPARTMENT

No. Temperance Addresses.....	25
No. Temperance Sermons.....	24
No. Temperance Talks.....	51
No. Temperance Programs.....	17
No. Pages Literature Distributed.....	4014
Amount of Money Spent (Includes W. C. T. U. and Anti-Saloon League).....	$122.22
Does your Sunday School have talks or special features on Temperance Sundays.....	14 yes, 5 occasionally.

Many members are actively participating in local W. C. T. U. organizations, and several in Anti-Saloon League and other temperance work.

Endeavor societies, quite generally, used the special Temperance lesson October 18 as prepared by the Temperance Department.

Five or six Monthly Meetings are conducting campaigns to get their eligible voters registered and pledged to vote.

Within the year your Superintendent has had a part in two Quarterly Meetings; has given 12 talks and 13 addresses within the Yearly Meeting and 6 talks and 8 addresses outside our own field; has assisted members of the Anti-Saloon League in presenting a temperance drama in 30 communities. Received from Yearly Meeting Treasurer $50.00. Literature and incidental expenses amounted to $38.00, leaving a balance in the bank of $11.12.

W. M. HEACOCK, Superintendent

A mixed quartet sang "The Outlaw." The Superintendent then addressed the meeting on the subject of prohibition.

37. The Yearly Meeting united in sending to the Congressmen of Oregon, Washington, and Idaho, and to Herbert C. Hoover, President of the United States, the following communication:

Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends, with over 3,000 members in Oregon, Idaho, and Washington, views with extreme concern and disapproval the efforts toward the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and its supporting legislation. Recognition of certain evils still existing through disobedience to law and failure of perfect enforcement does not blind us to the fact that laws for the control of the liquor traffic have always been largely defied and disobeyed by liquor dealers, and have in many places been inadequately enforced and sometimes entirely disregarded by officers of the law. The unholy alliance between the liquor traffic and officers of the law is no new thing. The evils of the present situation are not due to prohibition, but to the same lawlessness which has always been associated with the liquor traffic. We urge the president of the United States and his cabinet, our representatives in the House of Representatives and the Senate of the United States, and our political representatives, to stand true to our ideals of law enforcement, and to resist all efforts for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and its supporting legislation.

38. The Superintendent of Temperance was instructed to prepare a resolution to be sent to each Monthly Meeting urging members to be faithful in the discharge of their obligations as Christian citizens. The text of the resolution follows:

EVERY MONTHLY MEETING

By unanimous vote, the Yearly Meeting, today, passed resolutions indorsing the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act; also the State Prohibition Law. The meeting further directed the Superintendent of Temperance to notify each monthly meeting of such action, requesting that a determined effort be made to get every eligible voter registered and pledged to vote. Remember—a ballot not voted counts for that thing against which it would have been cast had it been cast.

W. M. HEACOCK, Superintendent of Temperance

39. At the inspirational hour the male quartet sang "My Anchor Holds" and Chester A. Hadley brought the message.

40. The meeting adjourned until 2:00 P. M.

FIFTH DAY 2:00 P. M.

41. The meeting met according to adjournment, and prayer was offered in thanks for God's presence, and petition for His continued help and guidance.

42. Levi T. Pennington and wife, Rebecca Pennington, who were liberated for service in the Yearly Meetings of eastern United States and of the British Isles by Oregon Yearly Meeting in 1930, returned their minute accompanied by returning minutes from many meetings in which their services had been very acceptable. A number expressed their appreciation of the reception met by Levi T. Pennington and wife on their travels, and of their Gospel service in the places visited.

43. Since Marguerite P. Elliott had a prospect of attending the sessions of Western Yearly Meeting the meeting united in sending through her greetings to that Yearly Meeting.

44. The Nominating Committee reported nominations for the departments of Literature, Temperance, Stewardship, Foreign Missions, and Evangelism and Church Extension, which were accepted by the Yearly Meeting and appear in the Directory.

45. The Evangelistic and Church Extension Department claimed the attention of the meeting. The Board presented its statistical report which appears in the appendix. The Yearly Meeting Evangelistic Superintendent read his yearly report as follows:

REPORT OF EVANGELISTIC AND CHURCH EXTENSION DEPARTMENT

We have just passed through one of the most trying years in the memory of most of us. It has been a year of re-adjustment to the economic situation and naturally the church has felt the effect of that re-adjustment keenly. Out of the confusion of the changing events that have passed rapidly before us, some very pertinent truths have come to the surface. They are worthy of consideration.

First and foremost is the great fact of the eternal value of the message of life and salvation. Men are turning to the church for her message. Values of earth are being swept away and the desire for permanent things that will remain causes men to stop and ponder whether there is any value in His message of truth. Isaiah says "When thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness" Isa. 26:9. Surely this has been a time comparable to that of the Prophet's observation. May it result in the same reaction as he declares.

The message of life and salvation is being put to the test. We have gone on for years with every "prospect pleasing," suddenly we find ourselves forced to prove the truth of our "preachment." If now the message fails then we will fail. But it will not fail. Through every other storm that history records, the "Word of God standeth sure" and has ministered to hungry hearts, the help in time of distress so needed to strengthen and bless.

This, then, is the first great fact—The Message of Life and Salvation is needed, yea, is absolutely vital and necessary for the time in which we live.

Second and closely related to the first, is the challenge to the church. Will she weather the storm? Does she have the vitality to stem the tide and meet the need? Jesus promised that the true church, which He said, "I will build," should never fail, though the "gates of hell" should assail her. For this true church we are not over anxious. She will ride the storm and come out "conquering and to conquer." It is for the church as a whole wherein are contained many whose names may not appear yonder in the "Lamb's book of life" that our concern rests. This represents the whole group and is the organization by which the world forms its estimate of the church, and her message.

Hampered though she may be by the hindrances within her borders, the church visible still holds the divine commission, it has never been lifted, no other organization has come to the front to do her work. Today, though "pressed by every foe" her work is essentially the same as when the disciples of old, wondering, heard from the lips of Jesus himself his divine plan, to build His church.

Listen to Paul as he tells of his own experience, "By revelation He made known unto me the mystery,—which in other ages was not known unto the sons of men as it is now revealed unto his holy apostles and prophets by the Spirit; that the Gentiles should be fellow heirs, and of the same body and partakers of his promise in Christ by the gospel:—To the intent that now unto the principalities and powers in heavenly places might be known by the church the manifold wisdom of God." Eph 3:3, 5, 6, 10.

This, then, is the second great fact—the church is needed now as badly as she ever has been. We must not fail.

Never before has the church been better trained to meet an emergency. Educational standards have been raised and met; every consideration has been given to efficiency. We pride ourselves on our progress. Yet now we are finding that these things in themselves are impotent; that there must be another "empowerment," and that unless these equipments so commendable in themselves are surcharged with the power of the Holy Ghost, they fail utterly to accomplish that desire. This, then is the third great fact—there can be no great achievement until the church waits to be endued with power from on high.

Three great needs then are noted. The message is needed, the church is necessary, and the power of the Holy Ghost is indispensable if we are to minister to the needs of men today. Oregon Yearly Meeting has consistently proclaimed the message. She has a place of ministry, and in humility should be able to say that endowment from on high is hers.

The action of the Yearly Meeting last year which changed our financial plan, opened a new field of work to the Superintendent, and together with the regular duties of the Evangelistic, Missionary, and Christian Endeavor Departments has made a busy year indeed. A suggestion that our pastors be used in revival work rather than the Superintendent was adopted by many of the Meetings, and the Superintendent's time has been given to administrative details and to the presentation of our new financial program.

