FIFTEEN YEARS of SERVICE

Guest Editorial

By Dr. Paul P. Petticord, President of the National Association of Evangelicals

THE National Association of Evangelicals was formed in 1942 to provide a fellowship, a witness and a voice for the Bible-believing Christians of America. For 15 years it has met these needs while growing from a small beginning to a place of recognition before national, local and religious bodies. The needs which called the NAE into existence years ago still exist today.

The NAE has provided a creedal position to which all members must be committed without mental reservation. This Biblical standard and the emphasis of the necessity of a born-again experience has provided a framework for evangelicals' spiritual oneness. It has fostered grass roots evangelism within the many patterns of evangelical life and its Spiritual Life Commission is challenging all to revival and evangelism.

The NAE keeps evangelicals of America informed on social issues, mission opportunities, dangers to our liberties and the best methods for effective work in all phases of church life. It has fostered child welfare programs, contended for the rights of evangelical churches in new and redeveloped communities, and provided food and clothing for the needy of the world with the gospel in the language of the recipient.

The NAE is a service organization for all evangelicals. Its affiliates—the Evangelical Foreign Missions Association, the National Religious Broadcasters, the National Sunday School Association, and the National Association of Christian Schools—serve all Bible-believing Christians.

To further the work of evangelical spiritual unity the annual "NAE Week" will be celebrated by all evangelicals October 20 through 27. The theme for this week is "Fifteen Years of Spiritual Service."

Churches planning to observe NAE Week or any portion of it should write to their regional office or the headquarters office in Wheaton, Illinois, for free material including bulletin covers or inserts, descriptive folders, offering envelopes and a pastor's handbook of information.

Join in this SPIRITUAL WITNESS

Since 1942 the National Association of Evangelicals has demonstrated the strength of spiritual unity founded on experience and based upon the word of God. Through the NAE, Bible-believing Christians have a fellowship, a voice and a positive spiritual witness. This spiritual emphasis permeates all phases of NAE service, which touches every area of evangelical activity.

SOUL CRY of THE AYMARA

IN JOURNEYS OFT

By Forrest Cammack

I AM the twenty-one foot aluminum boat, "El Amigo," meaning "The Friend," sent down from the States to ply the waters of Lake Titicaca. My purpose: to transport everything that furthers the gospel to the Aymara people.

Many trips I have made to the islands of the small lake, which really isn't so small as it takes several hours to cross it. When the Bible School is in session at Copajira I am loaded down every week or so with some of the students who have appointments to visit and witness for the Lord to the many souls living on these islands. The missionaries use me to go to the Quarterly Meetings held on the Amacari peninsula from time to time. Don Pablo Cammack used me in early March to make a flying trip to a farm near Tiquina straits to bring back some poles to use as main sills for the new truck at the farm. Those poles, of course, were too long for my hull or cabin, so were lashed on my sides. I didn't like the treatment, although the men did their best not to bruise my sides, using sacks to pad between the poles and me. However, one of my glass windows was broken. Some trips have been made into the large lake to explore for new areas where the gospel has never gone. More trips are planned when Don David Thomas arrives, as he is to be in charge of the lake work.

When I arrived upon this lake, I was equipped with an engine transom just wide enough to accommodate one out-board motor. But my masters thought my speed much too slow, so I willingly permitted them to widen the transom to use two motors. I surely get a thrill out of going twice as fast under a two motor set-up, and I'm sure the passengers like it better, as they have so much to do each day. At this altitude the motors do not have the horsepower either, so the more motors the better.

NOTE: The material for the "Soul Cry" was prepared by the missionaries in ample time to be published in the September issue of the Northwest Friend, and was received by the president of the Board of Missions during the Yearly Meeting sessions. However, in the press of business, the material was mislaid and overlooked which accounts for the regrettable delay in its publication.—Walter P. Lee, president of Board of Missions.

Last Friday morning Don Jaime Willcuts and Don Guillermo Cammack loaded the old International pickup with the motors, equipment, and students going to their appointments for the months before school opens again, and came to Guaqui where I rest between trips. I was unlocked, loaded all ready to go, but in the cranking, the starting cable came unhooked on one of the motors. That didn't hinder us, as the other motor was started and we moved down the channel with the repair engineer draped half way out over the water working on the dead motor. That was a cold way to have to start a journey, but many times such things happen here to my commanding officers. In about three hours we arrived at Calata where Francisco's family was left, but my load didn't diminish any as Antonio and his son went with us over to Amacari where we picked up Angel (An-hail) Tintaya and his household things to take to Puerto Perez to go with Don Marcial Cavit to Pucarani where he is to be pastor until school starts. We left Antonio, with his son, and also Francisco Quilla at Amacari. Carmelo Aspi, who finished his third year this year and is out in visitation work, went with us to Puerto Perez too. Don Marcial had waited four hours to meet us. Patience is something I have learned here, as well as the missionaries—people, boats, trains and burros all move slowly.

Leaving our Bible School boys at this port my load still wasn't made lighter, as four sacks of stucco were put into my interior immediately. My, they were heavy! My stern sank low in the water; so much so that my motors would not run properly. My masters moved the stucco forward near the cabin door, but still my hull had too much slope, so the "grande hombre," Don Guillermo, climbed out onto my bow to balance me better. We made better time to Isla Anapia, the island in Peru where the believers have erected a new church and needed the stucco to plaster the walls. We also had on board a door for their church which Don Marcial had put together.

Thanks to a clear sky and a half moon shining, we arrived at the dock at Isla Anapia about 7:30 and were met by Antonio and son who had come over from Amacari in the small ten-foot boat used in evangelistic work in that area. The officers in charge made me fast for the night and ate their cold supper. Then they unrolled their sleeping bags inside my cabin, and after much maneuvering around, finally dozed off to sleep. In the dark of early morning, a rumbling noise was heard by the sleepers aboard. Peeking out of the port holes they saw a sailing craft docking alongside. The Indians like to sail at night, we learned later. Perhaps the wind is better at that time for their sails.

After a restful (?) night the officers arose, and warmed my cabin as they warmed the water for their breakfast drink. Our passengers were to be at the dock at 6:00 a.m., but did not come until after 7:00. They were Antonio, his son, and Francisco, who were going to Copajira to sail back the small fifteen-foot boat which Don Marcial built at the farm a year ago. It will be used by Antonio in opening a new work on the island of Quana where there are already a few believers. Antonio has been pastor at Calata, but the Lord called him to this new work. Francisco Quilla is to pastor the work at Isla Anapia, but will first help get the sail boat over to the islands.

All aboard! We headed for Guaqui and home, at full speed. The lake water was not rough so we made the distance in two hours, a record so far, in time used. One motor began to sputter and a carburetor was leaking gas just as we ended the trip, so more repairing is in order. I thought my trip was over for the day, but lo and behold, here came Don Rodolfo Chapman to take some customs officials on a spin out in the lake to hunt "chokas," a wild lake bird. The leaky motor was removed, and back I went to slow motion with the one motor. Oh well, that's all right, for it was relaxing after the speed of the previous trip.

Now I am back at my berth at Guaqui, resting up for my next trip. I do not know where it will be, but I do know that it will be to further the gospel here. Many trips have been much rougher than these just completed. The last trip to the islands was so very hard on my structure, for the waves were very high and I bounded from one to the next. I understand the skipper was drenched from the water coming over the windshields. Being on a lake like this one, so similar to the Sea of Galilee, one never knows when the wind and the waves will roll, but thanks to the great Pilot, we haven't gone down, and know we will not. I am glad to serve as "The Friend," and carry the students and missionaries as they take the gospel of Jesus Christ to the thousands that live on the many islands and along the shores of Lake Titicaca.

YUNGAS CHURCH NEWS

By Roscoe and Tina Knight

YARIJA.—Oldest Yungas church, has building but no pastor. Meetings are conducted by a layman with one hand and in the last stages of tuberculosis.

CHACALA.—Pastor Santiago Mamani was recently married to a Yungas girl. Services are held in their new church. This church serves four communities.

ANACO.—Since most all peons on this farm are new believers, the owner recently donated the Catholic church to the National Friends Church. In this building a fine group meets regularly under the leadership of a local worker.

PICHU.—Their new building is almost ready for the roof. They have no full-time pastor but frequently are visited by Berno Vargas, a fully consecrated lad, who can't read because of having only one eye and that very weak. They appointed a committee of two women to call on all women of the farm to invite them to service. Two new converts last Sunday! Pray for them!

MILLUHUYA.—This is an outpost of Chacala. Pastor Thomas Pairumani, of Anaco, walks over the mountain every Sunday for service with these believers. Four new converts were added recently.

PARARANI.—Believers from Tabacal, Guirapata, Machaca Marca meet in a home in Pararani for services. Their pastor, Cipriano Mamani, lacks vision for the work and needs prayer. In spite of persecution, approximately 40 attend services on Sunday. They started building their church this month.

FLORIDA.—They have no pastor and meet in believers' homes for services. New believers from Sirupaya have been added recently. There is grumbling in the group and they need prayer.

ARAPATA.—They have an average attendance of 45, but have no pastor. Their church building is completed and a parsonage is under construction. These buildings were made possible by the Marion Friends Church. They desperately need a pastor since they have no capable leader among them. Four nights of revival meeting were held recently with the missionaries, and new believers were added.

