AYMARA INDIAN WOMAN AND CHILD

Our Evangelical Fellowship

By Dean Gregory

THE days of religious isolationism are past. The society of the world has become so closely associated, with the advent of rapid travel and communication, that it is impossible for man to live unto himself, and likewise, for churches to live unto themselves.

Tibet is probably the world's classic example of a nation that has withstood the inroads of foreign influence down through the ages. No wheeled-vehicles are used in Tibet, because the rulers say, if wheeled vehicles are used, better roads will have to be built, thus making it easier for a foreign nation to invade the country.

A church may take a similar attitude in seeking to insulate itself against all others, and here too, wheels of action will sooner or later be stopped. The choice, then, upon the church, is not whether we will allow any other religious influence to bear upon us, but it is rather a selective choice of what kind of influence will be allowed, and with whom we will share our own.

Fifteen years ago a small group of concerned men organized the National Association of Evangelicals. This organization has become a movement across America, and now represents an estimated 10,000,000 Bible believing Christians in this country alone. Similar associations have sprung up in other countries, and there has now been formed the World Evangelical Fellowship which seeks to provide a cooperative network through which world evangelicals may join hands in a task that is much larger than any one of our denominations.

Friends of Oregon Yearly Meeting have no united world or national voice. We are hopeful that the Association of Evangelical Friends will provide a sounding board for that purpose. However, we do have an opportunity to speak and hear on the larger issues of our day through the N. A. E.

My purpose here is not to sell you on the N. A. E., for we are already members through Yearly Meeting affiliation. Rather, I am anxious to urge the churches to cooperate more fully with the N. A. E. I am not pleading for great sums of money for N. A. E., but for a regular annual contribution which may be set in any amount at the discretion of the monthly meeting. Last year there were 13 of our churches that made contributions to the N. A. E.

The N. A. E. is primarily a service organization and we are constantly benefiting from its great program of assistance in such fields as missions, church extension, radio, Sunday School, relief, social action, religious liberty, etc. If we Friends want the benefits of N. A. E., we ought to support N. A. E. as a normal service arm of the church.

Our N. A. E. regional office is located in the Governor Building here in Portland, and Rev. Wilmer Brown, regional director, will be happy to be of service in any way possible. Use N. A. E., support N. A. E., pray for N. A. E.

Has Someone Seen Christ In You Today

HAS SOME ONE seen Christ in you today? Christian, look to your heart, I pray,
The little things you have done or said—
Did they accord with the way you prayed?
Have your thoughts been pure and your words been kind?

Have you sought to have the Savior's mind?
The world with a criticizing view
Has watched—but did it see Christ in you?

Has some one seen Christ in you today? Christian, look to your life, I pray,
There are aching and blighted souls
Being lost on sin's destructive shoals,
And perhaps of Christ their only view
May be what of Him they see in you.
Will they see enough to bring hope or cheer?
Look to your light! Does it shine out clear?

SOUL CRY of THE AYMARA

BERNO

By Roscoe Knight

THE boys playing in the sand lot were kicking up sand and dust when one of them threw a handful of sand into another's eyes. At first this did not seem too serious, but one of the eyes became bloodshot and sight dimmed. The boy's grandmother, who was raising him, had no good medicines available, and placed home remedies in his eyes. This led from bad to worse, and soon one eye was infected and then sight was gone. The other eye developed a cataract and it appeared that total blindness was not far off.

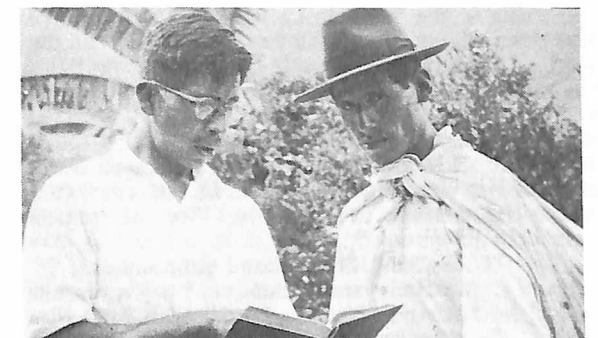

BERNO VARGAS

But God had His hand over this boy. We call him Berno, which is a nickname for Bernabe, or the English equivalent of Barnabas. Berno Vargas is a Quechua Indian, born 27 years ago in Cochabamba, Bolivia. His father died and as his mother did not want him, he was passed from one relative to another, and it was while his grandmother was raising him that the eye accident happened. He worked in butcher shops, and did odd jobs, and school was not thought of. At 10 years of age, he came to La Paz where he also learned the Aymara language. His work in shops and contact with Spanish people gave him excellent command of the Spanish language, so he is now fluent in three languages. It was while working for an official of a mining company that his eyes were operated on, one of them being removed and replaced with a plastic one; the cataract was removed from the other, but very poor vision is the result. Five years ago he came to the Yungas to work as a logger in a logging camp. It was here, two and a half years ago, that he first heard of the gospel. He heard the loud speaker announcing meetings in Sacahuaya, and as soon as work was over in the evening he walked two hours up the valley to the meetings and two hours home again. This he did each evening, and during the week Christ entered his heart and he was a changed man.

A year later, I was in desperate need of a man to help in tent meetings and visitation to be a traveling companion and helper. This was when God stepped in and gave His worker. As I was on the way home from a service, a young man stopped me and asked if he could work for me. He said that he would like to help with the tent. I hardly recognized Berno, as he had never made too much of an impression on me. I looked at him with questions in my mind. He had seemingly few possibilities—no apparent talent, no education, could neither read nor write, was a new believer, unmarried, partially blind and so bashful that he seemed afraid to speak. But I hired him on a trial basis for a month. That month has now stretched to well over a year, and I have seen once more that "man looketh on the outward appearance but the Lord looketh on the heart."

I remember that Dawson Trotman, founder of the Navigator's organization, once told a group of us that every Christian should have his Timothy, stick to him, teach him, live rightly before him, and help him develop into a strong Christian. This I have tried to do with Berno, and God has richly blessed the efforts. Berno has developed into a powerful Spirit filled preacher, and has shown an uncanny wisdom and intelligence. Although learning to read is still his biggest problem, he has a memory for the Bible and texts that is only God given. It seems that he remembers practically all the sermons and Bible stories that he hears, until he is now well versed in the Bible. One of our pastors sat awe struck during one of his sermons, and then remarked, "I don't know why the rest of us are preaching—he can outdo us so far." On another occasion, a new church was about to split, and as I couldn't go to deal with them, I sent Berno. He patiently listened to both sides, for hours, counseled them, prayed with them, and the trouble was settled. Both factors are now happy and working together for the Lord. Many times when I have had no special work for him, Berno has gone on his own initiative to visit churches of brethren, both near and far, many times walking miles. He loves the work, is called of God, and above all is completely consecrated to Him, filled with the Holy Spirit and humbly serving the Lord.

I have not written this article to exalt a man, nor to place one above another, but to show what God can and will do when one is willing and desirous of giving his best to Him. If God can use an unlettered, handicapped, uneducated man (by human standards) as He is using Berno, what would He do with some of the rest of us if we could forget self and fully yield ourselves to God. Remember Berno and our other pastors and workers in your prayers, that God will continuously keep them humble, consecrated and Spirit filled.

BIBLE SCHOOL

Students Testify

By Ralph Chapman

THE prospectum of our Bible Training School contains the Spanish equivalent of the statement: "The Bible School dedicates itself to the task of maintaining that Christian atmosphere which will help its students to experience the fullness of the sanctified life, which alone makes them able ministers of our Lord Jesus Christ."

It is impossible to place too much emphasis on spiritual experience and growth. Those who go out from our school as capable workers are those who gain the victory in their own souls, take advantage of their time spent on the campus, and yield themselves wholeheartedly to the Lord's leading in their lives.

Let us hear the testimonies of . . .
ALBERTO LLIULLI, first year student 33 years old, married, from Amacari: "Brethren, I give thanks to our Savior Jesus Christ, for salvation. I give Him thanks that He gave His life on the cross for me, a sinner in ignorance of the way that leads to life eternal. I was saved through the preaching of the Word in La Paz in 1955. Since that time I have enjoyed a new life of joy in the Lord. Surely God has called me to serve Him. I am grateful to Him for the opportunity to come to Bible School. Please pray for us. I know God will help me to continue my studies and to obey His voice. I have a desire in my heart to learn more of His word and then work in His vineyard, taking His message to lost souls. For this reason I am here in school."

TIMOTEO CONDORI, second year student, 28 years old, married, from Chunavi: "I give thanks to God the Father and to our Lord Jesus Christ who died on the cruel cross for me that He might wash away my sins. Therefore I would know only Christ and Him crucified. We have been privileged to experience salvation, and through the missionaries (as they teach us in the school), we learn the marvelous story of Jesus Christ. I also wish to thank the brethren in the North who help us both spiritually and materially. As a second-year student I wish to testify that the Lord has shown me the way in which I should walk in this sinful world. Haggai 2:4, Isaiah 41:10 and Ephesians 6:10 are promises of rich blessing for me. The Lord will truly help me to walk so that Christ lives in me and I in Him. In our school we receive the instruction and helps necessary for our spiritual life. Much depends on how we take advantage of the privileges and opportunities offered here. I wish also to testify that the students are busy evangelizing the lost."

MARTÍN ARANDA, student who has completed two years and is now in year of practical experience, serving as pastor of the Pucarani church, 30 years old, married, home in Calata: "I thank God for His love and mercy, and for the privilege of going to Him in prayer. During the two years I was in school I had a concern for God's work and to win my fellow man for the glory of the Lord. Now I am in a practical phase of the work. I have done some evangelizing even in the town of Copacabana. (Note: This is the location of the famous Catholic shrine on the shores of Lake Titicaca, a number of miles beyond Tiquina). In this town I found many who are interested in the gospel, such as one land reform judge and his secretaries. I told these the Good News of our Lord Jesus Christ, and gave them a New Testament and some tracts. The Lord is with me as I labor for Him. 2 Timothy 2:15 is my testimony."

EUGENIO ESPINOZA, post-graduate student, 29 years old, married, from Juajchilla (below La Paz): "I thank God for salvation and for the love of our Lord Jesus Christ who has freed me from the bonds of sin. I wish to follow my Savior, and fight the good fight of faith against the darts of the enemy. I have been saved several years and attended Bible School in order to prepare myself for His work here in Bolivia. The courses of study are of great value, and we daily learn more of the Christian walk. As a post-graduate this year, I have a profound interest in my classes and am receiving worthwhile instruction. Following my year of study I wish to again enter into the Lord's vineyard."

CARMELO ASPI, national on Bible School staff, member of the Mesa Directiva of the National Church, student who has completed three years and will receive his final diploma this coming July; 32 years old, married, from Parina Arriba: "By means of these lines I wish to express my most profound thanks to all the teacher-missionaries of the Friends Bible School, who, through the studies of the past three years, have carried me closer to the Lord. While I was a student in Bible School I felt the definite call of the Lord and I endeavored to prepare myself to serve Him.

HAPPENINGS AT THE # MISSION FARM

By Leland M. Hibbs

THE Hibbs family is glad to greet each of you from Copajira. We are happy to be back on the farm and helping with the Bible School. The challenge of this new year lies before us, and our hearts thrill to see the student body of this school year.

