MINUTES of OREGON YEARLY MEETING OF FRIENDS

- 1. The sixty-ninth session of Oregon Yearly Meeting convenes at Greenleaf, Idaho, August 16, 1961, with praise to our heavenly Father for His guidance in the past and an earnest prayer that His presence shall be manifest in every board meeting, in our business sessions and meetings for worship.
- 2. Wayne Piersall led the congregation in singing "The Solid Rock," after which Grace Clark led in prayer.
- 3. A visiting minute was received for Kenneth Pitts of Friendswood, Texas, pastor of Friendswood Monthly Meeting in Friendswood Quarterly Meeting of Kansas Yearly Meeting.
- 4. Visiting friends were introduced as follows: Ellis and Nelle Beals from Wichita, Kansas; Harold Beck from Kotzebue, Alaska, the new pastor at Rosedale Friends Church; and Mahlon Macy from Wheaton, Illinois. Greetings were brought by Clayton Brown from his mother, Gertrude Brown, a pioneer of Greenleaf Monthly Meeting. A letter of return greeting will be sent to her by the committee to write to aged Friends.
- 5. Dean Gregory, General Superintendent, delivered the keynote address as follows:

Recently a piece of advertizing came to my desk with the attractive heading, "We have reserved a 'Freedom from Worry Package' exclusively for you." The invitation to investigate such a wonderful possibility appealed to me, and I discovered upon further reading, that this magic package would be sent to me free of charge, with no obligations on my part.

The advertizer had hit upon a universal appeal. A majority of people are plagued with worries, they are looking for a tailor-made sure-fire, easy remedy for their woes and troubles, and if there is no personal obligation attached, what is there to lose? As another company claimed in their punch line, "You have nothing to lose, you have everything to gain." This sort of psychology sells a product, regardless of its quality.

The church of Jesus Christ has in its hand the most priceless treasure in all the world. It is offered freely as a remedy for the worries, troubles and conflicts which disturb men's souls. It is offered without price but not without obligation, for it takes a life-time of dedicated service to fulfill the requirements of love poured out of the heart of our gracious heavenly Father.

There is no doubt that men need assurance in these days, and an assurance that is based on an absolute authority. We must have a solid ground and when we have found this sure foundation, in the living Word of God, we begin to understand what Paul, the apostle, meant when he wrote to Timothy, "For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind." (Second Timothy 2:7).

STAND IN FAITH

The church has been for too long on the defensive. We have too often taken a passive attitude toward the fundamental responsibilities of the Christian faith. We have tried to measure up to a standard of self-respect by measuring our responsibility by what others do, and when that is done we feel content that we have done our share. Friends, if we want a standard to use for a measure, let's look to Jesus Christ whose measure of devotion and dedication was complete obedience to His Father. "Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus: who being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God: but made himself of no reputation, and took upon him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men: And being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross." (Phil. 2:5-8).

I thank God that there have been some signs of holy discontent among the brethren. There is an earnest reaching forth unto the things ahead. There is a serious desire, on the part of many, to make the church a maximum good in the world. In order to do this, we must be willing to stand up and be counted, and there is a price tag on that kind of dedication. The way of personal holiness demands an all-out commitment and dedication.

Paul wrote to the Ephesian believers, outlining God's purpose for the church, and exhorting them in the Christian way. In closing his epistle, Paul becomes specific about the problems facing the church — and they were spiritual problems. He outlines carefully the position of the Christian and his part in the warfare of faith:

"Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of His might. Put on the whole armour of God, that you may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places. Wherefore, take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand. Stand therefore . . ." (Ephesians 6:10-14a).

A review of sacred history reveals a continuous procession of God's saints who were willing to stand in hard places, who were willing to hazard their lives and actually offer up their lives gladly for the cause of the Gospel. The Epistle to the Hebrews illustrates this point with a long list of classic examples of men who actually did stand uncompromising and unswerving in their dedication to God and His cause. There is found here no evidence of self-pity, no backsliding, no half-baked devotion, for God's great hall of fame includes only those whose dedication is total.

These are days when the lines are being drawn more sharply than ever before in matters of faith and conduct. God grant us more Joshuas who will sharpen the focus of truth so that we will choose whom we will serve, and God grant that we will move into the great lineage of faith and cry, ". . . but as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord."

May I outline four areas where there needs to be a clear-cut stand by the Friends of Oregon Yearly Meeting: First, we must stand together in our faith, for faith is basic and essential to all other Christian virtues. Second, we must stand in unity, for this is the only way to strength. Third, we must stand together in witness, for this is the heart of the matter — making disciples of all nations. And finally, we must stand together in service, for this is the demonstration of the measure of our sincerity.

To the man of the world, faith may seem only an uninteresting abstraction. But faith really is the vehicle that gets us to God. "Faith is the assurance (the confirmation, the title-deed) of the things (we) hope for, being the proof of things (we) do not see and the conviction of their reality — faith perceiving as real fact what is not revealed to the senses." (Hebrews 11:1 — Amplified version).

We are all well acquainted with matters of elementary faith. We know that without faith we cannot please God, so we may say to ourselves, "Have faith enough to get by, but don't overdo, don't get yourself out on a limb." What we are really saying is, "Don't expect too much of God, don't overwork Him." Oh, how small is our faith!

Do you believe we could establish another new foreign mission field this year? Do you believe we could see three or four new churches established this year? Do you believe that it is possible to double your church attendance and provide adequate facilities for the new converts this year? Do you believe we should expect to send out at least a dozen well trained and prepared young ministers, missionaries, and Christian workers each year? Do you believe we can join hearts and hands to get four of our young churches out of basement meeting houses and into attractive church buildings this year? Do you believe we should expect to see conversions and spiritual victories frequently throughout the whole year in all our churches?

I am convinced, that if your answer to these questions is an enthusiastic affirmative, that we may yet experience a real revival of faith and spiritual life in our beloved church. Faith is more than mental assent; faith is all-out action to cooperate with God in the greatest program on earth. We will have about what we really want and expect in our churches. "According to your faith be it unto you." (Matthew 9:29).

STAND IN UNITY

Unity among believers is of utmost importance. Jesus said, "By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another." (John 13:35). It is a very sad commentary that Friends the world over are divided into schisms and factions. This, of course, is the price of compromise and spiritual declension among members of the church. We earnestly pray for a revival and a mighty spiritual restoration among Friends everywhere, beginning within our own Yearly Meeting.

It is doubly important that all Friends who experience the new life in Christ, and daily look to Him through the Holy Spirit's illumination of the written Word of God, should be united in heart and action in carrying out the work of God. This unity comes not so much in stated form but in living loyalty and cooperation in the tasks that are now ours to perform.

There is an honest seeking among evangelical Friends for an effective means of cooperation across American Quakerdom. We must be big enough to reach our hands across the borders of our Yearly Meetings and begin to act and operate like a church, rather than tiny segments scattered here and there across the country. Most important in all this, is the strong maintenance of a clear, Bible-centered, Christ-honoring testimony of our most precious faith.

Within our own Yearly Meeting fellowship, I have discerned a need for closer unity and purpose. God grant that the Friends of the Northwest may stand in unity, as one man, in the faith, hope and love of the Gospel.

STAND IN WITNESS

Jesus said, "... Ye shall be witnesses unto me ..." (Acts 1:8). A faithful witness is concerned about one primary thing, that is, the truth as he has seen it. A witness has had an "on the scene experience" and knows from personal experience that his witness is true.

The word "witness" comes from the Greek word "martur," from which we get our English word "martyr." A martyr is one who bears witness to the truth, even at the expense of his own life. The cloud of witness bearers, referred to in Hebrews 12:1, illustrates the ultimate result of such witnessing. It may be that our witness in future days will be borne at the risk of our lives, but the command is still as clear as when the Master spoke it two millenniums ago, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature." (Mark 16:15). And let us bear in mind that this witness begins where we are, and it is not a delegated responsibility, but a part of the everyday business of bearing His cross, and sharing His glory. If you are a Christian, you are a witness. What kind of witness are you?

STAND IN SERVICE

Christian service is not merely a by-product of Christianity, but a part of the heart of the gospel. Jesus did not heal the sick, provide food for the hungry and drive away demons, just in order to get next to people and gain their confidence. He did these deeds of mercy because he loved the folk whom he was helping. The gospel is not only a matter of faith in doctrine and experience, but it is a matter of concern for the welfare of people everywhere. But we must keep the order straight. Service without Christ and His saving grace lasts only as long as the service lasts, but compassionate service, which sheds Jesus' love and grace into the hearts of the recipients, is a bestowment with eternity in it.

We Friends have a worthy heritage of the grace of Christian service. There are needy ones all about us. Many are too busy to take notice or to care. God has given us the wealth we have in order that we might serve Him better and share with those in the world of need.

Christian missions is the greatest, most effective and far-reaching peace corps which our country has ever provided the world's needy places. Your greatest contribution toward understanding and peace will be your support, in prayers and gifts, of your own great missionary program.

Too often we become weary in our strenuous activity for the Lord. We need to always remember that God really doesn't need our help, but He needs us and our love. When we get ourselves in a proper relationship with God — "laborers together with God," we will find a new peace and joy, knowing it is not our own little effort that counts so much, as it is God's presence and blessing as He multiplies our little and makes it His much.

Friends, we may be relying too much on our own effort to bring God's favor and blessing upon us. He isn't looking for mighty men, but He is looking for yielded men.

In the words of St. Francis of Assisi:

Lord, make us instruments of Thy peace.
Where there is hatred, let us sow love;
Where there is injury, pardon;

Where there is discord, union;
Where there is doubt, faith;
Where there is despair, hope;
Where there is darkness, light;
Where there is sadness, joy;
for Thy mercy and Thy truth's sake.

At the close of this message expression was given of deep appreciation for this timely challenge to the church.

● 6. The following resignation was read from Ruth Brown:

Having moved beyond the continental limits of the Yearly Meeting, I hereby submit my resignation as recording clerk of Oregon Yearly Meeting.

I am happy for the privilege I have had of serving the Yearly Meeting for these past 14 years, 10 years as assistant recording clerk, and four years as recording clerk. Now I feel privileged in our being able to serve in this new capacity as missionaries in Bolivia. We covet your prayers on our behalf.

This was referred to the representatives to fill the vacancy.

● 7. The committee on returning minutes was named as follows: Mary Sutton, Esther White, Herman Macy. Approved.

● 8. The memorial committee was appointed as follows: Scott Clark, Sarah McCracken, Alice Coulson. Approved.

● 9. The committee to write letters to aged Friends was named as follows: Alice Ross, Willard Kennon, Evert Tuning. Approved.

● 10. The reports on the state of the church were read and summarized as follows:

Throughout the Yearly Meeting there was an expression of deep appreciation for rich blessings this past year, for new ground gained and for the desire that is in evidence for a deeper walk with the Lord. Concern was expressed by many for the unsaved people about us.

Attendance at meetings has been good, generally, with some increase in Sunday and Wednesday evening attendance. A hope of better attendance this coming year was expressed.

All reported the ministry of pastors to be excellent and a challenge and encouragement for better daily living. It is felt to be meeting the needs of those in the services.

Family devotions are held in a number of homes and private devotions are a source of spiritual strength as evidenced in the lives of many members. Friends are working together harmoniously in the churches and this fact is a testimony to the world about us. Appreciation was expressed for the consecrated young people who are growing in spiritual things. They are encouraged to assume leadership and are given opportunity of service in the church, that their abilities may be developed. Many spirit-filled individuals are working in our meetings.

Concern was expressed, however, that members have a spiritual awakening and a real deepening in their desire to grow more like our Master. All desire to increase the outreach of our meetings, to include more of those about us who are in such need of knowing our Lord and Saviour.

Doctrinal standards of Friends are upheld. Care is taken in the choosing of those in leadership that they may be in full accord with these standards. Classes in Friends' doctrine were held in many meetings. Special meetings held through the year have been a means of spiritual growth.

The desire of the coming year is that the Kingdom of Christ may be extended by dedicated men and women pledged to do their utmost in reaching the lost for Christ.

● 12. The following communication was received from Portland Quarterly Meeting:

Should the annual reports be approved by the Monthly Meeting before being submitted to the Quarterly Meeting?

This was tabled with the suggestion that Russel Stands and Dorwin Smith refer to the Discipline and bring a statement concerning clarification to another session. (See Minute 24).

● 13. The following communication was forwarded from Newberg Quarterly Meeting:

Newberg Quarterly Meeting approved the following communication from Newberg Monthly Meeting:

Because there is great need of unity among Friends this meeting urges the Monthly Meeting to follow the suggestions of Arthur Roberts as found on page of the last issue of Concern.

From Concern, Vol. 3, No. 3, of July, 1961, p. 1.

"I propose that Friends take the following steps in an effort to discover unity and recapture the spirit of united vision which will make our message more largely heard:

1. Strengthen such bonds of unity as we now have.
2. Define our doctrines and write them into a common discipline.
3. Work toward the establishment of a Friends church as a body through which the various Yearly Meetings may take actions of extension and concerns which are coherent with evangelical beliefs.

To this end I suggest a series of conferences called by one or more Yearly Meetings to effect these steps."

This was referred to the representatives for study.

- 14. The following was received from the Board of Moral Action:

The Board of Moral Action, in session August 15, 1961, considered a concern which has often been expressed to this board, that the work of committees in our monthly meetings would be improved if the monthly meetings would insist upon a regular report from the committees. It was also felt that in many of our churches the Handbook is not adequately distributed nor properly used. The board felt that these things are so frequently absent in our monthly meetings that a need for training of officers and committee chairmen is in evidence.

It was reported that there was no advance publicity of Yearly Meeting in the Idaho papers. This lack of publicity being regrettable, this board feels the Yearly Meeting should delegate the responsibility for such publicity to some person or office, so that it will be cared for in subsequent years.

The meeting approved referring this to the representatives for study and action.

- 15. The epistle from our Bolivian Friends was read. This was referred to the Epistle Committee to prepare a returning epistle.

- 16. The report of the Yearly Meeting treasurer was presented and approved. This report appears in the appendix.

A standing vote of appreciation was given for the service of Roger and Mildred Minthorne in their efficient work in keeping the treasurer's books.

- 17. Dean Gregory introduced the following visitors: George L. Ford, Executive Director of the National Association of Evangelicals from Wheaton, Illinois; Walter P. Lee, General Superintendent of Rocky Mountain Yearly Meeting, and his wife, Carol.

- 18. The morning inspirational hour opened with singing "He Hideth My Soul" and "O For a Thousand Tongues."

Nathan Pierson, vice president of the Board of Evangelism, introduced our speaker, Kenneth Pitts, pastor of Friendswood Friends Church in Friendswood, Texas.

Psalm 119:126 was the basis for the message of the morning.

It is time for Thee to work. The Psalmist being so close to God to feel His heartbeat now prayed this prayer for God to do His work.

It is time to work because people have made void the laws of God: the moral law of God — saying "there is no God." The spiritual law of God — the world is neglecting and forgetting the church. Because of the impotence of the church it is time to work for a spiritual revival.

We need the faith that God can bring revival in spite of our troubled world, but this faith must be a commitment to be used of God and the Holy Spirit in bringing revival to the Friends church.

Nathan Pierson closed the session with prayer.

Wednesday, 2:15 p.m.

- 19. Following a time of meditation Edward Baker led in prayer in the devotional time.

- 20. George L. Ford, Executive Director of the National Association of Evangelicals, presented the work of that organization.

Evangelicals believe in unity — unity of believers in preaching the Bible as the Word of God that the world may believe. He stressed their program of reading the Bible through in '62.

- 21. Evert Tuning submitted his resignation on the committee to write letters to aged Friends. Louella Brown was named to serve in his place.
- 22. The list of caretakers was presented as follows:

Reta Eidemiller
Daniel Roberts
Marian Smith
Karen Burton
Beth Fuller
Janice Kennon
Bruce Ankeny

Jeanne Cronrath
Anita Phillips
Marilyn Binford
Philip Davis
Melvin Hull
Norma Duncan
Judy Duncan

- 23. The representatives presented the name of May Nordyke to fill the vacancy of recording clerk for the sessions of this Yearly Meeting. Approved.

- 24. A discussion was entered into regarding Minute 12. A decision was made that annual reports be approved by the Monthly Meeting before being sent to Quarterly Meeting if possible; if not, they should be approved after the Quarterly Meeting sessions.

BOARD OF PEACE AND SERVICE

- 25. Merle Green, president of the Board of Peace and Service, read the annual report of the board.

Our Lord and Master laid down many great truths, gave us definite commands and placed upon us as Christians two unequivocal commissions. This first commission is to pursue and be makers of peace with all men. The second commission is to minister to the humanitarian need of mankind. Our doctrine of peace and our service to those in need are two important phases of the work of our Yearly Meeting. It is the prayer and aim of the Board of Peace and Service that we be doers of the Word in promoting this area of our Yearly Meeting program. We have endeavored to implement each Monthly Meeting committee in becoming active and being a functioning part of the church. This past year our board has sponsored the ministry of Paul Mills who has brought the peace message in all of our Quarterly Meetings except one. We have had 12,000 copies of the brochure "Our Peace Testimony" printed. A number of these have been distributed to each Monthly Meeting and a quantity sent to the American Friends Peace Service for distribution. Five hundred of the table cards entitled "A Daily Meditation for Youth" were printed and distributed to the Monthly Meetings. The week of October 16-23 was suggested as "Peace Emphasis Week" throughout the Yearly Meeting. Each pastor was contacted and encouraged to preach on the doctrine of peace this week. In mid-winter board meeting our board gave study and planning to a C. O. counseling program. Nine area C. O. counselors were appointed: Paul Goins, Seattle area; Earl Geil, S. W. Washington area; Bernhard Fedde, Portland area; Harvey Campbell, Newberg area; Elvett Brown, Inland area; John Fankhauser, Salem area; Clark Smith, Southern Oregon area; Erwin Cloud, Greenleaf area and Harold Antrim, Boise area. These counselors, pastors and others who could attend were brought together June 2 at Newberg, Oregon for a C. O. Counselors' Seminar to study the doctrine of peace, the legal aspects and the procedures for a C. O. to follow as he faces the draft. The board is endeavoring to do its part in providing openings for civilian work as it is needed for the C. O. boys.