During the year I have visited every Quarterly Meeting at least once in their regular services. I have spoken in every Monthly Meeting. In December I visited the California Meetings to study their financial program which is similar to our own. In March I conducted the evening service at the Caldwell District Christian Endeavor Convention held in Parma, Idaho. In April I had the Inspirational Hour for Intermediates at the Oregon State Christian Endeavor Convention held in Portland.

The actual number of sermons preached, exclusive of missionary addresses, is eighty; miles traveled over eighteen thousand. The expense attached to this extensive mileage is reduced materially through the courtesy of the railroads in extending annual passes. Five roads have extended this courtesy. They are the Southern Pacific, Spokane-Portland-Seattle, Union Pacific, Great Northern, and the Northern Pacific.

Our statistical report has been prepared and will appear in the printed minutes. It varies but little from last year's report, showing slight increase in nearly every department with perhaps one exception, that of the amount paid evangelists. Last year we paid $3,099.24. This year but $807.47. The sharp reduction can be partly accounted for in the report of Greenleaf. Last year they held a Fundamentals Conference and two revival meetings at a cost of $1590. This year's report from that point shows two meetings held at a cost of $185.00.

Fred Harris, Harry Hays, and Robert Shattuck were used in revival work in various meetings. Several of the Meetings used their own pastors as evangelists, and in some instances an exchange of pastors proved to be very successful.

A statistical report of the number of seekers at our altars during the year shows a total of 486. This includes the report of the Christian Workers League whose yearly report will appear also in the printed minutes.

We are at the present time facing more open doors with "Macedonian calls" than we have in years. We have prayed earnestly for an awakening in our midst, and now, with financial limitations most unusual, our prayers are being answered and He is opening doors of opportunity.

Last year Paul Mills started work in Woodland, Idaho, and from his ministry there have come appeals for help from at least two other points in that section of the country. We are planning a series of revival meetings to be held by the Workers League under the direction of the Evangelistic Board. We will cover these two points mentioned above as well as five other points in Idaho, and Kelso. We should remember these young people in prayer, as they go forth to represent us in this field of endeavor. They are graciously going without thought of financial remuneration, receiving only enough to cover the barest expense of transportation and their maintenance while in the meetings. At a sacrifice to themselves they have secured another tent to be used simultaneously with the one which we now have, and during the summer and on into the fall, meetings have been scheduled that will engage a large number of the League in active service. They have dared to step forth. They have placed themselves under submission to the board. They are working in harmony with the Yearly Meeting. Their desire to extend the work and to open new fields is commendable. We must not fail to remember them in prayer and in such financial help as is necessary to keep this work going.

A communication from the Evangelistic Board of Boise Quarterly Meeting to the Yearly Meeting Board says that they are taking steps to open a work in Caldwell, Idaho, where there are a number of Friends families and those who are interested in establishing a meeting at that place. This is encouraging and together with the work at Vancouver, Wash., North East Tacoma, and the outpost station at Woodland, Idaho, and the meeting at Kelso, Wash., present a challenging appeal for us to "carry on." Piedmont Meeting has been looking towards a change of location for some time, and has at last secured a lot a few blocks removed from their present place of worship. Steps are being taken to erect a suitable building for worship. This work is in a gratifying condition, thanks to the services of Frederick J. Cope who took charge of the meeting last September.

Riverside meeting in Boise Quarter has added a commodious class room and social hall to their church building, at a cost of $350.00. Boise Meeting in the city of Boise finished some much needed improvements in their church costing $250.00, while Melba Meeting, also in Boise Quarter, finished an addition to their church started last year with added expense of $150.00. Woodland, an outpost station of Boise Quarter improved the house where the pastor lives at a cost of $50.00. Entiat dedicated the new church building following last Yearly Meeting and has paid $413.00 on the indebtedness, which reduces it almost to the vanishing point. It is encouraging to note these steps of faith on the part of these meetings, and they are to be commended.

The pastoral situation is too unsettled to give a definite report as to who will serve in the various meetings. We will try to have this matter adjusted before the minutes are printed, so as to give as nearly as possible a correct statement as to the names of the pastors serving the various meetings.

There is much cause for thanksgiving and praise. We have a God who is able. Shall we not take courage for the coming year and confidently respond to the wide open doors that are inviting us to enter?

These reports were accepted, and Friends were encouraged with the indications of growth and extension, and expressed their appreciation of the labor of those responsible for the work of this department.

46. The report of the statistician was read by Quarterly Meetings, approved by the meeting and appears in full in the Appendix.

47. The committee appointed to present a revision of the discipline on the matter of divorce and remarriage in Minute 64 of last year's Minutes recommended that it be not made a disciplinary action. The further recommendations seemed lacking in clearness, and were referred to the committee for reconsideration.

48. Charles A. Beals, announcing clerk, asked to be excused from his duties for Sixth Day morning, and Frederick B. Baker was named to take his place.

49. The meeting adjourned until 9:30 A. M., Sixth Day.

SIXTH DAY 9:30 A. M.

50. The meeting convened according to adjournment and was opened with prayer.

51. The minutes of the previous day were read and accepted with corrections.

52. The Yearly Meeting recognized with pleasure the presence of Arthur B. Chilson, a minister of Kansas Yearly Meeting, at present General Superintendent of that Yearly Meeting, here by invitation of the Evangelistic Board. He brought greetings of fellowship from Kansas. Delbert H. and Bertha C. King also, from California Yearly Meeting, formerly missionaries in Alaska, were welcomed by the Yearly Meeting.

53. The Nominating Committee submitted nominations for the departments of Bible School and Religious Education, Peace, Education, and Home Missions and Social Service, and for the Entertainment Committee. These nominations were approved by the Yearly Meeting, and appear in the directory.

The Nominating Committee explained that the selection of Superintendent of Teacher Training had been left to the Bible School Board.

54. The epistles from Baltimore and Western Yearly Meetings were read.

55. The Yearly Meeting turned to the consideration of the subject of peace.

The Superintendent read his annual report which was accepted, and which he supplemented with remarks on the importance of constant agitation for the promotion of peace principles. The report follows:

REPORT OF PEACE DEPARTMENT

The question of peace remains one of the greatest before the people of the world. We used to be taught that if in time of peace we prepared for war, then by some mysterious process which no one could explain we should get peace. But more and more we are coming to realize that if we are to have peace when causes of international misunderstanding arise, it must be through painstaking preparation for peace in the days when there are no such immediate causes of war threatening.

One of the chief interests of the past year has been the world disarmament conference, the first in the history of the world in which the whole world participated. Before this conference was called there was clear realization of the difficulties which it would face; these difficulties appeared even more clearly as the time approached for the meeting of the conference, the difficulties being much augmented by the Sino-Japanese war; and since the conference has met, there have appeared new difficulties.

But the conference has felt, as no other gathering ever has been able to feel, a great desire on the part of the peoples of the world to secure relief from the dangers of war, through the reduction of the tremendous armaments which are always a threat at world peace; and also to secure relief from the staggering burdens of taxation which armaments entail, in the most prosperous times a terrible strain on the economic life of the people, and in these difficult times an unendurable load.

Perhaps it will not be advisable to review in detail the work of the disarmament conference up to now. But it is heartening to realize that it has made progress, and that there is prospect of still further great gain. We should be ready to back our representatives in every way possible as they carry on their work. Let us do our part in bringing the world nearer to the realization of the prophecy that "Nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."

