'THE FIRST RESORT'

Your Access to the GFC Campus

We believe the Bible to be the first authentic "handbook" for guidance. Use it often for your personal development.

The First Resort is produced to assist you in adjusting to community life. It is not only an outline of regulations but also is designed to provide you with access to community resources. So, before you give up, check out The First Resort for basic information. This is a guide to help you learn how to live here, work here, learn here—and survive here. In this booklet you will find some answers to some general questions about George Fox College and the community of Newberg. You will also find some clues for more answers to your questions such as phone numbers, names, and offices.

Maybe The First Resort can make things a little easier. Try it! Exercising your choice not to read this handbook does not relieve you from the responsibility of knowing the guidelines and expectations contained within these pages.

The College

Quakers were among the first to colonize America. In 1871, William Hobson led a migration of Iowa Quakers down the Oregon Trail to the Willamette Valley. These settlers recognized the value of education, making provision for this need, even before Oregon public schools offered many advantages, by organizing Pacific Academy in 1885.

Pacific College was organized in 1891 to provide more advanced work, and in 1930 the academy was discontinued so that the Quakers' educational efforts could be centered on the college. In 1949, because of the many "Pacific" colleges, the school was renamed George Fox, honoring the founder of the Friends Church.

The college is governed by a Board of Trustees elected by Northwest Yearly Meeting of Friends Church, which has historically emphasized the necessity of a genuinely experiential religious faith; the inward, spiritual nature of the ordinances; the importance of peacemaking and responsible social action; and the freedom for individuals to exercise liberty of conscience. With many other Christians, we firmly believe the great, historic truths of Christianity, including the deity of our Lord Jesus Christ; the authority and inspiration of the Holy Scriptures; the necessity of salvation for sinful man; and the present ministry of the Holy Spirit, by whose indwelling the Christian is enabled to live a godly life.

The 90-acre campus, near the center of the city of Newberg, is one of the most beautiful in the Willamette Valley. Fifteen buildings, all built or remodeled during the last few years, are spaced conveniently among the oak trees and evergreens. A staff of dedicated maintenance, gardening, and custodial personnel help to keep the campus attractive.

George Fox College respects the personal convictions of each student and invites students of all races and creeds to participate in its educational programs.

Academics

George Fox is a place to discover . . . who you are . . . what you believe . . . where you are going . . . and what you can do.

ADMISSIONS

"A Beginning"

A new chapter of your life begins as you enter college. What do you want most . . . a degree? . . . knowledge? . . . to learn about Christ? . . . change? . . . freedom? . . . direction? That's what George Fox College is all about.

Each prospective student who applies to George Fox is evaluated on the basis of academic preparation and personal qualities in an attempt to ensure he will benefit fully from the college curriculum and Christian emphasis.

It is recommended that the applicant present the equivalent of sixteen academic units from an approved high school. The following units are suggested: English, 4; social studies, 2; science, 2; Mathematics, 2; language, 2; and health and physical education, 1.

Satisfactory scores on the College Entrance Examination Board Test (SAT), American College Testing Program (ACT), or their equivalent, are required and should be sent to the Office of Admissions.

For information and application forms please notify Jim Settle, director of admissions. He'll be glad to assist you in any way possible. Just address:

REGISTRATION

Though sometimes confusing and threatening, registration at a college can result in some pleasant memories. One of them is the sense of accomplishment that comes with such experiences as scaling Mt. Everest or swimming across the Mediterranean. The idea is to be patient and follow procedures.

Mr. Harvey Campbell is the registrar. His office is in Wood-Mar Hall; his exten-

DEADLINE

The deadline for adding/dropping a course is: fall—October 10; winter—January 13; spring—March 30. Cost is $5 per change.

sion number is 259. He can give you many answers and materials such as: petitions to withdraw from class or college, change of course forms, schedules, information on grades and GPA. Any questions about transcripts are directed to the registrar. A complete guide to registration is contained in a packet distributed to all new students during the New Student Week.

COLLEGE CATALOG

To really make it through with a minimum of questions you should get thoroughly acquainted with the College Catalog. Refer to this publication when you wish to find answers to such topics as:

Credit Hours	Degrees
Academic load	Academic Advising
Attendance	General Education
Classification	Pass-No Pass
Courses and Majors	Course Challenge
Course additions or withdrawals	Intensified Studies
... and many others.

PEOPLE

RAs and Residence Hall Director

For those of you who live in residence halls your resident assistants (RAs) and residence hall director can help with the struggle of getting into the academic stream. They have copies of the catalog and class schedule. Since the RAs have recently been through the process, they, especially, can help you get going.

Advisors

Professors are assigned as advisors to students. Everyone has an advisor. They take time to go over your goals and interests or talk about your problems, and then together you can see new directions surface. Learn his or her office hours and consult regularly. Your advisor is usually

"We exist for people, particularly students but behind the students the family that has turned to us for an essential service. We exist for students! Regardless of how we feel about the significance of our efforts and the quality of our teaching, the perception of the consumer is all important."

—Dr. William D. Green
Dean of the College in an address to the faculty within your major. If you haven't selected a major, the Dean of Students' Office will assign an advisor to you. If you wish to change advisors call Ext. 222.

LIBRARY

Shambaugh Library is a repository for more than 50,000 books. It also has a daily book-shuttle service with four other Christian institutions in the valley. Check out this fine facility and make use of the resources. Hours are posted. There are study carrels on the main floor and the mezzanine. Books are still the primary source of knowledge. Get acquainted with this building and use it often.

Be sure to check with the registrar or advisor by the third quarter of your junior year to be sure you are in shape to graduate and have filed an "Intent to Graduate" form. You may be missing an important piece of the puzzle! That can be embarrassing—come June.