A detailed copy of the "Blood Supply Program" has been mailed out to every pastor and chairman of the Peace and Service committee. Investigation for a boys' home and school has continued for the year. The Friendsview Manor has been in operation since April 1. Thirteen ministers and widows of Oregon Yearly Meeting are now residing at the Manor and are receiving benefits from the Manor totaling $31,500. The president of the Board of Peace and Service represented the board and took part in the dedication of the Manor.

The following is a summary of the reports of the local meetings of the Yearly Meeting:

(July 1, 1960 — June 30, 1961, 48 churches reporting).

HOME RELIEF

28 churches reported giving food and clothing to needy families.

5 churches planning to put "Blood Supply Program" into effect.

3 churches have pantries.

Money expended — $215.14. Three others gave unreported amounts of money.

FOREIGN RELIEF

1. Clothing — 267 lbs. shipped. (217 lbs. N. A. E. World Relief Commission)

2. Food — 1 care package; canning for Sprague River.

3. Money expended — $254.80

4. Promotional efforts — 3 churches used films; 3 special speakers; WMU is the channel in some churches and some churches report Bolivia receives their foreign relief.

PEACE

1. Number of young men or women serving in the armed services — 28.

2. Number in armed services serving as non-combatants (1-A-O's) — 2.

3. Number serving as Conscientious Objectors (1-O's) — 7.

4. Number registered as C.O.'s but as of present have not been called to service — 34.

5. Number registered as non-combatants but as of present not called — 11.

6. Programs carried out to counsel young men who are facing Selective Service — 15 pastoral counseling.

17 or more churches had a representative at C.O. Seminar.

7. Number of young men who are 15 to 18 years of age (names and addresses included) — 152.

8. Teaching the Christian doctrine of peace:

25 or more pastors preached on peace

10 classes — discussion groups — C.E. — (13 weeks)

Presentations in S.S. Paul Mills, 5 Quarterly Meetings

9. Promotional work of Monthly Meeting committees:

Only 9 of the 48 meetings reported any activity.

All 9 distributed all available literature.

Two conducted church prayer meetings.

Two made Sunday school presentations.

Believing the words of Jesus to apply to every member of Oregon Yearly Meeting when He said, "He that heareth these sayings of mine and doeth them is a wise man and will be able to stand upright in the day of Judgment," we have endeavored as a board to be acting upon the Word in serving our Lord and fulfilling our responsibility to the Yearly Meeting.

The work of the World Relief Commission of the National Association of Evangelicals was spoken to by Mahlon Macy.

Kelsey Hinshaw urged each Monthly Meeting to approve the Blood Bank program.

Charles Beals stated that residents at Friendsview Manor are increasing, and that probably in the very near future all rooms will be occupied, and there will be a waiting list.

Peter Fertello, much interested in a home and school for boys, has continued to work this year on this concern.

The peace position of Friends was emphasized by Dean Gregory as he read Psalm 37:11. The doctrine of peace is an evangelistic doctrine and is a part of the gospel of Jesus Christ. Jesus is looking for men who will prove the gospel of peace.

The meeting approved the report.

● 26. The meeting adjourned, after prayer by David Fendall, to meet at 9:15 Thursday morning.

Thursday, 9:15 a.m.

● 27. The morning business session opened with prayer by Thomas Rule.

● 28. The minutes of the Wednesday sessions were read and approved.

● 29. David and Florence Thomas, recently returned from service as missionaries in Bolivia, were introduced to the meeting.

Leslie McHargue, who has been serving in alternate service in Bolivia, was introduced and also his friend, Leon Nelson.

Other visiting Friends were: Preston and Maxine Hockett and daughter Glenda from Hutchinson, Kansas, Kansas Yearly Meeting.

BOARD OF CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

● 30. Gene Hockett, president of the board, presented the report which appears as follows:

As we review the work of the Board of Christian Education for the past year we are thankful for the areas in which we have seen improvement. Also of great concern are the areas in which there has been a noticeable decline of effort and advancement.

One of the greatest efforts put forth by the board during the past year has been in the area of conferences and camps. Under the direction of Howard E. Harmon a study has been made of our summer camping programs within the Yearly Meeting, in accord with Minute 67 of 1960. Two representatives, Howard E. Harmon and Gene Hockett, were sent to the Western Conference, and Camping Association Conference at Pacific Palisades, California in October. Here they received the latest information on camping and were challenged at the tremendous opportunity in this field of ministry. Charlotte Macy, Gordon St. George and Elizabeth Bishop were also sent by Twin Rocks conferences.

Two meetings were held with representatives from the different boards and the second with representatives from the program planning committees. A separate report will present the recommendations concerning the future in camping.

The second Highways and Byways contest was held last November with 43 of the churches participating.

This year the Board of Christian Education co-operated with the Boards of Evangelism and Missions in the week of emphasis at George Fox College.

It is regretted that due to several unforeseen circumstances the materials for boys and girls clubs were not completed and placed into wide circulation during this year. However, in the places where the materials were used they received good acceptance.

This year completed the first five years of emphasis on the Standards of Excellence for the Sunday schools. It is believed that these have been profitable years in helping to establish the work of many of our Sunday schools.

A review of the reports for this year shows a total average attendance of 5,917 which is an increase of only 103 above last year. Of the 34 churches showing an increase, 11 were above 10%. They were as follows: Svensen, 59%; Bethany, 45%; Silverton, 20%; Seattle Memorial, 19%; Chehalem Center, 15%; Quincy, 14%; Tigard, 13%; Agnew, 13%; Ashland, 12%; Lynwood, 12%; Cherry Grove, 11%. A new Sunday school, Emmett, reported a gain of 33.

The Standard of Excellence ratings are as follows: 11, Gold Crown; 6, Silver Crown; 9, Blue Crown.

GOLD	SILVER	BLUE
Silverton	Quincy	Spokane
South Salem	Agnew	Caldwell
Lynwood	Medford	Nampa
Svensen	Cherry Grove	Star
Piedmont	Newberg	Metolius
Rose Valley	Pringle	Woodland
Eugene		West Chehalem
Oak Park		East Wenatchee
Sherwood		Whitney

CO-OPERATING: Tigard, Second Friends, Holly Park, Chehalem Center, Marion, Highland, Hayden Lake, First Friends, Ashland, Boise, Talent, Homedale, Greenleaf, McKinley Ave., Forest Home, Ontario, Meadows, Hillsboro, Netarts, Quilcene, Newport, Entiat, Riverside, Melba, Sprague River, Parkrose, Everett, Timber, Vancouver 1st, Maplewood, Rosedale, N.E. Tacoma.

Other Christian Education activities reported included: 43 vacation Bible schools with 3,331 enrolled, 26 junior, primary, or cherub churches. Fourteen carry on some type of club work for boys and girls and young people. The Christian Endeavor enrollments were: senior, 631; intermediate, 248; junior and primary, 384. There were 1,051 reported to have attended camp during 1960. Of the 10 churches assisted by the board in conducting vacation Bible schools there was an enrollment of 404 pupils with 66 recorded decisions.

Teacher training courses were held in 27 churches during the year. The recommended courses are the Evangelical Teacher Training materials. Each church is encouraged to provide a teacher training course during the coming year.

A new project that was undertaken this year was the formation of a filmstrip library to be used by the churches of the Yearly Meeting on a rental basis. The filmstrips available are listed on a separate sheet for your convenience. We plan to use a major portion of the money received from the Yearly Meeting Sunday schools in the 25¢ per average attendance offering for purchase of additional strips during the coming year. These may be ordered from Barclay Press, Newberg, Oregon.

A new Sunday school attendance contest entitled "White Unto Harvest Time" will be held in October, 1961. Each Sunday school is urged to enter and make a real effort to increase their attendance this fall.

The board is encouraging and assisting in area workshops throughout the Yearly Meeting during the next few months. We desire to give more assistance to the local churches where it is desired and needed.

The Standards of Excellence will continue as a basic standard for the Sunday schools of Oregon Yearly Meeting. There are some minor revisions and simplifications in ratings but the basic standards remain.

Every Sunday school should strive to become more efficient and more effective and it is intended that the Standard of Excellence serve as a guide for a well-rounded program and achievement.

We wish to express our sincere appreciation for the faithfulness of each worker in the Sunday schools, Christian Endeavors, club programs and all Christian education work. It is our prayer that during the coming year we may have even a greater vision of the opportunities of services and a deeper dedication to do our very best service to reap a harvest of souls through Christian education.

REPORT OF YEARLY MEETING CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

The past year in C. E. has been filled with activity for those directing this phase of Christian education work. The Executive committee has had many new officers who have been learning from their responsibilities.

Mid-Winter Convention, an annual C. E. highlight, although somewhat smaller than last year was quite successful. Seventy-five of the outstanding youth in the Yearly Meeting took part in the Leadership Conference which preceded this annual convention. Many C. E.'s got a boost from the time of training and spiritual challenge.

The C. E. was represented by at least one of the Yearly Meeting officers at each of the summer camps. C. E. classes added to the full schedule of activities at these gatherings. Chorus books were donated to each camp as a special project of the C. E.

The program at Yearly Meeting has been greatly expanded, drawing many C. E'ers. The "Orbit" training conference consisted of practical know-how sessions designed to prepare the new officers for a year of growth and progress. After the beginning of regular Yearly Meeting sessions, C. E. activities have been sandwiched in between the highlights of Yearly Meeting. Over 125 attended the first night of the pre-Yearly Meeting Orbit session.

As the challenges of the new year are faced, the leaders of the C. E. bear a real concern that Christian Endeavor carry out its purpose while working through the church. The young people covet the prayers, interest and support of the entire church as they endeavor to do their part in the task of outreach as well as preparing for the future.

Lonny Fendall, Y.M.C.E. President

CAMPING REPORT FOR 1960-1961

The Christian education board has been thrilled with the response this year over the Yearly Meeting with the camping program. Truly camping is one of the most effective ways to reach our youth for Christ and to help them to develop a wholesome outlook on all of life as God would have them.

At the direction of the Yearly Meeting a camping committee was named to consider minutes 15 and 67 of last year's session. Two delegates from the board and three others from the Yearly Meeting attended the Western Conference and Camp Association meeting in Pacific Palisades, California. This is an association of Christian camps.

The group gathered information and ideas on all phases of camping and was amazed with the various ideas collected and how they could be used in the camping program of Oregon Yearly Meeting.

Two meetings have been held with the representatives from each of the present conferences in O.Y.M. One was held at the mid-winter C. E. convention and the other at mid-year board meeting time. These meetings were a time of sharing ideas, hearing reports of those attending the W.C.C.A., discussing the philosophy of O.Y.M. camping and thinking together regarding minute 15.

Out of this study the following recommendations come to better the camping program of the whole Yearly Meeting.

1. That a financial statement from each of the summer camps be sent to the Christian education board to be included in the Yearly Meeting minutes.
2. That a regular meeting of conference leaders be held annually at mid-year board meeting. Each senior conference program chairman and one other from each conference area, plus the camping committee from the Board of Christian Education shall make up this committee. The camp committee chairman of the Board of Christian Education will be chairman of this committee.
3. That one of the items to be considered by this conference of camp leaders will be to write their conception of an organization that could be patterned by camps throughout the Yearly Meeting.

After spending much time regarding the suggestion to dispose of our present conference ground and purchasing one central ground the board does not favor the idea for the following reasons.

- a. The Yearly Meeting does not now own the present conference ground.
- b. A central ground would decrease our attendance.
- c. Local interest in finances, work days and over-all support is helped by having local camps.
- d. Diversified locations could enable O.Y.M. to have a program geared to the natural setting and give real variety in our summer camp program.
- e. Ideal camps are around 100 in attendance. Central grounds would not increase this ideal number.

Let us all pray and work now that our camping program for next year and the years ahead will be the best possible.

Howard E. Harmon, Camp committee chairman

Dorothy Barratt told of an area workshop for four Quarterly Meetings to be held at Menucha camp, September 29-30.

Blue ribbons were presented to Silverton, South Salem, and Lynwood Sunday schools for their rating in the Standards of Excellence emphasis.

Material for club work will be available in a short time.

Howard E. Harmon asked these to speak on the church camping program: Charlotte Macy and Charles Morgan.

● 31. The report on Western Evangelical Seminary was presented by Gene Hockett in the absence of President Paul Petticord. There has been a concern throughout the Yearly Meeting that there be a closer tie between the Yearly Meeting and the seminary. This coming year the Yearly Meeting will assist in support of the seminary to the sum of $1,500. This next year a Friend, Myron Goldsmith, will serve on the faculty at the seminary.

● 32. The Board of Christian Education, in answer to minutes 15 and 67 in last year's printed minutes, stated that they do not favor disposing of the present conference grounds and purchasing one central camp.

The session concurred in this opinion.

A recommendation from the Board of Christian Education that a financial statement from each of the summer camps be sent to the Board of Christian Education and be included in the Yearly Meeting minutes was read. Approved.

Discussion followed regarding two more recommendations. These were tabled until another session. (See minute 30 and 36).

BOARD OF MORAL ACTION

- 33. The report was presented by Russel Stands, president of the board.

Report for Year 1960-1961

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC MORALS — Virginia Helm, superintendent

The statistical report doesn't show significant trends this year but it indicates that we may have relaxed just a little after the excellent report of last year. "Be not weary," for the liquor industry never relaxes.

Visual aids have been used to good advantage, such as many posters, filmstrips, flannelgraphs, movies and object lessons.

Interest in legislation and public issues is evidenced by a continued work in this field. Seven Quarterly Meeting Moral Action chairmen and other board members received regular subscriptions to legislative newsletters. Bulletin and public announcements were given during crucial times, the Yearly Meeting was represented at several hearings, many letters were sent and, when necessary, telegrams and phone messages were also sent. There was an attempt to get information from all three states. These legislative concerns were printed in THE NORTH-WEST FRIEND. At least two Monthly Meetings cooperated in community efforts on public morals issues. Four hundred eighty-five letters were sent out urging letter-writing against longer tavern hours in Oregon.

The public moral statements approved last year were mimeographed, marked, and sent with correspondence to more than fifty organizations, airlines, radio and TV studios and legislators. These statements were endorsed by another organization and were printed in at least three temperance and other publications.

Literature samples were sent to all Monthly Meeting committees and pastors on three different occasions along with 350 letters with suggestions for their use. A temperance bulletin cover was suggested and subsequently printed. Temperance material was provided for four Quarterly Meeting C. E. rallies near Youth Temperance Education Week.

DEPARTMENT OF LITERATURE — Ruthanna Hampton, Superintendent.

Friends in the past felt that education was important and sacrificed to provide good training for their young people. With education came the ability and desire to read, which was their intent since they believed the Bible should be an open Book read by everyone in order that the Holy Spirit might be better able to reveal divine truths and daily light to the individual. Thus the purpose of the literature department fits into the past and present message of Friends — that all should read the Word of God, that it might speak to each person's needs and that our other reading should enrich and not weaken our spiritual lives.

Our report represents two-thirds of our meetings which doesn't give us a complete picture, but will help us see what our interests are. We realize that a meeting reporting they had no plan as a church for systematic Bible reading does not mean they do not read the Bible. We do appreciate the efforts made by pastors and literature committees in about one-half of our meetings to encourage this most important reading by supplying reading lists and schedules put out by the American Bible Society, by making their own lists, by group study of books of the Bible, by individual use of devotional booklets such as Fruit of the Vine, and by contests, awards and recognitions made for reading through the whole Bible. Let's not take it for granted that everyone is going to do a lot of Bible reading — many need definite help and encouragement to get started in and to keep up this as a daily habit.

Forty-one libraries reported over 5,300 books which show an active interest in this part of the work. The new library of 150 books at Lynwood and the large additions of over 100 books to the Oak Park library and 40 books to the Medford library are worthy of note. The addition of any number of books indicates that the church library is a functioning tool and 25 of the meetings reported such additions. Several of our smaller churches reported libraries of more than 100 books which help us realize that a group does not have to be large to have a sizeable number of books.

There were only 27 librarians to care for the 41 libraries and only 24 libraries had records to keep track of the 5,300-plus books. If your library is good, it deserves a certain amount of attention and attention to the library promotes interest in it.

Our people seem to be aware of the obscene literature on magazine and book racks and many have cooperated with other agencies in protesting its sale.