ILUMAYA.—The Lord opened the door for tent meeting in this new place last month and gave 30 new converts. They have no pastor—sheep without a shepherd—and they need your prayers.

MINA CHOJLLA.—Mateo Mamani pastors the new Helen Ross Memorial Church. Missionaries held a week of revival meetings last month and some new ones were converted. This place needs special prayer as the devil is fighting hard for those miners.

SACAHUAYA.—Only prayer can save this work! Three families are faithful, but they have no pastor. Their church is ready for the roof. Won't you pray?

YUNGAS BIBLE CLASS.—The second session of Yungas Bible classes are meeting these first two weeks of August. A fine group of men are in attendance. These are our future workers and pastors.

GOSPEL TENT.—Rejoice with us!! The new gospel tent, 20x30 feet in size, has arrived and is being used for the first time for the Bible classes here at the Yungas headquarters. This is the tent given by the C.E. of Oregon Yearly Meeting. Our most sincere THANKS to each member of the C.E.!!!

NEW-STYLE OPPOSITION.—The Catholic church is becoming alarmed by the rapid growth of the gospel in the Yungas. A Dutch priest is using colored Bible slides, visiting especially in the places where we have believers, and is trying to discourage them. Again, special prayer is needed!

CONTINUOUS PRAYER IS NEEDED!!—Many times reports sound as though the work is always advancing rapidly, but this is not true. The devil is working hard to win back some of our older believers, discouraging our pastors and workers, has caused some, whom we thought faithful, to fall. Faithful believers, Salustiano, Juan, Felipe, Anselmo and Feliciano, are being strongly tempted, and some have grown cold spiritually. Pray for them by name! Without prayer, we are helpless! We are depending upon you!

A MISSIONARY'S PLAIN

By Phyllis Cammack

ONLY a short time until furlough! With anticipation as well as reluctance we face the prospect. We realize that there will be much sorting, giving away, repacking, and distributing of our earthly goods during the last month before going. That can be put off. We also know that we will try to finish what tasks we can before giving them to another. That also can be put off, because there is much to do now.

However, one thing cannot be put off—taking pictures! It is evident that as yet we haven't taken enough of them. Everything is very commonplace, no great events nor unusual people. We will want late pictures of our fellow missionaries, but that will use up only a dozen slides or so. Of groups of Indians, yes, but they look so much alike to our friends at home. A scene here, a long distance there? Yes, we already have that. A small child, close up? A horny foot? A morbidly sick person? A llama chewing? A burro carrying? A family smiling? A plow plowing? A sheep grazing? A drunkard expressing himself? A fiesta? A house looking like a house? It is all very hard to decide.

Snapping pictures here and there, we feel very frustrated and inferior, thinking the meanwhile,

"They've seen pictures like these before. They now have television which has spoiled their taste for such as this. How can a missionary who has lived in 'isolation' for four years hope to compete? Here you take the camera. I must hurry off to class anyway." (Pitiful, isn't it, this lament of a missionary?)

In Bolivia it's the old, old story that touches the heart. In the U. S. A. surely it is the old, old story too, that touches the heart, but sometimes it seems that it must be riding in a new, new vehicle, clever, eye-catching, arresting. To the poor, rusty missionary it presents a horrible challenge. Up, up, forsake your doldrums, your nerves! Stir up your creative, top-level impulses! Snap pictures without discouragement or inferiority complexes. You are not competing: you are giving a message for the Lord. The devil is the author of all discouragement. Leave the future to the Lord who said, "Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee. . . Behold, I have put my words in thy mouth" (Jer. 1:8-9).

SCHOOLS AND FARMSIDE

By Leland M. Hibbs

THE necessity of closing the Chunavi school became apparent recently when the teacher came to me saying some of the brethren were not paying their share of his salary, that some had not been good examples at one of the official school meetings in the community. He was ready to quit. In talking to the parents I found they were very dissatisfied with the teacher, who went to his home without permission, and a few other smaller accounts were revealed against him. The school fathers had secured another fellow to teach the school, in another building, without consulting either the national church council or the mission. It was necessary to tell them that as far as the mission was concerned the school was closed, and the teacher was to be paid his back salary.

This year it has been pleasing to note that some of our day schools have paid all of their teachers' salaries, and about one-half of all the materials

THE HIBBS FAMILY

BIBLE SCHOOL

By Ralph Chapman

WE CLOSED with 57 students completing the year. Four of the eight graduating students were able to get to the farm for the final exercises. We had our regular conference with around 600 present again this year. We were plagued with an epidemic of flu, and many at the conference were ill. We feel that the Lord gave us a good school year and were glad for another opportunity of ministry among the students. We had as guests several Bible Society dignitaries passing through Bolivia from a large convention in San Paulo, Brazil. They seemed impressed by the work of our mission.

Roscoe is holding a school for workers in the Yungas, and I have just returned from a week's sojourn there to help in some of the classes.

used. Some have paid the salary, but are behind in paying for the materials.

Now such problems have been exchanged for farm problems, since this week we have moved to the farm. Last week we watched Paul and Phyllis Cammack and family start their homeward journey. Surely they will be a blessing to you at home as they bring you fresh glimpses of Friends in action in Bolivia.

Forrest Cammack and I made a trip recently to the Point 4 Experiment Station. It was interesting to see some new advances in different crops for the altiplano. Our main purpose was to buy ten new rams for improvement of Copajira sheep. These rams are 3/4 and 7/8 Corriedale. They are very different from our present stock.

Plowing in the irrigated section is next on the agenda, then the school gardens and planting of insilage crops. Even though there are problems most of the time, yet I enjoy being in His service, laboring that lost souls might yet hear of the living Lord.

God has every right to claim full possession, for we are His, not only because he has created us, but also because he has redeemed us.

(SPECIAL INSERT)

NOW IT CAN BE TOLD

By Walter P. Lee, President Board of Missions

When will the Paul Cammack family be home for furlough? Have the Thomases gone to Bolivia yet? How is Leland Hibbs? When does the Everett Clarkson family leave for Costa Rica? When and where are things to be collected for the next shipment to Bolivia?

These and other questions have been asked by Friends throughout Oregon Yearly Meeting. Now we have the answers.

The Paul Cammack family arrived in West Chehalis about September 3 after driving across country from West Palm Beach, Florida. They report a very enjoyable trip and good health. Phyllis had a siege with Asiatic "flu" just before leaving Bolivia, but recuperated during the boat trip from Chile to Cuba and all seem to be well at present. The address of the Cammacks is Route 3, Box 113A, Newberg, Oregon. They will not be available for deputation or speaking engagements until after the first of October. All requests for their services will be handled through the Yearly Meeting office.

David and Florence Thomas arrived in Bolivia from Costa Rica, August 24 and are located in La Paz. All reports indicate that the study in the Language School in San Jose, Costa Rica, was highly profitable and enables the Thomases to enter actively into the mission program upon arrival on the field. It seems that this study is well worth the extra expense and should become standard procedure for all new missionary families.

We are thanking God for an improvement in the health of Leland Hibbs. A medical check-up this summer revealed that Leland's blood pressure was high again. But the Lord has answered prayer and there has been a marked improvement. The Hibbs family is now living at the Bible School farm where Leland and Forrest Cammack are handling the farm work. Major repairs were necessary on the residence where the Hibbs are living. These have required time, energy and patience under torn-up conditions.

The Everett Clarkson family is planning to leave for Language School in Costa Rica the last of December. Alda Clarkson has been in the hospital with pneumonia, but is out again. Pray for her complete and rapid recovery. The Clarksons are living in Caldwell where Everett will be employed until the latter part of October. Due to limited time the Clarksons will not be able to do much deputation, but hope to attend some Quarterly Meeting sessions.

Articles being contributed to the Clarkson outfitting or other things to be sent to Bolivia in the next shipment should be sent to Isaac Smith, Newberg, Oregon, care of George Fox College, by November 1. Everett and Alda Clarkson will be packing at Newberg beginning November 1 and wish to have all goods for shipment on hand at that time. Goods to be shipped should be accompanied by a freight allowance of 15 cents per pound. This money should be sent to the Yearly Meeting treasurer, Roger Minthorne, 3908 N.E. Maywood Place, Portland 20, Oregon. The shipment will be sent directly to Bolivia and will be received by the missionaries on the field.

Friends who attended Yearly Meeting will remember that the deficit in pledging to the United Budget effected the missionary budget in the amount of $5000. Of this amount $4500 was raised in cash and pledges at the missionary service on Sunday afternoon. This is a cause of great thanksgiving to God. However, the additional financial needs for the year include another $500 on the budget and an amount of $1200 which is raised outside the budget for the partial support of the Forrest Cammack family. Since only a small percentage of our members attended Yearly Meeting, surely the many others will want to help in meeting these needs. Send contributions for these needs to the Yearly Meeting treasurer, Roger Minthorne. There is also a real need for Transportation Funds to send the Clarksons to the field. This fund is more than $1000 in the red because of the recent transportation costs of the Thomases and Paul Cammack family. Ask the Lord what He would have you do to help meet these needs.

Quaker Communion

By Charles C. Haworth

"AND AS they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to his disciples, and said, Take, eat; this is my body. And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it; For this is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins" (Matt. 26:26-29).

"Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ye have no life in you. Whoso eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life; and I will raise him up at the last day. For my flesh is meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed. He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him" (John 6:53-56).

"It is the Spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing; the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life" (John 6:63).

What is the blood, or what does it mean? After the flood, God gave man permission to eat flesh, but with one restriction, "but flesh with the life thereof, which is the blood thereof, shall ye not eat" (Gen. 9:4). Lev. 17:11a, says, "For the life of the flesh is in the blood." Verse 14a says, "For it (the blood) is the life of all flesh." The word "blood" then means life, and we all realize that the blood is the life of all flesh. This stream of life courses through our bodies, flowing out from the heart through the arteries, dividing and subdividing, until in the capillaries, it bathes and nourishes every particle of the body, gathers up the waste, then entering into the veins returns to the heart. It is then sent to the lungs where it is purified, and returning to the heart, it is again sent out on its life-giving mission all through the body. The modern system of blood transfusion is a wonderful illustration of this. The giver of blood in a transfusion shares his life with the one who receives it.

In Col. 3:4 we read, "Christ, who is our life;" and in Gal. 2:20, "Christ liveth in me," and in Col. 1:27, it says, "Christ in you, the hope of glory." Since the blood is the life, when we drink His blood we partake of His life. He then is our life. He lives in us. Christ is in us. The flesh profiteth nothing, His words to us are spirit and they are life. When we accept Christ and He lives in us, we have communion with Him. He permeates our whole being as the blood stream does, giving life to every part, cleansing away every impurity and making us alive and healthy—"Christ in us the hope of glory."

This is only one part of communion, the drinking of His blood. What is the flesh? It is the physical, the material, the manifest part of us. Nourished and sustained by the blood stream, the life in us is manifested in the deeds we do, in the words we say, even in the thoughts we think.

In Phil. 2:12b-13, we read "Work out your own salvation with fear and trembling: For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of His own good pleasure." And in Eph. 2:10 we read, "For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them." In Heb. 3:14 it says, "For we are made partakers of Christ, if we hold the beginning of our confidence steadfast unto the end."

That which is in man—the real man—is manifested in what he says and does. Since the flesh manifests the life and He commanded us to eat of His flesh, we do that when we are made partakers of Christ, and He works in us both to will and to do of His own good pleasure. Thus in doing those things which He would have us do, that is, in working for Him, we are eating His flesh.

Communion with Christ has two parts: drinking His blood, having His stream of life flowing through us; that spiritual communion with Him which is so precious whether in public worship, or in private alone with Him. We prize it more than we can tell, but it is not enough. The hermit, withdrawing himself from the world, to develop his soul by meditation and prayer, may drink of His blood, but he misses an essential part of communion with Christ. He does not eat of His flesh—taking an active part in the work of Christ, it may be in extending His Kingdom, or in doing deeds of mercy in His name. He must work in us both to will and to do of His own good pleasure.

May God help us as Quakers to commune with Christ in both elements. "Behold I stand at the door, and knock; if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me" (Rev. 3:20).

A LAW

Refuse to open your purse, and soon you cannot open your sympathy. Refuse to give, and soon you will cease to enjoy that which you have. Refuse to love, and you lose the power to love and be loved. Withhold your affections, and you become a moral paralytic. But the moment you open wider the door of your life, and like the rose, send out without stint your fragrance and beauty, you let the sunshine of your life into your own soul.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

GREENLEAF ACADEMY

Registration at Greenleaf Friends Academy totaled 108 students to reach the largest enrollment in the school's 50-year history. This is an increase over the previous year's total by 54%. The academy's opening day of school was Monday, September 9, 1957.

Ten different denominations coming from 20 separate churches are represented. Five states are represented, and one student is doing his work by correspondence while in Bolivia with his parents who are missionaries (Teryl Hibbs).

This year's faculty consists of Harold Ankeny, social science, shop, and physical education; Bob Hanson, band and choir; Mrs. Leona Gwinn, piano and organ; Mr. Everett Clarkson, who is assisting temporarily as field representative and with classroom work; Eugene Smith, science, mathematics and athletics; Anna Mills, commercial and Spanish; Leta Hockett, library, home economics, English, and Bible; and Lenore Smitherman, English, journalism, and home economics. Charlton Smitherman continues as principal.

The academy, in cooperation with the Boulevard Christian Grade School in Caldwell, transports students by bus from Boise, Nampa, and Caldwell.

A combination convocation service and student-faculty reception was held at the Greenleaf church and Friendship Hall on Monday, September 15, 1957. Students and faculty were introduced, after which Oscar Brown brought a short message.

CAMBRIDGE CHURCH DEDICATION

September 1st some 76 out-of-town guests gathered with us here at Cambridge to participate in the dedication service of our church. After the singing of "How Firm a Foundation" by the congregation, Waldo Hicks led in prayer. Charles Donart brought greetings from the village of Cambridge, to which Quarterly Meeting Superintendent

Marlin Witt responded. The Harmonettes from George Fox College sang two special numbers, after which former pastor, Gerald Cronk read the Scripture. Milo Ross delivered a challenging message on Gideon and his victories, reminding us that God's work is not dependent upon large numbers.

Our pastor, Quincy Fodge, sang "I'm Following Jesus One Step at a Time," and then led the congregation in the dedication service. Clare Willcuts led the dedicatory prayer.

Our hearts are filled with praise for what God has done and is doing for us at Cambridge, and we greatly appreciate the help of all who have contributed work on the church or offerings to purchase materials. We appreciate the good offering of $64.08 given during the service.

A CALL TO PRAYER

By E. C. Tozier

This writer, after attending Oregon Yearly Meeting, had the privilege of going to Sprague River and staying five days with the Cronks.

About 200 people are living there now, half Indians and half whites. The population was larger a few years back, but the removal of a saw mill caused a depletion in the population.

The church building is large and commodious, as is also the nine-room parsonage, both church and parsonage have large well-kept lawns.

Ross and Evelyn McIntyre and Kenneth and Jo Anne Magee are valued helpers. The McIntyres live at Chiloquin, 25 miles away, and the Magees at Bly, 20 miles, but each Sunday finds these couples on hand to help with the work.

One Christian Indian woman who can really pray and testify was present at the Sabbath services.

Homer and Genevieve Cox will conduct a revival effort there October 30 to November 10.

This is an S. O. S. call to the praying people of Oregon Yearly Meeting to get behind this evangelistic service with your prayers.

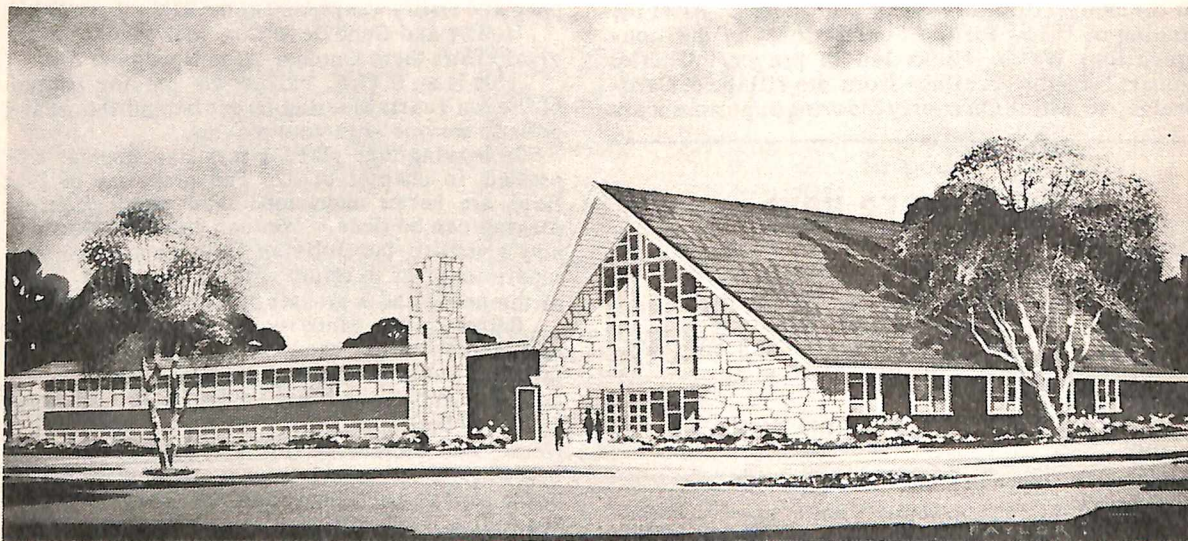

In leaving that place I felt like Ezekiel expressed in chapter 3:15. The problems of that field are better understood, and more effectual praying can be done. We can better understand how a visit to the Bolivian field causes our own superintendents to return with an enlarged vision of the needs and a greater burden of prayer.

Editor's note: Since receiving the above report, arrangements have been completed for the Antone family, Indian evangelists from Oklahoma, to conduct revival meetings at Sprague River October 15-23. These friends come highly recommended. Homer and Genevieve Cox will also be there for meetings October 30-November 10. A call is being sent to each meeting to urge Friends to back the Indian work with prayer and finances. Send your gifts to Yearly Meeting Treasurer, Roger M. Minthorne, 3908 N.E. Maywood Place, Portland 20, Oregon.

