GOD'S ANSWER TO MAN'S NEED

WILLIAM PENN SPEAKS

TO MINISTERS OF CHRIST

From William Penn's Preface to the Journal of George Fox
Selected by ARTHUR O. ROBERTS

AND . . . as to you, my beloved and much honoured brethren in Christ that are in the exercise of the ministry; O feel life in the ministry! Let life be your commission, your well-spring and treasury in all such occasions; else you well know there can be no begetting to God, since nothing can quicken or make people alive to God, but the life of God; and it must be a ministry in and from life that enlivens any people to God . . . A dry doctrinal ministry, however sound in words, can reach but the ear, and is but a dream at the best; there is another soundness, that is soundest of all, that is, Christ the power of God. This is the key of David, that opens, and none shuts; and shuts, and none can open; as the oil to the lamp and the soul to the body, so is that to the best of words.

Ever wait reverently for the coming and opening of the word of life, and attend upon it in your ministry and service, that you may serve God in his Spirit. And be it little, or be it much, it is well; for much is not too much, and the least is enough, if from the motion of God's spirit.

For it is the Spirit of the Lord immediately or through the ministry of his servants, that teacheth his people to profit; and to be sure, so far as we take him along with us in our services, so far are we profitable, and no farther. For if it be the Lord that must work all things in us, and for ourselves, much more is it the Lord that must work in us for conversion of others . . .

Nor is it enough that we have known the divine gift, and in it have reached to the spirits in prison, and been the instruments of the convincing of others of the way of God, if we keep not as low and poor in ourselves, and as depending upon the Lord as ever; since no memory, no repetitions of former openings, revelations, or enjoyments will bring a soul to God, or afford bread to the hungry, or water to the thirsty, unless life go with what we say, and that must be waited for.

O . . . that none may presume at any rate to act of themselves for God; because they have long acted from God . . .

And, brethren, as to you is committed the dispensation of the oracles of God . . . I beseech you that you would not think it sufficient to declare the word of life . . . However edifying and comfortable such opportunities may be to you and them; but . . . inquire the state of the several churches you visit, who among them are afflicted or sick, who are tempted, if any are unfaithful or obstinate, and endeavor to issue those things in the wisdom and power of God, which will be a glorious crown upon your ministry. As that prepares your way in the hearts of the people to receive you as men of God, so it gives you credit with them to do them good by your advice in other respects. The afflicted will be comforted by you, the tempted strengthened, the sick refreshed, the unfaithful convicted and restored, and such as are obstinate softened and fitted for reconciliation . . .

Thus ye will show yourselves workmen indeed, and carry your business before you to the praise of his name that hath called you from darkness to light, that you might turn others from Satan's power unto God and his kingdom which is within. And oh! that there were more of such faithful labourers in the vineyard of the Lord! never more need since the day of God!

A COMMITTEE VISITS

The Inland Empire

By Dean Gregory

GRAY streaks of early dawn awakened us on Monday morning and seemed to say that if we wanted breakfast at 80-miles-distant Lewiston, Idaho, we had better be on our way.

It was September 22, the day that we had arranged for a birds-eye survey of a small portion of the half million acre Columbia River basin irrigation project. I had preached at both services the preceding day at Woodland, Idaho, and the pastor, Hal May, and I were to meet Oscar Brown and Clare Willcuts, representatives of the Board of Evangelism, in Pasco, Washington, before noon that day.

After unwinding ourselves down the 15-mile descent from Woodland to the beautiful floor of the Clearwater river valley we made our way to Pasco, which marks the lower or southern extremity of the new land development.

Lewis and Clark surely never dreamed that the great arid desert of central Washington, cradling itself in the crescent of the upper Columbia river, a land 60 miles wide and 80 miles long, containing over a million irrigable acres, would ever become a fertile, productive farming center. The present development program is the irrigation of 500,000 acres. The population of this development area is 30,000. At the end of the ten-year project there will be another 60,000 more, making a total expected population of 90,000. There will be 7000 farms, with an average acreage of 71.1 acres each.

Here and there you may see on the unirrigated land the sad history of unsuccessful early pioneers who failed because of lack of water. The average rainfall is about 8 inches per year. There are about 300 days of sunshine each year. Water has made the difference. Now every trading center is humming with activity. Beautiful modern schools are going up. The cities are looking ahead, planning how to care for the increased population.

The first contact we made was with the Pasco Chamber of Commerce, where we loaded ourselves with maps, folders, and various informative bulletins on this infant country. Our chief point of contact was the Bureau of Reclamation in Euphrata. Fortunately, we found the man who could give us the information we desired. He very gladly answered our questions and gave us more maps and literature on the Empire.

Our final destination was Quincy, Washington, which is a small town of 1332 population, lying at the Northwest edge of the project. As yet, this sleeping desert village, 50 years of age has not been fully awakened. Next year will complete the water schedule for its surrounding land, and by 1960 it should be fully awake and going places with a town and country population of 8,000 to 10,000 people. They expect one and one-half as many people in the town as on the farms.

Our survey has revealed that there are now only five churches in Quincy. They are: Presbyterian, Evangelical and Reformed, Assembly of God, Independent Baptist, and Lutheran.

Thus far this report may sound like Chamber of Commerce propaganda. Instead, it comes as a vital religious concern. Without question this is the most challenging home mission field we know anything about. This is new territory where we must take the gospel that saves men from sin.

The survey group felt that Quincy is our logical starting point. No doubt there are yet young Friends families with red blood of the pioneer who are looking toward this new country. We sincerely hope that these families will not scatter themselves and be lost to the church. We pray that here and there will be created centers of religious life, out of which can come strong Friends churches.

The Board of Evangelism, or the superintendent, will gladly welcome suggestions, questions or discussions on this proposed area for evangelization.

Our BOLIVIAN

Pastors and Evangelists

By Ralph E. Chapman

(This is the sixth of the series of articles placing special emphasis upon a particular phase of the mission work in Bolivia.)

THROUGH an analysis of our pastor and evangelist material, we find that two outstanding yet conflicting statements can be made. In the first place, we must give credit where credit is due, and acknowledge that the growth of our work can be accredited to the faithfulness of our national pastor and evangelism. We are saddened by the failures of many whom we felt would develop into good leaders, but for the most part our workers manifest a sincere desire to do what the Lord requires of them. On the other hand, we can balance the above statements with the realization that we have a crying need for trained workers out over our field who are more capable of pastoring their flocks. We cannot deny that the Lord has used, and no doubt will continue to use, many of our uneducated national brethren in reaching the lost with the gospel message. However, as we see the continued development of the National Church, we realize more and more the need of a native ministry which can nourish the church and give spiritual food which will challenge the believers. This naturally includes the necessary prerequisite of a consecration which will cause our workers to realize that they are not working for the mission, the missionary, or for mercenary reasons; and woe be unto him if he preach not the gospel if the Lord has called him to preach.

Our pastors, evangelists, and workers are named each year at Yearly Meeting in La Paz, and assigned to their respective places of service for the year that follows. Inasmuch as is possible, the Friends system of the church calling its pastor is being observed. Up to the present time, the La Paz church has exercised this right much more than any of the country churches. When the appointments are made at Yearly Meeting time, three main classifications of workers are observed: First, those who give full time to the ministry and do not have any other outside income of a significant nature, are named as pastors. Second, those who do secular work and have Sunday responsibilities in the church, or those that give part time and have charge over some specified preaching point, are named as workers. Third, all the Bible School students, or any of the brethren in the churches who are in any way occupied with duties of visitation, etc., in the church, may receive a certificate which may be presented to the authorities if such be necessary. Those of the two former groups also receive their certificates with due recognition of their particular status. Those who are occupied in evangelistic work come to the pastor group. Martin Perez is the only full-time evangelist on the field at the present time.

That is, he is the only worker who doesn't have any specific charge to attend to, but occupies his time in general field visitation. There are others over the field who do visitation and make periodic trips for evangelization, but do not give full time to this phase of the work.

The following is a list of the various pastors over the field:

La Paz, central church on Max Paredes: Mariano Baptista, pastor; Fermin Chipana, assistant.
La Paz, San Antonio outpost: Santiago Ilaluqui, worker.

La Paz, Tembladerani outpost: Luis Condori, worker.

Amacari: Brethren of the church named for one month periods.

Ojje: Brethren of the church named for one month periods.

Isla Anapia: Gergorio Yujra, worker from Amacari.

Calata: Manuel Poma, worker from Amacari.
Pucarani: Martin Garnica, pastor.

Puerto Perez: Martin Garnica, pastor.
Chiripaca: Baltazar Yujra, pastor.

Chunavi: Benjamin Condori, pastor.
Chunavi-Japura: Simon Flores, worker.

Batallas: Casimiro Cuaquero, pastor.
Algachi: Pablo Mendoza, pastor; Anacleto

Lopez worker.
Achachikala: Brethren of the church named for one month periods.

Mina Fabulosa: Rosendo Guachalla, pastor.
Uma Palca and valley: Pascual Poma, pastor,

(beginning in October.)
Chacalpaya and Lip'ichi: Manuel Nina.

Palca: Mariano Acero, pastor.
Laja: Feliciano Sirpa, pastor.

Mina Milluni: Gregorio Mendoza, pastor.

The evangelistic part of our work is now entirely under the National Church organization, and this places all the above mentioned workers and pastors under the leadership of the Mesa Directiva. Our main contact with the pastors is during the various field conferences, in the annual classes held for the pastors, and in our field visitation. Much of their help must come from the conferences and the monthly field publication, "Your Friend," which is put out with the intention of placing lesson helps and doctrinal instruction in their hands. Outside of this, the pastors must rely upon their own study to secure their lesson material. Since their resources as well as their capabilities are so limited, we have a great obligation in holding them up before the Lord in prayer that they may be led and taught of the Spirit.