The year, thus far, has had its encouragements as well as discouragements. All the potatoes, from the smallest at $3.50 per cwt. to the first grade for $5.65 per cwt. have been sold. The wheat, not top grade, is selling for $2.75 per cwt., and the barley is moving at $3.00. In answer to prayer we had rain in time to save most of the grain at planting time. The potatoes also had a good start because of that same rain. This year has been a dry year in general, but so far the rains have come in time to save the crops. During the month of January there were only 3 and 1/2 inches of rainfall, when it is usually the rainy and muddy season. The potatoes will have to be irrigated soon if it doesn't rain hard soon. Another encouragement was the purchase of ten Corriedale rams of 3/4 and 7/8 blood. They are very nice animals and have fine wool. Because of the lack of pasture for the large herd of sheep, we are culling a great many of the inferior animals from the flock.

With the old '48 model Farmall getting tired, increased number of acres under cultivation, and the "cat" wearing its tracks so fast in the gravelly Opportunity has presented itself for me to work in His vineyard, and that I shall always do. The Bible School has also been for me the place where I bettered my education, learned the lessons of Christian morals, evangelization, love, humility and tolerance. The result of all this is that I shall continue in the Lord's work until death, even as the Lord wills for me here on this earth."

CAYETANO NINA, alumnus 1953, pastor of the Copajira church, right hand man for Leland in the work of the farm, 24 years old, married, from Lacoya, neighboring farm: "I thank God for His great love in saving me from darkness. After I was freed from sin, I felt in my heart that I should enter Bible School. There, with the help of our Heavenly Father, I learned the Christian life. During the three years I was in school, I received much blessing from all the classes. When my studies were ended, the Lord led me into pastoral work for a few months. Then I began to work on the farm as I continued to trust the Lord and sought His leading. In the meantime I have been serving as pastor of the Copajira church. I am now helping on the farm, working among the school students. I feel the Lord is leading me into this type of work. My home is near Copajira, and all my family attends church at Copajira.

soil, we are anticipating the purchase of a new tractor through the Point 4 some time this month. The purchase may include a 5-disc plow and twelve-foot hydraulic lift disc.

In January one evening the light plant stopped and we thought it lacked diesel. But it continued to refuse to run, even after being filled. The next day Forrest took it apart, found the valves needed grinding for one thing. They were taken to the United Nations farm, ten miles away, where they have machines to grind the valves, but couldn't do anything to the valve seats. Forrest did that by hand. After using candles and gas lights for all four missionary families and 58 students and families for two evenings, there are again lights in all the houses and dormitories and classrooms.

Several evenings there has been no water in the water system in the patio. It appears as if the school may be outgrowing the water system. Forrest finally shut the water off for one night so the supply could build up. Several times the possibility of bringing in another spring into the line has been considered, but since it will take several hundred feet of pipe, and hence quite a sum of money, so far it has been rejected.

Until harvest is completed about the first of June, guards will be stationed each night to protect the grain and potato fields. Several Bible School boys are sent out each night for this. Those who guard do not work in the afternoon.

One morning as the workers started their various tasks they discovered the temporary roof gone from the new tile oven. They found the marks of a ladder, which had been leaned against the oven. Someone remembered the loaning of the farm ladder to a nearby family. Two fellows went to investigate if the ladder had been used. After much questioning one of the boys of the family admitted he had taken the roof—a different way to show appreciation for what had been done for his family.

The numerous fuel barrels must sit out in the weather for lack of a roof, and every "twice in a while" it is discovered that water and gasoline do not mix. The last occasion was the refueling of the jeep. Carol had a time and a half getting back from taking the guards to work. Forrest then cleaned the carburator and tank, and Iverna started one short trip to take medicine to an old man who is too sick to come here. That time the jeep was led back by the tractor. Next day Iverna and Orpha again tried the jeep out and finally completed the trip between jumps and false starts. They had a merry time, declared that jeep refused to be weaned off gas!

Life is never dull on a farm, and Copajira is no exception. This is God's farm, bought for the purpose of supporting His Bible School in this place for Aymara young men, and we pray it will continue to fulfill its purpose!

HAYDEN LAKE DEDICATION

Hayden Lake is in the "panhandle" of Idaho. It is located on Highway 95, which goes north and south. The town is 120 miles south of Canada, and 500 miles north of Greenleaf. It is four miles north of Coeur d'Alene, 35 miles from Spokane, and only about 50 miles ("bird route"), or 75 miles (by road) from Montana. Twelve miles from Hayden Lake on the north is the "Twin Lakes Conference Grounds."

The new 35' by 67' basement block church was just completed in time for the Quarterly Meeting sessions, and the dedication service was held on Sunday afternoon, February 9. Completed at a cost of $6,000.00, and a lot of hard work, this new edifice is a tribute to the five or so families who are carrying the load of this new venture in faith. Members of the church expressed that they never could have completed the project without the untiring effort of the pastor, who even went off to the apple harvest in the fall to earn funds to complete the building.

Irwin and Zarilda Alger and daughter Miriam, along with the membership of the church, were wonderful hosts. There were about 40 in attendance at the dedication. Outline of the dedication service was as follows:

Prelude by Esther Mae Thomas of Spokane; special song by Glen Moor; welcome expressed by pastor of church; prayer by William Thomas, Quarterly Meeting superintendent; scripture reading by Floyd Dunlap of Spokane; Marimba solo by Ronald Turner, Spokane; message of dedication by Dean Gregory, general superintendent, greetings from the Board of Evangelism in a letter read from Clare Willcuts, president; song, "Bless This House," by Patricia Morse; dedicatory prayer by Frederick B. Baker.

There was a loyalty seen in Inland Quarterly Meeting which was held Friday and Saturday, which is heartening. More than 70 were in attendance for both the C.E. rally Friday night, and the morning and afternoon sessions on Saturday. One-third of the entire Quarterly Meeting was represented, even though many of them had to travel 150 miles to get there.

Capable leadership was in evidence at the sessions of the Quarterly Meeting. Churches are located, or being relocated, in strategic centers. Hayden Lake church was moved this year from the country into town. Entiat Friends church is having to relocate because of the building of "The Rocky Reach Dam." Edifices at Spokane and East Wenatchee are located in wonderful areas. Quincy church is looking forward to purchasing property and building, but is temporarily located in a good area, and has recently completed a Sunday school unit to take care of its growing Sunday school. This conclusion: Inland Quarterly Meeting Friends churches are on the move.

Board of Evangelism Challenge

CHURCH MEMBERSHIP GOALS

By Frederick B. Baker

"SIX Thousand in Sixty" is the goal of the Board of Evangelism of Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends Church for the next three years, ending June 30, 1960. To reach a goal of 6,000 Quakers in the Northwest by 1960, a five per cent gain in membership each year for the next three years will have to be attained. Is this possible?

A church extension chart of the Yearly Meeting has been prepared by the writer which reveals that 11 times during the past 65 years gains of five per cent or more have been attained. The goal is possible. It has been done before, and it can be done again and again.

This extension chart divides the history of Oregon Yearly Meeting into three distinct eras, and it would appear that we are on the verge of another era:

ERA NUMBER ONE

The first era was from 1893 to 1923. This was a period of 30 years of evangelistic effort in which there was a growth in membership from 1363 to 3423 for a three per cent average yearly gain. Nine times during these decades there was a gain of five per cent or more in membership. Our churches grew from 10 to 24 monthly meetings, bringing 2060 new members into fellowship with Friends. Evangelism and church extension characterized this period which lasted for three decades, and then plunged into a decline during the second era.

ERA NUMBER TWO

The second era was from 1923 to 1933. This ten year period showed a consistent drop in membership from 3423 to 3089, with a loss of 334 for the decade. Greatest loss was in 1929, with 163 members for a five per cent drop, which if maintained would have produced a "lost Yearly Meeting."

The question arises, Why did Oregon Yearly Meeting stop growing after 30 years of advance, and then start down the hill so swiftly? This is an important question, for if the 30 year upward trend had been maintained during the fourth decade there would have been a membership of 4601 at the end of the decade, instead of the drop to 3089. This "tail spin" cost the Yearly Meeting over 1500 potential members on this basis.

The period opened with 24 monthly meetings, and ended with the same number. Several new churches were established, and several others were disbanded, so it ended with the same number. Reports during this period indicate decisions were made to strengthen present churches rather than to open up new ones. Very little church extension characterized this period of ten years time. The result was a serious decline.

ERA NUMBER THREE

The third era was from 1933 to 1958. During this period there was a growth in membership from 3089 to 5193, which added 2104 members to the Yearly Meeting. This quarter century saw a gain of nearly three per cent per year, which averaged very consistently with its first 30 years. Twenty new monthly meetings and 18 outposts were established during this time, making a total of 62 churches. Simultaneously with the fervency of church extension and evangelism on the home field was the development of a foreign missionary field in Bolivia, which has shown tremendous growth. Twice during this time gains of five per cent in membership were made in Oregon Yearly Meeting. Evangelism with much renewed church extension characterized this third era. The result was an upward climb once again.

IS THIS A NEW ERA?

Will the year 1958 be the beginning of a new era in which there will be at least a five per cent gain in membership, year after year? I would like to give three reasons why I believe such an advance is possible:

1. The Standards of Excellence Program of the Board of Christian Education, with its goal of "On to 6,000" in the Sunday Schools. Life here means life in our churches, for the Sunday School is the greatest feeder of the church. Here is where we get most of our new membership.

2. The Standards of Stability Program of the Board of Evangelism. Many outposts have been formed during the past years which did not come to fruition. For instance, one year there were 12 outposts listed, but only four of them actually became monthly meetings in the years that followed. There are now 18 outposts in the Yearly Meeting, and it appears that at least 90% of them will become established monthly meetings. Close supervision by the Board of Evangelism as to location, building, and personnel, has tended to much stability. Stability here means much to future growth.

3. The Profession of Faith Trend in Membership. Many of the 2104 members that came into the church during the last 25 years in all of our churches came in on profession of faith. Careful analysis reveals that more came in this way than by birth, letter, or certificates combined. New converts coming into our churches on profession of faith is our greatest potential to growth.

An analysis was made of membership received

THIS IS WHAT

Friendsview Manor

By Charles A. Beals

HAS TO OFFER YOU

A NEW CONCEPT of retirement living, where congenial men and women of Christian faith, who are 65 years of age or over, and who have lived busy, useful lives, band together to live for the rest of their days in comfort, with independence and in security, with self-respect.

LOCATION: The Manor will be located on an ideal 13-acre site bordering George Fox College campus at Newberg, Oregon, where the residents will be within walking distance of the college, the downtown shopping district, the bus depot, and the many churches of the city, and within a few minutes driving distance to Portland and Salem. In quiet surroundings the Manor site affords a breath-taking panoramic view of the beautiful Willamette Valley, surrounded by nearby Farrett and Chehalem mountains, and in the distance the Red Hills and the Coast Range.

LIVING ACCOMMODATIONS: The Manor, built to house approximately 150 people, will be a five-story structure of modern design, completely fireproof, and so planned that each apartment will have outside light and a lovely view through mammoth thermo-pane picture-view windows. Private living quarters, consisting of one-room or two-room apartments, will be home-like, beautiful, and convenient. The walls will be plaster finish, and the color scheme may be chosen by the resident. The floors will be furnished with wall-to-wall carpets, and every room will have a plug-in connection to the master TV antenna. Apartments will be heated with low pressure steam through modern baseboard radiation, with individual heat control in each room.

Private bathrooms equipped with low, non-skid tubs with grab bars will be provided. A telephone in each room will serve as an emergency call system to the infirmary, with a trained nurse in charge. Or it may be used for many pleasant visits with friends in the Manor, or, for a slight additional fee, may be connected to the public telephone exchange.