Another thing in which lovers of peace have been greatly interested is the matter of the protocols providing for the adherence of the United States to the World Court. After inexcusable delays the Foreign Relations committee of the Senate has reported the matter out; and while there is little chance that the treaty will be acted upon at this spring session of the Senate, there is no reason why it should not receive action at the session next December. We should urge our senators to use their influence for the fixing of a date when it is to be made a special matter of business in the December session.

The absence of the superintendent during the spring, and his consequent failure to urge the getting in of reports until near Yearly Meeting time, have resulted in the falling down of the statistical report, as one Quarterly Meeting has not reported at all, and a number of others show reports from only part of their meetings. The reports show seven public meetings in the interests of peace, with other reports showing that there were other meetings held, but with no sure indication of number.

Twenty-eight peace sermons and addresses were reported, with indications of others which did not get into the reports.

No peace contests were reported this year, though one meeting reports the participation of two meetings in a peace school. This was a very significant piece of work, which reached more than 500.

Only three meetings report the amount of peace literature distributed. One of these distributed 100, another 200, and the other 3,000. But there was a great deal more peace literature distributed, though the amount was not reported.

In the matter of the use of literature, a number of interesting things came to light. One meeting keeps the "Messenger of Peace" posted on its bulletin board. In one meeting peace material is regularly furnished for the church bulletin. One meeting has used posters extensively.

At least seven meetings have sent communications such as resolutions or other meeting action to government officials, and many personal communications have been sent, though it is difficult, naturally, to know how many.

There were at least 22 petitions circulated, with over 650 signatures.

In the matter of peace work done for which no statistical blanks were provided, here are some of the interesting things which came in the various reports:

One superintendent reports participation in his city Council for World Fellowship, through which organization a fine speaker was secured for a series of splendid addresses in that city.

Several Friends in one city participated, as teachers and otherwise, in the peace school already mentioned, which brought a series of consecutive lessons to a large number of people who were studying the peace question.

One meeting reported the stressing of the peace message in nearly every service.

In one meeting special announcements of matters of peace importance are made in the regular morning service.

One pastor circulated a petition against military training, and a member of another meeting appeared before a sitting of the committee on Higher Education in Oregon in an effort to secure the elimination of compulsory military training from the two principal state higher educational institutions of Oregon.

Several members of one meeting cooperated in a city-wide circulation of Disarmament petitions.

One Quarterly Meeting superintendent wrote to all her monthly meeting leaders four times during the year; and the returns from that Quarterly Meeting show that her work was not in vain.

There were other individual things reported which it will not perhaps be well to include in this report. But enough has been given to show how different Friends and different meetings are seeking to discharge their obligations as peace-makers.

One interesting thing in connection with the circulation of the Disarmament petitions was the work of Pacific College students. A number of the colleges in the state had suggested that they might make a city-wide canvass for the circulation of these petitions. Pacific College did not suggest it to the National Council for the Prevention of War, as other colleges had done, but quietly went to work and did it, the faculty cooperating. More than 600 signatures were secured to these petitions.

This report does not include the activities of the yearly meeting superintendent, who has given since his last report, 37 addresses devoted entirely to the subject of peace, and 43 which were partly devoted to the subject.

Numerous suggestions are made from different meetings as to plans for the carrying on of the work of the peace department the coming year. Among them may be mentioned the following:

"Educate for peace, beginning with the pastor and going through the entire membership."

"Guard children from influences tending to military-mindedness."

"Let every peace committee seek some other reason for its appointment than that it is a time-honored custom for many generations."

Some of the reports express a belief that the peace cause is making real and substantial gains, especially among the young people, among the school teachers, and among the other churches.

But "There remaineth yet very much land to be possessed." So long as selfishness rules in international relations, so long as men put their trust "in reeking tube and iron shard," so long as we believe that arms and armaments are stronger than truth and love and good will and mercy and justice, so long will the threat of war hang over the world. As Herbert Hoover says, "Peace cannot be made by pacts and international agreements; peace must be made in the hearts of men." While, therefore, we seek in every way to aid the cause of peace by encouraging the right sort of international action, let us remember that whoever makes any contribution toward the building of a peace psychology in the hearts of common, humble folk, is earning in some degree at least the blessing pronounced on the peace-makers, who are called the children of God.

Respectfully submitted,

LEVI T. PENNINGTON, Superintendent

56. A committee was appointed to prepare communications to be sent to the U. S. Senators of Oregon, Washington and Idaho urging them to work for the fixing of a definite date for the consideration of the protocols for American adherence to the World Court by the Senate and asking for their support of this measure. This committee was directed also to convey to the Disarmament Conference now meeting in Geneva, Switzerland, the sentiments of Oregon Yearly Meeting in regard to peace and disarmament. The committee consisted of Emmett W. Gulley, Levi T. Pennington, and Charles C. Haworth.

57. The following proposed change in the discipline relative to ministers, elders, overseers and evangelists and others in positions of leadership, presented by a special committee from the Meeting of Ministry and Oversight was referred for consideration until next Yearly Meeting to a committee consisting of Charles C. Haworth, Merrill M. Coffin, Emmett W. Gulley, C. Glen Rinard, Denver B. Headrick, Clayton S. Brown, Marjorie B. Votaw, A. Clark Smith, Frederick J. Cope:

Report of the special committee of the Yearly Meeting of Ministry and Oversight to consider the proposition sent up by Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting, 1931, relative to ministers, elders, overseers and evangelists, and the proposal of Portland Quarterly Meeting, 1932, relative to the recording of ministers.

Since the two propositions are related we present the following unified plan for your consideration (References are to Discipline 1924).

We suggest that Part II. Chapter VII. Section 1, page 51, shall be amended to read as follows: (Beginning line 11, "When the local meeting,") and Chapter XIV. Section 2, paragraph 2, be rescinded:

When the Local Meeting on Ministry and Oversight is satisfied that a member has received a gift in the ministry, it shall send the information to the Monthly Meeting. Upon its concurrence the information shall be forwarded by the Local Meeting on Ministry and Oversight to the Quarterly Meeting on Ministry and Oversight together with a written statement prepared by the candidate of his belief in the fundamental and distinctive doctrines of the Christian faith as held by Friends and recorded in the discipline of Oregon Yearly Meeting. Upon receiving such information the said Quarterly Meeting shall appoint a committee to consider the subject; to obtain information as to the evidence that the person has received a spiritual gift in the ministry and a clear call of God to preach the Gospel; as to his manner of life, his doctrinal views, his mental capacity and his general qualifications for the ministry. The committee shall report its judgment to the next Quarterly Meeting on Ministry and Oversight, and if this meeting concurs in the action of the local meetings it shall forward its action to the Yearly Meeting on Ministry and Oversight, where it shall be referred to the Committee on Ministry for final investigation. The one under consideration shall, where possible, appear in person before this committee, and if approved, he shall be recorded a minister and given a certificate by the Yearly Meeting on Ministry and Oversight and this information shall be forwarded to the Yearly Meeting and also returned to the Monthly Meeting for the completion of their records.

Chapter XIV. Section 2, paragraph 3, shall be changed to read as follows:

When there is evidence that a minister has lost his gift in the ministry and usefulness in its station, and no longer consistently represents Friends in his ministry, or is not in harmony with the doctrines of Friends as stated in our Discipline, he shall be examined in the same manner as a new candidate. Should his own Meeting on Ministry and Oversight fail to institute charges against him, his examination may be demanded by the Quarterly Meeting on Ministry and Oversight or the Yearly Meeting Ministry and Oversight Body. If the charges are sustained he shall be deposed from the ministry and his certificate of recognition shall be surrendered.

