MINUTES

Northwest Yearly Meeting of Friends Church

July 20-24, 2014
George Fox University
Newberg, Oregon

Monday, July 21, 2014, 8:15 a.m.

Approximately 175 in attendance

1. Northwest Yearly Meeting of Friends Church convened its 122nd annual sessions on Monday, July 21, 2014, on the campus of George Fox University. The theme for this year's sessions was "Hope and a Future."
2. Nate Macy led us in worshipful song and prayer.
3. Tom Stave, presiding clerk, welcomed us and shared his anticipation of God's work in our midst this week. Tom also welcomed visitors:
Nancy Irving, Olympia Meeting, North Pacific YM visitor
Phil Baisley, Earlham School of Religion, Indiana YM
Ben Staley, Mid-America Yearly Meeting, World Renewal International
David and Virginia Wood, Ohio Valley YM, now at Friendsview
Noah Baker Merrill, Putney Friends Meeting, New England YM
Katherine Spinner, University Meeting, North Pacific YM
Joe and Jane Snyder, Multnomah Meeting, North Pacific YM
Rae Lawrence, Multnomah Monthly Meeting, North Pacific YM
Glee Lumb, Multnomah Friends Meeting, North Pacific YM
Christine Betz Hall, Whidbey Island Friends Meeting, North Pacific YM
4. Tom called on us to expose ourselves to the love of Jesus this week. Drawing from Philippians 2 and from Luke's story of Mary and Martha, he offered these words of hopeful counsel: "Love each other humbly as Jesus loves us AND relax in his gracious presence."
5. Approved: Becky Ankeny, NWYM superintendent, brought

...report, including the departure of two YM staff, Joel Bock and Krista Maroni, for adventures across the country. She welcomed Blake Estep and Angela Kantz as their replacements, and shared the pastoral changes throughout the YM. Becky challenged us to be dedicated to seeking Christ's perspective as we gather, not just this week but in our church bodies at home. She cautioned us against allowing any issue or disagreement, big or small, to become an idol, with the power to distract us from energetically loving God. When any one issue becomes more important than being loving community with one another, that issue becomes our unholy idol.

6. Approved: Julie Peyton, clerk, brought the first Nominating Committee report, reminding us that this committee is still missing representatives from Inland and Newberg areas. She explained the nominating process, which starts with an online form.

Board appointments approved at Midyear Boards, January 2014:

Paul Stoltzfus, Administrative Council
Julie Peyton, Clerk of Nominating Committee
Barry White, Finance Committee
Adam Puckett, Finance Committee
Bruce Longstroth, Board of Trustees
Theresa Smith, Board of Christian Education
Mark Pratt-Russum, Board of Youth and Young Adult Ministries
Robert Willoughby, Board of Youth and Young Adult Ministries
Tessa Holton, Board of Global Outreach

Approved for the renewal of 3-year board terms:

Frank Tuning, Board of Christian Education
Delonna Halliday, co-clerk, Board of Congregational Care
Thomas Magee, Board of Youth and Young Adult Ministries
Lloyd Pruitt, Board of Trustees
Ron Mulkey, Board of Global Outreach
Janelle Ralph, Board of Global Outreach
Tim Wenzig, Board of Leadership and Development
Dwight Kimberly, Board of Leadership and Development
Gene Mulkey, Board of Local Outreach

Approved to new 3-year board terms:

Darla Samuelson, Board of Leadership and Development
Jan Schmeltzer, Board of Global Outreach
John Price, Board of Elders
Syd Wyncoop, Board of Elders
TJ Warren, Board of Local Outreach

Don Brown, Board of Local Outreach
Mark Almquist, Board of Local Outreach
Chris McMullan, Board of Youth and Young Adult Ministry

7. Approved: Lana Thurston, clerk, described the function of the Board of Elders as prayer, peacemaking, crisis intervention, accountability, discipline, and pastoral recording. She thanked us for our patience as the elders continue to work with West Hills, which was brought under the care of the elders in 2012 when they released a minute regarding human sexuality. Individuals within the YM who have come under the discipline of the elders continue to strive toward restoration. One Friend spoke up to affirm the elders in their hard work as well as thanking Lana for sharing powerfully at the pastors conference.
8. Approved: Bill Moormann, clerk, reported that the Board of Local Outreach is centering their efforts and funds on new church plants and Latino ministries, and working to improve the board's communication with these two subcommittees. The board is attempting to base their approaches on sustainable models. Latino ministries, integrated, as opposed to Spanish-speaking-only ministries, seem to appeal to a wider range of peoples within the Latino community.
9. Approved: Aletha McKennon reported that the Board of Congregational Care strives to support healthy congregations, which often starts by supporting families and connecting the diverse strengths and passions of local meetings throughout the yearly meeting. She invited all of us to utilize their web page for advertising local ministries and events. She celebrated the work of traveling minister Nate Macy; the blessing that Share Call has been to several congregations; and the board's work in spiritual discernment by supplying annual scholarships to the Good News Associates conference. The board will be presenting various enriching workshops and events this week, including a marriage celebration, a memorial service on Thursday, and music on The Hoot stage each evening.
10. Tom welcomed NWYM Friends who have traveled in ministry to bring greetings from across the globe:
Ron Stansell, Newberg, brought greetins from Friends in Nepal and Burandi.
Del and Suzanne Livingston, Olympic View, greetings from Friends in Kenya and Uganda.

A.J. Mendoza, West Hills, greetings from Southern Appalachian YM.

Don Brown, Caldwell, greetings from Rocky Mountain YM

Portia Jones, Seattle, greetings from Honduras YM

Hal Thomas, North Valley, greetings from Bolivia YM

Carol Whorten, Klamath Falls, greetings from Ireland YM

Lon Fendall, West Chehalem, greetings from Friends in Rwanda

Maurice Roberts, Anthem, greetings from Friends in West India

Phil Baisley, Richmond, greetings from Friends in Cuba

Elenita Bales, Newberg, greetings from FWCC

and NW Women's Theological Conference

Jerry Baker, Netarts, reported his very positive experi ence at the National Friends Pastors Conference in Indiana.

11. Tom asked Brad Holton, member of the Administrative Council, to introduce listening group activities. Brad invited us to consider the following question: What hope and future does God have for the Friends of NWYM?

12. We dispersed across campus to join in small groups for worship sharing.

Tuesday, July 22, 2014, 8:15 a.m.

Approximately 210 in attendance

13. Nate Macy led us in worshipful song and prayer.

14. Approved: Tom brought a report from the Board of Communications for which Alan Akins has been serving as interim clerk since the winter. Deceased funding has resulted in a reduction of printed materials and an increase in online resources, including the Connections publication. The board is also looking into creating a YM app for smart phones.

15. Approved: Eloise Hockett, clerk, shared her vision for the Board of Leadership Development and Enrichment as touching church members of all ages and roles. With the Friends Center, the board hopes to continue to develop leaders through the seminary, and could use more scholarship funding to make this happen. The Pastoral Care Subcommittee continues to support pastors within our YM and reminds us that funds have been set aside for pastoral sabbaticals.

16. Approved: Thomas Magee, clerk of the Board of Youth and Young Adult Ministry (BoYaYA), affirmed Associate Superintendent of Youth and Young Adults Rachelle Staley for the wisdom and skills she brings to her work. Thomas explained that BoYaYA works in service of local meetings. Along these lines he encouraged us to continue to identify and encourage middle and high school students who might participate in Samuel School. With regards to safety, he reminded us to make sure our local meetings and ministries have child protection policies in place and to utilize YM-recommended websites to carry out background checks for all those involved in youth and children's ministries. YCEW NW is a ministry that the board will likely let go. They are gearing for promotion of our participation in Friends Summit, December 28, 2014 - January 1, 2015, in Southern California. The meeting approved Tom's offer to convey our thanks to Dave Brown for his rich years of directing NWYM Bible Quizzing. A representative of Friends House, Nampa, affirmed BoYaYa for promoting their ministry through Young Adult Grants.

17. Approved: Shawn Leonard, clerk, brought the ministry report for the Board of Christian Education and Discipleship. BoCED has heard from several local meetings who have had difficulty finding and presenting effective Sunday school materials. In response, Michelle Akins, pastor of children and families at Newberg Friends, has begun travelling to bring renewal to these programs across the YM. Shawn encouraged us to contact the board to invite Michelle to visit our local meetings. The meeting affirmed Bennett Hutchinson (Reedwood) a youth who utilized a Youth and Young Adult Peace Promotion Grant and creatively invented a peace-focused board game called United Front. The board has purchased a small group Bible study called Live It, Tell It, which they hope to provide to more local meetings. He invited us to contact the board to request these materials.

18. Approved: Linda Grimms, clerk of the Board of Global Outreach (BoGO), reminded us that the scenes of international news stories are the same places you'll find Friends Serving Abroad through BoGO. She invited us to this Thursday's celebration of Hal and Nancy Thomas, who are retiring this year from their ministries in Latin America. Judy and Johan Maurer are taking a year-long sabbatical from their teaching and relationship-building in Russia.

This year, the board is excited to send out five Friends Traveling in Service for short-term positions, including Anna Thomas and Kara Maurer to Moscow, and Cheryl Engel, Lana Thurston, Ashley Weinacht, and Sam Saxton to Ramallah. Linda emphasized that sending out missionaries starts with the discernment and encouragement of the local meeting. She affirmed Associate Superintendent of Global Outreach Shawn McConaughy for the work, travel time, and passion he pours out to make the work of this board possible.

19. Approved: Recording Candidate Dan Reimer, Rosedale Friends, assured us that he would share the testimony as God had called him, even though he feels it lacks any exciting, life-changing qualities. After growing up in a Christian home and graduating from North Idaho Christian School, Dan could see no possible career path other than pursuing God with all of his energy. He expressed thanks for the great mentors in his life, including Gar Mickelson, his senior pastor and father-in-law Tim Wenzig, and his own father. Dan described how he has developed a love for teaching and preaching during his work at Rosedale Friends. He also identified how much he has learned about the love of God through his life as a parent, especially a foster and adoptive parent. We approved the recording of Dan Reimer as a Friends minister.

20. Approved: The following individuals were appointed to the George Fox University Board of Trustees, which, as stated in the GFU bylaws, must be comprised of four Friends per seven trustees:

Renewed Appointments:	David Andersen
	Don Carter
	Raymond Cheung
	Adam Puckett (F)
	Kent Thornburg (F)
New Appointment:	Ken Redford (F)

21. Robin Baker, president, brought the annual report from George Fox University. Robin first addressed a situation that GFU had with a transgendered student during the 2013-2014 school year, which concluded when the university was granted a Title IX religious exemption in May 2014. Robin responded to previously-provided questions from YM Representatives, explaining the university housing policy, Title IX, and Friends population on the GFU Board of Trustees. He directed us to 1 Corinthians 6, in which

Paul instructs us to settle disputes within our own faith community. Robin encouraged us to direct specific questions about GFU to the NWYM office, the President's office, or GFU Board Chair, also a NWYM member, Gordon Crisman. Robin introduced GFU Director of Communications Rob Felton (North Valley) who has also been busy in representing GFU to the media during this issue. Professor Michelle Nicola was one of five national award winners for her work on the GFU campus promoting tolerance and a wide spread understanding of diversity.

Robin introduced Chuck Conniry, vice president and dean of the GFU Seminary, who assured us of the health and vigor of the seminary and explained several personnel changes and retirements. Due to their focus on innovation, the seminary is now available internationally, with more than 50% of the student population living east of the Rockies. Chuck emphasized the seminary's commitment to evangelism, promotion of women in leadership, and discernment. They strive to make the seminary a safe place to have dangerous conversations, and a place committed to serving the Church, God in the world, and the ethnically diverse body of Christian scholars everywhere.

Robin invited Jamie Johnson, director, to report on the Friends Leadership Program. Jamie encouraged us to read the sections in our handout about several recent alumni from the FLP. He also shared about the journey of one student who came from a non-Quaker background who, during his time at GFU in the FLP, became convinced of the legitimacy and importance of having women in leadership in the Christian church.

Tuesday, July 23, 2013, 10:35 a.m.

22. Nate Macy led us in worshipful song and prayer.
23. Jeanne Hazel, clerk of the Faith and Practice Revision Committee, offered the following revised statement for first reading on the NWYM Christian Witness to Human Sexuality, which is number 18 in the "What Friends Believe" section of our Faith and Practice:
- We believe that God created humans with a desire for connected community, for friendship, for family, for sexual intimacy, all of which are part of God's good creation. We give testimony that the purpose of sexual intimacy is both for procreation and for formation and sustenance of bonds of mutual love and respect between husband and wife, which nurtures the health and stability of the family and the community. We believe, therefore, that distortions of sexual intimacy including infidelity, premarital sex, same-sex sexual acts, and pornography contribute to brokenness of the individual and the community. We aim to be a community whose supreme vital purpose is relationship with Jesus Christ, who lovingly pursues every person - a community that provides a place to be open, honest, and accountable with sexual desires, wounds, and brokenness - a place where people can grow in God's grace and in the understanding and practice of connecting intimately. Out of loving concern for the individual and for the good of the entire community, we affirm the divinely empowered journey toward healing and sexual wholeness, repentance and restoration.

Tom provided a history of the journey toward the above statement, including a minute from 2012 Yearly Meeting Minutes in which YM Elders identified the need to review the Christian Witness to Human Sexuality in our Faith and Practice with the intention of seasoning it with grace.

Based on letters from churches who have spent time in-time in discernment considering this revision, Tom spoke-spoke to the good work that has been done:

- We have been faithful in seeking guidance from the Scripture, and have arrived at different understandings from each other.
- We have been faithful in considering what has been called our "historic stance" on sexuality issues, and have arrived at conclusions that both confirm and challenge it.
- We have been faithful in considering the current and proposed new language, and have arrived at differing views on whether the statement should remain the same, be replaced by the new language, or whether both versions are inadequate for a variety of stated reasons.
- We have been faithful in recognizing our call to love all persons, but we differ on how that love might be properly expressed.

Tom identified the importance of recognizing and telling the truth about these realities, which to our limited vision seem daunting. On the other hand, our churches affirmed certain other truths about which there seemed to be no dispute:

- Jesus Christ is the source and goal of our unity.
- We are called to love all persons.
- We want and need to trust each other.
- The work of love and trust is difficult, but persevering in this work is important.
- Jesus himself will lead us.

After relating these truths, some perplexing, some hopeful, Tom suggested some questions for us to ponder:

- Can we see and appreciate that differing views may reflect different giftedness, and that all gifts are necessary and valued in the body of Christ?
- Can we find unity around a solution that recognizes the variety of perspectives, histories, insights, and understandings?
- Can we discover through the love of Jesus a possible path forward in the direction of unity and greater understanding?

Tom closed his introduction by reminding us that this time was set aside only for our consideration of the revised statement for approval of first reading, not the topic of human sexuality in general, and that only persons from NWYM churches would have the privilege of the floor. Following an honest and respectful discussion, the meeting agreed with Tom's sense that the revised Faith and Practice statement could not be approved on first reading at this time. Tom offered to bring a draft minute expressing this sense to our meeting on Thursday morning.