MISCELLANY ACADEMIA

Probation

If your CUM GPA falls below 2.0, you're on probation. You must do better next quarter or face the possibility of dismissal. The deans and faculty advisors will offer help as requested. Be sure to see some of the people above before you face the possibility of termination.

Dropping Out

You can't just drop out during a term without suffering considerable penalty. There is no refund of dollars after the fifth week of the term, and you are subject to an "F" grade if you don't withdraw properly through the Registrar's Office. Do it right!

Dropping out at the end of the term requires notification of the Student Affairs Office and other personnel for proper "leaving" clearance. For readmission after being out two or more terms, simply request from the Admissions Office a readmission form, complete it, and return it to their office.

Study Tips

Professional students offer some advice on how to make it in college—worth trying!

- Sit up front
- Copy material on board
- Review class notes periodically
- Move your body if your mind gets fuzzy
- Underline key words
- Quickly review assignments
- Keep oriented with a good overview of the course
- Do the easy questions first on exams—go back to toughies later
- Find a regular time and place for study
- Hang in there

Some excellent "How to Study Books" are available in the Library or Book Store.

ASCGFC

The Associated Student Community of George Fox College (ASCGFC) is the student organization on campus. All students paying student fees are members and hold offices or seats on committees. George Fox College is revolutionizing campus governments by the inclusion of faculty members on student committees.

The Central Committee, made up of ASCGFC officers and standing committee chairmen, is primarily responsible for overseeing, executing, and administering ASCGFC policies, funds, and activities. Eight standing committees are comprised of living unit representatives from each residence hall and off-campus, and one faculty member. The committees are each responsible for a specific duty of the ASCGFC function. The Supreme Court is a body to validate elections, check eligibility requirements of officers, and review decisions made by the standing committees and Central Committee. All living unit representatives will be elected the third week of fall term. Watch for announcements in The Student Bulletin.

Functions

The ASCGFC, through its elected representatives, performs a variety of functions. They include activities, communications, Christian emphasis, Christian service, cultural events, campus affairs, a student union, and financial administration.

A great schedule of activities, special events, surprises, and numerous intramural activities is planned for the year. Student publications include a biweekly newspaper The Crescent, and a yearbook L'Ami. Other publications—The Student Bulletin, the campus directory The Bruin, and The First Resort are published in cooperation with the Student Affairs Office.

Students are in charge of "Collegiate Challenge," a Wednesday night activity with a spiritual emphasis; a Missions Conference held each winter; and promotion of spiritual life throughout the living units. You can get involved in Christian service by participating on college teams going to churches, working with the Newberg Senior Citizens group, helping in private schools, working with migrant workers, or other types of services. You also will have an opportunity to evaluate your professors, ASCGFC and college policies, plans, and other affairs. Be watching for polls and questionnaires asking for your response and opinion in these areas.

The Student Union Building (SUB) is your building. A portion of your student fees is allocated to its mortgage and maintenance. The Old SUB Lounge, adjacent to the Junior Store, is an excellent fellowship area. The SUB-terranean, in the basement of the SUB, provides a color TV, table tennis, and billiards. The ASCGFC offices are also located in the SUB. Be sure to take advantage of the services.

The 1975-76 ASCGFC officers are:

President Jeffrey Rickey
Vice-president Ron Mock
Secretary Margo Single Treasurer Peggy Wilson
Activities Director Scott Mayfield
Publication Director ... Nancy Minthorne
Student Union Director Ed Lanway
Supreme Court Chief Justice ... Phil Smith
Student Chaplain Steve Fellows

Student Activities and Organizations

CIRCLE K INTERNATIONAL is a campus service club sponsored by Kiwanis International and is open to all students.

The purpose of this club is to promote citizenship and service in college life.

DRAMA—Communication Arts presents at least one major dramatic production each year during the winter term as well as one-act plays and Readers Theatre presentations. Augmenting the on-campus drama program is the drama touring group, which presents chancel dramas in repertory for churches of the Northwest.

STUDENT CHAPTER MUSIC EDUCATORS NATIONAL CONFERENCE provides a bond between students in music education and the professional organization. Students receive the Music Educators Journal and the State Music Journal. Members may attend meetings of these professional educators organizations. The club also sponsors speakers on new developments in the music education field.

MUSIC ACTIVITIES are available to students with varied musical talents. Public performances are presented through the Oratorio Choir, A Cappella Choir, Chamber Choir, Concert Band, Orchestra, Music Theatre, Stage Band, and small ensembles. Students are urged to audition for these musical groups.

STUDENT OREGON EDUCATION ASSOCIATION seeks to prepare prospective teachers for educational leadership. The club sponsors various projects and meetings with special educational emphases.

HOMEcoming is one of the major campus events of the year when the entire college community hosts returning alumni with a ball game and special activities.

HIGH SCHOOL VISITATION DAYS—Throughout the school year, high school students will be visiting the campus to allow the college faculty and students opportunity to share the course offerings, social, cultural, and spiritual advantages provided at George Fox.

MAY DAY CELEBRATION, directed by the Associated Students, is held annually on the first Saturday of May.

PUBLICATIONS include a newspaper, The Crescent, and an annual, L'Ami. Elected editors direct their staffs in the selection and preparation of materials for these publications.

CHRISTIAN EMPHASIS WEEKS are sponsored each year by the Christian Emphasis Committee. Christian leaders are brought to campus for chapel presentations, smaller group meetings, and personal counseling sessions.

MISSIONS CONFERENCE is sponsored annually by the Christian Emphasis Committee. Executives and missionaries from numerous organizations participate through chapel messages, classroom presentations, and exhibits.

