DEDICATION OF FRANK COLCORD FIELD

The Quakers and the Oregon College of Education Wolves are playing on Frank C. Colcord Memorial Field being dedicated at half-time today in honor of an early college alumnus and outstanding athlete.

Frank Colcord was a member of the 1916 basketball squad that twice defeated Oregon Agricultural College, now Oregon State University. In 1917 he was named all-conference guard for his outstanding play.

As a student, Mr. Colcord was president of the Men's Athletic Association, treasurer of the student body, and associate editor of the Crescent newspaper.

In later life, Mr. Colcord returned to his alma mater to serve on the Board of Trustees beginning in 1932, and later becoming chairman of the investment committee, a position held for 19 years.

At the time of his death in August of last year, Mr. Colcord was treasurer of the college.

In public life Mr. Colcord served as Mayor of Newberg for two terms, was chairman of the Newberg Community Hospital Board, and chairman of the city budget committee. In private life, Mr. Colcord was office manager for Portland General Electric Company, having been with the firm and its predecessor for 41 years.

Mr. Colcord was instrumental in securing these new athletic facilities, which include the football field, track, and field area, through his efforts on behalf of the committee.

Participating in the dedication program will be Dr. Milo C. Ross, President of the college and Dorwin Smith, Chairman of the Religious Life and Student Affairs Committee of the college Board of Trustees.

FOOTBALL DADS

Football Dads, the fathers of members of the 1968 Quaker football team, are being honored today with special recognition.

The Football Dads are seated in chairs on the side lines, each father wearing the same number as that of his football-playing son.

These fathers have come from throughout the Northwest to be with their sons on this Homecoming weekend.

HOMECOMING TROPHIES

Half-time ceremonies at today's game feature awarding of trophies to winners of the traditional Homecoming parade held earlier this morning, and to the winners of the residence hall decoration contest.

Winners will receive trophies from George Fox President Milo Ross and Executive Alumni Director Gene Hockett.

Campus decorations were based on expression of theme, design, lettering, and eye appeal.

Parade entrants were given points for appropriateness of theme, originality of design and esthetic appeal.

HOBSON DEDICATION

George Fox alumni and friends are invited to dedication ceremonies for Hobson Hall following today's football game.

The new three-story, 74-bed mens residence hall is located on the eastern edge of the college campus across Hess Creek Canyon.

Built over the last 5 months at a cost of $225,000, the modern wooden structure is being named in honor of William and Sarah Hobson, early Newberg pioneers whose enthusiastic efforts led to the Friends settlement at Newberg, and whose strong support led to founding of the school and college which became George Fox College.

Today's ceremonies and open house will start at 4 p.m. on the patio in front of the residence hall.

FURTHER HOMECOMING ACTIVITIES

Homecoming activities following the football game and dedication of Hobson Hall will include an alumni reception at 4:45 p.m. in Shambaugh for all former students of the college.

Dinner will be in Heacock Commons at 6 p.m.

Tonight at 8 p.m. in Heacock Commons the curtain rises on the Friends Company Eight productions of "Impromptu" and "The Moment of Choice".