We also recommend that a Standing Committee on Ministry be authorized by the Yearly Meeting Ministry and Oversight Body. Such Committee shall handle all matters pertaining to the ministry which the Yearly Meeting Ministry and Oversight body shall refer to it and shall report back to said body their recommendations for their action. This committee shall be composed of one member from each Quarterly Meeting and shall be chosen by the Quarterly Meeting on Ministry and Oversight for a term of two years.

We believe that more and more the local meeting should feel the responsibility of selecting leaders and appointing those to responsible positions who are adequately fitted and doctrinally sound. Therefore we propose that the following queries be adopted and replace section 17 of the Supplement of the 1924 Discipline, page 95, and also Minute 53 of 1931:

Query 5. (Page 82) Are you diligent in seeing that all Members of the Body of Ministry and Oversight are in harmony with the fundamental principles of Christianity as held by Friends and stated in the Discipline of Oregon Yearly Meeting? If there are any who teach doctrines or encourage practices subversive to our faith, are you faithful in dealing with them as our Discipline provides?

on Min. + Over see Minute
34 - page 8
1933 Minutes.

Query 10. (Page 81) Are you careful to uphold the doctrinal standards of Friends as held by Oregon Yearly Meeting? Are you careful in all your appointments of officers, missionaries, Sunday School teachers, calling of pastors, or evangelists, and the recording of ministers, to see that they are in full harmony with the fundamental principles of Friends as stated in our Discipline?

The above recommendation was approved by this meeting and directed forwarded to the Yearly Meeting at large for its consideration. Taken from the minutes of Oregon Yearly Meeting of Ministry and Oversight held Sixth Month, 10th, 1932.

CHAS. C. HAWORTH, Presiding Clerk
EFFIE R. TAMPLIN, Recording Clerk

58. The names of ministers deceased during the past year, discontinued, transferred to other Yearly Meetings, received from other Yearly Meetings, and recorded, were read. The names of members deceased during the year were read and time given for tributes to the memory of these Friends whose Christian character had blessed and strengthened their acquaintances. These lists appear in the Directory.

59. At 11:30 Arthur B. Chilson brought an earnest message on the work of the Holy Spirit.

60. The meeting adjourned to meet at 2:00 P. M.

SIXTH DAY 2:00 P. M.

61. The meeting convened according to adjournment and settled into a period of devotion.

62. The meeting listened to the reading of the epistles from Wilmington, North Carolina and Ohio Yearly Meetings.

63. Greetings were read from Lindley A. and Lucinda E. Wells, to which the Clerk was directed to reply on behalf of Oregon Yearly Meeting.

64. The Yearly Meeting Superintendent of the Friends' Service Committee read the report of the American Friends' Service Committee, excerpts from which appear in the Appendix.

The Superintendent read his annual report which was accepted by the meeting:

REPORT OF SERVICE COMMITTEE WORK

During the past year Friends in Oregon Yearly Meeting have supported the American Friends Service Committee by participating in three projects:

The first and most extensive undertaking was the collecting, packing and shipping of 48000 pounds of prunes for use in the child feeding program in the bituminous coal regions. The unique feature about this undertaking was the way the project grew. It was the original plan to collect a minimum car load of 15 tons. It soon became clear that more than 15 tons of prunes were available. About this time packing houses offered to process and pack the prunes free. Workers in the plants gave their labor. Box companies gave the boxes. Truck companies transported the prunes to the packing houses and then to the dock in Portland. Then to crown the achievement the Luckenbach Steamship Company transported the entire shipment free of charge to Philadelphia.

The moving spirit back of this enterprise was Ward W. Silver. Without his expert knowledge of the prune business and kindly spirit that awakened cooperation at every turn, the project would have been extremely difficult.

The second project was the collecting, repairing and shipping of 268 pounds of used clothing. In this project the Ladies Aid of Newberg Meeting took responsibility for making the repairs and packing the clothing for shipment.

The third project, in some ways the most interesting, was the making up of 70 shirts for boys from cutout materials supplied by the American Friends Service Committee. The ladies of the meetings at Chehalem Center, Springbrook, First Church Portland and Lents took the lot. At least three other Meetings offered to help but there were not enough materials to supply the demand. Had the opportunity of making shirts been offered to all the Meetings of the Yearly Meeting it is difficult to estimate how many shirts might have been made up.

It is impossible adequately to express thanks to all the Friends who have assisted with these projects. We hope, however, that all who assisted in any way will be amply repaid by trying to imagine just what it means to a child who has only a sack for a shirt and no food and perhaps no shelter to have these needs supplied in the Christian spirit of love and helpfulness. It is under such circumstances that we begin to appreciate the words of Jesus: "Inasmuch as ye did it unto one of the least of these, ye did it unto me."

Insofar as the future can be anticipated the needs during the coming year are likely to be fully as great as during the past year. May we therefore urge, not only your material support and cooperation, but also your intelligent interest in the service being undertaken by the central committee. Most of all will you not pray earnestly that the American Friends Service Committee may be guided aright during these times when the needs are so much greater than the material facilities for meeting them. Will you also pray that in every phase of the work the Spirit of Jesus Christ may predominate and that thus the Kingdom of God on Earth may be an ever increasing reality in the lives of those who are ministered unto and in the lives of those who minister.

CHASE L. CONOVER, Superintendent

65. The work of the Board of Foreign Missions was presented at this time.

A ladies' quartet brought a message in song, and Calvin R. Choate led in prayer.

The Superintendent, Chester A. Hadley, presented the report for the year as follows:

REPORT OF THE FOREIGN MISSIONS DEPARTMENT

The report of the foreign missions department for the year is encouraging indeed. There has been a hearty response from the various meetings, and God has set his hand upon the work in Bolivia and has given us precious souls as a result of our labors and prayer. It has not been without serious problems and real handicaps. Early in the year reports came from Carroll Tamplin saying that it was necessary for Juan and Tomasa Allyon to leave the field on account of the serious illness of Tomasa. This left Carroll completely in charge with but six months of experience upon the new field among those whose language he had not yet mastered; but God has graciously blessed and overcome the handicap and the work has been carried on in spite of these serious hindrances.

Shortly following the removal of Juan and Tomasa, Doris Tamplin was taken ill and for a time it seemed that an operation or her removal from the field was imperative. God heard and answered prayer, and at the present time she is on the road to recovery and we hope will soon be able to resume her duties.

The removal of Juan made necessary the sending of another missionary as quickly as possible. We had expected to send a family, but the transportation expense is so heavy that we felt it impossible to undertake so great a financial obligation. God graciously undertook and sent us an application from Helen Cammack who was unmarried, thoroughly trained, and ready to go. After much prayer and consideration, the board unanimously accepted her application and steps are being taken for her departure not later than September 1st. I have visited all the meetings in the Yearly Meeting in the interests of the foreign mission work. I have shown the pictures of the field, and since the acceptance of Helen Cammack, have visited various meetings with her in the interests of her going in the near future. The annual report from Bolivia has not yet been received. We have reason to believe that it has been sent. We ask the privilege of including it in our report should it reach us before the minutes are printed.

Surely God has been gracious to us in the providences that have opened the door and provided a way for us to enter therein. The step which we are taking in sending Helen Cammack to the field in a time like this is fraught with many problems, but we are confident that it is the will of God and that He will care for every detail. Already there are many evidences of His approval.

