TRIBUTE TO TED PERKINS

With this issue Theodore Perkins completes ten years of volunteer service as business manager for the Quaker Theological Discussion Group and its journal, Quaker Religious Thought. During this time Ted has kept accounts efficiently, paid the bills, and attended carefully to subscription matters. He has helped secure special funding when (as often they do) costs outpace subscription receipts. These responsibilities have been handled efficiently, and with Christian courtesy and integrity. Thank you, Ted!

Ted Perkins was recorded as a minister of the Gospel in 1945 and has been active in local, area, state, national, and international work among Friends. He has combined this Christian leadership with a career in public school and college library administration. Ted is active in genealogical research and has produced several book-length publications. He currently serves as secretary and circulation manager for The Southern Friend.

Business and subscription matters for QRT are now being administered by the Religion Department of George Fox University, under the direction of Paul Anderson, associate editor.

TIME TO PASS THE HAT

As longtime readers of Quaker Religious Thought know, occasionally we “pass the hat” to subsidize QRT publication. We do this rather than raise the subscription rate to a level some persons might find prohibitive. Since the inception of the journal in 1959 the response to such appeals has been generous. We hope it will be so this time. Our goal for this collection is $5,000.

Please make checks payable to Quaker Religious Thought, and send them to Paul Anderson, Associate Editor, c/o George Fox University, Newberg, Oregon, 97132.

Thanks for your financial assistance!
