TROUT SEASON IN THE NORTHWEST

A REMARKABLE CONVERSION

ANOTHER ADVENTURE IN SOUL WINNING

By Hubert C. Mardock

THE revival was gathering momentum and interest. In connection with the evening services, weekday meetings were being conducted in the church. A fine group was attending, not only from the membership of the local church, but from the other churches of the town. We were doing our best to present the glorious gospel of salvation from the guilt and from the power of sin.

The power of the Spirit seemed to be especially manifested in the day services. One evening in his announcements the pastor emphasized the day meetings, encouraging people to attend, and then added, half laughingly, "If you sinners don't want to get saved, you'd better stay away from these meetings, for if you come we'll get you sure." Although the pastor had made the announcement half jokingly on his part, yet the Holy Spirit was to use those words and that challenge in a mighty way.

About that time a cheap road show had moved into the little town, unpacked its goods and set up its tents. The leading lady, who was also the owner of the show, was a rather young woman and quite attractive, but extremely hard and wicked. Some one relayed to her the pastor's challenge, and she answered it with a counter challenge, "We'll show those people a thing or two. We'll run that revival out of town."

The very next day during the song service at the church the door opened, and who should walk in but the woman herself in dress and make-up, which was a bold and glaring demonstration of the life of sin she was leading. She walked daringly down the aisle until she found a pew near the front. Here she sat down with an air of insolence and defiance, her very bearing seeming to say, "All right folks, come on now, let's see what you can do." But she had not reckoned with the One whom she was to meet that day—not the pastor, not the evangelist, nor the church board, but God, the One who by the word of His mouth spoke worlds into existence, and whose power can break the hardest heart.

We did our best to bring, in a straightforward manner, the gospel message while we lifted our heart to God in silent prayer that He would find His way to the very center of that life. As we preached we sensed the fact that God was surely answering prayer. The message finished, the congregation stood to sing that old song, "Just As I Am." I saw the tears start from this woman's eyes and begin to flow down her cheeks, forming little rivulets through her make-up. There was a battle royal going on in that troubled heart.

Some of the dear old saints began to pray mightily that the tide of battle might swing toward victory and the salvation of that poor sinful soul. Although the devil's grip was tenacious, by the time we were well into the second verse of the song, with a choking sob, she ran to the altar of prayer and began to plead for mercy.

Now when Satan had searched all earth and hell, and had boiled down and condensed the venom of the pit, the worst accusation he ever could bring against the Son of God was, "This man receiveth sinners." And so He does. This is just what He did that wonderful day. When the lady stood to testify, it was that old things had become new. She confessed to the church that she had purposed to run the revival out of town, and asked their forgiveness. The next day the tents were taken down. The show packed up and left town, bag and baggage.

INTRODUCING A

NEW MISSIONARY COUPLE

By Walter P. Lee, President Board of Missions

THROUGH the printed page we wish to introduce to you Charles and Charlotte Scott, of Oskaloosa, Iowa, newly appointed missionaries to Oregon Friends Mission field in Bolivia.

Charles and Charlotte Scott are members of Iowa Yearly Meeting and are strongly evangelical, deeply spiritual people. The Lord has been preparing these Friends to meet a definite need on our field, and they have had a growing concern which has become a definite call of the Lord to enter this field of service.

Charles Scott has had broad experience in agriculture, having been a highly successful farmer in Indiana before accepting a call in 1945 to direct the demonstration mission farm in Tennessee under the American Friends Board of Foreign Missions. While directing this agricultural project, he was employed by the county school board to teach in the "on-the-farm training program" for returned war veterans, and at times conducted refresher courses for vocational agricultural teachers. Before the close of the term of missionary service, he transferred his efforts to the building of a fine mission chapel using volunteer labor.

During this time of mission service, Charlotte Scott pastored the mission church, did some nursing, directed home economics work, taught home nursing, substituted in the schools, and managed the hot-lunch program in the schools for two years.

Following a five-year term of service in Tennessee, Charlotte Scott, who is a recorded minister, was called to the pastorate of the Friends Church at Westfield, Indiana. Charles was employed by the Foster-Kendall Seed Co., of Carmel, Indiana, as foreman of seed corn production, but later gave his full time to the church as assistant pastor and in the construction of a splendid new parsonage.

