● 6. Charles Haworth, Sophia Townsend and Joseph McCracken were appointed as a committee to prepare returning minutes.

● 7. The following persons were named to serve as a Memorial Committee: Marion Cook, Scott Clark and Marguerite P. Elliott.

● 8. The list of caretakers was read as follows:

Olive Hester	Sheldon Hinshaw
Josephine Church	Carolann Moor
Harold Weesner

● 9. The reports of the State of the Church were received and a summary of the same appears below:

On the whole the spiritual condition of the churches is good. Some feel as if the Lord had more in store for them if they follow the leading of the Spirit. One church has set aside Monday evening for special prayer for the church. There have been spiritual battles, problems to be solved but God has given the victory.

Church and Sunday school attendance has held up very well. Some meetings wished to improve Sunday evening and prayer meeting attendance. Prayer is being offered for some who occasionally attend that they may be established and become regular attenders.

From the reports most Friends maintain the family altar in their homes in some form of daily worship.

Most churches reported harmonious relationship between members and honesty in dealing with others. One meeting reported that prayer and efforts had been made to end differences of long standing in their meeting.

Most of the Quarterly Meetings report that spiritual gifts in their young people have been recognized and used in their services. One meeting told of young couples going to the mission field and other young couples going into training for full time Christian work. Some aid in prison and home mission work. Another meeting gives young people the opportunity to have charge of evening services every fifth Sunday.

The ministry is of sound doctrine and has fitted the needs of the people. There is a prayerful concern on the part of one Ministry and Oversight body that there should be a deepening and building up of believers to the end that sinners might be converted.

● 10. The following recommendation from the Board of Evangelism in regard to the Baker property was approved:

The Board of Evangelism has received report of the discontinuance of the Baker Outpost by Greenleaf Quarterly Meeting, and both the Quarterly Meeting and Board of Evangelism feel we should not seek to revive the work at this time. Therefore we recommend that the Yearly Meeting authorize the Trustees to sell the Baker property, and that the funds obtained therefrom be placed in the revolving loan fund, this being in accord with those who originally contributed to the Baker property.

Oscar N. Brown, president
Paul W. Barnett, secretary

● 11. The recommendation of the Executive Committee that

Walter Lee be recommended as Missionary Field Secretary and that the salary item of $600 is included in the budget was approved.

● 12. The following recommendation from Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting was referred to the Evangelistic Board:

The Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting recommends that the Yearly Meeting fix a budget for the various Quarterly Meetings to cover the Inland Empire radio broadcast.

Taken from the minutes of Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting of Friends, held at Melba, July 31, 1954.

Raymond Haworth
Dilla Tucker, clerks

● 13. Salem Quarterly Meeting sent in the following recommendation which was referred to the Board of Christian Education:

Salem Quarterly Meeting would like to recommend that the churches of the Yearly Meeting have a uniform system of counting those in attendance at Sunday School on Conference and Yearly Meeting Sundays.

We suggest one of the following as a possible solution:

1. That neither of these two special Sundays be included in the yearly average, thus making it a 50 Sunday average, or
2. Allow each Sunday School to count all of its members as present, who are in attendance at Conference or at Yearly Meeting on these Sundays, or
3. Some other suggestion which would give us a uniform plan for attendance on these two Sundays.

Clifton Ross
May Nordyke, clerks

● 14. The Executive Committee presented the following recommendation which was approved by the meeting:

The question was presented to the Executive Committee at its mid-winter meeting as to what the Yearly Meeting's attitude should be relating to the use by our local meetings of American Friends Service Committee personnel and speakers sponsored by the said committee. There was a feeling of deep concern by the members of the Executive Committee and considerable time was given to expressions on the matter.

The following appeared to be a summary of the thinking of the committee relative to this issue:

1. The American Friends Service Committee, through the years, has rendered commendable service in relief work, but it is the religious concepts and practices growing out of these concepts to which we object.
2. As evangelical Quakers we are of the belief that our doctrinal tenets and many of our evangelical practices are in accord with those preached and practiced by George Fox and his contemporaries.
3. We are agreed that our teachings are not of secondary importance, but primary, and thus is worthy of our defense and proclamation.
4. The reasons for which our Yearly Meeting severed official relations with the American Friends Service Committee according to the 1938 Minutes, page 43, Minute 105, are the same today. Neither the status nor the attitudes of both the Service Committee and of Oregon Yearly Meeting has changed since that time.
5. There is evidence that the American Friends Service Committee consistently refuses to give relief in the name of Jesus Christ, and thus is removed the Christian basis for its service activities.

6. The Friends Service Committee has repeatedly expressed as their basis for their peace philosophy the universal goodness of man, or, as they so often state, "that of God in every man", which, to us, is contrary to the teaching of Romans the first chapter and other Scriptures. They have further been silent that the basis of peace is the will of God and the teaching of the Scriptures.

7. The Service Committee, by statements, silences, and inferences do not support, as a body, the deity of Christ, the Blood Atonement, and the need for man to be saved from death to life through the New Birth.

8. Evangelical Quaker faith and practice are not considered in the Committee's qualifications for their field workers and lecturers.

9. The basis for the Committee's peace testimony and service program is primarily philosophical rather than Biblical; humanitarian, social, and political rather than personal experience of peace with God through saving grace of Jesus and a firm belief in the explicit teaching of Christ.

10. Our association with the Friends Service Committee suggests to many, particularly other evangelical Christians, that we are in harmony with all their beliefs and policies.

Therefore the Executive Committee wishes to make the following recommendations to the Yearly Meeting.

1. That Oregon Yearly Meeting encourage the local meetings to strengthen their testimony and ministry on Peace and Social Service from the evangelical and Scriptural point of view.
2. That the local meetings be advised to give foreign relief through evangelical service agencies, such as the World Relief Department of the National Association of Evangelicals.
3. That the Peace and Service sections of our Yearly Meeting Boards be given full moral support and implemented in their program by necessary financial means.
4. That all local meetings be advised to refrain from using any American Friends Service Committee or A.F.S.C. sponsored or approved leadership, other than members of Oregon Yearly Meeting, in any services, or meetings, and that members of Oregon Yearly Meeting refrain from presenting in any way the work of the American Friends Service Committee. And we further advise that no local meeting house be made available to the American Friends Service Committee.
5. And that members of Oregon Yearly Meeting be discouraged from participating in any activities of the American Friends Service Committee.

Dorwin E. Smith
Charlotte L. Macy, clerks

Merrill Coffin's suggestion that the Executive Committee prepare another statement to add to the report was approved.

● 15. At the beginning of the inspirational hour Merle Roe brought greetings from Kansas Yearly Meeting when he was presented to the meeting.

His message was based on Luke 11:1-10. He emphasized the different attitudes toward prayer. We must pray thy will be done. We need to seek and find, also knock which is asking plus our own effort and keeping everlastingly at it.

- 16. The meeting adjourned to meet at 2:00 o'clock.

THURSDAY, 2:00 P.M.

- 17. During the devotional period Paul Barnett led in prayer.
- 18. The recommendation of the Executive Committee that the American Friends Service Committee be informed that the Yearly Meeting house at Newberg is not available for its use was approved.
- 19. The following recommendations from Portland Quarterly Meeting in regard to changes in the Discipline were referred to the Representatives:

To the sixty-second session of Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends held at Newberg, Oregon, August 12-17, 1954:

Portland Quarterly Meeting of Friends in session on July 24, 1954, with a deep feeling of our obligations and privileges to further expedite the promotion of the work of the church and the good news of Salvation, does herewith recommend the following amendments to the Discipline of Oregon Yearly Meeting:

(For final action in amending the Discipline at the 1954 Yearly Meeting sessions.)

Add to Paragraph 1.

The board is further authorized through its publicity officer to direct a sustained program of publicity and promotion in harmony with doctrinal standards of evangelical Friends. Effort should be made to uphold a high standard of journalism, and advertising through newspaper releases and other media such as magazines, radio, display advertising and whatever other channels may be developed. Procedure methods and suggestions should be given quarterly meeting and monthly meeting agents.

Amend paragraph 2 to read as follows:

2. Representation in The Subordinate Meetings. Each quarterly meeting should appoint a representative to serve as the area director of publicity and as reporter to the yearly meeting periodical. Each monthly meeting should appoint a representative to serve a similar role locally.

(For introduction to the 1954 session of the Yearly Meeting to await final action at the 1955 Yearly Meeting session. See Discipline Amendment regulations, page 88, paragraph 2.)

Respectfully submitted,

Roger M. Minthorne, treasurer

A rising vote of thanks was given to Roger and Mildred Minthorne for their careful and arduous work on the treasurer's report.

It was decided to leave the discussion of the report until the afternoon session.

Oliver Weesner reported that he had not made a complete audit but he had looked the books over carefully and had found them in good order and in a satisfactory condition.

The report was approved subject to the audit.

● 29. Wilmer Brown, Northwest regional director of National Association of Evangelicals, brought greetings to the meeting.

He said that Communism and the Roman Catholic church are to be feared but more to be feared are cold liberalism and cold formalism.

The N.A.E. is trying to keep the channels open to send the gospel into the uttermost parts of the world. The association also keeps watch in Washington, D.C. of the legislation that might be harmful to the Christian belief.

BOARD OF CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

- 30. The president of the Board, Lela Morrill, presided and presented the following report:

Sunday School

Attendance in the Sunday Schools of Oregon Yearly Meeting has shown a definite increase during the past year. Thirty-four Sunday Schools showed an increase in average attendance of the year before. The Sunday Schools reporting a gain of at least "1/4 More in '54" are: Wenatchee, Spokane, Holly Park, Vancouver First, Hillsboro, Timber, Maplewood, Ontario Heights, Ashland, Highland in Salem, Pringle and Friends Memorial in Seattle.

The total reported attendance shows an average of 4,523 in the Sunday Schools of the Yearly Meeting each Sunday of the past year. Compared with 4,215 for the previous year, this shows a gain of 308, or 7.3%.

Reports are encouraging in the field of Teacher Training. There were 377 teachers who attended some Sunday School Workshop or Institute, and 23 meetings had training classes for their own teachers.

The report of 80 conversions during the Sunday School hour and 50 received into church membership from the Sunday School indicates the need of more emphasis in the field of Sunday School Evangelism.

Children and Youth Work

Daily Vacation Bible Schools were held in 37 meetings with a total enrollment of 2,631. And in these schools 479 boys and girls were saved.

Total membership in Senior Christian Endeavor is 442, in Intermediate 156, and in Junior 327.

There are 13 Boys' Clubs with a total of 206 members, and 12 Girls' Clubs with a total of 176 members. The small number of meetings sponsoring Club work indicates, we believe, either a failure to appreciate the value of this type of work or a lack of consecrated workers.

Reports of 22 meetings show a variety of additional youth activities, including Junior Church, Intermediate Church, Junior Choir, Youth for Christ, Youth Revivals, C. E. Deputation Teams, Play Nights, Sunday School Socials, Basketball, Baseball, Fishing Trips, Hobby Nights.

Board Activity

During the past year the Board of Christian Education has published and distributed the Sunday School Teacher's Covenant, the new edition of the Primary Queries, a Survey of Vacation Bible School Publications, and the Sunday School Literature Survey. We have promoted the drive for "1/4 More in '54" in the Sunday Schools of the Yearly Meeting, and launched the project for the coming year to "Evangelize in '55". We sponsored Junior Yearly Meeting, held during the Yearly Meeting sessions. And, with the help given through the Sunday morning offering at Yearly Meeting, we were able to support Vacation Bible Schools at Ashland, Agnew, and Sprague River.

On behalf of the Board of Christian Education
Lela J. Morrill, president

Jack Willcuts spoke on Evangelism in the Sunday School. There is a need of vision and concern for positive evangelism in our Sunday School work. We need to evaluate the future at the present time. A little love will go a long way in winning the children of our community to Christ. Spiritual concern is needed to reach the boys and girls for Christ.

The memorization contest was presented with the following contestants:

Phillip Morrill from Puget Sound Quarterly Meeting
Lonny Fendall from Newberg Quarterly Meeting
Zenobia Hoffman from Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting.

The speech contest was represented by only one contestant with the subject "Loyalty to Christ and the Church.":

Sherrell Wollam from Portland Quarterly Meeting.

The report was approved and appreciation was expressed for the fine report.

- 31. The Representatives reported the nominations of Melva Baker and Virginia Helm for three years on the Board of Christian Education.

These were approved.

- 32. The Board of Christian Education made the following report on the matter referred to them:

Because of the lack of uniformity throughout the Yearly Meeting of the number of Sundays spent in camps, we recommend and restate the action stated in the minutes of the Board of Christian Education of August 14, 1951:

"The Board favors a uniformity of counting our Sunday School attendance. Members attending our summer camps and conferences and Yearly Meeting should be counted on the local attendance record."

Respectfully submitted
Board of Christian Education
Lela Morrill, president

After some discussion the report was accepted.

- 33. Helen Kersey Ford, a former missionary to Guatemala and Africa was introduced to the meeting. She said God's promises had sustained her at all times.
- 34. At the beginning of the inspirational hour, Harlow Ankeny led the congregation in singing Blessed Assurance and Roscoe Knight offered prayer. Then Merle Roe spoke on John 16:7-11. He said the Holy Spirit is a person and that this dispensation belongs to the Holy Spirit. And when He is come, He will convict the world of sin, and of righteousness and of judgment.

FRIDAY, 2:00 P.M.

- 35. After a period of silent devotion, the presiding clerk led in prayer.

36. Kenneth Eichenberger, who has recently returned from a trip to Alaska on a visit to missions of California Yearly Meeting, told of the work of the missionaries there. He brought greetings from the Friends in Alaska.

- 37. The treasurer's report was considered again and Oliver Weesner explained the reasons for the overdraft in the Board of Trustees.

- 38. The Representatives, the Board of Trustees of George

Fox College and the Alumni presented the names of persons to serve on the corporation of George Fox College for five years and these will appear in the Appendix.

These were approved.

- 39. The Representatives presented the name of Clifton Ross to serve as a Trustee for five years. This was approved.
- 40. Members to serve on the Board of Trustees of George Fox College were presented by the Board of Trustees and by the Executive Committee.

These were approved and their names will appear in the Appendix.

- 41. Jack L. Willcuts submitted his resignation from the Board of Publication and from the Board of Public Relations, because he is leaving soon for the mission field.

His resignation was accepted.

- 42. Greenleaf Quarterly Meeting and Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting united in inviting the Yearly Meeting to meet at Greenleaf, Idaho in the 1955 sessions.

The invitation was accepted and the Yearly Meeting will adjourn this year to meet at Greenleaf, Idaho in 1955.

- 43. The General Superintendent expressed appreciation to the people of the local church for the improvements in the basement and for the help on the repair of the outside of the church building. He also expressed a desire that sometime we might have a Christian Education unit that would be used during the Yearly Meeting sessions for meetings, banquets, etc.

REPORT OF GENERAL SUPERINTENDENT

Jesus said, "... Life up your eyes and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest", and we today face a world-wide need, a rapidly closing harvest season. In our own strength and by our own resources, the task is too great. We do not have what it takes, by human standards, to begin to meet the need. But God's word also declares that it is, "not by might, nor by power, but by my Spirit, saith the Lord." Zech. 4:6.

We find much courage and good hope in the confidence that God is not dependent upon the wisdom and power of human man, but that He is willing to use yielded men who will be dedicated vessels to convey His message and His Spirit to a hungry, thirsty world.

Friends, the greatest task of the church is to tell people the old, old story of the gospel. We often get tangled up in the intricate machinery of the church, until we lose the central vision of why we are here. We must not let the by-products and side issues of the gospel blind our vision to the only eternally important purpose of the church which is to make Christ known.

In this third annual report, I am glad to note a spirit of advance and forward look which has characterized most of our churches this past year. Statistics often fail to tell the whole story but they do tell a good deal of how much the church has been at work.

It is a perpetual source of inspiration to me to observe first hand the evidences of God's moving in our 56 local meetings. I have visited most of these churches during the past year. Besides visitation and counselling on the field, I have brought 92 messages and travelled about 27,000 miles in the carrying on of my work, of which 22,514 miles were by auto.

During the year the Yearly Meeting office has had its share of business. Appreciation and thanks should go to the Office Secretary, Beth Hockett, for her faithful work, which has often been beyond the line of duty. We have sent out 607 personal letters, plus 5413 form letters, published 1393 copies of the News Flash and Prayer Bulletin, 106 copies of board minutes, and 221 Quaker Hour radio messages. Add to this the 187 packages mailed out, and you have a grand total of 7927 pieces of mail going through the office. Of course this does not include the 22,000 copies of the Northwest Friend, or the thousands of bulletins etc. going through the office of the Yearly Meeting Press.

The Board of Publication is to be commended for its excellent work, and the consecrated men, Ray Carter and Ralph Fletcher who, with their wives and the office secretary, are doing the fine work of publication. The Northwest Friend is increasingly more attractive and vital to our work than ever before.

