Research interests: the area of neuropsychology, investigating the connections between neurological research — such as neuroplasticity, attention, emotion, memory systems, mirror neurons – and Scripture.

Teaching interests: the art of providing experiences from which individuals cannot escape without learning.

Laura is kept busy with family, service in the church, editorial duties for ICCTE, mentoring and a love of the great outdoors!

“In my saner moments, my wild hope is just to finish my book on Neuropsychology, Theology, and Education!” – Laura
