TONIGHT'S GAME

George Fox tonight takes another shot at an NAIA Division I team from Washington.

Four days after a big, physical University of Puget Sound team dismantled the Bruins 101-81, Seattle University comes to Newberg.

Seattle went into last night's game at Linfield College with a season record of 1-7 against Canadian, NAIA and NCAA Division I opponents. The Chieftains lone win was an 84-79 victory at home over Linfield.

Seven lettermen and three starters return from a Seattle team that compiled a 10-20 record in 1994-95. Justin White (15.4 ppg, 5.4 rpg), Kenny Bush (15.3 ppg, 3.0 rpg) and Josh McMillion (10.0 ppg, 6.3 rpg) have been the Chieftain leaders so far this season.

George Fox and Seattle University are not traditional rivals. Tonight's meeting is just the third between the two since 1965. The Bruins won the first two contests, the most recent in 1982.

The Bruins (2-2) are looking to get back on track after Puget Sound put on a shooting clinic Tuesday. UPS was more accurate from outside the 3-point line than inside, hitting 11-of-17 treys. When there was a missed shot, the Loggers outrebounded George Fox 48-22.

For the fourth time in four games, Jared Gallop led GFC in scoring with 17 points. Travis Orick dished out six assists and totalled 15 points with five 3-pointers. Nick Haij added 13 points and Grant Hartenstein had 11.

Join Us Again

George Fox's next action will come at 7:30 p.m. next Saturday (Dec. 16) at Western Baptist College in Salem. The Bruins defeated the Warriors 87-80 in GFC's home opener. GFC's next home game is during Christmas break when Pacific University visits Dec. 19 at 7:30 p.m. for a non-conference contest.

ABOUT GEORGE FOX COLLEGE/GFC ATHLETICS

George Fox College, in its 105th year, is one of "America's Best Colleges." Seven times it has been given that designation by U.S. News & World Report magazine. In 1995 GFC was ranked second in academic reputation among Western Regional Liberal Arts Colleges, including colleges and universities from Texas to Hawaii. The magazine also named George Fox to its list of "Top Teaching Schools," second among liberal arts colleges in the Western region.

George Fox, Oregon's oldest and largest Christian college, is one of the nation's fastest-growing colleges. Enrollment more than tripled from 549 in 1986 to 1,717 in the fall of 1995.

The College offers unique programs to its students. Every incoming freshman is given a Macintosh computer to use and keep upon graduation. When students reach their third year at GFC, they are eligible for the Juniors Abroad program, where the College pays transportation costs for a three-week overseas study tour.

GFC students come from 32 states, one U.S. territory and nine nations. More than 40 religious denominations are represented on campus.

George Fox was first founded in 1885 as Pacific Academy by Willamette Valley Quaker settlers. The college division was organized in 1891. In 1949, the name was changed to George Fox College to honor the founder of the Friends (Quaker) Church. Following a merger — to be completed no later than 1997 — with Western Evangelical Seminary (a graduate school of 350 students in Tigard) the name will again change — to George Fox University.

The 74-acre rural, tree-shaded campus a half-hour drive from Portland has undergone major expansion in recent years with 12 new buildings constructed. Part of a $16 million Centennial Campaign, the $5.3 million Edwards-Holman Science Center opened in the fall of 1994.

Alumni of George Fox are primarily in service-oriented vocations of Christian ministries, education, social work, and medical fields. The College's most prominent alumnus is the late President Herbert Hoover, who attended Pacific Academy.

George Fox Athletics

George Fox maintains one of the Northwest's most successful small-college athletic programs.

The teams win. George Fox has earned district or conference titles in eight sports during the 1990s. George Fox's highest national team finish came in the fall of 1992, when the women's cross country team finished as national runner-up.

The athletes are successful. Since 1989, George Fox athletes have earned 69 NAIA All-American awards and 34 NAIA All-American Scholar-Athlete honors.

The coaches are award winners as well. Every returning head coach has been named district or conference Coach of the Year at least once.

Intercollegiate athletics is an integral part of the overall education program at George Fox. About 15 percent of the student body participates in varsity athletics. Men's varsity teams are sponsored in soccer, cross country, basketball, baseball, track and tennis. Women's teams are fielded in volleyball, cross country, soccer, basketball, softball, track and tennis.

WOMEN'S COACHES

After two years as George Fox head coach, Sherri Murrell has two Cascade Conference Coach of the Year awards hanging on her office wall.

The 28-year-old Murrell guided the Lady Bruins to the NAIA playoffs both years and last season to the Cascade Conference championship game.

Murrell, who spent one year as a George Fox assistant coach, has six years of NCAA Division I experience as player and coach. She played two years at the University of Southwestern Louisiana before transferring to Pepperdine University. There she started two seasons as a point guard and was honored as a West Coast Conference all-star, averaging 14 points a game as a senior.

Murrell planned to play professional basketball in Germany after graduation, but suffered a serious knee injury three weeks before departure.

In 1994 she played at the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) National Tournament with the Portland Saints, finishing third.

A 1985 graduate of St. Mary's Academy in Portland, Murrell played on the 1984-85 Oregon state championship team.

Murrell received a bachelor of arts degree in public relations from Pepperdine in 1991 and served one season as assistant basketball coach. She then moved to Brigham Young University for the 1991-92 season, travelling nationwide as a recruiter.

At George Fox, Murrell also is graduate admissions coordinator in the college's graduate admissions office.

Torrae Harry joins the George Fox College women's basketball team this year as an assistant coach.

A Nike team sales representative for the Pacific Northwest, he has women's basketball coaching experience in the McDonald's Far West Summer Basketball League.

Harry played basketball at Benson High School, Portland, and continued his playing career in the Portland pro-am basketball league.