It will be necessary to call attention to a change in our program of expenditure. Last year's report states that a cable from Carroll Tamplin asked for an appropriation of $1800.00 for building purposes. We included this item in our askings and set ourselves to the task of raising it. Shortly after this Juan Allyon was removed from the field on account of the serious illness of his wife, Tomasa. Following this, Juan's mother died and left the home in which the mission was located to Juan. The removal of Juan's family and the death of his mother left the building in which they were located with sufficient room for them to carry on the work much more conveniently. The removal of Juan made it imperative that we send help to the field at the earliest possible moment, and then the news of the serious illness of Doris Tamplin served as a further incentive for us to change the item of building fund to transportation fund and use as much of it as was necessary to place a new missionary on the field. This step was not taken without advice from Carroll. He stated that the above changes in the field made it more necessary to have help than to have a building at the present time. This explanation is due the Yearly Meeting inasmuch as last year's minutes show that we urged the building fund as an immediate necessity.

Our Board met in January and prepared a statement as to its needs for the coming year and after much prayer presented askings to the amount of $4,000.00. Included in this was $400.00 for the Superintendent's salary; the action of yesterday removes this item from the budget of the Missionary Board and reduces their askings to $3600.00. The Superintendent has presented the united program of the Yearly Meeting in nearly all of the meetings and has had a hearty response from the meetings, as regards the askings of this Board. We feel sure that the necessary funds to meet our needs will be available this year, and are stepping out in faith believing that He will see us through.

Shortly after Yearly Meeting an appeal was sent out for extra funds to secure a motorcycle for use on the field and in a most providential manner the funds and the machine were secured, and at the present time the motorcycle is being used on the field to help in the spread of the gospel.

It might be of inspiration to know that $4688.71 has been received for all missionary purposes this year. Our asking for the year was $4000.00. Some of the money received was for other than the Bolivian work and some of it was for special gifts such as the motorcycle which was not included in the regular budget of the Board. Surely God has been good to us to keep the missionary spirit of giving so keenly alive in this time of financial limitation. Every letter from Carroll indicates that the work is growing and that the opportunities for new work are increasing.

May God give us faith and courage to press on to greater things the coming year.

CHESTER A. HADLEY, Superintendent.

The statistical report appears in the Appendix. The meeting accepted these reports.

Helen Cammack, under appointment to the Bolivian field, was introduced, and told the story of her experience and call to service as related to faithful stewardship of the mysteries of God.

Chester A. Hadley gave to our out-going missionary the charge on behalf of the Yearly Meeting and to the Yearly Meeting the charge of responsibility which rests upon it as her supporters. Frederick J. Cope offered a prayer of dedication, and Arthur B. Chilson spoke briefly of the part the Yearly Meeting should fill in the missionary program. Mildred Benson, a missionary from the Methodist Episcopal field in Africa, was introduced and spoke a few words of encouragement.

66. The meeting adjourned to meet at 9:30 A. M., Seventh Day.

SEVENTH DAY 9:30 A. M.

67. The meeting met according to adjournment and waited upon the Lord for His blessing.

68. The minutes of the previous day were read and approved with additions.

69. The Epistle Committee presented epistles prepared for London, Dublin, Syria and Palestine, and German Yearly Meetings, for the American Yearly Meetings with which we correspond, and also for the Bolivian Friends. These were read, adopted, with a few suggestions of minor alterations, and directed to be signed and forwarded.

70. The subject of Education engaged the attention of the meeting. The Superintendent read his report which was approved by the meeting.

REPORT OF EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

As Superintendent of the Department of Education I wish to express my appreciation of the hearty cooperation given by the Quarterly Meeting Superintendents of Education and by those who have had charge of the work in the local meetings.

In the matter of the presentation of the subject of Christian Education there has been much more activity than formerly and in spite of some awkward situations in the matter of the mailing of blanks, the statistical reports are unusually full and complete. In order to avoid some confusion incident to the classification of courses as graduate, professional, Bible training, etc., meetings were asked to report the names of the students and the colleges they were attending. All the Quarterly Meetings but one gave this information. From this information it appears that something over 65% of the Friends students taking undergraduate courses are attending Friends colleges. It is probable that the complete report would show a higher per cent.

Again this year as last, most of the work of the Superintendent of this department has been done by correspondence. Some time before the end of the year letters were sent to each local committee giving the outline of the matter to be covered in the statistical report and making suggestions for work. The blanks for the final report were sent much later. Owing to a misunderstanding on the part of Superintendent these latter were late in reaching the meetings in Salem Quarter.

It is impossible for financial reasons, to get about over the Yearly Meeting or to have representatives available at all times. So far, however, we have been able to respond to requests for speakers either by sending a speaker or suggesting some one in the neighborhood. Pastors as well as local committees are invited to call on this department if speakers on Education are needed.

The actual expense of the work this year has been very small due to the fact that expenses for travel have been met by the meetings served, given by the speakers themselves, or furnished by interested Friends. We are grateful for this cooperation.

Some of the special lines of work may be noted:

Boise Valley reports arrangements for educational addresses in the limits of each of the Monthly Meetings.

Tacoma reports no addresses given, but arrangements are already being made for educational meeting at the August Quarterly Meeting.

Newberg has conducted a week-day Bible class under the direction of the education committee.

Portland First Church reports the maintenance of a fund for the use of those who are securing an education. This fund is loaned, without interest, to worthy students. Amounts up to $50 may be used by a student.

Two addresses have been given by the writer in addition to those listed in the statistical report.

Respectfully submitted,

FLOYD W. PERISHO, Superintendent.

The statistical report appears in the Appendix.

The report of Greenleaf Academy was read and approved.

REPORT OF GREENLEAF ACADEMY
FOR THE YEAR 1931-32

The school year of 1931-32 has been a pleasant as well as a profitable one for Greenleaf Academy. Our total enrollment was forty-five, a little below that of last year, owing to financial conditions. The spirit of cooperation throughout the entire organization has been very good. The students have done very good work and it seems that the standard of scholarship has been raised to a little higher level.

Athletics have been in charge of Charles A. Beals. Basketball, tennis and baseball have been participated in during the year and a commendable spirit of sportsmanship has prevailed throughout all the contests.

The boys and girls have each conducted an active weekly prayer meeting. These meetings have been held each Monday evening after school. The attendance, although voluntary, has been very good and we are sure that much has been done to build up, and to maintain, Christian character.

Our chapel services have always been of a devotional nature; a hymn is sung, a portion of Scripture is read and usually commented upon, and prayer is offered. Sometimes the students have taken part in these services either in testimony or prayer, or in reading Bible references given out by the teacher who was conducting the chapel service.

Charles A. Beals has continued the work which he began at Green Top school house last year. This year he has provided for a preaching service twice each Sunday, usually preaching once each Sunday himself. Mildred C. Beals and some of the young people have been assisting in this work.

John McFarlane, pastor of the Calvary church of Whittier, California, held a meeting at the Church, November 5th, 6th and 7th. This meeting was continued by Ezra Pearson until Thanksgiving Day. As usual the school schedule was arranged so that all the students attended the day meetings, and most of them attended the evening services. Some of the students were very definitely converted, some were sanctified and many were strengthened in the faith.

February 11th, Prof. E. C. Preston, of the College of Idaho, gave a very

The week of February 22-26 was given over to celebrating the life of George Washington. Each day different members of the Public Speaking Class presented some subject pertaining to him.

Beginning March 1st, our pastor, Charles T. Moore, presented a series of talks answering some of the arguments presented by the American Association for the Advancement of Atheism.

We had two very profitable visits during the year from representatives of the China Inland Mission. In November, Mr. Dickie, a returned missionary, gave us an inspiring address on the work of the Mission, and on May 5th, Robert Porteous and wife, who were held captive by the Chinese rebels for a hundred days, told us of their experiences while being held for a $60,000 ransom, and how the Lord cared for them, and in His own time, delivered them.

