

Volume 60 | Issue 2

Article 71

12-1-2017

Webb's "The listening book: The soul painting & other stories" (Book Review)

Deborah McConkey
Horizon College & Seminary

The Christian Librarian is the official publication of the Association of Christian Librarians (ACL). To learn more about ACL and its products and services please visit <http://www.acl.org/>

Follow this and additional works at: <http://digitalcommons.georgefox.edu/tcl>

 Part of the Biblical Studies Commons, and the Christianity Commons

Recommended Citation

McConkey, Deborah (2017) "Webb's "The listening book: The soul painting & other stories" (Book Review)," The Christian Librarian: Vol. 60 : Iss. 2 , Article 71.
Available at: <http://digitalcommons.georgefox.edu/tcl/vol60/iss2/71>

This Book Review is brought to you for free and open access by Digital Commons @ George Fox University. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Christian Librarian by an authorized editor of Digital Commons @ George Fox University. For more information, please contact arolfe@georgefox.edu.

Book Reviews

Webb, J. (2015). The listening book: The soul painting & other stories. Canterbury, UK: Lioness Writing Limited. 131 pp. $20.97. ISBN 9780993438325

James Webb's 'Listening Book' is a thought-provoking challenge to the way in which we live our lives. In all of the hustle and bustle of life, taking time for listening and reflection becomes increasingly important. Through a set of parable-like short stories, Webb offers us an innovative and creative insight into God's Word and the stories are interesting and easy to relate to. Webb uses his background in Bible teaching to combine both scriptural integrity with an engaging written style to create what is, without doubt, a unique and perceptive book.

In addition to being well written, 'The Listening Book' is stunningly presented, with astounding photographs throughout. A joy to flick through, this book's easy-to-read style makes it accessible to both young and old alike.

'The Listening Book' aims to present some of the concepts found in Christianity in a new and intuitive way and, with themes ranging from love to evangelism, it really does have something for everyone.

Reviewer

Deborah McConkey, Horizon College & Seminary