SCOTT RUECK Head Coach

In 10 years, Scott Rueck has established the George Fox University women's basketball program as one of the finest in the nation at the small-college level. In that time, he has guided the Bruins to a 184-73 record for a winning percentage of .716, five post-season playoff appearances, and regular recognition in national top 25 polls.

An 11-0 start to the 2005-06 season, tying GFU records for consecutive wins and most wins to start a season, elevated the Bruins, a pre-season top 10 pick, as high as #2 in the WBCA national poll, before untimely injuries resulted in a second-half slump. Nevertheless, their 19-6 overall record was the Bruins' 13th straight winning season, 10 under Rueck.

In 2004-05, the Bruins went further in the NCAA National Tournament than any previous women's hoops team. After winning the NWC crown with a 14-2 league mark and an automatic bid to the tournament, the Bruins defeated Chapman and St. Benedict to reach the NCAA "Elite Eight". The season ended with a loss to eventual national runner-up Randolph-Macon on the Yellow Jackets' home court. GFU finished with a 22-6 overall mark and was nationally ranked in the final polls of the WBCA (#10) and D3hoops.com (#12). For those achievements, Rueck was named NWC Coach of the Year, the third time he has been so honored.

Rueck's first conference coaching honor came in 1999-2000 when he led the Bruins to a 23-5 record, an NWC co-championship (the team's first), two NCAA playoff wins, and a #19 national ranking. In 2000-01, he was named NWC Co-Coach of the Year as the Bruins went 15-1 in the conference to win their first outright league title and 23-3 overall, tying the single-season high in wins and establishing a record winning percentage (.885). With a 20-1 record at one point, the Bruins were voted the #1 team in the nation, a spot they held for two weeks. The season ended with a second-round setback in the NCAA Tournament, and the Bruins were voted #11 in the final D3hoops.com poll.

As a member of the WBCA, Rueck served as the West Region rater for the coaches' poll for two seasons. In addition to his coaching duties, he teaches courses in the department of health and human performance at George Fox, and is in his 13th year as director of Victory Hoop Camp for Portland youth.

Rueck, 37, has 17 years of coaching experience. While still a student at Oregon State University, he began his coaching career as an assistant boys' basketball coach at Santiam Christian High School in Corvallis, working there from 1989-93. From 1993-95, he served as a women's basketball assistant under George Fox head coach Sherri Murrell. In 1995-96, he coached the Bruin women's tennis team. During his tenure as head coach, the Bruins have earned four NAIA All-America, two NCAA All-America, and 23 All-Northwest Conference awards.

A graduate of Glencoe High School in Hillsboro, Ore., Rueck earned his bachelor's degree in exercise and sports science in 1991 and a master of arts degree in physical education teaching in 1992, both from Oregon State. He and his wife, the former Kerry Aillaud, who played basketball for George Fox from 1993-95 and served as the Bruins' assistant coach from 1998-2006, reside in Newberg. The Ruecks have one son, Cole Michael, age, 3, and a new daughter, Kate Makenna, born Oct. 17.

MARK SUNDQUIST Head Coach

After four years of cultivating a revival of George Fox men's basketball, the results of Mark Sundquist's hard work and patience came to full fruition over the past two seasons as the Bruins have gone 34-16 in that span. Now in his seventh year at GFU, Sundquist aims to keep the Bruins, no longer a "surprise" team in the Northwest Conference, in the league's upper echelon.

The 2004-05 season was the Bruins' best in 14 years as they posted an 18-7 record, their first winning season in six years, won the most games since the 1991-92 team went 24-11, and posted the best winning percentage (.720) since an .800 mark (24-6) in 1990-91. Their 13-3 record in NWCplay was good for a second-place finish, the highest the Bruins have placed since joining the NWC in 1995, equaled their record for conference wins, and posted their best conference winning percentage ever (.813). The Bruins' new-found success paid off in the stands as well as George Fox led the league in attendance, averaging 1,145 per home game, and set a single-game crowd record with 2,400 for a Homecoming win over Whitworth on Feb. 5. Sundquist was named NWC Coach of the Year for the Bruins' incredible turnaround.

The success continued in 2005-06 as the Bruins compiled a 16-9 record and finished fourth in the conference with a 9-7 league mark. Led by Second Team All-West Region guard Aaron Schmick, George Fox ranked third nationally in free throw percentage (.782), 15th in three-point field goal percentage (.407), 37th in scoring (81.1 ppg), 38th in field goal percentage (.484), and 75th in assists per game (15.76). They were the NWC leaders in three-point and free throw shooting, and in blocked shots per game (3.24).

Sundquist was named to the George Fox post on August 1, 2001, after a national search that ended ironically in the Bruins' backyard! During the 1999-2000 season, he had served as the boys' basketball coach at Newberg High School, only eight blocks from George Fox. Prior to that, he had spent two seasons as the boys' basketball coach at Woodburn (Ore.) High School.

Sundquist grew up in Hillsboro, Ore., and went to Glencoe High School. He attended Seattle Pacific University, earning four letters from 1984-88 as a shooting guard for three seasons alongside point guard Ritchie McKay, ex-Oregon State coach and now the head coach at New Mexico. He led SPU in free throw percentage as a junior (.818) and a senior (.817), with his career mark of .819 ranking 7th all-time. He was team captain and MVP as a senior, averaging 14.1 points a game while shooting a team-best .514 from the field and .482 from three-point range, then a school record. In an 83-78 overtime loss at Division I Stanford, he scored a career-high 33 points while setting new records, since broken, for three-pointers made (7) and attempted (12) in a game. He was named All-Great Northwest Conference and All-NCAA Division II District VIII as a senior.

Sundquist graduated in 1989 with a bachelor's degree in social sciences/secondary education. During his last year at SPU, he served as assistant women's basketball coach. After three years coaching in the junior high ranks, he spent the 1992-97 seasons as an assistant for the boys' basketball program at Glencoe before taking the Woodburn job. He is married to the former Sara Thompson of Bellevue, Wash., and they have one son, Jake, age 9 1/2, and a daughter, Kaitlyn, age 6. The Sundquists attend Countryside Community Church in Sherwood.

BIGGS' 1,000th: Mike Wirta, George Fox's super-statistician, watched his 1,000th Bruin men's basketball game on the final day of the 2005-06 season, vs. Willamette on Feb. 18 in Newberg. "Biggs", as he is best known to his friends, graduated from George Fox in 1974 and has been keeping statistics for Bruin teams ever since. Entering the 2006-07 season, he has attended and kept statistics at 1,000 GFU men's basketball games (49.3% of all 2,028 games ever played in the program's 102 seasons of competition). He has seen 588 straight games, home and road, and has worked 428 in a row at home, not missing a home game since 1972 when he was in military service. A member of the GFU Sports Hall of Fame (Class of 1998 for Meritorious Service), he also serves on the Hall of Fame Committee as its resident historian, calls statistics for most women's basketball games, and keeps the Bruins' baseball scorebook. He was named the George Fox Volunteer of the Year in 1988, and was inducted into the NAIA District 2 Hall of Fame in 1994.