I have served as the Yearly Meeting representative on the Board of Administration of the National Association of Evangelicals, and attended one board meeting which was held in Minneapolis, Minn. last fall. I also attended a part of the Conference for mission leaders sponsored by the Evangelical Foreign Missions Association, held in Cedar Lake, Indiana. It was during this conference that Walter Lee and I met with representatives from Ohio and Kansas Yearly Meetings to discuss possible means for a closer working relationship on a missionary level, among our Yearly Meetings. We also met with Dr. Harold Kuhn in Chicago to discuss their gospel work in West Germany which was being supported by our Christian Endeavorers.

On this same trip we visited the sessions of Kansas Yearly Meeting. We were accorded a gracious welcome among the Friends there and given opportunities for service. I believe there should be an increasing inter-visitation among Friends of like faith and like mind.

Quaker Hour is now one year old. This new venture has grown faster than we have been able to imagine. The Yearly Meeting will have a detailed report on this most important part of our evangelistic outreach but let's not underestimate the significance of this first year of broadcasting the gospel message which is now reaching an estimated 200,000 to 300,000 people every week.

A year ago we were thrilled to hear of the opening of three new Friends churches and the plans for a fourth. This year's report of these four new churches is, without exception, a report of growth and development.

This year, we are reporting the plans for the opening of three more new churches. Harley and Amy Adams are already on the field in Quincy, Washington, and hope to start meetings soon. For some years we have been told of the need for gospel work in North Coeur d'Alene, Idaho. Plans are under way for the starting of a Sunday School there this fall, if the way opens. This work will be sponsored by Spokane and Hayden Lake Friends.

More than a year ago several families in central Oregon asked us to help them get a Friends work started in Metolius, a small village near Madras, Oregon. This town has no gospel witness and we believe this also is a part of Jesus' command to go and preach the gospel. Gene and Betty Hockett have been called as pastors, and will spend each week-end ministering in this new field, providing the Piedmont church will find it possible to release Gene Hockett from his duties as assistant pastor, and we trust that a solid work will be established. This outpost will be under the First Friends church in Portland.

We regret to report the discontinuance of the Baker outpost. After many months of prayerful waiting on the Lord, it was decided by Greenleaf Quarterly Meeting and the Board of Evangelism that this action should be taken. The whole Yearly Meeting owes a real debt of gratitude to the scattered Friends in the Baker area and the two pastors, Edward Baker and Paul Puckett, who have put forth sacrificial efforts in this place.

One of the high points of my work this year was the privilege afforded me of preaching in revival services at the Melba meeting in Idaho and conducting a short youth revival at South Salem Friends Church.

The Yearly Meeting is suffering a real loss in the retirement of ten pastors from regular pastoral work. These men have each made a great contribution where they have served and we pray God's blessing upon them in their new fields of service. Roy Clark, Roy Knight and Paul Mills will devote full time to Christian Education in Friends schools; David Fendall will attend seminary; John Frazier is retiring; Jack Willcuts will return to the mission field; Ross McIntyre will teach school and assist in the Indian church at Sprague River; Derrol Hockett will assist in the new work at Coeur d'Alene; Douglas Brown will be in evangelistic work; and John Fankhauser will be an assistant pastor and work at the college.

We are glad to welcome several new pastors into our midst. These are: John McCracken from Kansas, Willard Kennon from California, Calvin Hull and Gerald Dillon from Iowa. From our own ranks the following will enter pastoral work this fall: Charlotte Macy, Gordon St. George, Gene Hockett, Everett Puckett, Esther White and Clair Lund.

All of our pastors are dedicated to the ministry of the gospel. Their efforts could be multiplied in many cases, if their congregations could arrange better financial support for them. "According to the U. S. Department of Commerce Report on National Income the average full-time religious worker in this country earns $2560.00 per year." (Nation's Business Magazine, July, 1954). Oregon Yearly Meeting gives an average pastoral salary of around $1600.00, which means that many of our pastors have to neglect the work to which God has called them in order to support their families. In many cases this situation can be remedied. Every church should review the financial needs of its pastor each year, and when people are made aware of the need, they will usually respond.

During the past year ten young Friends have come to me to ask counsel and advice in the matter of their call to foreign missionary service. We know of others among our youth who are called to similar service. The Mission Board will report on new and widened horizons of gospel work abroad. Can we keep our souls free by refusing these unevangelized thousands an opportunity to hear the gospel of redeeming love? May God give us an audacious faith to stretch ourselves further than ever before. When our budgets need to be cut let's not start with the most vital part of the church's program, let's begin at home.

Missions is the very heart beat of the Christian church. Without a strong missionary program our work at home will suffer, and without a strong church at home, a growing missionary enterprise cannot be supported. Evangelism and Christian Education go hand in hand, and one is not complete without the other.

The president of the Mission Board, Walter Lee, has given much time and effort toward the cause of missions in our Yearly Meeting, and we owe him a debt of thanks for his work throughout the Yearly Meeting.

Laura Shook has served as full-time Field Secretary for the Christian Endeavor for the past six years. She is leaving this post of service now after these years of outstanding work among our young folk and will be greatly missed by all of us. She has consistently maintained the highest respect of the young people and pastors. She literally personified Christian Endeavor as she interpreted it to us all. We pray that the Lord will open enlarged doors of service to her in future days.

The appointment of Milo Ross to the presidency of George Fox College has been the fulfillment of our prayers for God's man in God's time. These are yet crucial days for the college and our prayers and efforts must be united and increased if we are to maintain a training center for our Christian workers and all our youth.

Greenleaf Academy also has a new principal in the appointment of Charlton Smitherman who has had wide experience in the educational field, and who holds strongly to the spiritual ideals of our Yearly Meeting.

The passing of one of our beloved pastors, Richard Wiles, on last December 31, leaves a great gap in the line of soldiers of the cross. He was a man of great stature in spiritual things, and he excelled in the practice of prayer. May God raise up more men of like character to stand in his place.

This sixty-second session of Oregon Yearly Meeting is, in a sense, of unusual historic importance. Decisions which have been made and actions taken, thus far in the sessions, multiply many fold, our moral responsibilities and obligations. The growth of membership, the increase in giving, the higher level of attendance, the growing interest and enthusiasm, all place upon us the absolute essential in an increased holy living and holy preaching. We have reaffirmed our solid stand on the precious doctrines of the Word of God. Let us follow up with a strong practical demonstration of what we believe ought to follow faith, that of holy works.

The Christian Education Board has taken as its slogan for this second year of a three year program, "Evangelize in '55". Last year they made popular among our Sunday Schools the theme, "One-fourth more in '54"! If we put as much effort and prayer into evangelizing these many new people in our churches, as we did in bringing them in, we will without doubt see a great harvest of souls. This theme, "Evangelize in '55" is too large for the Sunday School alone. Let this be our watchword as we launch into another year for God.

The report was approved and a rising vote of appreciation was given for the General Superintendent. It was the wish that the meeting should remember our General Superintendent in prayer.

- 44. The following recommendation from the Executive Committee was approved:

The Executive Committee unanimously recommends to the Yearly Meeting that Dean Gregory continue to serve another year as Yearly Meeting Superintendent with the continued salary of $4200.00 for the year and .07 per mile for travel.

Dorwin E. Smith

Charlotte L. Macy, clerks

- 45. It was the will of the meeting that a letter should be sent to President Eisenhower expressing our appreciation for the fact that he has set aside September 22 as a day of prayer for the nation.

FRIENDS BROTHERHOOD

- 46. David Pruitt, president of the Brotherhood, presided and presented his annual report as follows:

"And you hath He quickened who were dead in trespasses and sins," "For by grace are you saved through faith and that not of yourselves it is a gift, not of works, lest anyone should boast." By thus paraphrasing part of the second chapter of Ephesians I would recognize my place and responsibility to the men of Oregon Yearly Meeting. I accepted and continue to accept the responsibility of the president of the Friends Brotherhood as a God given task. It has been my desire to serve the Lord to the best of my ability in this position. I made the promise last year that I would visit as many of the meetings as was possible during the time that I was in office. The Lord wonderfully undertook the means of transportation by providing David Steiger with his airplane. We flew approximately 4000 miles during the period of time we were together. It was a new experience to me and proved how practical an airplane is for travel of any distance. David's hours of flying bombers for Uncle Sam stood us in good stead when we were hitting rough going down the Columbia gorge when the only way to tell where we were, was to watch the lights on either side of the river from cars driving on the two highways.

It was my privilege to speak in nearly every church I attended. Sometimes it was for only a few minutes and at other times I was asked to bring the message in which the Lord gave wonderful freedom of speaking and I received a blessing from the way scriptures would open up with meditation and prayer.

I visited Spokane twice during the year and tried to keep in contact with the progress being made there for information to those who were interested.

I have tried to encourage the interest in Brotherhood work by means of personal contact with men in all parts of the Yearly Meeting. Another way was that of an article in most issues of the Northwest Friend. Letters to the Quarterly Meeting presidents were written occasionally to further try to encourage them in the furtherance of the gospel through the Friends Brotherhood.

It was my privilege to attend the Conference of Quaker Men held in Whittier, California, in May. Much information was presented and encouragement was given to get men into a more effective working group.

It has been encouraging to note how men have responded by their interest in our building program in Spokane, Washington, during the past two years. One group of men from Idaho spent several days in helping to fell timber which was then sawed and planed and hauled to the site where the church is nearing completion. This week the men in Greenleaf Quarter were to finish raising the balance of the $600 needed to pay for the flooring sent up to Spokane to be used in the sanctuary. One of the men from Newberg spent several days in the construction of the building. Others have willingly given money for continued support of the pastors, Clark and Elizabeth Smith. But of more lasting importance yet has been the countless number of prayers with, "O Lord, bless Spokane," which have been prayed by men who were vitally interested in seeing the work honored of the Lord.

We have been blessed with having men for quarterly meeting presidents who knew how to pray and attracted men of like precious faith. Where there has been a change in the different quarters for new presidents and officers for the coming year it has been a change for men who were vitally interested in the spiritual life of the men. Time will not permit to name all of the men who have been of help and inspiration but to each one I would like to say a hearty "thank you".

As the time had come when the men felt that it was time to support another project they voted to accept the work at Holly Park. Much could be said in favor of this decision but probably the greatest would be that of the great need represented. Classes meet in a pup tent and a garage which has been converted for the use of junior church. The adult church meets in the basement of the parsonage which is not very satisfactory at the best. I wish to commend the men very heartily on their decision.

As we look into the future and try to make plans it is with a feeling of humility. I don't know what the future holds so I'll have to leave that in the hands of One who holds the future. I accept the responsibility with the promise that I will do everything in my power to see Christ's kingdom come closer through the efforts of the Friends Brotherhood. I hope to see our project definitely well on its way before the close of the year but most of all I am hoping to see men saved and on their way telling the wonderful story of Jesus and His power to save.

Respectfully submitted

David Pruitt, president

The report was approved and appreciation for the president and his work was expressed by a rising vote of the men.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY UNION

- 47. The president, Julia Pearson, presented and read the following annual report:

You, the women of Oregon Yearly Meeting have spoken. As I give this customary annual report of the Women's Missionary Union of Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends, I realize I could not give it unless the women spoke first. This they have done in written and oral reports to me, as well as many spontaneous letters from them through this past year.

We thank the Lord for His manifest blessing over our women's organizations during the years of its existence, and again this year we feel He has especially led and blest us. The goals we set for ourselves last year have all been met, with no apparent strain. Each year finds our Union growing in numbers—new Unions being added and consequently more funds coming in, for, as you realize, we now have over a thousand paid-up members. During the past year nine new Unions have been organized, with four more in the process of organization. Several Unions have divided into Circles and some of our outposts organized this year, thus giving us more Unions than Monthly Meetings. This is good, as we feel that every woman in the church should find her place in a Christian service group.

Most of our Unions used the devotional material sent out by the Yearly Meeting Union. The two Unions at Newberg wrote the devotional material, based on the "C's of the Christian Walk." The program material was written around studies of different missionary agencies which do not send out missionaries, but assist the work of missions in various ways.

Our Prayer Units have functioned admirably under the capable leadership of our Prayer Unit Chairman, Maude Harmon, who sends out prayer lists regularly to each Union.

The forty Unions reporting on the Missionary Reading Contest continued this year show our women having read the grand total of 681,702 pages of missionary literature as compared with the 152,156 pages read last year. Twenty-one Unions added new missionary books to their libraries and several started new libraries.

Under the able leadership of our six Vice-Presidents, Missionary Rallies were held in each of our Quarterly Meetings with good attendance. They have been faithful, for the most part, in visiting the Unions in their respective areas, encouraging and giving ideas, information and project suggestions. Our three missionary women who are home on furlough from Bolivia have tirelessly and enthusiastically given of their time and talents, speakers were brought in to add to the inspiration of forty-two Union meetings.

Both our Home and Foreign Project Chairmen have had added responsibilities this year as we took up new projects in each of these fields. The new project for the Home Service Department was the giving of $50.00 a month from the Yearly Meeting Union to help some outpost work. Hillsboro received this gift during the past year. In addition, the women have, in their customary manner, delighted in packing Christmas boxes for all of our outposts and in helping remodel and re-decorate their respective churches and parsonages. Among the host of interesting things which our women found to do here in their home churches were: buying carpets for the church, giving of Christmas dresses to their pastor's wife, paying locker rent for their pastors, buying shrubs and plants to landscape parsonage and church grounds, providing church signs, refinishing floors, painting cupboards and woodwork, making and hanging curtains, repairing and equipping rest rooms and installing water heaters and other electrical equipment. Service to their communities was rendered in various ways: five times in cases of fire, fifteen to needy families, besides forty-one showers were given for brides, new mothers, Kentucky Mountain missionaries, pastors, churches, and to J.P.'s, also 4,500 pounds of clothing was packed for Korean relief. All of our summer conference grounds, as well as Greenleaf Academy and George Fox College have received gifts of money and needed equipment from our Unions this past year.

Our women continue to show intense interest in foreign missionary work. The Preacher-teacher Fund has been faithfully supported. Many hours have been spent in sewing for our missionary families who are returning to Bolivia this fall and also in packing gift boxes for them, as well as for other missionaries in Bolivia, Japan, India and Africa. One Quarterly Meeting sent a Christmas gift shower by mail to Bolivia. In January a new list of needs for our Bolivian mission was circulated among the Unions and most of these items have been provided. The list is too long to enumerate in this report, but among the articles were tools; kits for medicine and sewing and for the Bible school; equipment for day and Bible schools; quilts; layettes; clothes, etc.

The new project for our foreign missions department this year was the sponsoring of Christmas CARE packages to needy Christian families in Western, as well as Eastern Germany. Fifty Unions responded to this need, and from this project have come many interesting stories, new contacts and friendships, which still continue. In addition, our Unions have sent $1,587.92 in cash direct to other projects. This amount is not included in the treasurer's report.

You, the women of Oregon Yearly Meeting, have sponsored many other interesting activities; banquets, teas, church dinners, entertaining George Fox choir, rummage sales, secret pals, and Rescue Mission, hospital and King's Garden aid, being only a few.

Twenty-four Unions report 4,315 calls made in the interest of the W.M.U. or the church during the past year.

"Furnishing the Mission Rest Home" was the theme of the annual banquet of the Women's organization served to 300 women in the college dining hall, August 11th. Newberg Quarterly Meeting planned the program. Interesting talks were given on the Living Room, the Dining Room and Kitchen, and on the Bedroom, with appropriate music following each talk. Marie Chapman brought us the message of the evening, using as her theme: "What Makes a House a Home". The amount of $273.60 was given for the furnishing of the Mission Rest Home.

As we close this report of what you, the women of Oregon Yearly Meeting have done for your Master this past year, we quote from an extract taken from the writings of Dorothy Sayers: "Perhaps it is no wonder that the women were first at the cradle and last at the Cross. They had never known a man like this Man and there never has been such another. A Prophet, Preacher and Teacher who never nagged at them, never flattered, coaxed or patronized; who never made arch jokes about them, never treated them as 'the women, God help us,' or 'the ladies, God bless them,' who rebuked without querulousness and praised without condescension; who took their questions and arguments seriously, who had no ax to grind or uneasy male dignity to defend; and who took them as He found them."

What a joy to be in our Master's service! May we always be found faithful to Him, giving Him all the honor and the glory.

Respectfully submitted,
Julia Pearson, president

Appreciation was expressed for the work of the Union.

● 48. The following report from the Committee to write to Aged Friends was read and approved:

The committee appointed to write letters to Aged Friends reports 34 letters written and 45 calls made.

There seems to be some mistakes made, so we offer some suggestions. All Aged persons in the Yearly Meeting are eligible to receive letters from this committee. I find that they are very happy to be remembered by the Yearly Meeting.

Committee:

Marguerite P. Elliott	Edward Tozier
Cora Gregory	Anna Coffin
Clara Macy	Stella Hubbard

● 49. Bernard Mott, who pastors a Methodist church in Iowa, was introduced.

● 50. The meeting adjourned to meet Saturday at 9:30 a.m.

SATURDAY, 9:30 A.M.