MAKE CHRIST KNOWN

ARE TITHERS DYING OFF?

By Jack L. Willcuts
New Chairman of the Stewardship Department of Board of Public Relations

OUT OF the thrilling victory notes of Oregon Yearly Meeting heard at Greenleaf came one funeral report. Nobody knows how many Oregon Yearly Meeting tithers are still alive! This situation becomes so mournful that we came within one-tenth of throwing the stewardship department, as such, entirely out of the Public Relations Board. A final action, however, decided against burial, because the corpse was warm—and a desperate attempt at resuscitation of this vital emphasis in our church is urged and needed.

It is felt by those in a position to know, that really, Quaker tithers are not dying, but are on the increase. The doctrine is not weak, nor are the challenges and opportunities anemic. Rather, a united, specific program of promotion and statistics is needed to assure normal circulation in the spiritual, as well as in the financial, health of our Yearly Meeting.

In counting the Quaker pulse one finds the giving-churches are the growing-churches. Tithing Friends are healthy Christians. And tithing trouble is heart trouble! Outreach in any area of our extension, development and maintenance, suffers with a weak stewardship emphasis. The arms of the church are governed by the heart of the church. And to accurately check this strategic organ one must thrust the spiritual thermometer into the pocketbooks of Northwest Quakers.

A PERSONAL PROGRAM

Tithing is, primarily, a personal matter. The emphasis this year is not made on a Monthly Meeting or Quarterly Meeting basis, but to the individual members of Oregon Yearly Meeting (through mailing lists of the Northwest Friend). Your personal response to information, propaganda and questionnaires found in your mailbox will govern the success of the stewardship department.

A PROMOTIONAL PROGRAM

1. "A 15-WEEK ADVENTURE" will be launched January 1, 1953. Every member paying his regular tithe into the Yearly Meeting, from New Years to Easter, would be the greatest news of our 60-year history.

2. Stewardship features in tracts, posters, films, "Your Friend" bulletins, and a monthly column in the Northwest Friend, are available for local use.

3. Family daily devotional book, "I Have a Stewardship," by Ralph S. Cushman, will parallel our emphasis on the family altar of the Christian Education Board for this year.

4. A weekly coupon book to make our tithe payments at least on an equal financial level of our grocery, fuel and insurance obligations.

A PRACTICAL PROGRAM

Few Friends question that tithing is scriptural. If so, it becomes the norm for practical Christian living to be enjoyed or rejected.

Few Friends question that Oregon Yearly Meeting needs the tithe of every member to successfully maintain our vigorous evangelistic, missionary, and educational program. The stewardship department emphasis parallels the beliefs stated in our Discipline, and the Yearly Meeting policy, that our tithe should be paid into the church (either locally or to Yearly Meeting work of some nature) and that we make our giving a matter of prayer too. Practical stewardship consecration makes tithing our first financial obligation.

Let "stewardship" become the rebirth of dynamic progress—not the object of sympathy and sacrifice!

THE TITHER'S SIX SURPRISES

First: At the deepening of his spiritual life in paying the tithe.

Second: At the ease in meeting his obligations with nine-tenths.

Third: At the amount of money that he has for the Lord's work.

Fourth: At the ease in going from one-tenth to larger giving.

Fifth: At the preparation that tithing gives to be a faithful and wise steward over the nine-tenths that remain.

Sixth: At himself, in that he had not adopted the plan sooner.

WOMAN

The best example of self-denying liberality in the Bible is recorded of a woman. The best example of loving service in the Bible is recorded of a woman. The best example of conquering prayer in the Bible is recorded of a woman. It was no great gift, no great service, no great prayer. The gift was a widow's mite. The service was the anointing of Jesus with a box of ointment. The prayer was a mother's prayer for a daughter possessed with a devil. But the gift and service and prayer were in self-denial and love and faith. And so in the sight of God they were of great service.

—Herrick Johnson

The Superintendent's CORNER

Since last reporting in this column, a full summer has gone by, and we are gearing ourselves to the fall and winter programs.

Probably it would be neither worthwhile nor interesting for me to give you a complete account of my journeyings and doings, but I will summarize briefly.

July and August were taken up with four conferences and Yearly Meeting, besides other appointments at local meetings. It was a real delight to attend these gatherings, and the Holy Spirit used them all in a wonderful way.

The past month I have participated in services at Parkrose, Marion, Springbrook, Holly Park, Eugene and Woodland. I visited a part of the Inland Empire of Washington on a brief survey trip, of which you will read elsewhere in this issue of the Northwest Friend.

On September 21 I visited Woodland, Idaho, and in the morning service received, on behalf of the Yearly Meeting the deed to the church and parsonage property, which had been heretofore on a lease basis. The presentation was made by Lydia George, on behalf of her family, to the trustees of the Woodland meeting. The trustees then presented the deed to the Yearly Meeting. This generous kindness on the part of the George family is deeply appreciated.

I am glad to announce a new pastor to the Yearly Meeting. Holly Park recently issued a call to Howard Harmon Jr. He has accepted the call and has moved with his wife Bethlin and their young daughter, into the parsonage.

The fall and winter months are usually revival time in many of our churches. I pray that none of our meetings will think of revival only in terms of meetings. Revival comes only in answer to prevailing prayer. It costs something to really pray, but it is well worth it. Would to God that many would become so exercised that a spirit of intercession would mark our times of public and private prayer. When the conditions are met and the price is paid we can have revival.

—Dean Gregory

RICHARD NIXON AT PORTLAND

Richard Nixon, the Republican candidate for vice president of the United States, was in Portland for a rally September 20. He grew up in the Friends meeting at Yorba Linda, California, where Ray Carter was his pastor during four years of his boyhood days.

The officials of the rally asked Ray Carter to give the invocation, and it has been requested that this prayer be printed in the Northwest Friend.

—Dean Gregory.

"Almighty God:

"We are told in Thy Word that every good gift and every perfect gift cometh down from our Heavenly Father. And we know that not the least among these is the gift of this wonderful, bountiful land of ours, and its God-given institutions—institutions which, by Thy grace, have been preserved through the years.

"We thank Thee for our heritage. Our fathers came to this land seeking not gold, but God, and a place where they could worship God according to the dictates of their conscience. They took Thee into their thinking; they gave Thee a place in their councils. Our founding fathers sought to establish this country upon the teachings of the Word of God. As a result of these high moral and religious principles, Thou hast made this nation great and prosperous, above the other nations of the earth, and hast given full proof of the truth of Thy Word which says that 'Righteousness exalteth a nation.'

"But, we have come to a critical hour in the fortunes of our land. Strange voices are heard, preaching philosophies and a way-of-life that are new to us. The hour has come when we must make a decision. That decision may determine the whole future of this country. We have come tonight to think upon these matters.

"We thank Thee for our speaker, whom we knew as a boy, and whom Thou hast elevated to a high position in the councils of our government. We thank Thee for his life, and for his courageous fight to rid us of subversive elements. He will discuss the issues of this critical time. We pray that Thou wilt bless him as he speaks, and us as we hear; and may we see the issues clearly, and may we have the moral courage to face them.

"To this end, we invoke Thy blessing upon this gathering. May there be a resurgence of feeling against all that is wrong in government, and a spirit of crusade for that which is right.

"These things we ask in the name of Christ our Lord."

ITEMS OF INTEREST

ASHLAND REPORTING

We are trying to lay a good foundation before starting any public meetings, and there is much work to be done yet before we open our doors.

Suzanne and Carolyn have started to school and are becoming acquainted with the neighborhood children.

Lois is sponsoring a girls' club and thus meets girls and their mothers.

We plan to take an active part in school activities and other community groups.

We are getting settled in our home, but it is taking time to build shelves and cupboards to store our fruit and such things, so that we can use the garage for Sunday school and church.

Please pray for the following:

1. That God will give us the hearts of the people.
2. That we may know His time to start services.
3. That funds will be provided to make the garage useable.
  - a. Garage door must be replaced with a small door.
  - b. Small exit door cut in the rear.
  - c. Inside painted (it is already lined).
  - d. Heat and seats arranged for.
  - e. Storage place for our things.
4. That the enrollment of our kindergartens will increase to provide the needed funds for our work.

We wish to report God's gracious blessings thus far and praise Him for supplying our needs. We wish to thank all of our friends who have remembered us in prayer and for their letters and gifts. Pray for Ashland!

(Editor's note.—The Harmon's, who are starting this new work at Ashland, hope to support themselves through the operation of kindergartens. So far they have only five children in the Talent kindergarten and 15 at Medford. This is not enough to support them. Edward may have to go to work in the saw mill working nights, but his time is needed to canvas the field and get the work started. Please pray that these kindergartens will grow.)

Please select your first and second choice of the above named articles which we are to supply for the medical work in Bolivia. Send your choice to Foreign Project Chairman, Arvilla Mickelson, Rt. 2, Box 480-D, Kelso, Washington. Patterns, weight of material, etc., then will be sent to you. Remember, supplies will be drained continually and we must replenish them immediately upon request. Will all unions who took patterns at Yearly Meeting time and are working on any of these articles, please inform me of your choice for my records.

"PREACHER AT THE PIANO"

"The Preacher at the Piano," your favorite hymn in keyboard style, is the title given to the new tri-weekly radio ministry of the First Friends Church in Vancouver. The program is heard over KVAN, 910 on the dial, each night, Monday through Friday at 10:30 o'clock, and features the piano styling of the pastor, Roy Clark.

The station covers the entire metropolitan area of one million population within a radius of sixty-five miles. Its Hooper rating is unusually high for a small station without network connections. Good response has already been received from appreciative listeners, and it is hoped that the listening audience will grow, especially since there is nothing else at that time of evening except dance music clear across the dial.

The devotional spot will emphasize relaxed listener appeal, with attention given to the message and melody of the traditional hymns of the church. Poems, church announcements, and music in the background.