Wednesday, July 23, 2014, 8:15 a.m.

Approximately 145 in attendance

24. Nate Macy and Joel Bock led us in worshipful song and prayer.
25. Tom invited Diane Randall, visitor from Friends Committee on National Legislation, to introduce herself. She invited us to speak with her more and learn about FCNL at her workshop later that day.
26. Dan Cammack brought the report from Evangelical Friends Mission, as well as greetings from Bhutan, India, Bangladesh, Philippines, Nepal, Mexico, and Alaska YM. Since beginning its international work in Mexico, EFM has been a part of starting eight yearly meetings. Most of these can be characterized as indigenous yearly meetings, developed and grown not based on American culture, but on their own native languages and cultures. EFM has begun producing three-minute videos in a series called Igniting the Hope to share their work, current and upcoming missionary projects, and to inspire churches and individuals everywhere.

Dan introduced Russell and Sarah Badgley, newly-appointed missionaries from Greenleaf, to share about their November 2-15, 2014, exploratory trip to the jungles of Ecuador and Peru. Sarah encouraged us to pray for them, read about them on the EFM website, and come talk to them to learn more.

Dan expressed EFM's goal to increase their budget by $120,000 this year and invited us to consider giving, great or small, and to pray for their missionaries. The 2014 annual EFM Board Meetings will be held in Oregon in November 2014.

27. Ellen Morse, Advancement and Development director, and Jeff Metcalf, principal, brought the report from Greenleaf Friends Academy. The Academy's goal is to provide an education for each student "as it ought to be, not as society says it should be" and to infuse students with the ability and desire to let their lives speak for Jesus Christ. Jeff explained that a major part of their board's job is to help him find and hire quality staff, and God has richly blessed them in this effort. Greenleaf recently began the development of its own food program, and was also able to increase its counselor position to full time.
28. Todd Engle, executive director, brought the report for Friendsview Retirement Community. Todd feels they are living up to their goal of providing active living and quality continued care for seniors in a Christ-centered community. They are blessed to see third-generation community members making Friendsview their home. Thanks to donor gifts and proceeds from their assistance fund, $170,000 in assistance has gone to recorded Friends pastors and missionaries, as well as to those residents who have outlived their assets. Todd encouraged us to take time this week to visit friends and family at Friendsview and to enjoy their gardens and campus.
29. Approved: Deborah Climer, candidate for recording, described her life journey, which has formed her into a brave, forgiving woman, committed to the ministry and advocacy of young people. She gently reminded us that we are never called to discount the pain and hardship that many go through as children. Thankfully, God gave her a vision of walking from a childhood plagued by abuse into a place of true healing in Christ. By the time she was a young woman in college, John 3:16 started to become very real to her. She started a new Bible study and, after marrying her husband and giving birth to their first child, the family moved to a Native American Reservation on the Nevada/Idaho border. At Silverton Friends, and in all her ministry work, Deborah strives to glorify Jesus Christ, who died to set us free from the bondage and slavery of sin. We are called to be living examples of this great freedom found in Christ, with a firm reliance on our integrity, ability, and character. We are free to accept ourselves as loved and forgiven. We approved the recording of Deborah Climer as a Friends minister.

30. Mark Kelley, assistant presiding clerk (Eugene) brought the report for the Administrative Council. This year, a subcommittee of the AC completed an evaluation of Superintendent Becky Ankeny, including a survey that was sent to senior pastors, AC members, board clerks, and Yearly Meeting staff. The subcommittee also reviewed Becky's previous reports to the AC. As a result of this evaluation, the AC recommended an extension of Becky's call to 2017, which was approved at Mid year Boards.

Retha McCutchen represented the AC by reaching out to New Life Friends in Vancouver, to stand beside the church during a time of pastoral and organizational transition. Retha and the AC were encouraged by the grace and openness with which New Life completed this process.

The AC is responsible for recommending a budget to the Yearly Meeting, based on the Ministry Plans of the boards. If reliable budget figures are available in January, this process focuses more on vision. If the AC does not have reliable figures, their April meeting is consumed with budget cutting. Churches can help the boards focus their vision by getting their estimated church support figures to Roger Watson in the YM office by early January.

31. Approved: Jan Geil brought the Nominating Committee's second report.

Elders - continuing 3-year terms
Jim Leonard, IN Sharrie Peterson, IN
Ken Redford, SI

Administrative Council

Eric Muhr, NW, continuing 3-year term
Debbie Harrison, IN, newly appointed by Elders for 3-year term

32. Aletha McKennon and Phil McLain, Board of Congregational Care, helped us celebrate the following wedding anniversaries:

50 years: Keith and Anna Baker
Elmer and Louella Crew
Jim and Jeanne Leonard
Dan and Jackie McCord
Lloyd and Marilyn Pruitt
Conrad and Jan Schmeltzer
60 years: Bob and Marcena Monroe
Conard and Sarah Petersen
65 years: Floyd and Arline Watson

33. Tom invited all those who felt led to rise and pray for the YM youth, who would join us for the following business session.

Wednesday, July 23, 2014, 10:30 a.m.

Approximately 240 in attendance

34. Nate Macy and Joel Bock led us in worshipful song and prayer.

35. Tom welcomed the Youth Yearly Meeting and invited officers to introduce themselves to the meeting:

36. Elsie McConaughy, 2014 High School Youth YM assistant clerk, and Stella Souza, 2014 Middle School Youth YM assistant clerk, read their epistles, both of which can be found in Appendix B.

37. Approved: Jeanne Hazel, clerk of the Faith and Practice Revision Committee, presented the revision of Query 16 for approval as first reading.

Tom invited Susan Ankeny to describe the hard work put forth by YM Representatives, who gathered during Midyear Boards in 2012 to compose this revised query. Tom then reminded us of the structure for our conversation and started us with a time of listening to the Holy Spirit.

The meeting approved the revised query as written, with the final addition of the first question from the previous version of the query:
Approved Query 16 Revision:

How am I attending to the Spirit of Christ in order to live a life so dependent on Him that I avoid any substance, practice, or activity that claims time or attention that is His or has the potential to harm myself or others? How do I avoid enabling others to pursue interests, activities, or substances that could ensnare them? How do I educate myself and others about the destructive potential of alcohol and other drugs? Do you discipline your mind and body to serve as instruments of the Lord?

38. Tom invited Rachelle Staley, associate superintendent of Youth and Young Adults, to speak to the meeting. Rachelle explained that her favorite part of her job was driving a van full of youth, where she has the opportunity to sit and listen to their joy. She sometimes wishes she could lock a bunch of YM adults in a van and listen to them live, or learn to live, together in joy. In an all too detailed account, Rachelle affirmed Eric Muhr for his willingness to step up in the most stomach-turning situations and clean up whatever the mess may be. And she pointed out that the youth present always remember the details. Rachelle reminded us that in the stickiest, worst-smelling, most challenging of situations, our reactions and the way we treat one another are witnessed and remembered by our children.

Thursday, July 24, 2014, 8:15 a.m.

Approximately 190 in attendance

39. Nate Macy and Joel Bock led us in worshipful song and prayer.
40. Linda Grimms, clerk, brought an appendix to the report for the Board of Global Outreach. Sam Saxton (North Valley) will be joining the 2014 Friends Travelling in Service for nine months in Ramallah.
41. Approved: Rob Willoughby, candidate for recording, is the youth pastor at Metolius Friends, and originally hails from Wyoming. Rob stepped away from the confines of the podium and gave us his story, starting at age 15 when he had fully "sold out to drugs." At 19, theft landed him in a three-year jail sentence, at the beginning of which a friend gave him a Bible. After being quickly put in his place by inmates, Rob found himself with nothing to do but read God's word. He ended up being released after 45 days, but continued his walk with Christ, studying at Barclay College, where he met his wife, Jenny. Though he praises God for a powerful and inspiring testimony, he identified the destruction he left in his wake prior to following Christ. With his powerful openness and honesty, Rob thanked God for bringing him home, and for the opportunity to minister to others in healing ways. We approved the recording of Rob Willoughby as a Friends minister.

42. Approved: Roger Watson, director of Finance and Development, brought the 2013 NWYM financial report, quoting an introduction to the Independent Accountant's Review Report completed by Kern & Thompson, LLC CPAs. The CPAs affirmed the accuracy and completeness of NWYM financial statements. The report showed an expense/income comparison resulting in a loss of $46,872 and a continued decline in local church support. Individual giving, on the other hand, increased slightly. The 2013 actual expenses were $36,693 greater than budgeted expenses. Over-budget items included increased number of seminary students scholarships, and increased staff wages due to personnel transitions and overlap for training purposes, which was offset by a reduction in staff benefits. The BoGO's expenses for ministry in the Middle East were not in the budget but funds were raised to cover those expenses. The 2014 year-to-date comparison shows higher local church support and a deficit of $5,020, which is an improvement from 2013. Roger was able to add $35,000 of income by applying for retroactive reimbursements from the Affordable Care Act for the years 2010-2012. He will be applying again for 2013.
43. Approved: Roger proposed the 2015 budget, which can be found in Appendix C. He described 2015 income by type, 42% of which comes from local church support. In previous years, local church support consisted of over 50% of YM income. Ten percent comes from the Ministry Fund, and Roger stressed the importance of reducing our dependency on this fund if we wish to work towards financial sustainability. Another unsustainable income source came from the closure and sale of the Quincy church in Quincy, Washington. The Quincy income flow will end December 2015. Roger reminded us that boards with lower expenses are not of lower value to the YM's ministries. Boards compose their expense budgets approximately two years in advance, which means changes occur between the planning and the implementing of God's call to each board's ministry.
- Part of Roger's effort toward getting a clear picture of NWYM finances has included a statistical analysis of average worship attendance from 2007-2013. He showed us a steep decline in church attendance from 2007-2011 and a leveling off in 2011-2013, as well as a high degree of correlation between attendance and YM support from the local church. As a YM, we must respond to God's call to share our resources in order to strengthen our local churches so that they, in turn, can serve and minister to their surrounding communities. In this spirit of hope and truth, Roger led us in a verse of 'Tis So Sweet to Trust in Jesus. Such statistical analyses will be more dependable once a greater number of local churches begin providing the YM office with consistent, accurate reports of their attendance and giving.

Roger invited us to utilize the free services of the NWYM Foundation, which assists the YM to raise long range funds, including trusts and endowments.

The meeting voiced a range of questions, affirmations, and insights. Gil George (Clackamas Park) reminded the meeting to utilize the Church Planting Subcommittee of the Board of Local Outreach. Dan Cammack (Tigard/EFM) invited Friends to consider attending the Church Multiplication Conference at Barclay College, Kansas, August 6-8, 2014.

44. Approved: Tom offered the following minute to describe our discussion and discernment process that took place during Tuesday morning's business session:

We considered the proposed revision to our Faith and Practice statement on "Christian Witness to Human Sexuality" which follows:

We believe that God created humans with a desire for connected community, for friendship, for family, for sexual intimacy, all of which are part of God's good creation. We give testimony that the purpose of sexual intimacy is both for procreation and for formation and sustenance of bonds of mutual love and respect between husband and wife, which nurtures the health and stability of the family and the community. We believe, therefore, that distortions of sexual intimacy including infidelity, premarital sex, same-sex sexual acts, and pornography contribute to brokenness of the individual and the community. We aim to be a community whose supreme vital purpose is relationship with Jesus Christ, who lovingly pursues every person - a community that provides a place to be open, honest, and accountable with sexual desires, wounds, and brokenness - a place where people can grow in God's grace and in the understanding and practice of connecting intimately. Out of loving concern for the individual and for the good of the entire community, we affirm the divinely empowered journey toward healing and sexual wholeness, repentance and restoration.

Our conversation was tender and respectful, as we sought God's mind together. However, we were unable to come to unity on accepting the proposed revision as first reading. This minute was approved.

45. Becky Ankeny addressed the meeting, reminding us that she shared from her heart, not as a spokesperson for the Elders or AC. Becky clarified that since we did not approve it for first reading, the proposed revision on the Faith and Practice statement on human sexuality will not return for further discussion on the YM floor. Becky would like us to take a five-year break from revising the sexuality statement. She would like us to lay down our conflict over it and spend time learning how to be loving neighbors to those in the sexual minority among us and outside us. She hopes we can be a YM where people can be who they are, where each of us, including sexual minorities, can praise God for the body and mind we have been given. ALL of us need to lay our entire identity down at the feet of Jesus. She asked that we make no "sudden movements": specifically, that we not perform same-sex weddings and that we desist from threatening to leave.

Becky also asked us to wait on God's mercy as per Lamentations 3, which she adapted and read:

God has made our teeth grind on gravel, and made us cower in ashes; our souls have been bereft of peace; we have forgotten what happiness is; so we say, "Gone is our glory and all that we had hoped for from the Lord." The thought of our affliction and our homelessness is wormwood and gall! Our souls continually think of it and are bowed down within us. But this we call to mind, and therefore we have hope.

The steadfast love of the LORD never ceases, his mercies never come to an end; they are new every morning; great is your faithfulness. "The LORD is our portion," say our souls, "Therefore we will hope in him."

The LORD is good to those who wait for him, to the souls who seek him. It is good that we should wait quietly for the salvation of the LORD.

Tom noted that while the superintendent had not asked for approval of a specific program or action, we could still affirm the pain, passion and hope that her message contained. We did affirm that.

46. Dennis Littlefield, executive director, brought a hope-filled report on the Tilikum Center for Retreats and Outdoor Ministries. He provided a brief history, telling how Tilikum grew from a dairy farm with a dream in 1962 to a thriving camping ministry, and returned to NWYM management January 1, 2012. In the Chinook language, Tilikum means friend, which has proved appropriate for a place where people of all ages gather throughout the year to be in fellowship with one another in Jesus Christ, whether at summertime day camp or year-round programming at the retreat center. Tilikum continues to be blessed by hard-working serve groups from throughout the YM. Camp improvements this year included a new water system, which increased available water supply at the camp by 300%, the addition of a large shop area, and the completion of a multi-year effort to convert the hay field to a play field. In addition to their usual regular camp schedules and maintenance, upcoming projects include building a "Big Canoe" that will seat 16 people and raising funds to bring necessary updates to the retreat center.

Thursday, July 24, 2014, 10:30 a.m.

Approximately 160 in attendance

47. Nate Macy and Joel Bock led us in worshipful song and prayer.
48. Patty Federighi (North Seattle) thanked all who have visited the Ministry Marketplace during YM this year and announced that it would close at 2pm on Thursday.
49. In response to a friend's expressed desire for more time to be in prayer and worship together regarding the morning's conversation, Tom offered, and we affirmed, that the existing statement on human sexuality still troubles some friends. Tom then recognized Gregg Koskela (Newberg) and Deborah Climer (Silverton) to speak to the meeting.

