WELCOME TO GEORGE FOX COLLEGE'S COLEMAN H. WHEELER SPORTS CENTER

CONTAINING THE JAMES AND LILA MILLER GYMNASIUM

George Fox College welcomes you to tonight's game. We're glad you're here. You're in the Coleman H. Wheeler Sports Center, designed by noted architect Pietro Belluschi to fit with the nearby wooded canyon setting. The building is a $2.4 million, 55,000-square-foot complex featuring athletic administration and faculty offices, a staff room, class, weight, and multipurpose rooms on the upper level. On the lower level are concession and ticket areas, dressing rooms, six team rooms, and equipment and storage areas. The building also has upper and lower lobbies and two handball courts.

The Miller Gymnasium is 116 by 174 feet with three basketball courts and seating for up to 2,500 spectators in its 20,184 square feet. The floor is of hardwood maple and also provides three volleyball courts and five badminton courts.

Constructed over a period of 10 months, its building is George Fox's largest and one of the most used facilities. The entire center is three times larger than Hester Gym, which it replaced, and is the fourth gymnasium in the college's 88 years. It is named for Coleman H. Wheeler, former chairman of the board of Willamette Industries and a longtime friend of the college. The gymnasium is named for James Miller, a George Fox board member and former owner of Cascadia Lumber Company, and his wife Lila. They were the original donors to the capital campaign that provided the new center, which was formally dedicated October 17, 1977.

ABOUT GEORGE FOX COLLEGE

George Fox College is the outgrowth of a desire by early Willamette Valley Quaker settlers who established Pacific Academy in 1885 for the Christian education of their children. The college division was organized in 1891 to provide more advanced instruction for students. In 1949, because of the many colleges in the Northwest with Pacific in their name, the college was renamed George Fox in honor of the founder of the Friends (Quaker) Church. The college is governed by a 42-member Board of Trustees elected by Northwest Yearly Meeting of Friends Church, which comprises more than 8,300 members in 57 churches in Oregon, Washington, and Idaho.

Today the 60-acre rural, tree-shaded campus a half-hour drive from Portland is undergoing a major expansion with seven new buildings completed in the last three years with total investment of more than $6.5 million. The new facilities include a $2.6 million sports complex, an $800,000 academic building, two new residence halls in a $1.25 million project, a $1.3 million fine arts/religion center, a $170,000 television center, and a $520,000 dining commons/student center expansion. A new $100,000 all-weather track was completed this fall. A new athletic field complex, including baseball field, two softball fields, hockey field, and archery range, is being readied to open for first use this spring.

College enrollment is at a record 734. The college has grown for eight consecutive years, increasing by two-thirds in that span.

Accredited by the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools, the college offers 20 majors in six divisions: Education, Fine and Applied Arts, Language Arts, Natural Science, Religion, and Social Science.

George Fox students come from 24 states and 4 foreign countries. Nearly 40 religious denominations are represented on campus.

GFC ATHLETICS

Intercollegiate athletics is an integral part of the overall education program at George Fox. Men's varsity athletic teams represent the college in baseball, basketball, track, soccer, and cross-country.

George Fox College competes as an independent on the varsity level. Its schedules are coordinated with both the Evergreen Conference and the Northwest Conference and with other independents in the Northwest. George Fox is a member of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA), District 2.

Women students compete in field hockey, volleyball, cross-country, basketball, tennis, track, and softball. The college is a member of the Women's Conference of Independent Colleges and the Northwest College Women's Sports Association.

For students not participating in the varsity program, GFC has a complete intramural program including flag football, basketball, volleyball, softball, and tennis.

Athletic facilities include the new Coleman H. Wheeler Center for Sports and Physical Education; Colcord Field, which includes a football/soccer field and new all-weather rubberized track; and tennis courts. A new athletic field complex containing baseball diamond, two softball fields, hockey field, and archery range is under construction, to be completed this school year.

