ABOUT GEORGE FOX COLLEGE

George Fox College, beginning its second century, is one of America's best colleges. Three times it has been given that designation by U.S. News & World Report magazine. In 1991 GFC was ranked third in academic reputation among Western Regional Liberal Arts Colleges, including colleges and universities from Oklahoma to Hawaii.

This year, for the third time, the College was named to the Templeton Foundation Honor Roll of Character Building Colleges, the only Oregon college selected and one of 108 in the United States.

George Fox College is the outgrowth of a desire by early Willamette Valley Quaker settlers who established Pacific Academy in 1885 for the Christian education of their children. The college division was organized in 1891 to provide more advanced instruction for students. In 1949, because of the many colleges in the Northwest with Pacific in their name, the College was renamed George Fox in honor of the founder of the Friends (Quaker) Church.

Accredited by the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools, the College offers 30 majors in eight divisions: Teacher Education, Fine and Applied Arts, Communication and Literature, Natural Science, Religious Studies, Social Science, Health and Physical Education, and Business and Economics. The College in 1990 began a graduate degree program in clinical psychology and three master's degree programs are to begin in 1992. College enrollment is a record 1,222. George Fox students come from 21 states and 16 foreign countries. Nearly 40 religious denominations are represented on campus. George Fox is one of 13 members of the national Christian College Consortium.

GFC ATHLETICS

Intercollegiate athletics is an integral part of the overall education program at George Fox. Men's varsity athletic teams represent the College in baseball, basketball, track, cross country, and soccer. Women students compete in volleyball, basketball, track, softball, cross country, and soccer.

George Fox is a member of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA), District 2, Division II.

For students not participating in the varsity program, GFC has a complete intramural program including flag football, basketball, volleyball, softball, racquetball, indoor soccer, and tennis.

Athletic facilities include the Coleman H. Wheeler Center for Sports and Physical Education; Colcord Field, which includes an all-weather rubberized track, tennis courts; and the Curtis and Margaret Morse Athletic Field containing baseball diamond, softball field, and soccer field. The complex was opened in 1989.

Wheeler Center, completed in 1977 in a $2.7 million project, includes the James and Lila Miller Gymnasium with three basketball courts and seating for up to 2,500; multipurpose, class, and weight room; faculty and administrative offices; handball courts; dressing and therapy rooms.

THIS IS WHERE THE GAME IS PLAYED

George Fox College is in its fifteenth year in the Coleman H. Wheeler Center for Sports and Physical Education. Completed in June 1977, the $2.7 million, 55,000-square-foot complex is the College's largest building. It contains the James and Lila Miller Gymnasium, the Bruin home court.

The sports center was designed by noted architect Pietro Bel-luschi, with a wooded canyon setting chosen as the center's location. The building features wood products and a large win-dow area overlooking the adjacent natural terrain.

Three times larger than Hester Gymnasium, which it replaced, the Wheeler Center features a 116 x 174-foot gym-nasium with three basketball courts and seating for 2,500 spec-tators. The gymnasium ceilings are 32 feet over the hardwood maple floor. The gym provides three volleyball courts and ten badminton courts.

The building is entered on two levels—ground level on the east side through the nine doors for the general public and after crossing a 200-foot bridge; and on the second floor on the west side for campus personnel. There is a two-floor lobby.

Contained on the upper level are athletic administration and faculty offices, staff room, classroom, weight room, and multi-purpose room. The lower level contains a concession area and ticket sales area, dressing rooms, team rooms, laundry, equipment-issuing room, and storage space. An east wing of the building houses two handball courts.

The building is named for long-time Oregon lumberman Cole-man H. Wheeler, former chairman of the board of Willamette Industries. The gymnasium is named for former board member James Miller and his wife, Lila. He is the former president of Cascadia Lumber Co. The building was dedicated in 1977.