He earned a bachelor of science degree in education from the cooperative program at Oregon State University and Western Oregon State College.

He competed in football and track at Oregon State and was a track athlete at Western Oregon.

Harry resides in Portland.

AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

Entered by crossing a wooded canyon on a 200-foot bridge, the Wheeler Sports Center is a natural place to play basketball.

The sports center was designed by noted architect Pietro Belluschi to sit unpretentiously alongside Hess Creek Canyon. Built using gifts from prominent lumbermen, the building features a two-level oak parquet lobby and a large window area overlooking the adjacent natural terrain.

Completed in June 1977, the $2.7 million, 55,000-square-foot complex is the College's largest building. It contains the James and Lila Miller Gymnasium.

The Wheeler Center features a 116-by-174-foot gymnasium with three basketball courts and seating for 2,000 spectators. The gymnasium ceilings are 32 feet over the hardwood maple floor.

The building is named for longtime Oregon lumberman Coleman H. Wheeler, former chairman of the board of Willamette Industries. The gymnasium is named for former board member James Miller and his wife, Lila. He is the former president of Cascadia Lumber Co.

George Fox College is represented by the nickname and mascot "Bruin." But it has not always been so, even though it should have been.

The nickname comes from a real bear captured in 1887 just two years after Pacific Academy (the College's predecessor) was established. The small cub was captured in the coast range foothills west of Carlton when its mother was shot. The young cub was brought to campus by a student and later lived with a faculty member. When it grew to adulthood it was kept in a pit in what is now known as Hess Creek Canyon south of the campus. It escaped one too many times and was turned into steak for the dining table and the hide preserved on a frame and displayed in an early campus museum.

When the hide deteriorated several years later, it was taken to a campus furnace room to be destroyed, but the framework proved a problem in dismantling, so it was left sitting in a corner. Students found the old Bruin skin later and began skirmishes over ownership, a tradition that continues today.

"Bruin Junior," a replica, under a set of guidelines passed down for years, is fought over periodically in class competition, with the class able to physically drag the Bruin replica off campus declared the rightful owner until next "flashed."

Even with the Bruin tradition, somewhere along the line, the "Quaker" tag for athletic teams came into popularity with sports writers because of the College's church affiliation, and that nickname was used, along with a mascot "Foxy George," a little fox with a Quaker hat. Both gained acceptance for a period in the 1950s and 1960s until a vote of faculty, students and administration in 1970 reinstated the Bruin nickname to its rightful place.

ATHLETIC AFFILIATION

It's a year of transition for George Fox athletics. The College is in its first season in the Northwest Conference of Independent Colleges (NCIC).

The NCIC is leaving the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) for the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) Division III. Currently a provisional member of the NCAA, George Fox will be eligible for national championship play in 1998-99. Until then, George Fox will continue to compete nationally in the NAIA.

GFC's men's and women's basketball teams play in NAIA Division II, while the College's other 11 sports are not divided into divisions.

The NCIC playoff plans are identical for men and women. Four teams will participate in the conference semifinals played Feb. 21. Winner of the Feb. 24 championship game will advance to the 32-team national tournament March 6-12.

There are 174 teams in 18 conferences competing to reach the women's tournament at Tri-State University in Angola, Indiana. On the men's side, 169 teams from 17 conferences are aiming for the national tournament hosted by Northwest Nazarene College in Nampa, Idaho. National tournament berths not going to the conference champions will go to the host institution and at-large teams.

MEN'S COACHES

Mark Vernon not only is the winningest men's basketball coach in George Fox history, but he also ranks among the winningest coaches in NAIA Division II.

In 1992, after George Fox returned from its second trip to an NAIA national tournament in three years, his career winning percentage ranked fifth among active Division II coaches. That year, the Bruins ranked No. 2 in the nation.

He's one of the nation's youngest coaches to surpass the 250-career-win milestone, eclipsing it at the age of 40. His 13-year record is 263-151.

His teams have averaged more than 20 wins a season and produced four NAIA All-Americans and one academic All-American.

His efforts have not gone unnoticed. In 1985, he was the youngest coach in NAIA District 2 when he was named men's basketball district Coach of the Year for the first time. In 1987 and 1991 he received the same honor. He was named National Christian College Athletic Association National Coach of the Year in 1987.

Vernon, 42, has his entire collegiate coaching career at George Fox, but the tie with the Bruins is longer. He came in 1975 as a student and basketball player.

As a GFC guard, he established what was then the Bruins' highest career assist average (3.9). He was named Most Inspirational Player by his teammates his senior year, a year the Bruins were 20-9. In his two years in a GFC uniform, the Bruins were 39-17.

A 1977 graduate, Vernon was named GFC's Outstanding Physical Education Major and Outstanding Young Person in Teacher Education. He remained with GFC basketball as an assistant for three years (1977-78, '79-80 and '81-82) while working toward a master's degree in physical education at Linfield College, which he received in 1982.

Vernon and his wife, Denise, have three sons: Brett, 4; Brady, 2; and Barry, born Aug. 4, 1995.

Bart Valentine gave up his head boys basketball coaching job at West Linn (Ore.) High School to become GFC's assistant men's basketball coach.

At West Linn, he ran one of the state's most successful programs. The Lions had reached the state playoffs seven consecutive seasons. Just three other Oregon class 4A schools boast longer streaks. Four of the last six years, the Lions reached the state tournament final 16. His eight-year record at West Linn is 120-66.

Valentine graduated from Warner Pacific College in 1975 with a bachelor's degree in biology and earned a master's degree in biology from Lewis & Clark College in 1980. He continues to teach at West Linn High.

Valentine and his wife, Becky, live in West Linn and have three children: GFC guard Kyle, 19; Jared, 16; and Krista, 12.