Gregg identified that the continuation of our discussion about human sexuality as stated in our Faith and Practice document is not only integral to the good news of Jesus Christ, but also a subject that weighs heavily on the hearts and minds of our youth and young adults as the future leaders of our church.

Deborah called us to practice kindness and compassion, as our children will be the witnesses to how we handle conflict, both this week and at home in our local meetings.

50. At the urging of the clerk, Friends shared ways in which they had experienced hope during our sessions.
51. Approved: Gil George, clerk of the Epistle Subcommittee, acknowledged their hard-working committee members and presented a "slightly rough draft" of the 2014 NWYM Epistle. We approved authorizing the Administrative Council to develop a final version, which can be found in Appendix A.
52. The meeting expressed heartfelt thanks for caretakers, YM staff, volunteers, representatives and clerks.
53. The 2014 Northwest Yearly Meeting of Friends adjourned to meet in Midyear sessions, January 23-24, 2015, and in its annual sessions, July 19-23, 2015.

APPENDIX A

2014 Northwest Yearly Meeting Epistle

*"For I know the plans I have for you," declares the Lord, "plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future."
Jeremiah 29:11*

Greetings to Friends worldwide from the 122nd sessions of the Northwest Yearly Meeting of Friends Church (NWYM), held at George Fox University in Newberg, Oregon, July 20-24, 2014. We thank the many meetings and associations of Friends who sent us their greetings and are grateful for the opportunity to hear from you all. We were grateful to welcome Nancy Irving (Olympia Meeting), Phil Baisley (Earlham), Ben Staley (Mid-America YM), David and Virginia Wood (Ohio YM), Noah Baker Merrill (Putney Friends Meeting), Katherine Spinner (University Meeting), Joe and Jane Snyder (Multnomah Meeting), Rae Lawrence (Multnomah Meeting), Glee Lumb (Multnomah Meeting), Christine Betz Hall (Whidbey Island Friends Meeting).

Our theme this year was Hope and A Future. In her keynote address, our superintendent, Becky Ankeny, shared a fable about a lobster and crab being out on the ocean in a storm. After sinking, they discovered they were at home in their element, just as we are at home in the ocean of God's love in stormy times. She reminded us that focusing on one area of ourselves (ie. sexuality) to the exclusion of others is a form of idolatry we must guard against.

We thank New England Yearly Meeting for releasing Noah Baker Merrill to be our evening speaker. Over the three evenings, Noah spoke to our theme using the three words "hope," "and," and "future." The power and insight of his ministry among us has encouraged and restored our hope. Noah began with a story told to him by an Iraqi Christian who had been tortured, crucified, hung on a basement wall and left to die. And then Jesus came to him while he hung there, not to take him down, but to climb up and join him in pain on the wall. Seeing Noah's confusion and heartache he emphasized, "Did you hear that Jesus came, and that I am alive?"

On our second evening, Noah spoke of living in the dynamic tension of the "and" in our theme by sharing how Jeremiah prepared the people of God for life in exile and all the tumult, chaos and confusion that was about to destroy their way of being. Noah gave us much needed encouragement to endure our time of exile. We are trying to live the gospel in a world of quick fixes, and we have no easy answers.

In his final message, Noah offered images of our future, reminding us of God's fulfilled promises. The exile ends. We will find the quiet center again, though we now feel the stress of being molded and shaped, and the heat of the potter's kiln. As the heat fades, the lovingly crafted, shaped and fired vessel will be brought out to display NWYM's beauty and we will be used for God's wonderful purpose. Even now, there is hope. We celebrate faithful service, fruitful ministries and spiritual vitality throughout our yearly meeting. We are reminded of the Iraqi Christian's extraordinary words and the truth they hold for us as we live in a conflicted present, yearning towards our future.

Many of you await eagerly the results of our discernment on our statement on human sexuality, and so do we. Please pray for us while we are in the "exile" of uncertainty and faithful disagreement. We are not in unity to accept a proposed change to our Faith and Practice for first reading, so we remain stuck in the "and" of this uncertainty of how we ought to put our faith into practice.

One source of hope is the intention and care we observe in the witness of our youth and young adults. Their words of encouragement during our business meeting led us to adopt changed language in one of our queries addressing distracting substances and practices.

Query 16

How am I attending to the Spirit of Christ in order to live a life so dependent on Him that I avoid any substance, practice or activity that claims time or attention that is His or has the potential to harm myself or others? How do I avoid enabling others to pursue interests, activities or substances that could ensnare them? How do I educate myself and others about the destructive potential of alcohol and other drugs? How do I discipline my mind and body to serve as instruments of the Lord?

May this query challenge you as it does us.

We recorded the gifting of three pastoral ministers. Deborah Climer, Robert

Willoughby, and Daniel Reimer. Their stories of lifelong dedication, of pain redeemed, and of restoration ministered proofs of the hope we bear. The youth led us in energetic worship calling for unity (not unanimity) by having us craft leaves out of paper and hang them on the branches of a tree. Emphatically, the youth reminded us that each little leaf bears a part of the tree's soul. In this symbol we saw value in each of us as a part of the larger whole and our hope for our present and future was renewed through the wise voices of our youth. "And the leaves of the tree [of Life] were for the healing of the nations." Rev. 22:2

On the final day of our business, our superintendent issued a call to not make any "sudden moves" while we are on this potter's wheel. All present affirmed the passion, heart and intention with which Becky made her request. This was followed by a time of sharing the signs of hope we had seen during the week. As more people rose to speak and share, we were drawn together in our love for one another.

Though we are not unified around the issue of human sexuality, and at times walk the line between despair and hope, we ask you to hear us not only as experiencing conflict and brokenness, but also our testimony of what Christ is doing in and through us even now. Have you heard that Jesus came to us and we are alive?

APPENDIX B – YOUTH MINUTES AND EPISTLES

Senior High Youth Yearly Meeting Minutes

Monday, July 21, 2014 10-11:30 a.m. Wood-Mar Auditorium

1. Matthew Staples, presiding clerk, started with a small explanation of business meetings.
2. Matthew introduced a time to think and reflect about the coming week with excerpts read from Psalm 100, Matthew 11 and Psalm 139, finishing with prayer
3. Rebekah Krohn, recording clerk, read last year's minutes and they were approved.
4. The youth officers described their roles as officers. Elsie McConaughy also explained what an epistle is.
5. Sam Swan, youth representative, described his role, and what EFC-North America is.
6. Matthew described the new nomination process, who is not eligible to be nominated, what being an officer entails regarding time commitments, and the approval system of officers.
7. Maddie Lookabill, conference coordinator, talked about the workshop options with clarifications from J Rourke. She also talked about signing up for the talent show.
8. Matthew talked about joining the adults during their business meeting on Wednesday and the youth roles in that.
9. Sam talked about the worship and guidelines during that time.
10. Haley Harn, alternate clerk, talked about submitting nominations and being prayerful during that time and listening to God.
11. Elsie McConaughy, assistant clerk, talked about the purpose of epistles and read last year's epistle. She explained that there are differences in the beliefs of Quakers, and then read excerpts from other yearly meetings' epistles; starting with one from Illinois YM, followed by New York YM, and Western YM.
12. Following a stretch break, Matthew explained that discernment over the query would take place in family groups, and then would come back for discussion in a business meeting. He read this year's query as follows: Knowing God has a plan for us, what hope and a future can you imagine God has for NWYM (and our local churches)?

13. Maddie talked about the schedule for the rest of the day and explained what will happen at each event.
14. Gage Beemish explained what unprogrammed worship is and where it will be held.
15. Matthew encouraged everyone to talk to someone they don't know during hang time. He also suggested a time to think about the query and what to discuss during family groups.
16. Matthew introduced Jamie Johnson who came to talk about George Fox University.
17. Rebekah Krohn closed in prayer

Tuesday, July 22, 2014 10:15-11:30 a.m. Wood-Mar Auditorium

18. Elsie introduced Lana Thurston, clerk of the Board of Elders, to report about the board; what issues are being discussed in the adult business meeting; and to pray over the YYM.
19. Rachelle Staley, associate superintendent of youth and young adults, talked about the mentor program the YM has put together for the youth and handed out signup sheets. She also talked about the Summit 2014 Conference and invited the youth old enough to attend.
20. Haley read a passage from Psalm 19; talked about unspoken truth during business; and opened in prayer.
21. Rebekah read Monday's minutes and they were approved after revision.
22. Matthew gave a more detailed explanation of the nomination process. He described the role of presiding clerk and opened nominations for presiding clerk:
  - Elsie nominated Eliana Swan and she accepted
  - Matthew nominated Caleb Clarkson and he declined
  - Gloria Baker nominated Joseph Harrison and he accepted
  - Eliana Swan nominated Kjiersten Schmidt and she accepted
  - Sky Lujan nominated Esther Hibbs and she accepted
23. Elsie described the role of assistant clerk, and Matthew opened nominations:
  - Sam nominated Kjiersten Schmidt and she accepted
  - Haley McWain nominated Alex Henry and he accepted
  - Erinn Baker nominated Tyndal Longstroth and she accepted
  - J Rourke nominated Mason Downs and he accepted

Matthew nominated Sky Lujan and she accepted
Haley nominated Joseph Harrison and he accepted
Amanda Clarkson nominated Caleb Clarkson and he declined
Sam nominated Jordan Merritt and he accepted
Sam nominated Sam Reid and he declined
Sam nominated Jesse Comfort and he declined.

24. Rebekah described the role of recording clerk, and Matthew opened nominations:
  - Matthew nominated Aloysius Heinz and he accepted
  - Jordan Merritt nominated Haley McWain and she accepted
  - Haley Harn nominated Morgan Evans and he accepted
  - Alex Henry nominated Grant Banham and he declined
  - Kjiersten Schmidt nominated Tyndal Longstorth; she accepted
  - Sky Lujan nominated Noah Stone and he accepted
  - Haley McWain nominated Joseph Harrison and he accepted
  - Joseph Harrison nominated Eliana Swan and she declined
  - Sam nominated Sam Reid and he declined
  - Haley Allen nominated Annie Astleford and she declined
25. Maddie explained the role of conference coordinator and opened nominations:
  - Nick Whitaker nominated Sam Reid and he declined
  - Olivia Rumpca nominated Hannah Roberts and she accepted
  - Esther Hibbs nominated Sky Lujan and she accepted
  - Elsie nominated Gabe Fawver and he accepted
  - Tyndal Longstorth nominated Maddie Geil and she accepted
  - Matthew nominated Jesse Comfort and he declined
  - Sam nominated Josh Ice and he declined
  - Elsie nominated Joseph Harrison and he accepted
26. Sam explained the role of youth representative and opened nominations:
  - Kjiersten Schmidt was nominated and she accepted
  - Jennifer Dalziel nominated Jessie Comfort and he declined
  - Eliana Swan nominated Sam Reid and he declined
  - Grant Banham nominated Alex Henry and he accepted
  - Haley McWain nominated Hannah Roberts and she accepted
  - Jordan Merritt nominated Sky Lujan and she accepted
  - Joseph Harrison nominated Haley McWain and she accepted
  - Eliana Swan nominated Noah Stone and he declined
  - Nick Whitaker nominated Josh Ice and he accepted
  - Elsie nominated Mason Downs and he accepted
  - Matthew nominated Jordan Merritt and he accepted

- Elsie McConaughy nominated Gloria Baker and she accepted
Haley Harn nominated Dehra McFaddan and she decline
Mason Downs nominated Joseph Harrison and he accepted
27. Haley Harn explained the role of alternate clerk and opened nominations:
Esther Hibbs nominated Joseph Harrison and he accepted
Nick Whitaker nominated Olivia Rumpca and she accepted
Jennifer Dalziel nominated Gabe Fawver and he accepted
Sam nominated Eliana Swan and she accepted
Sam nominated Kjersten Schmidt and she accepted
Sam Swan nominated Josh Ice and he declined
Mason Downs nominated Jordan Merritt and he accepted
Haley Harn nominated Hannah Roberts and she accepted
Sam nominated Noah Stone and he accepted
Sam nominated Sam Reid and he declined
Maddie Lookabill nominated Jaycee Engle and she declined
28. Matthew Staples invited Gage to read doreen's email about youth worship night.
29. Sam Swan closed in prayer

Tuesday, July 22, 2014 3:05-4:00 p.m. Wood-Mar Auditorium

30. Sam invited the group to pray in silence and then opened in prayer.
31. Matthew described the process of group discernment in choosing officers and asked for no clapping when the nominees re-enter.
32. Maddie read the names of nominees for each of the officers, with Matthew presenting the recommendations as follows:
Presiding Clerk: Joseph Harrison. He was approved.
Assistant Clerk: Kjersten Schmidt. She was approved.
Recording Clerk: Aloysius Heinz. He was approved.
Conference Coordinator: Sky Lujan. She was approved.
Youth Representative: Alex Henry. He was approved.
Alternate Clerk: Eliana Swan and Gabe Fawver, with a leaning towards Eliana. She was approved.
33. Matthew read the BoYaYa report (Board of Youth and Young Adult).
34. Maddie reviewed the rest of the day's schedule.
35. Elsie closed the meeting in prayer.

Wednesday, July 23, 2014 9:38-10:10 a.m. Wood-Mar Auditorium

36. Elsie opened with silence, devotions from Galatians 5, and a prayer.
37. Rebekah read Tuesday's minutes and they were approved with a clarification added.
38. Elsie read this year's epistle, and upon revision it was approved.
39. Time was taken to pray for the junior high meeting, that it would run smoothly.
40. Matthew introduced Gage to talk about the service project. He encouraged the youth to love the people whom they serve.
41. Maddie reminded everyone about the talent show and that sign-ups are still available.
42. Matthew talked about the conduct expected of the youth during the adult business meeting, where to sit, and that the youth are invited to participate in the adult meeting.
43. Matthew adjourned the meeting.

Wednesday, July 23, 2014 1:15 p.m. Wood-Mar Auditorium

44. Haley Harn opened in prayer.
45. Rebekah read the morning's minutes and they were approved.
46. Family groups shared what they discussed during the week.
-Big issues cause big debates
-Unprogrammed worship should be more prevalent in church services with more space between sharing to listen to God.
-Quaker churches in our yearly meeting seem to have the same image as any other denomination, rather than standing out as different as they do in other yearly meetings.
-Missionaries should be teaching by example and building relationships with those they are witnessing to, rather than forcing their religion on the people.
-Gaps between generations in the yearly meeting have not been bridged: some suggestions to fix this are:
a) Move youth free time to the same time as adult business so youth can attend if they wish.
b) Youth rep should not just represent to other youth yearly meetings but also to the adults, and have its own epistle to bring to the adults sharing his/her findings. The youth rep office seems to make connections across yearly meetings but not within our own.
-There is a want to serve, so the youth would like more service trips both globally and nationally, the national trips can be based on natural disaster relief.

-Change church programs to have more youth participate in services, such as having youth-led service in local meetings once a month.