A LOOK AT THE PAST

The game of basketball was invented by Dr. James Naismith 100 years ago this year, and it took just seven years for it to be brought to George Fox College (then called Pacific College).

College board member and community leader T. W. Hester and others first saw the game played at the Portland YMCA. They were captivated by the new game and secured a ball, which they brought back to the College. The first exhibition game was played shortly thereafter, in the winter of 1898, and the first site was the third floor of the old Commercial Hotel on North Main Street because the College had no adequate space for the new sport.

The first gymnasium on the campus was the upper part of one wing of an old academy building (Hoover Hall), built in 1885 and torn down in the mid-1950s. A one-room wood gymnasium building was constructed in 1916 and served until 1946, when the College opened Hester Gymnasium, a concrete block struc-ture built partly by student/faculty labor at a cost of $40,000. The building, with a single hemlock playing floor and seating for 1,100, served through the 1976-77 season with opening of Wheeler Center.

College athletic affiliation in men's basketball over those years has gone from independent status to membership in the old Willamette Christian College Conference, the Metropolitan Conference, the Oregon Collegiate Conference, and back again to the present status as a major small college independent member of NAIA District 2 (joined in 1965). In 1973 George Fox was the district champion for the first time and has been in the district playoffs 17 of the last 21 years, including the last 8 in a row, winning the championship in 1990.

BRUINS PARTICIPATE IN NAIA

The National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) is a completely autonomous association administering programs leading to 23 national championships in 13 events. The NAIA includes 40 percent of America's collegiate athletic programs, representing 480 accredited four-year colleges and universities in 32 geographical districts spread over 49 states and Canada. The colleges have a total enrollment of more than one million, including approximately 80,000 varsity athletes.

Established in 1940 as the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball, the NAIB evolved from the institution of a "National Small College Basketball Tournament" that was inaugurated in 1937. In 1952, the NAIB was renamed the NAIA.

NAIA national headquarters and staff are located in Kansas City, Missouri. The NAIA is governed by two bodies. The Council of Presidents, composed of one president from each district, is responsible for fiscal matters and supervision of the national staff. George Fox College president Edward F. Stevens represents NAIA District 2 and is one of five U.S. college presidents selected to serve on the NAIA Council of Presidents Executive Committee, serving as chairman in 1992. The national Coordinating Council, elected by the membership, is responsible for organizing championship events, academic standards, and overseeing the committees and associations.

The NAIA clearly outlines its own responsibilities and those of its members: a sound athletic program, administered and controlled by those responsible for the administration of the college or university. The NAIA's basic premise is that the athletic program is a basic component of the overall general educational process, and not an entity apart.

George Fox College athletic teams compete in District 2 of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA), Division II. Fifteen teams make up the district, all but two within Oregon.

The district has two competition/scheduling pools. The independent members are Albertson College of Idaho, Concordia College, Columbia Christian College, Eastern Oregon State College, George Fox College, Northwest Nazarene College, Oregon Institute of Technology, Southern Oregon State College, Warner Pacific College, Western Baptist College, and Western Oregon State College. Members of the Northwest Conference of Independent Colleges (NCIC) are Lewis & Clark College, Linfield College, Pacific University, and Willamette University. Three institutions in Washington—Pacific Lutheran University, Whitman College, and Whitworth College—are members of the conference, but members of NAIA District I. They are assigned by the NAIA national office to District 2 for national playoff competition.

The top five independent teams and the top three NCIC teams will qualify for the district tournament, which will be held February 27, 29, and March 4 at the site of the highest seeded teams.

TONIGHT'S GAME

Tonight George Fox College, for the ninth consecutive year, begins NAIA District 2 playoff competition. The district champion two years ago and last year's runner-up, George Fox hosts Western Oregon State in one of four first-round playoff pairings.

The Bruins, rated seventh in the nation in NAIA Division II, bring a 21-9 season record into the game, 15-5 in Independent League play. The Wolves come to Miller Gym with a 22-10 season mark, 13-7 in league action. At home, the Bruins are 10-4 this season, and on the road they have the district's best record at 11-5.

