MARTY HUNTER Head Coach

Marty Hunter, the 2009 Northwest Conference Co-Coach of the Year, has kept alive the tradition of excellence established by George Fox Sports Hall of Fame coaches Pat Casey and Pat Bailey by leading the nationally-recognized Bruins' baseball program to a 133-74 (.643) record in his first five seasons as head coach.

In Hunter's inaugural season in 2008, the Bruins posted a 28-14 record, including a 3-2 road win over NCAA Division I Portland. The Bruins went 24-8 in the Northwest Conference, finishing second by one game to Linfield and earning an at-large bid to the NCAA Division III West Regional in Abilene, Texas.

Hunter's 2009 team went 36-11, the second-most wins in Bruin history. After tying for the conference championship with Pacific Lutheran, both at 27-5, the Bruins defeated PLU in a one-game playoff to earn the NWC's automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament. The playoff win gave the Bruins a 33-9 regular season record, the most wins prior to post-season play in team history. In the West Regional in McMinnville, Ore., the Bruins battled back after an opening-round loss to California Lutheran with wins over No. 1-ranked Pomona-Pitzer, Texas-Tyler, and Chapman, before Chapman eliminated the Bruins in the title game. Hunter was named NWC Co-Coach of the Year along with PLU's Geoff Loomis, a former George Fox assistant coach.

The 2009 squad set a new season record for hits (589) with a .367 batting average, the second-highest in Bruin history and third nationally. George Fox led the nation in sacrifice flies (40) and ranked 5th in fielding (.969), 7th in hits, 8th in slugging (.546), 10th in runs (449), 17th in doubles (112), 18th in scoring (9.6), and 25th in home runs (48).

The 2010 Bruins went 23-16 overall and finished third in the NWC at 16-8. They followed with a 26-13 overall record in 2011, tied for third in the NWC at 14-10, and achieved a .975 fielding percentage to lead the nation in fielding for the third time in school history. Last year's squad struggled to a 0-7 start but rallied to finish 20-20 and tied for fourth in the conference at 15-9. The Bruins were the only conference team to win a season series from league champion and World Series participant Whitworth.

Hunter came to George Fox as an assistant in 2003, with a primary focus on infielders, and was named associate head coach in 2005. Under his tutelage, the Bruin defense ranked in the top six nationally in fielding for five straight seasons (2003-2007), leading the nation in 2003 and 2005 and setting a D-III record in 2005 with a .979 fielding mark.

In the summer of 2007, Hunter was named to replace Bailey, whose 12-year run at George Fox included an NCAA Division III national title in 2004, eight Northwest Conference championships, and a win-loss record of 353-158. Bailey left for an assistant's position at Oregon State University, back-to-back NCAA Division I national champions in 2006-07, where he joined head coach Casey, who had guided the George Fox to a 171-113-1 record in seven seasons from 1988-94.

Prior to joining the Bruins, Hunter led Canby (Ore.) High School to a 132-63 record from 1995-2002. His teams made the state Class 4A playoffs every year and won Pacific-9 Conference titles in 1997, 1998, and 2002. He was the Pac-9 Coach of the Year in '97, '98, '01, and '02. He continued teaching at Canby while working with the Bruins.

Hunter coached Bend (Ore.) High School from 1991-94, going 68-40. Bend won Intermountain Conference titles in 1991 and 1992, and he was named Coach of the Year in the conference both seasons. In 1990, he served as an assistant coach with the Bend Bucks, a team in the professional Class A Northwest League.

A graduate of Gresham (Ore.) High, Hunter received two letters as a football cornerback and three as a second baseman and catcher on the Linfield College baseball team. He earned dual business and health degrees from Linfield in 1984, then worked at Gladstone, Gresham, and West Albany High Schools, all in Oregon, before landing in Bend. He completed a master of education degree from Linfield in 1991.

Hunter also serves as an instructor in the George Fox department of health and human performance. He and his wife of 27 years, Kim, have two sons: Taylor, 23, a two-time All-NWC shortstop for the Bruins who will serve as an assistant coach this year, and Tucker, 20, who attends Oklahoma State. The Hunters reside in Canby.