Again we urge you to make Bible reading a vital part of your life; we suggest good stewardship of your time in other reading, and ask you to provide good literature for all and especially for those who might seek less worthy material elsewhere.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION — Ludlow Corbin, superintendent

The following statistical report of the 51 reporting churches is compared with the 51 churches reporting in 1960:

	1960	1961
Total number of pre-school children (members) . . . . .	567	555
Public elementary school children (members) . . . . .	592	696
Public high school children (members) . . . . .	292	279
Total public elementary and high school (members) . . . . .	884	975
Public elementary children (non-members) . . . . .	1334	1248
Public high school children (non-members) . . . . .	253	288
Total public school (non-members) . . . . .	1587	1536
Elementary children in Christian schools (members) . . . . .	5	19

High school children in Christian schools (members) . . . . .	60	39
Total members in Christian schools . . . . .	65	58
Total college students (includes seminary and graduate) . . . . .	166	189
Church-related college students . . . . .	107	132
George Fox College students . . . . .	67	83
Number of different colleges attended . . . . .	37	41
Public school teachers . . . . .	133	137
Teachers in Christian schools . . . . .	31	33
Numbers of churches providing financial aid to young people . . . . .	11	10

The above figures even though lacking the reports of several meetings reveal three encouraging results. Firstly, the number of students in higher education has increased as last year. Secondly, the reported increase in George Fox College students from 67 to 83 and the church-related college students from 107 to 132. Thirdly, the reported increase in elementary and high school students over 1960.

It is especially interesting to many of us that our 189 college students are enrolled in 41 different institutions of higher learning throughout the northwest.

In our program to enroll and organize the teachers of Oregon Yearly Meeting we report a list of 168 teachers with their addresses and teaching assignments. If enough teachers are in attendance at this Yearly Meeting we will have our first meeting of the teachers as a group.

We urge all those who are interested in the education of our youth to continue to be on the alert concerning federal aid to education with all of its implication.

The division of Public Morals, with Virginia Helm, chairman, presented an interesting temperance play entitled, "Temperance Tides in American History," by Annabelle Boshka and adapted for our use by Virginia Helm.

Approved.

• 34. Wayne Piersall led us in singing "Pentecostal Power" at the morning inspirational hour.

Kenneth Pitts, Yearly Meeting speaker, read Acts 4:31 and 33. These are descriptive words. God's plan of salvation is divided into these divisions: revelation, realization, manifestation. A divine visitation is an experience that is needed, an experience that is possible, and an experience that is practical. The effective strength of the Church of Jesus Christ is in being right with God — in demonstrating righteousness of character. Unity is in the person of Jesus Christ. The church in the book of Acts had plenty of reason to disintegrate, but the spirit of unity held them together. There was an urgency in the church in Acts because of immediate illumination to their hearts. This must be a decade of dedication of Christians empowered by the spirit's motivation. We, as a church, need a new anointing, a filling, an outpouring of His Spirit.

The meeting dismissed to meet at 2:15 p.m.

Thursday, 2:15 p.m.

• 35. Cecil and Doris Williams, ministers from Rocky Mountain Yearly Meeting, were welcomed to our sessions.

• 36. Points 2 and 3 in the recommendation from the Board of Christian Education were referred to the representatives. (See minute 30).

● 37. The resignation of John Carr from the Music committee was read and accepted.

● 38. The resignation of Robert Morrill from the George Fox College board was accepted.

● 39. The resignation of Willard Kennon from the Board of Christian Education was approved.

● 40. A minute and a returning minute for Thelma Rose to work in Rocky Mountain Yearly Meeting in the summer of 1961 were read.

● 41. The representatives presented the following names to the Board of Christian Education for three years: Lela Morrill, Allen Hadley. Approved.

● 42. The representatives presented the following nominations to the Board of Moral Action for three years: Denver Headrick, Verna Baker. Approved.

● 43. The representatives presented the name of Kelsey Hinshaw to serve one year on the Board of Peace and Service. Approved.

● 44. The Executive Council brought forth the following recommendation for an advisory and long range planning group:

A. That an advisory and planning group be established to assist the General Superintendent and approved by the Executive Council, and that each member serve a three year term arranged in a manner that allows one member to be appointed each year.

B. That this group be composed of three members selected by the General Superintendent and approved by the Executive Council, and that each member serve a three year term arranged in a manner that allows one member to be appointed each year.

C. The specific responsibilities of the group will be given under advisement of the General Superintendent or Executive Council and shall be emphasis of the Yearly Meeting on all levels of operation in the total future balance of financial appeals and projects for promotion, functional, of events for each church year including Yearly Meeting sessions, summer conferences, board meetings, etc., to allow maximum participation without serious conflicts. Long range planning and opportunities or problems referred to the group by the Executive Council or General Superintendent are to be considered also as its task.

D. The group, being an advisory and planning committee, will work only through the General Superintendent without separate powers of its own, unless specifically granted powers to act by the Executive Council or General Superintendent.

E. The group shall be named without consideration to geography or quarterly meetings, but rather as persons easily accessible to the Yearly Meeting office. Any expenses of travel, postage or other incidentals shall be paid by the General Superintendent from his expense account.

After discussion it was tabled for further discussion at a later session.

● 45. The representatives presented the following nominations to the Board of Peace and Service for three years: Charlotte Macy, Glenn Armstrong. Approved.

● 46. The following report from Greenleaf Academy, Charlton K. Smith-erman, principal, was read by Willard Kennon:

Commencement exercises held on June 2, 1961, concluded the 1960-61 school term of Greenleaf Academy with the graduation of 26 seniors receiving diplomas. Dr. Grant Hendrickson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Caldwell, Idaho, delivered the commencement address.

While enrollment was some lower than the previous year, there were 102 who registered as full-time day students with little change throughout the entire year. A number of special music students were registered for private lessons and are not included in the regular enrollment.

As a community service for adults and high school graduates not attending college, the academy sponsored two night extension classes under the leadership of Rev. Scott Clark. These consisted of two and three hour courses in the Life of Christ and Religious Education and were taught on college level. Credit was arranged through Friends Bible College, Haviland, Kansas. A total of as many as 30 different individuals participated in these courses although a lesser number took them for actual credit.

Academically, only minor curriculum changes have taken place. Most catalog listed courses are now offered every year and few subjects offered on an alternating basis. Graduation requirements for the 1961-62 term have been increased from 19 units to 20 units. This is three above the state requirement and equal to those of the larger public high schools in the state. Special attention and counsel is given each student with regard to his course of study with his future interests and plans kept in constant view. Continued accreditation has been granted to the school.

The academy has continued active in sports under Eugene Smith, coach, with particular emphasis given to football and basketball. Successful seasons are reported in both areas with a goodly number of wins recorded.

The music department under Mr. John Carr represented the academy well, not only in Boise Valley but in the various parts of Oregon during the month of March. It was a high privilege to participate in the Musicale of the Northwest Fellowship of Christian Schools hosted by Cascade College. Both the choir and girls' trio received some excellent ratings. Concerts followed at the Lents, Newberg, Salem Highland and Metolius Friends churches. The academy feels grateful to those who assisted in making these concerts possible. A band was organized the second semester under Mr. Bill Davidson and proved of real value to the music department.

The spiritual growth and development of the student body was encouraging. Of particular note is the manner in which student body officers and student council members accept serious problems of delegated responsibility. Though adult guidance and advice are always needed, we are constantly experiencing the manifestation of abilities and leadership potential found among Christian young people. Through the many channels of school activity, these talents and abilities are given opportunity of expression. Two examples will be mentioned: chapel services, though faculty advised, are basically planned and presented by students. Student body president Ron Stansel has represented the school well in this capacity. Secondly, the Youth for Christ organization under past president Bill Rourke was very active in Boise Valley Y. F. C. as well as in the school.

The club feels honored to have had one of its members, Charles Smith, recently receive second place honor as song leader in the National Youth For Christ Convention at Winona Lake, Indiana.

Special revival services were held during the year, once under the faithful ministry of our pastor, Roy Knight, and later, the Rev. Trev White, of Boise. Both meetings resulted in spiritual blessing and new light for those with special problems.

From the financial point of view, this has been a more difficult year than recent ones. Two factors have apparently contributed to this problem. Incoming tuitions were considerably less than anticipated as a result of some decline in enrollment and more students attending on honor scholarships or reduced tuition rates. Secondly, the increased operation costs have tended to exceed the amount budgeted to operate the school. General economic conditions have also played a part in causing tuitions to lag behind. Most of the back tuition is expected by early September, however.

The 1960-61 general operating budget exclusive of all fees and lunch program was $33,105. Of this amount $7,200 was requested of Greenleaf Monthly Meeting. Aside from all other sources of income, the Monthly Meeting is now in the process of making up approximately $4,000 deficit above and beyond the $7,200 already paid.

Through the efforts of the Quaker Men of Boise Valley and their assistance in the annual auction and other special projects, a total of nearly $3,800 was raised for the academy. Truly we appreciate their help and the fact that they chose this as a project for the past year.

Figures for the 1961-62 operating budget have been set at $35,986 with Greenleaf Monthly Meeting being requested to increase its amount to the academy from $7,200 to $11,599. Tuitions are covering well over one-half of the costs with the balance coming from the Monthly Meeting, the auction, gifts, contract payments and rentals.

Feeling that the academy should maintain its distinction as a Friends school, though interdenominational in students, a recent step is being inaugurated to include representatives from the various Monthly Meetings in Boise Valley as a part of the Board of Managers. It is hoped that such a plan will result in a greater and wider interest among Friends of the area so that they may feel they are a part of the work of Greenleaf Academy. Similar proposals have come from other denominations who are "sold" on the value of Christian education and this type of arrangement has worked fairly well in newly created schools. It is, however, doubtful that such a plan would prove satisfactory if begun in a "long established school" under a single denomination unless doctrinal views were very similar. It is, therefore, our hope that Boise Valley Friends in particular will rally to maintaining the academy as a Friends school.

After several years of very little staff turnover, some members felt it necessary to make changes for the coming year in the interest of furthering their education or entering new fields of service. Mr. Harold Ankeny, who for the past four years served as instructor, and his wife Betty, for two years school secretary, with their family, moved in June to California. Mr. Ankeny assumed the duties of educational director of the youth work at the Bethany Church, at Sierra Madre. Mr. Eugene Smith, for six years athletic coach and teacher, has resigned to enter business for himself. Mr. John Carr, music director for three years, has accepted pastorship of the Center, Colorado, Friends Church and is also teaching in the elementary school. Both Mr. Ankeny and Mr. Carr plan to continue schooling in the areas of their work. We appreciate the work of all these faithful servants and pray God's blessing upon each of them in their new endeavor.

Persons hired to fill these vacancies are Mr. James McDonnell, a graduate of George Fox College, and Mr. Robert Brown, also a former student of George Fox College. It is quite likely that a part-time member may yet be added to the staff. Mrs. Joe McAfee will assume secretarial duties.

Rev. Willard Kennon is presently making student contacts prior to the opening of the new school term on September 11.

In conclusion, our appreciation and thanks is extended to the many friends of Greenleaf Academy throughout Oregon Yearly Meeting who have continued their support both in material ways and prayer. May God richly bless each one of you.

The report was approved.

The girls' trio from the academy sang.

Appreciation was expressed for Greenleaf Academy.

Appreciation was also expressed for Greenleaf Monthly Meeting in the financial support given the academy.

The report was approved with appreciation.

● 47. Milo Ross, president of George Fox College, presented his annual report and it appears as follows: (In condensed form)

Herewith is the seventh annual report it has been my duty and privilege to submit to the board of trustees of George Fox College and our constituencies at large.

As I have gone back over previous reports, I catch a necessary similarity, forced upon the subject by the nature of the considerations and by the allusions to persons, events, building, and processes about which comparisons and contrasts become the warp and woof of these reports. And yet, withal, there is an increased tempo, a rising tide, a kind of inexorable movement which defies resistance. I am ready to hazard, however, that a study of this report over and against many previous ones will set it apart as being distinct from its predecessors, where "firsts" are being recorded, programs of greater stature and complexity are coming to birth, and in the words of Dr. Tom Jones of the Association of American Colleges, in a letter to the president received in April of this year: "A great Quaker institution is aborning in the northwest."

May I illustrate the year by two illustrations — the first Biblical, and the second from Shakespeare. The Christian public which reads these pages will know of the reference to harvest as made by the Lord Jesus Christ, and St. Paul, and others to the soil, the seed, weeds, thorns and the eventual harvest. As the parables are borne out in everyday living and in church life, you have noted that these processes are not isolated events, one coming after another, first beginning and running their courses, and then giving way completely to a second, and then a third process. Rather, all of the processes may be going on at once. Visually, what I am writing may be conceived of as spiral in nature, and not a series of separate circles.

The second illustration is taken from Julius Caesar,

"There is a tide in the affairs of men,
Which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune;
Omitted, all the voyage of their life
Is bound in shallows and miseries."

The George Fox College family is coming to the realization that an educational phenomenon is taking place; we are witnessing a renaissance of considerable note, and Phoenix-like, George Fox College is rising and spreading its wings.

The School Year

Our total consolidated figures came to 190, with 85 freshmen. There are many beneficial results to higher registrations. (At the same time, many costs go up, too, with added faculty in some divisions, more supplies, securing additional housing off-campus, and more student personnel to service the added services!) The chapel is well filled. Seating is getting up to capacity and classes must be shuffled to larger quarters.

A crisis has developed in the scheduling of science courses and laboratories — especially biology. Sectioning of classes is taking more faculty time.

Although allowed a year ago, we have functioned for one full year under the administrative plan for three deans — Harvey Campbell has served as dean of administration, Philip Clapp one-half time as dean of faculty, and Kenneth Williams as dean of students. Campbell has taught full-time, too, so he has not taken a full assignment in administration. I believe that the basic idea of delegation and division of labor is good, although we still need to make adjustments after the shake-down period. Thus, I have been liberated to a greater emphasis on development, public relations, study and research, and interviews with the more substantial donors. I have spoken many more times in chapel, in order to give direction and stimulus to the spiritual life of the student body.

In the ordering of religious events, we tended toward concentrated series and profited by the Christian ministry of John and Dorothy Sinton, Friends evangelists from Ireland, our own Clare Willcuts in cooperation with the college church, Dr. Everett Cattell of Malone College for a missions emphasis in connection with the leadership of Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends, and Dr. J. Edwin Orr, both on our own sponsorship in the autumn and in cooperation with the Newberg ministers in the winter. A great many of our youth have responded to the challenge of the Christian faith.

We have profited, too, by many excellent chapel talks and programs in which our own faculty have prepared significant sermons and papers. Not the least of these was the series, lasting over two months, of papers and lectures on the fields embracing the liberal arts.

The use of the library continues for another year to be most satisfactory, with a greater circulation by the month, and an enthusiastic response to the services offered. Total accessions are now 23,000, a gain of 1,185 for the year. Comparative figures for circulation are as follows:

1954-55	4,028	1956-57	3,845	1958-59	5,795
1955-56	4,181	1957-58	5,594	1959-60	8,698
				1960-61	9,529

Miss McNichols's capable leadership is reflected in a sudden rise in languages and sciences, in part due to the Intensified Studies.

The annual faculty lecture, sponsored by the faculty seminars committee and underwritten by friends of the college, was delivered April 25 by Cecilia C. Martin, Ph.D. who at the same occasion was promoted to full professor of language arts. Her theme was "Ways and By-Ways in the English Language." Without exception the reaction following the annual lectures is that the current one just delivered is the best in the series; but without taking away from any of the predecessors chosen for the honor, Dr. Martin's lecture was outstanding and merits the highest praise.

I will assess the co-curricular activities in the order of their interest for the year — choral music, drama, and athletics. Little was accomplished in inter-collegiate representation in speech. The a cappella choir traveled the length of California during the Christmas season, singing in seventeen churches, and later several concerts were presented in the Willamette Valley. The oratorio choir presented the "Seven Last Words," by Foure for the Good Friday chapel, as well as in the local college church concert on Easter. In cooperation with the speech people the group staged a two-night showing of the operetta, "Kittiwake Island" over the May Day Weekend.

Our a cappella choir was invited to present an Easter concert over KGW-TV in Portland under the sponsorship of the Oregon Independent Colleges. A number of tapes of our choral music, as well as instrumental program, were requested and used by radio stations in Portland and Seattle. All in all, I believe that our music programs, both on tours and locally, were of very high quality, and have made strong impacts upon our audiences. Mrs. Mary Hazelle, chairman of the division, Mrs. Storaker in choir, and Mr. Uley in voice are to be highly commended for a most successful season.

Mr. Peacock in speech and drama led out in the Homecoming plays, the successful production of "One Foot in Heaven" by Spence, and in preparing numerous programs and tapes for TV and radio productions.

The intercollegiate athletic program had both its ups and downs. What with the increase of the student body, more boys turned out to the various sports, which has given Coach Carpenter and crew more depth. For the first time in history, our football teams played in a bowl game in southern California. The basketball season started off slowly, but the teams got into motion later, coming out second in the WCC league, and taking first honors in the GFC Invitational Tournament. Baseball fought along, being rained out about half the time. Both team and student body morale have suffered throughout the year.

The student body officers carried out their tasks with fine leadership under the direction of Howard Crow, president. There was a great deal of enthusiasm and activity along lines of the students' prerogatives, their own finances, sponsorship of the Student Union, financing the tennis courts, amending their constitution and bylaws and related concerns. More of their budget was turned to finish work on the Student Union snack bar, and in sponsoring musical programs free to the students. The first of these affairs was in bringing the famous Roland Hays back to the campus, and in presenting Bill Jackson, the protege of John Charles Thomas.

The Student Union Board concerned itself with study of its own regulations and duties. In cooperation with the division of natural science, it sponsored an Atoms in Action exhibit from Oak Ridge, Tennessee, and a traveling art exhibit of the American Scene made available by the Ford Museum in Dearborn, Michigan. Mr. R'Dean Smith, member of the First Friends Church in Portland and a druggist, presented a fully-equipped soda fountain, which was installed and is being operated to the evident satisfaction of all concerned.