KITCHENETTES: On each floor of the building will be a kitchenette to serve all residents on that floor. These kitchenettes will be luxury items since all meals will be served in the main dining room; however, they will enable the preparation of refreshments when guests drop in.

DINING ROOM SERVICE: Fine meals will be provided for all in the beautiful, carpeted dining room with its spacious view-windows overlooking the country side. Residents requiring special diets as prescribed by physicians will be served accordingly.

HOBBIES-CRAFTS: Residents of Friendsview Manor will have many opportunities to live full, abundant lives. There will be woodworking and other hobby and craft rooms where both men and women may learn hobbies and make useful articles. Some will want to use their spare time to make articles to sell in the gift shop.

RECREATION: A recreation room will be provided for relaxing, social gatherings, table games, ping pong, shuffleboard, and other entertaining games. Outdoor space will be available for picnic grounds, horse shoe courts, croquet areas, and individual plots for flower and vegetable gardening hobbies.

AUDITORIUM AND CHAPEL: An auditorium is planned for programs, entertainments, lectures, moving pictures, etc. This room will also serve as a chapel for regular worship services.

OTHER SPECIAL FEATURES: Besides the spacious lounge on the main floor, there will be smaller lounges with picturesque views on each of the other floors. Also will be available a library, gift shop, and beauty and barber shops. In the basement will be a sewing room, and a laundry equipped with automatic washing machines, dryers, and ironers for use by the residents for their personal laundering.

INFIRMARY CARE: Friendsview Manor will be a residence for retired people who are in reasonably good health for their ages at the time of entrance. However, once a person becomes a resident, he will be cared for when sick, including chronic ailments and final illness. A modern infirmary is to be built in connection with the Manor where one or more nurses will be in charge at all times. Infirmary patients will be assured of gentle, loving care at all times, and will not be neglected even though they should grow feeble

From the Board of CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

SPECIAL SUNDAY SCHOOL OFFERING

There has been some misunderstanding regarding the Sunday school offering for the Board of Christian Education. "Why are the Sunday schools being asked to give?" "What is all the money going for?" are a few of the questions being asked. Let us try to explain.

For years the work of the board was supported by the United Budget. Last year we discussed (in our board) this whole arrangement, and unanimously felt that the Sunday schools of the Yearly Meeting should have some direct share in supporting the Sunday school phase of our board's work. Thus for the first year of the change we asked a free will offering from each Sunday school, in addition to the United Budget asking. This past year we dropped our United Budget asking nearly $500, and dropped the idea of a special Sunday school offering on a certain Sunday. Instead we asked for a minimum United Budget contribution plus the request from each Sunday school for a 35¢ per pupil contribution. The overall amount remained practically the same for the Sunday school work, or it will if more Sunday schools respond.

The Executive Committee of the Yearly Meeting unanimously approved the policy of the Sunday schools supporting our Sunday school work, and made the suggestion of a 35¢ per pupil rate. This we were willing to do.

The money goes for the Sunday school work of the board throughout the Yearly Meeting. This means helping to send representative people in our Yearly Meeting to the National Sunday School Association convention, printing and promoting those materials necessary for our work (monthly Sunday school news sheet, posters, etc.), arranging area conferences in Sunday school work, etc. Of course we can not use the money unless it comes in. Some Sunday schools are unable to do even this much, a few have no disposition to help, while many are anxious to do all they can.

All in all, we are trying to carry on a vital Sunday school work that will reach down into every Sunday school in the Yearly Meeting with vital help for a more effective ministry to our Sunday school mission field.

To date (February 1) here are the Sunday schools that have sent in their money. If you have sent in, and your name does not appear, please let us know: Forest Home, Second Friends (Portland), Holly Park, Marion, Oak Park, Ontario, Rose Valley, West Chehalem, Piedmont, Melba, First Friends (Portland), Seattle Memorial, Medford, Metolius.

BOARD OF STEWARDSHIP

STEWARDSHIP OF THE GOSPEL

"He that of greatest works is finisher,
Oft does them by the weakest minister;
So Holy Writ in babes hath judgment shown,
When judges have been babes; Great floods have flown

From simple sources; And great seas have dried
When miracles have by the greatest been denied."
—Shakespeare's "All's Well that Ends Well"

In Matthew's Gospel, chapter 19, verses 16-22, is the recorded story of a young man who, upon being invited to become a disciple, went away sorrowful. He had great possessions, and was not willing to part with them in order to follow Jesus. He kept his wealth and lost his Savior. He wanted eternal life, but he preferred earthly wealth. He wanted to be perfect, but wouldn't pay the price. Peter said "We have left all and followed you. Now what are we to get?"

We are inclined to sympathize with Peter. For which one of us has not, at some time, asked a similar question about Christian work? With His infinite capacity for patience, Jesus gave Peter, and all of us, the assurance that He would finally come to His throne. And He made the matchless promise of a return of 1,000 percent on any investment we may make. "Everyone who has left brothers or sisters or father or mother or wife or children or lands or houses for my name's sake will get one hundred times as much and inherit life eternal."

Jesus pointed out the peril in refusing to enter the service of Christ, and the danger of a commercial spirit in seeking for rewards in such service. What then do we get? If we enter the Savior's service in a bargaining frame of mind, we get what we bargain for. Christian happiness and success in life are based upon what we can give, rather than what we can take out of life. In the story of the good shepherd Jesus has a name for the one who works exclusively for pay, whose eyes are on the wages, whose motive is gain. He calls him an "hireling." In the crisis, when the wolf comes, he flees, forgetting all about the sheep. What shall he get? He will get just what he bargained for—his worldly coin. Men today need shepherding. God wants laborers in His vineyard of whom it may be said, as it was said of Barnabas, "He was a good man and full of the Holy Ghost."

What shall we get? If we enter the Master's service, willing to spend and be spent, we get inner happiness, power, and satisfaction. When we work for our Lord, not for wages but for the joy of working, we will get power to witness, fellowship in service, unity with the brethren, courage for the task, protection from God, and eternal reward.

—John M. Retherford

BROTHERHOOD

In October David Delano had to leave the project at Holly Park and go to Portland for hospitalization. He never got to return and see the fulfillment of one of his great desires—the completion of Holly Park church. After three months of illness he went to be with his Lord on January 23.

David Delano left a trail of great things behind him. He had a consuming passion to see the work of God expand. The doctor told him 50 years ago that he must not do hard work, but how could he keep still when there was so much to be done? In spite of the warning he kept working and had a big part in the building of many new churches—churches of other denominations as well as Friends.

He was not only a worker, but he was a giver. At a Brotherhood meeting a few years ago he offered to give $500.00 if five other men would raise an equal amount. Over $1100.00 was raised in that meeting.

In memory of David Delano, the Piedmont Friends church and the Frazier family have set up a memorial fund to be applied on some specific item in the new Holly Park church. If you would like to have a part in this memorial, please send your contribution to Peter Snow, treasurer of Piedmont Friends Brotherhood, 5806 N. Mississippi Ave., Portland 11, Oreg., marked "David Delano Fund."

As for the progress of the work at Holly Park, a lot of detail work has been done on the building, with preliminary planning on the heating plant and electric wiring, and they are about ready now to begin the last phase of construction.

GREENLEAF ACADEMY

Basketball is over for Greenleaf Academy for this year. The season records show 11 wins and 9 losses. The academy was awarded the sportsmanship trophy in the Skyline Tournament played at Greenleaf February 13-14-15. The Grizzley Five came in second in the regular competition, losing first place in an overtime game. On February 7th Joan Howard was crowned Queen of the Court before a capacity crowd in the annual coronation ceremonies. The annual basketball banquet was held February 21st in Friendship Hall.

Sports aren't the only thing around GFA which is noteworthy. New choir robes have been ordered and are to arrive the first of March. Mrs. Gwynn is directing choir and band the second semester due to the resignation of Mr. Hansen.

The state school inspector visited the school Thursday, February 20, and was favorably impressed with recent improvements.

We are glad to have four new students in the halls of GFA this semester. Vernel Bell and Rex LaBrie have transferred from Boise and Dean Jenkins, a former student, has re-entered. Three students, Vesta Stanfield, Hail Williams, and Pat McAbee dropped out the second semester.

The chapels during the past few weeks have been inspirational, and many students have found new victory and been inspired to live closer to the Lord.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

YOUTH SPEECH CONTEST

The Board of Peace and Service is again inviting our youth to participate in an original speech contest. We anticipate this as an effective way to encourage research and promote interest in the Christian teaching regarding peace. Those who enter the contest, and their friends who listen to the speeches, should be stimulated to serious meditation upon this subject in a time when the world lives on the brink of war.

CONTEST RULES

1. General Topic: "Should a Christian Participate in War?" Contestants are urged to be original in wording their own themes within the scope of this general topic.

2. Eligibility: High School Division—Any boy or girl not through high school, nor over 19 years of age as of August 1, 1958. (This would include any who are younger than high school age.) College Division—All college students or any other young person not over 26 years of age as of August 1, 1958.

3. Orations must be:

(a) Local meetings are urged to arrange tryouts. Even if only one entry from your meeting, have him give his speech before your group before going to the area try-out.

(b) Area tryouts to be conducted not later than the May Quarterly Meeting.

(c) One finalist to be chosen in each division from each Quarterly Meeting to compete in the final contest to be held during Yearly Meeting.

(d) Results of area contests to be mailed not later than June 5th, 1958, to: Paul Mills, George Fox College, Newberg, Oregon.

(e) Three typewritten copies of orations for final entry must be submitted to Paul Mills. (Postmarked not later than August 1, 1958.)

5. Judging to be as follows:

Content: (possible 60 points)

EUGENE ANNIVERSARY

February 12th is not only the birthday of a very famous American, but it also marks the date that the first prayer meeting was held to pray about establishing a Friends work under Oregon Yearly Meeting in Eugene. February 9 was our sixth anniversary Sunday as we counted another milestone. Arthur Roberts and family, including his mother, and soloist Bill Hopper, came to us from George Fox College for the day. Arthur brought the morning message and Bill sang for both the morning and afternoon services.

Other out-of-town guests included Clifton Ross, Salem; Hazel Pierson, Salem; and the Hubert Armstrongs, Portland. Former members of our congregation that returned for the day were: Ernest Pearson's, Salem; Charles McCann's, Corvallis; Hugh Holland's, Portland; and Kenneth Miller's, Lebanon. Greetings were read from Superintendent Dean Gregory, Donald Millage's, Portland, and Mrs. Lou Wickwire, Colorado.

After the noon meal featuring turkey and trimmings, we reassembled for a short program with Robert Armstrong as master of ceremonies. He showed and narrated colored slides of people and events of the past six years, interspersed with musical numbers and a reading by Esther Fowler. There were vocal solos by Marilyn Pearson and Marian Powell; a ladies trio, Norma Beebe, Lois Lehman and Marjorie Simmons; a violin, clarinet and vocal number by the George Bales family; and an accordion duet by Marilyn and Linda Wilhite. Our pastor closed the program with a short message.

We truly thank God for His blessings and leadings, and are looking forward to the future with confidence as we labor here in the "corner" that God has entrusted to us.

TWILIGHT VESPERS

The following communication, which will be of special interest to those living in the Portland area, has been received from Quincy and Eilene Fodge, pastors at Cambridge, Idaho, whose radio program "Twilight Vespers" has been heard for two years over a radio station in Nampa, Idaho.

"Beginning Sunday, March 2nd, our radio program will be broadcast over KRWC, 1570 kc, the new Christian radio station located at Forest Grove. They have offered to run the program for the month of March to see if a sponsor or several sponsors can be found to pay for the radio time, or to see if people will support it through their free-will offerings. The program time, according to our last word from them is to be around 5:30 Sunday evenings.