NEW CALDWELL CHURCH

NATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

Oregon Yearly Meeting is being well represented at the National Sunday School convention in Los Angeles, October 9-11. Beside the representatives going from the three Blue Ribbon Sunday schools and the three cars being sent by the Board of Christian Education, with representatives from various areas of the Yearly Meeting, there are carloads going from Greenleaf, Salem and Sherwood. More than 30 people will have the privilege of sharing in the inspiration and practical instruction of the convention. Surely this will make an impact upon the Sunday school work of our Yearly Meeting.

If you are one of the many who are not going to the convention, you may still receive much help and blessing by taking advantage of all the opportunities for instruction and improvement which are available to you. There will be local Sunday school conventions and workshops in many of your areas. Plan to attend them if at all possible. If you want to be the best Sunday school worker possible you cannot afford to neglect these opportunities.

And then you can read. We never get to the place where we will not be helped by the reading of good books. There are many excellent books on the various phases of Sunday school work. Get hold of some of these books, putting into practice that which you learn.

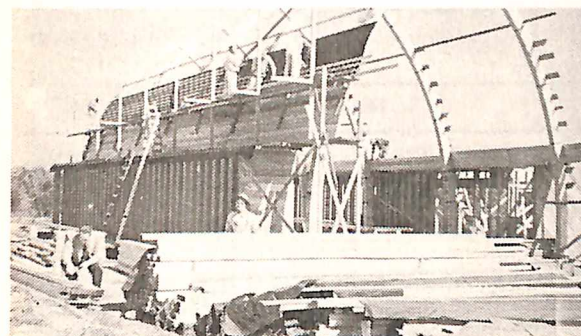

We want our Sunday school to grow, but mere growth may be only inflation. When along with our growth we are continually striving to improve the quality of our Sunday school work, then we are truly building a Sunday school.

BROTHERHOOD PROGRESS AT HOLLY PARK

At Yearly Meeting time the Friends Brotherhood agreed to sponsor the Holly Park building program as their project for one more year. This, however, will be the last year, and another project will be adopted next Yearly Meeting time.

Let us take Col. 3:23 as our verse for the year: "Whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men." Let us really get in this year and work, as unto the Lord. We are working for Him and not for man.

The Lord has been good to Holly Park. At this writing the arches are up and the walls and roof on. They have really been going places. As you know, the first ground was broken in late May.

They had a misfortune recently. Dave Delano, the supervisor of construction was taken ill and is in a hospital in Portland. Please pray earnestly for Dave, that he may get well soon.

However, this has not stopped the Holly Park people. They have hired other help and continued to get the roof on before the bad weather sets in.

Here's something to think about: At the Southwest Washington Quarterly Meeting Brotherhood executive meeting the suggestion was made that if the 1100 men in the Yearly Meeting would give $1.00 or more per month, between $13,000 and $15,000 would come in during the year. Holly Park has the glass, heating equipment, wiring, furniture, etc., yet to buy, and they estimate that this will cost roughly $15,000. Let's get behind this and enlist every man in the Yearly Meeting in this worth-while program.

Dean Gregory, our Yearly Meeting superintendent, reported at Yearly Meeting that in the next 10 or 12 years there would be an increase of one million people in the populations of the Pacific Northwest. So let us catch the vision and work while it is yet day.

It would be pleasing to our Lord for us to finish this work at Holly Park quickly. Won't you share this burden with us? We are sure many souls will be won through this week. So pray, and seek the Lord's will.

We will keep you posted from month to month as the work goes forward.

AROUND GEORGE FOX COLLEGE

SCHOOL OPENS

With another faculty pre-school conference and freshmen orientation as history, classes began Monday, September 23, with approximately 125 students.

Although registration is not complete, cards turned in show at this writing the following class enrollments: freshmen 48, sophomores 30, juniors 21, seniors 18.

FRESHMEN REGISTRATION

Freshman orientation week began with an introductory chapel at 10 o'clock. Dean Kenneth Williams welcomed the freshmen and explained the use of the student handbook. President Ross addressed the group regarding adjustments to be made in college and the importance of keeping up-to-date spiritually. "A Christian college does not guarantee a deep spiritual life, it can only provide the proper atmosphere or environment. Although providing the environment is one of our purposes, it is the responsibility of each student to exercise and develop his own Christian life," Ross said.

GETTING THE DEAN'S SIGNATURE

Beginning Monday afternoon the freshmen participated in two and a half days of testing. Thursday was freshmen registration, and on Friday, while upperclassmen were registering, the freshmen enjoyed an outing at Depoe Bay. Saturday was room clean-up.

Fall convocation at Newberg Friends church was the highlight of Sunday's program. Twelve incoming freshmen received honor scholarships for being in the upper ten percent of their high school graduating class. President Ross also announced the winners of 25 different scholarships and three Carnation Company grants.

Freshmen attended the President's Tea Sunday afternoon, held at the home of President and Mrs. Ross. The day was closed with attendance at Christian Endeavor and church at Newberg Friends.

NIGHT SCHOOL

Night school, especially designed for adults, began October 1 and will continue each Tuesday evening 7:00 to 9:45 o'clock through December 17.

The courses offered include audio-visual aids by Dean Kenneth Williams; a forum-type discussion group for men only by Dr. Arthur Roberts entitled "Christianity Today;" the Bishop method of clothing construction by Helen Willcuts; typing or shorthand by Mrs. Arthur Winters.

All except Dr. Roberts' class and beginning typing can be taken for credit at a tuition fee of $24 per course. Dr. Roberts' class is $12.

CHRISTIAN EMPHASIS WEEK

Christian Emphasis week, October 21 to 25, will bring our Yearly Meeting superintendent, Dean Gregory, to our campus. For five days he will meet with the students and faculty during the daily 10:45 a. m. chapel hour, and each evening at 7:30 o'clock. These times of revival are a high point in our college life.

The entire college community looks forward to this time of spiritual uplift. Anyone interested will find a most cordial welcome.

HOMECOMING

The annual Homecoming scheduled for November 1 and 2 will begin with a Friday evening program under the direction of the junior class, November 1 at 8:00 o'clock.

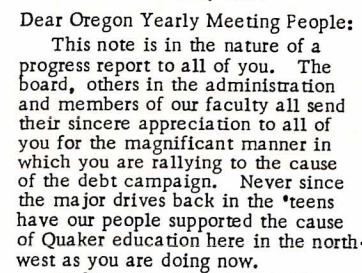

Saturday, November 2, a full day of activities begins with registration from 9 to 11 a. m., during which time will also be open house, coffee hour and a morning program. Following lunch in the college dining hall will be the student parade and pep rally prior to the football game which is

Should the evening program follow last year's schedule there will be an alumni program at 5:00 o'clock with the banquet at 6:15.

Details as to program and costs will be sent to all alumni and other friends of the college the first part of October.

The college is carrying on its program aimed at developing distinctives in education. The next several faculty seminars are slated to be devoted to this discussion, with the possible further exploration by the heads of divisions and the curriculum committee. Friends generally should be aware of the great strides being made by their school in areas of educational advance and distinctiveness.

October 1, 1957

We have now passed the half-way mark! This has taken six months. How long will it take to pledge the remaining $70,000?

This can be done, we believe, by a combination of two plans. First is the loyal and sacrificial support on the part of every Friend and alumnus of the college. If you have pledged, raise it! If you have not yet pledged, please send in a most generous commitment immediately! And second, we are hoping and praying for some foundation grants. Will you unite with us here at the "home base" that some of the major corporations of our land will favorably consider us?

MILO C. ROSS
President

Stewardship enlarges the prayer horizon and provides financial investments for which the Christian can afford to pray.

Stewardship answers the question, "What have I done for Christ?"

ELLIOTT. — Memorial services were held at Newberg Friends church following the morning worship hour for Olive G. Elliott, Sunday, September 1. She passed away at Hood River on August 27. She had been a faithful and much-loved member of Newberg meeting for 53 years. Her husband, Milo Elliott, and sons, Meade and Wilbur, preceded her in death. Surviving are her son, Paul, of Oakridge, Ore., and daughter, Mary K. Edmundson, of Hood River; two brothers; one sister; seven grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

FOUND.—During Yearly Meeting a pair of men's glasses were left in Edward's Hall. Owner may have same by writing Northwest Friend.

Perhaps the day would not have seemed so long,
The skies would not have seemed so gray,
If on my knees in humble prayer
I had begun the day.
Perhaps the fight would not have seemed so hard—
Prepared, I might have faced the fray
If I had been alone with Him,
Upon my knees, to pray.

Perhaps I might have cheered a broken heart,
Or helped a wand'rer on the way,
If I had asked to be a light
To some dark soul today.
I would remember just the pleasant things.
The hard words that I meant to say
I would forget, if I had prayed
When I began the day.

I think I could have met life's harder trials
With hopeful heart and cheerful smile
If I had spoken with my Lord
Just for a little while.
And, if I pray, I find that all goes well,
All care at His dear feet is laid;
My heart is glad—the load is light
Because I first have prayed.