-Focusing on personal relationships helps create a deeper and broader community that can then branch out and welcome more individuals into the community.

-All people are called to ministry and have value in body of Christ; want of unity between generations.

-God does not need us but invites us to be involved in the future though His plan is mysterious; we need to be actively pursuing and loving God.

47. As youth we cannot expect the adults to bridge the gap, the youth must be actively participating in the effort.

48. It is important to seek unity, but having unity does not mean that differences between people are eliminated; rather unity is working together as a people.

49. There was a theme that relationships with all the people around us are very important, how do we pursue these relationships?

a) The mentor program is a step towards building relationships with the adult population in the yearly meeting.

b) Sitting at a table with adults you don't know during a meal builds familiarity between the generations.

c) Community building does not only take place in programs but must be done with an effort at all times. To make these communities and relationships, the youth need to maximize the opportunities given, rather than demand more programs.

d) Spread out in worship to build relationships and learn from others in the way they worship, rather than sitting in the first 10 rows in middle section. Good conduct during worship could help build trust between the generations

50. The youth would like to pursue:

a) Free time during adult business meetings and possibly having a report that tells what is happening in the adult meeting to maximize the efficiency and attendance of youth in the adult meeting during free time.

b) Including the adults in youth activities and stepping out of their comfort zone.

c) Having the youth representative write an epistle as a way the adults could support the youth, and having the adult epistle read could help the youth support the adults.

d) Sending students who are not officers to the adult meeting to know what topics are being discussed, possibly have a YAF report as well, or pairing student with adult.

51. Matthew invited Gage to talk about beach day.

52. Matthew led the group in a reflection of the week: what was good about the week, musical worship, workshops, the speaker, and stories about the beginning of Quakers.

53. Maddie asked the group how their expectations were met, ideas for topics to be discussed next year during family groups - family group time could be used to reflect and learn about the foundations of Quakers and how the NWYM is a reflection of the ideals at the time, and have more scripture-based discussion.

54. Rebekah closed in prayer.

Senior High Youth Yearly Meeting Epistle 2014

Greetings to Friends, near and far, from Northwest Youth Yearly Meeting 2014. It is with joy and encouragement that we write to you, for the tradition of sharing a piece of our community with Friends all over the world is one that we value greatly.

This year our theme is “Hope and a Future.” The youth were given a query from Tom Stave, the yearly meeting’s presiding clerk, to prayerfully consider. It reads as follows: Knowing that God has a plan for us, what hope and future can you imagine God has for Northwest Yearly Meeting (and our local churches)? In our small groups, also known as family groups, the youth spent time discerning about where we see NWYM in the future. It has been both challenging and refreshing to spend time listening for and looking towards what may potentially be next for us as a community, as local churches, and as individuals. The future can be very daunting and it is only with God’s hope and grace that we can confidently move forward. Our speaker this week, Noah Baker-Merrill, a Friend from New England Yearly Meeting, has done a wonderful job of relaying this message. He speaks with enthusiasm and passion and has been a blessing and a very supportive presence this week. His encouragement to us in hope, as well as his insight into the status of our gathered body, has given us a reminder of the true beauty of our time together. “But did you hear that He came, and that I am alive?”

Throughout the week, the youth were blessed with opportunities to learn about business, mingle with the adults, and spend time with one another as well as with God. We got the chance to participate in a service project through a local organization called Love, INC (In the Name of Christ). We were also able to lead worship for the whole body during one of the evening services, as well enjoy God’s imagination and sense of humor as it is showcased at our annual talent show. The week ended with a fun and relaxing trip to the beach to play and enjoy each other’s company after a long week. We joined the adults for a closing banquet and then headed off to have a celebration of our own that was filled with laughter and created many memories.

Our annual conference at George Fox University is a time that we cherish and look forward to every year. The week is filled with fellowship and laughter, as well as a variety of unique worship opportunities. We are given chances to experience God through business, music, art, prayer, difficult conversations and copious amounts of fun. Coming together as a community and listening for God has a strange and definite way of drawing people together. The task of listening can be a difficult one, but it definitely works better when it’s done with others. We are thankful for the community that God has given us here, and we encourage you to pay attention to the ways God is working in those around you. Hope and peace to you, in the name of God, our Creator, and Jesus Christ.

Your family in Christ,

God encounters: 1) music; 2) preaching; 3) friends; 4) worship; 5) combined worship.

Family groups: 1) community - give and take; 2) reflection; 3) knowing God; 4) what is important?

Junior High Youth Yearly Meeting Epistle 2014

Dear Friends,

Greetings from Northwest Youth Yearly Meeting 2014. We are writing to you on the topic of our yearly meeting's events of the week. We started during Sunday afternoon with registration then gathered in Wood-Mar. Next we met our family groups and fellow cabin members, and then enjoyed a welcome dinner at the pool park. Later we had a combined evening gathering with the adults. At 8:30 we joined each for an intergenerational ice cream social. Later, in the basement of Heacock Commons, Sam Swan (senior high youth representative) shared about his trip to Rocky Mountain Yearly Meeting. For the next two days we played out our daily schedule. Currently, we are still going through the process of discerning about 2015 NW YYM officers.

This week many of the youth discerned about the fact that we think it would be beneficial to have another discernment topic in addition to the officer nominations and to extend the length of our meetings. We also believe that it will strengthen our experience and knowledge in the discerning process. We believe the Junior High portion of Northwest Youth Yearly Meeting to be a real and important part of the yearly meeting, and that we might show this by having more opportunity for discernment and by taking the discernment process more seriously.

In conclusion, it has been a fantastic week of family, learning and friendship. We are anticipating "serve day" and "beach day." Even though we're a little homesick, we still wish it lasted longer.

Love and hugs from Northwest Youth Yearly Meeting,
Stella Souza, assistant clerk
Junior High Youth Yearly Meeting

Annual Reports

July 2014

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

STAFF

As of the end of July, Joel Bock, director of communications, and Krista Maroni, administrative assistant (and project manager for yearly meeting sessions) will be leaving the office. Joel is accompanying his wife, Cherice, who is entering a doctoral program in New Hampshire in the fall. Krista finished her master's degree in student services last December and will be a resident director at Houghton College in New York. Her husband, Jon, has also found a job in admissions at Houghton. We will miss both of them. We also welcome two new employees, Angela Kantz as administrative assistant, half-time; and Blake Estep, communication and resource coordinator, full-time.

CAMPING

We saw an amazing work of God moving people to give money so Quaker Hill in McCall, ID, could purchase the adjoining 18 acres. They raised over $200,000 in less than six weeks. Quaker Cove in Anacortes, WA, improved their campus and made better connections with Puget Sound churches who may want to use the camp. Tilikum balanced its income and expenses in 2013 and looks to do even better in 2014. Giving to Tilikum is also up. Twin Rocks completed and put into use the new Welcome Center.

YOUNG ADULTS

Young Adult House was filled again at YM 2013, and they invited the NWYM elders to an evening of conversation. The first two rounds of YAF grants (made possible by Sowers Fund givers) were awarded by the Board of Youth and Young Adults. Awardees so far this year are Denae Warren (Star, ID); Drew Miller (Newberg, OR); Anthony Haskett (Friends House, ID); Katey Astleford (Sherwood, OR); Jade Souza (Reedwood, OR). A third round of applications is due in September. Thank you for your part in making these ministry initiatives possible.

Please help us identify youth and young adults with leadership potential to attend Summit, a national call to ministry conference put on in December by Evangelical Friends Church-North America (EFC-NA).

HIGHER EDUCATION

Donors to the NWYM Foundation helped 17 NWYM students attend George Fox Evangelical Seminary. George Fox University gave 32 scholarships to Friends Leadership Program (FLP) undergraduate Friends students; there were 35 total in the FLP program. NWYM churches helped 38 students in Fall 2013 and 36 in Spring 2014 attend George Fox University; these funds from churches were matched from the NWYM general budget. Please note that this church match scholarship opportunity has a deadline of August 1.

YOUTH

The youth have continued strong participation in yearly meeting events such as camping, quizzing, and Youth Yearly Meeting. They presented their rewriting of Query #6 at Yearly Meeting last year, and the meeting approved sending it to all the YM churches.

Latino congregations

The Latino Ministries subcommittee of the Board of Local Outreach has new leadership in Ken Comfort (Reedwood, OR) and Jed Maclaurin (Vancouver, WA). The Sowers Fund project for 2015 is to establish an internship for a bilingual person who plans to minister in a multicultural setting in our yearly meeting.

FRIENDS SERVING ABROAD

Elizabeth Todd is home from her first year of work in Palestine as a Friend in Residence at Ramallah Friends School. Several NWYM people have been to the Middle East for ministry and have visited her: Shawn McConaughy and his family, Retha McCutchen (Reedwood, OR), and Lynn Clouser-Holt (North Valley, OR). Ashley Weinacht (Greenleaf, ID), Lana Thurston, and Cheryl Engel (both Boise, ID) will join Elizabeth for three months as Friends Traveling in Service (FTS).

We will have eight teachers next year in China. Wheelocks are returning to the U.S. because of Shannon's pregnancy. Jenna Eliel, Joel Auer and David Reid are our new teachers.

Johan and Judy Maurer are in Eugene for a sabbatical year; Kara Maurer and Anna Thomas will be teaching English in Moscow for a year, also as Friends Traveling in Service.

FRIENDS SERVING LOCALLY

Gar Mickelson left the pastoral staff at Anthem Friends Church to be a local missionary to the Coeur d'Alene area. In a pilot arrangement with the YM Administrative Council, Gar raised half-time support to fund his work among the marginalized people in that community. He donated services to Kaleidoscope, a ministry that matches people with the social services they need, and he helped establish Second Street Commons, where people from the streets can sit, eat and talk.

DISCUSSIONS ON HUMAN SEXUALITY

First reading of our revised testimony on human sexuality was delayed until YM 2014 to allow churches to consider it more completely. Many NWYM churches reviewed the statement to consider whether it adequately states our beliefs. Responses have come back to the presiding clerk and to the Faith and Practice Revision Committee along a continuum of beliefs.

PASTORAL CHANGES

Olympic View Friends Church has called Rob and Jenny Willoughby to pastor the church.

Woodland Friends Church called Kevin and Christy Davis to pastor the church.

Ken and Rachel VandenHoek retired from Sherwood Community Friends Church. SCFC called Rich and Nadine Miller to pastor the church.

Amy Watson resigned as youth pastor at Sherwood Community Friends Church.

South Salem Friends Church plans to continue to invite traveling ministers to fill the pulpit for the next year.

David and Rose Rowe left Whitney Friends Church; Whitney has called Don and Debbie Steinke.

Gregg Lamm, Jon Maroni, and Jodi Hansen have resigned from 2nd Street Community Church. Gregg is on disability, Jon is going to New York, and Jodi is the new executive director for Newberg's Love INC. 2nd Street has called Marta Sears, Chris McMullan, and Ben Kulpa. They are implementing a ministry model of shared teaching/preaching among the pastoral staff.

Dan and Mindy Burns resigned from Crossroads Community Church near Astoria. They continue their ministry with Destiny Friends Church. Among others, Roger and Cathy Knox provided interim pastoral care at Crossroads. Brad and Heather Tricola are in a long-term interim pastoral role at Crossroads, having resigned from Vancouver First Friends Church.

Mauri Macy has retired after 33 years at Newberg Friends as pastor of worship ministries. Nolan Staples will be interim pastor of worship ministries for the 2014-15 year.

Darla Samuelson has resigned as pastor at RiversWay in Tigard.

Betty Jo Steele has resigned from her role as congregational care pastor at Silverton Friends Church.

Tim Henry has resigned from pastoring Sprague River Community Friends Church.

Brandon Baker has resigned from Reedwood Friends Church.

MONEY, MEMBERSHIP, AND CHURCH ATTENDANCE

Our local church support in 2013 was lower than in 2012, and this year appears to be lower than 2013. Income from other sources is up.

We closed several ministry points last year, as noted in the 2013 minutes. Some of these had been inactive for several years. We now have 57 total congregations; of those, three are ministry points.

Roger Watson, director of finance and development for NWYM, put together data showing that average attendance has dropped by 7% since 2007 (though it has risen since 2011). The number of churches over 100 has decreased, and we see the result of this in the inability to pay pastors full time. In that same time frame, the support local churches send to the yearly meeting has dropped by 23-25%. All of us are glad for the churches who have had the means to increase giving to the yearly meeting, even in hard financial times, and we appreciate the sacrificial giving by those churches whose own budgets have been cut.

I have tried to find an analogy for what local church support gains for local churches. Perhaps this is one: in Newberg, for around $50 a year membership fee, you can call a Fire-Med ambulance and your trips to the hospital are free. If you ride in some other ambulance, you will pay close to $200 per trip. Similarly, your local church support makes it possible for local churches in crisis to have the kinds of help directed toward their needs that they could never afford to pay for. There are other good reasons to support the denomination, but this one is likely the most altruistic. The office staff are not "overhead" but are instead part of the ministry of the yearly meeting to its membership.

CONCLUDING REMARKS

I have spoken at Adult Fellowship Camp, led two women's retreats and one church retreat; visited with pastors; been a part of a local church care committee; preached and taught Sunday school at my home meeting, Newberg Friends. I have visited the north (Valley) and the south (Medford) and several meetings in between, as well as northern and southern Idaho. I continue to be grateful to God for the good our congregations do in their communities and for the Kingdom of God. Thank you yet again for the privilege of serving as general superintendent.

BECKY ANKENY

NWYM SUPERINTENDENT

ELDERS

NWYM elders are responsible for prayer, peacemaking and crisis intervention, accountability, discipline and restoration from moral failure in public ministers (including pastors), and assistance and support for local elders. The recording of public ministers in NWYM begins with local elders who identify spiritual giftedness in public ministry, and ends with the yearly meeting elders who finally recommend the candidate for approval on the floor during Yearly Meeting business meeting. The Bible identifies at least two significant functions of elders: admonitory and nurturing (Timothy 5:17, James 5:14-15). Elders are responsible both for carrying out the "rules" of their worship communities and for bringing healing and forgiveness into the community.

We continue to hold our role of prayer support for the yearly meeting, churches, and pastors as our highest calling. The elders continue to set aside a full day during fall retreat to spend in prayer for all local churches, specifically addressing any concerns their clerk of elders or pastor had shared with us, and rejoicing with them for growth and victory. It is the highlight of our time together.

During Yearly Meeting 2013 the elders determined that the stance West Hills Friends Church has taken regarding human sexuality is potentially shattering to NWYM, and therefore entered a process for dealing with those situations. That process continues and we thank you for your patience as we work through it.

Two people completed their restoration process, one of which was Bruce Bishop. The restoration team reports that Bruce has completed the hard work they assigned him and they are confident that he can be restored to the yearly meeting. Bruce desires that any future ministry is transparent and healthy and that there is no suspicion that he has inappropriate power over others. Therefore, he has chosen to submit to the accountability of the elders of both the yearly meeting and his local congregation, acknowledging that there are appropriate limits for his ministry as consequences of prior actions. When any future ministry request comes to Bruce, he will take it to his local elders and accept only if they issue a minute of ministry. While the restoration process with the yearly meeting elders is complete, Bruce chooses to remain under the authority of his community of faith at North Valley Friends.