"After much prayerful consideration, we have felt the Lord would have us step out on faith and trust Him for this supply. Our present program was started a little over two years ago, by faith, and the Lord supplied sponsors, and so we are stepping out on His promise again, 'Behold, I have set before thee an open door, and no man can shut it' (Rev. 4:8-9)."

NEWBERG QUARTERLY MEETING

Newberg Quarterly Meeting met at Chehalem Center on February 7, 8, and 9. The new addition to the church helped accommodate the people, both during the worship service and during the dinner hour in the basement.

Carl Miller was speaker at the Ministry and Oversight meeting on Friday night. Herman Macy is clerk of that group.

Clem Brown presided at the Saturday afternoon meeting for worship. He led in singing and testimonies. Paul Cammack was speaker and told of the Lord leading in making important decisions in the work on the Bolivian mission field. The CE young people presented a skit of the work of CE and urged the older people to come to the CE rally.

Phyllis Cammack was in charge of the missionary program. It was in the form of questions and answers. Joseph McCracken presented the questions, which Paul, Phyllis and David Cammack answered.

Charlotte Macy and Dorothy Barratt presented the Silvertown story, told of the help of neighbors and people of other churches, and told how the Lord is working in the building of their church. Our meeting took an offering to help in their work.

Paul Mills, Kenneth Fendall, and Violet Brown were clerks of the business session that followed the evening dinner hour in the basement.

Ralph Cammack presided at the Sunday afternoon CE rally, John Retherford was the missionary speaker, the Retherford sisters and Lonny Fendall and Rachel Baker furnished special music.

INLAND QUARTERLY MEETING

Inland Quarterly Meeting met in its ninth session at Hayden Lake Friends Church.

We appreciated and rejoiced with Hayden Lake Friends as we met with them in their new church basement.

Ronnie Turner led the song service. Fred Baker, Board of Evangelism member, who was a visitor to Inland Quarterly Meeting, led in prayer. William Thomas presided over the meeting. Irwin Alger briefed us on how the Hayden Lake group began, and the progress they have made.

Among the visitors who were welcomed were Zenas and Katherine Perisho, of Caldwell, Idaho, and Mrs. Grace Hadley, of Star, mother of Mrs. Walter Wilhite.

We enjoyed the presence of God in the meeting throughout. Hearts were broken up as the Spirit of God came on the meeting when people testified and prayed. Dean Gregory gave us a Spirit-filled message that challenged our hearts to go back to our churches and really work.

In the afternoon Fred Baker presented church extension work in a visual way, which was very interesting. Representatives gave reports of the progress of each church. Lila Franklin, superintendent of Stewardship for Inland Quarterly Meeting, presented a very good skit with the assistance of Mrs. Hadley and Mrs. Griffith, of Entiat. Geneva Eichenberger presented the work of the Inland W. M. U. A very interesting missionary skit by recorder was brought by the Spokane church.

The Quincy young people won the banner for attendance.

Kenneth Eichenberger has invited everyone to help them celebrate their 50th anniversary at our next Quarterly Meeting.

PUGET SOUND QUARTERLY MEETING

Puget Sound Quarterly Meeting opened on Friday night, January 31, with the CE rally presided over by Donna Veeder, Quarterly Meeting C. E. superintendent. Richard Leach led the song and testimony service, and special music was furnished by Mike Hathaway on his saxophone. Quentin Nurdyke brought an interesting message on "Lighthouses." At the social hour the group enjoyed a birthday cake celebrating the 17th anniversary of C. E.

The Saturday morning session opened with songs led by Dick Hendricks which was followed by a season of testimony. Dean Gregory sang a special number, after which he brought the morning message which he called "Points of Inspiration." He told of the natural beauty spot called Point of Inspiration in Yellowstone Park, then mentioned the inspiration points enjoyed by the disciples, such as the mount of transfiguration, then reminded the group that we cannot live at these points but must be concerned with everyday living, and with those in the neighborhood around us.

Opening the afternoon business session Leroy Neifert brought devotions on "Living under the Standard of Holiness."

According to the plan of featuring two committees at each Quarterly Meeting session, at the February meeting Ernest Hadlock presented the work of the Finance Committee, and Georgetta Ricketts presented Dean Gregory who spoke on the work of the Peace and Service Committee.

GREENLEAF QUARTERLY MEETING

Greenleaf Quarterly Meeting met February 1st at Ontario Friends church. Willard Kennon led the singing, also bringing a special message in song. A season of prayer and testimony was a real blessing to all.

Clare Willcuts brought the message of the morning, using as his scripture reading, Col. 2:1-9. For his text he used Col. 2:6-8. He was much concerned that we have a "better church." We need big Christians—little people completely filled with the Holy Spirit make big Christians. We need a clear purpose and complete confidence in our belief of Christ. There are three types of people who aren't afraid today—the uninformed, over confident person, and the real Christian. His message had three main points:

(1) Spiritual rootage. We must be rooted and built up in Christ. Our conversion is necessarily the first step, which will make us a new creature. We must be consecrated completely and filled with the Holy Spirit, nothing reserved for self, always a mind and heart open for new light, for we grow daily as Christ leads.

(2) Christian in ideals. We must be Christ-like in our conduct and attitudes. We must discipline self, be honest with God and man. Be loyal to our church. Loyalty is a result of a true concern. Faithfulness to our church shows the depth of our real loyalty and concern for God and others. We are living in a fearful world. If the message of the church does not save the people, a false doctrine will damn them.

(3) Evangelistic fervor. Our message must be positive, if it's real to us let's tell others. God is all-powerful, our opportunities are precious, Christ is striving to evangelize people with faithful servants, the competition is great. Christ is real, let's redeem the time and understand God's will.

The noon hour was spent in a very pleasant atmosphere. The Ontario ladies were kind and courteous.

The afternoon meeting opened with a song service. Forrest Holmes offered prayer. Ramero Rayes brought the devotions, reading Jer. 6:17 and Matt. 11:28-30. "The true way to a Christian life." He expressed his real thanks for God's love in his heart and the way Christ has led him and his family. We appreciate our Spanish speaking friends.

BOISE VALLEY QUARTERLY MEETING

The Ministry and Oversight met on Friday evening, January 23rd, at the Star church. Marlin Witt was the speaker, who brought a challenging message from John 21:16, "Feed my sheep."

The worship service was held Saturday morning at 10:30, with Superintendent Marlin Witt in charge. The Greenleaf Academy male quartet brought a number of messages in song, which were greatly appreciated.

This was a truly typical Friends meeting of earlier days, with the preaching hour left open for messages as the Lord directed. A time of testimony, prayer and praise was held, after which Clare Willcuts said that the Lord had laid it upon his heart to bring the message. He spoke on the theme of redeeming the time because the days are evil. Our only hope for peace is to accept the Prince of Peace. The only counter-attack on sin is Christianity.

At noon a pot-luck fellowship dinner was enjoyed after which the business session was held, with Raymond Haworth in charge. Randall Emry brought the devotions using the theme, "What to do when tempted." Time is growing short. Wickedness is on all hands. Satan is walking about and seeking whom he may devour, and misquoting the Bible and deceiving whomsoever he can. Whom resist steadfast in the faith, knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the world (1 Pet. 5:9).

Special reports were given from the annual convention of the Allied Civic Forces. Everett Gulley reported on this, stating the three Hebrew children set an example for all of us today. They had the courage to obey God, regardless of what the people around them thought. They took a firm stand for God. A Boise pastor was asked to give a talk against liquor, but refused as he said he didn't want to split up his church. Allied Civic Forces are working for legislation to put beer out of grocery stores.

Ada Haworth also reported on the meeting. She brought out the statement that the liquor problem is one the church should be taking care of, and NOT leave it up to the WCTU.

The Christian Endeavor rally was held Sunday afternoon at 3:00 with a program planned on the theme, "Lord, I believe."

CHURCH MEMBERSHIP GOALS (Concluded from page 7)

into the churches of Oregon Yearly Meeting from 1933 to 1958. 3304 came in on request, 1142 by birth, 854 by letter from other groups, 987 from other Yearly Meetings, and 3406 from other meetings of Oregon Yearly Meeting. At the same time that we received 987 from other Yearly Meetings we transferred 584 to other Yearly Meetings, so the net gain from this source for the 25 year period was 403. The 3406 received from one monthly meeting to another helps the local meeting, but actually does not increase the Yearly Meeting numbers by such transfers.

"Six Thousand in Sixty" means we need 260 new members in 1958, 272 in 1959, and 286 in 1960. "Enlarge the place of thy tent and let them stretch forth the curtains of thine habitations: spare not, lengthen thy cords and strengthen thy stakes" (Isaiah 54:2).

BOARD OF EVANGELISM NAMES A PROMOTION SECRETARY

In a recent meeting of the Board of Evangelism it was determined that a stronger promotion of the work of church extension, along with closer relationship with the outpost meetings and pastors, is increasingly urgent. After careful consideration and prayer the board was united in asking one of its own members, Frederick B. Baker, to serve as promotion secretary on a part-time basis. He will continue as pastor of the Hillsboro meeting. He began his work for the board the first of January, with his salary for the remaining of the year being underwritten by a concerned Friend. It is expected that he will be able to give one day a week, and three week-ends, during the last six months of the church year ending June 30, 1958.

The duties of this office were outlined as follows:

1. PROMOTION AND PUBLICITY. This will include preparation of brochures, monthly articles in the Northwest Friend, general publicity, editing the Outposter, etc.

2. OUTPOST VISITATION. This will of necessity be on a limited scale.

3. CONVENTIONS AND CONFERENCES. Church Extension and Evangelism Commission at the NAE Convention, Home Missionary Conference at George Fox College, Quarterly Meeting Conferences on Church Extension.

4. RESEARCH. A research of the historical development of Oregon Yearly Meeting, showing relationship of the Board of Evangelism to other phases of church life (college, missions, financial, etc.), population trends and study of strategic centers for Friends outpost development.

5. CORRESPONDENCE. To outpost pastors and organizations related to church extension work.

The promotion secretary is to be directly responsible to the general superintendent, though working in cooperation with others. The board has felt the need for this for a long time, and we are very happy with this arrangement.

—Clare Willcuts, president

either in mind or body.

COTTAGE PLAN: Those desiring to live in cottages prior to moving to the central building may build to their own plans. They will pay their own living expenses, but pay no monthly fee. Infirmary care will be at approximate cost. Cottagers, if and when they desire, may transfer to the central building by selling their cottages to successors and applying the sale price on membership fee, board, and operational costs of living in the main building.

THERE ARE MANY MORE FEATURES, but why don't you invite the Manor representative, Charles Beals, 215 S. College Street, Newberg, Oregon, to come to your home to give the complete details of this modern retirement program? There will be no obligation in the least.

COST: Charles Beals will gladly outline for you the costs which you will find to be very modest in contrast to maintaining your own private housing with its much greater capital investment, its taxes, fire insurance, maintenance, depreciation, utilities, and the possible private nursing-home costs which you may face sometime during your years of retirement.

LYNWOOD GETS UNDER WAY

By Ethelyn A. Shattuck

GEORGE PALMER, PASTOR OF LYNWOOD FRIENDS CHURCH

After several months of taxiing Lynwood is about ready to take to the air. At the February 9th meeting, held at the home of Willard and Ethelyn Shattuck, two important decisions were made to lift us along.

It was decided to accept the plans of architect Donald Lindgren as he presented them to the meeting. He was instructed to proceed with detailed plans. The first unit calls for a chapel, class rooms, nursery, rest rooms, pastor's study, a mothers' room, and a kitchen. This section will eventually be used for a social hall and additional class rooms.

