Thielges, G. (2016). All in for Him: Twenty-one devotions for college athletes: Strengthen your spirit and become a complete competitor. Castle Rock, CO: CrossLink Publishing. 46 pp. $9.95. ISBN 9781633570900

The author of this devotional collection is the mother of three college athletes and a high school athlete, and her husband is a high school basketball coach. Each of the devotions consists of a brief meditation on an aspect of team sports, two or three scriptures that address the topic, and a short prayer. The devotions are generic enough to apply to any men's or women's team sport, and they are designed for use during the sport season. Devotional topics include the beginning and end of the season, role playing, attitude, body language, respecting authority, humility, sacrifice, being a role model, being a good teammate, being an underdog, and handling both winning and losing. These devotions will encourage Christian college athletes to live out their faith on the court, on the field, or in the arena. The book is better suited for individual use than for library collections.