Gerald Dillon, pastor

Gerald Dillon, pastor of the First Baptist Church, returned from a recent trip to Ohio. Yearly Meeting indicates a return to the services of our pastor, Gerald Dillon, and his family for their sessions. Returning from Ohio, he and his family visited relatives in Michigan, Iowa, and Colorado. S. Lewis Hanson is recuperating nicely from a fall which broke a hip. He has been spending some time in the hospital, Alison Rogers has been spending some time in the hospital, she hopes to be home soon.

Sometimes one wonders why a city church does not continually grow bigger. Here is one answer:

Dr. Claude Lewis and family have moved to the Medford area to open a dental office.

Sam Farmer and family were transferred to Seaside, and Guy Geil and family to Salem by the Carnation Company.

Peter Schuler and family are taking charge of the new plant at Nehalem.

scheduled for 1:30 p. m.

Should the evening program follow last year's schedule there will be an alumni program o'clock with the banquet at 6:15.

The one-act play contest will be the feature of the day beginning at 8:00 in W hall auditorium. Student directors include Powell, Gerald Pierce, Lyle Wilson and McDonnell.

Details as to program and costs will be all alumni and other friends of the college first part of October.

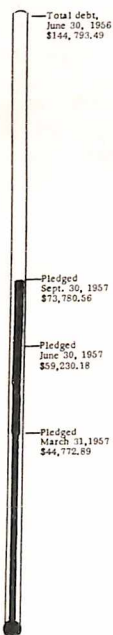

DISTINCTIVES STRESS

The college is carrying on its program at developing distinctives in education. Several faculty seminars are slated to be to this discussion, with the possible exploration by the heads of divisions and the alum committee. Friends generally should be aware of the great strides being made at school in areas of educational advancement and distinctiveness.

Debt

Liquidation Campaign

October 1, 1957

Dear Oregon Yearly Meeting People: This note is in the nature of a progress report to all of you. The board, others in the administration and members of our faculty all share their sincere appreciation to all of you for the magnificent manner in which you are rallying to the cause of the debt campaign. Never since the major drives back in the 'teens have our people supported the cause of Quaker education here in the West as you are doing now.

We have now passed the half-mark! This has taken six months. How long will it take to pledge the remaining $70,000?

This can be done, we believe by a combination of two plans. One is the loyal and sacrificial support of the part of every Friend and alumnus of the college. If you have pledged raise it! If you have not yet pledged please send in a most generous commitment immediately! And second, we are hoping and praying for some foundation grants. Will you unite with us here at the "home base" some of the major corporations of the land will favorably consider us?

AMONG THE CHURCHES

NEWBERG QUARTERLY MEETING

CHEHALEM CENTER

Scott and Grace Clark, pastors

We succeeded in raising around $200 for the building fund by having a work day in the bean fields. A good turn out of women, children, and some men picked beans and gave their wages to our church.

Now that vacations are over and school has begun we must double our efforts in the Lord's work. We just praise Him for all He has done for us.

The last WMU met in the home of Mrs. Roy Hacker in Newberg with over a dozen ladies attending. The next meeting will be in the home of Marion Parry on Sept. 26.

There was wonderful fellowship at our social held in the yard of Cecil Hawkins' home a few weeks ago. A number of visitors attended. A good pot-luck supper was served, followed by singing. Our host offered the closing prayer.

There is much prayer, preparation and thought going into our junior church. We all pray for the new leader, that she will be blessed as she labors with the children.

SPRINGBROOK

Herbert Sargent, pastor

Dean Gregory was here on August 28 and showed the pictures he took on his trip to Bolivia.

On Sept. 1, following the morning worship service, a group of about 50 people journeyed to the Holford Drahn dairy farm and enjoyed a picnic dinner in their back yard. A picture was given to them by their many friends.

We have four from our SS who will enter George Fox College this year. They are Paul Drahn, Herbert Sargent, David Wing and Marion Clarkson.

Leroy and Esthel White and daughters were here for a few Sundays before moving to Texas, where he will be a pastor of one of the Friends churches.

David Wing brought the evening message for us on Sept. 8.

We praise the Lord for the improvement that is being made on the buildings and grounds of the church and parsonage. The new roof of the church has been completed and the church is being painted. The grounds are being prepared for the planting of lawn. A furnace has been installed in the parsonage along with other improvements.

We are glad for new families in our community, and the interest that has been shown by them toward our church.

WEST CHEHALEM

Herman H. Macy, pastor

This summer has been very rewarding to us. Boys camp, girls camp and conference gave all those who were able to attend a rich blessing. Yearly Meeting was much enjoyed by all. We were very happy to host the Newberg Quarterly Meeting last quarter.

Work on our SS addition is progressing, with work started on the roof. This extra room is greatly needed. The work has been done entirely by men of the church volunteering their labor.

Recently about 14 men and boys from the church worked one Saturday to cut and haul the wood for the church and parsonage.

The Paul and Phyllis Cammack family moved into our community and have been greatly appreciated.

The SS recently enjoyed a wiener roast on the church grounds.

NEWBERG

Charles A. Beals, pastor

Orville Winters, new pastor of the Tigard outpost, brought the Sunday morning message at our church on August 25.

Charles Beals has been bringing some messages from the book of Romans.

Prayer meeting leaders have included O. V. Hubbell, Charles Beals, Arthur Roberts and Justice Landreth.

SS speakers have been Loyde Osburn on peace, Grace

Clark on stewardship, and Kelsey Hinshaw on public morals. Work has progressed on our annex, until it is now enclosed and roofed.

Our pastor will lead a teacher training class with the text book, "The Ministry of Visitation" by John T. Sisemore.

The WMU met with Shirley Lewis. Bertha Haworth led the prayer unit, Esther Smith told about the work among the Indians at Sprague River, Emma Haworth led the devotions, Minnie Venable was co-hostess, and Olive Hester arranged transportation.

The Brotherhood met at the church and shared their ideas of plans for the coming year.

The young people of our church are organizing a Sunday evening youth choir, with Kenneth Williams directing.

Robert and Shirley Lewis celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary with an open house on Sunday afternoon, August 25.

PORTLAND QUARTERLY MEETING

MAPLEWOOD

Douglas Brown, pastor

Rev. and Mrs. James Kinder were visitors in the home of Walter Bolitho while on their vacation from their church in Vista, Calif. August 25th James brought a missionary message from their experience as missionaries in India.

Less than a week later the Bolithos were hosts to Stephen Lall, his wife Mabel, and their little daughter, who are natives of India. Stephen is a student in Knox College in Toronto, Canada. He spoke to our people the evening of Sept. 4th. His father, Moti Lall, and mother, Shanti Bai, are good friends of the Bolithos.

Maplewood families and interested friends enjoyed an old-fashioned working bee on Labor Day. The women prepared fried chicken, corn on the cob, and home-made ice cream for the middle of the day. Much was accomplished along with the fellowship. The parsonage received a new roof and the church new skirting. The woodshed was moved, making room for the new annex, and many nails were pulled from used lumber.

On Sept. 13th our congregation enjoyed the harmonies of the Gospels, a trio of boys from Piedmont.

PIEDMONT

Myron Goldsmith, pastor

Promotion Day was observed in our SS July 7th, and Rally Day Sept. 8. We are thankful for a substantial increase in SS attendance through the summer months, compared with last year.

Edwin Cammack brought a very acceptable and enlightening missionary message in a Sunday evening worship service recently. We found his youthful viewpoint of missions very stimulating and interesting.

Miss Marjorie Burt, superintendent of Bethany Children's Home, Bethany, Ky., brought an inspirational home missions message in a recent Sunday evening service.

FIRST FRIENDS (Portland)

Gerald Dillon, pastor

A returning minute from Ohio Yearly Meeting indicates real appreciation for the services of our pastor, Gerald Dillon, at their sessions. Returning from Ohio, he and his family visited relatives in Michigan, Iowa, and Colorado.

S. Lewis Hanson is recuperating nicely from a fall which broke a hip.

Alison Rogers has been spending some time in the hospital, but hopes to be home soon.

Sometimes one wonders why a city church does not continually grow bigger. Here is one answer:

Dr. Claude Lewis and family have moved to the Medford vicinity to open a dental office.

Sam Farmer and family were transferred to Seaside, and Floyd Geil and family to Salem by the Carnation Company.

Peter Schuler and family are taking charge of the new meeting at Nehalem.

Charles Morgan and family are taking the work at Marion. Merrill and Anna Coffin are supplying at Scotts Mills. May Wallace is helping at Silverton. Ron and Mardee McDougal are assisting the pastor at Hillsboro. Arlene Willcuts has moved to Newberg. All these have not transferred their membership yet, but we need 25 to 30 new members to get back to par.

PUGET SOUND QUARTERLY MEETING

McKINLEY AVENUE
William Murphy, pastor

Labor Day several families enjoyed a picnic at Spanaway park.

Sept. 7th the WMU held a rummage sale, at which they cleared $117.00. This will be a big boost towards their kitchen project, which is included in the church remodeling program.

On Sept. 10 a party was given at the church for Barbara Janson, one of our faithful workers, who is entering George Fox College this year.

We have been happy to have Naomi Martin and Jim Liedke with us at various times throughout the summer.

We are continuing to pray for three of our members who are seriously ill; Mrs. Palmer Roberg, and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan McNichols.

SS and church attendance are on the upward climb again, now that vacations are about over.