Charles A. and Mildred Beals have resigned their positions on the teaching force. Charles A. Beals is expecting to be in school next year where he will take work preparatory to the ministry. Mildred Beals has taught in the Academy four years, and Charles Beals two years. Their work has been thorough and much appreciated. Margaret Jackson is to teach the subjects Mildred Beals has been teaching but no one has yet been secured to fill the place vacated by Charles A. Beals.

Sunday, May the 15th, Charles T. Moore, preached a fitting baccalaureate sermon from the text in Acts 14:10 "Stand upright on thy feet." Wednesday evening, May 18th, the graduating class gave their program, five delivering orations. The following morning, Prof. James Millar, of the College of Idaho, delivered a very practical class address and the diplomas were presented to the nine graduates.

Ruth Williams was awarded the one-half scholarship to the Academy, offered by the Academy Alumni association for the Junior having the highest scholastic average for the three years work. Lois Tish received the Scholarship to Pacific College for having earned the highest average during her four years work.

The Lord has blessed us during the past year. We have faithfully sown the seed. The immediate results are not always as we would like to have them, but we are not discouraged for "He that goeth forth and weepeth bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him."

Respectfully submitted,

F. D. ROBERTS, Principal.

The President of Pacific College presented his annual report which was approved as follows:

REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT OF PACIFIC COLLEGE FOR THE YEAR 1931-32

The task of maintaining colleges under the auspices of the Christian church is a colossal one, and one that no church could undertake without a very deep conviction that the task should be done. The state furnishes ample opportunities for intellectual education, primary, secondary and higher. But there are many things required for the complete and entirely adequate education of a young man or young woman which it is difficult, if not impossible, for state supported education to provide; and which, apart from any abstract theories, the church affiliated colleges are providing, have provided, and in the nature of things, must continue to provide, far more successfully than any state system of education could possibly do. That there is tremendous need for the work thus being done by the smaller colleges, and that this need is realized by men of prominence who try to think such problems through, may be indicated by three quotations from letters received by the president of the college.

Here is a quotation from a letter written by Herbert Hoover, president of the United States:

"There is nothing that we need in our educational system today more than support to the smaller and more intimate colleges. Our universities are getting too big. They are not making character as strongly as it can be made in these smaller institutions."

Dwight W. Michener, a graduate of Penn College, for years a teacher at Pacific College, with a long course of graduate study and teaching in the largest university in the world, and now in the economist's office in the greatest bank in the world, writes in a letter not three weeks old:

"In spite of the odds, colleges of the caliber of Pacific must keep going, as much depends upon them."

In a still more recent letter, Arnold Bennett Hall, president of the University of Oregon, with no thought of being quoted and simply in correspondence regarding the general situation in higher education in Oregon, writes as follows:

"The real need in higher education today, both public and private, is spiritual leadership and an educational program that lends itself to this particular development. Unless we can imbue youth with a new set of spiritual values in the pursuit of which they tend to formulate their philosophy and to direct their careers, I see nothing but confusion and destruction for our civilization."

These and many other things encourage those who are in the midst of the present-day struggle to maintain our Christian colleges, and we feel that whatever additional sacrifice is required at this time will be amply justified.

The year just closed at Pacific College has been one in which there has been the necessity for unusual effort to meet unusual conditions; but there have been some special blessings which have come to the school, for all of which we are grateful to God and to Friends who have made the maintenance of the college possible. The loyalty, faithfulness and efficiency of the faculty in the face of most trying conditions is a cause for special gratitude.

Scholastic Work of the Year

In spite of the difficult economic and financial conditions, the student body this year has been practically the same as last year, which showed the largest enrollment of strictly college students in the history of the institution. With the exception of a very few, the students have done serious and effective work.

The class of 1932, with their degrees, were as follows: Doris M. Gettman, A.B.; Elizabeth B. Hadley, A.B.; I. LaVerne Hutchens, A.B.; Dorothea Nordyke, A.B.; Elinor F. Whipple, B.S.; and Lincoln B. Wirt, A.B.

LaVerne Hutchens did not have her work entirely completed at Commencement time, since she has been working more rapidly than the ordinary student and is completing her college work in less than four full years; but her work is expected to be completed in a few days, and she will graduate as of the class of 1932.

The highest honors of the class of 1932 for the work of the four years of college were awarded to Doris Gettmann.

The Junior prize, awarded for the work of the Junior year only, went to Dennis McGuire.

Faculty Changes

The college is making every effort to conform its policy to the necessity of these trying times. Our salaries have long been the lowest of any college in Oregon, and our budget exceptionally economical in view of the work which has been accomplished. With no deans, no full time treasurer, no registrar outside of the faculty, and without other officials possessed by most colleges, there has always been an exceptional amount of work for each teacher to do outside of the regular work of the class room. But in spite of all this, the college is making a material reduction both in the size of the faculty and in the faculty payroll.

Four resignations have been accepted, and only one new teacher will be employed, according to present plans.

Emma M. Hodgins is closing a continuous service of twenty-three years since she came to the faculty in 1909. Her work in English will be distributed among the other teachers of English in the college.

Alice B. Myers is retiring from the faculty after four years as Professor of French and German. According to present plans Professor Russell W. Lewis will handle the French the coming year and Professor Mary C. Sutton the German.

Hubert E. Armstrong expects to take graduate work the coming year after six years as instructor in Social Science and assistant in Athletics. His Social Science work will be taken over by Professor Perry D. Macy and Professor Emmett W. Gulley, and Professor Floyd W. Perisho will assist Professor Gulley in Athletics the coming year.

Esther Binford, who taught in the preparatory department from 1925 to '28, and has taught in the college since 1929 after a year of graduate work in Columbia University, is leaving with the close of the year. The place left vacant in the dormitory and as director of Dramatics and Physical Education for Women has not been filled as yet, though the position has been offered to a young woman highly recommended.

In addition to this material reduction in the size of the faculty, all those who are remaining on the force are giving ten per cent of next year's salaries to aid the college in its effort to balance the budget.

Extra Curricular Activities

The past year, as always, the students have made large contributions to their own education through the extra curricular activities of the student body.

The most important of these activities are connected with the Young Men's Christian Association and the Young Women's Christian Association, which have continued their separate weekly meetings during the year, with an occasional joint service. These meetings have been of great variety, some of them led by students, some by members of the faculty, and some addressed by outside speakers. In connection with the Christian Associations, the Deputation Group have conducted their activities during the year, with weekly prayer meetings, and gospel services in various meetings, churches, and out-of-the-way places.

A detailed account of all the extra curricular activities would be too voluminous for this report. But the work in which students participate outside of their regular duties connected with classes include joint management with the faculty of the Lyceum course; the work of an association on International Relations; participation in two intercollegiate public speaking contests; glee club practice with at least three concerts each year; the presentation of numerous plays, the most important one being the Student Body play, given as one of the attractions in the Lyceum course; the maintenance of the college paper, the Crescent; the biennial May Day celebration, which occurred this year; the intramural and intercollegiate contests in various forms of athletics, including, during the past year, football, basketball, volleyball, tennis, and track.

Prospects for the Future

That Pacific College has a place of real opportunity in the Pacific Northwest, if it can measure up to the requirements, was never clearer than it is today. The students are in overwhelming proportion of exceptionally high character; the faculty are loyal and faithful and are carrying a heavy burden in addition to regular work of the class room; the members of the Board of Managers are willing to carry their full share of responsibility and the sacrifices required for the maintenance of the college; but not all these combined can do the work that needs doing nor carry the load which must be borne if we are to have higher education which is Christian and Quakerly for Friends students of the Pacific Northwest.