Housing

Student housing at GFC is an integral part of the educational environment of the college.

Basically, three types of residence housing are available to GFC students: Residence Halls, Residence Houses, and Residence Apartments. Each of these three provides unique living experiences while maintaining a common bond of college residency.

All full-time students (those carrying 12 or more quarter hours) under 23 years of age who are not commuting or married are required to live in one of these forms of college housing. Generally, an attempt is made to place all freshmen in residence halls due to the community experience provided therein.

In the spring, returning students are given the option of choosing their housing for the coming year.

A student's right to privacy will be respected. The college may enter a student's room or unit without notice only in emergencies where imminent danger to life, safety, health, or property is reasonably feared or when there is suspicion that college regulations have been or are being violated. The college may conduct a search of a student room or unit to determine compliance with federal, state, and criminal law where there is probable cause to believe that a violation has occurred or is taking place.

When the college seeks access to a student room or unit to determine compliance with provisions of applicable multiple dwelling unit laws, to make repairs or improvements, or for other necessary reasons, the occupants of the room or unit involved shall be notified of such action not less than 24 hours in advance, unless consent has been given.

Hours

All freshmen and provisional students will be required to be in their residence housing room or unit by midnight Sunday through Thursday and by 2 a.m. on weekends (Friday and Saturday).

Even though upperclass students may opt to have no hours, it is strongly recommended that such students abide by optional hours of return, which would be midnight on weekdays (Sunday through Thursday night) and 2 a.m. on weekends. Upperclass students consistently maintaining hours beyond those as stated would be counseled as to the desirability and necessity for keeping such hours. Copies of the hours policy are available in the Student Affairs Office.

Furnishings/Decor

Residence halls come furnished with a bed, wardrobe, chest, desk, and drapes. No changing of furnishings is allowed. Students may use small appliances in their rooms if they do not contain an exposed heating element. Occupants of each room are responsible for any damage. Damage to public areas that cannot be fixed will be deducted from the money rebated to the students from the laundry facilities.

Residence houses and apartments are adequately furnished as well. Needed additions or repairs should be requested through a work order sent to the Business Office.

Students may alter the decor of any room or unit provided changes have the approval of the Student Affairs and the Business Office. Copies of the Renovation/Redecoration Policy are available in the Student Affairs Office.

Laundry

Coin-operated washers and dryers are located in each residence hall and in most residence houses and residence apartments. If service is required, notify your RA or residence hall director or the housing director, and they will contact the proper people.

Storage of Personal Property

Suitcases and other articles are stored in areas in each residence hall. Returning students may store property there if properly marked. The college cannot be held responsible for the loss of personal property, either in individual rooms or in the storage area. Any property left in storage more than one term following a student's absence will be given to a service agency.

Room/Unit Changes

No room or unit changes are allowed the first two weeks of the term. Students wishing to change rooms or units after this period must obtain the consent of the residence hall director or housing director. A room inspection is required. Notification of room change is sent to the SAO for record purposes.

Food Service

With the exception of seniors, all students living in residence housing are required to eat in Heacock Commons. The college has contracted with SAGA Food Service, a national food service company that provides cafeteria-type meals. There are always two or three entrees available, plus vegetables, salads, desserts, and a wide choice of beverages. Special meals are occasionally provided for students. Meal hours are adjusted to meet student needs. Watch for posted hours and occasional changes in The Student Bulletin.

The Junior Store

A snack bar operated by the junior class is located in the SUB. Hours of service are posted, but generally lunches and late evening snacks are available.

Food Downtown

For those afternoon hungries or late-night munchies, Newberg has a host of fine restaurants and drive-ins for those starvation blues. A & W, Arctic Circle, Al's Drive-in, Bowman's, Darby's, The Cookie Jar, Haskell's, Kentucky Fried Chicken, Shaw's, Clint and Pats, J's, Taco Time, and the Six W's will serve to provide you with fine selection of different types of food. Experiment around and see which one best suits your needs!

Absences from Campus

Quite often there is need for contacting students and therefore the residence hall director should be notified of any extended absence from campus. Keep people informed of where you are so that contact can be achieved with a minimum of difficulty.

Guests

Guests of students are the responsibility of the host. Guests are usually considered to be of short-term duration. Extended visitation privileges cannot be granted because of the nature of residence housing. All visitors are expected to leave the room/unit at the closing hour unless special permission is granted.

Pets

Only small pets such as fish and turtles are allowed in residence housing.

Firearms

Precautions have been taken to ensure the safety of students. No firearms are permitted in rooms or units. Register them with the residence hall director or housing director, who will arrange to store them.

Safety Precautions

A high standard of safety is a real concern at George Fox College. We are also concerned with maintaining and keeping our buildings and equipment in the best repair possible.

In order to insure a high standard of safety no one is allowed in boiler rooms, electrical rooms, and phone rooms. No one is allowed on building fire escapes or roofs. Fire-fighting equipment such as sprinkler systems, fire extinguishers, fire hoses, bell alarm systems, and heating thermostats are not toys and therefore should not be tampered. A $25 fine plus damage will be levied for each violation of the above regulations.

High voltage transformers—440 volt, 3-phase current—are very dangerous. Gas-fired boilers and controls must not be tampered. Phone circuiting and controllers are a sacred trust, and no one is allowed in these areas. These rules and regulations are for your safety.