BETHANY
M. Ethel Cowgill, pastor

Our pastor underwent serious surgery on Sept. 9th. She is recovering nicely, and returned to her home on Sept. 19th. There was much prayer in her behalf, and she had many visitors and get-well cards. Her sister, Mrs. Miller of Portland, was with her most of the time.

Anna Harrison, our missionary to the Indians of Phoenix, Ariz., has come back for the winter.

Sunday evening, Sept. 15th, Jean Saeger, missionary at the Friends school in Urundi, Africa, showed us pictures of her work there.

Lillie Hendricks became a great grandmother for the 24th time. Her son Richard's daughter, Jean Munzoon, had a baby boy. Lillie has one great, great grandchild.

Our building fund progresses, and we believe the Lord will make it possible for us to start construction soon. Pray for Bethany.

HOLLY PARK
Dillon W. Mills, pastor

Summer is just about over, and the fall work beginning, but there has been no summer slump evidenced the entire season! SS attendance has stayed well over the 100 mark for several months now. Dorothy Stephens is very capably leading the fall program as the new SS superintendent.

Holly Park was well represented at all the summer camp sessions, with blessing and good time reported by all.

The first WMU meeting of the new season was held at the home of Dorothy Stephens. Pearl Cooter is the program chairman, with Pat Helland presiding.

After the work on the new church was held up because the mill-work order did not arrive at the time specified, a further crisis developed with the sudden illness of Dave Delano, the foreman. We were very thankful that Walt Gatterman, of our church, was available at just that time to take charge in the emergency. Time was of the essence in getting the roof on because of the threat of rain. Keep praying for Holly Park, please!

AGNEW
Peter Fertello, pastor

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mead have been visiting in Oregon. Mrs. Neil Shaughnessy and son Daniel have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sampair, for about 10 days.

Visitors at the parsonage have been Mr. and Mrs. Orris Hartell, Camas, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cole, First Friends, Portland, and Lorna's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Powell, Port Townsend, Wash.

New faces are seen in church, but we miss Mary, Milton,

Barbara Lynch who have moved to Port Townsend where Milton found employment. We pray they will be able to be back at Agnew soon.

Many have been ill, and Mary Clay fell and injured her knee.

The Agnew WMU will meet in the old parsonage Friday, Sept. 20.

SEATTLE MEMORIAL
Paul Goins, pastor

A large number from our church attended Quaker Cove Family Conference over Labor Day weekend. The conference opened with a salmon bake on the beach Friday evening, and continued with classes led by Kathleen Gregory, Ludlow and Ruth Corbin, on Saturday, Sunday and Monday mornings. Dean Gregory was evangelist and brought some very inspiring and challenging messages.

The young adult class had a party at the Emigh home on Sept. 13. A large number were present and a good time was had by all.

It was our joy to officially welcome our new pastor and his family on Sept. 20 with a program and reception. A number of friends attended. Several local pastors were also present. We pray God's richest blessing on our pastors as they labor here.

NORTHEAST TACOMA
George E. Smith, pastor

Mr. and Mrs. John Canfield, returned missionaries from Brazil, had both Sunday services in our church on Sept. 1st. Mrs. Canfield is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilson, who are members of our church.

Our young people have started choir practice each week, and their special numbers are enjoyed in the morning worship service.

We have noted a steady growth in the attendance of our Sunday morning worship services. We are hopeful it will continue in the coming weeks.

Our missionary women met on Sept. 12 in the church basement. Mrs. Marjorie Neher and Irene Cole were co-hostesses.

Our young people had a "back to school" party and entertained the Holly Park young people as guests on Sept. 5th. They are planning a hay-ride for the 5th of October.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson and girls were recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carol Rhoads of Culver, Ore. Mr. and Mrs. Max Leach and boys visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Harmon at Salem, Ore., and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Palmer and Mrs. Ordella Hale visited Mrs. Hale's daughter in Canada.

SALEM QUARTERLY MEETING

TALENT
A. Clark Smith, pastor

We were sorry to have the Neiferts leave us. A surprise get-together was held for them after evening service August 18. The group presented them with a large Sunbeam electric skillet.

The Jackson family also left us the end of August, moving to Long Beach, Calif. Earl Tycksen, having been called into the army, is now stationed at San Antonio, Texas.

We spent the end of August trying to get the parsonage redecorated and in readiness for our new pastors, A. Clark Smith and his wife.

The Lord has blessed us richly in the last few weeks, especially in a financial way. Three gifts totaling $137 were sent to our church and we believe them to be definite answers to prayer.

Our fall SS contest, using a theme on improvement, started Sept. 15. Our goals are to improve the inside of the church by increased attendance at SS and church, bringing of Bible, etc., and the outside by one project for each side.

Work has started again on the church. Saturday ten of our men and several from Ashland dug around the church in preparation for laying drain tile. They were served refreshments afterward.

HIGHLAND AVENUE
Nathan Pierson, pastor

SS attendance, as well as that in other services, did not suffer a summer slump, for which we are thankful. Under the direction of Donna Randolph, rally day is planned for Oct. 6th, with a special program, also it will be the beginning of a four week attendance contest.

The WMU has been busy with preparations for the coming year with Erma DeLapp as president. The annual family picnic was held in the delightful yard of Gene and Wilson Biles, with its huge trees, hanging flower baskets, and cozy fireplace corner. The WMU Yearly Meeting sessions and banquet were a real inspiration for the coming year. Those completing the reading program were: Ethel Ankeny (who also received an award for completing it three years in succession), Gladys Hughes, Deva Armstrong, Gene Biles, Mary Turner, Mildred Olsen, Helen Frazier.

Construction at Newport outpost is well underway. Some bulldozing and landscaping has been done, the building has been let down on the foundation, the basement floor has been poured and completed. Clifton Ross spent 10 days helping in this work, also Guy Turner has gone over for several days to help. George Fox College has been supplying someone for the pulpit in the absence of Robert Ralphs who is in Idaho for a much needed rest.

MARION
Charles Morgan, pastor

A farewell party was held August 23 in the church annex for the Hal May family. A large group was present to express their thanks for the May's ministry here, and to wish them every success in their future work and schooling.

August 22, the Crusader's SS class had a hamburger fry for the May family in Avery Park, Corvallis. Hal was the Crusader's teacher.

Sept. 1 we were privileged to have Paul Mills with us. He brought the morning message. Will Watson had the evening service.

Sept. 8 our new pastors, Charles and Gladys Morgan, and son Timmy, were with us. A potluck dinner was held at the church at noon on that day to welcome them into our midst and to get better acquainted.

The Quaker Maids SS class held a swimming party and wiener roast at Thomas Creek recently. Maurice Coulson and Babe Smith were chaperones.

The CE group served refreshments after their service Sept. 15 to welcome their new leader, Charles Morgan and his family.

SOUTH SALEM
John Fankhauser, pastor

John and Ione Fankhauser left Sept. 9th for a two weeks visit in Kansas.

Cora Nordyke brought the morning message Sept. 15th, and George Simonka, of the Union Gospel Mission, was in charge of the evening service.

William Koenig and family were with us Sept. 8th. Mr. Koenig was in charge of the morning and evening services, and also had a presentation in the SS hour.

Gary Barker is in training in the navy, at San Diego. Bob Nordyke took his junior high boys' class on an overnight camping trip to Detroit lake.

The Ambassadors class recently enjoyed a picnic in Bush park. Later in the evening, Joy Davis showed pictures of her trip across the U. S. The group has also been enjoying social times after church on Sunday nights at the home of the class teacher, Elizabeth Aebischer.

Junior high girls are meeting each week for SS lesson preparation and fellowship, at the home of Eileen Nordyke.

Ira Downs suffered a knee injury as the result of a fall. Randy Shipman is recovering from a head injury, received in a bicycle accident.

The women of the church are meeting Thursday mornings for prayer, at the home of Cora Nordyke.

SCOTTS MILLS
Merrill M. Coffin, pastor

Merrill Coffin is serving as our supply pastor until our full-time pastors, Miller and Hazel Porter, are able to come.

The Happy Life Club has been growing with outside game during the summer. It will continue throughout the winter. Ralph Hofstetter is the superintendent of the group.

Dorothy Barratt and May Wallace each brought a message on the first Sunday of the new church year due to the absence of our pastor.

Scotts Mills will be the host church to Salem Quarterly Meeting this time. It will be October 18, 19, and 20.

A reception was held recently for the new members of our church. New active members are Peggy Hilton, Wayne Shilts, W. Warren Magee, and Dennis Newton. Also, included were Jimmy Fink and Erma Lea Broyles, who became members two years ago.

A SS picnic was held in the city park as the climax of our SS contest between the "Hares" and the "Hounds." A bountiful pot-luck dinner was served followed by a program arranged by the trailing "Hounds."

Recent guests of the Coffins were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Coffin, Marlene and David; Mrs. Lee Miller and Sonja. They brought special music during the CE hour and evening service.

PRINGLE
Roger D. Smith, pastor

Our DVBS was very well attended this year. We had 95 registered and a regular attendance of 68. There were 30 decisions for Christ in the older group of children. August 26 to 30, with a program on Sunday Sept. 1, proved to be a very successful time for DVBS here at Pringle.