The Board of Elders recognizes that some may feel since Bruce has completed the restoration process that placing continuing restrictions on him devalues God's mercy and grace. Yet others may feel that allowing Bruce any public ministry devalues his victims. The board has had several conversations with Bruce above and beyond his work with the restoration team. We trust Bruce's contrition and his commitment to live faithfully in the future. At the same time we recognize the prudence—for legal, financial, and other reasons—to place reasonable limits on his ministry.

Bruce and we know that some will not be comfortable with the restoration process being complete. Bruce will make himself available for conversations with anyone who feels damaged by his actions or uncomfortable with the outcome of the restoration process. Anyone who would like to speak with Bruce about this can contact one of the yearly meeting elders who will facilitate the meeting and arrange for a neutral third party to be present.

One of our local churches came under the care of elders and our work with them continues. The board strives to be agents of reconciliation, helping to bring the congregation to a place of healing and forgiveness.

BOARD OF CHRISTIAN EDUCATION AND DISCIPLESHIP

“And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men. And straightway they forsook their nets, and followed him” (Mark 1:17-18, KJV).

The Board of Christian Education and Discipleship continues to be a vibrant, visionary group who cares deeply about Christian education within Northwest Yearly Meeting.

This has been our first year with our newest member, Michelle Akins, who is Newberg Friend's children and married couples pastor. Within our ministry plan we have commissioned Michelle to travel to and come alongside various local meetings in the area's of Sunday school and children's ministry. Over 20 local meetings have responded to her request for a visit. Michelle's ministry comes at a crucial time of need within our yearly meeting. If you haven't scheduled Michelle to come visit and talk, send her a request at michelle@newbergfriends.org. We are excited for the great work God is doing in this important area.

Jim Teeters, our teacher of teachers, designed a discipleship program called Conversations in Discipleship. The program is designed to show local meetings one model of how discipleship can be done and it's great importance to individual lives. We traveled to South Salem Friends where they graciously allowed us to present the program for the first time. The Board of CE is ready to come to your local meeting upon your invitation. Our hope is that you will continue Conversations in Discipleship once the program has been presented to you. Perhaps you are asking, “Why Conversations in Discipleship?” We have found that many people are not being individually, relationally disciple, and feel this is of great importance to the body of Christ. You can ask yourself right now, “Who am I personally mentoring and discipling?”

We have held our second annual writing contest with the theme of Sharing Your Story. We believe that when someone hears your personal story of how God has called you, it will inspire them to answer God's call. The winners of the contest have had their entries published and the books are available during Yearly Meeting for $5. Sarah Hoggatt has done the editing, and Bob Henry has done the cover artwork.

We printed a bulletin insert with a story from Rick Hayes on one side and how to write your story by Betty Hockett on the other. If you would like a copy of either of these send me an email request at shawnleonard22@yahoo.com.

We continue with our theme of Sharing Your Story by giving the small group study, “Live It, Tell It” to the first 16 churches to respond. It included five student guides and one leadership guide. It is an effective tool to disciple others in answering the call of God in their lives. We are looking for reports from our local meetings if this study was a good fit.

This year we started the Youth and Young Adult Peace Promotion Grant. It is designed to raise peace awareness. Of the four grants available we had two responses. We may reformat this grant to have a completely different structure in 2015.

BOARD OF CONGREGATIONAL CARE

Love and Logic – Consider a Sunday school class or have your church host a seminar series on parenting. The yearly meeting office still has many great books and resources on Love and Logic topics available for check out by churches.

Fine Arts – Here at Yearly Meeting the BoCC puts on the Hoot, the Drum Circle (Sunday, 6:30 p.m.) at the Hoot tent, and the Art Fair housed in the Library. We are looking for new, original worship music composed by NWYM people.

Nate Macy – Traveling Minister of the Arts in Worship Ministry continues to be available to help lead workshops and seminars in the area of training for worship using discernment and the arts.

Marriage Celebration at Yearly Meeting Sessions – This has been expanded to include honoring marriage anniversaries that have reached 60, 65, 70, and 75 years. Please notify us of any NWYM couples, anniversary dates, and churches of couples we should include in our celebration.

Memorial Service at Yearly Meeting Sessions – This continues to be a meaningful part of Yearly Meeting. Please send us names, dates, pictures, and biographical information from your churches of deceased members you'd like us to include in the service each year.

Natural Church Development – NCD is an evaluation tool available for churches to use in helping discern where God is leading their congregation.

Share Call – Up to two Share Calls are available each year for churches to ask for assistance with completing building projects. Responses through the Share Call are extremely generous and appreciated.

Discernment - The BoCC continues to help promote discernment training. Scholarship assistance is available for those wishing to attend the annual discernment training at George Fox Evangelical Seminary.

New Ideas for the BoCC – We are excited to see where God is leading us in the area of relational wisdom, promotion of churches who have been hosting and using Board of Congregational Care subject matters on the YM webpage, and honoring retiring ministers and missionaries

BOARD OF LOCAL OUTREACH

The Board of Local Outreach mirrored corporately and individually a diverse year of experiences. There were great gains and extreme losses this year. We know that we are not alone in that regard.

It's a marvelous thing to witness God at work in our midst, making us want to partner with him all the more. Sometimes it was in connection with plans we developed as a board, and just as often it was through (apparent to us) disassociated ways.

The reflected "take-home" of this year is, not surprisingly, that God is faithful and that our hope is in him.

Here are a few particulars from this year:

The Latino Ministry Subcommittee, clerked by Jed Maclaurin and Ken Comfort, met together and worked towards goals of consulting and partnering with Latino ministries under local church elders committees. Considered area retreats/workshops for training and vision. Completed visitation and encouragement of some of the Latino pastors and churches.

Local Care Team, clerked by Gene Mulkey, reported the completion of two events by the group including church "think tank" gatherings and attendance at the Inhabit Conference in Seattle.

The Church Planting Subcommittee, clerked by Gil George and Mark Almquist, is working towards building a group of those with concerns in this area for all aspects of the work. There are some serving in a consulting/advising capacity, people beginning the discernment process of potential church plants and those currently involved in church planting and/or ministry points. The subcommittee developed a draft document to work towards a church planting handbook.

Last summer (and again this year), at Barclay College in Haviland, Kansas, a conference was hosted on Church Multiplication. Folks from NWYM attended (and will attend) the conference.

The BoLO endeavors to reflect upon and respond to the challenge Becky Ankeny gave to the yearly meeting last year (Connection, On Our Way Rejoicing – 5/31/13). “The NWYM of Friends churches are compelled to share the good news that Jesus Christ is alive and present today to teach us himself; that we identify ourselves as Friends of Jesus when we do what Jesus tells us to do individually and corporately; and that this friendship is open to all.” We do have hope and this is the reason! Please be faithful in praying for this board and associated ministries. Also, please be discerning and responsive if Christ is calling you to join our ranks.

BOARD OF GLOBAL OUTREACH

Northwest Yearly Meeting Friends have a history of responding to God’s call and serving cross-culturally or partnering with those who serve – you are an important part of this work. As Friends of Jesus in our global community, we are called to live out Christ’s love, cross dividing lines among diverse peoples, and represent God’s peace and love to everyone. The Board of Global Outreach carries out this NWYM vision and mission, in large part, by sending, caring for and supporting our Friends Serving Abroad (FSA) and our teachers in the Teaching Abroad program. Highlights from this year include:

With NWYM support, we released Elizabeth Todd into ministry as a Friend Serving Abroad as a Friend in Residence at Ramallah Friends School. Elizabeth will be returning in August for another academic year with Ramallah Friends School and teaching English with STEP International.

Johan and Judy Maurer continued to teach in Russia, in an environment where the Friends’ testimony is timeless and relevant. Beginning with this yearly meeting time 2014, the Maurers’ are beginning a sabbatical year for rest and renewal, and to share their vision with local meetings, before returning to Russia after yearly meeting in 2015.

Teachers in China continue to impact the lives of university students, and have begun a children’s program that is welcomed by the community.

Karen Swenson continues to teach in Hungary, making it possible for missionary families serving there to remain on the field while meeting the educational needs of their children.

Hal and Nancy Thomas began their transition from teaching Latin American graduate students through PRODOLA into a supportive role with the Bolivia Yearly Meeting’s history project. Hal and Nancy officially retire from fulltime service during this Yearly Meeting but they will continue to assist with the Bolivia history project.

We are excited to begin a short-term service/pilot program. Our theme is: “Pray, Learn, Love, Repeat.” Initially called GIFTS (Globally Immersed Friends Traveling in Service), it has been shortened to “Friends Traveling in Service”(FSA). We anticipate that up to three people will serve in one of our fields (potentially including North Africa) for 2-12 months. Unless there are unusual circumstances or skill sets, service in North Africa or Russia will normally only be considered for a minimum of nine months including some language learning. Friends Traveling in Service are responsible for their own expenses.

We will encourage spiritual discernment, by local meeting and others, to confirm each person’s call to participate as a Friend Traveling in Service.

For Friends Traveling in Service, we are seeking NWYM Friends who will commit to:

a daily rhythm of prayer and listening to Christ, studying Scripture and learning through training and discipleship;

caring for their neighbors in love and openness, being present with and for them, listening and learning respectfully, while building relationships and friendships; practicing hospitality, sharing meals and developing friendships;

learning and understanding local customs and becoming immersed in local culture;

living out the reality of Christ in their lives: to act as well as to pray, to be trustworthy, committed to integrity, and demonstrating integrity of speech and action that honors Christ as it advances truth and characterizes our social and business relationships; being prepared to share our faith with others, with sensitivity and humility, as the Holy Spirit leads;

living at peace with all people and witnessing to the dignity and worth of all persons before God; and incorporating peacemaking and justice in their daily lives.

Our first teams of Friends Traveling in Service plan to leave this fall for Russia and for Ramallah.

Pray, Go, Learn, Love. Repeat! No long-term commitment is required of Friends Traveling in Service. If you have gifts and skills that may offer unique expressions of service, we want to work with you to create the best possible opportunity to fulfill this vision and support your own growth in ministry. What does "Repeat" mean here? We hope that many NWYM Friends will be called to pray, go, learn and love – so this theme will be repeated across NWYM and on our fields. Also, for those who go as Friends Traveling in Service, some may respond to God's call by returning for long-term service. Our abiding prayer and hope is for many in NWYM to be drawn to be Friends of Jesus in our global community, where we are called to live out Christ's love, cross dividing lines among diverse peoples, and represent God's peace and love to everyone.

Evangelical Friends Mission (EFM) plays a major role in the global outreach of Northwest Yearly Meeting, through Executive Director Dan Cammack (Tigard Friends) and Associate Director Matt Macy. Several NWYM Friends serve through EFM, including David and Tricia Howell (Talent Friends), David and Debby Thomas of Newberg, and Roy and Jinky Twaddell (Roy is a member at Reedwood Friends). Russell and Sarah Badgley (Greenleaf Friends) were recently accepted as candidates by the EFM Board to explore a Luke 10 outreach to Ecuador in association with Peruvian Friends. Many NWYM members support various workers in EFM fields in Africa, Asia and Latin America.

We are so appreciative of those who respond to God's call upon their lives for global outreach. One of our privileges and opportunities is to talk with people about how God may be calling them to serve – whether in short-term or long-term service, or in a local capacity to support global outreach. Are you a friend of Jesus who is feeling called to serve God globally? Please talk to a board member, or to Shawn McConaughy, associate superintendent for Global Outreach. We would love to walk alongside you as you are discerning God's leading and exploring calls to ministry overseas.

Maybe God is calling you to become a faithful partner in global ministry, with funds, prayers and encouragement. Your prayers and generous gifts may make it possible for others to respond to God's call. Friends have a history of responding to God's call and serving cross-culturally or partnering with those who serve. The Board of Global Outreach invites you to be partners with our FSA, Teachers and Friends Traveling in Service.

BOARD OF LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT AND ENRICHMENT

The mission of our board focuses on leadership development of all ages. We envision developing leaders who will be able to meet the spiritual needs of people both in the church and surrounding communities. Partnering with local churches and creating effective leadership support systems is critical as we prepare leaders to carry out the mission of Jesus Christ throughout NWYM and beyond. Although the challenges of reduced budgets slowed down some of our overall goals this past year, we are grateful that we still have been able to carry out vital ministries of leadership development for the yearly meeting.

RECORDING SUBCOMMITTEE

In the past three years we have witnessed 11 ministers complete their recording process and be recognized at yearly meeting. We anticipate a few more will be recognized during the 2014 Yearly Meeting sessions. The committee continues to work with a number of candidates at various places in their journey. It is a joy to watch them grow in the Lord and serve in a variety of ministries. The subcommittee will be going through some changes in the months ahead. I (Paul Almquist) plan to step aside from serving on the committee after this Yearly Meeting. We are considering a new clerk and also hoping to add some more people to this important committee. We request your prayer for discernment as new members are added, for those who are currently in the recording process, as well as those who may be recommended for recording by their local meetings in the near future.

PAUL ALMQUIST (WEST CHEHALEM)
SUBCOMMITTEE CLERK

FRIENDS CENTER

We had a good number of Friends students complete their seminary degree at George Fox Evangelical Seminary this year. This group includes: Sarah and Dan Klatt-Dickerson, Lori Allen, Kathy Watson, Dan Reimer, Gar Mickelson and Tobyn Bower. There are currently 10 Friends students continuing toward their degree.

I had the opportunity to teach a course entitled History and Polity of the Friends Movement in the spring semester. This is a required course for students with a Friends Center scholarship. We had a great time thinking about our heritage and discussing our hopes for the future of Friends.

Funding continues to be a challenge as we look ahead. We encourage those who have a heart for people called to pastoral ministry and other types of church leadership to consider giving generously and regularly to our scholarship fund. Contributions may be sent at any time to the Northwest Yearly Meeting office and designated for Friends Center scholarships.

PAUL ALMQUIST
FRIENDS CENTER DIRECTOR

PASTORAL CARE SUBCOMMITTEE

The pastoral care subcommittee continues to provide support to the YM pastors with the fall Focus Conference and the spring Pastors' Conference. Each of these events provides a venue for pastors and ministry leaders to interact with each other, have spiritual refreshment and fellowship, and gain insights to further their ministries. The title of the upcoming fall conference is: Rhythms of Grace: Life-saving Disciplines for Spiritual Leaders. Dave Williams, new superintendent for Mid-America, will be the speaker.

The pastoral care subcommittee has completed recommended guidelines for pastoral sabbaticals that local churches can utilize. Several pastors within the YM are either currently on sabbatical or about to begin one.

The Board of Leadership Development and Enrichment has supported this sabbatical initiative by budgeting funds to assist local churches with the costs associated with a pastoral sabbatical.