Since 1954 the Scotts have been connected with William Penn College, Oskaloosa, Iowa, where Charles has been the superintendent of buildings and grounds, rendering highly commendable service, including the supervision of the construction of the splendid new gymnasium.

Charlotte has served as spiritual counselor at the college, engaged in evangelistic work in Iowa Yearly Meeting, and is now dean of women. She has also served as a nurse's aid one summer at a hospital in Oskaloosa.

Charles Scott has been a Sunday school teacher for the past 18 years, engaged in preaching as a layman, and has been serving as treasurer of Iowa Yearly Meeting for the past three years.

The Scotts have a son and daughter who are married. While these Friends are not quite so young as most first-term missionaries, they are so well qualified to meet the urgent needs on our Bolivian field, have been so definitely led of the Lord to enter our work, and seem to be in such good health, that the Board of Missions feels the direction of the Lord in this appointment.

With both the Chapman and Willcuts families returning home this year and planning to remain for some years at least because of other spiritual concerns and health needs, and with future fur-loughs of other missionaries in mind, it becomes imperative to place new missionaries on the field to maintain the size of the present staff. It seems essential to keep six missionary families on the field to care for the Bible Training School, the mission farm, the day school program, the Yungas work, and the affairs of the mission in La Paz. Extensive evangelism and expansion into new areas open to us will call for a larger staff. With the Paul Cammack family returning to Bolivia to direct the Bible Training School, and the return of the Forrest Cammack family at the conclusion of their specialized short term, it is necessary to bring into our staff more help for the farm and Bible School. For this Charles and Charlotte Scott are ably prepared, and we thank the Lord for meeting our needs.

The Scotts are planning to be in attendance at our Yearly Meeting sessions this summer, and may possibly have a short time preceding Yearly Meeting to visit some of our meetings. They will be leaving the last of August for three months' study in the language school in Costa Rica, and then on to Bolivia.

With the exception of the Cavit family, which is supported through the World Gospel Mission, this is the first time that the Lord has provided missionaries for our field from outside our Yearly Meeting. The lack of opportunity for the members of the Yearly Meeting to become better acquainted with the Scotts causes regret, but we believe that God's people will rally to the support of these Friends both by prayer and finances. These missionary appointees will need funds for outfitting, travel and support on the field. If the Lord gives you a concern to assist, send funds to the Yearly Meeting treasurer, Roger M. Minthorne, Rt. 1, Box 389, Lake Grove, Oregon. Above all, pray.

N.A.E. Convention

By Frederick B. Baker

THE Sixteenth Annual Convention of the National Association of Evangelicals was held April 14-18, 1958, at Hotel Sherman, Chicago, with "Christ in You, the Hope of Glory" as the theme for the entire convocation which brought well over 1,000 people to a number of the gatherings, and a paid registration of 942 delegates, the largest ever reached.

The theme, "Christ in You, the Hope of Glory," from Colossians 1:27, was integrated into every phase of the convention program, whether it was expressed through the Christian, praying, planning, worshipping, fellowshiping, believing, discerning, inspiring or acting.

"True Ecumenicity," or "The Spiritual Unity of Believers," was the key note message on the opening day of Dr. Paul P. Petticord, president of the National Association of Evangelicals for the past two years. The president stated that "the evangelical faith is the spiritual nucleus upon which the Christian character of the nation must be rebuilt" if America is to retain world leadership.

He acknowledged the current conflict between evangelical Christianity, "for which thousands have been willing to die behind the iron and bamboo curtains," and Russian Communism, which "poses a threat to all the religious free world."

Turning to the American scene in the Christian churches, Dr. Petticord referred to the resurgence of evangelical faith based on acceptance of the Bible as the Word of God, after a half-century of conflict between liberalism and fundamentalism.

"Liberal theology attempted to strike fundamental Christian principles from the thinking of the youth, and it was the resolute preachments and sturdy defense and courageous living of faithful Christians that hastened to chasten arrogant liberalism," he said. He then took issue with some churchmen who believe that the day of controversy in theology is over.

"The new approach is to include the evangelical as a part of the whole without limiting him in his expression of a personal witness, but at the same time carefully guarding this liberty lest it should begin to dominate and then added:

"Theological liberalism attempted to destroy evangelicalism; now neo-orthodoxy wants to 'contain' evangelicalism."