It is due to the friends of the college to know definitely of its financial condition. Thanks chiefly to the devotion and sacrificial giving of the Friends of Oregon Yearly Meeting, and to the generous help given by Friends in the eastern part of the United States and across the water, Pacific College has, during the past twenty years, increased its net permanent financial resources by an average of more than $10,000.00 per year. The endowment of the college alone, aside from the value of the campus, buildings and equipment, and aside from all accounts, notes, and other obligations due the college, is over $200,000.00 above all indebtedness. But there is a very serious indebtedness which must be faced if the college is to survive. The largest element of this indebtedness is the arrears in faculty salaries. Pacific College owes its teachers more than $40,000.00. Help to the amount of several thousand dollars has been given from entirely outside the Society of Friends during the past few months for the meeting of the college's obligations, especially those to the teaching force. But until we are able to build up our endowment to a point where it will cover the difference between the extremely meager cost of maintaining the college and the student income, the Friends of Oregon Yearly Meeting must expect to follow the example of the Friends of Pacific College in the past, and make an investment in Christian education through which Pacific College has, during the past four decades, been sending out into the world its graduates to help and uplift humanity and to advance the cause of Christianity.

Will Oregon Yearly Meeting stand by Pacific College, even in these extremely difficult times? Or will Oregon Yearly Meeting allow all the sacrifices of the past to go for naught?

The heroic sacrifices of Oregon Friends in the past, probably not surpassed if it is equalled, by anything in Quaker educational history, leads us to have hope in Oregon Friends and in God that we shall be enabled to go on with the work to which we believe God has called us.

Respectfully submitted,

LEVI T. PENNINGTON, President.

72. Three members of the Pacific College Visiting Committee reported having visited the College at various times.

73. The meeting received the report of the Women's Auxiliary to Pacific College as follows:

REPORT OF THE WOMEN'S AUXILIARY TO PACIFIC COLLEGE

This group of women has had a busy year as usual. Six rooms in the Girls' Dormitory were papered. Shower bath and toilet were placed on the lower floor of the Men's Hall. Considerable equipment was bought for the kitchen and dining room. Rooms were made ready for the opening of school. Shrubs and flowers were planted on the campus. The old windows of the Girls' Dressing Room in the college building were replaced with synate glass.

The Dramatic and Music Department of the college gave a program for our benefit, netting $34.12. A one day sale of fancy work and food was held which added $84.80 to the treasury. $30.48 was cleared from banquets. $76.50 was paid in dues.

A pledge of $200.00 each year for a period of five years has been made to the Sustaining Fund of the college. A power lawn mower has been ordered for use on the campus. Plans are under way for a two or three day fair to be held in early October of this year.

While our income has not been as large as in former years, we feel that we have been of material help to Pacific College, and hope that we may be able to do more next year.

On behalf of the Women's Auxiliary,

REBECCA PENNINGTON, President
LOUISA M. HOSKINS, Secretary

74. The Pacific College Corporation submitted the following, which received the sanction of the meeting:

MARY CAMMACK, Chairman.

84. The following report from the Legislative Committee was accepted:

REPORT OF LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE

To Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends:

The work of the legislative committee is inevitably closely associated with the work of other committees, such as the Temperance Committee, the Peace Committee, the Education Committee, etc., so that our work in seeking to influence legislation is usually conducted through these committees. We seek to be vigilant in regard to other proposed legislation of interest to Friends which does not come under the work of any other of our departments.

On behalf of the committee,

LEVI T. PENNINGTON

85. The Trustees reported as follows:

The Yearly Meeting Bible School Committee considered the matters referred to it by the Yearly Meeting.

It seems unwise to consider publishing our own literature. We appreciate a change in the literature published at Richmond, Indiana, and recommend that the Schools of the Yearly Meeting use the quarterlies put out by the Friends Publishing House at Richmond, Indiana, and such papers as are satisfactory to local needs.

In the matter of standardized records we are as a committee working out plans in each quarter for more efficient service and standardized records.

We appoint Minnie Beckett as Teacher Training Superintendent.

WILLIAM C. EICHENBERGER, Superintendent.

MARJORIE B. VOTAW, Secretary of Com.

87. The children's work during Yearly Meeting was reported as follows:

On Sixth Day, Sixth Month 11, 1932, the Association met for the Yearly Meeting session. The Conference decided to ask for no appropriation this year from the Yearly Meeting, but to care for its own expenses through some plan presented by the following committee:

Edgar P. Sims, Chairman

98. The committee to which the matter of a statement on the question of divorce and remarriage was referred in Minute 47 made the following recommendations which were made the action of the Yearly Meeting:

To Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends:

We, your committee appointed to consider the matter of divorce and re-marriage as set forth in Minute 64, Page 21 of the 1931 Minutes of Oregon Yearly Meeting, unite in submitting the following for consideration and recommend its adoption as an expression of our conviction as a Yearly Meeting upon the matter of divorce and re-marriage.

We recognize that the question of divorce has such serious moral and spiritual consequences that it threatens the social foundations of society and the spiritual and moral life of the church. We would call the attention of our members and the world to the dignity of marriage and the sacredness of the marriage vow.

Believing that leaders in responsible places are of necessity more subject to public scrutiny, and are in an official way more representative, we recommend that such leaders themselves should refrain from marrying or re-marrying where divorce proceedings enter into consideration, and that under no circumstances should they consider such a step where the scriptural ground as set forth in Matthew 5:31-32 is lacking.

We further recommend that ministers refrain from marrying or remarrying persons known to be divorced, except the divorce be given for the scriptural ground stated above, in which case the innocent party may be eligible for re-marriage.

We further feel that if those in leadership disregard the reasonableness of the above recommendations that they should be removed from leadership.

On behalf of the committee,

CHESTER A. HADLEY, Chairman.

99. The Yearly Meeting by a rising vote expressed their appreciation of the faithful work of the Entertainment Committee, of those who have prepared the beautiful floral decorations, of the Clerks, of the Superintendent, Chester A. Hadley, and of William J. Murphy and all who have furnished the splendid musical numbers which have contributed much to the various sessions of the Yearly Meeting.

100. The meeting adjourned until 7:30 P. M.

SEVENTH DAY 7:30 P. M.

101. The meeting met according to adjournment, and was opened with song and prayer.

102. The minutes of the day session were read and approved.

MIL0 Ross, Treasurer,
Oregon Friends C. E. Union

The President read his annual report which was accepted as follows:

THE YEARLY REPORT OF THE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

With grateful hearts full of thanksgiving to God for His blessings to us, the Christian Endeavor has come to the close of another year of prosperity. It is true that there have been times when we have wondered from whence would come financial resources for a continuance of the work, but we are still decidedly alive and active.

Yet, we are immeasurable rich. We are rich in experience; rich in the love of Christ; rich in spiritual blessings; rich in faith in God; rich in opportunities; rich in enthusiasm and determination. Again we are reminded that "the cattle upon a thousand hills" belong to our King, and since we are His sons, what need have we?

The exigencies of the present situation in world affairs have caused us to wonder if there has not been too great a tendency to count our wealth in material possessions. The words of our Master come with new force, "A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth." However, God has richly blessed us in a material way.

A new conference plant was established this year. It is located at the Payette Lakes in Idaho, thus making available a summer conference for the benefit of Friends in Idaho. This new plant consists of about eight acres of land overlooking the Payette Lakes, and a large three story building twenty-four by sixty-three in which are housed the dining hall and two dormitories.