Wheeler Center, completed in 1977 in a $2.6 million project, includes the James and Lila Miller Gymnasium with three basketball courts and seating for up to 2,700; multi-purpose, class, and weight rooms; faculty and administrative offices; handball courts; dressing and therapy rooms.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS

The National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) is a completely autonomous association that administers programs leading to national championships in 15 events for more than 500 fully accredited four-year colleges and universities in all 50 states and Canada.

Established in 1940 as the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball the NAIB evolved from the institution of a "National Small College Basketball Tournament" that was inaugurated in 1937. In 1952, the NAIB expanded to include tennis, outdoor track, and golf, and that year the organization was renamed the NAIA.

Since that time the NAIA has further enlarged to encompass football (two divisions were formed in 1970), cross-country, baseball, and swimming, which were added to the NAIA championship program in 1956, wrestling (1958), soccer (1959), gymnastics (1964), indoor track (1956), ice hockey (1968), and volleyball (1969).

With its national headquarters and staff located in Kansas City, Missouri, the NAIA is organized into 31 districts. The District Executive Committee is the governing body in each district, with the district chairman serving as the chief officer. Within the district an eligibility chairman and publicity chairman are appointed to handle various duties.

A major factor in the success of the NAIA program is the importance placed on "grass roots" organizations, in which each district administers and organizes the programs of the schools within their own district. The districts are usually small enough in the number of schools involved that each individual institution has a major voice in the policy and decision-making process within that district. This procedure carries forward to the national level, where each of the 31 districts has an equal voice in national matters.

The NAIA clearly outlines its own responsibilities and those of its members: a sound athletic program, administered and controlled by those responsible for the administration of the college or university. The NAIA encourages a broad program of athletic pursuits in its member institutions and aims at uniformity and equity in policies and practices through its district and national championship events.

Eligibility rules in the NAIA govern all competition in sports recognized by the NAIA, not just post-season competition. These rules must be adhered to by all NAIA member institutions, including those members holding dual affiliations with other associations. NAIA member institutions must pay the annual membership dues and be in support of the policies of the Association.

BRUINS PARTICIPATE IN NAIA DISTRICT 2

George Fox College men's athletic teams compete in District 2 of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA). Eighteen teams currently make up the district, all but six within the state of Oregon. They include the four members of the Northwest Conference, four members of the Evergreen Conference, and 10 independent schools, including George Fox.

The district tip-off and play-off guidelines are established by a basketball committee, composed of the 18 coaches. The play-off system this year involves an eight-team tournament including the colleges rated highest by the "Sempert System," which awards points based on wins and losses against teams with winning and losing records.

The National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics was officially formed in 1952, the outgrowth of the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball, which had been organized in 1937, primarily to determine a national champion in basketball. The purpose of the NAIA is "to champion the cause and promote the interests of the colleges of moderate enrollment and sound athletic philosophy and program." NAIA now sponsors 15 national champions for the 515 member institutions in 31 districts in the United States and Canada. The national headquarters is at 1221 Baltimore, Kansas City, MO 64105.

Members of NAIA District 2 are Brigham Young—Hawaii, Chaminade University, College of Idaho, Concordia College, Eastern Oregon State, George Fox, Hawaii Pacific College, Lewis and Clark, Linfield, Northwest Nazarene, Oregon College of Education, Oregon Institute of Technology, Pacific, Southern Oregon, University of Hawaii—Hilo, Warner Pacific, Western Baptist, and Willamette.

George Fox College has been in the NAIA District 2 playoffs seven of the last nine years, missing only last year and in the 1975-76 season, when the Bruins did not participate, even though they had the best record in the district (19-8), because of then-existing play-off regulations that have since been altered.