He said the most popular method of limiting the evangelical witness is "the placing of the evangelical in compromising positions while complimenting him on his fundamental theology. This is happening today in denominational and inter-denominational circles. The sad part of it is that while a few evangelical leaders are so generously treated, the rank and file of lesser influential evangelicals are denied such privileges. This is all clearly evident when we enter the field of comity arrangements, and radio and television broadcasting."

Dr. Petticord said the rapid growth of the new, younger churches in America at present is an indication of the resurgence of evangelical strength, as is also the popularity of Dr. Billy Graham's message. The movement of the National Association of Evangelicals is another indication of the resurgence of evangelical strength. The NAE with its 41 co-operating denominations, its affiliates and commissions, serving in many areas of church ministry, is a strong indication that the requirements of the thinking of church bodies has necessitated the birth of such an organization.

The NAE was said to have a three-fold distinctive ministry to evangelicals. It is a service organization, a fellowship of believers, and a means of identification.

SOMETHING HAS HAPPENED TO ME

Something has happened to me!

I cannot exactly tell how,
But into my life such a wonderful plea
Came pressing. I'm different now.

Something has happened to me,

I cannot exactly tell when,
But little by little I wakened to see
My life had been wasted till then.

Something has happened to me,

I cannot exactly tell why.
But, deep in my heart, a voice insistently
Said, "Turn ye! For why will ye die?"

Something has happened to me,

What happened—God tells in His word;
My Saviour has sought me and set my soul
free,
His voice was the voice that I heard.

Jesus, my Saviour divine,

I know what has happened to me:
Thy wounded hands won me and now I am
Thine.

Oh, keep me, Lord Jesus, with Thee.

—S.M.M.

(Suggested by the confession of an awakened young person, who unable to explain the experience said,

"Something has happened to me.")

HEACOCKS IN BOLIVIA

(Editor's note.—Everett Heacock and his daughter, Virginia Helm, have been spending the month of April touring South America. Their most important stop of course was in Bolivia, where our mission field is located. Everett has kept a diary each day, recording in detail their activities. We are glad to present to our readers the record of one day's activities, which the family has made available to us.)

April 13.—This is the day I have been looking forward to, but had no idea how it would turn out. Read on and you shall see: After assembling the paraphernalia for the trip, including two outboard motors, two cans of gasoline, literature to give out, lunch, life preservers, etc., we (Ralph Chapman, David Thomas, Jack Willcuts, the three Indian Christian boys whom we took along to talk Aymara to the Peruvians) left at 9:00 a. m. for Waukie, five miles from the farm. Here Ralph had to get papers permitting us to cross the lake into Peru. Here also is where the boat is kept. We left Ralph at the officer's office and drove on down to the lake so we could have the boat loaded by the time Ralph got there. I say we, but you know I am the official photographer, so I had to take pictures of the boys loading the heavy motors and other stuff, so of course I didn't have time to help. Sorry! It wasn't too bad for Ralph either, as he got down to the boat just as the last of the stuff was loaded on. Jack Willcuts returned to Copajira (the farm), as he had to introduce their new native pastor. He promised to be back after us at 6:00 o'clock.

The boat is very comfortable with enclosed cabin which has padded cushion on the seats, and room for a number of people and the tape recorder, which has an hour of singing and message in the Aymara language, which with the loud speaker attachment can be heard over a mile out into the fields and hills. Turning on this equipment as we near a landing is the signal for people to come running from all directions. I was sorry Virginia didn't go with us, but Marie thought best for her not to go as all that went were men. She also was given a part in the services for the missionaries' children. As we sped at about 20 miles an hour over the very smooth lake, Ralph, David and I had a good chat and I learned quite a lot about the lake and the churches already established in the 28 islands within the Bolivian district. The lake is the highest navigable lake in the world (13,000 feet altitude), is 75 miles wide and 120 miles long. Large boats ply from one port to another, and fishing is an important industry. Across the lake, which ordinarily takes two hours to cross, lies Peru which is the destination of our trip today, where are countless thousands who have not been touched by the gospel of Christ. There is a wonderful opportunity to establish a Quarterly Meeting there and eventually to extend our work indefinitely if the missionaries had the proper equipment to carry the work on.