Roy Clark brings to the program a background of experience in both the radio and music fields. He is a member of the National Tri Mu Radio Fraternity, and was formerly associated with KFBI in Wichita, Kansas, as staff musician. He is a graduate pianist with degrees from Marion College (Indiana), and Friends University (Kansas), and is currently completing a master's degree from the University of Portland. He is beginning his third year as pastor of the Vancouver Friends meeting.

BROTHERHOOD PRES. SPEAKS

This is my first year in the capacity of your president, and I assume the responsibility with the realization that it is too large a task for me to undertake in my own strength, but with the help of the Lord we will have a very profitable year. As time permits I expect to visit all of the Quarterly Meeting Brotherhood meetings, and also as many of the monthly meetings as I can with the thought in mind of organizing local brotherhoods. I am of the opinion that the latter should be for the purpose of prayer meetings as far as possible.

I hope that the Quarterly Meetings will stress the spiritual rather than the entertainment side for the programs. Our organization was started with the thought that men should come into a closer relationship with the Lord, and in order to do that I believe that we should have programs that will make one conscious that he owes something to the Lord.

In October I plan to be in Idaho and would like to meet with as many men as possible. I will write and make necessary arrangements for such a meeting. May the Lord bless us this year as we work for Him.

—David Pruitt,
President Friends Brotherhood of Oregon Yearly Meeting.

(Editor's note.—David Pruitt informs this office that he will be available to go anywhere in the Yearly Meeting this year in the interest of the Brotherhood. If interested write to him at 2155 N. Webster, Portland 11, Oregon.)

DEATHS

STANTON.—Walter R. Stanton was born in Marion County, Indiana, July 31, 1870; passed away August 16, 1952. He was just a few days past his 82nd year.

As a young man he went to Kansas, where he was married to Mary DeWeese. They moved to Tacoma, Wash. in 1902. Through their work the Tacoma Friends meeting came into being. Later they moved to Idaho, and still later to Salem, Oregon, in 1920. He was a member of the Highland Friends for many years, and was a member at the time of his death.

Last November he went to Pasadena, Calif., to live near his son, Howard, where he passed away. His funeral was held in Salem on August 19th, Edgar P. Sims officiating. (His wife died about three years ago.)

AROUND GEORGE FOX COLLEGE

THE BEGINNING OF SCHOOL

Of main interest to readers of "Around George Fox College" will be news of the 1952-53 school year which began on September 17.

Prior to the actual beginning of school some very important preparation was made when the faculty met in a three-day pre-school conference at Jennings Lodge assembly grounds. Visible results of the brief conference was an increased spiritual interest and unity, a new sense of academic responsibility, and a determination to fulfill the purposes of George Fox College.

The real beginning of the school year came when 28 freshmen received a concentrated introduction to GFC in the three-day orientation period. By the time registration took place on September 16 eight more freshmen had joined the class to bring the total to 36 freshmen, a 30 percent increase over last year's class. Total enrollment came to 109, just two less than last semester. Breakdown of classes shows sophomores with 26; juniors, 24; and seniors 17. Six special students bring up the total. Denominational affiliations of the new student body: Friends, 84; Evangelical United Brethren, and Methodist, five; United Presbyterian, four; Free Methodist, Congregational, Nazarene, and Christian and Missionary Alliance, two each; and Baptist, Bible Church, and Evangelical Methodist, one each. The ratio of men to women is approximately 53 to 47.

Twelve of the 36 making up the freshman class have won scholarships from the college to be applied on the 1952-53 school year. The $150 Friends Quarterly Meeting scholarships were granted to Audrey Comfort, Greenleaf, Idaho; Mary Bowden, Seattle; and Velda Leach, Tacoma. Newberg High School scholarships of $150 each were won by Robert Byrd and Dorothy Gimbel. Joyce Hoover, Greenleaf, won the $150 Greenleaf Academy scholarship. A new type of $100 honor scholarship granted to those in the upper 10 percent of their high school graduating class were given to Ardeth Beals, Verdella Green and Ellen Haines, of Portland; Sandra Nordyke, Salem; and Arnold Lee, Star, Idaho. Jo Anne Tuning also received another type of $100 scholarship. Mari-beth McCracken, senior, and Myrta Chandler, junior, each used $100 class scholarships awarded last June. A number of $100 discounts to sons and daughters of ministers were also given, in addition to student aid to especially needy students. A thorough campus work program for students working off part of their scholarship is being efficiently handled by the college.

Among new staff members, one who was not previously mentioned in this column, is Mrs. Alice G. Wheeler, who is the new school nurse and matron of Edwards Hall, men's dorm. Mrs. Wheeler is a registered nurse, and has served as a missionary in Africa for several years under Kansas

Yearly Meeting of Friends.

The general feeling expressed by both students and staff is that the new school year is enhanced by an unusual spirit of enthusiasm and cooperation. Along with this there is an admirable spiritual and academic determination on the part of all. The blessings of God are being felt daily.

PRAYER APPRECIATED

Members of the college administrative staff wish to express to Oregon Yearly Meeting their heartfelt appreciation of the many prayers which arose on the college's special day of prayer, September 10, and which continue to reach the Throne daily in behalf of the school. It is evident that God is answering.

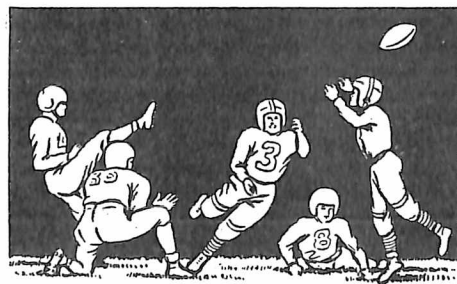

This new challenge for prayer is extended your way. From October 27 to 31, the five-day Christian Emphasis Week sponsored by the Student Christian Union will be held. Prayer is needed for this meeting as Dr. C. Dorr Demarey comes to minister. Dr. Demarey is pastor of the college Free Methodist Church, Seattle Pacific College. His years of speaking experience and contact with young people should make this week the spiritual highlight of the year. Services will be held daily in the Wood-Mar auditorium; during chapel period and in the evening.

FOOTBALL UNDERWAY

George Fox College's football team suffered a defeat in its first encounter of the year, losing to Willamette U. JV's by a 27-2 count. Although very inexperienced, the team shows real potentialities. Out of 24 men out, 12 are freshmen.

The remaining schedule:

- October 10—Friday—Reed at Reed—3:30 p. m.
- October 18—Saturday—Lewis and Clark JV at GFC—1:30 p. m.
- October 25—Saturday—Linfield JV at GFC—1:30 p. m.
- November 1—Saturday—Oregon College of Education JV at GFC—1:30 p. m.
- November 11—Tuesday—Reed at GFC—Homecoming—1:30 p. m.

Integration In Education

By DONALD McNICHOLS, DEAN

What Is Integration?

During recent years college educators have become acutely aware that our core of individual studies blurs the student's vision of the total pattern of knowledge. Each year as the young person progresses through grammar school, high school, and then college, he faces a curriculum that is composed of individual subjects. Particularly in college each subject is taught by a specialist, so that the student sees only fields of study which seem far removed from each other. Subject fields appear as a self-containing and separate aspect of knowledge. The mastery of individual fields has long been emphasized and is of particular importance during this century with its needs for specialists, but it has been demonstrated that the lasting value of a college training for the average graduate is derived more from general knowledge, i.e. an understanding of the universe, man, human relationships, and God than from the accumulation of specific data. In other words, it is the basic understanding gained from examining a broad core of courses that provides the young person with the comprehension necessary to become an alert citizen. Specifically the problem is this, how can the student be

The George Fox College dean's office is publishing a new academic bulletin called "George Fox Journal." Volume I, Number 1, (pictured here) appeared in August. It is being published bi-monthly. If you believe you would enjoy the

MELBA

The Senior CE group met for a party and business meeting on the night of September 5 at the John Farner home. Nineteen young people enjoyed the games which were played on the backyard lawn and evening meal that was eaten around the open fireplace. Frank Engle, the president, presided at the business meeting that followed.

The Junior CE group met for a party and business meeting the evening of September 16, after school at the home of their sponsor, Mrs. Edna Grovem. After games they had refreshments of ice cream and cake. The following officers were elected: president, Phyllis Montgomery; vice-president, Marianna Wade; secretary, Norman Grovom; treasurer, Myrna Montgomery; social chairman, Dee Montgomery. Twelve were present.

NAMPA

Nampa CE has elected officers recently. The results were as follows: Johnny Lyda, president; Alfreda Pinther, vice-president; Elizabeth Rupert, treasurer; Delores Campbell, secretary; Lyle Hilson as social chairman; Northwest Friend reporter, Iverna Lyda; Willis Green, song leader, with Charlotte Rupert as assistant; Iverna Lyda, pianist; and Alfreda Pinther, missionary chairman.

Our CE is beginning a contest with gaining new members as our main goal. The losers will give the winners a party.

Many of our members attended Quaker Hill and four went as representatives from Quaker Hill to Twin Rocks.

Our group enjoyed very much a hayride and hamburger fry held September 1st at Lake Lowell.

LENTS

A very successful business meeting was held by the Senior CE September 11 at the Dennis Froemke home, after which there was an excursion along Johnson Creek, followed by games, noise and food.

ADDRESS CHANGES

C.E. President Gene Hockett, 4315 S.E. Jennings Ave., Portland 22, Oregon.

C.E. Editor Betty Hockett, 4315 S.E. Jennings Ave., Portland 22, Oregon.

Junior and Intermediate Superintendent
Thelma Rose, 613 E. 11th St., Eugene, Oregon.

For Juniors Only!!

Hi, Juniors. Have you started working on your chart? I hope so. Even if you do not use all divisions of it, at least work on some sections. Again this year you may prepare the missionary projects just as you did last year. This is not in the regular chart but will be included in your special bulletin to be sent out later. Has your society ever written to any of the missionary children? Why not try that and then use the reply as a special feature of a missionary lesson.