Money

If you don't have any money or very little or not enough to pay your college expenses, drop in at the Financial Aid Office located in the lower level of Wood-Mar Hall. The director of financial aid, Mr. Harold Ankeny, will be glad to talk over with you how you can meet the financial obligations of your education. Usually, the first thing that needs to be done is the filing of a Parents' Confidential Statement (PCS). When the analysis report is returned to the college, a conference is held with the student. In the case of a new student a financial aid award offer is made if it is determined that you have financial need. A personal interview is helpful but is not always necessary. Call 231 for more information.

Scholarships/Grants

Various forms of scholarships and grants are explained in detail in the College Catalog. Refer to that publication for answers to your inquiries. In addition to this form of aid, two other kinds of assistance are available.

Loans

Loans are available for students who may or may not be able to show need. These include:

The National Direct Student Loan (NDSL) at 3 percent interest with ten years

"The poor student must not live by bread alone: He hath earned a buck or he's bred a loan."

to pay. No interest or principal payment due until nine months after student status terminates. Need must be a factor.

The Federally Insured Student Loan from private lenders at 7 percent interest. Interest benefits may be paid by the government if need is shown. Applications are processed through the Financial Aid Office (FAO).

A limited amount of loan money is available from institutional funds. Call the FAO, Ext. 231 or 278 for details.

Jobs

Beyond grant money and loans is the third option—jobs! Students looking for work in the community must usually wait until arriving on campus. Employers are reluctant to hire anyone without an interview. Jobs outside the campus are not plentiful, but the hustler always finds one. Jobs may include bus driving, baby-sitting, gardening, working on farms, secretarial, service stations, restaurants, etc. The Financial Aid Office often gets inquiries. Check the bulletin board near the door of the FAO office for "help wanted" notices.

The college, as part of financial aid "packaging," includes jobs on campus. The current rate is $1.90 per hour. Students work either a 5- or 10-hour week for the 30 weeks of the academic year. Commuters are not hired on campus unless they are student assistants who are employed because of their special skills. On-campus jobs require financial need analysis.

Payment of Bills

Your college bills are paid in the Student Accounts Office in Wood-Mar Hall. Their hours are 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Bills are due and payable at the time of registration. Parents may elect to pay their bills on the Budget Plan, which starts in June and extends over twelve months to the following May. This enables the costs to be paid out of current income. Any financial aid other than jobs is deducted from the costs to compute the monthly payment. Certain people with guaranteed income because they are enrolled in college, such as veterans and students receiving Social Security benefits, may be set up on a Deferred Payment Plan. A slight interest rate is charged. See Mr. Donald Millage, the business manager, for this service. Call his office at 225.

People living in residence halls and eating at The Commons are charged on a diminishing rate schedule. That is, it costs more to attend college in the fall than in the spring. This enables the student to plan on a reduced cost in the spring when he normally has less resources. This has proved to be a good plan for students and the college.

Help!

New Student Week

This is the week when new student parents and new students first become acquainted with college facilities and personnel. Plan to participate in all of the activities. Parents and students together attend the special New Student Convocation on Sunday afternoon. Other events during the week include orientation into residence hall life, getting acquainted with personnel, class placement testing, registration, and talking with student leaders. All of these events are designed to help you get started.

"Is this the little girl I carried, is this the little boy at play? I don't remember growing older. When did they? When did she get to be a beauty? When did she grow to be so tall?"

—Fiddler on the Roof

Counseling Services

The Career Planning and Placement Center stands ready to assist you in determining personal values and goals as they relate to career selection, development, and placement. The Student Affairs Office coordinates a strong personal counseling program in the residence units. Other members of the faculty and staff are willing and able to counsel with you regarding personal and academic concerns. The college also offers referral to a professional counseling service for those students who exhibit need of such.

Health Services

The physical health of students is cared for through the Health Office located in Pennington Hall. A registered nurse, the Student Health Service director, is on duty in the morning five days a week. She works in close cooperation with the doctors in the community. She does not make calls to the residence housing but will provide consultation and treatment at the Health Office. This service is available to everyone even though you do not live on campus. Check the hours over at Pennington. If your illness is sudden or too severe to wait until the Health Office is open, see your residence hall director or resident assistant. If they feel you should see the doctor at "Emergency" at the hospital, arrangements will be made. When practical, the student should seek the help of the family doctor. When chronic ailments are diagnosed, the parents or guardians will be notified.

Insurance

LIMITED health and accident insurance is required of all students. Students must verify adequate insurance coverage elsewhere or be enrolled in the college program at the time of registration. Information on insurance is sent to all students prior to fall registration. If you have questions regarding insurance coverage, doctor bills, etc., contact the Student Health Service director.

Personal property insurance is not required. Students wishing coverage should arrange privately for this form of insurance.

Physical Fitness

Physical fitness is an important aspect of a person's life. That is one of the reasons the college does not enroll students who abuse their bodily functions through the use of tobacco or alcohol or nonprescribed drugs. Two other areas require attention. Sometimes the change of diet or change of daily schedule will cause students to become overweight. (Not only students!) SAGA recognizes that an inactive person eating its regularly served food may put on weight. In the past SAGA has cooperated with the nurse to provide special diet for people who wanted to take off pounds. Watch for announcements. Lack of exercise is another physical fitness danger. It is not uncommon to see several students (and faculty and staff) jogging on the track anytime of the day. Enroll in a physical education course and get credit while you get your exercise! In this booklet under the column RECREATION you may find other ideas that will help overcome inactivity.

People

You will always find people around to help. You may not be able to contact your first choice at all times because of class schedule or other commitments—but somebody else can assist you with your question or problem.

Ron Crecelius, director of Christian life, is one of the first people you will want to get to know. He is genuinely concerned about your happiness and well-being. Stop in his office for a chat and get acquainted. If he isn't there, make an appointment with his congenial secretary. You will find him around campus quite often, so just go up and say "hello." You'll develop a good friendship.