This would require another good sized boat which Marshal Cavit says he can build, with an inboard motor which would be faster and less expensive to operate, and would be easier to manipulate through the weeds that grow on the bottom everywhere near the shore. They also need a boat house at Waukie where the boats could be locked up, alleviating the necessity of taking everything back and forth from the farm each time they go out on the lake. It would require not less than $2000 to complete this project, but it would be a wonderful incentive and help in carrying out this wonderfully new and important project. The place, not just the vision, is right here. The door is open. It is up to us of Oregon Yearly Meeting to lead the advance. After initial meetings are established, as is being proven in Bolivia, the natives will eventually accept the responsibility, and it will be a valuable addition to this South American Friends work. This method of extending the churches through the use of consecrated, Bible School trained native preachers, is the most effective and least expensive method devised. Again I say it is a challenge to us who want to see our money do the most for the least.

As we are nearing the shore of Peru David tested out the tape recorder and loud speaker. Two men in balsa boats who are looking for fish to spear are being passed. There is quite a settlement near the shore, and as we go ashore I see a red shirted man coming on a bicycle looking very interested. I learned he had heard of our coming and had come many miles out of the hills to hear the message. We took him and his bicycle with us to the next stop, which was on his way back. Along the shore among the weeds are many wild ducks and other waterfowl. As the loud speaker continued with song and message people commenced coming from all directions, some of which I took by telephoto lens as they came, eager to hear the gospel perhaps for the first time. One old man and his wife, or mother, came and wanted us to hold a meeting in his home. Ralph told him to pass the word around and he would be back in two weeks. Everyone was very much interested and received the tracts and gospel of John in their language eagerly. The Indian preachers were constantly talking to them in Aymara as they handed out the tracts. As this is harvest time many of the people who were in the fields did not come down to the boat. One man came to within 50 or 60 feet, but no closer, hiding behind high grass most of the time. But they all could not help but hear the message on the loud speaker. Next trip no doubt there will be many more as word is passed from mouth to mouth. May God help them as they receive additional light. These people never can hope to live in our temporal standards, and probably wouldn't if they could, but they can and many of them have received Christ in their hearts and live on the same spiritual standards as we. That is all that counts in God's sight.

One of the three Christian Indians we brought with us has been pastor of the Copajira (farm) church for two years and is a worker on the farm.

He feels that God wants him to major in agriculture and visit the homes of unbelievers, personally giving them the gospel and leading them to Christ. We have been here an hour and a quarter and are now moving on. The men pushing the boat with oars until we get out into deep enough water for the outboard motors to run. I am thrilled to now have witnessed the presentation of the gospel to people who have heard it for the first time. As I reflect on this experience I am thinking of the millions of others not only in Bolivia and Peru, but all over the world who are waiting for someone to bring them the good news of the gospel.

I was reminded by Ralph that they do run into opposition which is usually quite severe at first, but eases up after the people understand the purposes of the missionaries. I was very soon to see this fact demonstrated in a very serious way.

We are now passing some fishing boats. Really just balsa boats with sails and some without sails. Altogether there were probably 15 or 20 boats which followed us to shore as the music and message of the loud speaker attracts them. There are a great many more people here than at our first stop, and many came running to the boat. The Indian boys waded ashore and began giving out tracts and talking to the people, but soon called for Ralph and David to come ashore as an important looking man was talking and gesturing excitedly. It turned out to be an official who wanted to see our papers, and after showing him the papers he took them over the hill to his superior's office to have them stamped. Ralph was glad to have contact with this official, because the missionaries had received an O.K. from the consul in La Paz and had been in the territory several times they had never contacted the local official and gotten his O.K. As they left with the official, walking to the town of Copari where the head man lived, which was much farther than they or I knew, they left me in charge of the boat. Of course the three Indian boys were with me, so I wasn't worried. Soon many of the Indians were climbing over the boat, but as the three boys were outside with them I knew they would look after things. The freshman Indian from the school came into the cabin where I was and I handed him a sandwich and some carrot slices. I was impressed when he dropped his head to give thanks before eating. We had just started eating our lunch when Ralph and David had to go, so they hadn't finished. The former pastor just came in and got his lunch which had been put up for him. People on shore have scattered and are in small groups in various places no doubt waiting Ralph and David's return so they can have a service. As I sat in the boat cabin awaiting Ralph and David's return, which to me already had been far too long, I turned to my Testament to the 2nd verse of the 10th chapter of Luke which reads, "Therefore said he unto them, the harvest truly is great, but the laborers are few; pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest that he would send forth laborers into his harvest." Surely the harvest is before me right here where I can see it. I pray God that more funds and more laborers may be sent into this ripe field.