● 51. The song, What a Friend We Have in Jesus, was sung during the devotional period and John Frazier offered prayer.

● 52. Visiting Friends were introduced:

Harris Hunter, representative of the Evangelical Advertising Agency.

Ernest and Vaughn Boles of Liberal Monthly Meeting, Fowler Quarterly Meeting, Kansas Yearly Meeting.

● 53. The minutes were read and approved with corrections.

● 54. The following report from the special committee on Discipline revision was presented:

To Oregon Yearly Meeting:

The special committee on Discipline Revision, composed of the members of the standing committee with the addition of Richard Wiles (deceased), Genevieve Cole, and J. Earl Geil, has undertaken the task assigned to it a year ago, namely, that of drafting revisions for the purpose of uniting the two areas of peace and of assistance to conscientious objectors. The committee gave earnest and prayerful thought to the problem of the most workable arrangement to secure this end, and presents herewith its conclusions.

In its simplest form, the recommendation of the committee is as follows: to remove community and world service from their present setting and unite them as a department of social service under the Board of Public Relations; to remove peace from its present place under Public Relations and unite it with the work pertaining to conscientious objectors, making this the Board of Peace to replace the present Board of Service. The necessary changes follow:

Only a minor change would be necessary in the Constitution and Discipline proper. On page 50, paragraph 4, THE BOARD OF SERVICE would be changed to THE BOARD OF PEACE. In line four of that paragraph, the word peace would be substituted for the word service.

More extensive changes would be necessary in the Supplementary Regulations. On pages 94 and 95 the following would be substituted for the whole of Section V as it now stands:

Section V—Peace

1. THE YEARLY MEETING BOARD. The Board of Peace shall be concerned with the instilling of the Bible teaching of the value of human life and with the encouraging of the members to maintain a constant and consistent peace testimony. In the pursuance of and contributory to these objectives, it shall give all support and assistance possible to young men of draftage, and shall advise them with regard to securing employment in useful projects acceptable to the Selective Service System.

2. THE QUARTERLY MEETING COMMITTEE. Each quarterly meeting shall appoint a peace committee. The committee shall co-operate in every way with the Yearly Meeting Board and the monthly meeting committees for the realization of the peace objectives.

3. THE MONTHLY MEETING COMMITTEE. Each monthly meeting shall appoint a peace committee, and may appoint such a committee for each preparative meeting. It shall be responsible to the monthly meeting, seeking to achieve the objectives of peace in the local situation and co-operating with those appointed by the superior meetings for the carrying out of the general program.

On page 96 the phrase on peace, beginning in the fifth line and ending in the eighth line, would be removed and replaced by the following: social service, which shall comprehend all work in the following areas: relief and other such service which may be carried on in the various communities of the Yearly Meeting; world service, which shall consist of the promotion of foreign relief projects and reconstruction work.

Frederick B. Baker
Earl P. Barker

After some discussion it was decided to leave a decision of the report until the afternoon session.

● 55. Dr. Paul Petticord of the Western Evangelical Seminary told of the work of the Seminary. He said that there were 63 students in the school this year, nine of whom were Friends.

He asked that the Yearly Meeting increase the number of Trustees of the school that have been appointed by the Yearly Meeting from two to four—two laymen and two ministers.

This matter was referred to the Representatives.

He spoke of the cost of the school and showed the need of additional gifts.

The Western Evangelical Seminary is definitely a graduate school.

The school is now giving two degrees: Two years—Religious Education degree, M.R.E.; Three years—Bachelor of Divinity degree.

They have three emphases weeks: Holiness, Missions and Doctrinal.

BOARD OF PUBLIC RELATIONS

● 56. The president, Mahlon Macy, presided and presented the following report which was accepted:

The Board of Public Relations makes the following report, glad for the good work that has been done in many churches of the Yearly Meeting but with the realization that we have only begun to do the task that really needs to be done in our churches.

This report does not give a complete picture since reports from only 65% of the meetings came in. However, there is indicated, as you will note in the reports, a real need for more emphasis in the area of peace, public morals, literature and education. These are vital areas of our church and should not be neglected.

As Christians we have the responsibility of guarding our children and our church of those influences that will degrade and give cause for stumbling. It is time our churches speak out again in a strong manner on the current evils and take positive stands on the worldly influence that are robbing our church of spiritual power and blessing.

It is the sincere desire of the board to be of help and service to the Quarterly Meetings and to the local Monthly Meetings. The Handbook has been published again this year to aid the local committee chairman and to give suggestions and direction to the work.

The following is a summary of the reports of the various departments of the Board of Public Relations:

Department of Stewardship, Jack L. Willcuts, superintendent.

Only through devotional research and stewardship interest will the full potential of Oregon Yearly Meeting meet the great challenge of our opportunity. One of the great needs among Friends at this moment is for specialists in the stewardship of spiritual support! Through a stewardship of prayer, heart-interest and concern God can use each of us to our full potential. Stewardship is the connecting link between the family altar and the family budget. A clear-cut, consistent practice of individual stewardship is a spiritual counter-balance to the time consuming activities and chromium-plated gadgets which may limit the progress of our church program in evangelism and education.

To pursue these goals the Stewardship department of the Board of Public Relations the past year has carried out the following projects:

Prepared 2,075 tracts and posters entitled "Specializing in Stewardship" which were circulated among all the churches of our Yearly Meeting.

Prepared and circulated 6,000 tracts in a series of (1) Stewardship of Life, (2) Stewardship in the Old Testament, (3) Stewardship in the New Testament. Many churches used these as church bulletin inserts. Two of these pamphlets have been put into Spanish and reprinted by the Yearly Meeting printing plant for circulation on the Bolivian field.

At least six weekly church bulletin issues featured the subject of Stewardship.

Several articles emphasizing the stewardship message and program have appeared in the Northwest Friend.

More than 500 letters have been sent to the church urging stewardship promotion and explaining the goals for this year.

The month of October was designated as "New Tither Month" and 125 posters were prepared and circulated asking the question, "Are You a Tithing Quaker?". "I Am a Tithing Quaker" cards were sent out to every meeting in an effort to enlist new tithers

The month of March was designated as "Home Tithing Month", in which each person was urged to pay his tithe through his home church for that period.

Only 36 churches returned the annual report blanks sent out by the Stewardship department of the Public Relations Board. But these reports list a total of 1028 tithers in our Yearly Meeting. Last year 52 reporting churches listed 1020 which would seem to indicate an increase. Twelve reporting churches stated there was a noted increase in the number of tithers. Two reporting churches found a loss, the remainder of the reporting meetings did not know.

Only 29 of the reporting churches participated in the October "New Tither Month" and March "Home Tithing Month" projects.

Only 25 of the reporting churches have named a local stewardship committee for the coming year as called for by the establishing of a new Stewardship Board and department in our Yearly Meeting. This should be done at once.

Department of Public Morals, Frank N. Haskins, superintendent.

While most of our meetings have some type of presentation concerning the evils of liquor, tobacco, dancing, card-playing, gambling etc., it is to be regretted that only 40% have them regularly. We hope that by next year we can have much closer to 100% of our churches having regular times of teaching along the line of good morals.

If you have wondered how to present your concerns, here is how some churches have done it: talks in Sunday School, object lessons, posters, filmstrips, tracts, special speakers, petitions and through the church bulletin. Yes, we trust that time can be taken during Sunday School as well as in message by the pastor to present the harm, both physically and spiritually, which comes to those who give themselves to immorality.

Of the 36 churches reporting, 35 take 131 temperance magazines and the other church reports that a number of its members take such. In many churches only one or two families take temperance papers.

About 70% of our churches report that they do not actively support a temperance organization. However, some individual members meet with the W.C.T.U., the Idaho Allied Civic Forces, the Washington State Temperance Association and the Oregon Temperance League.

In answer to the question, "What is your church doing to help preserve the sanctity of the home and to discourage divorce", about 60% of the churches state that their pastor has spoken along these lines, at least occasionally. Only two churches report having a class for young people to discuss "Christian homes" and the problem of divorce. Only a few churches report that anything is done to counsel with those getting married.

Thirty-two churches report that there are 162 television sets in the homes of their church people. (It is not certain whether these sets are in our church members homes or also in homes of our Sunday School families.) However, there are more T.V. sets reported than temperance magazines taken. We might hope that it is the T.V. owners who take the temperance magazine in order to combat the harmful advertising over T.V.

Department of Peace, Eldon Helm, superintendent.

From the 36 monthly meetings reporting, only 6 sermons have been reported as having been preached in the course of the regular public ministry, although 13 meetings reported that the peace message had been mentioned in connection with other sermons.

In the Sunday Schools, there were 14 special presentations reported, and 9 meetings reported the peace testimony mentioned "some" in connection with the regular lessons.

The Junior and Senior C.E. reported 14 special discussions dealing with the peace testimony or CO problems, and 4 meetings mentioned the peace witness had been mentioned "several" times in C.E. meetings.

Six sessions devoted to Christ and the problems of peace and war were listed in the peace reports as having taken place in adult study and discussion groups, and two meetings reported "some" discussion.

There were 3 special public meetings in the Yearly Meeting using Cecil Hinshaw, who spoke on "An Adequate and Moral National Defense." His message was very well received where it was heard.

The 36 meetings reported 96 young men of draft age. 49, or just over 50% of these young men have been called to service as defined by the present Selective Service Act. 25 of them, or 51% of those called have accepted combatant service. 16, or 33% are presently engaged in non-combatant service with the armed forces. 8 young men, or 16% of those drafted are presently doing compulsory civilian work as approved by Selective Service as an alternative to either combatant or non-combatant training in the armed forces.

47 young men are being deferred for one reason or another, a considerable number as students. Of 8 being deferred in one meeting, it is known that 5 of these 8 are classified as CO's to any form of military service.

In answer to the question, "Have you had a special class for young people facing Selective Service?" 6 answered "yes," 27 "no." One has plans for next year, and 2 report that special counselling has been done with young men.

Most of the peace chairmen who had seen the First Friends Peace Committee set of lessons for use with young people facing Selective Service reported that they would consider them a help, and 13 meetings have plans at this time to use them.

In the questionnaire sent to the peace committees, the question was asked, "Are you interested in materials for adult discussion groups?" 19 meetings said "yes", 14 "no."

Your peace superintendent wants to witness that pacifist living as a way of life is an indispensable part of the life that Jesus Christ lived and taught. If we Christians in 1954 ever achieve the zeal, drive, and have the unique witness of God's truth that was characteristic of the early Christians, or the early Quakers, the Christian message must again live and witness to pacifism as the only way in harmony with the Kingdom of God, and the only hope for the world and its problems.

The Board of Public Relations Handbook for the new church year suggests a year's plan for adult study and discussion relative to peace as the Christian way. A bibliography is also listed for use with the study. The local group may add to the number of topics and add other material, or delete as the time limit and interests of the group dictate. Your peace superintendent stands ready to assist in any way that he can with this or any other project of pacifist evangelization. Please ask for any assistance that the group needs, and an attempt will be made to help.

Also in the Handbook is a plan for an essay contest for high school and college age young people on the topic, "practical peace-making". The Public Relations Board believes that this will be an excellent method of stimulating thought on practical pacifism among our youth. Worthwhile awards are planned. As many young people as possible are urged to participate. See the Handbook for further details.

Department of Literature, Gladys Newkirk, superintendent.

A pamphlet was sent out to all the churches to be read entitled "What the Parents Don't Know About the Comic Books."

Seven churches reported they had done nothing about it. Two young married Sunday School classes discussed the article. Pastors have talked on it from pulpit. Two churches have encouraged burning of comic books in homes. Others have discussed subject in prayer meeting groups and through Sunday School. One church has placed good children's books in library to keep before the children. One church gives free subscription for good magazines in homes.

Bible reading has been given special emphasis in most of the churches urging the family altar. Some churches have given gospels and Bibles to Sunday School pupils. One church gives Bibles to all graduating seniors. One church gives the Upper Room to each home. Several churches observed Universal Bible Sunday. Some have had contests in Bible reading and Bible drills. Two churches mention congregation reading Bible through in a year. Some have had Bible study by chapters in prayer meeting. One church presented a skit to encourage Bible reading.

Most of the churches have libraries. One hundred fifty-four new volumes have been added this year. Some encourage reading of new books by book reviews in assembly and C.E. groups. Some have display places for new books. Others announce new books through the church bulletin.

Department of Education, Charlton Smitherman, superintendent.

Forty-one monthly meetings reporting: no account given of the number of public school children on the reports from Newberg, Medford and Greenleaf Monthly Meetings. There is no doubt some duplication since several meetings may have reported their college students along with those attending Christian schools. The following figures are therefore likely to be somewhat conservative as some meetings did not report at all.

Pre-school children—322	College students—143
Public school children—774	Public school teachers—65
Elementary only—524	Christian school teachers—27
Secondary students (H.S.)—162	(teaching in Christian schools)
Christian School pupils—96

There were 10 meetings that reported giving some definite aid in the way of scholarship help to their young people. Most of these were Quarterly Meeting plans in which they were assisting. Several indicated that they were encouraging education to the young people. There were 73 students reported as attending church related colleges of whom 43 were attending George Fox. The balance were attending various state and secular schools.

In general it seems the whole educational picture is encouraging throughout the Yearly Meeting. Of special significance is the fact that there are almost as many students attending college as there are those attending high school. Note-worthy is the fact that a goodly percent are attending G.F.C.

There still appears a general weakness over the Yearly Meeting for meetings to adopt any definite and systematic method of assisting worthy students to attend college. Twenty-percent are giving some assistance. Meetings in general are still negligent in reporting candidates early enough for receiving G.F.C. scholarships.

It would seem profitable for the Public Relations department of each monthly and quarterly meeting to maintain their education department superintendents or chairmen for a period of two or three years in order to improve the effectiveness of their work. Constant change defeats progress since one year's experience is generally required to become acquainted with the work to be done.

Eldon Helm spoke for the department of peace. He spoke of the importance of training the young people in the ways of peace. We need Sunday School and C.E. lessons suitable to the various ages on the subject of peace. He said there was a series of Sunday School lessons in preparation on this subject.

God is love and God works through participation in men's lives. From convictions comes action. It is the mission of Quakers to lead the way.

Frank Haskins spoke on the subject of Public Morals. He said people can be interested in public morals and still be interested in evangelism and missions. We need to be out and out against public evils. We need to revive all if there is a real revival. He showed how important our private thought is and how it affects our conduct. He urged everyone to work out some project on public morals.

Gladys Newkirk told how important good reading is. We need to read the Bible daily and she mentioned four emphases:

1. To have a Sunday School and church library with attractive books.
2. Encourage everyone to read religious books.
3. Help in the right choice of secular reading.
4. Encourage the use of the library.

Harold Ankeny told of the evil results of the reading of the wrong kind of comic books. He urged the church to take the lead in the battle against wrong kind of comic books.

Mahlon Macy said there was a great field of service in public relations and urged the members to use the handbook put out by this department.

Jack Willcuts told of the stewardship plans for the coming year and introduced the new chairman of the stewardship department, Grace Clark.

Grace Clark said that October has been chosen as Stewardship month and urged people to give through their local treasurers.

She stressed the importance of teaching the children to tithe early in their lives. The use of the envelope system is important.

Ye are not your own, ye are bought with a price.

- 57. The Representatives reported that Kelsey Hinshaw and Charlton Smitherman had been nominated for three years to serve on the Board of Public Relations.

These were approved.

They also reported that Russel Stands was nominated to take Jack Willcuts' place on the Board of Public Relations. This also was approved.

- 58. At the beginning of the inspirational hour, the song, "Bring Ye the Tithe" was sung.

Merle Roe brought the message from John 14:16 and John 16:7. His topic was: How the Holy Spirit Helps God's People. He mentioned the ways in which He helps.

He recalls the past, He recalls scripture if we have it stored in our minds.

He helps in the search for truth by speaking to our inner consciousness, by His written Word, through the providence of happenings, by showing us things to come, by helping us to witness and helping us in prayer.

- 59. Edward Harmon offered the benediction and the meeting adjourned to meet at 2:00 p.m.

SATURDAY, 2:00 P.M.

- 60. A number led in prayer during the devotional period and the song, Holy Spirit, Faithful Guide, was sung.

- 61. The report on the revision of the Discipline was again considered.

After some discussion it was referred back to the committee for further consideration by the committee and they are asked to bring back a report next year.

It was the will of the meeting that the presidents of the two boards under consideration should be added to the special committee on revision so that now the committee consists of Earl Barker, Frederick Baker, Earl Geil, Genevieve Cole and the presidents of these two boards, the Public Relations and the Service Boards.

- 62. The following report from the committee on disciplinary changes in regard to vacancies on the boards was adopted:

To Oregon Yearly Meeting:

In accordance with the instruction of the Yearly Meeting to this committee a year ago (Minute 63, page 27), the question of board vacancies has been considered. It is our conclusion that the statement on this subject in the Constitution and Discipline (pages 51 and 52) is inadequate. We recommend adoption of the following as an amendment:

3. VACANCIES. Voluntary resignation of a member tendered to the appointing body, or any of the following circumstances with or without resignation, shall result in a vacancy in the membership of a board: appointment of a Yearly Meeting appointee on the board, as by a quarterly meeting or other organization, to an office by virtue of which he is a member of the board; removal of residence by a member to another yearly meeting or from the quarterly meeting which appointed him; disownment of a member by his monthly meeting or his deposition from the ministry; the death of a member.

