

Levi Pennington

People

1957

Christmas, 1957

Levi T. Pennington
George Fox University

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.georgefox.edu/levi_pennington

Recommended Citation

Pennington, Levi T., "Christmas, 1957" (1957). Levi Pennington. 412.
https://digitalcommons.georgefox.edu/levi_pennington/412

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the People at Digital Commons @ George Fox University. It has been accepted for inclusion in Levi Pennington by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ George Fox University. For more information, please contact arolfe@georgefox.edu.

Christmas, 1957

'T WAS long ago and far away that Jesus Christ was born,
And angels sang their joyous hymns to greet that Christmas morn,
While humble shepherds listened, astounded and afraid.
'Twas long ago the wise men their long, long journey made
To greet the new-born King with myrrh and frankincense and gold.
So long ago, so far away—the tale so often told.

BUT Christmas should be here and now. In human hearts today
This King who came so long ago and born so far away
Should have his throne and scepter, and to Him we should bring
Our treasures all, our very selves, and own Him Lord and King.

BEFORE Thy throne we bow ourselves. O, hear us as we pray,
“Jesus, our Lord and Savior, be born in us today.”

L.T.P.

Best Wishes for Christmas and the New Year.

Levi T. and Rebecca Pennington

12-13-57

Best wishes always from both of us to all of you.