Don't forget to decide on your pledge and then send in the amount to the C.E. treasurer. Even a few dollars will help.

Let's learn a verse: "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might." Eccles. 9:10. "BE YE DOERS!"

IDEA! for Your
C.E. Parties

SO YOU'RE WANTING A PARTY . . . well, now that fall is here, how about planning a Tom Sawyer social? No doubt your church lawn is covered with leaves, and maybe there are spots you could brighten with paint. Little odd jobs around the church grounds are limitless. Talk to your pastor or janitor as to possibilities.

Invite everybody to bring a rake (or any necessary implement). Wear jeans and plaid shirts and don't forget the straw hats.

For refreshments why not bring sack lunches and swap? It adds fun and variety.

NOTICE !!

C.E. Treasurers, please note:

Remember to send your pledges to the new Yearly Meeting C.E. treasurer, Norman Winters. His address is George Fox College, Newberg, Oregon.

Laura's Diary

August 8-19: These days were extremely busy getting ready and attending Yearly Meeting. Carol Gossard and I kept the church mimeograph warm for a good many hours.

There were many good things to enjoy at Yearly Meeting. I thought our banquet was the best yet. I only regret that we didn't have an award for each society that participated in the table decorations. The ballgame was lots of fun and the picnic unusual. I personally think Sylvia Tuning and Dorothy Myers did a good job of feeding 70 CE'ers when they had planned on 35 or 40 at the most. What did it matter if two or three of us had to eat out of the same plate and share the same utensils, we're all still alive—aren't we?

August 19: Margie Minsel from Hayden Lake, and I went home to Boise with Richard Wiles.

August 20: This a.m. Margie and I were sauntering through the capital building when we came upon a group standing around like they were waiting for someone; so we waited too. Soon we discovered the object of their anticipation, when in came Dwight Eisenhower. We really had a ring-side seat.

August 21: Last evening I came over to Greenleaf and stayed with Carol. This morning I took care of some last minute details of Y.M. and solicited for some Lesson Help writers.

Marilyn Houston, just in from the potato field and with a sandwich in one hand and the steering wheel in the other, rushed me into Caldwell just in time for the noon bus to Boise. This was necessary as I had an appointment in Boise shortly after noon.

August 24: This morning I attended Sunday school and church at Whitney, bringing the morning message. In the afternoon I went to Caldwell and there I had the C.E. service. They're just newly organized and I think they're going to do very well. I stayed overnight in the August Koch home.

August 25-30: This week I've been rushed trying to get things ready for a vacation. I had thought to leave Monday, but will have to postpone it.

August 31: This morning I attended services at Boise. Hubert Mardock was the speaker. I attended C.E. at Whitney and helped the young people with the evening service.

Sept. 5: Finally! Eighteen stencils are cut and the Lesson Helps are ready to be mimeographed. Dean Stands proved to be of real help in my dilemma of getting the mimeographing done. He took me over to Nampa and there helped me run the stencils on Harley Adams' machine. It took the whole afternoon, but we finished the job.

Sept. 6: By puffing and panting and pushing and cramming, I managed to catch the 8:30 a.m. bus to Grangeville, thus starting my vacation. There I was met by Wayne and Nancy Foley, then on to Woodland with them.

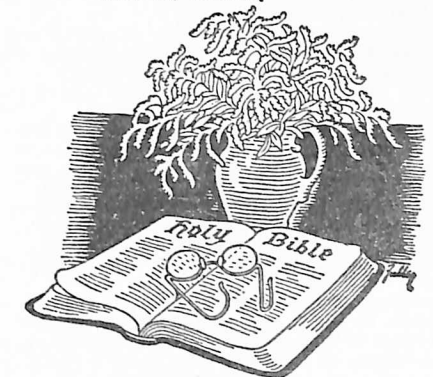

Sept. 15: The past ten days have been most enjoyable. I've done this, that and the other thing that I like to do, mostly being lazy and getting lots of sleep.

This morning Nancy and I really buzzed around getting everything ready to leave by 1:30. I'm to go home and she's going back to G.F.C. When the last bulging suitcase was forced closed and we sat puffing already to go, Johnny Adams came and told us we wouldn't leave until 7:00 p.m. The hours slowly passed and by 7:45 all five of us (Johnny, Jennie, Bob, Nancy and I) were stuffed in, on and about Bob's car and we started down the Greer grade toward Lewiston. For those of you who know about the Greer grade, no comment is necessary, and for those of you who haven't heard of it, no explanation is possible! It's steep, it's rough, it's winding and narrow, and it's dirty, let it suffice to say, we made it!

When we got to the bottom we discovered the generator was burned out. We made it to Orofino and there annoyed people out of bed, so we could get a new generator and have it installed. There we were told that the regulator wasn't working right, so we went on to Lewiston with poor lights.

In Lewiston we discovered there wasn't anything that could be done until morning. At this juncture I decided it was time to get some sleep in a hotel. It had taken five hours to cover approximately 80 miles. I haven't heard from any of them yet, perhaps they're still on the road. I had a good nights sleep and have been home nearly a day. My trip down on the bus was uneventful except for a blowout coming down White Bird Hill, which is exceeded in thrills only by the Greer grade!

Your vacationing Field Secretary,
Laura E. Shook.

MY BIBLE

"This Holy Book I'd rather own
Than all the gold and gems,
That e'er in monarch's coffers shone
Than all their diadems.

Nay, were the seas one chrysolite,
The earth one golden ball,
And diamonds all the stars of night,
This Book outweighs them all.

Ah, no, the soul ne'er found relief
In glittering hoards of wealth;
Gems dazzle not the eye of grief,
Gold cannot purchase health.

But here a blessed balm appears
To heal the deepest woe;
And those who read this Book in tears
Their tears shall cease to flow.

Thou truest friend man ever knew
Thy constancy I have tried;
When all were false I found thee true,
My counselor and guide.

The mines of earth no treasures give
That can this volume buy;
In teaching me the way to live
It has taught me how to die."

AMONG THE CHURCHES

Boise Valley Quarterly Meeting

MELBA

Sheldon Newkirk, pastor

A welcome and pounding was given for our new pastors, Sheldon and Gladys Newkirk and three sons, Fred, Charles, and Jonathan, Sept. 3, after missionary prayer meeting. Refreshments were served. As we have entered the new church year may it be the prayer of our hearts to be of greater service for King Jesus.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Engle visited in Newberg, Oregon, at the home of Marion and Ruth Wilhite, where they made the acquaintance of their new grandson.

Seven of our young people are attending Greenleaf Academy—Mary and Joy Farner, Elvin and Becky Clarkson, Gail Grovem, Fred and Charles Newkirk.

Mrs. Neva Bloomer, of Tenn., is visiting with her son and family, Carl Bloomer.

At Monthly Meeting it was decided to replace with new glass where windows were broken (10 being needed to complete the job).

Gladys Engle is teaching in the junior high school at Drain, Oregon.

In our prayer meeting we are studying the book of Hebrews. As we go to prayer the younger children go with Gladys Newkirk to one room, the young people to another with Frank Engle, while the adults remain in the church sanctuary. We feel that each group is going to gain more strength in prayer this way.

The SS council met after prayer meeting Sept. 18 and many new plans were discussed, which we hope to use in the future.

The church missionary committee has handed out 50 acorn banks to the SS for the purpose of raising our part of the support of our little missionaries on the Bolivian field—Gary and Beverly Knight. A contest between the girls and boys will terminate Dec. 21. The side bringing the most money in will be honored guests at a Christmas party.

A welcome addition to our Sunday evening services is our new orchestra, Fred and Charles Newkirk playing their cornets, and Henry Hunsperger his violin. Just before the message our pastor is giving us a Bible quiz, getting us better acquainted with God's Word.

Visitors at our morning services of Sept. 7 and 14 were Mr. and Mrs. E. Sinclair and family of Nampa.

The WMU met Sept. 4 with Treva Farner. Phyllis Bloomer led the devotional and Edna Grovom gave a very interesting and instructive talk on Palestine. Refreshments of ice cream, cookies, lemonade and coffee were served by the hostess.

The pastor has made a map of Melba and vicinity for the purpose of locating all members and attenders of the church, as well as making a church survey of the community. Each family is located by a map tack on the map. Different colored tacks indicate church relationship.

Recently early comers to SS have been greeted by chime and organ music played out over the community by P.A. system.

BOISE

Russel Stands, pastor

It was a pleasant surprise to have Everett Craven and son Leonard from Bell, Calif., in our Sunday morning services on Aug. 24. Everett brought an inspiring message to us. He was pastor here several years ago.

The Bible Gleaners SS class met at the home of Mrs. Miller on the evening of August 26 for a short business session and social hour.

Iris Leppert's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Jones, were visitors at the Sunday morning services August 31.

Dorothy Rodine entertained the WMU on Sept. 4 with Lucille Fuller as co-hostess.

We were glad to welcome four generations of the Weiler family in church Sunday morning, Sept. 7. They were Mrs. Eugenia Weiler, her son William, her grandson Billie and his wife, and their little son Robert.

Our pastor, Russel Stands and family, took up the work on Sept. 7. We are looking forward to a fruitful year under their leadership.

Mrs. Alice Roberts has visited relatives in Portland, Seattle, Kansas City, Philadelphia, and New York. She expects to be back with us the latter part of October.

NAMPA

Harley Adams, pastor

We are preparing for a special SS campaign to run through the month of Oct. A SS survey of homes near our church has been made and our SS attendance is already increasing. In preparation for the campaign we had a slogan which was won by Genevieve Armstrong, with the slogan "Follow Friends Forward."

Classrooms in our new church have been assigned and the various SS classes are busy with money-raising projects to furnish their rooms before moving in in October.