Finish work on our new SS unit is progressing steadily. A new furnace is being installed at the present time in this addition. This furnace came as a real answer to prayer.

The young people enjoyed an all-day outing at the beach Sept. 14. About 21 young people attended, with the goal of 15 well reached.

Two of our young people, Anna Mae and Virginia Watson, are attending Salem Academy this year. May the Lord richly bless them as they learn more of Him.

We had our first WMU meeting this fall at the home of Gladys Hatfield. Fourteen women were present. Gladys Cockran was speaker of the evening. She brought appropriate discussion of people's arguments against foreign missions and how they have been disposed by the Lord and His workers.

EUGENE
Evert Tuning, pastor

We are happy to welcome Ralph and Wanda Beebe and Little Diane. Ralph is teaching at Willamette high school.

Gerald Dillon and Elizabeth Aebischer were with us for a week-end SS workshop. All felt the inspiration and challenge of our SS work.

Eugene SS is beginning a six-weeks class membership contest. Our goal is to permanently increase the number of each class.

We are having cottage prayer meetings each week and are looking forward to our revival with Hubert Mardock, beginning October 13.

Margaret Winters, program chairman of our WMU, was our delegate to the Redmond conference. The September meeting was held at the home of Elenita Bales with Thelma Rose having the program.

Work continues on finishing up the interior of our building. The classrooms are being finished, and the next big project is to tile our floors. Several of the men have been working on the grounds getting the lawn ready to seed.

We are glad to report that Pearl Pearson is improving and hopes to be out again soon.

We enjoyed the visit and beautiful picutres of Frank and Doris Robbins, WGM missionaries, stationed at Santa Maria, Bolivia.

S.W. WASHINGTON QUARTERLY MEETING

FIRST FRIENDS (Vancouver)
John Retherford, pastor

We have started the "Happy Hour" on Sunday evenings for boys and girls 8-12. This is a time of singing, personal testimony and lessons from the Bible. Sponsors are Julia Retherford, Myrtle King and Charlotte Zimmerly.

We were happy to welcome into membership recently Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kern and son Melvin. They have already proved a blessing to us.

Our SS teachers and officers met at the Retherford home recently, under the guidance of our superintendent, Don Lindgren, to make plans for promotion and rally Sunday and to outline plans for the coming year. Promotion Sunday will be October 6th.

Our pastor's wife, Julia, will be the inspirational speaker at Redmond at the retreat sponsored by the WMU. Our WMU president, Frances Walters, will go as our representative this year.

ROSEMERIE

Alden and Esther White, pastors

Sixteen members were in attendance at a meeting of the SS teachers and officers. Class problems and accomplishments were discussed.

The SS attendance and offerings, as well as church attendance, have been increasing during the month of September.

Our SS had a building fund and attendance contest between the men and boys and women and girls from June through August. The contest brought in around $500. The men had 74% and the women had 76% in attendance. The men won because they brought more money.

The Harvesters Internationals presented pictures of missionary work in Mexico on Sept. 9.

Some of our people were able to attend some or all of the Yearly Meeting sessions.

Shirley Burnett has started her freshman year at George Fox College. The other young people are also back in school.

We feel the Lord's hand upon us. We appreciate your prayers very much and we hope you will continue to pray for us.

CHERRY GROVE

John McCracken, pastor

We are getting acquainted with our new pastors, Mr. and Mrs. John McCracken, who came to us from Tonganoxie, Kansas. Early in September we welcomed them at a potluck dinner.

One Sunday in August, Ray Whipps, who is district representative for the Bible Meditation League, was the speaker at the morning service. He enlightened us concerning the work that is being done by this group in speeding the gospel through the printed word. He also challenged us with the need yet to be met with gospel tracts in countries throughout the world where communistic literature is being distributed in great quantities.

During the summer the men of the church shingled the church roof.

Our attendance is on the upgrade now that summer vacations are over.

ROSE VALLEY

Robert and Lela Morrill, pastor

During the past few months we have welcomed several new people into our fellowship for visits and as regular attenders. Mrs. Elizabeth Aitken, mother of Reuben Aitken, visited in their home for several weeks recently. Don and Clara Lemmons, formerly of Gate, Okla., have moved to this area and are worshipping with us. Miss Jean Foley has been employed as teacher of home economics and biology at R. A. Long high school in Longview and is attending our meetings, as are Ralph and Stella Lemmons, who are paying an extended visit to their sons. Mr. Lemmons is the former pastor at the Ramona, Okla., Friends Church.

Our sympathy has been extended this summer to Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Chatterton in the loss of their son, Lewis, Jr., and to Mr. and Mrs. Ed Witherbee in the loss of his sister.

Our SS has started a new contest scheduled to last for six weeks. Individuals may win points on the basis of attendance and visitation, and awards will be made on an individual basis.

On Sept. 12, ten men assisted the pastor in reshingling the parsonage roof preliminary to the fall rains.

Rose Valley was host Monday, Sept. 16, to the Southwest Washington Brotherhood. A good time of fellowship was reported.

OAK PARK

J. Earl Geil, pastor

August 8 the WMU met at the home of Millie Attaberrys. Pot luck dinner was served at noon with business meeting following.

August 4 a group of ladies attended the WMU banquet at Jennings Lodge.

We are looking forward to our rally and promotion day, Sept. 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Sunby have returned from Minnesota where Mrs. Sunby had been at her mother's bedside for several weeks before her passing. Our heart-felt sympathy goes out to the family.

Mary Geil was honored at a pink and blue shower on August 23 at the church. A nice crowd was in attendance. Her mother, Pearl Reece, and other relatives attended. Rose Dyce and daughter Carroll, put on a skit which was very fitting for the occasion.

Mrs. Jean Hanson entertained for her SS class Friday evening Sept. 13 in the way of a slumber party. Nine young ladies were in attendance and all had a good time.

Sept. 12 the WMU met with the Forest Home ladies. Eleven from our union were present. Mrs. White from Kelso was guest speaker. It was a lovely meeting and a lovely dinner, which everyone enjoyed very much.

FOREST HOME

Walter and Gladys Cook, pastors

Our WMU enjoyed an all-day meeting on Sept. 12 in the church parlors with Oak Park union and our own Phyllis Cammack union as guests. After lunch Anna White, of Rose Valley, our Quarterly Meeting superintendent, spoke to us, bringing highlights from Yearly Meeting and goals for our new year. Our new president, Mary Faulkner, was in charge of the day.

Vacations are taking a last fling while the weather is fine. Several families were gone over the Labor Day weekend; Vern and Nellie Ramsey enjoyed a trip to California, and Ed and Betsy Knobel have left for a trip East to visit relatives.

We have enjoyed having Virginia Powell in our service this summer while she has been at home. Her testimony and service have been an encouragement, and our prayers go with her as she returns to George Fox. Some of our other young people are attending college near by—Patsy Heriford and Johnny Jones are attending Clark Junior College in Vancouver, and Dale Barnes is at Cascade College in Portland.

Our opening exercises have been of special interest in recent weeks; Jack Cadd, our superintendent, has given several prizes to those meeting special requirements on different Sundays.

BOISE VALLEY QUARTERLY MEETING

CAMBRIDGE

Quincy Fodge, pastor

The Cambridge Friends church won a picture "Head of Christ" for having a group travel the greatest distance to attend the Jack Shuler meetings in Boise.

The exterior of the church has been painted, and a cement walk laid from the church door to the street.

On August 25 a Youth for Christ group from Boise furnished special music for the morning service, had charge of CE and the evening service, and furnished music for the singpiration, which followed the evening service.

Abba Shah, a Moslem exchange student from Pakistan, spoke to the SS on August 25. He later conferred with the pastor concerning salvation and Christianity. Before leaving the community he was given a Bible which he promised to read.

Quincy and Eilene Fodge and Ed Tozier attended Yearly Meeting. During their absence, Wendell and Ruth Morse, who recently moved here from Lowman, had charge of the Sunday services.

Social activities included: a bridal shower for Naomi Lindsay Crawford; stork showers for Delpha Van Komen and Lois Ward; farewell parties for Mr. and Mrs. Logan Lanham, who moved to Boise, and Kathleen Ward who enrolled at GFC; a pounding for the Wendell Morse family; and a SS picnic.

WHITNEY

Walter P. Lee, pastor

Mr. and Mrs. John Jackson (Peggy Washburn) and family from Seattle, visited several days with her mother, Ruth Washburn, the first part of September. While here the whole family got together for a reunion at the home of the Lee Rogers (Kitty Washburn) at their home in Jordan Valley, Ore.

Robert Marks has enrolled at Northwest Nazarene College. Three of our young people are attending George Fox College: Kay Sheirbon, Cathie Lanham, and Myrna Rourke.

Three are also attending Greenleaf Academy: Norma Moon, Bill Rourke and Gary Moon.

The Harmonettes Ladies Trio from George Fox College, with President Milo Ross, held a service at Whitney August 28. This was a joint service with First Church of Boise. Milo showed colored slides and told of the operation of the college.

Thirteen from Whitney attended the family camp at Quaker Hill over the Labor Day week end. Walter and Carol Lee were camp directors.

Elvin and Lorene Moon and family and Barbara Moon, Walter and Carol Lee and Ruth Washburn attended Yearly Meeting.

