CONTRIBUTORS

DAVID JOHNS is Associate Professor of Theology at the Earlham School of Religion. Over the past four years he has traveled in ministry among Friends in Mexico and Central America and has taught courses in theology, Bible, and Quaker thought at the Colegio Bíblico de Jorge Fox in Honduras and the Instituto Teológico de los Amigos de El Salvador.

PAUL ANDERSON is Professor of Biblical and Quaker Studies at George Fox University. His third printing of Christology of the Fourth Gospel just came out (2010), as did John, Jesus, and History; Vol. 2 (2009); his Fortress Press introduction, The Riddles of the Fourth Gospel, will be published later this year. Paul is co-chair of the John, Jesus, and History Project; he will serve as Scholar in Residence at Reedwood Friends Church in Portland, OR this spring, featuring public dialogues on the Gospels and Jesus with Marcus Borg. He will also lecture in Europe this summer at the Universities of Mainz, Nijmegen, and Tübingen.

ARTHUR O. ROBERTS, a past editor of this journal, resides with his wife, Fern, in Friendsview Retirement Community, Newberg, Oregon. He continues to engage in theological dialogue with scholars and student researchers, in occasional lecturing and preaching, and in writing. His most recent Barclay Press books are a 50th anniversary edition (revised) of Through Flaming Sword, life and legacy of George Fox (2008), and Heavenly Fire, a book of poems (2007).

STEPHEN W. ANGELL is Leatherock Professor of Quaker Studies at the Earlham School of Religion. He has recently published The Foundations of Liberal Quakerism (Walton Lecture) and is preparing Black Fire: The Writings of African-American Quakers on Spirituality and Human Rights for publication (with co-editors Hal Weaver and Paul Kriese, scheduled for 2011).

RACHEL MUERS is Senior Lecturer in Christian Studies at the University of Leeds, UK. Her publications include Keeping God's Silence: Towards a Theological Ethics of Communication (Blackwell, 2004); Living for the Future: Theological Ethics for Coming Generations (T&T Clark, 2008); and (with David Grumett) Theology on the Menu: Asceticism, Meat and Christian Diet (Routledge, 2010). She is a lifelong Quaker, and is currently a member of Leeds Area Meeting (Britain Yearly Meeting).

RICHARD WOOD is Dean and Professor Emeritus of Yale Divinity School and a recorded minister in Indiana Yearly Meeting. Earlier he served as Vice President for Academic Affairs at Whittier College, and President of Earlham College. Most recently, he was President of the United Board for Christian Higher Education in Asia, and then President of the Japan Society in New York. He and his wife Judy live in New York City.