Vacancy occurring through loss of a member appointed by a quarterly meeting or a voluntary organization shall be filled only by the body appointing. Vacancy due to the loss of a member appointed by the Yearly Meeting shall be filled by appointment of the board concerned if it occurs before the last interim meeting of that board; by the Yearly Meeting in session if it occurs after such interim meeting.

This would constitute an amendment to the Constitution proper, which would have to be held over for one year before final action.

GREENLEAF ACADEMY

- 63. The following report from Greenleaf Academy was read by the Reading Clerk and it was approved:

Greenleaf Academy closed the 1953-54 school year with the blessing of the Lord manifested in a very real way. Commencement exercises were held on May 25 with Rev. Glen Rinard of Citrus Heights Friends Church as guest speaker. The Baccalaureate sermon was given to the graduating class of 18 members by Rev. Raymond Kratzer, pastor of the First Nazarene Church of Nampa, Idaho. A scholarship to George Fox College was presented to Faye McCord of the graduating class.

Throughout the school year there was a marked unity of purpose and spirit among the faculty members as they endeavored to lead the academy in scholastic attainment and development in every way. Time in prayer was spent by the faculty members for the progress of the spiritual life of the students and the advancement of the school. Early in the school year Lowell Roberts of Wichita, Kansas, conducted a week of special meetings at the academy with evening services at the church. His messages were challenging to students and church members alike. As the school year progressed the various needs of the students were evidenced and a special concern and burden for the spiritual life of the students settled upon teachers and students. In answer to this prayer and burden, God graciously used Grace Clark in bringing heart-searching messages in the chapel services which resulted in students finding new victory and a closer walk with the Lord. This week in May was set aside as a time of special victory and we thank the Lord for this manifestation in our midst.

An effort was made this year to strengthen classroom teaching as each teacher undertook to raise the scholastic standard of the subjects taught. Awards were given for various attainments such as reading the Bible through during the school year, efficiency in typing and shorthand, and at the end of the year displays of various work showed progress in the classes. At the beginning of the second semester, additional subjects were added to the curriculum including leathercraft and art. The science department was strengthened by the addition of considerable new equipment.

A successful year in athletics has been completed with emphasis on good sportsmanship under the leadership of a Christian coach. The choir again entered the State Music Festival and also sang in many churches throughout Boise Valley. The academy band was very much strengthened during the past year under the leadership of Everett Craven and played several times in public.

Additional work has been completed on the new gymnasium including the installation of the two public restrooms and laying the sidewalks connecting the school to the gym and the shop building. The athletic field has been seeded to turf in preparation for a new football season. A dormitory was not operated last year as it was possible to place out-of-town students in private homes.

The State Accrediting Association has again inspected the academy and buildings and placed Greenleaf Academy on the fully accredited list of high schools in the State of Idaho.

Graduates of the academy are encouraged to attend George Fox College and more of the graduating seniors attend our college than all other colleges combined.

Respectfully submitted
A. H. Winters, principal

Appreciation was expressed for the work of the academy and also for the people of Greenleaf Monthly Meeting who have sacrificed and have given liberally and have opened their homes to the students who have come from a distance.

Appreciation was also expressed for the work of Arthur and Gwendolyn Winters who have served so faithfully during the past years.

It was the wish of the meeting that a letter be sent to them expressing this appreciation.

The people of Greenleaf ask the prayers of the meeting for the academy.

The annual report of George Fox College was read by Harlow Ankeny, a member of the Administrative Committee as it appears below:

On June 5, 1954, the Administrative Committee relinquished the reins of the college to President Milo C. Ross. He was very highly received by both the faculty and students which opened his term of office with excellent morale and full cooperation from everyone on the campus. The Administrative Committee served two full years as an interim arrangement whereby the affairs of the college could be directed without bringing an extra and temporary officer to the college pending the appointment of a president by the Board of Trustees.

PHYSICAL IMPROVEMENTS

The program of lengthening the life of the buildings by providing proper maintenance was continued through the year just closed. In addition to some redecoration during the summer of 1953, a few major projects were completed. The flooding of the basement of Wood-Mar Hall during the heavy rains precipitated the decision to lay new drainage tile from the building to the terminus of the drain in the creek. Two years ago new tile was laid around the building; consequently, this task was undertaken to make the drainage system complete and effective.

A fire partially destroyed the central heating plant for the gymnasium and Science Hall in December. As a result, the State fire Marshall required the college to acquire an approved automatic burner on the furnace and the erection of a fire-proof building to cover the boiler. Both of these requirements were met. The burner greatly increases the efficiency of the heating unit and the new concrete block building is both safe and beautiful.

Acting upon authority granted by the trustees, one of the first acts of President Ross was to sign a contract with a Portland firm to remove Hoover Hall. This is currently being done. The decision to remove the building came after two years of studying possibilities of restoring it to usefulness. The architectural firm which studied the building reported that it was unwise to attempt to restore a building which gave evidence of so much fatigue. In meeting current building codes very little of the structure could be used in rebuilding; thus, their recommendation to remove it.

New light fixtures were installed in all of the rooms and offices on the main floor of Wood-Mar Hall. This new lighting meets recommended standards for schools. A great deal of additional work needs to be done to bring the total school up to minimum lighting standards.

THE STUDENT BODY

The registration for the 1953-54 school year totaled 98, exclusive of many private music students and several special students. In addition, there were 32 students who registered for evening classes. Of the 98, there were 49 men and 49 women. Registration according to class was as follows: 33 freshmen, 21 sophomores, 16 juniors, 20 seniors and 1 postgraduate. The denominational groups were represented by the following categories:

Friends	79
Evangelical United Brethren	4
Christian	2
Free Methodist	2
Nazarene	2
United Presbyterian	2
Baptist	1
Christian and Missionary Alliance	1
Congregational	1
Evangelical Methodist	1
Methodist	1
No Preference	2

The students were characterized by an unusual degree of cooperativeness. There was a marked degree of loyalty to the college as evidenced by the number of students who have been influential in recruiting their friends to attend George Fox.

THE SCHOOL YEAR

The 1953-54 school year brought a deeper sense of accomplishment to the administration and staff than could possibly be conveyed in statistical measures. If one could employ two or three terms by which to express the most distinctive aspects of the year such words as unity, seriousness of purpose, and Christian commitment seems appropriate.

The Christian Emphasis Week in October was conducted by Fredric Carter, under the direct sponsorship of the Student Christian Union. This week of meetings in the chapel, with services in the morning and evening served to challenge the students and staff to a complete surrender to Christ as the first requisite of life. We are grateful to Mr. Carter for his contributions to the school year. The spring meeting at the college in conjunction with the church was held by Fredric Carter and Jack Willcuts, although Jack Willcuts conducted the week of morning services in the chapel hour. During this week several students made commitments to Christ. It was a week in which many took additional steps in Christian development. A further religious program was maintained throughout the year by the weekly student prayer meetings sponsored by the Student Christian Union, Foreign Missions Fellowship meetings, Student Ministerial Association, and deputation teams.

The A Cappella Choir of thirty-nine voices under the direction of Mr. Carl Reed presented forty concerts during the spring. The spring tour covered approximately nineteen hundred miles and included the Boise Valley area, northern Idaho, Spokane, Wenatchee, and Southern Washington. An attempt was made to give some concerts on tour in areas where the college was unknown, thereby increasing the area from which students can be drawn.

Homecoming in the fall was well attended, as was May Day in the spring. The fall dramatic effort was a one-act contest between classes, sponsored by the Actorators, and the Easter production, directed by Miss Margaret Shattuck, "The Vigil", written by Ladaslia Fodor.

The athletic department made a valuable contribution to the school year. Both men and women's teams participated in inter-collegiate competition in basketball and baseball. Inter-collegiate competition for men also included football and track and volleyball for the women.

The music department represented the college well in local groups and in the splendid quality of recitals presented in the spring. These recitals included: Miss Marilyn Barnes, contralto, in her senior recital, accompanied by Miss Sandra Nordyke; Richard Zeller, bass, junior recital, accompanied by Mr. Harlan Barnett; a joint recital given by Miss Ardeth Beals, piano, Miss Marion Perry, soprano, and Mr. Robert Byrd, tenor; and Miss Sandra Nordyke, piano, in a sophomore recital.

THE FACULTY

The measure of a college is dependent very largely upon the quality of its instructional staff. The George Fox College is fortunate to have a group of men and women whose qualifications for instruction and proven ability to teach is exceptionally high for a small liberal arts college. We appreciate each of these who by simply choosing to do so could enter public education on its higher salary levels, but instead are contributing their services in part to the cause of Christian education. Faculty growth and competency has been attested to by the pursuit of further graduate study, publication in learned journals, and speaking to professional groups.

After six years of outstanding service as director of the Physical Education department and coach, George Bales tendered his resignation effective June 4, and will be attending the University of Oregon, working toward the Doctorate.

Dr. Marcus Skarstedt, professor of Mathematics and physics, who came to the college in September 1952, found it necessary to return to a dry climate because of his health. Dr. Skarstedt came to the college upon his retirement from the vice-presidency of San Francisco City College. We were as reluctant to lose them from our midst as they were to leave.

GRADUATES

The class of 1954 has contributed in large measure to the total program of the college. It is a class of diverse interests that embraced seven majors offered by the college. The graduates with degree and major follow:

ACADEMIC GAINS

A continued increase in library circulation month per month over previous years indicates a slowly rising standard of performance required in the classroom. It is also an indication that with new collections and volumes being added to the library, it is better able to serve the need of students than was previously possible.

Special attention is currently being given to provide better guidance for extra-curricular activities. These organizations are useful to enrich student experiences; therefore, we hope to help students receive maximum benefit from them. Class attendance is also under scrutiny, particularly among lower division students.

On June 5, President Ross and Dr. Wood signed the agreement that affiliated George Fox College with the Oregon College of Education in a joint-degree granting program in elementary teacher training. This affiliation became possible through an unsolicited invitation from OCE. This step forward is a recognition from the State of Oregon that demonstrates confidence in the academic program of the college.

FINANCE

We are very grateful that nearly every church and outpost gave substantially toward the support of the college. There appeared to be a new interest in special gifts, including: library, instructional equipment, grants-in-aid, and for general standardization. We deeply appreciate the excellent response from the Yearly Meeting to the special financial appeals: the Christmas letter and the spring appeal for balancing the budget of the fiscal year. These two mailed appeals received a total response of $3,831.03.

We deeply covet the continued prayers for the college. Pray that the school will be effective in bringing youth to a consciousness of Christ's claim upon their lives. We wish to recognize "The Prior Claim" and give it first priority in our activities, believing that a strong education can be offered within a deeply spiritual setting.

Milo Ross, the president of George Fox College read the following report:

THE CHURCH AND ITS COLLEGE

To our Friends of Oregon Yearly Meeting: I wish to begin this talk by reading the famous and important first verse of Romans twelve; but reading the second half from Phillips' translation to New Churches: "Don't let the world around you squeeze you into its own mould, but let God re-mould your minds from within, so that you may prove in practice that the Plan of God for you is good, meets all His demands and moves toward the goal of true maturity." The Apostle Paul says that adaptation and conformity to this age are not the great ends of learning and of life, but rather man's progressive realization of the divine will. These ends can never be reached without a renewal of the mind and the transformation of the nature. The radical change of the nature, wrought by the grace of God, is a necessary condition of learning by experience what is the will of God.

The Christian viewpoint is diametrically opposed to much of the popular trends in education during the last half-century. According to Dr. Leslie R. Marston: "The prevailing education of this day emphasized adjustment of the child and youth to this age, denying the need of the child's transformation. This education is based upon the philosophy of naturalism which holds that nature is right, that man needs no saviour, and that the universe needs no sovereign. It is grounded, not in regeneration with growth in Christian character its goal, but in adjustment to environment and conformity to the world its goal."

A church-related college has before it three possible avenues on which to proceed. The first is in an accommodation to the pagan philosophies which engulfed many erst-while Christian institutions, first in higher-criticism, then in modernism, and finally in liberalism. Nearly all of the colonial colleges of America came into being with the express aim to train for the Christian ministry, and to provide a guarded education for the youth of their day. They were Christ-centered and Bible-centered. But through the vicissitudes of the intervening years, most of these institutions ceased to reflect the views of their constituencies and gravitated to a position where the denominations had little or no control of the management or direction of educational purpose. Allow me to read a few sentences from Dr. William L. Pearson, formerly of Friends University: "Among Friendly institutions, Bryn Mawr is the notable example of the college breaking away from its denominational connection. The founder, Dr. Joseph W. Taylor, explained his views of Christian education in these words: 'It is my desire that all having any connection with the institution shall endeavor to instil into the minds and hearts of the students, the doctrines of the New Testament as accepted by Friends, and taught by Fox, Penn, and Barclay in earlier days, and by Grellet, Forster, Gurney, Hodgkin, and Braithwaite of later time, and which I believe to be the same in substance as taught by early Christians.'

"It was my privilege to know several of the first trustees of Bryn Mawr College. As a whole, I believe they were the finest group of Christian men I have been privileged to meet during a long life. The first President of the College was a real paragon of Christian manhood, pure, noble, spiritual.

"All college boards are human. The Friends trustees of that splendid woman's college chose a highly cultured woman for dean, who was reputed to be an agnostic. She shaped the intellectual life of the institution, and ordered the curricula and instruction after the highest John Hopkins University ideals. Thus Bryn Mawr College began its work in 1885. In a few years the Quaker philosopher and seer, Dr. Henry Hartshorne, friend of all the trustees, foresaw in Bryn Mawr 'a fine example of the triumph of secularizing intellectuality.'

"The President and leading trustees, like many other Friends, hoped to see the college swing back upon its Friendly foundation, when spirituality would prevail over its splendid intellectuality. But since the college did not belong to the Philadelphia Yearly Meeting, that Friendly council would exercise no authority over it, and the trustees were a self-perpetuating board responsible to no superior body. In about twenty-five years Bryn Mawr ceased to be known as a Friendly, or even a Christian, college. Its Christian friends in the board and faculty, like its true friends of many denominations, sorrowed to see their originally Friendly college mainly a permanently paganizing institution."

At first, the spirit of infidelity to orthodox Christianity was found mainly in the Biblical departments and in courses offered in religious education. It later spread to philosophy. Beginning at the other pole, the plague spread inward via the evolutionary theory route, through biology, then history, and later into sociology and psychology. The results were calamitous in many areas, but especially, as regards the church and its colleges, they were these: Youth were sent to the hallowed institutions and innocently succumbed to the deadly virus. Thousands had their faith in the great fundamental tenets of the Christian beliefs destroyed, many hundreds of whom did not realize it. The church, in turn, had its leadership drawn from these ranks, until from pulpit to pew, the progress of spiritual disease went on and on. In some instances, the church ceased its support of the colleges, which in turn either withered and died, or grew marvelously under the leadership of the new school, but completely dis-associated from the church and controlled and underwritten by those who had left the faith. Moral standards were lowered. The social life was anything but wholesome. The example of the faculty and the environment surrounding the young people continued the paganizing process. In many instances, the deflections from the truth appeared not so much in open denials or blasphemous statements as they did in simple omissions.

We at George Fox College wish to have nothing to do with that movement. We denounce it for what it is: anti-Christian and diabolical! It is high time for church educators to turn from naturalism and humanism to revelation for their educational philosophy.

The second route open to us today is very popular and appealing. It goes under various guises, but some of the characteristics are these: The tried and true formulas of Christian expression and terminology are still used, but the meanings are found in different dictionaries. Mottoes of aim and goal became only shibboleths without meaning. This is dishonest. It takes consecrated money and misappropriates it to secularizing purposes. It solicits church support and then undermines the church. It does not keep faith, either with the departed saints who gave of time and strength and earthly store, nor with the generations yet unborn. For as one of my fellow Oregon college presidents has said recently: "One of the institutions which stands nearest to immortality in the affairs of men is the established college. Thoughtful men and women will commit their resources and their memory to the support of influences which are everlasting."

Another mode of appearance is assumed in securing a "front-man" for propaganda or publicity purposes. This in no way should be taken as a thrust against the integrity of the man involved, who may feel drawn into the position of leadership from wholesome desires. The issue is this: how can a college be considered Christian when it boasts one or two evangelical leaders out of an entire administration and faculty? How can there be a consistency when biology works against Bible or education against Christian education?

Yet another mode is found in assuming the place of a Christian and church-related institution and yet not admitting the helps and controls of the constituency. If a college is to be church-related, it must deny its independence and admit its need of support at every level.

This second procedure is also eschewed at George Fox College as being lacking in honesty, sincerity, and genuineness.