Several high school students from here are attending the Greenleaf Academy. Among them are John and Lyle Wilson, Iverna and Johnny Lyda, Eugene Morse, and Dale Campbell.

Freeman Konant and Everett Clarkson, who are attending N.N.C., brought the Sunday morning and evening messages, Sept. 14th. We are happy to have several college couples attending our church during the school year at N.N.C.

CAMBRIDGE

Gerald Cronk, pastor

The young people's class has been working on benches, giving them another coat of varnish.

The church is looking forward to, and considering plans for, evangelistic meetings this fall.

The Hopper family have been busy this summer, attending and helping in Cambridge SS one Sunday, leading an outpost SS on Crane Creek the next.

Cold weather is coming soon, one class is now held in a car and there is not room inside the church for them.

Mrs. Cronk has again taken up her teaching for another year.

WHITNEY

Richard Wiles, pastor

The summer months slipped by so quickly and though you haven't heard from us, we've had a busy and profitable summer.

The youth camps were all well represented by Whitney at Quaker Hill—boys camp, girls camp, and young people's conference in July.

In August we were all enriched by the Merv Rosell revival at the B.J.C. stadium. Following close on the heels of the revival was Yearly Meeting—an entirely new experience for most of us—and one which we're not likely to forget very soon. We appreciated the privilege of having a part in it, even though it was a small part.

The past few months we have received several new members, and they include Milton Fitch, Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon Hughes and children, Mrs. Beeson, Earline Durfee, and Opal Marmion.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rice and family have moved from town to an acreage about 7 miles out. Their son, Phillip, left the 17th of Sept. to attend Cascade College at Portland.

Whitney church plans to enter an attendance contest beginning Oct. 5, and extending for several weeks, and sponsored by the Evangelical Ministers Association in Boise. It is sponsored throughout the nation by Christian Life Magazine.

Sept. 26th was family night with the theme of "School Days." It was an evening of stunts and fun and refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Reynolds and son, Wayne of Victorville, Calif., went to South Dakota the first part of Sept. to get Mrs. Reynold's father, Mr. Kraft, who will spend the winter here.

About the time this is being read, we will be in the midst of our fall revival. Rev. Wm. Murphy, of McKinley Ave. church, has consented to come again for a week's revival from Oct. 5 to Oct. 12, and will be the guest of his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Murphy. We appreciate his being released by his home church for this, and are looking forward to many victories.

A 3/c Terry Hanson is now at Grenier Air Force Base, in New Hampshire.

Mr. and Mrs. Benny Timson are living in Horseshoe Bend, where he has employment for the winter.

Harry Kessler, publisher of the Idaho Challenge, was guest speaker one Sunday in August during the SS hour. His subject was on temperance and the work of the Allied Civic Forces.

Nancy Fuller was a guest artist during the SS hour on Sept. 21. She played a medley of hymns on her accordion. WMU had their first meeting of the new year at the church on Sept. 25th. Rosa Patterson had the lesson and Lillian Murphy gave the devotions. The year's activities were outlined and year-books are being made.

The CE's had charge of the evening service on August 31. Their program consisted of vocal solos, a singspiration, the history of several hymns which were sung by the congregation, and a short talk by Laura Shook, who was also master of ceremonies. This group is to be complimented on the type of service they put on. They have charge of the evening service on the fifth Sunday of the month, and have had several services this year.

Louise Siebe, who enlisted in the Lady Marines several weeks ago, visited her parents in August, while enroute from Paris Island, Va., to San Diego, Calif.

Laura Shook was the speaker for the morning service August 24th.

WCTU met Friday, Sept. 26, with Mrs. O. W. Zurcher. The Helen Cammack Missionary Circle met Tuesday, Sept. 23, with Mrs. Hazel Bisel.

Saturday, Sept. 6, was work day at the church. The men met to put in some new ditches, do some leveling, and a few other jobs, and the women came to act as bosses and provide a pot-luck dinner.

Puget Sound Quarterly Meeting

EVERETT

John Frazier, pastor

The minister came home from Yearly Meeting in Idaho very enthusiastic and on August 24th gave highlights of the great Yearly Meeting where God's wonderful Spirit was manifested in every service.

A fellowship dinner was planned after the morning service honoring three former members who were visiting from California. A short program and a time of fellowshiping was enjoyed with the guests, Claude and Mary Hoskins and Emma Hubbard.

Our WMU sent two boxes of baby clothes to Bolivia via the Yearly Meeting office. They also sent a box of clothing for an orphanage in Korea by the way of Chaplain Clarence Lund, who spoke and showed pictures at an evening church service under the auspices of the WMU. $18.00 was raised for the orphanage that night. One or two boxes are being prepared for Christie Bundy's station in Japan.

Sept. marked the commencement of several services which had been laid down during the summer. The Sunday evening service again took on life; and the CE, under the sponsorship of Frank Burris, became active again. The choir also resumed its practice and made its welcome appearance in church under the leadership of Irma Davis.

At the WMU meeting Sept. 10th, prayer for George Fox College and its needs were especially remembered. Also at the prayer meeting our college requests were brought to the throne.

A community-wide SS survey was conducted in Everett by the evangelical churches during National SS Week, which commenced Sept. 14th. Our church participated, and Susan Gustafson, Dorothy Roberts, Albert Jones, Raymond Ricketts and the minister covered the area designated to our church.

Preceding our Monthly Meeting on Monday night, Sept. 15th, a fellowship dinner was enjoyed. All committees were urged to be present to meet for fall organization and planning. Milo Ross gave an enlightening and illustrated talk on the work of church committees. All felt they could enter into the church activities better prepared.

At the SS party in the church Sept. 19th, Gerald Pierce kept everyone happy in many enthusiastic games.

The CE took advantage of the wonderful weather and planned a 5-hour cruise the evening of Sept. 20th, with about 30 sailing on the sturdy Sea Scout boat. We thanked the Lord for a night and trip perfect in every way, and many voices were happily singing as the boat headed for her home port. Appreciation was given to Nancy Cook who made all plans for the trip and who arranged for pop and candy to be sold on board.

Flora Jones, one of our loved and faithful members, is recovering satisfactorily from a major operation performed Sept. 16th.

NORTHEAST TACOMA

Robert Morrill, pastor

Even though this reporter did not get a report in for the Sept. issue, N.E. Tacoma has had a busy summer keeping up with all our regular activities plus the two summer camps at Wauna Mer. On June 26, the WMU met at the home of Gladys Knutsen with a pot-luck lunch at noon and business and program following. Ordella Hale led devotions and Lela Morrill was in charge of the program. The women also took advantage of this time to present Lela Morrill with a cash gift in honor of her birthday.

July 4th found four men and their families over at Wauna Mer conference grounds helping in the cleaning of the buildings and building a new dormitory.

We had a large representation at the junior camp at Wauna Mer and also at the regular Wauna Mer conference.

The July meeting of the WMU was held at Bertha Bell's home July 17 with Beatrice Shelton in charge of devotions.

After attending Yearly Meeting in Idaho, our pastor and family took a few days vacation visiting friends and Lela Morrill's sister. They were pleasantly surprised when they returned home to find that friends and neighbors had given their kitchen a face lifting with new paint, curtains, the old sink replaced with a new one and new linoleum on the drain boards. During the two Sundays of their absence, Dick Hendricks of Seattle Memorial had charge of the services. Besides giving the message on "Stewardship" on Aug. 10th, Dick also sang "What Can I Give Thee, Master?" and Mary Bowden of Holly Park gave her testimony in song by singing "No One Ever Cared For Me Like Jesus." Other visitors during this service were Herb Kell of Agnew, and Phil Harmon from Tacoma's McKinley Ave. church. On Sunday Aug. 17, Dick gave the message on "Witnessing," and also gave messages through song when he sang "When Jesus Comes," and "Jesus is All You Need."

During our pastor's absence, mid-week prayer meetings were in the charge of Ordella Hale, Gladys Knutsen and Bertha Bell.

On Friday, Sept. 5, friends of Velda Leach gathered in the church basement for a surprise farewell party in her honor. Since Velda had planned to enter George Fox College, the evening was spent in playing games which represented various subjects one might take in college. Each one present was graded in orientation, mathematics, geography, English, sports, music and chapel. Velda was presented with a new Bible and an "autograph hound" which everyone present autographed for her.

Sept. 11 the WMU met at the home of Martha Cochene, with Anna Olsrud as co-hostess. Lela Morrill gave a report of the banquet and business meeting at Yearly Meeting and the foreign and home projects were discussed.

N.E. Tacoma is planning and looking forward to a fall revival with Walter Lee of Idaho as evangelist. The dates set are Nov. 2 through Nov. 16th.

SEATTLE MEMORIAL

Milo C. Ross, pastor

Milo and Helen Ross and Larry and Nancy spent Memorial Day week-end in Salem visiting friends and relatives. They brought back Steve with them as he has been in Salem all summer staying with his grandparents and working in a cannery.

During the pastor's vacation Sundays the messages were brought by Richard Hendricks and Robert Morrill. Both brought spirit-filled messages which were appreciated by the congregation.

The Women's Missionary and Aid Society met at the home of Mable Newton on Lake Washington. About twenty ladies enjoyed the delicious luncheon and the interesting talk brought by Christie Ann Bundy about her work in Japan.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rice and son Roland of Alamitos, Calif. have been visiting Paul and Elsie Seese and baby daughter for a week. This has been their first chance to enjoy little Helen Fay. It has been a pleasure to have them in attendance at church services.

George Fox College has called one of our young members, Lowell Hurd has gone to Newberg to enroll as a freshman there.

Virginia Peters, who has been helping the Ross family this summer, has been spending the last week in Talent, Oregon, with her parents. While there she accompanied her parents to San Francisco to visit a sister of Virginia's.

The Sunday evening meeting Sept. 14th was the occasion for the showing of that fine Moody film "Hidden Treasures." A good-sized crowd attended.