The second decision was to participate in the Broadway Bond plan of church financing whereby $15,000 worth of 5% interest bearing bonds will be sold to people who desire to invest. Several hundred dollars worth of bonds have already been asked for. Special effort will be made to sell the remaining bonds in March. We hope to begin construction in April on property being bought by the church on S.E. 162nd Avenue between Yamhill and Taylor. Cash and pledges for monthly support have been coming in in a satisfactory manner.

The capable building committee is composed of Dr. Earl P. Barker, James Meireis, Bertram Frazier, and Virginia James. The pastor and presiding clerk is George Palmer, recording clerk is Myron O. James, and Northwest Friend reporter is Ethelyn A. Shattuck.

One of the most pronounced characteristics of the Lynwood group is the unity of spirit among the people. It is surely a propitious note on which to begin a new church.

NEWBERG QUARTERLY MEETING

Our last rally was held on February 9 at Chehalem Center Friends Church. Special recognition was given to the Netarts high school CE and West Chehalem intermediate CE for best attendance at the rally.

The program for this quarter's rally was based on missions. Ardon Butler, missionary chairman for the Quarterly Meeting, gave a short talk on some of the activities and duties of the missionary committee.

The song service was led by James McDonnell, and special music was given by Lonny Fendall and Rachel Baker who played a trombone duet. We were also favored with a special from the Retherford sisters—Judi, Patsy, and Dixie—and from Mrs. Retherford.

We were very privileged to have Mr. Retherford speak to us on missions and challenge us to know and do God's will for our lives.

MELBA INTERMEDIATE C. E.

We are happy to say that our intermediate C.E. has increased in attendance the past quarter.

At Christmas time we united with the senior C.E. in distributing boxes of goodies to the community shut-ins.

Twelve of our members attended the C.E. rally at Star on Sunday, January 26th, and brought back a trophy (no banners available) for largest attendance based on distance traveled and average Sunday night attendance. Our senior C.E. and the intermediate C.E. of Star, tied for this honor.

We are visiting Nampa intermediate C.E. Sunday night, February 1st, and Ronnie Linehart will bring the lesson, Evangelyn Green will lead the song service, and Dedah Newkirk will have a Bible quiz.

SPOKANE C. E. NEWS

On Valentine's Day evening the regular youth night of the church was combined with a Christian Endeavor social under the leadership of Wally Wilhite. Mrs. Esther Dunlap and Mrs. Helen Curryer prepared tuna sandwiches, punch, jello and cake for 34 people. Several new games were introduced, including "musical hearts," a Valentine version of "musical chairs."

The senior C.E. has produced and recorded a radio broadcast, "What it Costs to Have a National Church," by Jack Willcuts. The piece was adapted from the Northwest Friend and will be used at the Yearly Meeting mid-winter board meetings.

FINANCIAL REPORT

AROUND GEORGE FOX COLLEGE

GIFTS TO THE COLLEGE

Recent gifts to the college include a $1,000 scholarship, a tractor, scientific equipment, and an outdoor drinking fountain.

Crown Zellerbach Foundation has given a $1,000 scholarship grant to the college to be awarded to a junior or senior student in the fields of education, physical, or social science. The new grant for the 1958-59 school year covers a single scholarship of $600, with the remaining $400 for the college to cover additional costs to the college incidental to the matriculation of the student.

The concern of four students for a new tractor to assist in the upkeep of the campus was realized in January when a contract with a McMinnville dealer was agreed upon jointly by the students and the administration. The tractor, a wheel-type Farmall 100, was delivered on January 31, and already has seen many hours of service in campus road improvements, wood hauling and general campus cleanup. Those initiating and paying for the project are John Davies, Ralph Cammack, John Davis and Harold Brown.

Sarah Rempel, of Los Angeles, Calif., has again made a considerable contribution to the college through a gift of scientific equipment for the physics laboratory valued at $600. Evan Rempel, assistant professor of mathematics and physics, selected the equipment during his visit home at Christmas time.

An outdoor drinking fountain, consisting of beautiful brick, two fixtures with a planter between in which is growing a large sword fern, was completed during January by John Davies and John Davis. A gift of the Class of '57 it is located at the north edge of the Senior Rose Garden midway between Wood-Mar Hall and the Dining Hall.

CAMPUS FOUNTAIN—GIFT OF CLASS OF '57

STUDENT UNION BUILDING DEDICATED

STUDENT UNION
The Lounge on the right, Prayer Room with high ceiling in the middle, and Student Offices on the left.

The new Student Union building was formally dedicated and opened at the close of the Valentine formal held in the college dining hall Friday evening, February 14.

Dick Mott, president of the student body, cut the ribbon formally opening the lounge area following a dedicatory prayer by Dr. Arthur Roberts and remarks by the college pastor, Charles Beals.

The black and gray floor tile sets off the white plastic upholstered furniture, TV set, and record player. The grand piano from the Music Hall will now be permanently located in the lounge. Money from the Mott estate was used to furnish the lounge.

Both John and Edwin Fankhauser worked several days and nights to complete the laying of the floor tile in time for the formal opening.

We are grateful to God, the students, donors, and many faithful workers who have made this beautiful and useful building possible on our campus. Besides the lounge with refreshment facilities, there is the much needed prayer room, book store, student publications office, and council room.

DEBT LIQUIDATION CAMPAIGN

The Debt Liquidation drive, though slowing somewhat during the last two months, has reached the $98,000 mark as of February 15.

We are praying and working to reach the $100,000 mark by March 1, the date of the Newberg Chamber of Commerce-George Fox faculty banquet, which is to be the kickoff meeting for the local drive to secure support from the Newberg area. Faculty and staff will be available as speakers to inform local groups and organizations as to the needs of the college as well as the advantages the college offers to the community. Weekly articles featuring the various academic divisions of the curriculum are appearing in the Newberg Graphic. A display of literature, pictures and colored slides in an automatic slide projector is being used in windows and bank lobbies around town to inform the public regarding the college.

George Fox College Day services in the various churches are proving a blessing and a success toward attainment of the debt liquidation goal and final accreditation. Any church desiring such a service may make arrangements by writing to the president of the college.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

The college a cappella choir consists of 25 voices under the direction of William Koenig. Although smaller in numbers this year, there being 14 young women and 11 young men in the group, the quality is excellent. Good balance is obtained by the six sopranos, seven tenors, seven altos and five basses.

To date sixteen concerts have been scheduled as follows:

- March 1, 6:30 p. m. Newberg Chamber of Commerce-GFC Faculty Debt Liquidation Kick-off Dinner, College Dining Hall
- March 2, 11:00 a. m. Tigard Friends Church, Durham School
- 3:00 p. m. Maplewood Friends Church, 7431 SW 52nd Ave., Portland
- 7:30 p. m. Second Friends Church, 5728 SE 91st Ave., Portland
- April 2, 7:30 p. m. Willamina High School Auditorium, Willamina
- April 3, 7:30 p. m. High School Auditorium, Quilcene, Washington
- April 4, 7:30 p. m. High School Auditorium, Sequim, Washington (Agnew-Sequim area)
- April 5, Open
- April 6, 11:00 a. m. Everett Friends Church, 2202 Wetmore, Everett, Washington
- 3:00 p. m. Seattle Memorial Friends Church, 7736 24th Ave. NE, Seattle, Washington
- 7:30 p. m. McKinley Avenue Friends Church, 4910 McKinley Ave., Tacoma, Washington
- April 7, 7:30 p. m. Rose Valley Friends Church, 1453 Rose Valley Rd., Kelso, Wash.
- April 13, 7:30 p. m. (Oratorio choir) Newberg Friends Church, Newberg, Oregon
- April 20, 11:00 a. m. First United Presbyterian Church, SE 39th & Stevens, Portland, Oregon
- 7:30 p. m. First Friends Church, SE 35th and Main St., Portland, Oregon
- April 27, 3:00 p. m. Silverton Friends Church, Silverton, Oregon
- 7:30 p. m. Highland Avenue Friends Church, Highland Ave., and N. Church, Salem, Oregon
- May 4, 7:30 p. m. Newberg Friends Church, Newberg, Oregon

The Oratorio Choir, the larger of the two choirs, will sing the annual oratorio at Newberg Friends on April 13. This choir has already had two concerts, one at Oak Park Friends in Camas, Washington, and the other at Vancouver First Friends church in Vancouver, both on Sunday, February 9.

BIRTHS

Iem, Oregon, a son, born February 11.

HOCKETT.—To Gene and Betty Hockett, Metolius, Oregon, a daughter, Christine Marie, born February 13.

SMITH.—To Robert and Pat Smith, Newberg, Oregon, a son, Michael Robert, born February 13.

MARRIAGES

TROUT-MENIC.—Joice Menic and Vergel Trout were united in marriage January 10 in the Rosemere Friends church. Esther White officiated.

CONANT-STANFIELD.—Vesta Faye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Stanfield, of Greenleaf, was united in marriage to Dale L. Conant, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Conant of Caldwell.

DEATHS

MARDOCK.—Mrs. Estelle S. Mardock passed away January 23 after an extended illness. She is survived by her husband, W. C. Mardock, six children and 14 grandchildren, her mother Clara Blair and brother Roscoe Stroud. The funeral was held at the Rosedale Friends church officiated by Carl Miller.

DELANO.—David Delano, a member of Piedmont Friends church, died January 23 after an illness of a little over four months. He was working on the Brotherhood project at Holly Park in Seattle when he became ill. He was an active Christian. His energy and zeal in the work of the Lord will not soon be forgotten by those who knew him, especially in the work of the Brotherhood in which he took a vital interest.

LINDSTROM.—Mrs. William Lindstrom was a charter member of the Talent Friends Church and its first Sunday school superintendent. Although she has been an invalid for many years her interest in the Talent Friends church never diminished.

WHILDEN.—Mrs. Nellie Whilden, member of the Piedmont Friends church passed away recently and is greatly missed by the meeting.

ALTIMUS.—Mrs. Meta Altimus, a member of the Spokane Friends church and a faithful Christian, passed away on February 5 at a nursing home near Spokane. She is especially remembered by the young people for her lively interest in their work.

SHATTUCK.—Robert Benedict Shattuck, D. D., 53, passed away in San Marino, Calif., February 8, of a coronary thrombosis. He is survived by his wife Evelyn Emerg, son Lawrence, brother Willard R. of Gresham, Oregon. Services were held February 12 in the Chapel of Presbyterian Headquarters in Los Angeles.

AMONG THE CHURCHES

SALEM QUARTERLY MEETING

SOUTH SALEM

John Fankhauser, pastor

"Building for Christ" is the theme of the SS contest which will soon be under way. The contest features a "traffic chart," with red, amber, and green lights.

A six weeks visitation program begins Feb. 20th. Mr. Peter Becker, of the American SS Union, was in charge of the evening service Feb. 2nd.

The men of the church are continuing to meet for breakfast on Monday mornings. Howard Harmon brought devotions at a recent meeting.

January meeting of Maranatha Missionary Union was held at the May Nordyke home.

Rebekah WMU met Feb. 20th at the home of Charlotte Gruber.

Evelyn Joslin entertained her class of 5th and 6th grade girls at a slumber party at her home.

Ambassadors class had a waffle breakfast before SS Feb. 16th.

Some of the CE groups enjoyed Valentine parties, and the intermediate group entertained the Rosedale CE at a Hobo party.

We are glad to have Cora Nordyke back in the services, after an extended illness.