RAs have unique skills of love and understanding. They have recently been through the process of getting started in their college career and, therefore, know the more recent pitfalls and heartaches. Get to know them. They can make things easier.

Residence hall directors are friendly people known for their concern. Quite often, people who do not live in residence halls go to them for counsel. Craig and Cheryl Taylor in Pennington, Linda Nay in Edwards, and Gayle Buckley, who serves as advisor to the Hobson men, will be most anxious to share their insight into your spiritual, emotional, physical, or intellectual problem. Be sure to look them up.

Advisors are faculty people who are anxious to assist you in meeting your goals and provide outlets for your interests. They, too, can be a source of great help in time of stress or perplexity. Every student is assigned an advisor. Keep in touch with him or her.

People in other offices are also there to serve. Secretaries can give answers to questions. Chapel services are often helpful in receiving new insight to God's Word.

Probably the best source for help is your fellow student. If you haven't found a good friend, keep looking. God has someone here with whom you can share your thoughts and aspirations. Dr. Robert B. Munger of Fuller Seminary has observed that "people react to stress and crisis in three different ways. Some clam up, withdraw and resist change with rigid determination. Others fold up and go along in the line of least resistance without a challenge. Still others, in obedience to Jesus Christ, move out purposely and confidently to know and do God's will in the world."

Romans the twelfth chapter is probably best suited to students in today's world. Use the Bible often as a help to succeeding in college. And don't forget to pray!

Wheels

There are no restrictions on the use of automobiles by GFC students as long as they observe all traffic regulations and maintain appropriate insurance coverage. There is ample parking on the campus for student automobiles. A limited number of parking areas are reserved for staff and faculty. These are posted with signs and the restrictions should be observed. Cars are not to be left on campus during the summer months. Parking permits are not required.

Bicycling during the winter months is not as popular as in milder climates, but it is still a good way to get around. Edwards and Pennington have covered bicycle racks. There are two bicycle repair shops in Newberg. This is a good form of transportation for short trips, downtown or for recreation.

Bus transportation through Newberg is extremely limited, although there is some. The Greyhound Bus station number is 538-8181.

People needing rides should advertise in The Student Bulletin or post their request on student bulletin boards. Student-sponsored events located outside of Newberg provide transportation as part of their service.

The college provides shuttle service for students flying into Portland at the beginning of the terms. Take the Airport Shuttle Service bus to the downtown Portland Hilton Hotel and call the college at 538-8383. Within an hour someone will be there to pick you up. The charge is $2.50 per person or $5 limit.

Communication

Good communication is essential in a community such as a college. "Be informed" is not just a trite saying—it is imperative if you want to succeed at obtaining an education. News about events, financial aid information, who is doing what, offers of new courses or new opportunities, academic deadlines, and room changes are all examples of important news items that may enhance your educational experience.

Student-sponsored Media

The Student Bulletin is published regularly and is posted in several locations on campus. The student director of publicity compiles the announcements, which must be turned in by 2 p.m. the day preceding publication. Forms are provided that ask essential information. Announcements must be typewritten or printed and signed. Unsigned announcements will not be printed.

The Bruin is the campus directory of all students, faculty, staff, and officers and committees as well as selected numbers in the community. This also is produced by the students in cooperation with the Student Affairs Office.

The Crescent is a biweekly campus newspaper dealing mainly with campus news and opinions. Obviously it cannot be considered a source of up-to-date news although it does provide this occasionally if the timing is right. The editor is a student and has a complete student staff, with a faculty member acting as advisor. If you would like to be a part of the campus and help foster good communication, then volunteer now to be a part of The Crescent staff.

L'Ami is the college yearbook. Again, students completely staff this publication. Pictures are taken early in the year, and the staff works hard throughout the year producing it in cooperation with the director of college relations and the yearbook publisher. Any full-time student enrolled in three consecutive terms in any one year is entitled to his copy of L'Ami. Part-time students or part-year students may purchase copies through the L'Ami business manager.

Other Publications

The college attempts to communicate with its constituency through various publications, many of which are distributed also to students. The college LIFE! is published six times a year by the Development Department for the purpose of informing the public of recent happenings on campus.

This publication you are reading, The First Resort, and the College Catalog are two of the most important means of "being informed."

Other Means of Communication on Campus

One of the best ways to become knowledgeable is to check the bulletin boards around campus. These boards often contain helpful information regarding jobs, entertainment events, results of tests or intramural scores, action of student government, etc. The director of publicity is in charge of the SUB bulletin board. Check with her at Ext. 275 for permission to post announcements.

The director of college relations in Wood-Mar Hall maintains a "news release" board outside his office. Students and others can read news stories before they come out in the newspapers.

The student director of publicity is responsible for the coordination of announcements at meal time. See her if you wish to make an announcement in The Commons.

Off-campus Media

The Newberg Graphic, a weekly newspaper, contains local news as well as local advertising of merchandise. Copies of the Graphic are available downtown, or students may subscribe by contacting the Graphic office, 538-2181.

Popular daily newspapers include The Oregonian and the Oregon Journal, a morning and evening paper respectively, both published in Portland. The Capital Journal is published in Salem. Newsboys will take subscriptions from anyone on campus. Watch for notices on your residence hall or SUB bulletin boards . . . and be sure to pay your monthly bill! Sometimes students forget about this and the newsboys are left with a deficit.

Radio and Television

Local radio news is found on station KMCM, a McMinnville station. Newberg news and particularly news about the college is featured. Radio and television reception from the Portland and metropolitan based stations is excellent. There is a color television set in the lower level of the SUB for students to use. Some students have their own TV in their rooms.