The third plan is the one on which I wish to place the emphasis. It is found in a correlation of aim and emphasis from the local church unit, on up through the Board of the college, to the administration and faculty. I care not where one begins, whether from the individual in the home church who is a convinced Christian and who lends his moral and spiritual support to the wider benevolences of the church, or from the trained Christian leader coming from our college to take his place in the community. These should be complementary.

Centuries and generations ago the church believed in the church school. But in the early years of many folk living today, and in many communities, the church did not consider the college as a part of its missionary endeavor, nor did the college always contribute to the welfare of the church. There was a break in the chain. The church was interested in evangelism, Sunday Schools, Christian Endeavor societies, missions, both home and foreign, relief, local building projects, et cetera. The college, in turn, did not train, either in spirit or in method, the church youth to become Christian leaders in any vital sense. Now, if education is the changing of human nature through human experience, then we may say that evangelism seeks to change human nature through divine grace. But let us never forget that in evangelism, which seeks its ends by the power of God, human means are employed, even as in education. Dr. Sherrill answers the question, "Which is more important, evangelism or education?" by stating: which would you rather have, a heart or a brain? One could not live without both. Neither can there be a fully Christian church without both evangelism and education.

Every segment in the educational process is important. We are vitally concerned with the nursery class and on up through all the grades, and rightly so; but why should our youth be forsaken in the difficult period of adolescence? There is no mission field today more crucial than the minds of our keenest youth. The church must rise to this added responsibility and take to its heart the Christian college. By the same token, the college must assume its prerogative in giving the youth at its doors an adequate Christian education. The college must stand against false philosophies of life, against sub-Christian thoughts and ideals, against error in every form, against mental laziness, against sophistication. But it must stand for the truth that is found in believing a person is truly educated only insofar as that person knows God. It must stand for true science and research and discovery. It must stand for wide horizons and brotherly love, and citizenship. It must stand for all that is beautiful and lovely and fine, for culture and simplicity. It must stand ready to accept all the best in contributions from the past with a sense of obligation for tomorrow. It must present truth in an attractive form. It cannot be tolerant of mediocrity.

To insure this type of academic climate in cooperation with its church, the Christian college may find it to its advantages to look at itself to ascertain to what and to whom it is conforming. At the present time, only 11% of American colleges boast any kind of religious program. This 11% is mainly among the smaller colleges; therefore far less than 11% of college youth are placed in a religious environment during their years of college. Also, to show the paucity of religious instruction or emphasis, "religious program" has been construed as meaning anything from courses in religious philosophy to an invitation from the local president of the ministerial union to attend the church of the students' choice. As the Christian Herald noted in its March, 1954, issue: "The Christian college should not have a religious program, it must be a Christian program." Ideally, then, a Christian college is bound to keep its program in balance in such a way that the validity of Christian doctrine, practice and experience is realized by all concerned. Ideally, too, the majority of the constituency and Board should be in agreement with the policies of the administration and with the emphases being advanced and the spirit permeating the institution. The Bible and Christian doctrine should find themselves at the center of curriculum building because they give direction and vitality to all other expressions of truth; instead of being tacked on as an appendage of very minor importance as is the situation in many centers. The position accorded this hard core of eternal truth is of as great importance, it seems to me, as the actual content of what is taught itself. "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom." It is not only the beginning, it is also the end. What a youth learns to love may mean more than what he learns.

It is our hope here at George Fox College that such a platform may increasingly merit the wholehearted support and confidence of all of you. We are the Quaker college of Oregon Yearly Meeting and we are proud of it! We need your prayers, your young people, your interest, your sacrificial giving. We hope that you enjoy us, and that we do not become a burden, or problem, to you. But above and beyond any human appreciation, we covet the Divine blessing. We earnestly pray that we may be in a position in which the Great Teacher can bestow year after year His favor as we study to show ourselves approved unto Him.

Milo Ross also stated that September 22 has been designated as a day of prayer for the college. It coincides with the national day of prayer.

● 65. Earl Barker gave a brief report on the Evangelical Friends Conference at Oskaloosa. He said the conference was here to stay and the next one is planned for 1956 at Denver just the week after July 4.

Gerald Dillon was chosen as chairman of the continuation committee and is given the duty of going deeply into the matter of organization.

There were two hundred registered delegates and many others attended. The theme of the conference was Evangelism.

● 66. Appreciation was expressed that the people who had charge of the carnival on the grounds to the west had been considerate and had not had loud music, and a letter is to be sent to the manager of the carnival.

● 67. The meeting closed by singing Praise God from Whom all Blessings Flow, and adjourned to meet Monday, August 16.

MONDAY, 9:30 A.M.

● 68. During the devotional period the Presiding Clerk brought a short message from Joshua 9:14 in which he urged all to take counsel of the Lord before important decisions are made.

Adelaide Barker and Dorwin Smith asked God's blessing on the deliberations of the day.

● 69. The minutes were read, corrected and approved.

● 70. The clerk reported that he interviewed the manager of the carnival and gave him the letter that the Yearly Meeting wished delivered and he was pleased.

● 71. The following recommendation from the Board of Public Relations was approved:

We recommend that the Yearly Meeting send a letter to President Eisenhower commending him for his past action in banning the serving of alcoholic beverages at the White House and the sale of liquor by the bottle in military camps which had been authorized by the Defense Department.

When the President permitted the use of his picture and statement in seeking volunteers for the Ground Observer Corps it was with the specific statement that it should not be sponsored by a manufacturer of alcoholic beverages. We recommend that he also be commended for this action.

Board of Public Relations
Mahlon L. Macy, president

● 72. The Radio Committee made the following recommendation in regard to the Quaker Hour car bumper signs:

The Radio Committee has considered the recommendation from Salem Quarterly Meeting regarding Quaker Hour car bumper signs.

In the light of a considerable outlay of money which would be necessary to inaugurate such a project, and since we feel that Quaker Hour is on a comparatively small broadcasting schedule, we recommend that no plans be made to produce these advertizing signs.

Dean Gregory
Chairman, Radio Committee

It was approved.

● 73. Greetings and an interesting letter came from Gervas A. Carey from Hawaii.

It is the wish of the meeting that a letter be sent to Amy and Gervas Carey in honor of their approaching Golden Wedding.

● 74. J. Harley Adams sent in his resignation from the Board of Evangelism since he is now working as an outpost worker at Quincy, Washington.

The resignation was accepted.

● 75. The standing committee on Discipline revision made the following report:

To Oregon Yearly Meeting:

The standing committee on Discipline revision has followed the policy adopted by this body a year ago, namely, that of having all of the amendments on which final action had been taken printed in the back of the Yearly Meeting Minutes, in such a form that they might be cut out and pasted in the Discipline by the individual members if they wished to do so.

This will be continued if the meeting so desires, printing only those which are adopted year by year until a new edition of the Constitution and Discipline is ordered issued.

Frederick B. Baker
Earl P. Barker

It is the wish of the meeting that the amendments passed this year should be printed in the back of the Minutes as was done last year.

The report was approved.

It was the wish of the meeting that the present standing discipline committee commence the collection of amendments to the discipline.

● 76. A suggestion was made that there was a need for the printing of new disciplines as so many amendments are being made. There was a feeling in the meeting that machinery should be started to plan for the printing of a new discipline sometime in the future. This was referred to the Publication Board.

● 77. The committee appointed to prepare directional signs to advertise our places of worship made the following report:

To Oregon Yearly Meeting:

At the 1952 Yearly Meeting, held at Greenleaf, Idaho, the Yearly Meeting appointed a committee to prepare directional signs to advertise our places of worship. The committee, with changes in personnel, was continued through this last year. Your committee has received suggestions and correspondence from many of the meetings of the Yearly Meeting and from interested Friends. We have also been in correspondence with other Yearly Meetings on this matter. We have endeavored to prepare a type of sign which includes the best features coming from the majority of suggestions. We have interviewed and had extensive correspondence with different firms which employ several processes of manufacture and a variety of types, prices and features in Seattle, Portland and Oakland, California.

Our recommendation is to engage the firm of Irwin-Hodson in Portland which has offered to construct 100 signs of approved design for the cost of $475.00, $175.00 of which is the original die. After the first 100, the total cost would be $3.00. This is the baked enamel process on 16 gauge metal, which, we are advised, does not break as easily as signs made by the porcelain process. The signs would be in simple black and white and rectangular in shape, using the materials in an economical manner.

When our report was submitted last March 31, it was felt that the Yearly Meeting funds should not be used to advance the amount of $475.00. There could be a lapse of time of a year or more in receiving back moneys from meetings which had ordered them. We have not ordered the signs.

On behalf of the Directional
Sign Committee

Milo C. Ross, chairman

It was decided to defer action until the signs are seen.

- 78. The Board of Public Relations gave the following report which was approved:

To Oregon Yearly Meeting:

We recognize the good work of the Oregon Temperance League, the Washington Temperance Association, and the Allied Civic Forces in Idaho and other temperance organizations and suggest that the meetings of the Yearly Meeting give consideration to their support.

Board of Public Relations
Mahlon L. Macy, president

- 79. The communication that came from the Board of Evangelism and the Radio Committee was approved:

The Radio Committee presented via Milo C. Ross, the following statement relative to future releases and contract expenses, the same also considered in response to the communication from Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting, asking for a Yearly Meeting budget to cover the Inland Empire radio broadcast. This communication was approved as follows for presentation to the Yearly Meeting:

"The Radio Committee, which has been charged by the Board of Evangelism with the responsibility of production of the Quaker Hour, has this last week been charged with consideration by the Yearly Meeting in the field of release and contract expense. This should be recognized as a new province for our committee.

We have seriously and extensively gone into all the matters concerned, both in full session and with Mr. Harris Hunter, of the Evangelical Advertising Agency, and with concerned Friends from the several meetings and Quarterly Meetings making suggestions to us.

We are united in believing that the time has come for the Radio Committee of the Board of Evangelism to be given the additional responsibility of the strategy of station placement in cooperation with the existing Quarterly Meeting committees and contact men. We do not recommend that we should handle the contracts nor the Quarterly Meeting or area finances, but we do recommend that we be made available to assist in appealing for support throughout the entire Yearly Meeting.

On behalf of the Radio Committee, in session August 14, 1954, Milo C. Ross, Director of "The Quaker Hour".

Taken from the Minutes of Board of Evangelism.

MEMORIAL HOUR

- 82. The names of the members who have passed away this last year were read and the Memorial Committee presented the following report which was accepted:

Richard Wiles—the Yearly Meeting has felt the loss of one of her pastors, Richard L. Wiles, pastor of Whitney meeting, who was called home suddenly, December 31, 1953. He had served faithfully for thirty-five years, as pastor, evangelist, and Yearly Meeting Superintendent. He had truly come to his coronation day and had begun the new year by his entrance into the glory world. He was an humble man of prayer, manifesting a spirit of understanding and sympathy to those who came to him for help. He carried a heavy burden for the church and for the unsaved. His ministry was clear, positive, practical, and anointed of the Holy Spirit. He excelled as a Bible teacher, and as a personal worker.

Edna Elizabeth Wines passed to her reward August 23, 1953. She was a charter member of Whitney meeting, and had been in faithful attendance until her final illness. Her quiet consistent Christian life was a blessing to all who know her.

Mary Irene Milstead, of Whitney meeting, passed to her reward, May 25, 1954. The last few years of her life she was a Christian, and faithfully served her Lord. She attended church as she had opportunity.

Frances Sickles, a member of Everett meeting, passed away in the spring of 1954. She was a faithful, God-fearing member of the church. She served many years as missionary and teacher in Alaska.

Emmor Hall—we note the record of the passing of Emmor Hall, second month, 6th, 1954. His was a full life of devotion and submission to the complete will of God. He had a wonderful gift of song and praise to God, and often broke out in song at the close of a message. He is greatly missed in his home meeting.

Anna Antrim, at the age of 86 years went to be with her Lord whom she dearly loved. She was a wonderful Sunday School teacher, and many of the people of Greenleaf and Nampa will miss her greatly.

Mary Cammack, a missionary mother, went to her reward December 24, 1953. Rosedale Monthly Meeting was deeply saddened by this loss. They realized that they had lost a member whose very life had been lived in, and for, the church. She was a constant source of inspiration and help, and always carried a heavy burden for the lost. Her place in the church will not be easily filled.

Marietta Mills Lewis, passed from this life November 8, 1953, in Portland, at the age of 95. She grew up in the service of the Friends Church; was most loyal and active, yet a quiet Christian. She made it a practice to read her Bible through every year. In Elwood, Illinois, she was one of the main stays in the Friends Meeting. For many years she served on the Missionary Board of the Quarterly Meeting. She was a faithful worker in the Springbrook Friends church for nearly 40 years. She filled responsible places in the Quarterly and Yearly Meeting. She was secretary-treasurer of the Yearly Meeting Evangelistic Board for 25 years.

A number spoke of the influence on their lives of those who have gone on before. It was difficult to express in words the feeling of loss of those who stand out as great moral and spiritual leaders.

- 83. The inspirational hour opened with the singing of the song, He Will Hide Me, led by Harlow Ankeny.

Merle Roe took as a basis of his message Acts 1:1-8. Ye shall receive power after the Holy Ghost has come upon you is a personal promise, and a promise of power. Power in prayer; power in unity; power in sacrifice; power in comfort. The reason for all this power is that we may be witnesses.

- 90. The question of uniform signs was again considered as a sample was exhibited to the meeting.

The meeting approved the sign without the symbol of the lamp.

It was decided not to purchase the signs until enough orders have come in with cash to guarantee the initial payment. The working out of the plan was referred to the committee.

- 91. Thomas Rule asked to be excused from responsibilities of Representatives as he was not to be in attendance.

He was excused.

- 92. The Epistle Committee made their report.

A summary was read and after some changes it was accepted.

The General Epistle was read and with some deletions was accepted.

The epistle from the Bolivian brethren was read and appears below:

To the Brethren of Oregon Yearly Meeting

Beloved Brethren and Sisters in Christ:

As your Bolivian brethren, we extend our fervent greetings unto you—greetings in the name of our Saviour, Jesus Christ. We profoundly desire that our heavenly Father will greatly bless you in the work of the gospel.

In like fervency of spirit we beseech you to remember the work in Bolivia with its many needs. In spite of the fact that as Bolivian Indians we are backward and poor in material as well as spiritual things, we give thanks to our merciful God for His love by which we have been freed from darkness; which love was directed to us through His Christian messengers.

We continually remember you and call your attention to Matthew 25:34-40. May the Lord bless you brethren and sisters in the faith of Christ Jesus.

We wish to report that concerning the responsibility of caring for the work of evangelism, we continue to take forward steps with God's help. For all this work we do ask for your help in prayer.

Our missionaries are working hard. We especially wish to speak of Marshal Cavit, for he is very useful in the Lord's work. In like manner the other missionaries are occupied in the work of teaching the young men in the Bible School.

We await with gladness the return of our missionaries, the Willcuts and Chapmans, who soon are to come to Bolivia. It shall soon be their turn to spend their terms in Bolivia and to be united with us in the work of the Lord's glory.

We trust that the Lord's will be done that our cooperative work be well established for the benefit of future Christians.

The work is in dire need of some means of transportation for evangelization as well as for attending to the needs of the field. Concerning this we made our request known but as yet we have received no answer from you. For the work of the National Church, we solicit a truck or pickup and a boat with which to reach the islands.

Brethren, pray for us. Satan is trying to place obstacles in the way of salvation and holiness, and wickedness is increasing in this world in every manner.

Concerning the above, we, your Bolivian brethren write to you, and until other opportunity for correspondence, we remain your servants.

The members of the Bolivian Friends Church,

Pedro Guanica, president
Casimiro Cuaquera, secretary

- 93. The meeting decided that the Representatives from Portland, Newberg, Salem and Puget Sound should be entitled to receive a meal ticket on payment of a nominal fee when the Yearly Meeting is held in Idaho.

BOARD OF EVANGELISM

- 94. The members of board sat on the platform and in the absence of Oscar Brown, the president, Clare Willcuts read the following report which was accepted:

Thanks be unto God which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ, who also loved the Church and gave Himself for it, then commissioned the Church to go into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature and promised, "Lo I am with you alway, even unto the end of the age."

We rejoice that the door of opportunity is open, perhaps in a greater way than ever before to Oregon Yearly Meeting.

According to a survey made by the National Association of Evangelicals last year, "One-fourth of the population of the United States is expected to move to new locations this year."

We know that the greater part of this group will move to the Northwest.

This N.A.E. report also shows that there has been a net gain of 19 million people in the United States in the last ten years.

In contrast to these figures revealing the need of new churches the report reveals that 60,000 churches have been closed in America, and they continue to be closed at the rate of 1,000 per year.

These are startling figures, revealing our growing responsibility in the stewardship of the gospel.

We are grateful for the loyalty of the members of Oregon Yearly Meeting to the cause of church extension.

We are especially thankful for the leadership of our Yearly Meeting Superintendent, Dean Gregory, whose Spirit-filled life has been an inspiration to each of us. He has given himself untiringly to travel, counsel, and promotion of the work of our board.

