WELCOME TO GEORGE FOX COLLEGE'S COLEMAN H. WHEELER SPORTS CENTER

CONTAINING THE JAMES AND LILA MILLER GYMNASIUM

George Fox College begins its fourth year in the Coleman H. Wheeler Center for Sports and Physical Education. Completed in June 1977, the $2.7 million, 55,000-square-foot complex is the college's largest building. It contains the James and Lila Miller Gymnasium, the Bruin home court.

The sports center was designed by noted architect Pietro Belluschi, with a wooded canyon setting chosen as the center's location. The building features wood products and a large window area overlooking the adjacent natural terrain.

Three times larger than Hester Gymnasium, which it replaced, the Wheeler Center features a 116 x 174-foot gymnasium with three basketball courts and seating for 2,700 spectators. The gymnasium ceilings are 32 feet over the hardwood maple floor. The gym provides three volleyball courts and five badminton courts.

The building is entered on two levels—ground level on the east side through nine doors for the general public and after crossing a 200-foot bridge; and on the second floor on the west side for campus personnel. There is a two-floor lobby featuring oak parquet floors.

Contained on the upper level are athletic administration and faculty offices, staff room, and class, weight, and multipurpose rooms.

The lower level contains a concession area and ticket sales area, dressing rooms, team rooms, equipment-issuing room, laundry, and storage space. An east wing of the building houses two handball courts.

The building is named for long-time Oregon lumberman Coleman H. Wheeler, former chairman of the board of Willamette Industries. The gymnasium is named for board member James Miller and his wife Lila. He is the former president of Cascadia Lumber Co. The building was dedicated Oct. 17, 1977.

ABOUT GEORGE FOX COLLEGE

George Fox College is the outgrowth of a desire by early Willamette Valley Quaker settlers who established Pacific Academy in 1885 for the Christian education of their children. The college division was organized in 1891 to provide more advanced instruction for students. In 1949, because of the many colleges in the Northwest with Pacific in their name, the college was renamed George Fox in honor of the founder of the Friends (Quaker) Church. The college is governed by a 42-member Board of Trustees elected by Northwest Yearly Meeting of Friends Church, which comprises more than 8,500 members in 56 churches in Oregon, Washington, and Idaho.

Today the 60-acre rural, tree-shaded campus a half-hour drive from Portland is undergoing a major expansion with eight new buildings completed in the last four years with total investment of nearly $7 million.

College enrollment is at a record 750. The college has grown for eight consecutive years, increasing by 75 percent in that span.

Accredited by the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools, the college offers 20 majors in six divisions: Education, Fine and Applied Arts, Language Arts, Natural Science, Religion, and Social Science. George Fox is one of 13 members of the national Christian College Consortium. The college has a student-faculty ratio of 16/1, with about 55 percent of faculty members having doctorates.

George Fox students come from 23 states and 5 foreign countries. Nearly 40 religious denominations are represented on campus.

GFC ATHLETICS

Intercollegiate athletics is an integral part of the overall education program at George Fox. Men's varsity athletic teams represent the college in baseball, basketball, track, soccer, and cross-country.

George Fox College competes as an independent on the varsity level. Its schedules are coordinated with the Northwest Conference and with other independents in the Northwest. George Fox is a member of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA), District 2.

Women students compete in volleyball, cross-country, basketball, tennis, track, and softball. The college is a member of the Women's Conference of Independent Colleges and the Northwest College Women's Sports Association.

For students not participating in the varsity program, GFC has a complete intramural program including flag football, basketball, volleyball, softball, and tennis.

Athletic facilities include the Coleman H. Wheeler Center for Sports and Physical Education; Colcord Field, which includes a football/soccer field and new all-weather rubberized track; and tennis courts. A new athletic field complex containing baseball diamond, two softball fields, soccer field, and archery range is under construction, to be completed this school year.

Wheeler Center, completed in 1977 in a $2.7 million project, includes the James and Lila Miller Gymnasium with three basketball courts and seating for up to 2,700; multipurpose, class, and weight rooms; faculty and administrative offices; handball courts; dressing and therapy rooms.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS

The National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) is a completely autonomous association that administers programs leading to national championships in 15 events for more than 500 fully accredited four-year colleges and universities in all 50 states and Canada.

Established in 1940 as the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball the NAIB evolved from the institution of a "National Small College Basketball Tournament" that was inaugurated in 1937. In 1952, the NAIB expanded to include tennis, outdoor track, and golf, and that year the organization was renamed the NAIA.