MENTORING SUBCOMMITTEE

The goal of the mentoring subcommittee is to develop and support both current and future leaders through mentor training. Mentoring for pastors and youthworkers in the recording process is now well-established, and we would like to expand the mentor training to local churches. Interested churches are welcome to contact our committee for more information about mentor training opportunities.

We are in the process of adding another dimension to mentoring, that of a coaching model for missional training. The purpose of this training is to: 1) activate leaders into God's mission in ways that sustain and transform them; while also 2) enabling them to pass on perspectives, practical behaviors/skills conducive to growing missional churches and disciples. This approach equips ministry leaders for sustainable and reproducible leadership, with the goal of actively being the hands and feet of Jesus within local communities.

This year our board, sponsored Eloise Hockett and Gar Mickelson to an in-depth training program for missional work sponsored by the Forge organization. It is our vision that in-depth equipping of NWYM leaders will have a positive impact on the ministry of the local church body within their communities. Finally, we do have some open spots on our board. If you have a heart for leadership development and raising up the next generation of leaders for the yearly meeting, please prayerfully consider if this board might be a fit for you.

BOARD OF YOUTH AND YOUNG ADULTS

The Board of Youth and Young Adults (BoYaYA) wants to communicate our passions and concerns as well as the things we've done in the last year. So I'll start with the things that knock around in our hearts and give us pause.

The first thing that continues to be on our hearts is our love and concern for the local churches of the NWYM. We want to care for and support the youth and youthworkers of the local church. It is the local church that is the life of our yearly meeting. We will continue to serve the local church with established programs, and we will continue to look at new ways to address the needs of youth and young adults.

Samuel School is often referred to as the "Aha!" moment in a person's spiritual life. It is a ministry that has seen reduced numbers, yet it is one where the youth continue to report the most significant growth in their relationships with Jesus and deepening of their faith. It relies on the local church investing in their youth and sending those they see ready for the experience to Samuel School. Years after attending Samuel School people report it as still a pivotal time in their Christian life. We'd love to see it bursting at the seams.

We also feel a burden for the Young Adult Friends (YAF's) of the yearly meeting. Just as the national demographics show, young adults are moving to urban cores around the country and this is true in the Northwest as well. We are dreaming about ways for the yearly meeting to connect young adults in the urban areas of our region. Please pray for us as we consider the challenges and opportunities present for us in this. We want to go where Jesus leads us.

Now we'll move on to a great future event. That's Summit 2014, December 28 - January 1. This is a national gathering of Friends youth and young adults that happens every four years. It will be in San Diego this year. Information can be found at: <http://www.friendssummit.com> It is aimed at ages 16 - 25. It is a great opportunity to learn from and worship with Friends from all over the country.

This past year Bible Quizzing continued to get youth focused on scripture. Dave Brown is retiring from directing Bible Quizzing and he wisely trained his replacements Gary Adams and Aimee Bartlow. We are extremely thankful for their willingness to continue an important ministry that connects our youth to the words of the Bible. We are also very thankful for the many years of Dave's service to God and the youth of the yearly meeting.

In the past year we held the volleyball tournament in Idaho, Midwinter hosted by Reedwood Friends, and supported a number of camping opportunities for youth. We provided leadership internships to Young Adults Friends. Youth Challenged to Expand their Worldview (YCEW) is in Ireland even as I type this, and BoYaYa sponsored the Camp Director Meeting at Quaker Cove.

Midwinter will be taking the year off in order for us to focus on Summit 2014.

TRUSTEES

Thanks again this year to my fellow trustees, Lloyd Pruitt, Bruce Longstroth, Barry White and Steve Gulley for their service over the past twelve months. We appreciate Dave Green for being so generous with his time and willingness to allow us to consult with him on legal matters. While we did not have some of the major issues to consider as we have in the past, here are business items we worked on this year:

1. We worked with the following churches on matters pertaining to their property or buildings: Clackamas Park, Olympic View, Entiat Friends, Iglesia Evangelica en McMinnville and Woodland Friends.
2. Members of the trustees were involved in several meetings and dialogue with representatives from other YM boards and folks from New Life Friends in Vancouver regarding their buildings and ministries. We had healthy discussions relative to the future of the programs at New Life including meetings with Crossroads Community Church in Vancouver relative to a possible partnership effort. In the final analysis no major decisions were made with respect to any significant changes.
3. The property tax exemptions for the Washington churches were filed with the State of Washington prior to the March 31, 2014, deadline.
4. One of our main roles is as a consultant to churches, individuals and YM staff on various matters as they come up. We appreciate the way Roger Watson hit the ground running in his first year at the YM office. He is a tremendous help to the trustees.

On behalf of the trustees we enjoy serving the yearly meeting in a mostly behind the scenes sort of way.

FRIENDS WOMEN

The Friends Women of Northwest Yearly Meeting provided funds to support the following Friends Women Projects for 2013-2014. These include: Retreat for Teaching Abroad Teachers in China and Hungary, Bilingual Chinese/English Holy Bibles to be available for the TA Teachers, and bilingual Russian/English Holy Bibles for Johan and Judy Maurer in Russia, in addition to a hospitality fund for Maurers, transportation for disabled children in Morocco to attend therapy, David and Debby Thomas Discipling for Development, Samson and Priscilla Retnaraj in Nepal - Adult Literacy projects, Del and Suzanne Livingston BioSand Water Filtration project, Elizabeth Todd project for Ramallah Friends School. Additionally, the women have raised money to support a ministry started by Jan Schmeltzer in Africa providing sewing machines, supplies and training to women who are learning the craft to provide for their families. Nancy and Hal Thomas received funds gifted by FW to support the expenses of the Bolivian History Project.

Last fall our NWYM Friends Women retreats 2013 welcomed Louise George as our guest speaker. She shared the message regarding waiting on the Lord, under the theme "Hang On To The Vine," referencing John 15:4. We held two retreats, at Quaker Hill in McCall Idaho, and Twin Rocks at Rockaway Beach in Oregon. It was a wonderful time of reflection, rest and fellowship.

Our 2014 spring rallies presented the theme "In His Hands" referencing Jeremiah 29:11. Presenters were Ed and Marie Cammack, who updated us on their recent trip to visit the Bolivian Friends. They shared about their experiences and the lovely way the church is growing, and the children of people they mentored who are now leaders in the church. Nancy Thomas spoke at the Portland/Newberg/SW Washington Spring Rally. She shared several stories that have been revealed in the process of researching the history of the Bolivian Friends Church.

Our local Friends Women groups are supporting both global and local outreach and community projects in addition to the projects listed above. They support orphanages, medical clinics, pregnancy clinics, crochet and knit baby caps and blankets for local hospitals and prayer shawls, EFM projects, children's projects, Wycliffe, homeless outreach, community meals, ministry to shut-ins, child evangelism, and multiple people serving around the world. They also save boxtops and labels for local schools and children programs. They are firmly committed to prayer for the needs presented to them, and send cards to those serving abroad.

NWYM Friends Women continue to offer scholarships for young female teens and young adults to participate in leadership training, including retreats, Samuel School, and other programs offered for development. We desire to encourage the next generation of women leaders, and are very inspired by the young people of the NWYM.

Our Friends Women fall retreats will be held September 19-21, 2014, at Quaker Hill, and September 26-28, 2014, at Twin Rocks. Judy Maurer is our guest speaker, bring a message of invitation, "Meet Me at the Crossing of Grace and Truth." We look forward to seeing you there!

JOE LYNNE RADER (SILVERTON)

VOLUNTEERS ON WHEELS

Volunteers on Wheels (VOW), an unincorporated non-profit organization of Northwest Yearly Meeting of Friends (NWYM), completed 30 years of service in March, 2014. We are a service community of caring volunteers serving our Lord by volunteering our experience, energy and time in assisting church and para-church organizations in the Northwest, primarily churches, schools, and camps. By fulfilling requests for service and assistance, the organization saves on labor. We, and hopefully the organizations, are blessed as we all work, worship and fellowship together. Our annual Rendezvous was again held at Polk County Fairgrounds in Rickreall, Oregon, May 20-23, 2014. Some gathered for brunch and by evening meal time, there were 37 in attendance. LeRoy Benham led our devotional time, Dave and Lorraine Clark led music, and Dan Stahlnecker convened our business sessions. Most of us visited the Jensen Arctic Museum on the campus of Oregon College of Education in Monmouth. The lives of Lois Miller and Violet Richey were celebrated in our memorial time.

Floyd Watson reported that eight organization were served, for a total of 2851.5 hours volunteered, traveling 17,397 miles.

Those organizations include:

NWYM - yearly meeting platform

Twin Rocks - modular buildings moved and set up, Welcome Center, woodcutting, grounds, maintenance, laundry

Friendsview Retirement Community -canyon work, gazebo

GFU - canyon work, mixing compost, bicycle shed

Love INC (In the Name of Christ). - bunk beds for women's shelter

Quaker Cove - chapel work, residence cleanup

Quaker Hill - archery range, ball/wood shed, dining hall, rags, cleaning, laundry, chairs, repair, maintenance

Tilikum - maintenance

Marion Friends Church - painting

The VOW Board for May, 2014 through April, 2015:

President - Dan and Linnea Stahlnecker (2015)

Vice-president - Bill Rourke (2015)

Secretary - Bill Rourke (2015)

Treasurer - Keith Baker (2015)

Project coordinator - Dan Stahlnecker (2015)

Statistician - Floyd Watson (2015)

Chuck and Karen Scott, trainees

Past president - Leroy and Paula Benham

Member-at-large - Pete Snow (2015)

Historians - Bob and Jan Thompson (2015)

The balance of all funds on May 1, 2014, from dues, auctions, and contributions was $4,545.16. VOW donated $200.00 to Tilikum and $200.00 to Quaker Cove.

We now have 42 members with the addition of Chuck and Karen Scott.

Projects for 2014 include: concrete sidewalks for Newberg Friends Church, work with the Friends Cemetery, GFU, NWYM, Quaker Hill, Tilikum and Twin Rocks.

The accomplishments, camaraderie, and friendships as we serve God and as you provide opportunity, helps keep our lives fulfilling.

VOW is experiencing change. We are seeking new members with energy and expertise that they would share with those organizations needing assistance. We are striving to adjust to the times. We are seeking opportunities to serve the smaller, less adequately funded, Friends meetings in the Northwest.

EVANGELICAL FRIENDS MISSION

"Remember that at that time you were separate from Christ...without hope and without God in the world. But now in Christ Jesus you who once were far away have been brought near through the blood of Christ...Consequently, you are no longer foreigners and aliens, but fellow citizens with God's people and members of God's household..."
(Ephesians 2:12-13, 19)

EFM is dedicated to the task of mobilizing evangelical Friends to participate in God's mission to preach peace to those who are nearby (like Mexico) and those who are far away (like Bhutan). What emerges from this work are new relationships in and through Jesus Christ. We become the people of God, members of God's household. We form local churches and structures that help us be connected to one another and that mobilize us for mission. This is the kind of work that EFM is doing in Mexico, Ireland, Rwanda, India, Nepal, Bhutan, Bangladesh, the Philippines, and among refugees in the US, England, Germany, and the Middle East. Altogether there are over 250 churches that have been formed in these places (plus many more small groups that are on their way to becoming churches) and they are organized into eight yearly meetings. Here's a question to ponder: As more and more people, in what seems to us like faraway lands, come to faith in Jesus Christ, in what ways will these new family members change our lives and the way we do ministry?

A FEW HIGHLIGHTS FROM JULY 2013 TO JUNE 2014

- In November a total of 78 people representing 14 countries gathered in Chiang Mai, Thailand, for the first ever EFM Worldwide Missionary Gathering. Not only were EFM missionaries there but also some of those who are serving under Northwest Yearly Meeting, Evangelical Friends Church–Southwest, and Evangelical Friends Church–Eastern Region. Kent Walkemeyer, professor and director of the Friends Center at Azusa Pacific University, gave us a tour of what the scriptures teach about the Church and what that means for today. Ron Stansell, former missionary to Bolivia and retired missions professor from George Fox University, walked us through some of the history of Friends’ missionary activity from the 17th century to the present. The last half of the gathering focused on how to apply what Kent and Ron presented by discussing a mission statement (along with core commitments and values) that the EFM Board has been working on.

- Shortly after the gathering in Thailand, Typhoon Haiyan hit the mid-section of the Philippines causing much destruction and loss of life. Evangelical Friends in North America responded generously to this crisis. Two rounds of food aid were distributed on the island most affected by the typhoon and where we have eight churches. Two livelihood projects have also been completed. There are enough funds to do more livelihood projects in the coming months.

- In January there was an Evangelical Friends Church–Asia gathering in Kolkata, India. Michael and Kathryn Linville, along with their toddler Nehemiah, participated in this gathering. The Linvilles are approved EFM missionary candidates who sense a call to pioneer a work in northern India. During the gathering the EFM directors and the Linvilles met with church leaders from India and Nepal so that these leaders could help weigh the call. The conclusions were affirming and next steps were discussed.

- At the end of May the first Luke 10 trip occurred. Luke 10 trips are exploratory trips to parts of the world where Friends from North America and Friends from the Majority World believe God may be calling us to open new fields together. Those who go on these trips are future missionaries, church leaders from North America and the Majority World, and people with missions experience. So this first trip took place in Gambella, Ethiopia, with EFM missionary Brad Carpenter and church leaders from Rwanda and Omaha, Nebraska. They spent a few days with about thirty believers from South Sudan and Ethiopia. The discernment process about next steps now moves to Evangelical Friends Church–Rwanda and Evangelical Friends Church–Africa (Burundi, Congo, and Rwanda).

- Also in May another family was approved by the EFM Board as missionary candidates. They are Russell and Sarah Badgley along with their children Emma, Joe, and Ruth. The Badgleys are from southern Idaho and are members of Greenleaf Friends Church (which is part of Northwest Yearly Meeting). The Badgleys are sensing a call to pioneer a new work in Latin America, possibly in the jungles of Ecuador (see next section).

- In June a group of 17 leaders met in Sinaloa, Mexico, to discern the Lord’s direction about how to move forward in that part of the country. There is one Friends church in that area. The leaders came from Kansas, Oregon, California, and three places in Mexico: Coahuila, Aguascalientes, and Mexico City. After three days of prayer, worship, discussion and meetings with local leaders, an action plan was put together that includes both long-term and short-term components. The long-term has to do with putting out a call to evangelical Friends in the US and Mexico for Friends who feel called to move to Sinaloa and form a church planting team. Stay tuned for the official announcement!

LOOKING AHEAD

- Two Luke 10 trips are being planned for this fall. One will be to northern India during the first half of October and will include the Linvilles. The other will be to Ecuador during the first half of November and will include the Badgleys. Some Friends from Peru Yearly Meeting are planning to participate in the trip to Ecuador. That yearly meeting is taking steps towards becoming a missionary-sending body.