The Bruin district play-off record:

1970-71—Willamette University (lost 103-69)

1971-72—Willamette University (lost 69-60)

1972-73—Linfield College (won 95-88)

Pacific University (won 68-67) (District Title)

Defiance (Ohio) College (lost 82-62) (NAIA national championships)

1973-74—Pacific University (won 92-72)

Oregon Institute of Technology (lost 55-54)

1974-75—Oregon Institute of Technology (lost 72-56)

1976-77—University of Hawaii—Hilo (lost 85-79)

1977-78—Oregon Institute of Technology (lost 79-65)

THE SEMPERT SYSTEM: GETTING TO THE PLAYOFFS

The Sempert System, named for Dean Sempert of Lewis and Clark College in Portland, is a system of points that are earned by each team in the district in the following manner:

Four (4) points for a win on the road against a better-than-.500 team.

Three (3) points for a win on the road against a less-than-.500 team.

Three (3) points for a win at home against a better-than-.500 team.

Two (2) points for a win at home against a less-than-.500 team.

One (1) point for a loss at home or on the road against a better-than-.500 team.

No (0) points for a loss at home or on the road against a less-than-.500 team.

(All neutral court games are counted as away games.)

THE BRUIN NICKNAME

George Fox College is represented by the nickname and mascot "Bruin." But it's not always been so, even though it should have been.

The nickname comes from a real bear captured in 1887 just two years after Pacific Academy (the college's predecessor) was established. The small cub was captured in the coast range foothills west of Carlton when its mother was shot. The young cub was brought to campus by a student and later lived with a faculty member. When it grew to adulthood it was kept in a pit in what is now known as Hess Creek Canyon south of the campus. It escaped one too many times and was turned into steak for the dining table and the hide preserved on a frame and displayed in an early campus museum. When it deteriorated several years later, it was taken to a campus furnace room to be destroyed, but the framework proved a problem in dismantling, so it was left sitting in a corner. Students found the old Bruin skin later and began skirmishes over ownership, a tradition that continued 85 years later. "Bruin Junior," a replica, under a set of guidelines passed down for years, was fought over periodically in class competition with the class able to physically drag the Bruin replica off campus declared the rightful owner until next "flashed."

Even with the Bruin tradition, somewhere along the line, the "Quaker" tag to athletic teams came into popularity with sportswriters because of the college's church affiliation, and that nickname was used, along with a mascot "Foxy George," a little fox with a Quaker hat. Both gained acceptance for a period in the 1950s and 1960s until a vote of faculty, students, and administration in 1970 reinstated the Bruin nickname to its rightful place.

A LOOK AT THE PAST

The game of basketball was invented by Dr. James Naismith in 1891, and it took just seven years for it to be brought to George Fox College (then called Pacific College).

College board member and community leader T. W. Hester and others first saw the game played at the Portland YMCA. They were captivated by the new game and secured a ball, which they brought back to the college. The first exhibition game was played shortly thereafter, in the winter of 1898, and the first site was the third floor of the old Commercial Hotel on North Main Street because the college had no adequate space for the new sport.

The first gymnasium on the campus was the upper part of one wing of an old academy building (Hoover Hall), built in 1885 and torn down in the mid-1950s. A one-room wood gymnasium building was constructed in 1916 and served until 1946, when the college opened Hester Gymnasium, a concrete block structure built partly by student/faculty labor at a cost of $40,000. The building, with a single hemlock playing floor and seating for 1,100, served through the 1976-77 season with opening of Wheeler Center.

College athletic affiliation in men's basketball over those years has gone from independent status to membership in the old Willamette Christian College Conference, the Metropolitan Conference, the Oregon Collegiate Conference, and back again to the present status as a major small college independent member of NAIA District 2 (joined in 1965). In 1973 George Fox was the district champion and has been in the district playoffs seven of the last nine years.

There have, of course, been many significant wins, seasons, and players throughout the last 81 years. Much of that history, however, has been lost because of the lack of available information and incomplete records prior to NAIA membership in 1965.

TONIGHT'S GAME

Tonight's game is the first of two this season between George Fox and the visiting Willamette Bearcats. Like George Fox, Willamette had a slow start in the NAIA District 2 Tip-Off last weekend. The Bearcats lost their opening game of the season 72-55 to perennially strong Oregon Tech in a game played at Oregon College of Education, and the following night in consolation play Willamette was edged 85-83 by Northwest Conference rival Linfield College.