Our thanks goes to the Friends Brotherhood for their support of the Spokane meeting for the past years. They have adopted the building program at Holly Park meeting in Seattle as their project for this year.

We express our appreciation to the Women's Missionary Union for their aid to our outposts and workers and for their support of the Hillsboro meeting the past year. Their pledge was $50.00 a month.

We have been privileged to enter three new fields this year in Wenatchee, Washington; Maplewood, Oregon and Timber, Oregon. Progress reports from these points will be given under another part of our presentation.

We look forward to the future with the goal of entering three new fields during the coming year: Metolius, Oregon; Coeur d'Alene, Idaho; and Quincy, Washington.

These are harvest days! The laborers are far too few! Let us pray the Lord of harvest that He would send forth laborers into His harvest.

May we each be willing to obey the Lord of harvest as He leads us to go, to give or to pray.

Respectfully submitted on behalf of the Board of Evangelism
Oscar N. Brown, president

Paul Barnett read a summary of the reports from Evangelistic Committees which was approved.

A brief summary of 38 reports received from Monthly Meeting Evangelism Committees reveals that eleven outposts or Sunday Schools are sponsored with 67 workers engaged in these projects. One committee reports that 15 workers are sent from their church each week to aid in 3 Sunday Schools. Another committee reports visits to outposts giving assistance in beginning work at Metolius, Oregon. This committee spent $474.13 in its work.

Twenty-eight of the churches reporting use the News Flash. We would encourage a more effective use of this organ of our Yearly Meeting.

Attention is called to the communication proposing an amendment to the Constitution and Discipline, designed to help in more effective cooperation of those in monthly meeting and quarterly meeting appointments to Evangelistic Committees.

Oscar N. Brown, president
Paul W. Barnett, secretary

Milo Ross spoke on the advantages and disadvantages of radio broadcasting.

Wayne Piersall sang, I Have Found a Hiding Place.

Dean Gregory told of the challenge of this great Northwest. He told of the fields about to be entered—Coeur d'Alene, Quincy and Metolius. There is a need for much prayer and financial help.

The reports were accepted.

- 95. The meeting desired that a personal letter be sent to each one of the group which is helping in the Quaker Hour to express our appreciation for their voluntary services.

- 96. The Representatives sent in the following nominations for the Board of Evangelism:

Oscar N. Brown and Walter Wilhite for three years;

Irwin Alger to fill the unexpired term of J. Harley Adams.

These were approved.

- 97. The meeting adjourned by singing Jesus Saviour Pilot Me, and with prayer by Robert Morrill.

TUESDAY, 9:30 A.M.

- 98. The song, Have Thy Own Way, Lord, was sung. The Presiding Clerk expressed his gratitude that God had been so good to us. Paul Puckett led in prayer.

- 99. The Junior Yearly Meeting visited our business session and presented the epistle as it appears below:

The Juniors of Oregon Yearly Meeting of the Friends Church in session, August 12th through 17th, 1954, had real blessings and happy times. The average attendance was 40 boys and girls from three years of age through grade school age.

Our theme was "Ye are my Friends". Every morning we had exciting stories from Quaker history which told us "Who Friends Are". We were taught that Jesus died to save us from sin and how we should grow to be better Christians in the lessons about "What Friends Think". It was interesting and inspiring to hear missionaries and other concerned people tell "What Friends Do". Each day we had our own business and worship session as we learned "How Friends Plan".

Following the same theme, we memorized verses from God's Word which will help us to live better and searched our hearts with the Queries for Young Quakers. We sang joyfully, made maps and charts as well as other pretty and useful things and learned to know one another better through our games.

As a special treat, we took a trip to Champoeg, an important place in Northwest history, and visited the pioneer museum. This helped us to understand the lives of the Quakers who came to the Oregon country and started Friends Meetings.

During the sessions, there were some who felt led of the Lord to testify, offer prayer, and sing special songs. We thank God for being with us in Junior Yearly Meeting.

Your Friends in Jesus,
Presiding Clerk, Philip R. Morrill
Recording Clerk, Mary Alice Hampton
Superintendent, Virginia Helm
Assistants, Ruth Houston, Roberta Field

Appreciation was expressed for the presence of these young people and for the work of their leaders.

● 100. The Minutes were read and approved with a slight change in wording.

● 101. The Representatives made the following report:

The Representatives have carefully considered the communication from Portland Quarterly Meeting relative to a proposed change in the Discipline to provide a Yearly Meeting Director of Publicity under the jurisdiction of the Board of Publication. We recommend the adoption of Portland's communication in principle, but that the proposed Disciplinary change be revised to read as follows:

On page 98, Supplementary Regulations, Section VIII—Publication, add to Paragraph 1. THE YEARLY MEETING BOARD, the following subparagraph:

The Board is charged also with the responsibility for maintaining and directing throughout the Yearly Meeting a sustained program of publicity and promotion in harmony with the doctrinal standards and spiritual ideals of evangelical Friends. It shall utilize freely, as available, such media as newspaper releases, magazine articles, radio programs and spot announcements, and display advertising. To supervise these activities, it shall appoint one of its members or other qualified person to serve as Yearly Meeting director of publicity, and through him shall encourage appropriate activity on the part of those appointed by the subordinate meetings, providing them suggestions as to procedure and as to standards of quality in journalistic effort.

Also in Paragraph 2, to delete the present wording and insert in its place the following:

2. REPRESENTATION IN THE SUBORDINATE MEETINGS. Each quarterly meeting shall appoint a director of publicity, who shall be responsible for publicizing the activities of the quarterly meeting in the local papers of the area, and for reporting these activities to the Yearly Meeting periodical.

Each monthly meeting shall appoint a director of publicity to serve in the same role locally.

Charles Beals
Esther Woodward, clerks

It was approved.

● 102. The organization of the following boards was read and will appear in the Appendix:

Stewardship, Evangelism, Christian Education, and Public Relations.

● 103. The following recommendation from the Executive Committee in regard to the budget was accepted:

The Executive Committee received and considered the askings of the various boards at its mid-year session, and these were sent to the individual monthly meetings for their consideration. The budget as proposed was $40,893.52, and the responses reached $21,120.00. Since the difference is $19,773.52 and since heretofore amounts have been received by voluntary contribution during the year sufficient to cover the amount lacking, the Executive Committee feels that it has just reason to expect to receive the difference between the amount pledged by monthly meetings and the total budget.

We recommend that if this difference of $19,773.52 is not received that the expenditures by the boards will be decreased proportionately to the income received.

Proposed United Budget was accepted as follows:

Board of Missions	$ 17,252.08
Board of Evangelism	15,516.44
Board of Publications	5,500.00
Board of Public Relations	350.00

N.A.E.	100.00
Board Travel	500.00
Total	$ 40,893.52

Dorwin E. Smith

● 104. The list of offerings taken during the Yearly Meeting is given below:

Board of Evangelism for General Expense	207.91

● 105. The Executive Committee made the following report which was approved:

The Executive Committee wishes to report to the Yearly Meeting that much study has been made regarding the financial reconstruction program and the ratio plan, and there is a desire to continue this study before any recommendation is made.

Dorwin Smith
Charlotte L. Macy, clerks

- 106. The Executive Committee's report in regard to the Director of Publicity was as follows:

The Executive Committee recommends that the Yearly Meeting Director of Publicity be welcomed into the meetings of all boards and committees, except closed sessions, during the sessions of the Yearly Meeting and during interim sessions throughout the year.

Purpose of this is to allow the Director of Publicity to become acquainted with the background and development of the entire church work so that when news is released the Director of Publicity will be more qualified to understand and to produce more efficient releases and promotion.

All board and committee developments would be held in strict confidence and no information released without approval of the board or committee concerned.

Dorwin Smith
Charlotte L. Macy, clerks

It was approved.

- 107. The time of holding Yearly Meeting as reported by the Executive Committee was approved as it appears below:

The Executive Committee recommends to the Yearly Meeting that a policy be established to hold Yearly Meeting sessions over the third Saturday in August each year.

Dorwin Smith
Charlotte L. Macy, clerks

- 108. The Executive Committee approved the following disciplinary change which was sent from the Board of Evangelism, and will be held over for another year:

The Board of Evangelism has considered and recommends the following:

An amendment proposed for the purpose of bringing monthly meeting chairmen of evangelistic committees into the Quarterly Meeting committee.

On page 91, Supplementary Regulations, Chapter II, Section II—Evangelism, change Paragraph 2 to read as follows:

2. THE QUARTERLY MEETING COMMITTEE. Each quarterly meeting shall appoint an evangelistic superintendent, who shall serve as chairman of the quarterly meeting evangelistic committee. Other members of the committee shall be those appointed by the monthly meetings of the quarter as chairmen of the monthly meeting evangelistic committees. The committee shall work in co-operation with the quarterly meeting on ministry and oversight, and shall have special responsibility for entering new fields of labor. Its chairman shall be a member of the Yearly Meeting Board and, in co-operation with the General Superintendent, shall exercise supervision of the pastoral and evangelistic work within the quarterly meeting. He shall have charge of the program of the quarterly meeting sessions.

Respectfully submitted,
Clare Willcuts, vice president
Paul W. Barnett, secretary

This was approved by the meeting.

- 109. The Representatives made the following nominations:
Denver Headrick and Wayne Piersall, 3 years on the Stewardship committee.

Members to serve on George Fox College Visiting Committee.
Members to serve on the Epistle Committee.

These will appear in the Appendix.

- 110. It was the wish of the meeting that the Presiding Clerk carry the greetings to the Junior Yearly Meeting and express appreciation for their epistle.

BOARD OF PUBLICATION

- 111. Frederick Baker, the president, presided and offered prayer. Then he presented the following report which was approved:

This is the twelfth annual report of the Board of Publication of Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends Church, and the twelfth year of publication of The Northwest Friend as a church paper. (Prior to this time the Friendly Endeavor was published under direction of the Christian Endeavorers with a general church news section)

Purpose of the Board of Publication is outlined in the discipline as follows: "The Board of Publication is authorized to publish the Yearly Meeting periodical, and is responsible for the appointment of its editorial staff and for all editorial and financial responsibilities concerning it. It is further authorized to build and administer a revolving fund and to publish books, pamphlets, and other church and Bible school literature as need may arise and the Board may deem wise."

This year, aside from its major task of editing and publishing The Northwest Friend, the Board of Publication has acted in its capacity as a service agency for the entire Yearly Meeting and has specialized in the preparation of material stressing the distinguishing doctrines of the Friends church.

Twenty-one hundred and fifty copies of The Northwest Friend have been published, which is an increase of fifty copies over that of a year ago. We recommend that The Northwest Friend be sent to the entire membership of our churches and also to others attending our meetings and vitally interested in our program.

The Quaker Bulletin service is growing and is now used by 40 of our churches with a circulation each week, varying from 2600 to 3600, with an average of more than 3,000.

Five hundred copies of Herman Macy's book, "What About The Ordinances?" have been reprinted this year, stressing our views as Friends.

Publications for the Yearly Meeting have been as follows:

- 1,500 copies of The Yearly Meeting Minutes (132 pages).
- 2,000 copies of the Yearly Meeting Financial Proposal book.
- 1,000 Yearly Meeting programs.
- 3,000 Yearly Meeting letterheads for the Superintendent's office.
- 200 Ministerial conference programs.

For the Board of Evangelism:

- 2,000 "Quaker Hour" posters.
- 5,000 "Quaker Hour" placards.

For the Board of Missions:

- 500 letterheads.
- 1,800 missionary calendars.

Five issues of "The Soul Cry of the Aymara" in the Northwest Friend.

- 2,000 Spanish Stewardship tracts.
 For the Board of Public Relations:
 600 handbooks.
 200 Stewardship posters.
 6,000 Stewardship tracts.
 5,000 "Specializing in Stewardship" pamphlets.
 For the Board of Christian Education:
 500 "Queries" for Juniors.
 1,500 "Queries" for Juniors and Young People.
 500 letterheads.
 500 Teacher's Covenants.
 500 "Stamps for Camp" books.
 For Christian Endeavorers:
 500 letterheads.
 Publication Sunday during the year was designated for observation on Sunday March 14.
 This year we request that the Board of Publication Sunday be observed on Sunday February 20, 1955.
 We continue to stress the five goals of the Board of Publication, held before the Yearly Meeting for several years.
1. To make The Northwest Friend the best church paper possible. We need the cooperation of everyone to accomplish this goal. This goal can only be realized as membership lists are kept up to date and as publicity chairmen supply us with "up-to-date news" and glossy pictures.
 2. To have an informed constituency. In order to realize this goal we offer the services of the Board of Publication to every department of our church.
 3. That the challenge of the printed page be brought to the attention of our people. One of the most effective ways to spread the gospel is through the printed page. Will you remember this work of the Board in your prayers? We invite designated gifts for the work of the Board. We suggest that the Publication Board be remembered when people make out their wills.
 4. That there be developed an increased loyalty to the publications of "The George Fox Press," printers of evangelical Friends Sunday School literature, true to the faith. Will you pray for the Bible School Publication Board of Evangelical Friends, its editors and board members? This board is a joint project of Oregon, Kansas and Ohio Yearly Meetings.
 5. That there be a wider release of our own Publication Board material through the medium of The Better Book and Bible House and other such agencies. We suggest purchase of the book "Out-reach" for gifts to pastors, church libraries, and even for Christmas presents.

● 112. The song, All the Way My Savior Leads Me was sung, led by Harlow Ankeny.

Jack Willcuts led in prayer. Then Merle Roe brought a message from Ephesians 5:25, 26, 27 on the Relationship of Christ to His Church—the Bride.

He said: Christ loves the Church, He is a true lover; He has redeemed the Church; He is the Husband of the Church—He will supply all our needs; He is the Sanctifier; He satisfies us. Jesus is looking forward to His Glorious Church—His Bride.

Our relationship—we must be saved ones; we must be members of His Body; move under the promptings of the Head; we must be submissive to His Spirit and we must give true reverence to the Head of the Church, our Christ.

● 113. The song, I Love Him, was sung and an invitation was given for those who had a need.

The meeting was adjourned to meet at 2:00 p.m.

TUESDAY, 2:00 P.M.

- 127. Adelaide Barker was nominated by the Board of Christian Education to serve on the Publication Board of Evangelical Friends.

The nomination was approved.

- 128. The Board of Public Relations made the following recommendation:

We suggest that the people and the meetings of the Yearly Meeting give careful and prayerful consideration to the matter of the taking of oaths particularly loyalty oaths. This is in line with the Constitution and Discipline of Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends Church.

Loyalty oaths create divisions, suspicion and fear. They accomplish no good purpose. A communist would not hesitate to sign a loyalty oath if he thought it would serve his purpose. A loyalty oath can never be expected to bring to light one who is subversive if this fact were not already known. It is those who refuse oaths for conscientious reasons and because of religious convictions who will suffer. This has already been evident in Oregon Yearly Meeting.

This type of thing being done by our government is another and a big step forward in the present trend to direct and control the religious thinking and expression of our people. If this trend is allowed to continue we will soon see the time when members of the Friends Church will either have to deny their faith or suffer severe persecution.

This is a very serious matter. Friends should realize that to take an official stand on this matter might and undoubtedly would have serious and far reaching results. A stand should not be taken officially without the full knowledge and realization of what is being done. However on the other hand we should fully realize that for the church to fail to make its stand known may easily bring even more serious and more far-reaching results.

Mahlon L. Macy, president

A suggestion was made that further study of this problem be made and that the matter be referred to the Executive Committee for this study. After they have reached a satisfactory study then the conclusions can be sent out to the Monthly Meetings with an explanation.

This was approved.

- 129. The following recommendation came from the Meeting on Ministry and Oversight:

The Meeting on Ministry and Oversight favored the following recommendation from the Committee on Ministry and instructed the clerk to forward it to the Yearly Meeting:

The Committee on Ministry recommends that there be a required reading course of Quaker history and doctrine and matter related to pastoral service for those who are to be recorded as ministers. This being prepared by the Committee on Ministry to become a part of paragraph 3, Section 1A, Chapter 3, page 56.

It was the will of the meeting that this be referred back to the Committee on Ministry for further consideration.

- 130. The Yearly Meeting Ministry and Oversight body in session 8th month 17, 1954, favored the following recommendation from the Committee on Ministry and instructed the clerks to forward it to Yearly Meeting:

We recommend that the following be added to our Discipline as Chapter 3, Section I, B, Paragraph 9.

If at any time a minister feels he or she has fulfilled their call and discharged all responsibilities connected with it they may so state to the Ministry and Oversight and request their name be dropped and return their certificate of recording.

Sheldon Newkirk

Committee on Ministry

This was referred to the Committee on Discipline Revision for consideration.

- 131. The Board of Evangelism recommends the "Articles of Charitable and Religious Corporation of the Friends Church Extension Foundation":

The Board of Evangelism has carefully considered the plan for the Friends Church Extension Foundation, and would recommend the accompanying "Article of Charitable and Religious Corporation of the Friends Church Extension Foundation", for consideration and approval of the Yearly Meeting.