Two very successful conferences, one at Twin Rocks, and one at the Payette Lakes, were held in which the blessing of the Lord was manifest. The conferences have strengthened and built up the spiritual life of our young people. They must go on.

"The Friendly Endeavor," including "The Church Window" has been published regularly. We truly feel that "The Friendly Endeavor" has been one of the great forces in uniting the Yearly Meeting, in presenting the program of the Yearly Meeting and Christian Endeavor and in arousing missionary interest. Surely the publication of the paper should continue even at some sacrifice upon the part of the members of the Yearly Meeting.

The Christian Endeavor has been deeply interested in missions and has raised $257.02 which has been given toward the support of our native missionaries, the Allyons. We feel that one of the greatest contributions that we have ever made to missions is the giving of one of our finest and most valuable members. We are happy to give our best. Helen Cammack has been a strong pillar in the Christean Endeavor work, having served at various times as secretary of the organization, Quarterly Meeting Superintendent, and editor of "The Friendly Endeavor." Surely we will miss her, but we pray that God's richest blessing may be upon her as she goes to the Bolivian field.

Two banquets were held this year, one at Salem, Oregon, and one at Star, Idaho. The attendance was far greater than the fondest expectations for such a year as the one through which we have passed.

We are entering a new year, yes, we are entering a new era; an era in which valuations are constantly shifting as the sands of the sea. It is for us, in this new era, to make our greatest contributions. With the rapid changing of material values, the world in frenzy is grasping for something sound and sure. How happy will be our lot, if we lead some to the place their trembling feet on the "Rock of Ages."

Respectfully submitted,

WALTER P. LEE, President.

The Yearly Meeting Christian Endeavor Union reported its organization for the coming year, which appears in the directory.

104. The Christian Endeavorers had charge of the evening's program, which consisted of the announcements concerning the summer conferences, some presentations of Friends' usages, and the installation of the newly elected officers.

105. The meeting adjourned to meet at 8:00 P. M., First Day.

FIRST DAY 8:00 P. M.

106. The meeting convened according to adjournment.

107. The meetings for worship were held as follows: At eight A. M. Delbert H. and Bertha C. King had charge of the meeting, and at eleven o'clock Arthur B. Chilson and Robert B. Shattuck preached. The Workers League conducted the three o'clock meeting, and Frederick B. Baker brought the message. At the morning and evening meetings the offerings for the Evangelistic and Church Extension Board were $229. In the afternoon an offering for the Workers League in cash and pledges amounted to $172. Arthur B. Chilson brought the closing message.

108. The Entertainment Committee reported as follows:

REPORT OF ENTERTAINMENT COMMITTEE

Your Entertainment Committee placed 100 guests in homes, and served 1168 meals, of this number 756 were to guests of the Yearly Meeting, and 184 to children and help.

Total dining room expense.....	$185.34
Cash from meals.....	124.65
Cash from Yearly Meeting.....	60.69

We thank all who helped in any way with the entertaining.

IDA VAN BLARICOM, Chairman.

109. Conscious of the covering of the presence of the Lord, and gratefully acknowledging the guidance and help of the Holy Spirit throughout the sessions of the Yearly Meeting, we realize that another year's labors have passed into history, and adjourn to meet, in God's providence, at Newberg, Oregon, Sixth Month, 14, 1933.

REPORT OF THE AMERICAN FRIENDS SERVICE COMMITTEE TO OREGON YEARLY MEETING OF FRIENDS HELD IN NEWBERG, OREGON

This is the fifteenth annual report of the American Friends Service Committee to your Yearly Meeting. Beginning with relief and reconstruction work in Europe, it has continued a Foreign Service by the slow, steady process of continually widening friendships and is attempting to build a substantial peace basis in world affairs.

It has not been found possible to continue a Centre in Moscow. However, we have brought to America a Russian woman, who has long been associated with our work and who is spending this year studying public health work in America, in preparation for serving more effectively in this much needed field in Russia. She is a member of the Society of Friends and the embodiment of its finest spirit, and will, we feel, be an effective representative of the spirit of reconciliation and understanding.

Geneva, increasingly significant in world affairs, continues to be one of our most effective Centres. The Student Hostel has this year had a household of fifteen (15) students representing twelve (12) different national groups. In addition to its usual program the Centre has organized into a co-operative group all of the voluntary organizations which have representatives at the Disarmament Conference.

The plight of Germany, which has driven her to radical political and economic steps, has also brought forth a very alert and active Yearly Meeting, which carries forward the tradition left by concerned Friends of earlier years. Recently a group of German and American Friends visited Chancellor Brüning and the Minister of Defense, carrying their concern. They have set for themselves the task of cultivating Franco-German reconciliation, especially attempting to influence the attitude of the leaders of the established church.

One other feature of the program has been the Peace Caravans, which were sent out as usual during the summer of 1931. There were twenty-eight (28) young people in these Caravans, who gave ten (10) weeks to intensive public speaking in the interest of creating informed public opinion on matters of disarmament and particularly relating to questions of international importance generally. These Caravans represented fourteen (14) Colleges: Swarthmore, Haverford, Earlham, Wisconsin, Harvard, Yale and others.

The name of the Message Committee, set up three years ago to assume special responsibility for making more vigorous and articulate the spiritual life within the Society of Friends, has been changed to the Fellowship Committee. Eighty (80) Friends in various parts of American Quakerdom are actively co-operating as field representatives for this Committee.

More than a hundred (100) visits of local groups to Friends not often visited were reported. Articles for publication in Friends' periodicals have been stimulated.

At the request of President Hoover's Committee on Unemployment Relief and the Federal Children's Bureau, a new activity was entered upon during the current year. We were asked to feed the undernourished children of unemployed parents in the bituminous coal fields. The maximum number of children fed was reached about April 1st when we were giving 39,400 meals a day. These children are in five hundred and sixty-three (563) communities scattered over thirty-eight (38) Counties in the States of Maryland, Kentucky, Tennessee, Illinois, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

From many quarters help has been given. Fifty (50) tons of second-hand clothing and $25,000 worth of new clothing has been forwarded to the field. The total value of gifts in kind, including the contribution of a carload of prunes sent by Oregon Friends, and which greatly aided this project, has amounted to about $50,000. The total cost of the relief work to date has been about one-third of a million dollars.

This work has thrown the Society of Friends into the very midst of one of the most perplexing industrial situations in our life today.

This means that studies and experiments in transfer to other ways of earning a living will have to be made. A gift of $10,000 has been made to the Service Committee with which to make studies and experiments in this field. While this will make only a beginning in this work of rehabilitation, plans are under way for extending the support and the experiments. County, State and Government officials, as well as coal operators, have shown a keen interest and willingness to co-operate also in this enterprise.

Extensive gardening projects are being started to lessen as far as possible relief needs next year. This work, however, will require the devoted interest and financial support of Friends for some time to come if a demonstration is made in the transfer of people from one form of occupation to another, without the usual serious loss of time, opportunity and spirit.

The past year has been one when the raising of funds was difficult. The Committee, however, is deeply grateful for the loyalty shown by Friends in rallying to its support. In addition to funds for relief, work in the coal fields has laid a heavier burden upon the general funds of the Service Committee and it is especially desirable that Friends should continue support of the general budget as one of the ways in which we express our Quaker concern for the society of our day.

The door to the world's need is open to us even beyond our strength. Let us dedicate our possessions and consecrate our lives to meet these difficult and challenging days.

HENRY J. CADBURY, Chairman,
American Friends Service Committee