Tonight's contest is the first regular season game for the Bearcats under new coach Rich Glas, who took over this summer after four seasons at the University of Minnesota—Morris, where his teams posted a total 89-44 mark and he was named NAIA District 13 coach of the year in 1977. Glas replaces Jim Boutin, who has taken over basketball duties at Oregon College of Education after 12 years at Willamette.

George Fox comes into tonight's game—the second in a row at home—after hosting Whitman College of the Northwest Conference last night, bringing a 1-2 record into that game. The Bruins are led in scoring by Hille van der Kooy, who had a 22.3 average after the opening trio of contests. He's also the Bruins' top rebounder.

Leading the Bearcats in point production is Rob Cantonwine, a sophomore guard, who has 37 points for an 18.5 average. Close behind is senior forward Jeff Novitsky with 36 points. Novitsky is the top Bearcat rebounder with a 12.0 average.

The George Fox-Willamette series dates back 13 years since George Fox began NAIA competition. Over that span George Fox has won 8 games, the Bearcats have taken 12. Last year the two Willamette Valley teams split, George Fox winning in Salem 61-60 and Willamette winning in Newberg 73-69.

Next for the Bruins is a Tuesday night home game with Seattle Pacific University, the third of four-in-a-row at home for George Fox.

COACH SAM WILLARD

Sam J. Willard is in his fourth season at the George Fox basketball helm. In his first year Willard took the Bruins to a 20-9 record, the best ever in the school's history and the first time a 20-win season had been reached. The second season the Bruins posted a 15-14 record (16-13 on the court, but one game forfeited with an ineligible player). Both seasons the Bruins were in the NAIA District 2 playoffs. Last season it was a different story as the Bruins dropped to a 9-20 record with injuries and personnel problems plaguing the efforts. Willard's out to change that.

The Willard era began May 15, 1977, as he was named head basketball coach and athletic director to replace Lorin Miller. He officially began those duties three months later. The dual role is not unfamiliar to Willard: he held similar duties at Big Bend Community College in Moses Lake, Wash., for seven years before being chosen for the George Fox positions.

Willard's selection in itself is a measure of his qualities: he was the top choice for the post after a screening committee considered dozens of candidates from across the nation. Maintaining a winning tradition was a strong factor, but equally important were the personal attributes and characteristics reflecting the George Fox objectives.

Coaching has been Willard's background for the last 18 years. It's been impressive with an overall coaching record of 319 wins and 204 losses. In 1966 the Bruin mentor was Coach of the Year on the prep level in Idaho while he coached at Caldwell High. Willard guided basketball at Middleton from 1960 through 1965, then spent four years, until 1969, at Caldwell. His teams were in the state tournaments seven of those nine years, placing at least third each year. He coached his team to the state championship title twice, one year with an undefeated 27-0 mark.

Willard, 44 (June 4, 1935), has his own personal basketball mark, too. A graduate of Northwest Nazarene College in 1959 Willard, in a guard slot, helped the Crusaders to the NAIA national championship playoffs in 1957. A "preacher's kid," Willard played high school ball in Williston, North Dakota, where he was an All-State guard.

With a real concern for the individual as a person as well as a player, Willard, basically a quiet person, says he has only "total excitement and optimism" about the Bruin program.

Academically, Willard holds a master's degree from Central Washington State following summer sessions at Oregon State and Arizona State. That knowledge is used now as an associate professor of physical education on the GFC faculty. For five summers Willard was assistant director and athletic director for a Youth Conservation Camp in Moses Lake.

Willard has coached summer basketball camps and clinics in Washington, Oregon, and California. He had his own Mt. Shasta Camp in Northern California and assisted the last two summers with Portland Trail Blazer Coach Jack Ramsay's summer camps held on the George Fox campus.

Willard is an active Kiwanian and a member of the Nazarene Church. He and his wife Myrna, a Newberg kindergarten teacher, have four children: Sherelyn, 16, Samantha, 13, Buntley, 12, and Whitney, 11.
