

1-1-1975

Contributors – Quaker Religious Thought, no. 41

Vail Palmer

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.georgefox.edu/qrt>

Part of the Christianity Commons

---

Recommended Citation

Palmer, Vail (1975) "Contributors – Quaker Religious Thought, no. 41," Quaker Religious Thought. Vol. 41 , Article 7.

Available at: <https://digitalcommons.georgefox.edu/qrt/vol41/iss1/7>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by Digital Commons @ George Fox University. It has been accepted for inclusion in Quaker Religious Thought by an authorized editor of Digital Commons @ George Fox University. For more information, please contact arolfe@georgefox.edu.

Contributors

Roswith I. H. Gerloff, an ordained minister of the United Protestant Church in Berlin-Brandenburg, is minister of the German congregation in Oxford, England. She studied at the Universities of Tübingen, Munich, and Göttingen, received her first degree in Berlin, and is now working on a Ph.D. program on "Black Christian Communities in Britain" under the supervision of Walter J. Hollenweger, of Birmingham and Hamburg Universities. She held a World Council of Churches scholarship at Woodbrooke in 1961-62 and has done extensive field research in Britain, the United States, and Jamaica. She has worked in an experimental parish in West Berlin (1962-72) and has been a Fellow at Woodbrooke in 1972 and a guest lecturer at Earlham School of Religion in 1973.

Carlisle G. Davidson, a member of Detroit Friends Meeting (Friends United Meeting), is editor of The Pentecostal Friend, a quarterly newsletter concerned with the advancement of charismatic renewal among Friends and religious liberals. He has contributed numerous articles to Quaker periodicals on theology and social concerns. With an M.A. in English literature, Carlisle Davidson has taught at both the secondary and community college levels. "Spirit and Life: A Charismatic Theology" is his first contribution to QRT.

Richard A. Baer, Jr., Associate Professor in the Department of Natural Resources at the New York State College of Agriculture and Life Sciences at Cornell University, directs a new three-year project entitled "Values and Valuing in Education for Professional Careers in Agriculture and Life Sciences." From 1962 to 1973 he taught New Testament at Earlham College and Earlham School of Religion. He has served as visiting professor at the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay, Ball State University, and Anderson College, and has been a consultant in environmental values for colleges and universities, business, and government. He holds a Ph. D. from