One of the better results in increased enrollment is the strength and excellence of the deputation program. Not only have we been able to answer more calls for service over a wide area, but it appears to me that our music, at least with several combinations, is improving. Many are saying that the "Swordsmen" is the best quartet since the Four Flats, while the "Clarions," girls' trio, is most acceptable. A number of other trios, both vocal and instrumental, are well received, and our student vocal soloists are in greater number and demand.

The faculty, too, are being used in many churches with seventeen having spoken or accompanied groups.

The following persons, after having completed their programs leading to the baccalaureate degree, were recommended for graduation:

Nancy Almeda Craven	B.A.	Keith Stacy Carpenter	B.S.
Willis G. Green	B.A.	Howard R. Crow	B.S.
Loren W. Hinkle	B.A.	John R. Johnson	B.S.
Claude Alexander Malan	B.A.	Howard Curtis Morse	B.S.
Charles S. Newkirk	B.A.	David Crockett Mirgon	B.S.

Judith Retherford		Geraldine Perisho
Nolta	B.A.	Morse	B.S.
Stanley Thomas Perisho	B.A.	Ronald Eugene Willcuts	B.S.
Gilbert Allen Rinard	B.A.	Lyle Dean Zeller	B.S.

Miss Mary Sutton Litt.D.

Pacific and George Fox College has been honored over fifty years in having Mary Sutton as a member of the faculty, so by the unanimous action of the Board of Trustees she was awarded the honorary doctor of letters degree.

Intensified Studies

Our program for gifted and superior students has come "full-circle" and merits an appraisal. Begun in 1958, we have brought a class of three men through a full three years and the accomplishments of these students bring into high focus the apparent values of the program. Conceived in a deep concern for quality in higher education, knowing all too well the limitations of a small college, and committed to serving a broad constituency of the church and general public, we faced problems differing from certain select universities with greater resources. Perhaps the Intensified Studies are too young for a full appraisal, but at least these results have accrued to the college community in the first "generation."

1. The three men, Gilbert Rinard, Howard Morse, and John Johnson have made enviable records. Both Gilbert Rinard and Howard Morse finished in the 99th percentile in the Graduate Record Examinations. Of the 17 Oregonian college seniors this year to receive National Science Foundation Fellowships for graduate study, these two are from George Fox. Their project of graduate in sex reversal in pigeon embryos has made a contribution to the research in the field. John Johnson made a serious study of the Laplace method in his major field of mathematics, and his scores reveal a remarkable gain longitudinally from his sophomore to senior years in social studies, humanities, and natural science.
2. The entire faculty and student body are aware of a greater seriousness of study on the part of the student body at large.
3. It is possible for a small college to stimulate its better students to go further and dig deeper, and thus carry out a successful honors program.
4. Such a program appears to be most important to gear students into graduate study.
5. A professor of philosophy, in the person of Dr. Arthur O. Roberts, is ideal to lead a program for honors students. The Colloquia, designed to integrate liberal arts, should prove to be very worthwhile.
6. A program in enrichment, and not acceleration, is better for George Fox.
7. While it takes more time on the part of the professors, it is well spent and rewarding.
8. If we are to succeed in the future, we must have major grants to release faculty members, and to provide tools for specific fields; for instance, specialized library accessions, funds for field trips and off-campus study, specific equipment for different majors, sustained scholarships.

9. We should continue to have the honors people as part of the general student body, as they stimulate others and raise the level of accomplishment for all.
10. Giving time and attention to a few better students does not work against the great majority, but rather the reverse.
11. It pays to engage professional counsel to initiate an honors program. The workshops attended, the conversations held, the lectures and visits to our faculty by eminent leaders in the field have given us the direction needed, and saved us from many pitfalls.

Development and Public Relations

A mandate from the board of trustees instructed Denver Headrick and myself to prepare for Operation Diamond Jubilee, which is our major series of drives to carry us through to 1966, when the college will observe its 75th birthday. Therefore, all the detail of preparing supporting data, blueprints, and estimates, and the publication of the brochure itself came back on us. The brochure as distributed to about 4,500 patrons has enjoyed an enthusiastic reception among the friends of the college, and we hope will increase our visibility generally. Denver Headrick has given his time to the publication itself, an extended tour of California, solicitation locally and throughout the northwest, estate building, and servicing the older alumni population. A most successful year has resulted.

I have given myself in these areas to weekly meetings with our architect in lining out the preliminary and the working drawings on the library, dormitory, adult housing, tennis courts, maintenance building and remodeling in Wood-Mar Hall. Two trips have been taken to Albuquerque, New Mexico, to confer with Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Shambaugh, who are proving to be great friends of the college in their sponsorship of the library.

A loan for up to $594,000 from the Home and Housing Finance Agency was approved and progress goes on by the month to gird ourselves for the construction of Pennington Hall and Weesner Village. Work continued through the year so that surveying and engineering accompanied the detailed requests of the HHFA, and groundbreaking was celebrated on May Day for the Pennington Hall dormitory and the Weesner Village; and for the Shambaugh Library on June 3. The site preparation has necessitated a major program of felling timber, clearing land, drainage and removal of older buildings. Arthur Winters has been assigned to these tasks.

Our connection with the Oregon Colleges Foundation has brought us into membership with the Northwest Independent Colleges Conference of Admissions Officers and the Oregon Independent Colleges. Mr. Everett Craven, our student recruitment officer, has been named secretary of the admissions group.

Isaac and Esther Smith of Newberg and of our college staff, turned their properties to the college on annuity for an agreed value of $25,000.

The Louis Calder Foundation of New York City, associated with the Perkins-Goodwin Company (which is the holding company for our local Spaulding Pulp and Paper Company) made two grants; the first of $5,000 for our science hall, and the second of $20,000 for endowed scholarships in connection with the Newberg High School. Mr. Sidney Collier, now vice president of the firm, is to be highly complimented for his creative and indefatigable work in behalf of the college.

A sale of properties in the state of Kansas added to our endowment by $5,000 which has been assigned to the library.

These gifts are magnificent contributions to the life of our school and presage a new era of expansion.

Mary Sandoz, director of public relations, has moved her office to a larger and better designed room in the basement of Wood-Mar Hall. At the same time, we were able to house Harvey Campbell, dean of administration, and Denver Headrick, director of development, in the erstwhile west stair area of the main floor. The business office has separate offices for Josephine Church, bursar, and Arthur Winters, business manager.

The Alumni Association was serviced by two issues of the new ALUMNI-LETTER. A comparison of former years reveals that the BULLETIN mailing list has increased to 5,500. We have hit a new high in number of releases to more and larger news media, and the radio and TV audience of the nation.

A new set of film slides, designed to be addressed to the adult constituency of business, churches and alumni has been prepared, under the title of "The School With a Future," and I have given myself to presenting them in churches, service clubs, schools and before groups of alumni.

Finances

I am told that 1960-61 is the first year since 1939 that a major breakthrough has been realized in adding to the endowment principal. A combination of three gifts has added $50,000. By far the largest gifts have come from the Shambaughs, which reflect an increased loyalty on the part of the alumni.

After accreditation we broke away from the Council for the Advancement of Small Colleges, and have joined the Oregon Colleges Foundation. The change was made with genuine regret, because CASC has meant a great deal to George Fox, but we find a new alignment, cordial and meaning more financially by the year.

While we understand that most small colleges face the perennial problem of low income and high expenditure, we have been especially blest (!) all our years. We find, though, that costs do not go up proportionately with the increase of student population, but as we accept a larger class of freshmen, the faculty-student ratio changes to our advantage, and the operation becomes more efficient. We constantly need funds for the general budget. We need a larger constituency.

Our increase of faculty salaries reflects both higher tuitions ($100 more next year) and the number of faculty persons. The annual audit consolidated general report, with accompanying illustrative graphs, is appended at the end of my formal statement. The general fund itself showed a modest balance of $1,680.82. At the same time, our gifts from corporations, foundations, the church and the alumni have risen to new highs, and our total valuation and the market value of endowments are the highest in our history.

Faculty

I eschew any attitude or statement which smacks of the policy of "up-grading" a faculty, both on Christian grounds and in courtesy, because we are all aware of the stellar role being played by our faculty and staff. We are concerned to candidate adequate persons, both by Christian commitment and in training, but the policy in no way is to be taken to cast aspersions upon those who have given themselves in sacrificial service over the years, who have denied themselves in order to continue their studies, and who have stimulated and inspired students. We endeavor to encourage further graduate work within the present faculty instead of candidating others.

But there are a number of important changes at the end of the present school year. Some most excellent professors are being lost to George Fox for a number of reasons, among which are problems of commuting from a distance, a re-alignment from part-time to full-time positions, family situations and reasons of health. None are leaving because of a lack of loyalty to the school. All would have stayed on, if possible.

Administratively, Dr. Philip Clapp, after a fine year, half-time from Cascade College, has been asked to return there full time. He is being replaced as Dean of Faculty by George Moore, Ph.D., a former professor here and most recently on the staff at Biola College, La Mirada, California.

In the division of education and psychology, the only change is that Dr. Moore, as a full professor in education, will teach in the field and take charge of our testing program at all levels. The co-curricular and inter-collegiate athletics for men and women is forced into important changes, what with neither Coach Carl Carpenter nor Miss Dorothy Barratt returning. After five good years with us, Mrs. Mary Hazelle is being replaced in music theory by Miss Mildred Ellis, presently of Bloomington, Indiana, where she has completed her work for a doctor's degree. Mrs. Harriet Storaker in choir is being followed by Ernest H. Lichti.

Major changes are taking place in language arts. Mrs. Sarah McCracken, beloved and able teacher of French, was forced to resign because of ill health. Adjustments were made under the excellent leadership of Dr. Cecilia Martin, but the long-range adjustments suggest Mr. Campbell's work in administration instead of Freshmen English, Mrs. Jo Hendricks Kennison in Freshmen English, Dr. Martin shifting to French and Spanish, and Mr. Myron Goldsmith taking the Greek. Mr. Goldsmith is finishing his dissertation for a doctorate at Boston University. Mr. Edward Peacock in speech and drama, is going on to seminary training, and is being replaced by Miss Clara Axie Dyer, authoress and teacher of long standing, and currently on the faculty of Wingate College in North Carolina.

All full-time professors in the natural sciences are carrying on. Mrs. Gretchen George, an inspiring teacher from the local school system, was added in mid-term in botany and laboratories. Mr. Harold Wilhite will no longer teach mathematics, but is fitting into the mathematics emphasis in business. He is being replaced by Miss Dorothy Oppenlander, who returns after a year's leave of absence. Miss Dorothy Barratt, who has taught for two years in Christian Education, has elected to give more time to the pastorate and teaching in her town of Silverton.

Mr. Mackey Hill, chairman of the division of social studies, has been given at least a semester off to finish his dissertation on his doctorate, with some adjustment being assumed by other members of the faculty. We are contracting Dr. Eva Penner to assume leadership in the new concentration in economics.

After 14 years on our staff as maintenance man, Isaac Smith has resigned, and has been replaced by Mr. Elmer Lewis.

The college sustained the loss of two former leaders in the community — Rebecca Pennington, wife of president-emeritus Levi T. Pennington, and Charles C. Haworth, former professor of Spanish.

We believe that we are working toward challenging, and yet realizable goals. Much that has been written in recent years has aimed at the future, but we are happy to state in this report that we have "turned the corner." While we still continue to make promises, one by one the promises are turned to realities. While I stated last year that "the spelling out of the Diamond Jubilee will be the greatest program in our school's history," we close this year with a combination of government loans, cash and pledges up to $800,000 none of which was assured twelve months ago. The gifts of the Shambaughs alone are substantial enough to be the pride of any American college or university, and we trust will engender confidence in the minds of many prospective donors and trigger many more sustained gifts over the years, large and small.

Without a doubt, we shall need funds to remodel Canyon Hall a year from now. Our science faculty has agreed on a need for a life sciences building, completely new, by 1966. Wood-Mar Hall stands under the negative scrutiny of the state fire authorities and should be gutted and rebuilt to serve the humanities. The kitchen equipment is obsolete and inadequate and may dictate our building a new kitchen and dining hall, or at least modernizing our present facilities. A chapel is needed, coupled to a fine arts center. And all of these needs are physical, and do not include our constant candidating for a strong Christian faculty, highly trained and dedicated, and our remunerating them in an honorable fashion.

These needs and ends are very complex and will tax the loyalty, wisdom and sacrifice of all our constituencies. We commit ourselves to bring these dreams into realization, knowing that as we honor Him, He will honor us, and that our strength is found in obedience to His holy will.

Personal

The last months can record a major change in administrative direction, as I have turned more details to the three deans and others on the staff, and have given myself to planning the strategy of the academic program, in directing the launching of "Operation Diamond Jubilee," in conferring with the architect, builders, and bankers in dealing with the main prospects in fund raising.

I did my stint with the Oregon Colleges Foundation. My service on the board of the Christian Freedom Foundation was very stimulating and satisfying. I continued to serve the Friends Church in ministry throughout the west. A ready acceptance greeted a number of essays and articles in several journals. Either alone in college business, or with my wife, Alice, I have traveled twice to the east coast, twice to New Mexico and twice to California.

Some of the finest rewards have come to me in dealing with the board members themselves, both individually and as a group, and the members of my faculty and staff.

I have found that the Great Teacher has given wisdom and direction in my task, and I am humbly thankful.

Ten certificates were given to Monthly Meetings who had given the most in gifts this year to George Fox College.

Many individuals expressed deep appreciation for George Fox College. The report was approved.

- 48. The meeting dismissed to meet Friday morning at 9:15 a.m.

Friday, 9:15 a.m.

- 49. The morning business session opened with prayer by Dr. Alvin Roberts.

BOARD OF STEWARDSHIP

- 50. Herbert Sargent, president of the board, presented the report as follows:

The Board of Stewardship entered into their program at the beginning of this church year with a great burden and concern for spiritual revival in Oregon Yearly Meeting. The Board of Stewardship is primarily concerned with the spirituality of the members of the Yearly Meeting, rather than with the amount of money received.

Your Board of Stewardship has endeavored to strengthen the spiritual lives of our families through family worship programs and materials. We are very pleased with the new devotional booklet, "Fruit of the Vine."

In this past year we have had the privilege of working with our young people through the C. E.'s. The board is working on a program which we hope will be a continuing and lasting program. We have sponsored a speech contest in the high school and college ages. The speech contest was for this past year only. We have sponsored a poster contest for these past two years and plan to continue this activity. We invite and urge you to study the posters which your young people sent in to the contest for this year. These posters show the depth of thought which has been stimulated in the young people who made the posters. This has encouraged your Stewardship board very much. Our earnest prayer is that God will enable us to build great stewards for Him. We urge you to pray for us in this work.

Another area in which we are endeavoring to minister to each of you is through a film library. This past year we purchased the film, "Mixed Marriage." This film again provides help to your children and to you as parents in this most important area — marriage. Your board feels the importance of this film library and have received permission to take offerings which are to be used to purchase more films for your use. We urge you to review your handbook for the list of films available to you.

In the past years we have encouraged our Quarterly Meeting chairmen to speak in each of their local meetings. We are still encouraging this and urge you to call them to your meetings. In this next year, finances permitting, the president of your Stewardship board will speak to your Quarterly Meeting and endeavor to meet with your local chairmen to help with programs in the local churches. We feel that we must strengthen the stewardship program in our churches. Upon examining the yearly reports turned in by the individual churches, we see the great need of help. The reports of this past year are anything but encouraging, statistically wise, but we do not feel a true picture of the life of stewardship led by you is shown in these incomplete reports. We received only 52 reports from you as churches this year and these were not complete in many cases. We, as your Board of Stewardship, desire to help clarify any questions you may have and encourage suggestions from you which will help us to help you and the life of stewardship in our Yearly Meeting.

The following statistics are taken from the report blanks, except for the per capita giving, which figures were received from the financial secretary and the Board of Evangelism, giving a true average.

1. Number of tithers reported (45 churches reporting tithers) . . 1,500
2. Number of churches observing October as Stewardship Month . . 36

3. Number of churches using an envelope system . . . . .	22
4. Number of churches that have a stewardship committee . . . . .	48
5. Number of presentations by local committees . . . . .	382
6. Per capita giving for churches (per year) . . . . .	$ 120.30
7. Per capita giving for Sunday school (per year) . . . . .	$ 6.30

The Stewardship month for each year will hereafter be November.

The Board of Stewardship feels the magnitude of its responsibilities in that the success of all other boards, and Oregon Yearly Meeting as a whole, depends upon your stewardship and our ability to minister the message of stewardship.

Winners in C. E. speech contest — high school: Anna Simonson, Lorraine Stahlnecker, James Haskett; college division: Alice Hampton.

Winners of prizes of the poster contest sponsored by the Board of Stewardship follow: Senior division, first, Forest Home, Serena Anderson; second, Rosedale, Marita Cammack. Junior division, first, McKinley Avenue, Ronald Barry; second, Whitney Friends, Richard Knosp.

Dr. Alvin Roberts, Medford Friends Church spoke on the effects of a stewardship campaign in a local church. It calls for deep consecration, for communication with the Holy Spirit, and for cooperation of the individual. He urged other churches to not be afraid to enter into such a stewardship campaign because the results are soul stirring.

The report was approved.

● 51. The minutes were read, corrected and approved.