The women are leading in the Men vs. Women, a contest to see which group will contribute the most to the building fund.

TALENT

A. Clark Smith, pastor

Work is progressing on the finishing of the church. Since our last report new floors have been poured in the basement class rooms, tile has been laid in the vestibule and side rooms. The floor has been finished in the balcony. The sinks and tables have been roughed in in the kitchen. We are thankful to all who have had a part in this work. By the time this is in print we shall have finished the siding on the outside of the church.

February 9th was Flag Raising Day in Talent SS. Each class has its flag, and when the class record is 100% or more it is allowed to raise its flag at the close of the SS. Our goal is an average of 75 during the month of March.

A new junior department has been added to the school, and also a new primary class.

Mr. Nute Tychsen was called to Colorado because of the serious illness of a sister. We extend our sympathy to Mrs. Tychsen in the death of her father, Mr. George Sartain. Services were in Yreka, Calif.

Mrs. Wilbur Wood has been in the Ashland hospital for surgery. She is home and progressing very well.

SILVERTON

Charlotte Macy and Dorothy Barratt, pastors

Progress continues on the new Silverton Church. The faithful members are working very hard to complete their building. The sanctuary, which is the second unit, is rapidly taking form. The floor is poured, the wiring is in and passed inspection, and at this writing (Feb. 18th) most of the sheet rock is on the walls. It is hoped that the sanctuary will be ready for use in March. Dedication of the church will probably not be held until some time in May.

Paul and Phyllis Cammack and family were in our services, Sunday Jan. 19th. Their ministry was a real blessing to our group.

Fred Baker visited our church on Wednesday, Jan. 29, and led our prayer service in the evening. The Lord used him to help lift the load when many of our group were feeling the heavy burden of the work. January 29 and 30 Paul Cammack and Warren Moor gave two full days of labor on our building. This was greatly appreciated.

Our church now has an organized basketball team and plays in the church league of Silverton. So far our boys have won two games and lost one. The basketball team is under the leadership of Lloyd Lyda and Gene Mulkey.

EUGENE

Evert Tuning, pastor

Six of our members are attending the 12-hours of leadership training classes sponsored each year by the churches of the city. It is time well spent in our busy schedules to learn methods of our various avenues of service in the church and SS.

We welcome Milford and Esther House and children, of Homedale, as new members in our meeting.

WMU was in charge of the prayer meeting for their program this month. Virena Tuning presented the work of the Paul Parkers with the Indians in Arizona, and showed some colored slides that the Parkers had sent. A social time with refreshments was enjoyed afterwards with Dorothy Wickwire and Elenita Bales, hostesses.

We enjoyed having Hazel Pierson in our services while she was with Ralph and Wanda Beebe, helping with the new granddaughter. Also Glen and Fannie Beebe, Homedale, visiting the newcomer.

The George Bales' attended the funeral of Elenita's mother, Estelle Mardock, held at Rosedale, Jan. 27.

SCOTTS MILLS

Miller Porter, pastor

Now our full-time pastors, Miller and Hazel Porter, are with us. They moved in the first part of February and have been busy getting settled in the parsonage.

"Not half hearted, but whole hearted," was the theme of the Quarterly Meeting CE retreat at Scotts Mills. The young people had a gracious time.

Marion and Evangeline Cook were host to a Valentine party for the local young people.

Our pastors have been getting acquainted with the folks of the village. They have made several calls in the community, and new people are attending the services.

The CE has undertaken a project of buying pews for a Bolivian church. Our attendance in CE is very good. The young folk are very faithful.

Our SS attendance has been in the thirties.

SPRAGUE RIVER

Gerald and Elaine Cronk, pastors

January was music month in our SS. We enjoyed instrumental music by Rodney Pfeiffer and his mother, Mrs. Rollin Pfeiffer, Wayne Lahoda and Elaine Cronk, as well as several vocal numbers.

On Feb. 16, Mrs. David Schneider, a former missionary to Honduras, came from Chiloquin to give us a fine talk in connection with our missionary emphasis for February.

We enjoyed the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Settle, Mrs. Cronk's parents, in our services on Feb. 9.

WMU met Feb. 11 at the church. Mrs. Settle gave an inspirational lesson on victory, and told about Dr. and Mrs. Paul Parker's work among Indians in Arizona. The ladies worked on shirts for boys in Bolivia.

Douglas McIntyre is making a good recovery from a case of infectious hepatitis. His illness has made it necessary for part of the family to be absent each Sunday.

Our attendance has been good in spite of poor weather. We have some new attenders who have been coming regularly, and hope to start a young married people's class soon.

PRINGLE

Roger Smith, pastor

Our building has been receiving numerous finishing touches in the last several months. A nursery has just been finished which will be a tremendous help to all of us. We are also working toward plans for our new sanctuary.

The WMU had a very interesting meeting on Jan. 20 with Elizabeth Aebischer of South Salem showing pictures of her trip to Jamaica and surrounding cities and countries. Our February meeting with 15 in attendance was highlighted by our new program chairman, Pearl Pearson, presenting our missionary work more fully.

Short revival meetings with Ernest and Temple Lee, Jan. 27 to Feb. 2, brought many of our church people closer to the Lord.

We would like to welcome several new families. They are: Mr. and Mrs. Vic Barnick (Mr. Barnick coaches our church basketball team), Ernest and Pearl Pearson and daughters Marilyn and Doris; Floyd and Ruby Geil from First Friends in Portland; and Norman and Ruth Ehrlick, with young children David, Daniel and Faith. Mr. Ehrlick is our new song director. May the Lord bless each one of these as they give our church added strength.

S.W. WASHINGTON QUARTERLY MEETING

ROSE VALLEY

Robert and Lela Morrill, pastors

Rose Valley was host to the sessions of Southwest Washington Quarterly Meeting for the first time this January. We were gratified by the large representation, and the time of inspiration and fellowship.

Feb. 6 the church observed a missionary day with Paul and Phyllis Cammack in attendance at the all-day WMU meeting, and for the church dinner at 6:30. They conducted a special service in the evening.

At the monthly meeting, Feb. 5, Genevieve McDaniel, Joe and Louise Carlson and Jean Foley were received into affiliate membership. We appreciate their service among us very much.

The CE spent a day skiing and tobogganing at Mt. Hood Feb. 15. Jean Foley, Reuben and Harriet Aitken and Grafton and Anna White accompanied the group of 14 young people.

The seventh and eighth grade boys' and girls' classes held a party Feb. 4. The teachers, Gerald Lemmons and Louise Carlson, and 20 class members, were in attendance.

The church league basketball teams have been active, the adult team having won six and lost two to date, and the seventh and eighth graders also having won six and lost two.

Howard Fisher is recovering from a severe heart attack suffered several weeks ago.

CHERRY GROVE

John McCracken, pastor

In January the Cammack family spent one Sunday morning with us. Paul brought the message for the worship hour. Each time one of our missionary families visits us we gain insight into the work, and feel closer to the situation at the mission farm and the surrounding territory. How thankful we are for the accomplishments, and we want to stand behind these families called to this particular field of service.

We are having regular work nights in an effort to do maintenance work on our church building. Walls, ceilings, tables, and chairs have been painted in the basement.

The CE had a skating party one evening this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Clark and two young sons are transferring their membership from Spokane to Cherry Grove. We have already come to appreciate their interest and work in our group.

The WMU had a work day this week at the home of Mrs. Will Elmer. Three quilts were tied.

FOREST HOME

Walter and Gladys Cook, pastors

Our CE group is meeting again on Sunday evenings; Walter Cook is sponsoring the group. The young folks joined with Oak Park in a fun night at the high school gym on Feb. 13th and had a fine time. Jack Cadd helped organize this undertaking.

The young adult class met for potluck dinner on Sunday, Jan. 26th in the church social rooms and enjoyed a pleasant time of fellowship. Gladys Cook teaches this group, which has welcomed several new members recently.

Our ladies sponsored a father-son banquet on Feb. 7th at the church; there was good attendance. A fine peppy program was emceed by Allen Hadley, and the main speaker was Bob Benham, also of First Friends, Portland, who intrigued the audience with his magic talk.

Three of our faithful ladies—Maude Howard, Mary Faulkner and Edna Wright—have been ill and unable to attend services.

We have enjoyed two special speakers recently on Sunday evenings—Ralph Lemmons from Rose Valley, and Earl Crosse from Cherry Grove, who gave us a challenging stewardship message.

A highlight of our recent services was the visit of the Paul

Cammack family on Sunday, Feb. 16th. Their presentation of the work and emphasis on a deeper consecration were a fresh blessing.

OAK PARK

J. Earl Geil, pastor

Jan. 18, quite a few from our church attended the Southwest Washington Quarterly Meeting held at Rose Valley.

Jan. 26 we had with us at morning service Mr. R. W. Gepford of the Washington Temperance Association. We all enjoyed his message very much. He was accompanied by his wife.

Paul Cammack, wife and family, returned missionaries from our field in Bolivia, were with us in the morning of Feb. 2. They presented the highlights of this fast growing mission field.

Feb. 6 our WMU met for an all day meeting. Some of the ladies painted in the parsonage, while others did general work. Our union has purchased four nice tables for our dining room in the basement.

Feb. 9 we were privileged to have a large group from George Fox College, the largest group ever representing the college in the history of the church. The choir director was William Koenig. Milo Ross was guest speaker. We all enjoyed the singing very much. Mr. Ross' message and fellowship dinner followed the service.

The senior CE enjoyed a progressive dinner Friday night, Feb. 14. Starting at Mrs. Rose Dycks for the main course, then on to Mrs. Darling's, then on to the church kitchen for desert. There were about 10 attended.

ROSEMERE

Alden and Esther White, pastors

We had a very good attendance at our WMU meeting Jan. 23. We accomplished quite a lot on our quilt blocks. Mrs. Elliott led our devotions.

Paul Cammack and family, missionaries from Bolivia, were at our church Jan. 26 and had charge in both CE and church services. As a result of their visit we all have a better understanding of our work and conditions in Bolivia.

Teachers and officers of our SS held a meeting Thursday, Jan. 30. Our young people's class outgrew their class room so a partition was taken out to give the class more room. Now they can invite other young people to join their class.

We decided to have different classes to take charge of the closing exercises of our SS. The Rose Bud, or nursery class, had charge of closing exercises Feb. 16.

Our present contest will close Mar. 1. Only four more weeks to work. Better get busy.

Several of our members have been in the hospital the past week or two. Some are still in—Stanley Heward Jr. and Mrs. Frazier, husband of Ada Frazier.

BOISE VALLEY QUARTERLY MEETING

BOISE

Waldo Hicks, pastor

On Sunday evening, Feb. 2nd, Ernest Fritschle, missionary to India, had charge of our service. In connection with their work, a film was shown. The burden of this missionary is this, "How shall they hear without a preacher?" We must always remember that some would believe if they had the opportunity. The question is often asked, "What will become of the heathen who never heard the gospel?" This should make us wonder what will become of us if through indifference we fail to support our missionaries.

Elwood Mylander attended the Board of Evangelism meeting in Portland, Ore., on Feb. 13th.

Our pastors, Waldo and Frances Hicks, and Lura Gulley attended the mid-year board meeting of the Yearly Meeting in Newberg the week beginning Feb. 16th.

WHITNEY

Walter P. Lee, pastor

A number of our people attended the leadership training classes which were conducted for six Monday nights at the YMCA in Boise. This proved to be a real opportunity for our teachers and workers.

March 12-23 is the date set for special meetings with Ernest and Temple Lee as our evangelists. We will be glad to have them back again.