Charlotte Emigh and her three small daughters are visiting her mother and friends in Ohio for a few weeks.

On Sept. 6th a crew of volunteers spent the afternoon distributing invitational material throughout the neighborhood. Over 1,000 cards were taken to the homes within a radius of ten blocks of the church.

TACOMA
William Murphy, pastor

The evening of August 25 our CE sponsored a dinner at the church. Chester Janson was the capable master of ceremonies. Don Duncan, Tacoma Youth for Christ director, was the speaker for the evening, and also entertained us with two trumpet solos. Other entertainment was given by Naomi Martin, Dick Jones, Phil Harmon, and Bethlin and Howie Harmon. The theme was "Harvest Time," and was carried out in the clever decorations. N.E. Tacoma girls were the very able waitresses, and we give them a big thank you. It was a most enjoyable evening, and we appreciate the hard work of our young folks.

The new CE officers are as follows: Barbara Janson, president; Marlene West, vice president; Naomi Martin, prayer meeting chairman; Frances Smith, secretary and treasurer; Alice Perry, social chairman; Phil Harmon, music and missionary chairman.

Jim Liedke was speaker for the gospel team meeting at the mission. We will miss Jim as he is back again at George Fox College.

Henry Berndt, a very faithful church member has had a very serious operation. He is now on his way to recovery, and we give God the thanks. He has been very near to him.

Our SS is preparing for rally day. We want this to be a year of seeing growth, both in numbers and spirituality. We are enthusiastic as we plan for the ChristianLife contest, and have our committees chosen for each part of it.

Our pastor and his wife are settled in the parsonage. We ask for God's blessing on them and the church in their leadership.

Bethlin and Howard Harmon have accepted a call from Holly Park church, and will leave soon. We are sorry to lose them, but happy for their choice of full-time service with God. Our prayers will go with them.

Our new WMU officers were the hostesses for the Sept. meeting. It was held at the church. Henrietta Harmon is the president, Gertrude Perry vice president, Mona Warner secretary, Dorothy Janson treasurer. Mona Warner had devotions, and Gertrude Perry had a very interesting lesson on Sprague River. We worked on clothing for the Bolivian babies as we had our meeting. Myrtle Russell brought a very good report on the WMU banquet at Yearly Meeting. Our meeting closed with a duet by Bethlin and Henrietta Harmon. We hope our Oct. meeting to be a rallying back to missionary meetings.

HAYDEN LAKE
Derrol Hockett, pastor

August 30th a surprise dinner was held at the parsonage after church, honoring the Curryer family who are moving to Spokane. We certainly shall miss them as they have been very faithful in their attendance at church, Clayton also being the superintendent of our SS. They were presented with a toaster as a farewell gift.

Material for re-roofing the parsonage has been purchased, and plans are being made to put it on soon.

A new banister has been finished on the stairway leading to the balcony. J.D. Baker was instrumental in accomplishing this. Kenneth Stephens has done an excellent job of re-laying the floor in the vestibule. We are now planning to re-putty all of the windows and to paint the woodwork on the outside of the church. These improvements will add greatly to our church at Four Corners.

Donald and Viola Nunn and family have moved to the Buchanan ranch, where he is now foreman.

We are looking forward to our rally day, Oct. 5, which will be an all-day program.

Greenleaf Quarterly Meeting

HOMEDALE
Clare Willcuts, pastor

Sunday evenings, August 24 and 31 were spent in a union service of our church with the Christian church. The first evening we met at the Christian church, and our pastor preached and the next one was in our church, with their pastor, Rev. Albert, preaching.

The regular August business session was adjourned to August 27.

The WMU met at the home of Kathryn Beebe Sept. 5 with Dorothy Barnes co-hostess. Fifteen ladies were present. A report of the Yearly Meeting banquet was given although most of us attended.

The young peoples SS class enjoyed a swimming party and farewell to the college young people at Givens Springs on Thursday evening, August 28. Those who left for college are: Ralph Beebe, to George Fox; Avadna Peterson, to Oregon State, Corvallis; Delores Eachus, to University of Oregon, Eugene; and Mardee Henderson, to Cascade College, Portland.

Sept. 14 was "Bring a Friend" Sunday; Sept. 21 is Rally Day Sunday and Sept. 28 is "Beat Rally Day" Sunday. We are hoping to increase the attendance which has fallen down during the summer months. The goal is 175.

Many of us attended the showing of the Billy Graham film, "Mr. Texas," which was presented at the Wilder High School gymnasium, Thursday, Sept. 18.

Otis and Hope Willcuts, of Compton, Calif., visited at the home of his son and our pastor, Clare Willcuts.

GREENLEAF
Oscar N. Brown, pastor

We count it a privilege to have had the Yearly Meeting here at Greenleaf, and we are rejoicing over the wonderful messages sent to us from God's Word. It was a time of blessing and refreshing.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Brown and Bobby took off for a few days vacation and business to Oregon, and took their daughter Betty to college at Newberg. They were gone over the week-end, and in the pastor's absence Miss Leta Hockett led the prayer meeting, and Hubert Mardock filled the pulpit Sunday a.m., and Ray Houston Sunday evening. We had a very timely message at each of these services.

Miss Lida Macy has been a house guest in the home of her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Macy.

Denzil Davis, who has been quite ill and in the hospital a few days, is home and is slowly improving.

We are greatly missing our young people who have gone to college. Those who entered Cascade were Miss Sylvia Tuning, and Marilyn Puckett; and Miss Betty Brown, Marilyn Houston, Marjorie Larrance, Margaret Weber, Orville and Norman Winters, Paul Stanfield, Don Lamb and Arthur Perisho went to George Fox College.

The academy opened Sept. 8th, and we have an enrollment of 92, coming from seven different states—Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada, Missouri, Iowa and Idaho. Charlotte Macy is the new teacher added to the faculty. Marjorie Craven, Mrs. Winters, Robert Armstrong, Richard Cadd, and Arthur Winters are the other members.

Several ladies and men picked and canned 135 gallon of peaches for George Fox College this year.

Leon Jeffery is home from his summer work in Ketchikan, Alaska, where he has been working for Nakat Packing Corp. as a trap watchman in fish industry. He plans to work this first semester and then take up his college work at Seattle Pacific the second semester.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Harris received word that their son Earl was back in the states from Germany and would soon receive his discharge.

Our young people's CE had a very enjoyable social at the old academy Thursday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Holmes are the new sponsors.

Wedding bells are ringing here again. A bridal shower was given at the home of Mrs. W. J. Winslow for Miss Margaret Winslow last Tuesday evening.

Newberg Quarterly Meeting

SPRINGBROOK
Waldo Hicks, pastor

We welcomed to our evening service recently Dean Gregory, our Yearly Meeting superintendent. He brought a very helpful message.

Priscilla Doble, a 1952 graduate of George Fox College, is the new primary teacher in our school. She is living in the Anna Morgan home.

Our pastor is planning on doing practice teaching in a Portland high school. Both he and Mrs. Hicks are taking a class at the U. of O. extension center.

David Hicks is attending Cascade College and Bruce is in the 8th grade at Springbrook. The parsonage is occupied by a busy family.

On Sept. 11, a bridal shower was given at the church for Dorothea Wilkins. Following a short program she opened her many useful gifts. Refreshments of juice and cup cakes were served.

Our church and community feel we have sustained a loss in the death of Worden Miller, a member of our church and a good friend and neighbor.

Marie Kincaid and Opal Mills sponsored a cradle shower for Mrs. Russell Heater, a member of our SS. It was held Sept. 19 at the home of Anna Morgan.

We miss Edna Peck and family who have moved to Newberg.

WEST CHEHALEM
Herman H. Macy, pastor

The Macys had the joy of having Paul and Phyllis Cammack and family with them in the parsonage for a few weeks after their return from their missionary labors in Bolivia. The Cammacks are now settled in a farm home belonging to Russell Baker of our meeting. The children, David, Daniel, and Mary Bel are attending our local grade school. The family will be attending our church when not out in deputatation work. Their mailing address is now Gaston, Oregon, RFD 2.

Charlotte Fendall Zimmerlie and her husband are now living near Aurora, in near enough driving distance so that they get back to the home church occasionally. Charlotte sang a beautiful solo the last time they were here.

"Brighten the Corner Where You Are," seems to have been our theme song this summer, or at least we have brightened up our premises with a good supply of white paint on both the church and the parsonage.

The WMU held their first fall meeting at the parsonage. Edith Moor, Quarterly Meeting president, was a visitor and gave echoes of the Yearly Meeting banquet at Greenleaf. Phyllis Cammack was also present to tell of the work in Bolivia and of some of the things needed which the union might help to supply.

Earlene Baker is attending the Greenleaf Academy this year. We are glad she could attend such a good school, although we miss her very much from our church and choir.

We are sorry to lose two faithful families from our church, the John Williams and Vaughn Burlingame families, who have moved from our midst. We hope that our loss will be the gain of some other churches.

It is nice to have Ida Baker back in church again after being kept home so long by the illness of her husband who is now in a nursing home in Newberg.

NEWBERG
Carl Byrd, pastor

Reports from all departments of church work at the close of the year were encouraging and it was noted that we had a substantial gain in membership.

We had 51 in attendance at Twin Rocks camp throughout the week, and 75 at the Sunday services.

We had at least 34 in attendance at the Y.M., and a good report of its sessions was made.

A dedication service for the following babies was observed June 29 at the morning service: Kenneth Dean Watson, Gene Allen Warner and Donald Marion Wilhite.

The SS held its annual picnic at Canyon Park, July 24. Memorial services for Emma Hodgkin, Roseberg, Oregon, were held in Newberg Friends church, August 16. Carl D. Byrd was in charge.

Special prayer for G.F.C. was observed Wednesday, Sept. 10, by the church.