● 52. The representatives presented the following nominations to the Board of Stewardship for three years: Hubert Armstrong, Eugene McDonald. Approved.

● 53. The Executive Council unanimously nominates Dean Gregory for General Superintendent for the year 1961-1962. It is recommended that his compensation be $460 per month as follows: salary, $3,240; utilities, $480; house allowance, $1,800. Travel expense to be 7¢ per mile. Approved.

● 54. The Executive Council referred to the session the following recommendation:

Portland Quarterly Meeting feels that inasmuch as Oregon Yearly Meeting includes the three states of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, it would seem more practical that Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends Church be re-named, and presents this recommendation for consideration for the following reasons:

1. It would give a more accurate impression in the publicity and business dealings of the denomination.
2. It would suggest definitely that more territory is embraced than just the state of Oregon.

As a suggestion for a name, "Northwest Friends Church" was presented.

This was referred back to the Executive Council for study with a report to be brought to a later session this year if possible; if not, to be held over until another year. Approved.

● 55. The following request from East Wenatchee church was read:

Be it resolved by Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends Church, an Oregon Corporation, that the Trustees of said corporation be authorized and empowered to sign for said corporation a Water Agreement and Transfer for a certain water right on a portion of Lot 8, East Wenatchee Land Company's Plat, Sections 23 and 26, Township 22 N., Range 21 E. W. M., entered into by David E. Roach and Ruth A. Roach, parties of the first part, Wenatchee Reclamation District, party of the second part and Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends Church, Inc., party of the third part. Approved.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY UNION

● 56. Frances Hicks, president, gave the following annual report:

Someone has said, "It costs to have a vision, but it costs too much to remember only the price." And so, as I recount the activities and accomplishments of the Women's Missionary Unions, the hours of labor and efforts of heart and mind are forgotten for the joy that has been ours in serving our Master.

We now have over 1,000 members in 71 unions. New groups were organized this year at Portland First Friends, Cherry Grove and Medford. The Piedmont Union led all others in gaining new members.

We have continued our support of Roscoe and Tina Knight in Bolivia. In addition to the $2,000 which came in for this project, over $1,000 was given to the work in Bolivia. This money was given for freight expense, medical fund, Christmas gifts for the missionaries, literature fund, school books for missionaries in language school, and vacation fund.

Helping with the sewing for the out-going family, the Quentin Nordykes, was a project.

The household equipment which is available for use by missionaries on furlough was replaced with new items.

Writing to missionaries, both our own in Bolivia and those in other countries, has been encouraged. Fifty groups reported that they wrote to the missionaries either individually or as a group.

On the home front, the outposts of Svensen and Cambridge were helped. We contributed $100 per month to the work at Svensen and $25 per month to Cambridge.

The Program and Devotional Book used this past year was compiled by two of our own women, Ellen Martin and Esther Woodward.

We have continued to encourage a reading program and our women are looking forward to sharing this privilege with our Aymara brethren. We hope to make a contribution to the printing of literature for Bolivia during the coming year, and to continue in that in the future.

Many of our women have sought to help bear the burden of our missionaries through the prayer units.

The annual retreat has become a vital part of our program. This past year there were 107 in attendance.

The annual banquet held in Boise this year was attended by 278 women. Florence Thomas brought the burden and challenge of the work in Bolivia and Peru very close to our hearts. The goal for our offering was $540 which is to go for the support of three missionary children. When the money was counted, it was found that the women had contributed $668.25. We greatly rejoiced for the privilege of giving that which was accorded to us by our Lord.

The women of Oregon Yearly Meeting have done many more things which have not been recounted in this report. They find many ways to show their love to the Master. I believe that the secret of their devotion to the work of spreading the gospel is to be found in the Person of the Lord himself.

I close this report with words from the writings of Dorothy Sayers, which I believe express the reason why our women find joy in their service. "Perhaps it is no wonder that the women were first at the cradle and last at the Cross. They had never known a man like this Man and there never has been such another. A Prophet, Preacher and Teacher who never nagged at them, never flattered, coaxed or patronized; who never made arch jokes about them, never treated them as 'The women, God help us!', or 'The ladies, God bless them!', who rebuked without querulousness and praised without condescension; who took their questions and arguments seriously, who had no ax to grind or uneasy male dignity to defend; and who took them as He found them."

How can we fail such a Master?

The work of the Women's Missionary Union was spoken to by Genevieve Cole, Florence Thomas, Florene Nordyke.

The report was approved.

BOARD OF EVANGELISM

• 57. Clynton Crisman, president of the board, presented the following report:

In presenting a report of the work of the Board of Evangelism for the past year, we want first of all to give thanks to God for His evident guidance and blessing. On different occasions direct answers to prayer and simple demonstration of the Lord's leading has assured us again that evangelism, in all that it includes in our Yearly Meeting, comes close to the heart of our purpose for existence as a Friends Church. Jesus said, "Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit. So shall ye be my disciples."

In reviewing the scope of activities and interests of the work of evangelism which is entrusted to our board by the Yearly Meeting, one is impressed with the growing number of ministries of evangelistic significance which demand our attention. It has been my privilege to serve on the Board of Evangelism for 14 years, although this is only my second year as president, and this experience has given me an increasing respect and love for my church, year by year, and, although it appears the program for the past year and our plans for the coming year are still not as great as the opportunity God has given us, it is with real joy that we "press the battle for souls" in the work of evangelism. Each succeeding year there seems to come a new urgency to work, for our time is short.

Three areas of interest have taken most of the energy and budget of the Board of Evangelism the past year: church extension, leadership recruitment, and the promotion of the message of Friends both within and outside of our present church membership. In the specific task of church extension, we were happy to see a fulfillment of previous planning when four new church buildings were dedicated. These are Caldwell, Entiat, Medford and Svensen. Each of these are buildings of which Friends need not be ashamed and each has done much to aid not only in the effectiveness of local church work, and to the dignity of worship, but to create an image of our Yearly Meeting in the community, which is desirable and a credit to Friends.

The cooperation of interested workers from S. W. Washington, Portland and Newberg Quarterly Meetings who went many times to help in building the new church at Svensen was a real blessing. Once the sanctuary was ready, the attendance and interest at Svensen leaped to the highest rate of growth of any one church in the Yearly Meeting last year.

The Lynwood Meeting in Portland which was set up recently as a monthly meeting, has also acquired additional property for an enlargement program and the Board of Evangelism is happy with the excellent record of this new church development.

Quincy Outpost completed the first phase of a new church extension plan called the 50-50 plan this year. The Board of Evangelism matched their giving of $6,000 with an additional $6,000 and with this cooperative effort, they are now starting to build another attractive church in the Inland Empire. The foundation is already laid.

The Share program is another arm of church extension effort which has been helpful. More than $22,000 has been raised for church extension in the Share program in small contributions averaging only $2 per gift, since this was started three years ago. Interest in the Share program grows each year with $9,060 received this year in the two calls made for Rose Valley and Svensen as compared to $7,855 which came in last year from three calls. It is hoped this growth shall continue until a reservoir of $30,000 annually could be available for church extension in the Share program alone! We believe this is entirely possible without any member of the Yearly Meeting being heavily burdened — if there were wide participation by all the church in the Share program.

Five issues of the Outposter have been sent to all the churches during the year, a total of 28,000 copies, and also 550 copies of the Friends News Sheet, a mimeographed progress report sent to all local evangelism chairmen and the pastors. Two new publications have been developed to aid in the church extension and membership build-up of our church: "The Family of Friends," a church membership course, and "The Story of Friends in the Northwest," a booklet which explains the message and program of Friends. These have been helpful especially in Svensen and other new churches as well as an evangelism tool for all our churches which use them.

We express our appreciation for the work of our field secretary, Jack Willcuts, for helping to develop these promotional materials. We also want to again thank the Women's Missionary Union for their substantial assistance in the support of the Eugene McDonalds who pastor the Svensen Church and for their aid to the Cambridge pastor. This has been a great boost to the church extension program.

Leadership recruitment has taken much attention of our board in the past year. Again and again we are faced with the fact that any new church situation requires proper leadership and frequently that leadership simply cannot be found. At this moment, two of our outpost churches are without any pastoral leadership at all and the board has been unable as yet to find even temporary supply pastors to help! This ought not to be. Consequently, a major effort of the board is the "Campus Conference" week at George Fox College. This year the board cooperated with others in bringing as guest speaker for this conference, Dr. Everett Cattell, who spoke and counselled with students during the week. Members of the board were present to personally contact students interested in Christian vocations, and especially those sensing a call to the ministry. A follow-up of counselling and literature was continued with these students.

Contact with the Friends students at Western Evangelical Seminary was also established this year with a real effort made to maintain their interest in Christian service among Friends.

The board is happy to announce its sponsorship of a Christian Endeavor summer work program in cooperation with C. E. leaders. It is hoped at least two ministerial students can be employed during summer vacations in outpost situations in building, visitation, daily vacation Bible school and Sunday school activities. This promises to be a mutually helpful program for students and churches alike.

The "Friends of the Future" film has been shown in all of our Quarterly Meetings during the past year. It is hoped this film can be viewed by all our meetings.

The "Quaker Hour" broadcast which has been a great blessing in our Yearly Meeting has undergone many changes in leadership and planning the past year. This has taken much time and prayerful consideration by the board. We want to thank Milo Ross for his valuable service as the Voice of the Quaker Hour for so many years, but due to his work load, he had to resign this ministry. Gerald Dillon whose service was greatly appreciated also had to discontinue the radio ministry also because of his heavy schedule of work. At present Herschel Thornburg is continuing the broadcast to fulfill certain contracts made, and as a result of his concern to see it continued. We appreciate his work and also the work of Dr. Homer Hester of Newberg, whose help in technical direction has made the Quaker Hour possible. As we continue to study this program, the prayers of the Yearly Meeting are requested.

Once again we of the Board of Evangelism wish to express appreciation of our Yearly Meeting Superintendent. He is a constant source of blessing and help. His insight, kindness and fairness in dealing with the many problems never cease to demand our respect and loyalty.

Perhaps more work has been done this year in preparing to open new outposts than at other times; a survey trip was made to Anchorage, Alaska by Richard Cossel under the board's direction and two other open doors have been carefully studied. It is possible that some of these will result in new churches soon. But the board is hoping to complete our present churches as early as possible and to keep in balance our extension program. We must be alert to new opportunities as the Lord leads.

Charles Hanson spoke to the importance of the Share program in the Yearly Meeting.

The annual report of the Friends Church Extension Foundation was read by their president, Dr. Alvin Roberts, as follows:

Providing funds for the overwhelming building programs related to the expansion and growth of both old and new meetings in Oregon Yearly Meeting is the task for which the foundation was originally conceived and is now devoted.

From its beginning the funds in its care have been fully used in the building program of the church. During the year just past, new loans were made to Svensen and Medford churches. These were in small amounts of $5,000 and $3,000 respectively. They were made possible by $2,855.11 in new gifts, over $2,000 in repayments and interest, and a loan of $800.

There was an increase in gifts to the foundation this year: however, these came from a few people — mostly members of the $500 club. The number of people supporting the foundation is very small considering the task and the opportunities for service and — for profit.

The churches of Oregon Yearly Meeting are now borrowing over $400,000 and presumably paying some $24,000 annually in interest. This would be a goodly amount to be paying ourselves and would make possible a new church building each year from this source alone. Have we just defined our primary goal for this fund?

We noted this year the passing of Will Way, whose thrift and generosity provided the basic funds for the foundation. I am sure that in his later years, he gained great satisfaction from the good accomplished by his money put to the Lord's work.

The treasurer's report of the foundation appears in the appendix.

The statistical report of the board will appear in the appendix.

Clynton Crisman urged us to keep our sense of urgency for the needs of people about us. Our time is short; we must feel this urgency.

The report was approved.

● 58. The following recommendation was read and referred to the representatives:

The Executive Council has received, through the General Superintendent, a communication from a Yearly Meeting Friend which embodies the following concerns:

"There is a growing sentiment in many places that there should be an official expression of Friends unity on an evangelical level. By this, it is simply meant that the independent evangelical Yearly Meetings should merge their common interests in a greater way. Just what form this should take is not clear. Some favor a completely united Friends Church of America. Others seem to favor a cooperative organization of Yearly Meetings similar to the Five Years Meeting. The form can be decided later; but . . . many Friends are anxious for a move in this direction."

Two points are suggested to implement this concern. These are not believed to be in conflict, but in harmony with the matter of church unity now under study by the representatives.

The points are as follows:

1. That each Yearly Meeting appoint three official representatives to a formal discussion conference on this matter, this group to include the Yearly Meeting Superintendent.
2. That this group should be expected to present definite recommendations as a call for closer unity and cooperation among all evangelical Friends in America, to come before Yearly Meeting sessions of 1962.

The Executive Council suggests that this matter be referred to the representatives for study and recommendation, in connection with the related study before them now.

● 59. The Executive Council presents the following nominations:

Financial Secretary . . . . . Roger Smith
Western Evangelical Seminary Board of Trustees . . . Charles Beals
National Association of Evangelicals

Board of Administration . . . . . Dean Gregory
Legal Representatives . . . . .

Harold Lund, Raymond Haworth, John Brougher
Discipline Revision Committee . . . . . Earl Barker, Milo Ross,
Frederick Baker, Charles Beals, Arthur Roberts.

Approved.

● 60. The Executive Council presents the following nominations to the George Fox College Board of Trustees: John Brougher, Charles Beals, Gerald Dillon, Dorwin Smith, and it presents the name of Floyd Bates to fill the unexpired term of Robert Morrill.

Approved.

● 61. Board nominations to the Board of Trustees of George Fox College for a three year period are: Frank Colcord, Dean Gregory, Arnold Owen, Lloyd Hinshaw.

Approved.

● 62. The Alumni Association of George Fox College presented the names of Homer Hester and Frank Cole as their representatives on the George Fox College Board of Trustees. Approved.

● 63. The inspirational hour opened with the singing of "Break Thou the Bread of Life."

Kenneth Pitts spoke from portions of Philippians. Philippians is a personal letter of love, an epistle of joy. Paul spoke concerning the relationship he had to the people as a missionary evangelist. He expresses a pastor's gratitude. He thanks God for them because there is a deep love and a joy for them. Paul has a pastor's confidence in them. God will always meet with them. His Word will always be the same. Paul is confident that there will still be more love, love full of knowledge. He expects them to always choose the best.

Paul's concern, later in the passage, comes back to himself and his own ministry. He is going to stand by them. He wants to help them forward that they may find a greater joy in their lives. As pastors, can you say to your people, "You can look forward to making much of me."

The meeting adjourned to meet at 2:15 p. m.

Friday, 2:15 p.m.

- 64. The session opened with prayer by Myron Goldsmith.
- 65. The clerk introduced to the meeting Julia Messner Crosby, Central City, Nebraska.
- 66. The memorial hour was opened with prayer by Scott Clark, asking that we think, for a few minutes, of the lives of those who have gone on before use. Esther White read memorials for members deceased during the past year. These names appear in the appendix. Approved.
- 67. The report of the trustees, Oliver Weesner, chairman, was read as follows:

Having been authorized by the Executive Council, the trustees have signed a mortgage in the amount of $3,500 on the Entiat Church property in favor of the Wenatchee Federal Savings and Loan Association to secure a promissory note executed by the officers of Entiat Monthly Meeting of like amount, the proceeds of which were used to complete payment of obligations incurred in the erection of their church building.

The Executive Council having authorized the trustees to borrow not to exceed $23,000 to finance the construction of the building in Newberg for the Oregon Yearly Meeting Headquarters Building, the trustees have therefore signed the following notes for this purpose:

$5,000 payable on demand without interest from the Friends Mission Council.

$2,000 payable on demand, interest at 5% per annum, from Bertha Roberts.

$2,000 due in 10 years, interest at 5% per annum, from the Newberg Friends Cemetery fund.

$12,000 from the Newberg Branch of the U. S. National bank of Portland, payable in monthly payments of $133.23, including interest on unpaid balances at 6% per annum, until principal and interest are paid, the first payment to be made on September 1, 1961. This note is secured by a mortgage on the west portion of the Yearly Meeting property in Newberg, described so that it does not cover any portion of the Yearly Meeting property occupied by the Newberg Church building and its annex.

The trustees also hold the promise of a loan of $2,000 from Friends at 5%, if needed.

The Executive Council authorized the trustees to sell the property in Portland known as the Quaker Apartments for cash for not less than $25,000. Later, it appearing that the property probably could not be sold for cash, the Executive Council authorized them to sell the property on contract for not less than $25,000.

The trustees on July 24, 1961, entered into a contract with Virgil D. Asselstine and Christine Asselstine, husband and wife, to sell to them

Lot 9, Block 1, Colonial Heights, in the City of Portland, County of Multnomah, and State of Oregon, for $27,500 to be paid as follows: a down payment of $4,000 and monthly payments of not less than $168, including interest on unpaid balances from September 1, 1961, at the rate of 6% per annum until principal and interest are fully paid, the first monthly payment to be made on October 1, 1961, and monthly payments continuing thereafter on the first day of each month until principal and interest are fully paid. Purchaser agrees to furnish to Vendor immediately after payment duplicate receipts showing prompt payment of taxes and insurance.

• 68. A recommendation from the trustees, Oliver Weesner, chairman, was read as follows:

First: that the overdrawn balance of the trustees as shown in the Yearly Meeting treasurer's report when adjusted to September 1, 1961, be paid from proceeds of the sale of the Quaker Apartments. This overdrawn balance was incurred on account of the original purchase price and improvements that have been made from time to time on Quaker Apartments.