Mail

At registration a post office box is assigned to each student. Keys are required. The first key is issued free. If it is lost, the next key will cost $2. Keys are issued through the student post office. Business hours are posted on the window of the student post office, which is located across from the Book Store in the SUB. It is important that your proper college address be sent to publishers of magazines and other people from whom you receive mail. Include your mailing address as follows:

Your Name _____
SUB Box _____
George Fox College
Newberg, Oregon 97132

If you leave out "George Fox College" the distribution may be delayed. All the mail for Newberg comes into the local post office downtown and is then "broken down" so that all the student mail, properly addressed, comes to the college in a separate mail bag. It just speeds up delivery to give proper addresses.

All the normal business transactions of the post office take place at the college post office located in the lower level of Wood-Mar Hall. However, stamps may be purchased at the student post office in the SUB.

Telephone

Of course, one of the best ways of communicating is by telephone. Every member of the college community is available through the campus extension service. Check The Bruin, either by name, or if you don't know the name, check the office. Any extension phone on campus can reach any other extension phone. You can call from almost any place, but students, mainly, are to call from the SUB or residence halls.

Students are not to use the college switchboard for outside calls during business hours. Use the pay phones located around campus. Incoming calls for students are not to be received past the closing hour of the switchboard. Students should not make calls on extensions beyond the midnight hour. Remember, when living in a campus community certain restrictions are necessary that all may enjoy its benefits.

Recreation

Bikes

In good weather bicycling is one of the most popular forms of recreation and exercise. Some of the favorite places include Champoeg Park across the Willamette River about seven miles south of the campus. Champoeg Park is known for its historic Oregon Territory significance and is popular with many people throughout Oregon as a "good place to have a picnic." Chehalem mountain to the north is not really a mountain but a good sized hill. If you have a ten-speed bike, this is a great place to spend an afternoon. Camp Tilikum is just seven miles west of the campus. The rolling terrain takes you past farms and orchards in some of the most beautiful scenery in Oregon. There is also plenty of level ground around Newberg where you can just wheel around to get your mind off the books for awhile.

Swimming

Newberg boasts one of the finest indoor swimming pools in the State of Oregon. Located just a few blocks northeast of the campus, it is a popular place with students. Check this out early upon your arrival. The prices are reasonable and the hours convenient.

Weekend Events

As mentioned earlier, the director of student activities coordinates weekend activities. Watch the calendar and The Student Bulletin for upcoming events. Some of the major events include a raft race, Halloween party, Winter Formal, Homecoming, May Day, and Spring Formal interspersed with visiting guest artists, good films, and other events.

The Music Department presents recitals and other musical events, such as Music Theatre productions and appearances of visiting artists.

Other academic divisions present guest lecturers and productions, which provide a form of diversion from the routine of getting an education.

Jogging and hiking are popular with the physical fitness buffs who enjoy the out-of-doors. Future plans include some overnight camp-outs for people interested in this form of recreation.

Intramural programs including flag football, men's/women's basketball, badminton, women's fitness, and tennis are available. The Gym is open many evenings for men and women who enjoy competitive sports and a form of recreation. Student intramural sports directors for both men and women coordinate this activity.

Sports

Men's varsity athletics function under the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA), District 2. Men compete in basketball, track, and baseball intercollegiately. The basketball Bruins have been the district's top independent for five consecutive years.

Women's varsity athletics are governed by the Northwest College Women's Sports Association (NCWSA). The women compete intercollegiately in field hockey, volleyball, basketball, softball, and track.

The philosophy of athletics at GFC includes the belief that artistic use of the body testifies that the creation is good and intercollegiate athletics reinforce community for both performer and spectator alike. Athletics at GFC should teach teamwork, unify the constituency, and provide a positive testimony at all times. The college is also dedicated to providing equitable programs for men and women by striving towards equality of experiences, products, and services.

Involvement

Profiles of the freshmen classes each year reveal that the students who come to George Fox College are more highly motivated to serve their fellow human beings than the average college student. This data is supported by the extent and type of service.

Community Service

It already has been mentioned that students are encouraged to become "involved" on campus in clubs or student government or on student-faculty committees. For the student who wishes to help the disadvantaged, Yamhill County's (the county in which the college is located) Mental Health office has opportunities for students to become friends to fatherless children through their college companion program. Friendsview Manor is a residence just north of the campus for more than 170 retired citizens. You may wish to get involved with them by offering to read to an older person whose eyesight is gone, or offer to act as a chauffeur for an elderly couple who would like to go for a ride. Check with your student chaplain for a chance to go to work. Get involved—it is one of the best ways to cure homesickness!

Christian Service

Students underwrite on a voluntary basis the expenses of several students each year who represent the Lord and the college around the world, serving mission agencies. The director of Christian life coordinates this activity. In addition, many students give their witness to people in churches and missions.

Christian Values

Since its founding in 1891 George Fox College has been known for its firm commitment to Christian principles. A small Christian liberal arts college has a different character than the more secular institutions. It consists of a community of believers in Jesus Christ who are committed to Christian moral and spiritual values. Some of these values imply restrictions on conduct, but they are for the purpose of enriching the community life. These restrictions are interwoven with the objectives of the college and must be observed by all segments and members of the community. Just as scholars, musicians, or athletes who excel are known for their self-discipline, so students at George Fox College voluntarily accept the disciplines of the community that all may enjoy the benefits of a certain kind of community life style. A student who may not believe in Christ may enroll at this college, but he must accept the standard of behavior that is accepted by the entire community.

Basic Morality

The Bible is very clear on such forms of dishonesty as cheating, stealing, lying, and gambling. Students who engage in this kind of activity will be firmly and fairly counseled and disciplined.