Paul and Phyllis Cammack and family were our guests at the SS hour, Sept. 7. Both of them spoke, and with the children sang some Aymara songs.

CHEHALEM CENTER
Scott T. Clark, pastor

On Sept. 1st, our new pastors, Scott and Grace Clark, moved into the parsonage. We appreciate their Spirit-filled messages, and are looking forward to the Lord's blessing through the year ahead.

Amos and Blanche Jones visited relatives in Boise the first week in Sept.

Our church is cooperating with Newberg Quarterly Meeting and "Christ for Everyone" in a week of special revival services in October, with prayer and visitation throughout the month.

Esther Mae Moor has moved to Rogue River where she will be teaching this year.

On August 22, friends gathered at the Fred Carter home for a surprise birthday party for him and Bennetta Shires.

Clem Brown, from Newberg, has been helping us by leading our singing, and on Sept. 21 we had our first choir for some years. We are expecting this to develop into a real blessing for our younger folk.

SHERWOOD
Merrill Coffin, pastor

Our DVBS, which was held by Mr. and Mrs. Claude Pike, was enthusiastically attended by the children of the Methodist and Friends churches. On the Saturday before the week of Bible school the children had a parade through Sherwood with the theme "Sailing With Christ." Mr. Pike with his cabin cruiser headed the parade while the children on decorated bicycles, tricycles, and baby buggies followed. The music for the parade was furnished by a loud speaker playing religious songs. The enrollment this year was 62. Mrs. Pike entertained the children each day by giving a chalk illustration. Mrs. St. Onge and Mrs. Sherk furnished the children with refreshments. Saturday a picnic was given at Champoe Park with 75 attending. Mr. Pike delighted each one of the children with a ride in his boat. Sunday night the children of the Bible school put on a demonstration program for their parents.

The members of the CE made a hiking trip from Larch mountain to Multnomah Falls. After walking for four hours each one enjoyed the pot-luck dinner below the falls.

Guest speaker in our morning and evening services recently was Mr. R. J. Newsom from the Union Gospel Mission. He had charge of the morning service and in the evening gave a very interesting talk on what the Gospel Union Mission

On Friday, Sept. 19, the women of the church gave a baby shower for Mrs. Gene Mulkey.

The CE sponsor, Carmen Parmenter, took the young people of the church to the beach on Sept. 20. We started at 6:00 a. m. and ate breakfast on the way. The rest of the day was packed with fun surf bathing, having a weiner roast and pot-luck lunch, and playing games. Everyone had a very enjoyable day.

Portland Quarterly Meeting

PIEDMONT

Mahlon Macy, pastor

Our pastors for the last six years, Herald and Arvilla Mickelson, have taken up their new pastorate at Rose Valley, Washington.

The beginning of the new church year has brought Mahlon and Hazel Macy and their two boys as our pastor and parsonage family.

Renovation of the parsonage kitchen, with new cupboards and sink, has been in progress the fore-part of Sept.

David Delano and Bertram Frazier and family are home again after spending the summer in Swisshome with Bertram's parents, where they have been building an Evangelical-United Brethren church.

Much prayer was made for Mrs. Earl Craven (Dorothy Armstrong), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Armstrong, who was stricken with polio. Mrs. Armstrong has gone to Kansas to care for the family. The last report was that Dorothy was getting along fairly well, but would have to be in quarantine for some weeks.

Elizabeth Delano, after taking a full summer course at Oregon State Normal at Monmouth, is now located in Hillsboro and teaching school at West Union.

It's school time again with colleges claiming some of our young people for the winter.

FOREST HOME

Ronald S. Crecelius, pastor

Ronald and Divonna Crecelius took over their responsibilities as the new pastors Sunday, Sept. 7th.

A "pounding" was given the new pastors after prayer meeting Wednesday night, Sept. 10th.

We are all making a special effort to fill our church rally day, Oct. 5th.

The Lord is laying upon us a special concern for the young people in this community—as evidenced in testimonies and prayers.

Sunday, Sept. 21st, the Lord blessed in an unusual way, and His presence was felt by all. In the morning worship service our own quartet—Vern Ramsey, Mac Thornton, Andy Robertson and Ronald Crecelius—sang two numbers. In the evening service the testimonies had an unusually noticeable tone of thanksgiving and praise, to the extent that the Lord laid it upon the pastor's heart to dispense with the prepared message. He gave, instead, an informal talk of incidents from his travels, of various peoples who would so appreciate the opportunities we have of going to church freely, and hearing the true gospel. The service was closed with a season of prayer.

Pray with us that God will use us in reaching this community for Christ.

FIRST FRIENDS (Portland)

Charles A. Beals, pastor

With the opening of school, and vacations mostly over, fall activities have begun in earnest. The CE assumed full time work with Wilbur Field Jr., and his wife Ruth, sponsoring the senior high school group, Marjory Boon the intermediate, and R'Dean and Virginia Smith and Jeraldine Smith the juniors.

One of the first events of the season was a get-together with the people of the Chapel of the Hills. This took the form of a pot-luck supper and get-acquainted evening at the Chapel of the Hills.

Beatrice Benham and Lucille Adams brought back inspiring and informative reports from Yearly Meeting at the August meeting of the WMU. Beatrice Benham is the new president this year

This item is from the "Sunday School News." "A progressive step was taken by the Christian Education committee recently with the formation of a SS council. This committee is composed of seven members: the pastor, the SS superintendent, and five others chosen by the Christian Education committee. This group will be the policy-making body of the SS and be responsible for the appointment of the teaching staff, supervision of finances, responsible for the promotion of visitation, visual aid, contests, training classes, etc." The new council was presented to the SS during opening exercises.

The day of prayer for George Fox College was observed on Sept. 10 as requested. Wilbur and Ruth Field told what the college had meant to them. Ivan Adams presented concerns for prayer. Julia Pearson told of future plans for the college chapel program. After an earnest season of prayer, we were admonished to continue to remember the college daily.

Bessie Beals, wife of Prescott Beals, brother of our pastor, is recovering nicely from a serious operation. They have been missionaries in India for many years and flew home in August for this operation.

The Ambassador SS class spent Sunday afternoon, Sept. 21, at the Eichenberger-Heacock Mt. Hood mountain cabin for a family get-together.

The members of the Corbin SS class took their lunches and families to Eagle Creek for their noon-day repast following the morning church service, Sept. 21. The purpose of this outing was to look at rustic furniture used in the lodge at Eagle Creek. The class is planning to make furniture of a similar kind to put in the fireplace room in the Twin Rocks dormitory.

Patty Jo Lovegren, editor of the Franklin High School weekly, "The Franklin Post," briefly interviewed Governor Adlai Stevenson when he was in Portland. He shook hands with Patty and gave her a "Vote for Stevenson" button.

Senator Richard Nixon and his wife and a few members of his staff attended the morning church service Sept. 21. Senator Nixon has several relatives in our membership. He was brought up in the East Whittier Friends Church.

SECOND FRIENDS

Jack L. Willcuts, pastor

Beverly Lewis left Portland by train for her work with the NHMS on the Mexican border August 11, arriving there August 15. Our prayers follow her.

We were proud to have one of our members, Mac Corlett, win the Yearly Meeting CE speech contest. He found the competition stiff but he brought home the cup. Congratulations, Mac!

After a busy and happy summer, 19 of our primary children began their first year of school, and 11 enrolled in kindergarten. Seventeen of our children attend the Portland Christian school with at least one in every grade, and a freshman, junior and senior in high school. This is the first year in high school for Janet Smith, Nola Froemke and Raymond Belles. Arlene Cawood will soon begin her studies at Northwestern Business College.

Friday evening, Sept. 5, was a gala time for Kenneth Williams' Delphian SS class. Their social was held on the Williams' lawn, with two croquet games and badminton going on simultaneously on different parts of the lawn, with plenty of chairs for spectators. After a hilarious game of Jacob and Rachael, a travalgue and comic were shown, after which the group of 21 adults and numerous children filled up on watermelon. Thanks to Kenneth and Edna for their hospitality.

Our SS workshop, Sept. 8, 9, and 10, was well attended and helpful. The first night Kenneth Williams, gave his concern for the young married people's class; Thelma Smith gave an inspirational report on the primary department, where growth has been phenomenal; Mary Sandoz spoke on some concerns for her class of over 20 energetic juniors; Dorothy Morse gave her concern for the intermediate group where she felt more emphasis was needed. Everyone expressed the need for more room and more seating for our growing SS. Tuesday, Allen and Peggy Hadley challenged everyone with their ideas. Ruby Collier outlined the visitation program and needs. Wednesday night our pastor spoke on the theme, "Where there is no vision the people perish," bringing out the need for a personal and planned evangelism.

Rally day, Sept. 14, our attendance was 210, our best thus far, but we have faith that it will surpass this in the months to come because of prayer and visitation. Those riding the SS bus sang a number; all former SS superintendents were honored; several musical numbers and a skit were given, and the primary presentation was enjoyed by all. The morning message was by Fredric Carter, guest speaker for Bible Conference week.

Alice Barnett, a missionary to Africa under Ohio Yearly Meeting, spoke to the WMU Sept. 11. The morning was spent sorting clothing for Korean relief. Three ladies laid the floor covering in the new mothers' room in the afternoon.

PARKROSE

Dillon Mills, pastor

This SS will enter the attendance increase contest sponsored by Christian Life Magazine from Oct. 5 to Nov. 9, it has been announced. Plans have been made for competition between classes, with a trip to Mt. Hood promised to the winning class, and individual prizes will include a table model radio, a camera, and a clock. Weekly prizes will be offered in addition. Especially attractive programs are being arranged for these six Sundays, and a thorough visitation campaign will be undertaken.

Revival meetings will be conducted here this year under the same plan as was operated last year, with special meetings being held Sunday mornings and Sunday evenings and Wednesday evenings during the SS contest. Fredric Carter will be the evangelist.