- John and Sangi Vanlal, EFM missionaries to Nepal, will be on furlough in the US from July to November. Kathi Perry, EFM missionary to Ireland, will be on furlough during the first half of 2015.

- More three-minute videos are on their way in the “Igniting the Hope” video series which features EFM missionaries and their ministries. These are designed for use in Sunday morning meetings for worship, Sunday school classes, small groups, as well as individual use. They are accompanied by inserts that help explain how we can support our missionaries. The videos and inserts are available on EFM’s website: www.friendsmission.com. So far the videos for the Thomases (Rwanda), Retnarajes (Nepal), and Linvilles are available.

- Soon you will see a new logo for EFM as well as a revised mission statement that not only says what our mission is but also identifies the core commitments, central ministry focus, and Friends’ convictions that help guide our ministry. Speaking of Friends’ convictions, as I travel the world I am meeting people and hearing stories that remind me of things

I have read not only in the book of Acts but also early Friends' history. I am praying that the vibrant faith I see in these Friends will become so contagious that it will cross oceans and infect all God's household, including those of us here in America.

2014 Treasurer's Report

I have now completed my first annual cycle as Director of Finance and Development for Northwest Yearly Meeting. It has been a time of learning yearly meeting people, processes, functions and financial documents. During that time I've communicated many times with my predecessors, Brendon Connelly and Dave Hampton, who have helped me understand structure and function. I'm grateful for their input. While I've consulted with Dave and Brendon to gain historical context on a number items, I've also made some changes which I believe will more accurately reflect the yearly meeting financial position. Along the way there have been mistakes made, lessons learned and corrections crafted. Together with new Bookkeeper Tonya Comfort, I've tried to keep up with what is happening. I appreciate my relationship with Tonya and her careful attention to many details.

The items contained in this report are but an incomplete financial representation of the ministry work done by many people to minister the light of Christ to many people in the northwest and beyond. What are included here are summary reports. Detailed reports, including the full financial review report, are available upon request from the yearly meeting office.

The accompanying table summarizes 2013 income and expenses, after accountant's review, by board. Total income was below budget for the year at $1,223,708 and lower than total actual expenses of $1,270,580 for a deficit of $46,872. Both income and expenses were increased from the 2012 due to increased Global Outreach activities and seminary scholarships. Restricted giving and designated funds offset these additional costs.

Local Church Support fell $46,073, about 8.5% from 2012. In order to compensate for this reduction in Local Church support, a number of budget cuts were made at mid-year. This effort helped but did not erase the deficit. Historically, Local Church Support has been the largest source of income to fund yearly meeting ministries, surpassing other sources by a large margin. In 2013 however, individual giving, inclusive of restricted and unrestricted gifts, has been the largest source of income. Total individual giving was $510,799 while Local Church

Support was $491,799. Restricted giving, coming from individuals and churches, supports specific ministries, such as Friends Serving Abroad, Teachers Abroad, seminary scholarships, local outreach efforts, Youth Challenged programs and other vital ministries. This source of support represents approximately 29% of total income. The use of restricted funds in 2013 was $388,612, an increase of $35,521 over 2012. Unrestricted gifts of $122,187 were used to fund general expenses where needed.

Ending balance of the Ministry Fund was $1,466,893. This is in contrast to the previously reported balance of approximately $1.1 million. The previously reported balance did not include notes receivable which should have been included. Total designated and restricted fund balances for all boards, including the Ministry Fund, were $2,214,548.

The 2015 budget, with $1,204,605 in planned expenditures, is 1% lower than the 2014 budget and about 4% less than 2013 actual expenditures.

Going into the 2015 budget process, the yearly meeting Finance Committee determined that it was not prudent to continue to set a budget for Local Church Support payments at a level which is not being reached. Therefore, this important source of income has been significantly reduced from previous budgets to $500,000. This reduction, approximately 14% lower than was budgeted in 2013, more closely approximates our recent experience.

Ministry Fund Allocation to Boards is the amount drawn from the Ministry Fund reserves in order to fund each board's ministry expenses. The 2015 budget calls for use of $66,000 from the Ministry Fund, about 5% of the fund balance, plus the use of most of the proceeds from the sale of the Quincy property, just over $60,000. Typically, proceeds from the sale of property are added to the balance of the Ministry Fund to invest and earn returns for use in future years. Beginning in 2011 however, after the sale of the Quincy property, proceeds from its contract payments have been used to fund current year operations. Financial times have been difficult and in the face of more severe budget cuts, the decision was made to use these funds rather than to save them. Contract payments will end, however, in December of 2015. and so, beginning in 2016, there will be no choice but to find additional income or make more extensive cuts in expenditures. Use of the Ministry Fund at a 5% of principal level should allow the fund to maintain its balance without being depleted.

Transfers from restricted and designated funds are scheduled to increase to a total of $397,771. Restricted funds are from restricted contributions made for specific ministries and programs. These gifts are held separately and used only when the ministry for which they are intended takes place. This source of income is not used to defray any administrative costs or yearly meeting office expense but is applied, in its entirety, to the ministry to which it was directed. Designated funds are monies put aside by decision of the yearly meeting for specific purposes but are under the control of the yearly meeting.

The Allocation of Personnel & Administration expense assigns a portion of yearly meeting staff wages and benefits as well as other yearly meeting office expenses to all boards to recognize the support given to ministries under the various boards. The allocation of costs to specific boards, at $427,862 is virtually unchanged from 2014. It should be noted that total wages and benefits are reduced in 2015 and that no cost of living increases are planned for yearly meeting staff.

Epistles Excerpts from Other Yearly Meetings

Alaska General Conference Charley and Lynn Basham shared their experiences at the Friends World Conference in Kenya with stories and pictures. They described a common transformational journey that pastoral, evangelical and unprogrammed Quakers experienced while meeting together. They reported a strong sense of connection with Quakers throughout the world united in a common movement toward peace, justice; an experience of the peaceable kingdom here on Earth rather than in a nebulous future.

Aotearoa/New Zealand YM How can we each be more effectively a 'publisher of the Truth'? We recognise the need to let our light shine as Quakers, and not hide it under a bushel. To avoid growth simply for growth's sake we have to support and nurture those we have, as well as look for and welcome newcomers. We need to enrich our worshipping communities by getting to know one another in that which is trivial as well as the eternal. Our worship underpins and supports our communities' spiritual and educational development.

Australia Yearly Meeting Friends are concerned about the excessive use and depletion of the earth's finite resources, and our need to care for the earth.... We recognise our responsibility to offer spiritual as well as practical leadership at local, regional, national and international levels. For us the relationship between earthcare and peace work is central, as is the extent to which we will continue to fund our Peace and Earthcare Office established in 2012.

Belgium and Luxembourg YM ...we were together as Belgium and Luxembourg Yearly Meeting for the very first time... Truth is not our destination, then, but the way we travel life's path. It is a way of behaving that is grounded in our experience in worship. We need to learn to trust the experience, to trust our leadings. Do we dare rock the boat, throw the bankers out of our hall of heroes, sit with the homeless on the pavement and see the world from the perspective of those who do not possess the earth? For truth combined with love requires us to act, to seek that of God in improbable people and places.

Bhopal Yearly Meeting Main theme of our Meeting was "IF YOU LOVE ME, YOU KEEP MY COMMANDMENTS" (John 14:15)... Nalini and Devdas shared their experiences of participating in "Bio Sand Water Filter Workshop" at Bengaluru, Karnataka, and their plan to implement the same at Friends Rural Centre, Hoshangabad....

Experience of attending Australian Yearly Meeting by Devdas shrisunder, was amazing and helpful for organizing our future Yearly meetings.

Britain YM Our struggles with discernment may not easily be resolved, but these very struggles can bring us blessings. We need not be afraid of confronting issues where the way forward is not clear or where Friends are not in unity. We trust in that Spirit which guides us into all Truth. Thomas Kelly describes this trust as "walking with a smile into the dark." In large and small groups, and in our personal encounters with other Friends, we need to practise deep listening to one another and to the promptings of love and truth. Being open about our decisions, and being prepared to talk about them, makes it easier for those physically absent from our meetings for business to trust that we have been led by the Spirit. Central European Gathering 2013- We were especially pleased to have again three Friends join us from the Evangelical Friends Church in Tolna, Hungary.... We explored deeply about truth in ourselves and in our relationship to the world. As one of us said: 'Why does searching for the truth bring about such discomfort?'

Cuba Yearly Meeting Among the reasons for rejoicing were the appointment of a new pastor in our yearly meeting, Julián Alfonso Martínez, the recognition of gifts in ministry of Lucila Fernández Quintana, and also the opportunities for service given to brother Ramón González-Longoria Escalona as Clerk of the Friends World Committee and to sister Kenya Casanova Sales as a member of the Executive Committee of FWCC Section of the Americas. We give thanks to God for all this.

East Africa YM Our theme was, "Do everything without complaining or arguing..." Philippians 2:14-15. It was powerfully explored by Pastor Moses Murenga of Kakamega yearly meeting. He stressed the need for repentance and return to loving care of the Lord. Paul warns the church against unnecessary arguments and grumbles. He calls for cooperation among the believers...

EMES Annual Meeting 2013 This was our first Representatives' meeting since many of us met during the World Gathering at Kabarak, Kenya, in 2012, a once-in-a-generation and life-changing experience for many of those blessed to attend.... We ask Friends to consider what each of us can do in our meetings and communities to serve them more faithfully. How can we deepen the sense of community?

France Yearly Meeting 2013 We considered the challenge: “Are we the last Quakers in France?” The Assembly felt we were at the beginning of a growing period while wishing to keep our origins and values.

Illinois Yearly Meeting (FGC) We are being asked to be more welcoming and inclusive to everyone within our yearly meeting community. We wrestled with welcoming the LGBTQI community members who are part of us. What is the language we want to use that would convey our commitment to diversity among us? Do we commit to educate ourselves about what may seem to be indifference and ignorance? And do we commit to finding the language and educating ourselves?

Iowa Yearly Meeting (Conservative) Friends from nearly a dozen states representing more than 20 monthly meetings in the US and Canada gathered for a week in late July and early August to consider the theme ‘Make a Joyful Noise’.... In many experiences of the week, we came to understand that the seeds of joy are intertwined with gratitude, awe, beauty, wonder and connection.

Ireland Yearly Meeting 2013 Our founder George Fox visited Cork in 1669 and it was whilst living in Cork that William Penn became a Quaker.... If we are to allow the Spirit to search us we need to be more reflective in our worship and to listen and obey the light of Christ.... Julia [Ryeberg] challenged us through the words of Swedish Quaker Emilia Fogelklou “Poor Jesus, if we would only worship him a little less and listen to him a little more.”

Japan Yearly Meeting The 2012 Annual Gathering of Japan Yearly Meeting was held on November 17 and 18 at Mito Monthly Meeting-house, newly rebuilt after overcoming the great trial of the East Japan Earthquake. Our theme this year was ‘Be of good comfort, be of one mind’ (2 Corinthians 13:11).... Mito Friends suffered many hardships, but thanks to this [outside] support and their own cooperative efforts, they were able to complete the reconstruction in a short time. Hearing their report, we were convinced of the unifying power of faith.

Monteverde Monthly Meeting In 2012 our appreciation of community has grown.... Working together has acted as a catalyst to better understanding. We have given and received much and recognize the need to be generous to ourselves as well as others....The community has contributed a significant amount of time, energy and love to provide pastoral care to Friends.

Nairobi Yearly Meeting The theme of the conference was “Move on into God’s Promises” derived from the book of Deuteronomy 1:6-7. The main speaker, Professor Watson Omulokoli, explored the theme extensively urging delegates to stand up, move out and move on. He referred to the three stages the Israelites underwent which were, the glorious past, the splendor awaiting future and the deplorable present.

Netherlands Yearly Meeting He illustrated this with a video of the South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission which showed how the parents of a murdered white activist were able to forgive the murderer. In doing so they continued the work of their daughter in her spirit of reconciliation. This made us dialogue extensively about guilt and forgiveness in our basegroups.

New England Yearly Meeting (FGC/FUM) “Live up to the Light thou hast, and more will be granted thee” was God’s ministry to 19th-century Friend Caroline Fox as she grappled with deep sadness. The story of how she received the first glimmer of light and the promise of more spoke strongly to our condition as we explored our own stories, both individually and as a body. Many of us arrived already weary from lives burdened with concerns. We came seeking divine guidance and the nourishment we know we find in worship and love and community. The fragrance of scripture that infused the writings of early Friends invites us to draw sustenance from our roots.

New York Yearly Meeting (FGC/FUM) We have been challenged by Truth: To renew and invigorate the Two Row Wampum Treaty – the original agreement the Haudenosaunee people made with the European settlers to live alongside each other, in peace with one another and with the earth... [N.B.: this was just the first of five challenges.]

Nordic Yearly Meetings’ Gathering we need each other in pastoral care and support. We are not members of a silent study group that like to meditate together! We are all part of the eternal and the immediate presence. God is eternal and immanent. I AM, was the message to Moses in the desert. Or, in the words of George Fox: “You have no time, but this present time.”

North Carolina Yearly Meeting (Conservative) Our theme for our gathering this year has been ‘Maintaining the Unity of the Spirit in the Bond of Peace.’ What we have shared with each other and what our speakers have shared has been a sense that the bond of peace arises from Christ leading us into compassion and love for all our brothers and sisters.

Northern Yearly Meeting Spiritual hospitality was the theme of our gathering. We explored ways that monthly meetings and worship groups can reflect spiritual hospitality, recognizing how we create holy spaces for listening and challenging each other and the benefits of dispersion of authority and learning from new voices. Spiritual hospitality is our personal statement about God in dismantling the barriers of the world.... Our exchange and inter-visitation relationship with our sister meeting in El Salvador continues to open our hearts to theological diversity and spiritual hospitality.

North Pacific Yearly Meeting Friends in Residence, Paul and Becca Mohally Renk... shared with us how their hearts keep breaking, over and over again, as they open themselves to the poor in Nicaragua. They asked us to be willing to have our hearts broken as well, to see the poverty and the marginalized people existing all around us. ....Those of us coming from a position of power need to show up as learners and listeners rather than teachers. Voluntary powerlessness means letting go of being in charge of the process; it means making common cause with the losing team. Because this process is painful we must trust the power of the Spirit and live in community.

Ohio Valley Yearly Meeting (Conservative) Our plenary speakers helped us to explore ways to become more sensitive to the promptings of the Spirit. Stephen Potthoff, in his presentation 'Dreaming, the Natural World, and Lives of Early Friends,' provided examples of early Friends who experienced dreams and visions as a call to radical faithfulness.... It is a joy to report that a sense of loving unity prevailed – we were able to hear the loving concern that lay behind our varying opinions and ideas.

Philadelphia Yearly Meeting (FGC) On Saturday evening, Friends Niyonu Spann and Lucy Duncan partnered in mythic and personal storytelling that brought us face to face with the pain and healing that come from working through the 'generational trauma' of racism and white supremacy among us. "So much of our truth," Niyonu and Lucy told us, "is locked in 'inappropriate' stories to share" – yet without confronting one another boldly in truth, we are doomed to festering wounds and spreading injustice.