The Bible is equally clear on the matter of sexual morality. The college stands firmly upon the biblical principle that the sexual experience should be confined to marriage. In that setting sex is a beautiful human experience. The college cannot create situations that foster permissiveness in the area of sexual relations. For this reason intervisitation in students' rooms of the men's and women's residence halls is generally not permitted.

However, much is left to the conscience of the student. Students who are committed to the biblical principle of self-discipline will act with propriety in public and in private.

If a student continually disregards this area of moral expectations he may be asked to withdraw from the college.

Since its founding the college has placed restrictions on the use of tobacco, alcohol, and nonprescribed drugs. The ban on the use of these narcotics was in force long before medical and social scientists recognized the harmful effect such habits brought to the user, their families, and communities. Students who use such products will be dismissed from the campus community.

The college has also found that its interests are best served by not sponsoring social dancing on campus or at college-related activities or events.

Hazing

The college does not approve in any way activities that, among others, have the effect of creating hazards to the safety and health of students and/or that are dehumanizing and humiliating. These activities include those arising from pranks, hazing in general, initiations, and other similarly related activities. Such activities are considered to be violations of personal rights and freedoms and are not to be part of our Christian community. Persons choosing to engage in such activities subject themselves to college discipline as well as to personal liability. A full policy statement is available in the Student Affairs Office.

Dress

Students are asked to avoid extremes in appearance. This is not to thwart individuality but to continue a level of responsibility and philosophy that the college has held throughout its history.

During the college year, students find themselves in a variety of situations that require a decision on what is proper attire. Simplicity is the keynote, with a broad principle of what is well-accepted guiding the appearance of each student. Good grooming requires cleanliness, neatness, and modesty, as well as an attainment of certain refinement associated with collegiate life.

Spiritual Concern

Of great importance to the quality of community life is the emphasis given to the principles of the Bible, to Christ and the Holy Spirit. The college gives itself to fostering the conversion of members of the campus community and the spiritual growth of Christians.

Churches in the Community

Newberg has many churches that faithfully preach the basic Gospel of redemption and the godly life. Students are urged to take advantage of this means of fellowship and worship. Churches advertise in the various newspapers.

On-campus Christian Activity

Chapel-Assembly is held twice each week during the school year.

The purposes of the Chapel-Assembly period are as follows:

- 1) A social purpose, for a meeting such as this is the only way to consider matters of common concern.
- 2) An intellectual purpose, for in this fashion issues are raised for thoughtful consideration of thinking students and faculty.
- 3) A devotional purpose, for it is in such meetings, as well as special weeks of Christian emphasis, that the community can worship together and consider the various aspects of faith and life.

Attendance is required of all students who are enrolled in 12 or more hours.

The Student Affairs Office at a later date will have a more definitive statement on Chapel-Assembly. Please consult that office for questions related to Chapel-Assembly.

Bible studies led by students or faculty/staff often occur in various living units or as announced on campus.

Collegiate Challenge is a student-led Wednesday evening worship service. Visiting speakers or musical groups as well as students and faculty/staff frequently share their witness of what the Lord has done in their lives.

Many of the students at George Fox College are oriented to helping others—and many of them do this by sharing their life through witnessing to congregations in worship or similarly gathered groups.

Administration

The college is governed by a 42-member Board of Trustees elected by Northwest Yearly Meeting of Friends Church. The board meets twice yearly with the Executive Committee of the board meeting monthly. It has final authority over all college policy, which is implemented at the campus level under the authority of the president.

Administrative Decisions

Dr. David C. Le Shana as president of the college has final authority to implement policy. He is responsible to the trustees of the college. His office is available to students. If you wish to see him, stop by at the office for an appointment, for he is often traveling in the interests of the college. He also regularly tries to teach at least one course each year.

The dean of the college, Dr. William Green, is responsible for the entire academic area including curriculum, faculty, academic records, extension services, and library. In addition, he is responsible for the Admissions Department under the direction of Jim Settle.

Donald Millage is business manager. His area of responsibility includes property, finance, budget control, building and staff personnel.

The dean of students is Dr. Gene Habecker, whose general area of responsibility includes athletics, financial aid, career development, student health services, and housing. His work is outlined throughout this handbook.

The College Development Department is under the supervision of Maurice Chandler. People assisting him include Barry Hubbell in College Relations; Gene Hockett as alumni director; and Bruce Huffman, assistant in the Development Office. These men are responsible for representing the college before the public and securing the necessary funds to supplement the students' tuition.

Mr. Harold Ankeny, director of institutional research, along with a faculty representative complete the membership of the Administrative Council. This council advises the president on wide ranging policy decisions. The ASGFC president meets with the council monthly. Recommendations come to the council and decisions are usually made by consensus.

Academic Decisions

All academic decisions concerning courses, graduation requirements, grading, and new programs are made jointly by the faculty, after being considered by the dean and his Advisory Council. The faculty meets monthly for business sessions. Weekly meetings are held for the discussion of educational issues and professional development.

Academic Organizations

The Dean's Council is the advisory committee to the dean of the college. In addition to the dean, who acts as chairman, the council is composed of the chairman of each of the six academic divisions, the director of extension services, the librarian, and the registrar. The council meets weekly and considers matters brought to it by each division or referred to it by other faculty committees or the Administrative Council.

The structure of the four faculty standing committees is included below. Three of the committees include students in their membership. Students have voting rights on committees but may not serve as chairman of the committee. The Scholarship Committee, which is a subcommittee of the Student Affairs Committee, does not have students represented because of the nature of the decisions that come before it.