Since that time the NAIA has further enlarged to encompass football (two divisions were formed in 1970), cross-country, baseball, and swimming, which were added to the NAIA championship program in 1956, wrestling (1958), soccer (1959), gymnastics (1964), indoor track (1956), ice hockey (1968), and volleyball (1969). In August of 1980 the NAIA, after a two-year study, initiated championships in 10 events for women in the newly organized NAIA Women's Division.

With its national headquarters and staff located in Kansas City, Missouri, the NAIA is organized into 31 districts. The District Executive Committee is the governing body in each district, with the district chairman serving as the chief officer. Within the district an eligibility chairman and publicity chairman are appointed to handle various duties.

A major factor in the success of the NAIA program is the importance placed on "grass roots" organizations, in which each district administers and organizes the programs of the schools within their own district. The districts are usually small enough in the number of schools involved that each individual institution has a major voice in the policy and decision-making process within that district. This procedure carries forward to the national level, where each of the 31 districts has an equal voice in national matters.

The NAIA clearly outlines its own responsibilities and those of its members: a sound athletic program, administered and controlled by those responsible for the administration of the college or university. The NAIA encourages a broad program of athletic pursuits in its member institutions and aims at uniformity and equity in policies and practices through its district and national championship events.

Eligibility rules in the NAIA govern all competition in sports recognized by the NAIA, not just post-season competition. These rules must be adhered to by all NAIA member institutions, including those members holding dual affiliations with other associations. NAIA member institutions must pay the annual membership dues and be in support of the policies of the Association.

TONIGHT'S GAME

Tonight's game with Seattle Pacific is the second of a pair of contests sandwiched between a pair of tournaments hosted by the Bruins.

George Fox last weekend hosted the NAIA District 2 Tip-Off Tournament, claiming third place in the eight-team affair. And this coming Thursday and Friday (Dec. 17-18) the Bruins host their third Christmas season tourney, this year renamed the Ron Willcuts—Dale Twenge Memorial Classic.

But first Sam Willard's crew must face the SPU Falcons, the only NCAA squad on the Bruin schedule this season. Seattle Pacific, along with George Fox, is a member of the 13-member national Christian College Consortium. It is an NCAA Division 2 team.

The Falcons are under the direction of first-year coach Jim Poteet, former coach of Athletes in Action—USA, and a long-time friend of Bruin Coach Sam Willard.

Seattle Pacific has had a rough start, coming to Newberg with a 0-4 record, but with those losses coming at the hands of Washington State (63-58), Eastern Washington (86-83 in two overtimes), San Francisco State (69-61), and the University of Washington Tuesday night (93-87). In each contest the Falcons were in a position to win, leading in the half at three games, and close in the final minutes before costly turnovers brought defeat. The leading scorer for SPU is Jeff Esperson, 6-5, who has been coming off the bench to score 13 points a game.

With the Bruins over the last several years it's been an SPU margin of 5-1 as the Falcons have won the last four contests, including both games a year ago, 73-65 and 96-74. Tonight's game is the only meeting of the year for the two teams.

For the Bruins the start has been better, but not quite that anticipated by early season forecasters. George Fox got off to its expected start with a 77-72 win over Pacific University in the first game of the year, part of the Tip-Off. But the Bruins stumbled on the way to the championship, dropping a 99-88 encounter with experienced Eastern Oregon State, the eventual valley Tip-Off champion. The Bruins recovered in the third game, but it took on overtime to drop Lewis and Clark 73-70. Bruin boss Willard has an early assessment of the loss to the Mounties. "We'll look better too when we are in our seventh game," he said, referring to Eastern's early season start with five games ahead of the Tip-Off.

The Bruins also should be improved now with the return of senior captain Phil Barnhart, back in his leadership role on the court.

But the Bruins will continue to rely primarily on All-American potential Hille van der Kooy. He's leading the district in scoring at 28.7 points a game. That's a pace higher than any Bruin in NAIA history. His 17.0 rebounds a game also is the best ever at GFC.

Van der Kooy made it seem easy in his second game as he produced 42 points, a new individual game record for George Fox, topping by four the previous record of Paul Cozens, another All-American two years back. Van der Kooy shot at a .667 rate from the field, hitting 14 of 21 shots, and an amazing 14 of 15 at the free throw line, tying the marks for the most free throws made and the best game free throw percentage for a Bruin. Both marks, incidentally, were set by Tom Hewitt, now the assistant Bruin coach, in 1975. Van der Kooy's 23 rebounds was a Miller Gymnasium record.