The Yearly Meeting Press and Publicity Committee of Jack Willcuts, chairman, Harlow Ankeny, Marjorie Crisman, Herman Macy and Mildred Minthorne asked Dell Lamb to take the lead in directing publicity for the 1954 session.

A promotional idea at Yearly Meeting this year was the distribution of 700 lapel identification cards to attenders. Friends seemed to appreciate this plan of expediting introductions and renewing friendships. This plan offered some opportunity for witnessing in the community especially during the "Farmaroo" days. It is estimated that 1200 identification cards could have been used instead of only 700.

Arrangements made with both the Oregon Journal and the Oregonian of Portland for full daily coverage of the Yearly Meeting sessions are being carried out successfully. These releases give news privileges to the wire services of the Associated Press, the United Press and the International News Service.

Special correspondence is being made with the Boise, Idaho Statesman, Spokane Spokesman-Review, Seattle Times, Medford Mail Tribune, Eugene Register Guard, Salem Statesman, McMinnville News-Register.

Duplicated news release using local Friends names were directed by way of local pastors to 4 other dailies and 15 weeklies in Friends communities throughout Oregon, Washington and Idaho.

Spot announcements and news briefs were carried on several radio stations.

An exact account of coverage is not possible today, but your news staff has almost worked continuously in reaching a half-million people with the developments of the 1954 Oregon Yearly Meeting.

Prospects for a more complete, uniform and effectively sustained program of publicity and promotion are in prospect for the new church year.

Friends are beginning to catch the vision of our potential through a united witness. Your prayers and willingness to serve where needed are necessary factors in this plan.

Brief factual news summaries will be sent to about 12 other Friends periodicals.

On August 7 the Journal in its church news page said, "The traditional Quaker emphasis upon peace, service, education and missions through an evangelistic holiness message will be presented in meetings for worship and business."

This excerpt briefly touches upon the type of news message we wish to present to the public, to clearly emphasize our evangelistic holiness message.

BOARD OF MISSIONS

● 136. The members of the board and the missionaries sat on the platform. Walter Lee, presented the following report which was approved:

Increasing challenge and broadening vision have characterized the missionary work of Oregon Yearly Meeting during the past church year. Unprecedented opportunities for evangelism have appeared in Bolivia over a geographical area beyond our present field of service, while a number of unevangelized areas within the field have presented wide open doors. This challenge has stirred the missionaries and the board at home.

In accordance with the direction of the Yearly Meeting the Board of Missions has investigated the possibility of an additional missionary field in Germany and Brazil. In neither place have the doors seemed to open, but the Lord has opened the doors to wider service in Bolivia in a remarkable way and it seems that this is the challenge before us and one which we dare not fail to accept.

While the political future of Bolivia, as of many other nations, is unpredictable there has been no recent political turmoil of a serious nature. This has led both the mission staff and the board to feel that the missionary program should not delay in uncertainty, but confidently move forward.

The new Bible Training School administration building, which was postponed, a year ago because of political uncertainties, is under construction and will be ready for the next school year. The blessing of the Lord on this project has been very evident, both in the supply of the necessary finances and the procurement of scarce materials for building. Without any campaign for funds, over $3400.00 has been given for the Bible School building through memorial funds and individual gifts. This appears to be sufficient to meet the cost of the building. When the building is completed, it will bear a plaque honoring the faithfulness of a number of God's servants and a memorial to several faithful Friends who have passed to their eternal reward. Details of this will be given in a report upon the completion of the building.

In spite of an understaffed missionary force, new areas have been entered with the gospel and the missionaries are anxiously awaiting reinforcements to care for the enlarged work.

In August of 1953, the Ralph Chapman family arrived in the United States for furlough. The Paul Cammack family returned to Bolivia in September after a year's furlough in the homeland.

The serious illness of Roscoe and Tina Knight made it necessary for the board to bring them home for treatment and recuperation. They arrived in the United States in November, 1953. This left only four missionary families on the field when we have usually maintained five families.

For the past four years, Marshal and Catherine Cavit with their daughter Christine have been loaned to our mission by the National Holiness Missionary Society, which has been responsible for their salary. The Cavits have labored faithfully beside our own missionaries and have rendered valuable service. We wish to express our deep appreciation to the Cavits for their excellent service and to the National Holiness Missionary Society for its generosity in sharing the Cavits with us. The Cavits are due for furlough in August, 1954, and we have the assurance that they will be granted some time for deputation work in Oregon Yearly Meeting. If it is in the will of the Lord, it is hoped that the Cavit family may be back with our mission staff after their furlough period.

Jack and Geraldine Willcuts with their family are planning to return to Bolivia in September, 1954, after a three-year extended furlough and the Ralph Chapman family plan to return to Bolivia in October, 1954. These reinforcements will help to ease the pressure on our over-worked missionary staff.

The Lord was graciously answered prayer on behalf of Roscoe and Tina Knight and it now appears that they will be physically able to return to the mission field, probably some time in 1955.

From a financial view-point, this past year has been very good. The Lord has kept the vision before the Yearly Meeting and there have been sufficient funds to meet the needs as they arose.

In the interests of Missions here in the homeland, eight missionary conferences were held in different areas throughout the Yearly Meeting, with the Ralph Chapman family and Walter Lee participating in all of them, assisted occasionally by Jack and Geraldine Willcuts. Expressions from many attending these conferences indicated a real interest.

The reports from the meetings of the Yearly Meeting indicated an average of four special missionary services per meeting. Of course, some had more than this while others less. Perhaps this average is a little low and we might improve it in the coming year.

Most meetings reported some missionary books read, although there were severe extremes in number. Much of the reading appears to have been done through the Women's Missionary Union reading project. Approximately 1200 books were read.

There are thirty-three members of Oregon Yearly Meeting in foreign missionary work, although only twelve of these are working under the direction of the Yearly Meeting.

Four hundred twenty-eight missionary prayer meetings were reported which indicates a growing prayer concern.

The response to the missionary calendar project shows a growing interest in most meetings and a desire to use the calendars as suggested. There were 1168 calendars in use and the receipts were $2925.90 which exceeds the receipts of the previous year by about $1200.00. This is an average of $2.50 per calendar to be used for national evangelism in Bolivia. While the increase is commendable, a complete support of this project would have averaged $7.75 per calendar so the challenge for improvement is before us.

Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting deserves honorable mention for the highest average contributions per calendar of $4.01. Greenleaf Monthly Meeting reported the largest total receipts of $328.00 for an average of $3.28 per calendar while Star Monthly Meeting received the highest average per calendar of $5.68.

As we rejoice in the progress of the past year and look with increasing vision upon the opportunities before us, the words of Abraham to Lot seem most appropriate for Oregon Yearly Meeting in relation to its field in Bolivia, "Is not the whole land before thee?"

On behalf of the Board of Missions

GREETINGS

The Field Council of Missions of Oregon Yearly Meeting sends greetings to Oregon Yearly Meeting in its 62nd session in the name of our blessed Saviour.

A predominant theme running in our minds is "Where there is no vision the people perish." Prov. 29:18. We all can testify to having enlarged visions of the fields "white already unto harvest" and also the divine urgency to get the harvest in before night falls.

We recommend the same theme to Oregon Yearly Meeting.

In behalf of the field council,

Paul Cammack, chairman
Iverna Hibbs, secretary

Field Mission Council

The overshadowing presence of the Spirit of God has been gratefully felt by each missionary this year. At times there have been heartaches and abrupt changes to face but in all circumstances everyone felt the same deep consecration as when it was first made: "I'll be what you want me to be."—that desire to be a living sacrifice.

The leaving in July of the Chapman family for the United States and the return to Bolivia of the Cammack family in September were according to plans; however, the return to the U.S.A. of the Knight family one year before furlough date because of serious health troubles had not been anticipated. There were real tears of grief on the part of the Indians and missionaries alike in hearing what appeared at that time to be the final farewells and exhortations of Roscoe and Tina Knight to Aymara-land. We rejoice that God may bring them back to the work.

With the going of the Knights a reshuffling and doubling up of responsibilities ensued, so that all the phases of the work would be attended to—as far as strength was available. All have been very busy and made to realize that "the laborers are few". Thank God "the harvest truly is plenteous!"

The responsibilities were shared as follows: Marshal Cavit—Evangelistic Secretary, construction secretary, missionary representative on the Council of the Bolivian Friends church, and teacher in the Bible training school; Leland Hibbs—farm secretary and part-time teacher in the Bible School; Mark Roberts—educational secretary; Paul Cammack—field treasurer, chairman of the field council, director of the Bible School; Iverna Hibbs—teacher in the Bible School, secretary of the field council; Catherine Cavit—teacher in the Bible Training School; Phyllis Cammack—editor of the "Soul Cry of the Aymara" and the "Amigo Suyu", teacher in the Bible Training School; Wilma Roberts—medical secretary.

The Cavits who have labored faithfully with us for the past four years and who have given financially as well as spiritually to the work will be on furlough this next year in the United States.

A fine harmony and fellowship exists between missionaries, which makes it easy to bear one another's burdens. The council meetings have been times of refreshing to our souls as we have prayed over common burdens and problems and sought the power of the Holy Ghost in a greater measure for the work of saving the lost. There is a great vision before all members of the council to enter the new fields waiting for us.

Respectfully submitted,
Paul Cammack

Evangelistic Report

Our hearts rejoice in the blessing of the Lord in the work of evangelization this past year. We are glad also for the increased interest taken by the national brethren. We truly believe that our brethren are catching a vision as never before of the opportunities to reach out with the gospel and also are beginning to carry more of a burden of responsibility. We have seen many evidences of growth throughout the work and the Lord has truly blessed in giving a host of precious souls for the efforts put forth.

It has been difficult to carry on evangelistic work over the field this year due to shortage of staff; nevertheless, with the added interest of the nationals and the travel that has been possible, we feel that the work has not suffered greatly, for which we give praise to the Lord. There have been nine conferences held this past year in the various areas of our field. These are truly a blessing and help to our Indian brethren. Two of these conferences (Jawira Pampa and San Pedro Tana) were completely new this year. These will not be yearly conferences but were held especially for the benefit of the people of these places. The attendance was good at each place and the people were greatly encouraged. In both of these places the brethren are beginning a new church building. Again and again we praise God for the gospel tent. It was used in six of the conferences and they would have been almost an impossibility without it.

A new phase of evangelization was started with the use of the boat on the lake. Three long journeys have been made and one new group of believers started and definitely are in a growing state. This group is on the island Paco, and we are hoping that soon we may have a church there. Though the boat is a small beginning, it has definitely opened up a new and large field of opportunity that is a real challenge to us. We trust that you will remember this new door of opportunity very definitely in your prayers.

Another area that is opening to us is that of the Yungas. The work there has been almost entirely within the last year. Already there are five places where we have a few believers. The first of these places is now in the midst of building their church and another has the ground given for a church. The Yungas area is very thickly populated with literally thousands of people without the gospel. We believe the Lord is definitely leading into the area visiting three of the places that are opened to us.

Another new phase of evangelistic effort was tried this year—that of sending our boys from the Post Graduate class of the Bible School into our grade schools for a week of meetings with the children. Four of our grade schools were reached and the reports both from the teachers and from the boys who held the meetings were very encouraging. We believe that the seed sown in these days will bear fruit. A number of the older students were reported definitely converted at the time of the meetings. We praise God for His blessing and we trust that if it is His will we may be able to carry this on year after year.

We are encouraging and making definite plans for revival meetings to be held in the individual churches over the work. The first was held in the La Paz church on July 11-18. In a good many cases our post-graduate boys will serve as evangelists. We are trusting the Lord for a gracious outpouring of His Spirit over the entire work.

At present we have forty-two points where we have believers. Of these, thirty-five points are having regular services every Sunday. This year it has been my privilege to visit and hold services in eight different places where missionaries have never before held services. As soon as school is out, fourteen of our boys will be going directly into the work, seven permanently and the other seven for the vacation months. We praise God from the depths of our hearts for all that has been accomplished and for the definite evidences of growth throughout the work. Doors are opening continually and we must pray mightily and give largely if we are to enter in as fast as they open to us.

Along with this report of evangelization I would like to add a brief note concerning the National Church organization. Our Mesa Directiva has served in a wonderful way and is accepting more and more of the responsibility of the work. We praise God for it. We anticipate that this coming year the brethren will have their organization legally established and our work shall become more and more indigenous. The majority of the churches are sending regular offerings of substantial amount into the Mesa Directiva. We are encouraged also to see the increase in the number of tithers which we have over the work. One of the weaker members of the Mesa Directiva was replaced by one of the best men we have in the whole work. This man, Baltazar Yugra, is serving as travelling evangelist and his life and ministry should have its effect upon the work in these next three years. We trust that you will remember our national church in prayer.

Respectfully submitted,
Marshal Cavit.

School Revivals

At the beginning of the year we welcomed the students and immediately began a week of revival meetings. Marshal Cavit held the services for the first three days; then Mr. Wesche of the Salvation Army came to finish the week. Conversion, sanctification, or revival, touched each one. Before mid-year vacation, we teachers felt led again to preach holiness in special meetings to the boys. It is so easy to lose vital spiritual victory in Bible School. There is so much new light in which to walk. Revival fires burned at this time and much restitution was made. After vacation and the annual conference at La Paz we took up school again with another revival with Garnett Townsend of the NHMS as the evangelist. Again God visited each one and most of the students moved forward. In each revival a few refused light which was soon evidenced. Plans are made to have special meetings at the end of the year before the boys return to their homes or go out into active evangelistic work.

Emphasis for the year

(1) Holiness of heart and life.

It has been our prayer and the burden of our teaching and preaching to lead the students into the experience of sanctification. It is easy for the Aymaras as well as for Americans to learn doctrines and the knowledge about the will of God in our purification and fail to enter into this experience or to let it slip.

(2) Evangelism.

Under the direction of Marshal Cavit a far-reaching program of evangelism was carried out by the students which touched regularly the areas situated around the school—some at a distance of 15 miles, and that travelled mostly by foot. Every student willing to go out on weekends was used in house-to-house visitation, evangelism in the roads, or in conducting meetings in houses or churches. Post graduate students were used to pastor six places with organized church services. Each Friday chapel was assigned to plans for weekend evangelism, and each Monday chapel was given to testimonies of that evangelism. We praise God that the time has come when many promising works are opening up about us, where seven years ago there was complete darkness.

Student body

Fifty young men wanted to come to Bible School this year. In the first week we had to eliminate some who knew absolutely nothing of the Spanish language (we do all the teaching in Spanish) and others who had come out of curiosity and with mistaken motives, some who had not been in church any place in the past year, or who lacked a recommendation from their pastor or worker.

We settled for 40 students after the first week. We were crowded. Through disappointments and joys we ended the school year with 30 students in whom we have much invested and in whom we have rightful hopes. Two boys were dismissed from the school for grievous infractions of rules. Two boys left against our advice to take military training. Three left without explanation, and three were not able to return after the midyear vacation. Of those boys who are not now with us we could say that they found that following Christ completely and the work in the Bible School was more than they were willing to do. The daily physical work on the farm for four hours is quite a chore for some of the students, but is so very beneficial for them. We feel that all of this was a healthy sifting and a thing to be expected. Praise God for the wheat that remains! This is the largest student body to finish the year so far, and we expect more next year.

Courses offered

Primarily all courses offered are Bible courses and pastoral training. Some special instruction has been offered in Spanish, carpentry, teacher-training, music, hygiene, and agriculture. The first year course finished with twelve students; the second year with ten; in place of the third year course which would have had only one student, (the other three failed to return) a post-graduate course was offered, which majored on pastoral work and holiness. Seven pastors, some with more experience than others, former graduates of the school, and the one third-year boy took the course. Judging from our observations and their testimonies, we feel that this has been a beneficial course.

An added teaching aid this year has been the use of the projector and screen given by the W.M.U. Educational films can be borrowed free from the educational department of the "Servicio Inter-Americano." Geographical and health pictures have been shown.

Our Hopes

1. We hope that at least fifteen of these consecrated boys will go out into the work when school is dismissed for vacation, and that the seven post-graduates will settle permanently in the work as sanctified servants of God to save the lost.

2. Girls school: This will be a new field of endeavor and a needy one. In September we hope to have an introductory school of two weeks with a limited number of young ladies from each church. The classes will have to be adapted to the needs of the girls. An evangelistic emphasis will predominate. The school day will be patterned after the one we have for the young men, with the girls working in the afternoon. The young ladies are thrilled at the prospect of going to school!

Future Plans:

Keep on in a better way! The new school unit will mean that we can take more students, which means more prepared pastors and evangelists, and more souls saved. We depend on praying people to pray the right students into the school.

Paul Cammack

Mission Day Schools

During the past year there have been some changes in our school program. At this time a year ago we were operating ten day schools, one in La Paz and nine in the altiplano, with a staff of eleven teachers. Due to the agricultural reform Mr. Barber was forced to relinquish his lease on the Teraco farms where we had three schools. As a result we gave up the three schools located in Pillapi, Chovo, and Calacala. However it was not alone due to lack of financial backing that we were forced to abandon them. We have had a serious lack of teachers whom we felt to be qualified for the type of teaching we feel is necessary to our primary aim. As a consequence we are operating only six schools this year since the beginning of the new school year with a staff of seven teachers. In addition to the three Teraco schools, we were forced to lay down the school at Achachicala because the teacher fell into sin and we had no one to take his place whom we felt was qualified both spiritually and educationally.

