ABOUT GEORGE FOX COLLEGE

George Fox College, in its Centennial year, is one of America's best colleges. This year, for the second time, it was given that designation by U.S. News & World Report magazine. GFC was ranked eighth in Western Regional Liberal Arts Colleges, including colleges and universities from Oklahoma to Hawaii. George Fox was rated second in academic reputation.

This year, for the second time, the College was named to the Templeton Foundation Honor Roll of Character Building Colleges, the only Oregon college selected and one of 102 in the United States.

George Fox College is the outgrowth of a desire by early Willamette Valley Quaker settlers who established Pacific Academy in 1885 for the Christian education of their children. The college division was organized in 1891 to provide more advanced instruction for students. In 1949, because of the many colleges in the Northwest with Pacific in their name, the College was renamed George Fox in honor of the founder of the Friends (Quaker) Church.

Accredited by the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools, the College offers 30 majors in eight divisions: Education, Fine and Applied Arts, Language Arts, Natural Science, Religion, Social Science, Physical Education, and Business. George Fox is one of 13 members of the national Christian College Consortium. The College has a student-faculty ratio of 16/1. College enrollment is 1,073.

George Fox students come from 17 states and 8 foreign countries. Nearly 40 religious denominations are represented on campus.

The College's most prominent alumnus is the late President Herbert Hoover, who attended Pacific Academy.

GFC ATHLETICS

Intercollegiate athletics is an integral part of the overall education program at George Fox. Men's varsity athletic teams represent the College in baseball, basketball, track, cross country, and soccer. Women students compete in volleyball, basketball, track, softball, and cross country.

George Fox College competes as an independent on the varsity level. Its schedules are coordinated with the Northwest Conference and with other independents in the Northwest. George Fox is a member of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA), District 2, and in some sports, the National Christian College Athletic Association, Region 8.

For students not participating in the varsity program, GFC has a complete intramural program including flag football, basketball, volleyball, softball, racquetball, and tennis.

Athletic facilities include the Coleman H. Wheeler Center for Sports and Physical Education; Colcord Field, which includes an all-weather rubberized track; tennis courts; and the Curtis and Margaret Morse Athletic Fields complex containing baseball diamond, softball field, soccer field, and archery range. The Morse complex dedication was in February 1989.

Wheeler Center, completed in 1977 in a $2.7 million project, includes the James and Lila Miller Gymnasium with three basketball courts and seating for up to 2,500; multipurpose, class, and weight rooms; faculty and administrative offices; handball courts; dressing and therapy rooms.

THIS IS WHERE THE GAME IS PLAYED

George Fox College is in its fourteenth year in the Coleman H. Wheeler Center for Sports and Physical Education. Completed in June 1977, the $2.7 million, 55,000-square-foot complex is the College's largest building. It contains the James and Lila Miller Gymnasium, the Bruin home court.

The sports center was designed by noted architect Pietro Beluschi, with a wooded canyon setting chosen as the center's location. The building features wood products and a large window area overlooking the adjacent natural terrain.

Three times larger than Hester Gymnasium, which it replaced, the Wheeler Center features a 116 x 174-foot gymnasium with three basketball courts and seating for 2,500 spectators. The gymnasium ceilings are 32 feet over the hardwood maple floor. The gym provides three volleyball courts and ten badminton courts.

The building is entered on two levels—ground level on the east side through the nine doors for the general public and after crossing a 200-foot bridge; and on the second floor on the west side for campus personnel. There is a two-floor lobby.

Contained on the upper level are athletic administration and faculty offices, staff room, and class, weight, and multipurpose rooms. The lower level contains a concession area and ticket sales area, dressing rooms, team rooms, laundry, equipment-issuing room, and storage space. An east wing of the building houses two handball courts.

The building is named for long-time Oregon lumberman Coleman H. Wheeler, former chairman of the board of Willamette Industries. The gymnasium is named for board member James Miller and his wife, Lila. He is the former president of Cascadia Lumber Co. The building was dedicated Oct. 17, 1977.

A LOOK AT THE PAST

The game of basketball was invented by Dr. James Naismith in 1891, and it took just seven years for it to be brought to George Fox College (then called Pacific College).

College board member and community leader T. W. Hester and others first saw the game played at the Portland YMCA. They were captivated by the new game and secured a ball, which they brought back to the College. The first exhibition game was played shortly thereafter, in the winter of 1898, and the first site was the third floor of the old Commercial Hotel on North Main Street because the College had no adequate space for the new sport.

The first gymnasium on the campus was the upper part of one wing of an old academy building (Hoover Hall), built in 1885 and torn down in the mid-1950s. A one-room wood gymnasium building was constructed in 1916 and served until 1946, when the College opened Hester Gymnasium, a concrete block structure built partly by student/faculty labor at a cost of $40,000. The building, with a single hemlock playing floor and seating for 1,100, served through the 1976-77 season with opening of Wheeler Center.

College athletic affiliation in men's basketball over those years has gone from independent status to membership in the old Willamette Christian College Conference, the Metropolitan Conference, the Oregon Collegiate Conference, and back again to the present status as a major small college independent member of NAIA District 2 (joined in 1965). In 1973 George Fox was the district champion, for the first time, and has been in the district playoffs 16 of the last 20 years, winning the district again last season.

BRUINS PARTICIPATE IN NAIA

The National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) is a completely autonomous association administering programs leading to national championships in 11 events. The NAIA includes 40 percent of America's collegiate athletic programs, representing 480 accredited four-year colleges and universities in 32 geographical districts spread over 49 states and Canada. The colleges have a total enrollment of more than one million, including more than 80,000 varsity athletes.