Second: that proceeds from the sale of Quaker Apartments after the overdrawn balance of the trustees has been paid be accumulated in a building fund for the erection of a Yearly Meeting office building.

Third: that $600 for rent of office for the Yearly Meeting Superintendent be included in the fixed expense budget for the year 1961-1962.

Fourth: that the Barclay Press and Publication Board for the year 1961-1962 pay a rental of $100 per month for the use of the building now nearing completion, that $1,800 be placed in the budget of fixed expense for retirement of indebtedness. This amount together with $1,200 rental for the Barclay Press will provide $3,000 to be used to pay installments that will be due the U. S. National bank, pay interest on other notes, pay fire insurance, and provide a sinking fund of about $1,000 for the year 1961-1962 to be used to retire part of the principal of notes.

Estimated cost of west wing of Oregon Yearly Meeting headquarters building:

Amount paid to August 14, 1961 . . . . .	$12,925.12
Account payable . . . . .	45.70
Estimate by Laurance Skene of remaining cost . . . . .	5,530.00
Total cost . . . . .	$18,500.82

Approved.

• 69. The Executive Council presented the following report. This was a result of action in minute 117, 1960 Minutes of Oregon Yearly Meeting:

The Executive Council has endeavored to be faithful to the action of the Yearly Meeting, authorizing the relocation of Yearly Meeting offices and printing plant to a new headquarters building in Newberg, Oregon. Frequent reports of progress have appeared in the Northwest Friend.

A building committee was duly appointed to carry out the plan for relocation and present plans for the new building. They have done this and it can be reported that the first wing of the new building, to house Barclay Press, is almost completed, and the equipment has been moved in. The building is located at 600 East Third Street, in Newberg, on the Newberg church property. The cost of this first unit, when completed, will probably be around $18,500 according to the builder's estimate. The building has been planned to fit into the design and appearance of the Newberg Friends Church.

The wing of the building to house the Yearly Meeting offices, should be erected during this coming year, and ready for occupancy by next Yearly Meeting time in August, 1962.

This part of the building program will cost around $24,000 according to the builder's estimate.

The trustees have arranged financing for the first phase of the building program and have presented tentative suggestions for the financing of the second wing of the Yearly Meeting Headquarters building. Their report of what has been done and suggestions for possible future ways of financing the remainder of the building program have been approved by the Executive Council and appears as follows:

The recommendations in the report of the trustees provided that a fund of $3,000 be raised as follows: rent for the year 1961-1962 from the Barclay Press and Publication Board $1,200, amount to be placed in the fixed expense budget $1,800. The sum thus provided will pay all installments due on the note held by the U. S. National bank, provide for the interest on other notes, pay fire and liability insurance premiums due during the year 1961-1962, and provide a sinking fund of about $1,000 to apply on the principal of the other notes. If a similar amount is provided each following year the entire sum borrowed for the erection of the west wing of the building will be paid within 10 years.

The trustees report recommends that the trustees overdrawn balance listed in the Yearly Meeting treasurer's report be liquidated from the proceeds of the sale of Quaker Apartments. When this liquidation is completed there will remain a balance of about $23,000 of the principal of the contract.

It is estimated that it will require about $24,000 to build the Yearly Meeting office building unit of the headquarters building in Newberg. It will require about 12 years to accumulate $24,000 from the monthly payment provided for in the sale contract and payments would continue on the contract for about five or six years thereafter.

If it is decided to build the office unit so as to have it completed by next June we will have to raise about $24,000. To do this two methods have been suggested. First suggestion, sell the contract at a discount. Some investigation of this has been made but we have no assurance that such a sale could be made before next June and if a buyer could be found before June probably only approximately $20,000 could be realized and it would probably be necessary to borrow in the neighborhood of $4,000 to complete the building.

The manager of the Newberg Branch of the U. S. National bank of Portland has been consulted and it appears that the bank is willing to negotiate with the trustees concerning a loan to be used to construct the office building, if the Yearly Meeting decides to proceed with its construction.

If a loan of $24,000 could be secured the trustees estimate that a monthly payment of about $266.46 would be required, and that some security other than the present mortgage would be required. If the bank would accept the sale contract as collateral it would provide a monthly payment of $168 and hence the Yearly Meeting would need to provide an additional monthly payment of about $100, and such a note would be completely paid in 10 years. It must be understood that this is only a suggested arrangement. No commitments have been made by either the bank or the trustees.

The trustees suggest that if it is decided to make arrangements to proceed with the construction of the building that resolutions be passed, one authorizing the trustees to sell the Asselstine contract if a satisfactory offer is received, and another resolution authorizing the trustees to borrow not more than $24,000 and authorizing the trustees to offer the Asselstine contract as additional collateral to secure the loan.

Approved.

BOARD OF MISSIONS

• 70. Waldo Hicks, president of the board, presented the report as follows: (In condensed form)

The Board of Missions presents its annual report with a deep sense of gratitude to God for His faithfulness in promise and presence during the past year.

The missions staff in Bolivia presently consists of the Everett Clarkson family, the Roscoe Knight family, the Mark Roberts family, Oscar and Ruth Brown and the Eugene (Gene) Comfort family. David and Florence Thomas are now in the states on furlough. Paul and Phyllis Cammack and their daughter, Marybel, and son, Joseph, are in Peru. Daniel Cammack is attending high school at Mt. Carmel, Kentucky. The Quentin Nordyke family will leave August 21 for La Paz for language study and the subsequent first term of service.

The Hibbs family terminated their service with the board in May of this year. Health problems within their immediate family and near relatives, and the educational needs of their children necessitated their not returning to the field. We are sure the fruit of their labors will continue for many years to come.

Marshal Cavit also rendered valuable service to the Bolivian work in deputation services during March and April, 1961.

On May 12, 1961, Paul and Phyllis Cammack, their daughter, Marybel, and sons, Daniel and Joseph, established residence in Juli, Peru. The general area, of which Juli is a part, is estimated to contain an Aymara population of some 200,000. Consequently, the challenge of this new field is tremendous. A 1961 Volkswagen station wagon was purchased for use in Peru.

Some months ago the board learned of a language school in Cochabamba, Bolivia. Upon recommendation by the Mission Council and investigation by the board, it was decided to send Quentin and Florene Nordyke to this school. The name of the school is the Inter-Mission Language School. This school, although relatively new, compares favorably with the one at San Jose, Costa Rica. Lower tuition and other costs, orientation to Bolivia, and radio contact with our mission staff were contributing factors in the board's decision to send the Nordykes to the Cochabamba school.

These have been busy days of service and preparation for Quentin and Florene Nordyke. This year has been spent serving the Entiat pastorate. Another high point of the year was the birth of a son. Randal Nordyke was born August 7, 1960. They concluded their service at Entiat on June 1, and spent the remaining time, prior to their departure for Bolivia, in packing and in doing limited deputation.

Reports were received from 55 of the 64 meetings and outposts of the Yearly Meeting. Missionary speakers representing the work in Bolivia and Sprague River, as well as other fields, were featured in 252 services. These reports showed a total giving to the calendar fund of $4,318.69. The individual monthly meeting response to this project ranged from zero per calendar to $9.71. Special prayer meetings, use of the prayer bulletin, letters from missionaries, Sunday school mission emphasis and receiving of special as well as regular offerings were some of the methods used to create and maintain interest in, and support of, the mission program of Oregon Yearly Meeting.

Farm Report

The mission farm, located some 40 miles west of La Paz, was confiscated on June 3, 1961 by the farm Indians. This farm was purchased in 1947 for $30,000 and contained approximately 3,000 acres. The following account of the loss of the farm, Copajira, is taken from the Mission Council minutes of June 5, 1961.

Following the uprising of the farm Indians last September, the farm was largely evacuated. However, Paul Cammack and Leslie McHargue stayed on at Copajira to plant and cultivate the crops. In February, the Mark Roberts family arrived on the field and moved soon after to the farm. Leslie McHargue returned to the states in February. (Leslie McHargue completed his alternate service in February, 1961. His two years of service were spent on the farm. His financial support was supplied by the Board of Peace and Service). The Cammack family moved from the farm for the purpose of securing necessary papers and to complete plans for their expected move to Peru. The Roberts family lived alone at Copajira until April. The Eugene (Gene) Comfort family arrived at the farm in April.

On March 27, a delegation of Indians informed Mark Roberts that they wanted the farm. Mark told them he could not negotiate with them but that he would present their demands to Roscoe Knight, our legal representative. This demand finally resolved itself into a request for land for their young men who were not included in the land settlement which followed the uprising in September. The Indians, at this time, asked for 2-1/2 acres for each of their 30 young men, plus area for a school. In the following Mission Council meeting this request was granted. This agreement brought a temporary peace to the farm situation. Harvest started the first week in May, with Oscar and Ruth Brown moving to Copajira to assist the Roberts and Comforts with the harvest.

On Tuesday evening, May 23, a caller came from a neighboring farm to talk with Cipriano Copa, our national farm worker. This man was a believer. He told Cipriano that there had been a meeting of the Campesinos (agricultural union) and that they had decided to take Copajira as soon as harvest was over. Copajira was the only farm in the area that had not been taken over by the nationals. The next day Mark Roberts went to La Paz to confer with government officials. Oscar Brown and Gene Comfort proceeded with the harvest. The Vice Consul told Mark there was no protection for one outside the city, and that the farm should be evacuated immediately.

The decision to evacuate the farm was reached in a council meeting held Monday, May 29. Due to the fact that Paul Cammack was detained at the border town of Desaguadero for passport reasons, the men of the Mission Council met with him at Desaguadero. This meeting resulted in the decision to evacuate Copajira.

On the farm the potato harvest was completed. The customary celebration feast was given by the owners. Potato sorting was well under way. Combining continued. And just before the grain harvest was completed the missionary women and children were sent to La Paz. Roscoe Knight was to come to the farm on Thursday, June 1, and talk terms with the Campesinos. It was hoped that in so doing the compound and a little surrounding land might be salvaged. Most of the personal belongings of the missionaries had been moved from the farm by this time and a decision to move the mechanized equipment had also been reached. June 3 was the date set for the moving of the farm machinery. A missionary from the Holiness Methodist mission assisted our men with the final harvest at Copajira. This man also drove the farm truck when the machinery was taken to La Paz.

After a rather sleepless night, at 6 a.m., June 3, an unusual procession started out across the fields toward the main road to La Paz. Oscar led, driving the huge Massey Harris self propelled combine, followed by Gene on the John Deere tractor pulling a disc, the visiting missionary drove the farm truck and the rest of the men were in the 1958 Chevrolet pickup. The departure was without incident. The men and equipment arrived in La Paz before noon.

The next morning, June 4, the men of our mission staff returned to the farm. They were held prisoners in the compound under threat of being killed. The chief grievance seemed to be that the machinery had been moved from the farm without the permission of the Campesinos. Finally an agreement was reached whereby the mission was to receive one-half the grain, potatoes, and sheep. They would keep the land, including the compound, the Farmall tractor, the light plant and other items. In the providence of God our missionaries escaped bodily injury and were permitted to return to La Paz.

Copajira is now in the hands of the farm Indians. Down through the years the farm supported the Bible School. Young men, and some not so young, came to the school to be trained as pastors and leaders in the national church. The material loss has been considerable. This loss, however, has been measurably lessened due to the wonderful salvage job our missionaries were able to do. The spiritual gains, in which the farm played such a vital part, cannot be reckoned until that day when the Judge of all the earth shall give His appraisal of our total ministry to the Aymara Indians.

BOLIVIAN FIELD REPORT

The past year has been highlighted by two great events in the history of our mission in Bolivia. These events were the entry into Peru by the Paul Cammack family as resident missionaries, and the loss of the farm "Copajira." The farm supported the Helen Cammack Memorial Bible Training School. This school trained more than 200 men for the Gospel ministry and as laymen. Scores of women and young women attended the short term Bible classes held on the premises of Copajira. Since the opening of the school the number of churches has multiplied tremendously. Today the majority of the meetings in Bolivia has at least one alumni of the Bible School in its membership.

Junta Anual was a time of rich fellowship and blessing to all. The brethren settled some issues among themselves and demonstrated a real desire to go all the way with the Lord. Over 1,800 persons were present on Easter Sunday.

Several accordions have been distributed to the churches. The missionaries hear several sour notes and many discords of harmony but the brethren don't seem to mind. They are pleased with the instruments.

The Mesa Directiva of the Bolivian Friends Church were unanimous in their request for the resumption of the Bible School. The Mission Council is endeavoring to do what it can to implement this request.

Short course Bible classes are being held in several areas. Mornings and afternoons are devoted to classes and the evenings are spent in evangelistic services.

The new plan adopted last year for church construction seems to be satisfactory, although there remain some problems. Interested churches are being matched dollar for dollar in the cost of construction for the roof, windows, doors, pulpit, and five benches. Seven churches have been constructed this year and five have received help with all or part of the above mentioned items.

The Mission continues to minister medically to the needs of the Aymara people. This help goes principally to the pastors, teachers, and their families. There are also occasions when others receive this help. On occasion people are taken to the clinic in La Paz, but for the most part the patient is cared for locally. This means the missionary extracts teeth, gives injections and hands out pills. Each time this is done the patient receives a testimony of the saving power of Jesus Christ. This type of medical assistance has resulted in several coming to a saving knowledge of Jesus Christ.

Record players are being distributed to the various churches. This is a great blessing to those who can neither read nor write. Proudly they carry these little instruments in their packs and sit down with an interested party and give them the story of salvation. The story or song is constant. The words never change. Thus the people are able to memorize the content. These players are small "gramophones" powered by a small crank. The speed is governed by weights inside the turntable, thus making the speed a constant 78 rpm.

TREASURER'S REPORT FOR THE BOLIVIAN FRIENDS MISSION July 1, 1960 — July 1, 1961

For the last year the Boliviano has remained, more or less, around 12,000 Bolivianos to the dollar. All surplus money has been kept in dollars to avoid any undue loss by inflation.

A new Chevrolet pickup truck was purchased this year for the work of evangelization. It has proved very useful. The truck is completely paid for due to money received for the sale of the farm pickup.

Special offerings were received from various sources to help further the work. We are deeply grateful to those who gave these special offerings. Likewise, we are also most appreciative for those who constantly contribute to the budget in order to see every need met.

The treasurer's report will appear in the appendix.

REPORT OF THE YUNGAS

The past year has been one of growth and establishment for the Yungas churches. Three smaller groups are not having services at present. We trust these will be revived before long. Four new groups are now meeting regularly. This gives us a total of 25 churches meeting regularly.

We have been placing special emphasis on revival meetings and special Bible classes in the established churches. To date, we have had Bible classes together with revival services in five churches and also revival services without classes in others. In February there were two weeks of Bible School for Yungas pastors and workers held in Pichu. These classes and meetings plus Quarterly Meetings and the annual Yungas conference, together with regular visits to all the churches, has brought a deepening to the lives of the believers.

Evangelism in new areas has been very limited. However, we have entered two new frontiers and have church groups meeting in both of them. Invitations are coming in from other areas also so this next year should show a decided gain in new converts and churches.

SPRAGUE RIVER MISSION

As we look back over the past year we think of the statement which Jesus made to His disciples concerning His church, "... the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." We are sure that this statement applies to Sprague River. The Church will be built. However, for Sprague River, this has been one of the "driest" years of its history so far as outward appearances are concerned. This dryness is reflected in a decrease in average Sunday school attendance. The 1960-61 average was 39. The average for 1959-60 was 44. The Sunday morning worship service attendance did increase from an average of 26 in 1959-60 to 27 in 1960-61. The attendance for the last six months has been lower than the '60-'61 average. The Sunday evening service dropped from 19 to 17 and the prayer meeting from 9 to 8. Services of spiritual emphasis have not been attended as faithfully as in the past and there seems to be a lack of interest in spiritual things in the community. The termination of federal controls and the liquidation of the reservation are contributing factors to the decrease in attendance and general lack of interest in things spiritual.

There has been some activity in presenting the needs of the work in several churches in Salem, Portland, Southwest Washington, Newberg and Greenleaf Quarterly Meetings. Kenneth and Jo Anne Magee have represented the work at Sherwood, Scotts Mills, Silverton, Newberg, Hillsboro and First Friends in Portland. Charlotte Cammack spoke to two different groups in Idaho. Charles Tuning has spoken twice in the South Salem Meeting. Maurice Chandler spoke to a group at Newberg. Elaine Cronk presented the work to the Talent Meeting. Virena Tuning has sent informative material to several groups throughout the Yearly Meeting. Colored slide pictures of some of the people and landscape scenes of this area have been sent to nearly all of the above mentioned places.

The World Vision Quartet spent about a week here in special services last fall. We were disappointed in the response of the community to their fine presentation. Laurence Wright and his family from the Eugene meeting ministered to us one Sunday the latter part of August. Everett Hackworth and family from the Sherwood meeting encouraged us by a visit over New Year's day. William Murphy was here for a Sunday morning service the early part of June. We appreciated the ministry of our Yearly Meeting Superintendent, Dean Gregory, and the president of the Board of Missions, Waldo Hicks, and his wife, Frances, in a short Bible conference in March.

A 1961 Volkswagen sedan, a second hand black and white film kodak, and an A. B. Dick mimeograph have been purchased to increase the efficiency and to aid in the promotion of the work.