Many teachers from this SS are planning to attend and will benefit from the sessions of the National Sunday School Convention held in Portland October 1, 2, 3, and 4.

A "kick-off" party for the SS convention, to which all of the church is invited, will be held the evening of Friday, Oct. 3.

The Sept. business meeting was held in the church basement Sept. 24, following a church-night supper.

Dillon and Fern Mills, pastors, returned the second Sunday of this month from a two-weeks vacation which took them to the coast and northern California.

ROSEMERE

Douglas Brown, pastor

Our pastor has been using the different committees of the church to assist in opening of the evening service.

We have begun a young people's choir under the leadership of Virginia Hathaway.

Work has been started on the church. The front of the church has been painted green, and the steps have been torn down and forms for cement steps are being erected.

Several families attended the Youth for Christ revival, Harry Trover was the speaker.

About forty-three people attended the SS picnic at Levarich Park. A good time was had by all.

Several of our families have been on vacation at various places. Mr. Elliot is gone to Indiana, and Alice Hersch to Michigan.

We are planning a revival for the first two weeks in November. Pray for us.

CHERRY GROVE

Irwin Alger, pastor

The WMU met at the home of Ruth Cross for a work day. A number of baby quilts, diapers and jackets were finished for our Bolivian mission station.

Our SS has decided to join the National Sunday School Contest. May we all be boosters for Cherry Grove.

Salem Quarterly Meeting

HIGHLAND AVENUE

Paul Barnett, pastor

We are entering a new church year, and are praying that we may be of better service to our Lord. We welcome Paul and Alice Barnett as our new pastors. We feel the Lord has been good to us to send this lovely family our way. The church held a basket dinner at noon on Sunday, Sept. 21, in their honor. They were presented with a food shower.

Pulpit guests during the month of August were, John Fankhauser of Newberg the Gideons, and Mrs. and Mrs. Downer who are missionaries among the Indians in Arizona. Their ministry was a blessing to the church.

The Edward Harmon family (our former pastors) were honored guests on three different occasions in the last week of August. On Sunday, August 24, the church had a farewell dinner for them. A generous love offering was given. On Friday, August 29, the "Homebuilders" honored them at the regular monthly dinner. The theme for the evening was "Aloha." A miscellaneous gift shower climaxed the evening. The WMU presented Lois with gifts at the regular meeting which was held at the home of Susie Feller on August 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ankeny were called to Los Angeles, Calif., because of the serious illness of Mr. Ankeny's mother. Miss Jacquelyn Davis, who spent the summer with her parents at Emporia, Kansas, and Miss Eleanor Burton, who was at home at Bell, Calif., have returned to take up their teaching duties here. We appreciate their help in the church.

Harlow Ankeny directed the song services while the regular director, Loyd Lyda, was vacationing with his family in Washington and Idaho.

Mrs. Susie Feller had the misfortune of falling from her porch and received a compound fracture of her left arm. She has spent several days in the hospital and has now had the third operation.

Elsie Armstrong is going to school at Northwest Nazarene College in Nampa, Idaho. James DeLapp, Pat Keppinger, and Sarah Jane Smith are in school at George Fox College. Arlene Barnett has entered Salem Academy. Our prayers go with these young people as they enter another year of school.

EUGENE

Wayne Piersall, pastor

Things have been happening in Eugene since last you heard from us. Wayne and Willa Piersall, our pastors, arrived in Eugene the last of July and very rapidly endeared themselves to us all. They were surprised by a belated welcome and "pounding" following monthly meeting Sept. 3, at the home of Dick and Norma Beebe.

August 10 was a big day for us in Eugene. That marked the beginning of Sunday services. We met at the W. H. Vimont home for the first five Sundays. Sept. 14 we began meeting in the Edison school building. We were thankful to have 42 present for SS, 51 for morning service, and 28 for evening service. Dean Gregory was present and brought the morning message. Other visitors who were present were Mr. and Mrs. Will Hoffnell of Highland, Almon and Lois Lehman and girls of South Salem, Maurice and Phyllis Macy and daughter, and Frances Haldy, all of Oakridge, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Webb and sons, of Portland. Following the morning service most of the group went to the parsonage for a potluck dinner and a time of fellowship.

Eight of our number were able to attend Yearly Meeting for at least a part of the time.

On Oct. 7 our pastor's wife, Willa Piersall, is to be operated on. We covet your prayers in her behalf.

SCOTTS MILLS

Evert Tunings, pastor

In July the young people's class was entertained by their teacher at a picnic on the creek. The young people froze the ice cream and there followed a time of eating, a time of devotions, and a time of recreation. In the evening, at their teacher's home, carroms were played, and later on slides were shown. Thirteen were present.

Fred and Flodene Jarvill, in company with Lawrence McCracken, Worth Coulson, and our pastor, attended the last few days of Yearly Meeting; the following Sunday evening was given over to a very interesting report which they brought back. In fact, we felt almost as if we had been there for some of the services.

We appreciated the ministry of Clem Brown in the morning service in the absence of our pastor, on Yearly Meeting Sunday. A singspiration and joint service with the CE was enjoyed in the evening, led by the president, Jo Anne Tuning. Fred Haskins' funeral was held in our church August 22 at 3:30 p.m. Evert Tuning brought a timely message for the living friends and relatives.

We were glad for the presence of Lillian Frazier, of Piedmont Friends, in our morning service Sept. 7th. She was a guest in the Ralph Trescott home.

Most of our young people are off to school again—Jo Anne Tuning to George Fox College, Kenneth Magee to Willamette University, Connie Jarvill to Salem Academy, Charles and Donald Tuning, Warren Magee and Larry Newton to the Molalla high school.

Our pastor has been bringing such heart-searching messages based on the various offerings mentioned in Leviticus. We feel sure that these will bear much fruit. How we thank the Lord for them.

Ernest Heater, of Newberg, has been a house guest this week in the home of his cousin, Frank Heater. His presence was appreciated in the services Sunday morning, Sept. 14. "Uncle" Ernest attended George Fox when it was an academy, and went to school with Herbert Hoover and his brother.

SPRAGUE RIVER Ross McIntyre, pastor

School has begun and many of the Indian children have gone away to school. Melda and Myrta Chandler have gone back to George Fox College, and Maurice Chandler has enrolled as a freshman at Oregon State.

Our hearts are saddened because of the death of Steve Schonchin who died recently as the result of a terrible car accident. Our hearts go out in tenderness for those of the family who feel the loss so greatly.

We are thankful for the visitors to our services recently. The latter part of August, Mrs. Ward from Cambridge, Idaho, was here to visit her daughter, Arlene Isgrigg. The Fowlers, from Malin, have been here several times and helped much in the services. Asa and Mildred Miller, from Chiloquin, have been with us for a couple of services.

Sunday afternoon, Sept. 14, we had the film "God of Creation" presented by the Moody Bible Institute. There was a crowd of about 60 people in attendance. The gospel was presented to many who wouldn't hear any other way.

A pot-luck dinner was held at the parsonage on Sunday, Sept. 7 in honor of Melda, Maurice, and Myrta Chandler who have gone to college. There were 43 people at this gathering. There was plenty to eat, and everyone had a good time.

The Lord is blessing us with a special visitation of His Spirit at all of our services, for which we praise Him.

ROSEDALE Merle Green, pastor

We were privileged to have Paul and Phyllis Cammack and family in our services August 31. Also attending the services were Albert and Ruth Cammack from Ontario, and Rev. Edward McClurg and family from Portland.

We are very grateful to the men who donated their time and money to paint the church and the parsonage.

Our pastor and wife returned August 22 from a months trip with Mrs. Green's parents, the McClurgs. They traveled as far as New Orleans, La. We are indeed happy to have them back with us.

During the pastor's absence, Carl and Minnie Miller were the supply pastors. We received many admonitions and spiritual blessings from them. May the Lord bless them in their future work.

The following members of Rosedale Friends church attended Yearly Meeting: Lesta Bates, Forrest Cammack, Paul and Phyllis Cammack and sons David and Daniel, and our pastor, Merle Green.

SOUTH SALEM Frank Haskins, pastor

Vacation is over and school days have begun. For some of our boys and girls it is the first time, and others are beginning their first classes in senior and junior high school.

Dick Zellar, Roger Smith and Sandra Nordyke will be attending George Fox College. We will miss Sandra as she has been our faithful SS and church pianist for several years.

Joy Davis will attend the O.C.E. at Monmouth.

Connie Jarvill, from Scotts Mills, is living in the home of our pastor while she is attending Salem Bible Academy.

Dean and Betty Macy and son, Stephen, are living in Salem now, and we are happy to have them attend our church. Dean is taking a pre-med, course at Williamette. Betty is teaching in one of Salem's grade schools and Stephen is attending kindergarten.

We welcome to our services Jacqueline Davis, who is teaching at Marion and is living in the home of Bob and Eilene Nordyke.

Sept. 7th the three CEs met together for a promotion and consecration service. Elizabeth Bishop had charge of the promotion, and our pastor had the candle light consecration service. Almon and Lois Lehman are advisors for the senior CE, Dean and Betty Macy for the intermediates, and Elizabeth Bishop has charge of the junior CE.

Recent social events were a senior CE picnic at Dallas Park, and the SS classes of the young people and boys and girls intermediate picnic at Crestwood Park.

Sept. 4th the church committees met in the church basement, and after enjoying the slides which Myron and Adra Dearing showed of their recent trip, the committees made plans for the evening services through Sept. First Sunday evening was SS night, Second Sunday evening public relations, when stewardship and tithing were stressed. Third Sunday evening evangelism committee, and 4th Sunday, foreign missions committee had charge.

In one of our recent morning services our pastor brought a message on "Establishing Grace." The presence of the Holy Spirit was felt and hearts were touched. A young man and wife visiting our services knelt at the altar, and found victory.