Established in 1940 as the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball the NAIB evolved from the institution of a "National Small College Basketball Tournament" that was inaugurated in 1937. In 1952, the NAIB expanded and the organization was renamed the NAIA.

NAIA national headquarters and staff are located in Kansas City, Missouri. The NAIA is governed by two bodies. The Council of Presidents, composed of one president from each district, is responsible for fiscal matters and supervision of the national staff. George Fox College president Edward F. Stevens represents NAIA District 2 and is one of five U.S. college presidents selected to serve on the NAIA Council of Presidents Executive Committee. The National Coordinating Committee, electd by the membership, is responsible for organizing championship events, academic standards, and overseeing the committees and associations.

George Fox College men's athletic teams compete in District 2 of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA). Fifteen teams make up the district, all but two within Oregon.

Members of the East Division are College of Idaho, Columbia Christian, Concordia College, George Fox College, Northwest Nazarene College, Warner Pacific College, and Western Baptist College. West Division members are Eastern Oregon State, Lewis & Clark, Linfield College, Oregon Institute of Technology, Pacific University, Southern Oregon State College, Western Oregon State College, and Willamette University. This alignment puts Christian colleges and independents in the East Division, and Northwest Conference and state schools in the West.

All teams have a post-season game to determine the right to represent the district at the national NAIA championships. All teams but the top team compete in a "sub-playoff" system, paired 2-7, 3-6, 4-5. The winners then join the top team in a regular playoff. The teams are cross-seeded with the teams from the other division.

Standings within each division will be based upon the record with other teams in the division. If there is a tie, results of competition between those schools involved will be considered. If there still is a tie, then overall NAIA District 2 records will be used to determine ranking, based on a system of awarding points for the strength of each team met, based on its win-loss record against winning or losing schools.

GFC has been in the District 2 playoffs 16 of the last 20 years.

TONIGHT'S GAME

Tonight, in hosting Columbia Christian, George Fox College plays its final regular season home game.

The Valentine's Day contest puts NAIA District 2's winningest team against the only district team to which it has never lost. In 18 years of NAIA competition the teams have faced off 24 times, GFC winning them all. This year the Bruins prevailed 127-74 on November 30 in GFC's Willcuts-Twenge Memorial Classic, then won 118-75 December 3 in Portland.

The Clippers come to Miller Gym with a 5-22 record, 1-8 in District 2's East Division. Columbia Christian snapped a 15-game losing string a week ago tonight, defeating Warner Pacific 102-83 at home, before being edged 88-84 Saturday night by Western Oregon. Of tonight's game Bruin coach Mark Vernon says: "Columbia Christian is playing better now. Mark Wyant is definitely the player to stop. We hope to get out and run and put some points on the board."

The Bruins, following their impressive 94-82 win Saturday night over College of Idaho before a record standing-room-only, turn-away crowd of 2,400, this week are rated 22nd in the nation in the NAIA. A win tonight will give George Fox its 50th win in two seasons, against just nine losses. The Bruins have produced 20-win seasons in five of the last seven years.

At 101.21 points a game, George Fox is the nation's sixth highest scoring team in the NAIA. GFC's scoring average over opponents is 13th in the nation.

It's not just in the nation that the Bruins are leaders. They dominate the district. There are 18 statistical categories and GFC is first or second in half of them. Seven other teams share the other nine. George Fox is first in scoring, in scoring margin, in rebounding at 52.8 a game, in free throws made (503) and attempted (700), and first in blocked shots at 161. The Bruins are second in rebound margin (9.9), in assists (638), and in steals (293). GFC's assist pace of 26.6 is a school record.

This week, for the second consecutive week, GFC's Dave Wilson is District 2's Player of the Week. He was named for his 31-point, 14-rebound, 7-blocked shot game against College of Idaho. It followed the week in which he set the NAIA's national record for blocked shots. He now has 443. He is averaging 18.1 points and 10.6 rebounds a game. Leading the Bruins in both categories is junior forward Jeff Hoffman, first in rebounding at 13.0 and fourth in scoring at 22.4.

THE BRUIN NICKNAME

George Fox College is represented by the nickname and mascot "Bruin." But it's not always been so, even though it should have been.

The nickname comes from a real bear captured in 1887 just two years after Pacific Academy (the College's predecessor) was established. The small cub was captured in the coast range foothills west of Carlton when its mother was shot. The young cub was brought to campus by a student and later lived with a faculty member. When it grew to adulthood it was kept in a pit in what is now known as Hess Creek Canyon south of the campus. It escaped one too many times and was turned into steak for the dining table and the hide preserved on a frame and displayed in an early campus museum. When it deteriorated several years later, it was taken to a campus furnace room to be destroyed, but the framework proved a problem in dismantling, so it was left sitting in a corner. Students found the old Bruin skin later and began skirmishes over ownership, a tradition that continues 103 years later. "Bruin Junior," a replica, under a set of guidelines passed down for years, is fought over periodically in class competition, with the class able to physically drag the Bruin replica off campus declared the rightful owner until next "flashed."

Even with the Bruin tradition, somewhere along the line, the "Quaker" tag to athletic teams came into popularity with sportswriters because of the College's church affiliation, and that nickname was used, along with a mascot "Foxy George," a little fox with a Quaker hat. Both gained acceptance for a period in the 1950s and 1960s until a vote of faculty, students, and administration in 1970 reinstated the Bruin nickname to its rightful place.