Beulah Olson's mother, Ella Beeson, who has been critically ill for several weeks, is reported much better at this time.

We observed Youth Week two Sunday evenings in which the young people participated in the services, Jan. 26-Feb. 2. A banquet was held Jan. 31 to which the young people from two churches were invited—the First Friends church and the United Brethren.

Ernest Fritschle, Youth for Christ missionary to India, was guest speaker at the morning service, Feb. 9.

Ruth Washburn has been in a Boise hospital the past few days for examination and observation and possible surgery.

We appreciate the good work our choir is doing, under the leadership of Arnold Lee. They are busy now preparing a cantata for the Easter Sunday evening service.

Our meeting is conducting a community church survey for the purpose of reaching those who are not attending some other church.

CAMBRIDGE

Quincy Fodge, pastor

Quincy and Eileen Fodge, Ruth Morse, and Edward Tozier attended Quarterly Meeting at Star, Jan. 24-25.

The WMU sponsored the showing of the film-strip, "Twentieth-Century Martyrs," Sunday evening, Feb. 2, to an appreciative audience of 94. The offering of $35.00 was sent to the sponsors, the Missionary Aviation Fellowship.

At our last business meeting it was decided to buy two Oregon Yearly Meeting signs, needed to direct the public to our place of worship. We do have a sign on the front of our building, but nevertheless numbers of people drive past without knowing we are here.

We are expecting to put a belfry on the top of our church to make it more attractive.

We are in need of more room, so a building fund has been started.

A Thursday evening Bible study group for new converts and young married people has been organized. One lady was saved at her daughter's home recently.

The last WMU meeting was held at the Stebbins home. Eight ladies were present.

A potluck dinner Sunday, Feb. 16, was held at the Cutler home, celebrating the close of our SS contest.

Figures show our attendance has increased about 50% the last six months. We hope to double it in the months to come.

GREENLEAF QUARTERLY MEETING

GREENLEAF

Oscar N. Brown, pastor

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fritschle and family were with us in our evening meeting Feb. 9. They brought a challenging message and interesting pictures of India.

Several have been extra busy during February giving our church basement a "new look." Two new SS classrooms have been added and the whole basement has been painted and repapered in some cases. Teachers, students, pastor and all enjoy this new look very much.

On Feb. 23 an open house is planned so everyone can visit our basement after the morning meeting, after which a fellowship dinner will be held in Friendship Hall.

We are looking forward to a very successful benefit auction on Feb. 27. This will go to reduce the debt on our gymnasium. Lunch will be served at noon and all are invited. If anyone throughout the Yearly Meeting is interested in contributing a donation for our school, it would be welcomed.

Feb. 19, the film, "Billy Graham's New York Crusade," was shown during the prayer meeting hour.

Feb. 17 a pink and blue shower was held in the academy Home Ec rooms for Mrs. Philip Lamm. This was sponsored by the Los Amigos SS class.

Feb. 11 an all-day missionary rally of the Canyon County Holiness Association was held at Greenleaf.

ONTARIO

Lloyd A. Melhorn, pastor

We were pleased to have as guest on Sunday, Jan. 5, our general superintendent, Dean Gregory. He spoke a few words and gave a special number in song.

February is SS contest month. The slogan for the contest is "Fishers of Men;" awards being goldfish.

A new SS class was started on Feb. 9 for the young adults. The WMU promoted the re-finishing of the church floor. This greatly enhanced the beauty of the sanctuary.

The WMU met Jan. 24 in the basement of the church.

Our church was host to the Greenleaf Quarterly Meeting, Jan. 30-Feb. 2.

A watch night service was conducted on New Years eve, commencing at 8:00 p.m. with a potluck supper. The program included films, games, and concluded with devotions at midnight.

Three directional church signs are being placed at the city limits.

HOMEDALE

Willard Kennon, pastor

Homedale is still on the map even though we haven't put in an appearance in this column. There were the usual parties and programs during the holidays.

The Boys Club reorganized in December. Their meetings are held in one of the exhibit buildings on the fair grounds. Willard Kennon, Fredrick Arnold and Mac Parkins are the leaders and sponsors. They are using 4-H material as their project with a period of spiritual instruction. A new organization in our midst is the Young Couples' Bible Fellowship. They meet every Thursday night for study and social time in their homes. Homedale is proud to be 7th in the Yearly Meeting six month SS average attendance.

Ten men gathered at the church for a work day, and removed several trees on the church grounds. This is the first operational step towards the new addition to the church.

Revival services, with Denver Headrick, of Portland, as our evangelist, will be held Feb. 23 through March 9th.

Bessie and Ray Barnes, Glen and Fannie Beebe combined pleasure with business to visit relatives and attend board meetings the weekend of Feb. 20th.

RIVERSIDE

Robert Morse, pastor

The Brotherhood meeting was held at Riverside on Jan. 27. Merle Green, pastor of the Melba meeting was the speaker of the evening.

Following the morning service on Jan. 26, a farewell potluck dinner was given honoring Shirley and Eugene Gallivan—long-time residents of this community. The WMU, which met the following Wednesday at the parsonage, also honored Shirley. Refreshments were served, and a gift of appreciation and love was given her. She had helped much in the missionary activities, and had also served as teacher of the adult SS class for a time. The Gallivans moved to Meridian in early February.

Our meeting is looking forward to revival services to begin Feb. 26 and continuing through March 9. Ernest and Temple Lee are coming as our evangelists, and Clair and Marie Howard will have charge of the music. Cottage prayer meetings are being held and we earnestly covet your prayers that the power and presence of God will be very manifest through the saving grace of Jesus.

INLAND QUARTERLY MEETING

SPOKANE

Floyd Dunlap, pastor

March 16-20 is the time that has been set for a series of evangelistic services with Rev. Orville H. Kleven, of Eugene, Ore., as special speaker. There were evidences of revival among the church members during the past weeks, when our pastor brought a series of messages on the Holy Spirit.

A series of membership training classes has been started, introducing prospective church members and interested outsiders to the history and working of Friends.

The WMU met on Feb. 13 at the home of Mrs. Robert Phillips. Following a report on the Navajo Indians of Arizona by Mrs. Katherine Wilhite, and a devotional period led by Mrs. Beverly Kelly, a light lunch was served to the 12 ladies present.

Mr. Warren Smith is recovering from hand and leg injuries that resulted from a fall from a tractor last winter.

Several men of the church have finished plastering the basement rooms. Another classroom has thus been made available for use.

ENTIAIT

Kenneth L. Eichenberger, pastor

The WMU has been having weekly meetings to make up for the time lost in apple harvest. We have quilted a quilt as well as doing other things.

Two carloads of our folks went the 200 miles to Hayden Lake, Idaho, for our Quarterly Meeting. We are glad that Hayden Lake has progressed so well in their church building. We had our January-February family night on Valentine's Day. Attendance wasn't very good on account of the basketball tournament.

Geneva Eichenberger, Alice Hadley and Bertha Jones attended board meetings in Newberg, going on the train, and Dr. Earl Barker bringing them home. Geneva's little granddaughter, Ronda, came home with her for a week's visit.

We are making progress in getting ready for our 50th anniversary. The P. U. D. has paid us for the church. Now the problem is to get a suitable place to put the church and parsonage.

Mas Bluhm and her son have moved here from Holly Park and have begun attending services.

Seems like we are having coast weather, with the warm rain and no snow.

QUINCY

J. Harley Adams, pastor

Seventeen from Quincy attended Quarterly Meeting at Hayden Lake. Our young people won the attendance banner, which encouraged them. It was a blessing to all who attended.

We enjoyed a fellowship dinner the 9th of February in our annex with a good number in attendance. We felt the time of fellowship was very profitable, with new folks getting acquainted. Many expressed their desire to have more times of fellowship together.

We have started a cradle roll with Hazel Lyon as cradle roll superintendent. We have five new babies on the cradle roll at present.

We were encouraged with our first cradle roll call, as the lady expressed her desire to come back to SS with children.

We are glad to report one of our new ladies was saved Sunday night in church.

Our WMU is busy making baby clothes. We were glad for our new lady that has been coming to our WMU.

A girls quartet was formed from our young people's group, and brought a special number to an evening service. Our young people have been coming more regularly, and want to take part in things now, for which we are very glad.

EAST WENATCHEE

W. Preston Mills, pastor

Our SS attendance has been averaging around 60, and morning and evening worship services show an increased attendance. Some new families have moved in and some in the community are becoming interested.

We are nearing completion of our basement unit and hope to be completely done by Easter.

Mrs. Laura Lewis, of Sacramento, visited Preston and Nancy Mills during the Christmas holidays. She is Nancy's mother.

Mrs. Frankie Martin has returned from Newberg, Ore. to live with her daughter and son-in-law, Roland and Alfreda Anderson.

The Keith Smith family, who have moved near Dryden, took a 10-day vacation in Colorado during February to visit Keith's parents.

The pastors, and Everetta and Sandra Wilks, and Judy and Emily Smith, journeyed to Hayden Lake Feb. 7 and 8 to attend Quarterly Meeting. Dean Gregory and Fred Baker visited in the pastor's home on Monday, Feb. 10.

Dr. Joseph Harrison, a local orthodontist, spoke to our evening meeting, Feb. 16, in the interests of Child Evangelism Fellowship.

The WMU was privileged to have Geneva Eichenberger, our Quarterly Meeting WMU representative, speak to us at our January meeting held at Mrs. Ralph Kellogg's home. At our February meeting Miss Solomon representing WGM spoke to us about her recent trip to Mexico.

NEWBERG QUARTERLY MEETING

NEWBERG

Charles A. Beals, pastor

The wiring has been completed and the lathing started in our new annex. Laurence Skene is superintending the lathing job and using volunteer help.

Prayer meeting leaders have included Rosemary Skene, Jamie Sandoz, Arthur Roberts, and Charles Beals.

The Brotherhood and the Boys' Club sponsored a father-and-son supper and program in the church basement on Tuesday, Jan. 28.

The "Seminaires," men's chorus from Western Evangelical Seminary, presented a program of sacred music in our church on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 2. Wilmer Brown was director, and Mrs. Wilmer Brown was accompanist. Dr. Paul Petticord spoke. Mrs. Petticord drew a chalk picture during the singing.

Milo Ross spoke to the SS on Jan. 26 on the subject of going to school. Esther Smith told the missionary news to the SS on Feb. 2. One of our Bible film strips was shown to the SS on Feb. 9.

The Julia Pearson Missionary Society met at the home of Fern Roberts on Jan. 27.

The WMU met with Marie Haines on Thursday afternoon, Feb. 13.

Jerry Carr, our SS superintendent, has presented some Bible quizzes, and also the books of the Bible with the letters mixed up for us to straighten out.

NETARTS

Clair Lund, pastor

Special meetings were held Jan. 5-12 with Ernest and Temple Lee. Several victories were reported.

A study of Colossians has been completed at prayer meeting. Ephesians will be taken up next.

A discussion period for adults is being held at the CE hour. Anyone may present questions.

SS attendance is usually in the sixties.

The Florence Thomas chapter of the WMU held an all-day meeting at the church Feb. 13th to work on quilts. Nine were present.

CHEHALEM CENTER

Scott and Grace Clark, pastors

Dean Gregory brought us the message Sunday morning, Jan. 26th, and he stayed for dinner at our church social, which was right after service.

Barbara Shires was given a bridal shower Jan. 27th in the church basement. Around 50 young ladies and women attended and she received many useful and lovely gifts.

WMU met at church Feb. 4 for a clean-up day, to get ready for the Quarterly Meeting.