After three games two Bruins are tied for second in scoring at 14.6—Mike Royer, a forward, and guard Kennie Carter. Going into the game last night at Pacific Royer was the top playmaker for GFC with 22 assists, with Carter close behind at 19.

AFTER THE GAME

All George Fox College alumni and friends are invited to an after-game fellowship immediately following tonight's contest. The event, to be held in the upper lobby of Wheeler Center, is the first of several this season. Refreshments will be provided, along with the fellowship. It's all brought to you by the GFC Alumni Association.

THANKS

The new 38-foot-long sign in front of the press row on the west side of Miller Gymnasium is a gift to the Bruin program and the results of many hours of planning and work by Bruin statistician Mike Wirta together with Leonard Weinert, both members of the GFC physical plant staff. After consulting with the Sports Information Office about the concept, they carried out the project, including all of the sketches, purchasing and ordering, assembly, painting and lettering. Also giving artistic assistance for the lettering was GFC 1980 grad Chuck Hernandez, another staff member. Give them your appreciation.

BRUINS PARTICIPATE IN NAIA DISTRICT 2

George Fox College men's athletic teams compete in District 2 of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA). Nineteen teams currently make up the district, all but six within the state of Oregon. They include the four members of the Northwest Conference, four members of the former Evergreen Conference, and 11 independent schools, including George Fox.

The district tip-off and play-off guidelines are established by a basketball committee, composed of the 19 coaches. The play-off system this year involves an eight-team tournament including the colleges rated highest by the "Sempert System," which awards points based on wins and losses against teams with winning and losing records.

Members of NAIA District 2 are Brigham Young—Hawaii, Chaminade University, College of Idaho, Columbia Christian, Concordia College, Eastern Oregon State, George Fox, Hawaii Pacific College, Lewis and Clark, Linfield, Northwest Nazarene, Oregon College of Education, Oregon Institute of Technology, Pacific, Southern Oregon, University of Hawaii—Hilo, Warner Pacific, Western Baptist, and Willamette.

George Fox College has been in the NAIA District 2 play-offs eight of the last ten years, missing only two years ago and in the 1975-76 season, when the Bruins did not participate, even though they had the best record in the district (19-8), because of then-existing play-off regulations that have since been altered.

The Bruin district play-off record:

1970-71—Willamette University (lost 103-69)

1971-72—Willamette University (lost 69-60)

1972-73—Linfield College (won 95-88)

Pacific University (won 68-67) (District Title)

Defiance (Ohio) College (lost 82-62) (NAIA national championships)

1973-74—Pacific University (won 92-72)

Oregon Institute of Technology (lost 55-54)

1974-75—Oregon Institute of Technology (lost 72-56)

1976-77—University of Hawaii—Hilo (lost 85-79)

1977-78—Oregon Institute of Technology (lost 79-65)

1979-80—Oregon Institute of Technology (lost 69-67)

THE SEMPERT SYSTEM: GETTING TO THE PLAYOFFS

The Sempert System, named for Coach Dean Sempert of Lewis and Clark College in Portland, is a system of points that are earned by each team in the district in the following manner:

Five (5) points for a win on the road against a better-than-.500 team.

Four (4) points for a win on the road against a less-than-.500 team.

Four (4) points for a win at home against a better-than-.500 team.

Three (3) points for a win at home against a less-than-.500 team.

One (1) point for a loss at home or on the road against a better-than-.500 team.

No (0) points for a loss at home or on the road against a less-than-.500 team.

(All neutral court games are counted as away games.)

THE BRUIN NICKNAME

George Fox College is represented by the nickname and mascot "Bruin." But it's not always been so, even though it should have been.

The nickname comes from a real bear captured in 1887 just two years after Pacific Academy (the college's predecessor) was established. The small cub was captured in the coast range foothills west of Carlton when its mother was shot. The young cub was brought to campus by a student and later lived with a faculty member. When it grew to adulthood it was kept in a pit in what is now known as Hess Creek Canyon south of the campus. It escaped one too many times and was turned into steak for the dining table and the hide preserved on a frame and displayed in an early campus museum. When it deteriorated several years later, it was taken to a campus furnace room to be destroyed, but the framework proved a problem in dismantling, so it was left sitting in a corner. Students found the old Bruin skin later and began skirmishes over ownership, a tradition that continued 85 years later. "Bruin Junior," a replica, under a set of guidelines passed down for years, was fought over periodically in class competition with the class able to physically drag the Bruin replica off campus declared the rightful owner until next "flashed."