Southern Appalachian Yearly Meeting & Association A Threshing Session concerning SAYMA's ongoing relationship with American Friends Service Committee included stories of affection for or disconnectedness from AFSC based on past personal associations with the AFSC. We searched for healing and renewal by listening without judging. While painful for some, the period of threshing exemplified our commitment to speak even unpleasant truth in a spirit of love.

Southeastern Yearly Meeting (FGC/FUM) The Faith and No-Practice Band once again brought us an intergenerational dance.... Southeastern Yearly Meeting announces to the wider Quaker world that our own Faith and Practice, developed over a period of twenty-three years, is finished and will be available in book form by the end of April 2013.

Switzerland Yearly Meeting We are aware that we need to further consider the causes of the need for this restructuring – the declining number of active members and the need for greater spiritual depth in our Quaker community.... Would we go to prison for our beliefs? Would we invite a homeless person or a drug addict in for tea? How radical is our hospitality – who are we excluding from our table? We should be careful that our comfort and our fear do not stop us from reaching out to all people,

Western Yearly Meeting (FUM) The identification of giftedness and its importance to the well-being of the Friends community was presented by our devotional leader, Jan Wood.... Our prayer is for you to join us in the coming year as we continue to "Fan into flame the gift of God, which is in you," By identifying and using the gifts God has given, we hope to better present the Quaker message to the local and world communities.

GEORGE FOX UNIVERSITY REPORT

I would like to welcome you to the 2014 Yearly Meeting gathering at George Fox University. It has been a good year, and I hope you find the enclosed report informative and affirming. More than 60 years ago the long-serving George Fox president, Levi Pennington, envisioned a future in which George Fox reached beyond the yearly meeting to truly become the evangelical Christian university of choice in the Northwest. He put it this way “. . . If all its aspirants for higher education (in Oregon Yearly Meeting) should attend Pacific College, and that will never be, it is not large enough to provide the student body that the college should have. Its influence should reach far beyond our denominational borders. ‘None of us liveth to himself, and no men dieth to himself,’ and the same is true of the individual church, of the denomination, and of the college itself. It would not be enough nor nearly enough if Pacific College could supply higher education to all the young people of Oregon Yearly Meeting. The college must reach out, not merely to educate and bring into our denominational fellowship those who are not now Friends, though that will inevitably result, but it must, if it is to fulfill its destiny, reach out in helpfulness to those of other denominations and to those with no church connection who need the help that a Christian college can give.”

We believe we are serving the yearly meeting well. Many of its leaders and its young people have met the living Christ at George Fox and been effectively prepared for God-given callings. As important, hundreds and thousands of Bible-believing Christians have come to see George Fox as the place to advance educationally and spiritually. We are developing the Christian leaders of the future in the Northwest.

Yours in Christ,

ROBIN BAKER (2ND STREET)
PRESIDENT OF GEORGE FOX UNIVERSITY

Thank you for supporting our Friends students

It is hard to believe that I just finished my fifth year of serving as the director of the Friends Leadership Program. The past five years have been full of getting to know, mentor and journey alongside Friends students who come from all over the NWYM and beyond to attend George Fox. Our stated goal is that every student is known deeply while at George Fox, and that upon graduation they are prepared to achieve exceptional life outcomes. I am thankful that so many churches and families within the NWYM believe in George Fox. Your prayers, financial support and encouragement of students to become a part of this community have continued to help George Fox have a strong Friends presence, and our community is a better place because of your support. One of the things that gives me the greatest joy is seeing our Friends students get involved with important internships while students at George Fox – internships that prepare them well for joining the “real world” upon graduation. You’ll read about some of those students in the pages to come, and I think you’ll agree that they are doing significant work as newly minted graduates. I look forward to connecting with you this week, and I hope you’ll feel free to seek me out, ask me questions, and dream with me about how we can continue to make George Fox a place where we are proud to send students. These past five years have convinced me that through attending George Fox, our students will not only “Be Known,” but move out into the world in ways that allow others to experience what it is like to be “Be Known” in the name of Jesus Christ.

Sincerely,

JAMIE JOHNSON (NEWBERG)
DIRECTOR, FRIENDS LEADERSHIP PROGRAM
ASSOCIATE UNIVERSITY PASTOR

Friends students graduate, begin next adventure

NOLAN STAPLES (NEWBERG FRIENDS), Music Major

How would you describe your experience at George Fox? My experience at George Fox has been one that is rooted in community. The many wonderful memories of the last four years are all so meaningful to me because of the people with whom I experienced this journey. My life has been greatly impacted by my tennis teammates and coaches, several professors and mentors, and so many amazing friends that I have had the blessing to live in community with through the last four years.

How have you changed or grown since coming to George Fox? In my first couple of years here I was so consumed in the things that I did and, more importantly, the things that I did well, to the point where my personal perception of myself was in the things that I did. A big part of breaking that unhealthy cycle of thinking for me was in the process of letting go of the pressure that I put on myself in tennis. Once I realized that I could continue to work and compete hard without believing my worth was in how well I played or whether I won or lost, I was able to see more clearly that my worth was as a child of God.

What's next? In July I began working as the interim pastor for worship ministries at Newberg Friends Church. I've attended Newberg Friends my entire life, and I've been so blessed to grow up in such a nurturing community.

McKENZIE WOLFE (NEWBERG FRIENDS), Accounting Major

How would you describe your experience at George Fox? My experience at George Fox is one that I will always treasure and look back on. While at Fox I have been pushed and pulled in all areas of my life, shaping me into the person I am today. This was an amazing place for me to grow as a student, an athlete, as a follower of Christ and as a friend.

How have you changed or grown since coming to George Fox? The biggest challenge that caused me to grow was deciding on my major. This was an extremely hard process for me, trying to find my calling and tying it to a dependable career. It caused me to put a lot of trust in Christ, that he would show his path for me. Choosing a major also made me focus on what I wanted and not what my parents or others wanted from me. Even after choosing my major of accounting I was still hesitant to claim this as my future career, but Christ opened many doors for me that would have remained closed if this wasn't in his plan.

What's next? I will be working at an accounting firm in downtown Portland called Moss Adams, starting in October. There, I will be working as a staff accountant in either the tax or audit department. Before starting work I will be studying to pass the CPA exams this summer and hopefully travel. Through this opportunity at Moss Adams, I hope it will prepare me for any changes that may occur in my career and future goals.

Richard Foster returns to share on importance of 'ordinary lives'

Richard Foster, the renowned author, speaker and theologian, returned to campus this spring for his 50th class reunion and to serve as commencement speaker, encouraging the Class of 2014 to recognize the immense significance of living what may seem like an ordinary life. Following are his responses to a few questions posed to him upon his return ...

It's been 50 years since you graduated from George Fox. What memories come to mind as you walk across campus? It's wonderful to see the canyon. Many of the trees there are the same – they're old friends. They have grown a bit older and taller ... I've just grown older! I also think of the people, like Arthur Roberts and Lon Fendall.

How did your George Fox education impact you? I learned many things, of course, but the most important thing I came away with was a sense of the greatness and goodness of God and the importance and preciousness of people.

Who was the professor who had the greatest impact on you? Arthur Roberts. I was a pretty average student and had to work harder than most to get the grades. But he was always quite attentive to me. And he loved words. It was his love of words – the beauty of words, words as a communicator of grace and beauty – that led me to become a writer.

What was your message at the May 3 commencement ceremony? Why this message? I spoke about how most of us will live rather ordinary lives but tried to emphasize the immense significance of that ordinary life. It's best summed up by the words of the French paleontologist, Pierre Teilhard de Chardin, who said, "Do not forget that the value and interest of life is not so much to do conspicuous things as to do ordinary things with a perception of their enormous value."

While we're on the subject of young people, what are your thoughts on reaching this generation with the gospel? We reach young people in exactly the same way we reach out to anyone. We get to know them, become their friend, and take an interest in what they are interested in. And we have to have a lot of patience in this work because young people, understandably, are terribly distracted. We have to be with people long enough so that those distractions can begin to drop away. So we become their friend. Gospel work is relational work. Always!

Alumna brings Serve Day to South Africa Ministry Through Medicine

When the university held its 15th annual Serve Day last fall, students and employees served at 88 sites spanning four counties in Oregon. Now, thanks to 2010 graduate Rebecca Turba, that same spirit of service has made its way across the globe – all the way to South Africa. Since 2011, Turba has been a teacher at Bridges Academy, a boarding school that serves as a safe haven for high school-aged orphans looking to escape gang violence in the townships surrounding Cape Town. She teaches art, dance, English and “life orientation” classes, and also works as the academy’s community service coordinator. “At the school we teach that Christ gave his life for us, and so our natural response is to show his love to those living around us,” she says. But despite her best efforts to build her students’ enthusiasm for service, “nothing seemed to be working.” That’s when Turba returned to her George Fox roots. “I thought maybe I could adapt the idea of Serve Day for Bridges Academy,” she recalls. So, last summer, the academy held its first Bridges Serve Day. “We spent the day gardening, cleaning two local churches, looking after little kids, reading to preschoolers, playing games with autistic youth and visiting the local medical clinic,” Turba says. “After the first day the students were saying, ‘When can we have this day again?’” Bridges Serve Day was such a success that the academy now schedules a full day of service every three months. “I am so blessed to see God’s continual work at this school,” she says. “God has taken the brokenhearted, healed them, and then used them to heal others.”

‘A Living Sacrifice’

Fred Van Gorkom, a 1979 George Fox graduate, is living proof that God can do anything. Van Gorkom, recipient of the university’s 2013 Christian Service Award, spent 25 years as a veterinarian and church planter in Ethiopia. Fifteen of those years were spent in the remote bush, where Fred and wife Vicki, a fellow vet, raised four children – Cori, Jesse, Jodi and Aaron – among nine tribes of nomadic people in southwestern Ethiopia. Fred came away from Africa with two epiphanies: We can do nothing apart from Christ, and God can use anyone. “Through our gifts and abilities learned in places like George Fox, and even in spite of our mistakes, God used us to help plant more than 40 churches among these tribes who had never heard of Jesus before,” he says. “We helped start Bible schools, train leaders, do community development. We consider it all as a privilege, not a sacrifice.” All the while, Van Gorkom had a peace – a byproduct of living by faith and witnessing one miraculous deliverance after another. Like when a government soldier’s bullet sailed over his head. Or when he and his family escaped a raging flash flood in the Delbina River as it rolled their vehicle and pinned Fred under the car. On another occasion, Van Gorkom nearly bled to death after a freak sports injury. He has survived severe electric shock, had malaria six times and once got malaria, typhoid and brucellosis at the same time. “My life is in God’s hands, and it’s up to him to decide when my time’s up,” he says. “I know one day I will die. And when I do, you may hear I was shot, or bled to death, or was run off the road, or got electrocuted, or drowned in a flash flood. The truth is, it was God’s time – or it would have happened before.” The Van Gorkoms’ time living in the bush ended in 2002, when the family moved to Ethiopia’s capital, Addis Ababa, so Fred could serve as a team leader for missionaries in rural mission stations. In 2008, Fred and Vicki transitioned to CVM’s home office in Seattle to work as Africa regional director and coordinator of donor services, respectively. Today, they are part of a CVM team recruiting, training and sending veterinary missionaries around the world.

Of Note: Highlights from 2013-14

The university’s institutional technology department, professors and alumni recently teamed with Friends churches throughout the U.S. to provide a new Bible college in Rwanda with 15 refurbished HP laptops and 25 e-readers. IT converted laptops and installed new open source software at no charge. Then professors Eloise Hockett and Scot Headley joined alumna Debi Miller and former university employees Ron Stansell, Carolyn Stansell and Lon Fendall to deliver the computers to Rwanda Friends Theological College in February. Friends churches donated more than $4,800, covering the cost of the e-readers and downloaded books.

In March, the university community convened for an “Empty Bowls” fundraiser dinner to support art professor Doug Campbell, who more than a year prior suffered a massive stroke. Proceeds from the event, which included a silent auction, reached $19,000. That figure was supplemented by an anonymous donor who pledged to match donations up to $15,000. The funds raised went toward sending Campbell to an intensive in-patient speech therapy program.

For some, meeting the Pope would be a once-in-a-lifetime experience. For George Fox Christian studies professor Paul Anderson, make that twice in a lifetime. Anderson's first visit to the Vatican came in 2006, during which he presented then Pope Benedict with two of his books. Last October, Anderson had yet another opportunity to travel to Rome to attend a conference and to present Pope Francis with his latest book, Following Jesus.

With 3,712 students – including 771 new traditional undergraduates – George Fox set an enrollment record last fall, easily eclipsing its previous high of 3,519, established in 2011. It marked a 6.3 percent increase over the school's 2012 figure (3,491) and made the university the second-largest private institution in Oregon.

Work continues on George Fox's Stoffer Family Stadium and Duke Athletic Center in advance of the launch of football this fall. Crews have transformed the area around the track into a venue that includes a newly constructed grandstand with seating for 1,200 and a 14,000-square foot Duke facility that includes a locker room, offices and an athletic training room. The school is also installing the synthetic-turf Lemmons Family Field this summer. George Fox is bringing back intercollegiate football this fall after a 45-year hiatus from the sport.

George Fox welcomes Jamie Noling-Auth as the school's new campus pastor and dean of spiritual life. She arrives from Azusa Pacific University, where she has served as associate campus pastor and director for discipleship ministries for the past nine years. Noling-Auth replaces Sarah Baldwin, who accepted the position of vice president of student development at Asbury University in Kentucky after nine years of service at George Fox.

INDEPENDENT ACCOUNTANTS' REVIEW REPORT

To the Administrative Council of
Northwest Yearly Meeting of Friends Church
Newberg, Oregon

We have reviewed the accompanying statement of financial position of Northwest Yearly Meeting of Friends Church (a nonprofit organization) as of December 31, 2013, and the related statements of activities and cash flows for the year then ended. A review includes primarily applying analytical procedures to management's financial data and making inquiries of Organization management. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements as a whole. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and for designing, implementing, and maintaining internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements.

Our responsibility is to conduct the review in accordance with Statements on Standards for Accounting and Review Services issued by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Those standards require us to perform procedures to obtain limited assurance that there are no material modifications that should be made to the financial statements. We believe that the results of our procedures provide a reasonable basis for our report.

Based on our review, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the accompanying financial statements in order for them to be in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The prior year summarized comparative information has been derived from the Organization's December 31, 2012 financial statements, which were reviewed by us, and in our report dated November 12, 2013, we stated that we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to those statements in order for them to be in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Our review was made primarily for the purpose of expressing a conclusion that there are no material modifications that should be made to the financial statements in order for them to be in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The supplementary information as listed in the table of contents is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a part of the basic financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the inquiry and analytical procedures applied in the review of the basic financial statements and we did not become aware of any material modifications that should be made to such information.
