Nasty weather will greet NAIA runners at Parkside

Runners don't like heat and they certainly won't find any of it at the NAIA National cross country championships today at UW-Parkside.

Temperatures in the 20s, snow flurries and strong winds will greet nearly 700 runners who will compete this morning on Parkside's National course.

Runners might even find a trace of snow on the course when the gun sounds for the women's race at 10:30 a.m. A field of 335 women will run, including Coach Mike DeWitt's Parkside team.

The men's race, featuring 351 runners, begins at 11:45 a.m. Coach

Lucian Rosa's Parkside team is entered.

A runner to watch will be former Tremper standout Juan Rodriguez, who competes for UW-Stout.

Defending champion Pacific Lutheran (Wash.), Hillsdale (Mich.), North Florida and Adams State (Colo.) are favorites in the women's race.

Pacific Lutheran lost defending champion Val Hildon to graduation, but returns two 1988 All-Americans in Kelly Edgerton and Gwen Hundley. Parkside, paced by All-American Lorri DeBleeck, could contend for the title. DeBleeck finished 13th last year in the 5,000-meter race.

Also running for Parkside will be Paula Stokman, Dee Collier, Tara Roy, Jill Spagnola, Sara Bailey and Marilyn Meyer. Stokman is a St. Joseph graduate.

Parkside's women won NAIA titles in 1980 in Salina, Kan., and in 1986 at Parkside.

Top-ranked Malone (Ohio) will try to break Adams State's lock on the men's title. Adams State has six consecutive titles, including a co-championship with Western State (Colo.) in 1986.

Malone features All-Americans John Hopple and Jerry Fresenko. The two have been surrounded by teammates in a close pack all fall and will likely use that team tactic at the front of the NAIA race.

Adams State will counter with two-time National champion Rick Robirds, who won titles in 1986 and '87. Robirds sat out last season with an injury. He holds the Parkside course record of 23:47 over 8,000 meters.

Other teams who could challenge are Anderson (Ind.), Western State and UW-Eau Claire.

Running for Parkside are Mike Nelson, Reggie Davenport, Pat Kochanski, John Marter, Tim Reeves, Tracy Norstrom and Central graduate Pat Kuhlman.

Adams St. dominates NAIA run

By Jim Casper
Sports Writer

There's something about training in the Rocky Mountains that pushes Adams State (Colo.) far ahead of the NAIA cross country pack.

Adams State dominated the men's and women's NAIA National cross country championship races at UW-Parkside Saturday. Runners were greeted with temperatures in the 20s and a bitter west wind that made it feel like zero.

The Adams State men scored 39 points to win their seventh consecutive NAIA title. The string includes a co-championship with Western State (Colo.) in 1986.

Adams State had the top two finishers in Rick Robirds and Dan Maas.

On the women's side, Adams State used balance to score 72 points and win by a wide margin.

Johnna Myers finished ninth overall and Amy Giblin 15th to pace the Indians.

Wanda Howlett of Puget Sound

(Wash.) won the women's 5,000-meter race in 17 minutes, 55 seconds.

Winning the title was more of a surprise to the women, but they've been knocking on the door for years. The Indians finished fourth, third, second and second the past four years.

Parkside's women, paced by Lorri De Blieck's 13th place, finished sixth with 204 points.

The Parkside men, led by Pat Kochanski's 61st place overall, took 20th with 498 points. Kochanski finished 45th in team places.

A field of 351 runners from 66 schools completed the men's 8,000-meter race. The women's race had 329 finishers from 56 schools.

Malone (Ohio), the top ranked NAIA school, finished second for the men with 53. Western State was third with 65, followed by UW-Eau Claire 223 and Simon Fraser of British Columbia 224.

For the women Western State finished a distant second with 132, followed by Hillsdale (Mich.) 134, North Florida 137 and defending champion Pacific Lutheran (Wash.) 200.

Thirty-eight complete men's and women's teams were entered.

If cross country had a comeback player of the year award like Major League baseball does, Robirds would be the man. He won NAIA titles in 1986 and '87, then sat out the '88 season with a stress fracture.

He proved he's back by running the Parkside National course in 24:01. Maas was second, 15 seconds back at 24:16.

Robirds holds the course record of 23:47, but the frigid temperatures prevented him from challenging that time.

"I led pretty much from start to finish," Robirds said. "When you get out in front you can control everything."

Robirds didn't complain about the wind and cold.

"It was cold but nothing we're not used to. We train in cold and snow. It just happened to be today that it was cold," Robirds said. "It's no big deal, really."

No big deal if you happen to be a runner of Robirds' caliber.

Robirds resumed training in spring when his stress fracture healed. He picked up the pace as the season progressed.

Adams State coach Joe Vigil is often asked what the mountain air means to his runners. It's a natural question when you win seven consecutive titles.

The school is located in Alamosa, 100 miles north of the New Mexico border in south central Colorado.

"You can benefit from the high elevation if you know how to use it," Vigil said. "You've still got to get your leg speed in training or the altitude won't help. We've trained in the mountains long enough so it benefits us."

Other Parkside men in the top five were were Mike Nelson, 80th, 26:23; Reggie Davenport, 99th, 26:37; John Marter, 205th, 27:39; and Tim Reeves, 248th, 28:09.

"I'm really pleased," said Parkside coach Lucian Rosa. "We've got a lot of people coming back and I'm already looking forward to next year."

Former Tremper athlete Juan Rodriguez, a sophomore from UW-Stout, ran 165th in 27:15.

Parkside women's coach Mike DeWitt will have his team back intact next year and thinks his runners learned something in the national race.

"Our biggest problem is that we went out too slow. I'd like to get the kids out of traffic, but we were back in 90th to 125th with the pack," DeWitt said.

The Parkside coach thought his team turned in a solid performance.

"No one ran poorly," he said.

Other Rangers in the top five were Tara Roy, 63rd, 19:11; Paula Stokman, 70th, 19:18; Sara Bailey, 105th, 19:44; and Marilynn Meyer, 110th, 19:48.
