COLLEGE HISTORY AND LOCATION

The Quaker settlers of the Willamette Valley recognized the value of education. They made provisions for this need, even before Oregon public schools offered many advantages, by organizing Pacific Academy in 1885. It was of this school that former president Herbert Hoover stated: "As a young student there for three years, I received whatever set I may have toward good purposes in life."

Pacific College, organized in 1891, provided more advanced work, and in 1930, the Academy was discontinued so that the educational efforts of the Quakers could be centered around the college which came to play an ever-increasing role among the colleges and universities of the West. In 1949, because of the many "Pacific" colleges, the school was renamed George Fox College, honoring the founder of the Friends Church.

ACCREDITATION AND MEMBERSHIP

George Fox College, accredited by the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools, is a member of the National Council of Accrediting, the Association of American Colleges, the Association of Schools of Religious Education, the Friends' Council of Education, and the Association of American Friends' Colleges. It is also approved by state and federal government for the education of veterans, admission of alien students, and the training of elementary teachers in conjunction with the Oregon College of Education.

DIAMOND JUBILEE

During the 1966-67 school year, designated the "Year of Jubilee," George Fox College looked back on 75 years of progress. In these years, much has been accomplished: the many new buildings, thirteen built or remodeled in just the last ten years; progressively higher faculty salaries, which have doubled in the last ten years; increasingly excellent faculty qualifications, including many doctorates; students from many states and foreign countries; unrestricted accreditation, a loyal and interested alumni; and an unprecedented program of tri-college cooperation including George Fox, Cascade, and Warner Pacific.

TOWARD THE FIRST CENTURY

To state it simply, George Fox College is on the move; the next 25 years will be crucial ones, indeed, in the history of the school. Our personalized approach to Christian higher education cannot help but appeal to those discouraged with an impersonal multiversity; our student body, therefore, will continue to grow. Additional building plans are underway, including a $1,800,000 chapel-fine arts building. New courses will be added with their highly-qualified personnel, and new equipment ordered and installed. It promises to be a busy, fruitful quarter century.

ALMA MATER

Close beside Chehalem's Mountain
Is the College we adore;
Like an ever-flowing fountain,
She will stand forevermore.
Where she stands we'll ne'er forget it,
Near the old Willamette's banks
And in years we'll ne'er regret it
That we enter'd in her ranks.

Comrades, come and raise your voices,
Let us praise our College, dear,
While with her your heart rejoices,
Spread her glory far and near,
Then a rousing cheer we give her
'Tis the least that we can do;
G.F.C., we'll love forever,
Her Old Gold and Navy Blue.

When the four loved years of college
Shall have long since slipp'd away,
When with worldly care and knowledge,
Many a head is turning gray,
Still we'll shout her praise the louder
And our hearts give echo true,
As we cheer our Alma Mater,
Our Old Gold and Navy Blue.

'Tis the good old Quaker College,
And we'll shout her worthy name;
Where we gained our store of knowledge
In her halls of honor's fame.
And we'll always in this manner
To our mother school be true,
'Neath the George Fox College banner
Of Old Gold and Navy Blue.

Terry Haskell is a graduate of William Penn College, where he majored in Physical Education and Social Science. Terry received his Bachelor of Arts in 1963 and then took a position at Olin High School, Olin, Iowa. After one year of high school coaching, he came to George Fox College, as head basketball coach and instructor of Physical Education. After three years in this position, he was appointed Director of Athletics at George Fox College. Terry is finishing up his Masters Degree at the University of Oregon.

The 1967 season will mark the second year for Jerry Louthan at George Fox College. The 1967 year will be the young mentors first season as head coach for the Quakers.

Jerry Louthan is a graduate of Kansas State College of Pittsburg, Kansas receiving both a Bachelor of Science and a Master of Science from that institution

We are anticipating one of the greatest seasons of football that George Fox has ever experienced this fall. With 20 returning men from last year's team the offensive and defensive units will perhaps be the most talented 22 players to wear our colors. With everything to gain going into this season and a positive outlook, fans will not be disappointed with the teams performance. With experience in the backfield and interior line, offensively Fox will show much versital ability as they deploy a multiple-T offense.

The athletic philosophy at George Fox is based on four objectives:

Involvement: The athletic program must necessarily involve large numbers of students if it is to be a justifiable part of the total school program in terms of both time and money investments required for competitive sports.

Excellence: The program must provide George Fox students with the finest possible experiences within the limitations imposed by finance and staff adequacy.

Consistency: The athletic program must promote the development of skills, attitudes, and value patterns that are totally consistent with those of the educational system of George Fox College.

Realism: It is necessary that the program exist in a realistic environment wherein "athletics" enjoys optimum status among the many other significant areas of education.

To the participant, we hope to provide each with an opportunity to participate in his or her favorite type of activity, while letting them explore and enjoy others that might be new to them.

DAVID C. LE SHANA
Vice President and
Acting President

A.B. Taylor University
M.A. Ball State University
Ph.D. University of Southern California

Dr. Le Shana brings to George Fox a wealth of educational and administrative experience. For seven years he served on the administrative staff of Taylor University, continuing his active interest in education as a pastor in California, where he was awarded a Life Membership in the California P.T.A. In addition to radio and television work in the Midwest, Dr. Le Shana has been three years a member of the Southern California Radio and Television Commission. Born of missionary parents in India, he is widely traveled and is in demand as a speaker for both church and civic affairs. With his contributions, GFC looks forward to a new era of progress.

George Fox College is delighted to have you on campus today. An outstanding student body, competent faculty, and an able football squad give evidence that George Fox College is on the move!

As you will discover, athletics has a vital place in our collegiate program. It is part of the overall objective to build an effective Christian college in the Northwest.

We hope that you will share our enthusiasm and visit us often.

Player Of The Week

BILL JACKSON

Seattle Cavaliers Game

September 23, 1967

Jackson, Bill - Back, 160 lb., 5'8", Sophomore, from Seattle, Washington. Bill likes contact, and was a starter on defense last year. He played some offense late in the year. He showed good speed and open field running.

LARRY CRAVEN

Oregon College of Education Game

September 30, 1967

Craven, Larry - Guard, 190 lb., 6'1", Junior, from Newberg, Oregon. A starter as a freshman at linebacker, Larry was the leading tackler last year and second as a freshman. He is a hard hitting linebacker, with the ability to "smell" the play.