Ernest Fritschle, a returned missionary from India, and also head of the Youth for Christ there, showed pictures Wednesday evening, Feb. 12th, of his work in India. He told how he wants to continue. May God bless him in this great work.

The senior CE had a social gathering in the church basement the 13th.

Sunday morning, Feb. 16th, Rev. Ron DeBock, who preaches for the deaf, gave a very interesting demonstration of how he talks (in sign language). He sang several choruses to the children.

Several of our SS officers and teachers attended the workshop classes and addresses at the Sherwood Friends church Feb. 18-21.

TIGARD

Orville Winters, pastor

A group of local business men recently formed a corporation and purchased 25 acres to be developed as industrial sites. They predict complete development of these sites in six months time. This should bring several hundred more employees into the Tigard area.

The average church attendance for the month of February was 30.

Denver Headrick will hold special meetings at Homedale Community Friends Church in Homedale, Idaho, Feb. 23rd to March 9th. After the meetings he will do some field work in Idaho for George Fox College.

Sunday, Feb. 16th, the Student Christian Union cabinet of George Fox College attended our service and presented us with a check of $100.00 for our building fund.

We are sorry to lose David and Audrey Mirgan who have moved to Newberg. We hope another dedicated family will replace them soon.

SPRINGBROOK

Herbert Sargent, pastor

Several from here took advantage of the SS workshop held at Sherwood Friends Church. Several new ideas were brought home for us to use in our SS.

The church surprised the Sargent family with a food shower on Feb. 12, following prayer meeting.

We dismissed on Sunday evening, Feb. 23, to join with West Chehalem and Chehalem Center in the final service of the SS workshop.

Several from here enjoyed the Quarterly Meeting held at Chehalem Center.

The junior CE had a progressive party on the afternoon of Feb. 15. About 16 were present.

Mrs. Glen Mills had the misfortune of wrecking their new '56 Chevrolet in a head-on collision. Both cars were badly damaged, but Ruth was not hurt badly. We are thanking the Lord for His protecting hand over her.

The young married people's SS class had a potluck dinner at the Glen Mills home, following church Feb. 9.

Glen and Ruth Mills are the new CE advisors.

We miss Marion Clarkson and family in our services. They moved to Idaho to help his brother on his farm.

PORTLAND QUARTERLY MEETING

FIRST FRIENDS (Portland)

Gerald W. Dillon, pastor

Gerald Dillon was one of the workers at Linfield College in McMinnville from Feb. 10-14. During the religious emphasis week our pastor's tasks were speaking, teaching and counseling.

Pastor Jung, of Korea, was speaker at the Marie Chapman Missionary Union. Kara Cole and Karla Field were co-hostesses. Virginia Smith gave two book reviews at the WMU. Forty women attended.

Because of increased attendance we have purchased some new portable screens to make more classroom space in SS. Under the supervision of Bob Benham our men are installing an acoustical ceiling in the basement.

The Ambassador and Corbin SS classes provided the young married people's class with a dinner Feb. 14 because they were losers in a membership contest. There were 95-100 attending.

Babies recently dedicated to the Lord are Delynn Field, Esther Fox, Sheryl Puckett, Martin Millage, Alan Hicks and Rena Fox.

We had 346 in SS on Friendship Sunday. Following the morning service there was a time of fellowship and refreshment in the basement. SS attendance has averaged 344 for January and February.

A new basketball team has been organized. It won its first game. The older team has played eight games and won five of them.

MAPLEWOOD

Douglas Brown, pastor

First event to be held in new annex was early Valentine party held Feb. 9 by the young people. The building was warmed with electric heaters in lieu of better heating facilities which are in the planning.

We have been greatly blessed by having some of our needs met in a wondrous way. Just recently an organ, a piano, and a much needed range have come our way. For these and other blessings we give thanks.

Howard Harmon and family were guests at the evening service Jan. 19. Howard brought an inspirational message.

On Feb. 9 the SS enjoyed Carol Belles present an interesting object lesson.

Jan. 23 starts a new SS attendance contest with awards going to SS teachers with highest SS attendance. Teacher classes and workshop held at Sherwood have been enthusiastically attended. A number agreed it was the first workshop of this type they had ever attended.

Praise notes—for the recovery of Daisy Way from a prolonged and exhausting illness. For the steps forward taken by several of our young people.

TIMBER

Max Zell, pastor

We at Timber are encouraged by the increase in attendance. Up until Dec. 15 our highest attendance had been 28. On Dec. 15 we had 55 and on Dec. 22 we had 69.

Since Christmas Dean and Viola Repp from Second Friends in Portland have been directing handcraft classes for the young boys and girls, and we have been averaging slightly more than 28. We have a need for men and women, as most of our local attenders are high school age and younger.

There are plenty of places to live, and the local school could use Christian teachers for the next school year.

Timber Friends probably will remain as a mission station for quite a while, but until we see it as a full pledged church it can be a lighthouse for sin darkened souls.

PIEDMONT

Myron Goldsmith, pastor

Miss Sophia Townsend was honored on Homecoming Day at Cascade College recently, in an outstanding program by the junior class. Announcing "This Is Your Life," the juniors "recreated" Miss Townsend's many years of service at the college. A host of former associates and friends were materialized for the occasion to bring greetings.

Ronald Palmer, senior at Jefferson high school, in north Portland, was recently elected student body president. He is active in Youth for Christ and Bible Club activities of this area.

Paul and Phyllis Cammack were with us Feb. 2, for an inspiring evening service. Their message as a family group gave us increased vision of our Bolivian mission.

Mrs. Edna Kuba, W.G.M. Nisei missionary to Japan, brought a very stimulating missionary message in prayer meeting last month. Her pictures, exhibit and deep evangelistic concern was a real means of blessing to our church.

Our young adults class enjoyed a Chinese dinner at the parsonage Feb. 15. About 35 were on hand for the occasion.

Members of the Vancouver, B.C., Youth for Christ, were with us for a vesper service Feb. 2. About 100 young Friends of the Portland area gathered for the service, and were released in time to attend their own churches that evening.

HILLSBORO

Frederick B. Baker, pastor

Hillsboro Friends church marks the culmination of two years of praying and planning in the coming of Joseph Harris, converted Jewish evangelist from Canby, Ore., and W. Irwin Heinrichs, CBMC song leader from Cedar Mills, for its pre-Easter revival services, March 9-23, with services every night excepting Saturday at 7:30 p.m., and at 11:00 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. on Sundays. Pre-prayer services will be held each evening in the youth chapel of the church, to the right as one enters the foyer. Hillsboro church welcomes the attendance of Quakers in the area during these services, and especially asks for the prayers of everyone.

PUGET SOUND QUARTERLY MEETING

AGNEW

Peter Fertello, pastor

Peter Fertello took his SS class skiing and sledding on Hurricane Ridge Jan. 25. Each took a sack lunch and had a wonderful time.

Each family participates in the Sunday evening service on the third Sunday of the month.

Mrs. Roy Mead is now home after spending nearly a week in Shelton, doctoring.

On Tuesday evening, Feb. 11, Rodger Petroff was rushed to a specialist in Seattle for an eye injury. We are thankful to report it will be all right.

Ernest and Temple Lee were here for revival services Feb. 4-9. Although there were no altar calls, the flannelgraph and children's stories were presented in a beautiful way, and it was a joyous time. It was an unusual ministry, and the presence of the Holy Ghost was felt throughout the meetings. The average was 38. Leonard Johnson of the Christian Business Men's Association blessed us with song on Thursday evening. On Sunday Boy Scout Week was observed.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Kell are the proud grandparents of a girl born Jan. 29 to Herb and Ryllis Keil of San Antonio, Texas.

EVERETT

Leroy Neifert, pastor

Visitors in our meetings the past month have been Dean Gregory, who brought the message and sang for us on Feb. 2; and Temple Lee, who attended our women's prayer meeting on Feb. 4.

Doris Tesberg has been welcomed into our SS teaching staff. She has the beginners. Our SS attendance continues to be on the increase.

Clara Frazier and Patricia Neifert gave Valentine parties for their SS classes. Both parties were very well attended, and the children report an excellent time.

We miss Peggy Wills who has gone to California for three months. Dorothy Roberts is taking her place as SS pianist.

The WMU had a work meeting and tied a comforter, besides having two regular meetings, one at the home of Emma Wicklund and the other at Ada Ricketts.

Thelma Cook and Flora Jones have each spent some time in the hospital, but are at home now and much improved.

Three carloads of young people attended the Quarterly Meeting CE rally at Seattle Memorial. Plans are under way for organizing CE's in our church for the intermediate and young people's groups.

Birthdays honored at the fellowship dinner were Martha Therrian, Leroy, and Charles Neifert. A beautifully decorated angel food cake was cut by Martha Therrian.

FRIENDS MEMORIAL

Paul E. Goins, pastor

The Quaker Men have been busy this past month working on the interior of the church. Many hours were spent sanding and refinishing the platform floor. This was finished in time for Quarterly Meeting, which was held at our church the first weekend in February.

Our SS contest came to a thrilling climax on Jan. 26 as there were exactly 100 in SS. The Blues, led by Ted Eichenberger, obtained the most points during the six-week contest, and were honored at a banquet given by the Reds on Feb. 8. After a fine dinner, the Reds, led by Don Smith, provided entertainment and devotions.

Each Sunday during the month, a group stayed after the morning service to do visitation. After a sack lunch, brief instruction and prayer, teams of two left the church to call on those of the community. Visitation month closed with Church Loyalty Week and "Fill the Church Sunday" on March 2.

Our pastor held a week of meetings at Holly Park, and in his absence, the pulpit was filled by Ethel Cowgill and Kay Goins on Feb. 9, and Dick Hendricks and Wendell Woodward on Feb. 16.

The Day Unit of WMU met the first Wednesday for their luncheon meeting at Elsie Hadlocks, while the Evening Unit continued work on a quilt for Bolivia on Feb. 17 at Clara Rose Childs' home.

HOLLY PARK

Dillon W. Mills, pastor

Holly Park has been experiencing a real revival. Nearly three weeks of prayer chain around the clock preceded a week of cottage prayer meetings. Much good was accomplished in the hearts of many participants. The prayer effort was climaxed by a week of meetings, with Paul Goins as the evangelist.

WMU met at the home of Pat Helland. After the regular business meeting, the program was dispensed with, and a prayer meeting was held as part of the special prayer emphasis. Marilyn McMannus was appointed new program chairman, since Pearl Rarick moved to Centralia.

SS attendance still has not climbed back to where it was before the sickness epidemic, but it is improving. Two Sundays in this month have been devoted to visitation by the SS teachers.

SS Superintendent Dorothy Stephens presided over a recent meeting of the teachers and officers of the SS. She presented a very interesting object lesson on the things that must go into making a successful SS. She used the ingredients for a cake, and then the group sampled the finished project. A tape recording of part of the SS convention was given, which included an interview with Dr. Henrietta Mears.

McKINLEY AVENUE

William Murphy, pastor

The special meetings being held by Ernest and Temple Lee, of Stafford, Kan., are proving to be a blessing to everyone attending. There is something new and interesting at every meeting for all ages.

A "baby bunting" contest is taking place in the SS. The names of 54 babies have been submitted to Mrs. Bessie Kyles, cradle roll superintendent, to be placed on the cradle roll. A "getacquainted tea" for the mothers of the babies was held at the church and was a very happy occasion for everyone. The entertainment consisted of guessing games about babies and advertised products for care of babies. A big "thank you" goes to all those who helped make the tea a success.

Illness is still causing a big drop in SS and church attendance, but we hope we will soon be on the uphill trend again.