Even with the Bruin tradition, somewhere along the line, the "Quaker" tag to athletic teams came into popularity with sportswriters because of the college's church affiliation, and that nickname was used, along with a mascot "Foxy George," a little fox with a Quaker hat. Both gained acceptance for a period in the 1950s and 1960s until a vote of faculty, students, and administration in 1970 reinstated the Bruin nickname to its rightful place.

A LOOK AT THE PAST

The game of basketball was invented by Dr. James Naismith in 1891, and it took just seven years for it to be brought to George Fox College (then called Pacific College).

College board member and community leader T. W. Hester and others first saw the game played at the Portland YMCA. They were captivated by the new game and secured a ball, which they brought back to the college. The first exhibition game was played shortly thereafter, in the winter of 1898, and the first site was the third floor of the old Commercial Hotel on North Main Street because the college had no adequate space for the new sport.

The first gymnasium on the campus was the upper part of one wing of an old academy building (Hoover Hall), built in 1885 and torn down in the mid-1950s. A one-room wood gymnasium building was constructed in 1916 and served until 1946, when the college opened Hester Gymnasium, a concrete block structure built partly by student/faculty labor at a cost of $40,000. The building, with a single hemlock playing floor and seating for 1,100, served through the 1976-77 season with opening of Wheeler Center.

College athletic affiliation in men's basketball over those years has gone from independent status to membership in the old Willamette Christian College Conference, the Metropolitan Conference, the Oregon Collegiate Conference, and back again to the present status as a major small college independent member of NAIA District 2 (joined in 1965). In 1973 George Fox was the district champion and has been in the district playoffs 8 of the last 10 years.

COACH SAM WILLARD

Sam J. Willard is in his fifth season at the George Fox basketball helm. In his first year Willard took the Bruins to a 20-9 record, the best ever in the school's history and the first time a 20-win season had been reached. The second season the Bruins posted a 15-14 record (16-13 on the court, but one game forfeited with an ineligible player). Both seasons the Bruins were in the NAIA District 2 playoffs. Two seasons ago it was a different story as the Bruins dropped to a 9-20 record with injuries and personnel problems plaguing the efforts. Last year he guided the Bruins to an 18-12 record, the fourth best NAIA mark.

The Willard era began May 15, 1977, as he was named head basketball coach and athletic director to replace Lorin Miller. He officially began those duties three months later. The dual role is not unfamiliar to Willard: he held similar duties at Big Bend Community College in Moses Lake, Wash., for seven years before being chosen for the George Fox positions.

Coaching has been Willard's background for the last 19 years. It's been impressive with an overall coaching record of 337 wins and 216 losses. In 1966 the Bruin mentor was Coach of the Year on the prep level in Idaho while he coached at Caldwell High. Willard guided basketball at Middleton from 1960 through 1965, then spent four years, until 1969, at Caldwell. His teams were in the state tournaments seven of those nine years, placing at least third each year. He coached his team to the state championship title twice, one year with an undefeated 27-0 mark.

Willard, 45 (June 4, 1935), has his own personal basketball mark, too. A graduate of Northwest Nazarene College in 1959, Willard, in a guard slot, helped the Crusaders to the NAIA national championship playoffs in 1957. A "preacher's kid," Willard played high school ball in Williston, North Dakota, where he was an All-State guard.

With a real concern for the individual as a person as well as a player, Willard says he has only "total excitement and optimism" about the Bruin program.

Academically, Willard holds a master's degree from Central Washington State following summer sessions at Oregon State and Arizona State. That knowledge is used now as an associate professor of physical education on the GFC faculty. For five summers Willard was assistant director and athletic director for a Youth Conservation Camp in Moses Lake.

Willard has coached summer basketball camps and clinics in Washington, Oregon, and California. He had his own Mt. Shasta Camp in Northern California, assisted two summers with Portland Trail Blazer Coach Jack Ramsay's summer camps held on the George Fox campus, and last season became co-owner and director of Perry's Basketball Camp, now in its 19th year.

Willard is an active Kiwanian and a member of the Church of the Nazarene. He and his wife Myrna, a Newberg kindergarten teacher, have four children: Shereilyn, 17, Samantha, 14, Buntly, 13, and Whitney, 12.