1. The Academic Policy Committee recommends to the faculty appropriate policy regarding admission standards, eligibility for extracurricular activities, international studies, honors programs, athletics, probation, academic improvements, course additions or changes.

2. The Teaching Skills Committee is responsible for evaluating innovations in teaching technology and techniques. The committee recommends the acquisition of teaching tools and recommends, demonstrates, and develops the use of appropriate teaching techniques.

3. The Professional Growth Committee is responsible to foster faculty research and nonteaching creative endeavor. The committee evaluates current faculty projects on request, recommends projects, and aids in the drafting of proposals for fundings, considers matters related to faculty benefits and status when so requested by the faculty, and coordinates the annual faculty lecture.

4. The Student Affairs Committee—Since the Student Affairs Committee (SAC) is responsible for the nonacademic area of student life, it is important to outline in more detail its function here.

The SAC shall:

1. Consider all matters affecting student life in the residence housing and at college-sponsored events.

2. Receive and act on recommendations directed to it by other student, faculty, or administrative committees and officers.

3. Serve as a "hearing committee" for students who may wish to appeal the decision of the Student Senate or the action of the dean of students.

4. Receive and act upon scholarship applications as directed to it by the Financial Aid Office.

5. Serve as a decision-making committee on matters of discipline referred to it by the dean of students. The committee has the authority to suspend, dismiss, or expel students for violations of specific standards of conduct.

6. Address itself to new issues affecting collegiate life and may recommend changes or modifications of present programs to appropriate committees.

A detailed explanation of the various kinds of discipline administered by the college as well as the kind of procedural due process used in such cases is available from the Dean of Student's Office. Students are encouraged to review and study such policies.

How to Avoid Suffocation by the System

Sometime during your college career you will be dealing with the administration. Get to know them. They're people, too, and they wouldn't be here if you weren't here. You're their job. They are anxious to help even though at times their answer,

"It's not college policy," may seem to be a mite frustrating.

Things to remember:

1. Be sure to see the right administrator when you want to see something changed or resolved.
2. Talk to more than one person to get a balanced picture of your situation.
3. Think twice before signing petitions.
4. Don't give up. If you get referred elsewhere, go there—and be patient.
5. Get support for your ideas from faculty, other staff, other students.
6. Be sure to study the issues and have a carefully written rationale for any change or resolution.
7. Bring a representative group and ask for a meeting. This shows the extent of student interest.

Change is often slow. The sixties proved that change by violence was exhausting and counterproductive. The system works, but it requires patience. The best place to start is to ask your ASGFC proxy to consider you for a nominee for a certain faculty committee. Find out what's happening and then think it through.

A good example of how it works is what happened to the student health insurance a few years ago. The administration required all students to buy mandatory health insurance. One junior male thought we could find a company that would provide optional insurance. He brought it to the Student Senate, which recommended this policy to the administration. After considerable search, satisfactory coverage was obtained on an optional basis. Now students who are covered under their parents' policy or other policies can elect not to purchase the college student policy and thereby save $40-45 per year. And the optional policy doesn't cost any more than the mandatory policy did—despite inflation.

KEEP YOUR HEAD

Everything is connected to everything else.

Everything must go somewhere. There's no such thing as a free lunch.

CALENDAR

Scheduling

All social and college activities arranged by departments, campus clubs, or groups of students must be scheduled through the Office of Student Affairs.

The scheduling of activities by students is the joint responsibility of the Office of Student Affairs and the director of activities.

Newberg

Newberg, located on the banks of the Willamette River, is perhaps one of the most perfectly situated cities in Oregon. The city of 8,300 is 65 miles from Oregon's beaches, 75 miles from the Mt. Hood recreational areas, 30 miles from the state capital of Salem, and just 23 miles from downtown Portland shopping and activities.

Incorporated in 1889, just two years before George Fox College was founded, Newberg is just seven miles from the site where early Oregon pioneers voted for statehood at Champoege in 1843.

Few white persons besides the early trappers and hunters were in the area inhabited by the Yamhelas Indians until early 1870, when William Hobson (after whom Hobson Hall is named) felt called to found a Quaker settlement in Oregon. He selected the Newberg area for its natural farming and fruit-raising possibilities. When word was sent back to his friends, hundreds began the western migration to Newberg.

Newberg is named after Newburgh in Bavaria, the boyhood home of Sebastian Brustcher, the first postmaster, who received his commission in 1869.

The city, with approximately 300 businesses, has a trade area with 20,000 persons. The largest industry in the city is Publishers Paper Company, which employs 250 people in the manufacturing of pulp and newsprint for the Los Angeles Times. Newberg is often called a "bedroom" community to Portland, because of the large number of people living in the area but working in Portland.

The community has 30 churches representing 23 denominations. There are more than 50 clubs and organizations, including the major service clubs. The city boasts a 53-bed hospital adjacent to the college campus.

Recreation activities including a modern indoor swimming pool, open to all area residents as well as the college community, are provided by the Chehalem Park and Recreation District. Five parks serve the city and surrounding area.

The month of July has a maximum temperature average of 83.1 degrees while in January the minimum average is 31.7 degrees. Typically, there are 19 days or more with a temperature of 90 degrees or above. Rainfall averages 42.3 inches per year with 8.7 inches of snow.

Our Photos from the Past

Cover—In 1905 physical education classes took on this look. Women on campus performed "wand" drills in unison. This class used the campus on the west side of Minthorn Hall (background), which still stands, despite some exterior changes.

The building was erected in a grain field where the Newberg Friends Church now stands on College and Third Streets. The student with the "X" mark over his head on the left in the front row is the late U.S. President Herbert Hoover.