The spiritual qualification has been one of the points we have striven most earnestly to achieve during the past year. May I say we feel a great lack in this respect yet. But in regard to this aim we have released six teachers of the '53 school year and employed two others for this year of '54. In striving to attain this goal of spiritually qualified teachers we have put the teachers on a comparable salary base with the national pastors. We feel they must show the same consecration as pastors to do the work as we desire it with a high spiritual tone. Naturally there have been several who have not desired to teach for us because of our salary scale.

In December of '53 there was a school for teachers and preachers held at Copajira. In this school there was much teaching and preaching in the duties, ethics, and spiritual life of teachers and preachers with special emphasis on the sanctified and consecrated life. As a result we feel that the teachers who were present have made a greater effort to be that type of teacher marked by real consecration and spiritual concern for the students.

Although there is some uncertainty as to what will come with the educational reform when it arrives we want to go ahead and be progressive in our program for the schools. Besides securing fully consecrated teachers we hope to establish a uniform system of teaching texts. Our schools have very few aids to teaching. We are hoping to make some simple teaching aids as very little is available for purchase. Some of our schools still need desks badly which can be built at the farm in carpentry class. Several need black boards. Play equipment consists of one soccer ball. There is no such thing as a library for study or recreative reading in any of our schools. We realize that in many cases these deficiencies can not be filled as adequately as we would desire, but we do hope to make some improvement.

Even in these days of upheaval it is sure that our Day Schools can be a great instrument to serve the Lord if we have consecrated teachers who will present the gospel as well as secular learning. If it is impossible for us to have a program with a strong spiritual emphasis, in my opinion, we should spend our effort in some other field.

In connection with the secular angle of the schools the difficulty of securing materials for the students causes an ever increasing problem. Many times it is impossible to obtain necessary materials when they are needed. This in turn creates a difficult problem for the teachers, which results in much wasted time and poor teaching. We hope by buying about six months in advance to overcome much of this problem.

We feel that this is a time for faith in the Lord and His power to resolve problems that arise. Although we do not wish to run ahead of the Lord we feel we must go forward in confidence and strength.

Mark Roberts

Medical Report

In the past year the medical work of Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends here in Bolivia has consisted of:

1. The medical treatment and dental work carried on at the farm by various missionaries.
2. Vaccinating and inoculating in six communities on the altiplano.
3. Vaccinating in La Paz during Junta.
4. Classes on health and care of the sick during Junta.
5. The preparation and distribution of a syllabus to instruct our pastors and school teachers in health and treatment of the sick.
6. The making of wooden kits with preparation of various first-aid articles and simple remedies for pastors and school teachers as a means of winning souls in the communities in which they serve.
7. The purchase of health posters to be distributed over our work.
8. The distribution of D.D.T. and soap in various communities on the altiplano to help prevent typhus and typhoid.
9. The treatment of various Indians from La Paz, the altiplano, and yungas at the mission home in La Paz.
10. The sending or taking of Indians to medical doctors and dentists in La Paz.
11. The sending or taking of Indians to health department in La Paz for x-ray for tuberculosis.
12. The treatment of sick in various communities on the altiplano.
13. The visitation of bed-fast patients in La Paz and on the altiplano.

14. The treatment of accidents and the sick in our day school in La Paz.

We feel the Lord has blessed in the medical work and that only the hand of God could have possibly cured some of the sick Indians. We feel that seed has been sown for eternity which is our goal in the medical work.

Wilma Roberts

Construction

The report of building lies mostly in the realm of what needs to be done rather than what has been done this year. As all know, our missionary staff has been very short this past year and the few that are here have nearly always had two jobs to do at a time. The things that could be left undone without suffering greatly were generally left. As much as I enjoy building, as for my part of responsibilities, the building program was the part left to suffer. First of all I would like to request your prayers that God shall bless in a way that this part shall soon be caught up.

The only churches that have been built this year are those at Vilaqui and at Karhuisa. These were done entirely by the brethren. On a recent visit I found forty present at Vilaqui and a little over twenty at Karhuisa. We rejoice in the growth of these places. I believe the finishing work on the church at Palcoco was also done this year. A church at Parina is now ready for the roof, for which part of the poles were recently hauled. Before this report is in print the rock for the foundation of the church at Jawira Pampa will also be hauled. The prospects are that there are some eight churches to be built this coming year, the half of which should have been built this last year.

Just a few months back the new Bible School building was started here at the farm. It was left in our hands to oversee this construction and we have done our best to keep it moving along. All of the missionaries have helped to actually see things cared for as needed, for which we are grateful. We anticipated having the roof on by the end of school, but it appears now that we may lack a little, however the walls should be almost complete and ready for the roof. All of the materials are on hand at present. We have seen the providential hand of God in many ways in getting these materials. The doors and windows, roof, and lumber for the roof framing have all been purchased at lower price than anticipated and the Lord providentially helped us in getting permission to take it out of La Paz. We give praise to God for every evidence of His blessing and guiding hand in this project. It is very probable that another year will present the need for another new building for dining room and kitchen. The present dining room and kitchen are very inadequate even now, but will no doubt be made to serve for one more year with the anticipation of a new building for the following year.

As stated in the beginning, our thoughts of building are more on what needs to be done. As we travel over the work and see the conditions of our buildings and the need of the work, it almost overwhelms us to think of what ought to be done. At least eight churches need to be built. Of the 17 church buildings which we have at present, six have no benches at all besides several which do not have half enough; nine have no pulpit, and others are inadequate; seven of the buildings are not plastered on the inside and only three are plastered on the outside; nine have no provision for a room or house where a pastor could live. Of the fifteen boys to be sent into the work after school is out, only three will have a place to live. The rest will have to rent a room, live at home, or live with some of the believers. Of eighteen other places where we have regular services, only five have any benches and I do not know of a one with a pulpit. Besides the building work over the altiplano there is quite an urgent need for an addition to the church in La Paz. At Yearly Meeting time each year our church is consistently overcrowded and we feel that the lack of room is beginning to hinder attendance. It has been suggested and sanctioned by the missionary council on the field to construct a balcony in the rear of the present auditorium if funds can be secured for it. This is a much needed project.

We think still more into the immediate future need that will come with the entering into the Lake and Yungas areas. If we do it with the force that it seems we should to meet the challenge, it will take a missionary family for each place and a missionary home for each will be needed in those areas.

In view of the immediate building program before us and realizing that construction will ever be a definite part of our missionary work, the missionary council is asking that definite consideration be given to the purchase of a small truck for hauling building materials. Much of the construction will be done where public truck service is not available, and even where it is available it is far from satisfactory and more than that, expensive. A jeep pickup truck has been suggested because of the item of four-wheel drive. This item we feel essential regardless of the make considered.

The need and challenge seems overwhelming, but we cannot push it aside or overlook it. It is a most essential part for the growth of the work. Do pray that God will help us to meet this great need.

It would be a mistake to present these needs without giving some calculation of prices, for they are so much different from what exists in the United States. The cost of a country church will generally range from $25 to $75, depending on the size and the part we must do. Some are already built and need only plaster and maybe added windows. Others we must supply poles for roof framing, doors, windows, and plaster. Parsonages will cost approximately $80 each. Benches for the churches will cost approximately $7 each, or estimating some 7 benches for a church, a church can be supplied for $50. Desks for the day schools will cost about $3 each, at present we could use some forty or fifty. The cost of a pulpit we have estimated at about $12. Other large items, such as missionary homes, balcony for the La Paz church, small truck, have not yet been estimated. Pray that God shall supply every need.

Treasurer's Report for the Bolivian Friends Mission

July 1, 1953—June 30, 1954

We thank everyone who has had a part through the regular church offerings or by special gift in giving to this most challenging work.

(1) Inflation of the boliviano went wild and although balances held in bolivianos depreciated, the over-all effect was for the dollar to go farther and to accomplish more. Inflation varied between 545 and 1,580 bolivianos to the dollar during the year.

(2) Balances: the balance in the Preacher-teacher fund appears large but this is due partly to our drawing some pastors back into school without salaries being paid during the school year. Now with some fourteen students going out and prospects of added schools another year this balance does not appear unduly large. Most of the balance in the Bible School capital fund will be used to complete the present Bible School building program. The Evangelism fund will soon be used to buy property for a new church in Palca.

(3) In the disbursement column is included also any losses in terms of dollars due to the inflation of the boliviano.

Farm Report

As I have watched the general spiritual advancement of the Bible School boys, it has made the investment of the Bible School farm worthwhile. Copajira Bible School farm is making an education available to our pastors and teachers. It has become recognized over our field as a place of spiritual uplift and where the pastors and workers can buy needed farm products for their personal use.

When a near famine struck the Amacari and Ojje area this past year the farm was able to help supply the needed produce for some of the brethren there.

The pastors, teachers, and Bible School students have realized the saving of hundreds of bolivianos in our reductions in prices to them. They have bought potatoes, chunos, tuntas, grain, sheep-hides and wool for their personal food and clothing.

On a number of sale days the past year we have had one fellow evangelizing among the people. One morning, during our school revival, when there were about 150 people waiting to buy grain we held an outdoor service for them with the school evangelist bringing the message. The reason for the farm is evangelization and we pray daily that we may recognize our opportunities.

Building has occupied much of our time this year on the farm. It is with thanksgiving unto God that we can look back and see the completion of sheep sheds and a new corral for the ewes, a new corral and feed barn for the cows, a 24 by 75 ft. machine shed, pit silo, a small potato cellar for the Bible School and mission use, and the enlargement of the garden space for the Bible School. All of these have been paid for by the farm without asking for financial help from the Yearly Meeting.

We have in transit a new D2 Caterpillar tractor, a new plow and disc, also bulldozer and toolbar. Of these, the farm expects to pay more than half of the cost from its funds this year.

Except for the Lord and His hand over all, it is unexplainable how we had such good harvest this year after a very early killing frost and many hail storms in the early crop season. He brought blessing out of chaos many times this year. One hundred ninety tons of potatoes and nearly 3000 bushels of grain were harvested. The gardens have supplied most of the vegetables for the school.

God is keeping His hand upon the land reform and we have faith to believe that it will come out very well for us when completed. It appears that we will be able to hold all of the land we can cultivate with the machinery. God's acres have brought many blessings this year.

Respectfully submitted,
Leland M. Hibbs

The Soul Cry of the Aymara

The material for this bi-monthly paper has been sent to be published in the Northwest Friend regularly during the year. Our purpose has been to give an over-all picture of the progress of our work, with additional information and personal news notes of the brethren and missionaries so as to inspire interest and prayer for the great needs about us. As we here are seeing new fields to be conquered, this publication will be used more and more to present the challenge and needs before us, trying to make the vision of expansion more clear to us all and the need for personal prayer and sacrifice to accomplish this. We hope to enlarge the scope of this paper and in some way fulfill more of the desire of the people in Oregon Yearly Meeting to know more of the work, to understand better the problems, and thus to be able to enter more heartily into its work of praying and giving.

A small mimeographed publication "El Amigo Suyo" (Your Friend) has been sent monthly to each national pastor and worker, as well as to the Bible School students. This paper has as its purpose the sending of devotional and instructional materials to the pastors, as well as suggesting methods and giving out materials for the presentation of Bible truths. "El Amigo Suyo", humble in its beginnings, and unpretentious in its appearance and size has the high purpose of being of use in the instruction and help for our national pastors, and of being a tie to bind them together in a mission unity and loyalty.

Respectfully submitted,
Phyllis Cammack

Linnea and Margaret Chapman sang a duet in Spanish, Aymara and English.

Merrill Coffin, vice-president of the board, read the following report:

PERSONAL REPORT OF THE MISSIONARY FIELD SECRETARY

Forwarded to the Yearly Meeting by the Board of Missions:

Since the Yearly Meeting has approved the recommendation of the Executive Committee that I serve as Missionary Field Secretary on a part time basis for the coming year, I feel that a report of my activities this past year should be made as I have served in this capacity under Missionary Board appointment.

For several years I have handled the official correspondence for the Board of Missions and during this past year have personally written 266 pieces of correspondence.

Approximately 200 hours have been spent in office work. This included the above mentioned correspondence as well as preparation of articles for publication and material for distribution in the amount of 26 releases.

Upon request from groups in Kansas Yearly Meeting for the use of slides of our mission work, I prepared a detailed script to accompany a set of 59 slides and glass mounted these slides.

One of the youth summer conferences requested my services in teaching a daily class on missions, with which request I was glad to comply. Eight missionary conferences throughout the Yearly Meeting received my assistance in planning and participation. In these and other services I have given 29 missionary messages and presentations.

The Evangelical Foreign Missions Association, in which we have membership, conducts an annual three-day retreat for mission executives which is highly valuable. I attended this retreat and was accompanied by our General Superintendent, Dean Gregory, in part of the sessions. While there we met with representatives of the missionary boards of Ohio and Kansas Yearly Meetings to explore possibilities for some cooperative effort between the three boards.

With Dean Gregory, I also attended sessions of Kansas Yearly Meeting and met with its Board of Missions in the interests of development of the aforementioned cooperative efforts. In further pursuance of this interest I attended the Evangelical Friends Conference at Oskaloosa, Iowa and met with a group representing the three boards mentioned above.

As a representative of the Board of Missions and administrator of the Wiley estate, which was deeded to the Yearly Meeting for the establishment of a missionary furlough home, I have given several days attention to this matter.

These services have required a total time of twelve weeks away from home and have involved travel of approximately 15,000 miles.

Sincerely, I feel that these privileges have brought to me far greater spiritual blessings and personal enlargement than to any who may have been affected by these services.

Respectfully submitted as a fellow-servant in Christ.

Walter P. Lee, president
Board of Missions

Walter Lee brought the following recommendation from the board which was approved:

For some years exploration has been conducted on both a personal and official level by representatives of the Boards of Missions of Ohio, Kansas and Oregon Yearly Meetings relative to some type of cooperation designed to present a united picture of the evangelical missionary work being done by these three Yearly Meetings and other evangelical Yearly Meetings with their own missionary programs.

Official representatives of the Boards of Missions of the three Yearly Meetings afore mentioned met in Oskaloosa, Iowa on July 1, 1954, and proposed the following cooperative program:

1. That a joint missionary publication be produced three times per year in the months of January, May and September and that it be named, "The Missionary Voice of Evangelical Friends."

2. That the cooperating boards replace their own missionary publications with this joint publication for the designated months and that their respective publication funds for these months be combined to finance the joint publication, and that "The Missionary Voice of Evangelical Friends" be sent to the combined mailing list of the cooperating boards.

3. That the publication board consist of the Yearly Meeting superintendents and the presidents of the Boards of Missions of the cooperating boards.

The Board of Missions of Oregon Yearly Meeting has considered this proposition and recommends that Oregon Yearly Meeting authorize the Board of Missions to cooperate in this program.

On behalf of the Board of Missions
Walter P. Lee, president

The Mission Board expressed appreciation for the long service of Earl Barker and for J. Allen Dunbar who are resigning this year.

Walter Lee reported that September 15 would be the last day for getting articles to the Chapmans that are to go by freight. It was suggested that a donation to help on the cost of freight would be appreciated.

He said there was a great need to carry on the work in the Yungas. It is hoped that the Knights can help in this work.

Plans will be worked out for a deputation program this fall. Along with the deputation work conferences are being planned and handbooks are being prepared. The calendars are to be used again and everyone is urged to support them.

A skit was presented by the missionaries to show how some of their services are carried on.

A dedication prayer was offered by Dean Gregory for the missionaries who are to go soon to the mission field.

The program was appreciated and the reports were accepted.

The organization of the Mission Board was read and will appear in the Appendix.

DIGEST OF THE MEETINGS OF THE MINISTRY AND OVERSIGHT BODY

The meeting on Ministry and Oversight met at Newberg, Oregon, August 11th, 1954 at 3:00 p.m. There were four meetings of this body during the sessions of the Yearly Meeting. Twenty-nine of the forty-five representatives were present at the first meeting.

In the reports of the spiritual condition of the meetings there was manifest a spirit of harmony and unity in spiritual things. Although differences had arisen they had been overcome by prayer and Christian love. One meeting was not entirely clear on the subject of bearing arms.

Concerns were expressed as to our attitude toward the amusements of the day and suitable adornment. Friends felt that queries 3, 5 and 8 helped to answer these questions. It takes time to be holy.

There were six men recommended to the Yearly Meeting to be recorded as ministers.

Interesting letters were received from over half of the ministers who are not pastors. Many have exercised their gift in the ministry and are a blessing to the church.

The meeting favored having a reading course of Quaker history and doctrine etc. for those who are to be recorded as ministers and that suitable books be supplied for the pastors.

The meeting adjourned to meet in Greenleaf, Idaho, in August, 1955.