The withdrawing Indians have received their per capita share of the reservation. It is yet to be seen what the total influence will be on the Indians. There is one new home being built here and several are being remodeled so it seems that most of the Indians are going to stay here. Most of them have bought new cars and have done in general what most of us would have done.

We hope to make an all-out effort in evangelization this coming year. A fall evangelistic meeting is being planned. Beside that we would like to get groups from various churches and organizations in the Yearly Meeting for week end meetings, etc. This will require finances and we hope some groups will be able to pay their own way and that others will be interested in helping those who cannot pay their own way. We feel that this is a critical time in the lives of these Indians and solicit prayer help from groups and also from interested individuals.

Robert Morrill, business manager of the Board of Missions, reviewed the financial picture regarding the farm.

Stanley Perisho sang "So Send I You."

David and Florence Thomas will do deputation in all meetings in the Yearly Meeting.

They spoke briefly of their service in Bolivia.

Florence and Quentin Nordyke, soon to leave as missionaries to Bolivia, spoke.

Appreciation for the work of the board was expressed.

The report was approved.

A letter from the Friends Church in Bolivia was read from Jose Acero. The letter was turned to the Epistle committee for answering (See minute 102).

● 71. Harold Weesner, now living in Illinois, was recognized.

● 72. The session adjourned to meet Saturday morning at 9:15 a.m. Clair Lund dismissed with prayer.

Saturday, 9:15 a.m.

● 73. James Raymond opened the session with prayer.

● 74. The minutes were read and approved.

● 75. Alvin and Lucy Anderson, soon to leave for government service, Alvin as head of the Bi-National Center in Medellin, Colombia, South America, were introduced and spoke briefly.

● 76. The Committee on Returning Minutes was asked to write a letter of service for the Andersons.

Approved.

● 77. The meeting approved allowing the Board of Stewardship to add the names of the winners of the Yearly Meeting Christian Endeavor contest to their report.

Approved. (See report minute 50).

● 78. The minute to Friendswood Monthly Meeting for Kenneth Pitts was read as follows:

Oregon Yearly Meeting, in session August 16-20, 1961, wishes to express appreciation for the work of Kenneth Pitts, a minister of the Gospel of Kansas Yearly Meeting.

His ministry among us has been most acceptable and appealing to both young and old. Many have responded to the invitation to seek the Lord. His inspirational hour messages were helpful, using a variety of subjects which brought blessing, as well as challenge to us all.

Approved.

● 79. The returning minute to Rocky Mountain Yearly Meeting for Cecil and Doris Williams was read.

Approved.

● 80. The Discipline Revision Committee brought these propositions on changes in the reading of the Discipline:

To Oregon Yearly Meeting:

In compliance with a suggestion from the Board of Evangelism, approved by the Executive Council and referred to us by that body, the Discipline Revision Committee presents a formulation of amendment to the Constitution and Discipline designed to change the constitution of the meetings on ministry and oversight so as to include the pastor of the church, but not the other ministers who may be resident members.

In Part II, Chapter III, Section II, Subsection A, Paragraph 1, line 3, page 89: strike out the words, "the other ministers" and the commas preceding and following. The sentence so amended would then read, "The local meeting on ministry and oversight is composed of the pastor (suggested addition "or pastors") and the elders and overseers of the monthly meeting."

In order to secure complete conformity it is necessary also to amend the sentence referring to the pastoral committee in the preparative meeting. In Part II, Chapter II, Section II, Subsection D, Paragraph 3, second paragraph, line 2, page 47: strike out the word "ministers" and the comma following; strike out also the comma after the word "elders." The sentence so amended would then read: The pastoral committee of the preparative meeting shall consist of the pastor and the elders and overseers of the monthly meeting who are members of the local congregation."

Another amendment formulated at the request of the Executive Council is as follows:

In order to establish the procedure for processing the Yearly Meeting minutes and the preparation for having them printed, in Part IV, Paragraph 1, page 109, amend to read as follows:

1. THE YEARLY MEETING MINUTES. The responsibility for compiling and processing the annual volume of the Minutes of Oregon Yearly Meeting shall be as follows:

a. The Minutes Proper. The responsibility for their accurate reproduction is to be carried jointly by the presiding clerk, the recording clerk and the general superintendent. These three shall meet on the day following the close of the Yearly Meeting sessions in order to review the minutes together. In case of question concerning the actions taken or the proper wording of the records, the presiding clerk shall have final authority. The recording clerk shall be responsible for reading the proof after the minutes have been set up for printing.

b. The Appendix and the Directory. The appendix of the annual minutes shall contain a list of the officers of the Yearly Meeting; a list of the ministers; a list of the quarterly meetings with their clerks and times of meeting (with the monthly meetings and their times of meeting listed under each quarterly meeting); a list of the monthly meetings with the names of their pastors, officers and committee chairmen; the statistical reports for the year; any other essential information. The directory shall contain the names and addresses of all officers and board members of the meetings and of others whose names appear in the minutes. The assistant recording clerk shall be responsible for receiving and compiling all information for both appendix and directory.

The meeting approved the proposed change with the addition of the word "pastors" in line 10. This will be held over one year before final action.

It was referred to the Discipline Revision Committee.

BOARD OF FINANCE

• 81. The report of the board was read as follows:

The compensation to be paid to the Yearly Meeting Superintendent has been designated by three items in the fixed expense budget, namely: salary, utilities and house allowances. The U. S. income tax law permits the Superintendent to deduct the amount paid by him for utilities and for house allowances from his taxable income if the records of the Yearly Meeting designate an amount for each of these purposes.

Last year it was called to the attention of the Yearly Meeting that some Quarterly Meetings had failed to completely pay their fixed expense assessments. The finance board asked Robert Morrill, former financial secretary, to compile the delinquencies covering the five-year period from 1955 to 1960 from the assessments and the treasurer's reports for those years. This was done and was presented to the board at the mid-year board meeting. At that time the board instructed Roger Smith, present financial secretary, to notify each Quarterly Meeting that appeared to be in arrears the amount that is delinquent. This was done. By referring to the report of the Board of Finance in the 1960 minutes, you will find that this situation was called to the attention of the Yearly Meeting and that notices would be sent to the Quarterly Meetings involved, urging them to consider the subject and take such action as appears to be necessary. It now appears that the delinquencies have not been paid. A letter has been received from the financial secretary of the Quarterly Meeting having the largest delinquency and also a letter from the chairman of the finance committee of the largest meeting of that Quarterly Meeting. It would appear from these letters that the Quarterly Meeting was not fully aware of the delinquencies and that the delinquency was due to the fact that two Monthly Meetings during the years involved had experienced financial difficulties and had failed to pay all of the fixed expense assessed against them by the Quarterly Meeting. These letters and the whole situation were considered by the board and the following recommendations are made:

That all delinquencies of all Quarterly Meetings for fixed expenses that might appear from the study of assessments and treasurer's reports to July 15, 1960, be cancelled. That the financial secretary, soon after the close of Yearly Meeting, send a statement to each Quarterly Meeting financial secretary, treasurer and clerk giving them the amount of their assessment for the year 1961-1962 and add to this the amount of any delinquency that appears from the assessment for the year 1960-1961 compared with the receipts for fixed expense reported by the Yearly Meeting treasurer.

BOARD OF PUBLICATION

- 82. Arthur Roberts, president of the board, read the report as follows:

This has been an important and critical year for our board, of which the highlight has been the move of Barclay Press from the Portland headquarters facilities to the new wing of the headquarters building erected this summer. Members of the board met six times during the year, giving of their time and energies faithfully to the work charged to them. We appreciate the good work of those who operate Barclay Press. Ralph Chapman has continued to do good work as manager of the plant. Jack Willcuts divides his time between West Chehalem Meeting, the Board of Evangelism and our board. We appreciate his creative editorial supervision and are happy for the fine response given to the Northwest Friend and other publications. We were saddened by the sickness and passing to his heavenly homeland of Ralph Fletcher, our pressman, in the middle of the year. His death reminds us forcibly of God's timing; for in the providence of God new men have picked up the mantle from those who gave to Oregon Yearly Meeting a vision for the ministry of the printed word.

Leroy Benham, a young Friend from Portland, entered the breach to learn the press work and is now a regular member of our staff. Toward the close of the year Beth Hockett felt led to devote full time to secretarial work under the General Superintendent. We appreciate her work with us very much. Arlene Fiscus has been trained by Beth for the job and has now taken her place as compositor. Others have been used from time to time as part-time help and we appreciate their labors.

The accompanying schedule shows the extent of our printing work, which includes the magazines, The Northwest Friend, the Missionary Voice, and Concern; bulletin service to the churches; various booklets and brochures. The appended financial report shows that we are doing a $26,000 business and with an increasing efficiency. We are meeting our financial obligations regularly, including payments on the printing plant. One more payment remains and will be met this coming year.

As we move into our new quarters we will incur heavier financial responsibilities, including rent, increased cost of utilities and office equipment. According to our policy, we will seek to increase our business, restricting it to the area of religious printing, hoping to enlarge our ministry, especially among Friends. God has entrusted to Oregon Yearly Meeting a large stake in the ministry of the printed page. For the future we envision the following projects:

1. Increased missionary literature. Of deep concern with Ralph Chapman and others, we have only begun to tap this important service. Several pieces of literature have been sent to the Bolivian field already; and we have established liason with the Board of Missions for the subsidy and direction of this literature, looking toward greater effectiveness in the future.

2. A greater number of pamphlets of appealing format designed to inform concerning missions, doctrine, and the activities of Friends. In this respect we call to your attention the most excellent booklet, "The Story of Friends in the Northwest," by Jack Willcuts, and just off the press.

3. Books of general interest to Friends. One of such which has been approved is a book of stories by Marie Haines. I am sure that church families will welcome this. Of a heavier nature is a projected abridgment of Barclay's Apology.

Our pressing need is to secure wider circulation both in Oregon and in other Yearly Meetings. Your cooperation is requested. Local literature chairmen and others can do much to make people acquainted with our literature and thus have a part in the ministry of the written word.

This was followed by a discussion by Jack Willcuts and Arthur Roberts on the reading habits of our people.

Possible future publications were presented. There are no immediate plans for publishing Sunday school materials.

The report on changes anticipated this year in the publishing of Sunday school lessons as published by the George Fox Press was presented by Lela Morrill, a member of the Board of Publication of Evangelical Friends. The financial report will appear in the appendix.

Arthur Roberts asked that we be much in prayer for the work of this board.

The report was approved.

- 83. The Executive Council proposed the following recommendation:

Each year at this time it is the responsibility of the Executive Council to consider the responses of the meetings to the proposed United Budget and to make proper apportionment to the various boards of the total amount pledged.

The pledging this year amounted to $45,703.61 out of a proposed budget of $63,500.00. The United Budget has been considered in the light of these pledges and is herewith presented to you in its final form.

Board of Missions .....	$19,000.00
Board of Evangelism .....	13,000.00
Board of Publication .....	5,000.00
Board of Christian Education .....	2,000.00
Board of Moral Action .....	150.00
Board of Peace and Service .....	1,200.00
Board of Stewardship .....	420.00
Board of Finance .....	600.00
Board Travel .....	650.00
Yearly Meeting secretary .....	3,600.00
Financial secretary .....	83.61
Total .....	$45,703.61

Approved.

- 84. The advisory and long range planning group, as recommended by the Executive Council, was discussed from the floor. During the discussion, Earl Barker led us in prayer that the will of God be made known to us. The clerk felt that Friends are not united. They are not ready to accept the recommendation. It was suggested that a committee be appointed to specifically study this proposition this year.

Approved.

Those to name this committee are to be the executive members of the Executive Council.

Approved.

● 85. In the inspirational hour Wayne Piersall led in singing, "Guide Me, O Thou Great Jehovah."

Kenneth Pitts spoke from Philippians, Chapter 2.

The apostle's purpose was to make sure your everyday life is worthy of the gospel. The challenging exhortation is to make our personal lives Christ-like, whatever happens. See that daily our lives are under the personal blessing of God. Paul exhorts the group to blend their lives together in love, as though there were but one mind, learn to see things from others' points of view. Then the group will be under the blessing of the Lord. We must have an atmosphere of worship in our pews. Atmosphere is important in living a Christian life. There must be a worship atmosphere in our meeting brought by people in our services who are prayed up and prepared for worship. We relate the death of Christ to something we know about, but the Holy Spirit must make it a reality to our own souls. The crowning reward is in the redemption of the individual soul. Let us realize that in our hands is the very Word of Life for a sinful, suffering, dying soul.

● 86. The meeting was dismissed by the singing of a song.

Saturday, 3:00 p.m.

● 87. Derrol Hockett, vice president of Quaker Men, read the following report in the absence of Ralph E. Chapman, president:

QUAKER MEN

The highlight in the activities of the Yearly Meeting Quaker Men organization during this past year was the Spiritual Life Conference and Workshop which was held at Pendleton, Oregon, Nov. 18-20, 1960. The conference drew a total of 115 men who came from practically every quarter of the Yearly Meeting. Hubert Mardock, well-known Quaker evangelist, was the conference speaker. His timely messages on heart holiness and spiritual growth were inspiring and soul-searching. The workshop classes brought studies in Quaker Men and Prayer, directed by Glen Rinard; Quaker Men and Witnessing, by Gerald Dillon; Quaker Men and Church Extension, by Earl Geil and Quaker Men's Faith in Today's World, by Milo Ross.

Two mid-year Quaker Men banquets were scheduled: one in Caldwell, Idaho, in February and one at First Friends in Portland in April. The annual Yearly Meeting banquet, Tuesday, August 15 had Kenneth Pitts, Yearly Meeting evangelist, as its guest speaker.

The project adopted by Quaker Men for this past year was financial support of the Friends Church Extension Foundation. All contributions to this cause were placed entirely upon a voluntary basis this past year with facility given for cash or pledge payments. Although the response financially has been quite meager, we are confident that there is a genuine interest in the extension foundation and in the work it is promoting. It is to be hoped that more adequate promotion by Quaker Men can be made toward this important work in the months ahead.

Notice should be made in this report of the activities of local and quarterly meeting Quaker Men groups in providing volunteer help to improve youth conference grounds, to provide manual labor on improvements in church buildings, etc., or in assisting in financial needs within the structure of the local or quarterly meetings. It is to be believed that men of the Yearly Meeting are busy in the Lord's work even though they do not find their efforts coordinated under a fully-developed Quaker Men organization.

The following is a copy of the treasurer's report, 1960-61, submitted to the Quaker Men by James Clark, treasurer:

Receipts:

Balance on hand, August 1, 1960	$ 6.44
Banquet tickets and offerings	543.50
Quaker Men Quarterly Meetings	522.35
TOTAL RECEIPTS	$1,072.29

Expenditures:

Banquets	$ 324.25
Barclay Press	202.95
Officers	7.92
Church Extension Foundation	400.00
TOTAL EXPENDITURES	$ 935.12

Balance on hand, August 10, 1961 $ 137.17

Also a report from Greenleaf Quarterly Meeting was read as follows: The Greenleaf Quarterly Meeting Quaker Men gather the 4th Monday of each month for a meeting of fellowship and inspiration. Once each quarter a business meeting is held where various projects and other business is carried on or discussed. During this last year a local project besides the Yearly Meeting project was carried on. Our local project was to raise money to help meet the expenses of the operation of Greenleaf Academy. We sponsored three different major programs in doing this. These included a pancake feed for the men and their sons, a quartet festival with quartets from both Greenleaf and Boise Valley Quarterly Meetings participating and the public invited, with a freewill offering received. The last project and the largest event was the sponsorship of the annual academy sale. Altogether the three programs brought in a total of over $3,700. We are sincerely thankful to the Lord for this. Plans have already been made to sponsor the sale again this coming year and committees are working to make it a success.

There are no local Quaker Men's groups in Greenleaf Quarterly Meeting, but it is believed the men are shouldering their responsibilities in the local churches and working and praying for the salvation of the souls of men with whom they associate.

Approved.

● 88. The following recommendation was read from the representatives: Because the two communications from Newberg Quarterly Meeting and from the Executive Council dealt with the same objective of seeking unity among evangelical Friends on a nation-wide level, the representatives have studied the two documents together and herewith bring a recommendation relating to the disposition of both as follows:

1. It was the united opinion that the ways and means for the accomplishing of these aims for unity as outlined in both communications should not be implemented until a year's study be made. Further, the representatives propose that the Yearly Meeting approve in principle the three steps which appear below, basically as forwarded to the Yearly Meeting from Newberg Quarterly Meeting, and that a committee be appointed to study ways to implement these steps, with liberty to confer with leaders in other Yearly Meetings. The steps are:

1. Strengthen such bonds of unity as we now have.
2. Define our doctrines.
3. Work toward the establishment of a Friends church as a body through which the various Yearly Meetings may take actions of extension and implement concerns which are coherent with evangelical beliefs.

Approved.

- 89. The representatives recommend the following committee to work on this recommendation as found in minute 88: Arthur Roberts, Gerald Dillon, Charles Beals, Milo Ross, Earl Barker.

Approved.

- 90. The report of the Board of Christian Education was accepted with one small change in wording. (See minute 30)
- 91. The financial report of the Ministers' Group Insurance was read. See appendix.

- 92. The following resolution from the trustees was read:

Be it resolved by Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends Church in regular session held in Greenleaf, Idaho, on August 19, 1961, that its trustees be authorized and empowered to borrow not more than $24,000 to be used in payment of construction costs that may be incurred in completing construction of the Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends Church Headquarters building in Newberg, Oregon, and be it further resolved that said trustees be authorized to pledge as collateral to secure said loan that certain sale contract entered into between said Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends Church and Virgil D. Asselstine and Christine Asselstine on the 21st day of July, 1961.