Walter and Carol Lee left Sept. 23 on a trip that took him to the Missionary Executive Retreat in Winona Lake, Ind. He represented the Oregon Yearly Meeting Board of Missions at the meeting which was Oct. 1 to 4.

STAR

Dorwin Smith, pastor

A SS picnic was held on the church grounds on Labor Day. The event was attended by over 70 people.

We are happy to have Arlene Hoskins back with us. She has been in Seattle taking care of her sister-in-law.

Five of our members attended the family camp over Labor Day week end at McCall, Idaho.

William McKibben returned recently from a trip to Montana, and Martha McKibben, who has been visiting in the home of her daughter, Ruth Macy, has returned home.

The new brick fireplace on the church grounds is being put to good use these days. Recently our pastor and his family entertained with an evening meal around the fireplace. Their guests were the Walter Wilhite family, Elwood Mylander family and Grace Hadley.

Margaret Wilhite, who has been visiting friends and relatives in South Dakota, returned home Sept. 6th.

We are happy to report that Clarence Morehouse, who suffered a stroke and has been in the hospital, is continuing to improve.

Fifteen high school young people met on the church lawn last Friday Sept. 6th for a supper of hamburgers fried on the fireplace grill.

Everett and Alda Clarkson spoke at prayer meeting Wednesday evening Sept. 11th.

MELBA

Merle Green, pastor

In August we had our farewell for the Newkirk family as they left to make their home in Kansas. Gifts were given in appreciation of their years of service. Gladys Newkirk was honored with a surprise party by the junior CE group of which she was sponsor. Ricky Farner, Donnie Bloomer, Judy Cotner and Nickie McDorman were the social committee for this event.

The eighth-grade boys enjoyed a fishing trip in the mountains sponsored by their teacher, Raymond Newkirk. The fifth-grade girls enjoyed a party and wiener roast with their teacher Irene Newkirk.

A group of men from Melba enjoyed the Quarterly Meeting of the Brotherhood at Star.

The WMU met in the fireplace room with Louise Linhart and Bernice Lee as hostesses. The meeting was called to order by the new president, Frances Engle. Frances Engle and Thelma Green are planning to attend the retreat at Redmond.

Plans are underway for a reception to welcome the new pastor and his wife and family, Merle and Thelma Green, their children Milton, Evangeline and David.

Rally day has been set for October 6 with a special program planned for that day.

We are glad to welcome Bernice Lee and her children Bobby, Tommy and Chester. They spent the summer months in northern Idaho.

NAMPA

Clare Willcuts, pastor

The high school SS class went on a hay ride to Lake Lowell. There were 15 who attended and the class members were picked up and "came as they were." Wieners and buns were toasted over a fire and were readily consumed, as was the watermelon. They were accompanied by adult advisors, Wayne and Eleanor Antrim, and Nicholas and Helen Glass.

The men of the church met for a breakfast and a "pre-nuptial" personal shower on Eugene Morse. Something new and different and loads of fun for all.

Everett and Alda Clarkson were our guests for the morning and afternoon services on Sept. 15. Everett presented a challenging message at the morning worship service. A potluck dinner started the afternoon with a missionary program to follow. Everett and Alda were the surprised participants on the program entitled, "This is your Life." Highlight of the afternoon came when a tape recording was played from Alda's parents, the Pat Johnsons, from Kansas. The tape was followed by their appearance, all the way from Kansas, as a complete surprise to Everett and Alda.

Sept. 12, a bridal shower was held in the church basement for Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Morse (Phyllis Archibald).

GREENLEAF QUARTERLY MEETING

GREENLEAF

Oscar Brown, pastor

Greenleaf Academy has begun its 50th year as 107 pupils are enrolled.

A service for dedication of babies was held Sept. 8 in which five babies were dedicated to the Lord. This was a precious service.

The annual convocation and reception was held for students, faculty and friends of Greenleaf Academy Sept. 16 at the church and Friendship Hall, where refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest McMillan of Burr Oak, Kan., visited with Ollie and Louie Benbow Sept. 12.

We welcome Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gwinn and their family to Greenleaf. Mrs. Gwinn is the new piano instructor at the academy, and Mr. Gwinn will be driving the school bus.

WMU met at the church Sept. 12. A report of the Yearly Meeting WMU was given.

Greenleaf WMU met at the home of Ethel Hibbs Sept. 5.

We are enjoying having the Harold Ankeny family in our midst. Harold has been leading the Sunday evening song service this month.

HOMEDALE

Willard Kennon, pastor

Back to school is the order of the day. Seven of our young people are enrolled in the Greenleaf Academy—Pat McAbee and Ella Mae Zillig are seniors; freshmen are Ronnie Stansell, Marlene Dillon, Janice Vanderhoff, Janice Kennon and Marilyn Lee.

Keith Stansell is enrolled as freshman and Sylvia Herman as senior at the University of Idaho. Monty Parkins is a sophomore at College of Idaho. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hopper and daughter have returned to Newberg where he is attending George Fox College.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Beebe and daughter have moved to Eugene, Ore. Ralph is teaching history and social studies at the Williamette high school; Larry Wyman is teaching in the high school at Arcata, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Milford House are moving to Eugene, Ore., soon.

Sept. 15 the Caldwell CE visited our CE. There were several other guests that evening, including Ed Tozier of Cambridge, Ida.

We are all proud of the boys' club. Under the able leadership of our pastor and Fredrick Arnold, they completed an electricity project in the 4-H organization. Of the 12 competing eight won blue ribbons at the county fair. Of the seven exhibited at the state fair in Boise, six received gold ribbons and one silver.

INLAND QUARTERLY MEETING

SPOKANE

Floyd R. Dunlap, pastor

We were happy to welcome our new pastor, Floyd Dunlap and his wife, Esther Mae, and daughters Joy and Cynthia on Sept. 1. They moved here from Hugoton, Kan. That afternoon an all-church picnic was held at Franklin park.

Following the Sept. 8 evening service a farewell reception was held for David and Audrey (Comfort) Mirgon. Audrey recently graduated from the Deaconess nursing school, and David is enrolling at George Fox College.

The next evening a surprise food shower was given for the Dunlaps.

Harold Wilhite and his family, returned missionaries to Africa, presented pictures of that mission field in a recent service. They were visiting the home of his brother Walter in Spokane.

Just a couple of statistics: 131 in SS on Sept. 15; 23 in the intermediate and senior CE's that night.

Some of our teaching staff will be attending the 11th annual Inland Empire SS convention which began Sept. 15.

We were glad to have Betty Curryer with us for a while before she returned to George Fox College. Ron Turner began at Whitworth College at Spokane this fall.

ENTIAT

Kenneth L. Eichenberger, pastor

Bringing you up-to-date on Entiat, we have made the bargain but we haven't gotten the earnest for it yet, and don't know when we will. There is talk of stopping work until spring. If they do the bargain is off and we make a new one with the P. U. D.

We are starting to work to build up the SS beginning with a promotion day Sept. 8th.

Fred O. Hunt was here recently showing a temperance film.

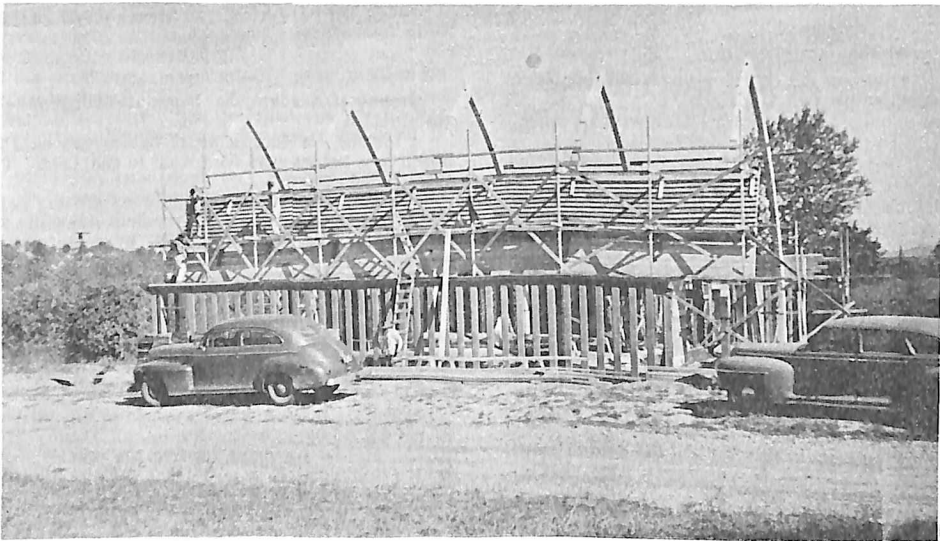

Lila Franklin gave a going-away party for Virginia Griffith as she enters her second year at Seattle Pacific College.

Violet Noon and the junior SS teachers had a picnic at the city park which ended with a birthday surprise for Ellen Griffith.

Visitors recently at church were Mr. and Mrs. Van Breeman of Oskaloosa, Iowa; Harold and Joyce Parnell and four children, also Evan and Lois Jones and two children, and Paul Jones.

Apple work has started, so this is the busy season for all.

Iva Jessup is a very welcome resident at the parsonage with her daughter and son-in-law.