The Wolves claimed the league's fourth berth in a 79-75 double-overtime win Monday night at Western Baptist. George Fox ended its regular season with a 100-76 victory Tuesday night at Warner Pacific in that school's final game—ever.

Tonight's playoff contest is the third time the teams have met this season. On Jan. 21 in Newberg the Bruins prevailed 93-83. In Monmouth on Feb. 15 the Wolves dominated 87-73, giving coach Tom Kelly his first win ever over a GFC team. The loss ended a string of six wins in a row by GFC, which now is 16-12 in competition with WOSC under coach Mark Vernon. But overall in 27 years of NAIA competition Western Oregon has an overwhelming 44-19 series lead.

George Fox and Western have met twice previously in district playoffs. In 1984 the Wolves took an 86-72 first-round win at home and the following year GFC picked up a 71-57 second-round win in Newberg. The Bruins have not lost an opening-round playoff game for seven consecutive years.

In the two meetings this year GFC senior center Dave Wilson scored 28 points each night, grabbing 11 rebounds in the last meeting, 9 in the first, when senior forward, Jeff Hoffman took down 11. Western was led in the first matchup by senior guard Brian Junta with 18 points and sophomore forward Jason Ball with 10 rebounds. In the last pairing junior forward Jeff Clark led the way with 25 points and Ball grabbed a team-high 7 rebounds. Clark is the district's 12th highest scorer at 17.2 a game entering the week. He's in the same position in district rebounding at 7.4 a game.

Tonight's game could be a high-scoring affair. Both teams are leaders in the nation in NAIA Division II scoring—GFC, now at 92.7, 11th in offense (first in District 2), and Western, at 89.8 was 15th in the last national listings. In the scoring margin over opponents Western, at 13.5, is ninth in the nation, GFC, now 12.3, was tenth.

Averaging 22.3 points a game, Wilson has 668 points this season and is 23 points away from breaking GFC's all-time scoring record of 2,187 set by All-American Paul Cozens in the 1974-78 seasons. At that point Wilson would become the fifth all-time district scorer. Wilson, with 289 rebounds this season (9.6 a game), now has 1,066 career rebounds, third highest ever at GFC, ninth highest ever in the district. Wilson will be just the third player in District 2 history to finish in the top 10 in both career scoring and rebounding.

Wilson, the district's all-time shot blocker has 117 this season, believed best in the nation, and now has 575 for his career—4.58 a game.

THE BRUIN NICKNAME

George Fox College is represented by the nickname and mascot "Bruin." But it has not always been so, even though it should have been.

The nickname comes from a real bear captured in 1887 just two years after Pacific Academy (the College's predecessor) was established. The small cub was captured in the coast range foothills west of Carlton when its mother was shot. The young cub was brought to campus by a student and later lived with a faculty member. When it grew to adulthood it was kept in a pit in what is now known as Hess Creek Canyon south of the campus. It escaped one too many times and was turned into steak for the dining table and the hide preserved on a frame and displayed in an early campus museum. When it deteriorated several years later, it was taken to a campus furnace room to be destroyed, but the framework proved a problem in dismantling, so it was left sitting in a corner. Students found the old Bruin skin later and began skirmishes over ownership, a tradition that continues 104 years later. "Bruin Junior," a replica, under a set of guidelines passed down for years, is fought over periodically in class competition, with the class able to physically drag the Bruin replica off campus declared the rightful owner until next "flashed."

Even with the Bruin tradition, somewhere along the line, the "Quaker" tag to athletic teams came into popularity with sports writers because of the College's church affiliation, and that nickname was used, along with a mascot "Foxy George," a little fox with a Quaker hat. Both gained acceptance for a period in the 1950s and 1960s until a vote of faculty, students, and administration in 1970 reinstated the Bruin nickname to its rightful place.