Approved.

- 93. The following resolution from the trustees was read:

Be it resolved by Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends Church in regular session held in Greenleaf, Idaho, on August 19, 1961, that its trustees be empowered and authorized to sell that certain sale contract between Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends Church and Virgil D. Asselstine and Christine Asselstine for cash at a discount of not more than 15% of its face value if and when its sale would be deemed prudent and necessary by said trustees.

Approved.

- 94. A letter for service for Alvin and Lucy Anderson was read. (See minute 76).

Approved.

- 95. Adelaide Barker read the following epistle to be sent to other Yearly Meetings:

Oregon Yearly Meeting Epistle

August 19, 1961

Dear Friends:

Greetings to you across our land who partake of the like precious faith in Christ, the living Savior. We rejoice to share with you some of the inspiration that has come to us in the sixty-ninth session of Oregon Yearly Meeting held in Greenleaf, Idaho.

In the opening service of our Yearly Meeting, the messenger read Isaiah 6:1-8 which is "the record of the prophet's experience of divine revelation, inspiration, and sanctification. I saw also the Lord, he declares, and the glory of that revelation prompted the heartfelt confession,

'Woe is me! for I am undone; because I am a man of unclean lips!' His confession of need opened the way for the immediate divine act of cleansing which qualified him to speak to the needs of God's people in a critical period of their history. As the Holy Spirit draws near to us in the sessions of Oregon Yearly Meeting, may it be that we shall not turn away from the revelation of God and of ourselves, but humbly confess what needs we have, and find God's cleansing and enablement for Christian service and ministry in our troubled times."

In the keynote address our General Superintendent declared:

"The church of Jesus Christ has in its hand the most priceless treasure in all the world. It is offered freely as a remedy for the worries, troubles and conflicts which disturb man's soul. It is offered without price but not without obligation. There is no doubt that men need assurance that is based upon the sure foundation, the living Word of God.

"A review of sacred history reveals those who were willing to stand in hard places to hazard their lives and actually offer up themselves gladly for the cause of the gospel. There is a list of classic examples of men who stood uncompromising and unswerving in their dedication to God — those whose dedication was total.

"As the members of the church of God stand together in faith to experience a real revival of faith and spiritual life, there will be an all-out action to cooperate with God in the greatest program on earth. We must stand together in witness. A witness can be a martyr, one who bears witness to the truth, even at the expense of his own life. Christian service is not merely a by-product of Christianity, but a part of the heart of the gospel. Service without Christ and His saving grace lasts only as long as the service lasts, but compassionate service which sheds Jesus' love and grace into the hearts of the recipients, is a bestowment with eternity in it. Christian missionaries make up the greatest, most effective and far-reaching peace corps which our country has ever provided. God is not looking for mighty men, but He is looking for yielded men who give their love and life to Him and a needy world."

As we have pondered these pungent truths, our hearts have been made to cry out with St. Francis of Assisi, "Lord make us instruments of thy peace."

As our vision is enlarged, we are moved to hope and to trust that many other Friends are joining us in that prayer, that God is leading us all together into a deeper dedication and is giving us a richer concept of possibilities of His Grace as we carry the message of the crucified and risen Christ to our fellow men.

Oregon Friends in session have felt a deep thankfulness for the assurance of spiritual oneness with many other Friends across the nation. At the same time we have been possessed with a deep concern that, in the face of an increasingly hostile world, Friends find ways to give their evangelical message a broader unity of voice, purpose, and outreach in fulfillment of the Great Commission.

Our hearts are full of gratitude to our Lord for His marvelous workings in our Spirit-honored youth camps, in our heart-warming revivals, in our Junior Yearly Meeting, in the great gathering of youth who have met with us in preparation for Christian service, and in the ministry of our Spirit-filled evangelist, Kenneth Pitts.

We look forward to the work of a new year with enlarged vision and total dedication in proclaiming the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

In Christian love,

Approved.

- 96. It was recommended that another year a summary of the epistles received from other Yearly Meetings be presented to our Yearly Meeting sessions.

Approved.

- 97. A recommendation from the representatives was read as follows:
Relating to the recommendations, Nos. 2 and 3, from the Board of Christian Education as referred to the representatives by the Yearly Meeting; we propose adoption of recommendation No. 2 relating to the annual meeting of youth conference leaders. We further propose that No. 3 not be a matter of action by the Yearly Meeting. (See minute 30).

Approved.

- 98. A recommendation from the representatives regarding the communication from the Board of Moral Action was read as follows: (See minute 14).

In view of the fact that no specific requests or recommendations were involved in paragraph 1, and because of limitation on time, the matter relating to reports and training of committee chairmen was not discussed by the representatives.

It was agreed by the body that responsibility for advance publicity of the Yearly Meeting sessions in the secular and sacred press should rest with the Superintendent's office in keeping with previous policy.

Approved.

- 99. A communication from the Executive Council was read as follows:
The Board of Evangelism, which has administered the Quaker Hour since the Yearly Meeting set it up, has been reviewing the program. The Executive Council has received results of this study and refers their proposal to the Yearly Meeting for action, as follows:

If the Yearly Meeting desires the Quaker Hour to continue, Milo Ross should again be secured as the radio voice. Whether this can be done is contingent upon George Fox College Board approval. He has personally expressed willingness to serve.

Approved.

- 100. The report of the Custodian of Documents was read.
The documents are now in the vault of the Newberg Friends Church.

Approved.

- 101. A presentation from the Board of Moral Action was read as follows:

Since there are persons in the states represented by this Yearly Meeting who seek to introduce legalized gambling, we wish to strengthen our former statement Number 2, minute 50, page 18, of the 1960 Minutes, as follows:

We oppose gambling in any form, legal or illegal, because it has a corrupting influence upon the individual, the family, the community, the state and the nation. Our members are urged to cooperate with other Christian groups working to keep our states free of legalized gambling and to support candidates for public offices who are known to oppose gambling.

Approved.

- 102. The epistle to the Bolivian National Friends Church was read and approved. (See Minute 70).

Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends Church
Held at Greenleaf, Idaho, August 16-20, 1961
To: The Bolivian National Friends Church
479 Calle Max Parades
La Paz, Bolivia, South America

Greetings in the name of Jesus who is the Saviour of whosoever believes on Him; who is the strength of our souls; who is our only Hope in a troubled world; who is our Joy; and, who is the foundation of the church. Upon His promise to "build my church and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it," we rest our confidence. Upon His teaching that we are one in Him, we find our unity with Friends and fellow disciples of all nations.

Your epistle which was read with great interest and delight before the many Friends gathered for the 69th session of Oregon Yearly Meeting, brought inspiration and blessing to us all. Our love for the brethren in Bolivia is deep and strong. You are constantly in our prayers and thoughts. As we join with you at the throne of God in prayer, we are made stronger in the power of the Holy Spirit who ministers to all our needs and comforts our hearts by His abundant grace.

We are enjoying the presence of David and Florence Thomas in our Yearly Meeting. Florence Thomas brought a challenging report of the Bolivian church to a special reunion of the Friends ladies of Oregon Yearly Meeting. On Sunday evening, the Friends of the Yearly Meeting will dispatch a new missionary couple to serve the Lord with you in preaching the Word of salvation to the precious souls of your great land.

In these last days, of which your clerk Jose Acero reminded us, we are encouraging ourselves in the power of God to keep us firm in faith. We want also to be active in the work of the Lord. There is a permanency possible in our faith in Christ which is the foundation of the church. It is our earnest expectation that by the grace of God, you all will be kept strong in your walk with Him. It is a great blessing to find in the Friends church today those who have spent their entire lives in the ministry and whose service for the Lord grows more effective and joyful each succeeding year. The vision of a growing church which is stable and consistent in spite of hardships, persecutions, temptations or dangers must hold us steady in these uncertain days. The success of our Christian discipleship is not dependent upon material benefits or physical comforts. Nor is our growth as a church dependent upon programs or material things. The power of God is manifest as our hearts are filled with His love; when our consciences are clear before Him and when the inner man is in genuine fellowship with Christ.

We have been reminded at this Yearly Meeting by our special speaker that the power of the church is described perfectly in the words of Peter in Acts 3 when he declared, "Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have give I unto thee: In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk." If the Friends Church of Bolivia and North America can depend upon the power of God and not on silver and gold, we shall find blessing and effectiveness in our ministry.

These are dark days in the world. Our hearts are burdened for you and in turn we ask your prayers for us that together we shall all be found faithful until Jesus comes. Not only is our hope in Him the more precious as the days grow darker, but we look eagerly toward the day when we shall sit down together with you all in the presence of our blessed Redeemer and there to sing the praises of our God and know the joy of eternal fellowship around the throne in heaven. There, we will speak only one language, the language of love and of salvation, through the blood of the Lamb of God.

Approved.

- 103. The report of Junior Yearly Meeting was read as follows:

Over 108 children have been registered in the Junior Yearly Meeting this year and unusual interest has been shown by the children. We have learned about Friends missions around the world as Marie Haines, dressed in costumes of different people, told us true missionary stories from Alaska, Africa, Bolivia and India. We have learned much about what Friends believe through June Kenworthy's lessons. Fred Baker, David Thomas, Gerald Dillon and Lonny Fendall also spoke and showed many interesting pictures.

Our missionary offerings went to buy cradle roll packets for Sprague River, Oregon — Indian children's work.

Four Junior Quarterly Meetings were represented in our business meetings. Epistles were read from four Junior Yearly Meetings.

Our clerks were as follows: Herold Fodge, presiding clerk; Eugene Tish, recording clerk; David St. George, reading clerk.

A standing vote of appreciation was given to Ruth Corbin who had charge of the Junior Yearly Meeting.

Approved.

● 104. An epistle from the Junior Yearly Meeting was read.

● 105. Appreciation was expressed to June Kenworthy for her help in Junior Yearly Meeting.

● 106. The report from the Music Committee was read as follows:

It has been gratifying to note the wholehearted response throughout the Yearly Meeting to that which the music committee has attempted to do this year. It indicates to us a great need for guidance, a desire for education and encouragement in the general music program of most of the churches. Although we have hardly begun to touch the problem, a few things have been accomplished this year which we hope will be the first steps to greater things in the future. Among these are the following:

The month of March was designated as music month in an effort to pin point attention on church music. Several articles were published in the Northwest Friend, and two church bulletins were designed by John Carr.

The month of April saw the publication of the Church Musicians Handbook which has been distributed to local music committees and has proved valuable in the workshops.

In April also two music workshops were attempted on a limited scale: one at Greenleaf for the Boise Valley churches and one at Portland for the Southwest Washington, Portland, Newberg and Salem areas. Both were well attended and much interest and enthusiasm was shown. The program included helpful suggestions for song leaders, choir directors, children's choir leaders, music committees, organists and pianists.

What is done in the coming year will depend upon the interest of the people and the cooperation of the committee members and musicians of the Yearly Meeting. We solicit your prayers and suggestions.

Approved.

● 107. The statistical report was read. This will appear in the appendix. Appreciation was expressed for Margaret Weesner in compiling this report.

Approved.

● 108. A recommendation was brought from the Executive Council as follows:

It is recommended that complimentary meal tickets be provided for:

- A. The guest evangelist and members of his family.
- B. All visiting recorded ministers and their spouses from other Yearly Meetings, with minutes.
- C. Visiting representatives from affiliated organizations, such as the National Association of Evangelicals. Western Evangelical Seminary, temperance organizations, etc.
- D. Director of Junior Yearly Meeting.

2. When boards invite workers to serve in a particular capacity, such as workers invited by the Board of Evangelism, etc., the boards involved shall be responsible for the cost of the meal tickets and should take the initiative to see that they are regularly provided.

3. It should be noted that the Discipline makes provision in this regard also. (Read items 3 and 4, page 110)

4. This program shall be administered by the Yearly Meeting recording clerk.

Approved.

● 109. The Executive Council nominates Jack Willcuts as field secretary for the Board of Evangelism with a salary not to exceed $600 and expense account not to exceed $600, and Phyllis Uptegrove as secretary to Jack Willcuts with a salary not to exceed $1,200.

Approved.

● 110. Through an oversight, the Board of Missions failed to request of the Executive Council to name its president, Waldo Hicks, for the secretarial work of the board at a salary of $600 and an expense account of $600. We ask the Yearly Meeting to accept the recommendation of the board and approve Waldo Hicks for this position.

Approved.

● 111. The representatives presented the name of A. E. George as a trustee for a term of five years.

Approved.

● 112. The representatives presented the name of Ellwood Mylander to the Board of Finance for a term of three years.

Approved.

● 113. The representatives named the Visiting Committee to George Fox College. (See appendix).

Approved.

● 114. The representatives presented the name of Philip Harmon to the Ministers' Group Insurance for three years.

Approved.

● 115. The Board of Evangelism nominated Clynton Crisman to the Friends Church Extension Foundation for three years.

Approved.

● 116. The Board of Christian Education presents the name of Lela Morrill to the Publication Board of Evangelical Friends for a term of two years.

Approved.

● 117. The Friends Extension Foundation Corporation nominates Warren Moor to succeed himself as a member of the board of directors of the foundation.

Approved.

● 118. The Board of Peace and Service presented the name of Elmer Lewis to Friendsview Manor Corporation for three years.

Approved.

● 119. The representatives presented the name of Clifton Ralphs to fill the vacancy on the Board of Christian Education for a term of one year.

Approved.

● 120. The representatives presented these names to the Board of Evangelism for three years: Alvin Roberts, Myron Goldsmith.

Approved.

● 121. The representatives presented the names of the following to the Board of Missions for three years: Lawrence McCracken, Gladys Cook.

Approved.

● 122. The representatives presented the following nominations to the Church Music Committee: three years — Kenneth Fendall, John Roberts; one year — Joyce Hester.

Approved.

● 123. The representatives presented the name of Charles Beals as presiding clerk of representatives.

Approved.

● 124. The representatives presented the following nomination to the Board of Publication for a term of three years: Earl Barker, Joseph Reece.

Approved.

● 125. The representatives presented the following nomination to the Epistle Committee for a term of three years: Sarah McCracken, Arthur Roberts.

Approved.

● 126. The Ministry and Oversight recommended the recording of the following men as ministers of the gospel in Oregon Yearly Meeting: Edwin Clarkson, Howard Allen Cole, Quentin Nordyke, Eugene McDonald.

Approved.

● 127. The report of the caretakers was as follows:

We, the caretakers, have endeavored to assist all those present at the 1961 sessions of Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends by doing all jobs that were requested of us.

We would like to thank the following people who assisted us when an insufficient number of our committee was able to be present: Lorraine Stahlinecker, Elma McCracken, Dean Rinard, Lorie Barnes, Sandra Ralphs, Alice Hampton.

Approved.

● 128. Power was given to the committee appointed by the Executive Council to study the time for the 1962 Yearly Meeting sessions with power to decide the date, this date to be included in this year's printed minutes.

Approved.

● 129. The name of Dean Gregory was added to the committee appointed to study the aims of unity of Friends. (See minute 89).

Approved.

● 130. The meeting approved leaving the minute unchanged stating that Oregon Yearly Meeting will contribute $1,500 to Western Evangelical Seminary.

● 131. Dean Gregory suggested that the contribution to Western Evangelical Seminary be referred to the Board of Evangelism, as a future policy.

Approved.

● 132. Charles Beals called to our attention that the Executive Council is asked, in the Yearly Meeting Discipline, to make a report to Yearly Meeting of their official business between Yearly Meeting sessions.

● 133. The report of the Entertainment Committee was read as follows:

The many guests at Yearly Meeting were cared for through the hospitality of homes of the Friends churches of Boise Valley; 130 of these were placed through contacts made by the Placement Committee; 17 beds were placed in the gym; 10 tents and six trailer houses were on the church lawn.

There were approximately 4,000 meals served during the week including the two days of Christian Endeavor conferences preceding Yearly Meeting.

Appreciation is expressed to the cooks, John Knight, Ruth Hull, Jennie McConaughy, and also to Irene Delamarter who cooked for the C. E. groups who prepared an abundance of good food; to our pastor, Roy F. Knight, who served as purchasing manager; Ember Roberts and Fern Lamm, co-hostesses; Lelia Morse who directed the waitresses; Lenore Smitherman and Anna Mills of the Placement Committee and to Elsie and Lesta Hockett who sold meal tickets. A special vote of thanks goes to Frank and Will Engle of Melba Friends Church who last February purchased a steer at the academy sale and fed it until Yearly Meeting when it was hauled, slaughtered and made ready for use through the donated help of Harry Dillon, Paul Long and Glen Sherman. Great amounts of fruit and vegetables were contributed by many. The services of the different people of the various Friends churches of Boise Valley and Greenleaf Quarterly Meetings who took turns in preparing and serving meals are also appreciated.

● 134. A communication to go to congressmen was read as follows:

We, the Friends Churches of Oregon, Idaho and Washington, meeting in annual session August 16-20, 1961, at Greenleaf, Idaho, greet you.

In this day of crisis we are made aware of our great need of prayer and concern to maintain peace in our land. America has come to her greatness not by her own strength, but because she was founded as a God-fearing nation and the blessing of God has been upon her. Our Yearly Meeting wishes to assure you that we are praying for those who are responsible for our government. We wish to urge you, as our representative, to earnestly exercise your office in maintaining the Christian qualities of America and the measure of peace that has characterized us as a nation.