2:40 p.m.—Ralph and David have not returned. Two important looking men, whom I later learned were police, have come up and are talking very urgently to the three boys and me. Of course I couldn't understand them. One of them keeps writing in a pad, another has just come up. Finally the three boys waded ashore and tried to get me to go with them, and the officers also gesturing and talking to me in Spanish. However, I insisted I had to stay with the boat, I expected every moment they would come and take me by force. Of course I was praying like I never prayed before. I didn't know what had happened to Ralph and David, and didn't know what would happen to me. Finally as they couldn't get me to move, the Lord answered my prayer and they suddenly took the three boys and the whole crowd left, except one policeman armed with a large knife who stood on the shore for some time. I am in the boat alone. I don't know what will happen next. Just God and the boat and I will hold out until something happens.

3:10 p.m.—The boys have been gone about two hours. Now the officer is taking off his shoes and will wade over to the boat. I guess this is it. I don't like the looks of that big knife. Maybe I will be towed off to the klink. I don't know anything about running the boat. Somehow I wasn't scared, as I trusted God for deliverance, so I got up courage as he started climbing in and motioned him into the cabin. I quickly offered him some of Ralph and David's lunch, which he ate with relish. I gave him a sandwich, some stick carrots, and a piece of cake to keep him occupied. All the time he kept talking to me in Spanish. He wanted to know about the tape recorder, and then began looking at the literature. I opened a Spanish Bible to the 4th chapter of 1 Peter and he read it through. I read with him out of my testament. I didn't know what to do next, but looking out the window to my great relief here came Ralph and David and the Indian boys with the police officers. Even the head man from the village was with them. They seemed in a happy mood. They got into the boat and Ralph informed me that everything was fine now that the officials understood who we are and our purpose in coming. So as they wanted us to take them for a ride on the boat which we did for about 20 minutes. They were very jovial and seemed to appreciate the cruise.

Upon leaving the boat they shook hands all around, and as the officer who was in the boat with me shook my hand and bid me good bye twice, I gave him the Bible I had given him to read. I told him to read it, that it would make a good boy out of him. I don't think he understood, but he will know if he reads it. I told Ralph to tell them that they scared me half to death, but they were a pretty good bunch of fellows after all. I was thankful to have a part in the completing of arrangements which now will make it easy to evangelize this section of Peru. The head man told Ralph and David that they were welcome to come any time they liked with

Board of Evangelism Challenge

NEEDED, 100,000 BABIES

By Frederick B. Baker, Field Secretary

EVERYBODY loves a baby, and I want to talk about the need of one hundred thousand babies in the next twenty years.

I have just returned from Chicago where I attended the sixteenth annual convention of the National Association of Evangelicals from April 14 to 18, 1958.

It was a great privilege to be sent to Chicago by the Board of Evangelism of Oregon Yearly Meeting to attend the Evangelism and Church Extension Commission sessions of NAE and to absorb everything possible on the subject of church extension over America.

Nine packed hours were spent in listening to reports of new babes being born all over the land in the Church Extension Commissions held from 8:15 a.m. to 11:15 on Tuesday, April 15, Wednesday, April 16, and Friday, April 19.

From many areas of church life came unprecedented stories of new babes being born. Several reports of more than one a day for an entire year. I gasped, and so would you if you had been there. One group tabulated 437 babies last year, and another enthusiast told of 365. "458 in 58" is the slogan for a third aggregation of people for the present year.

What kind of babies am I talking about anyhow? I am talking about church babies. May I report to you now about babes born within the folds of our four different denominations as it was related to us at Chicago?

FROM THE INLAND EMPIRE

We heard tell of a new baby being born in the Conservative Baptist Church in Spokane, Washington, formerly served by Clate Risley of the National Sunday School Association, but now pastored by the Rev. R. H. Gibbs.

"We felt we should start a new baby church on the edge of the fastest growing area in the Inland Empire," said the pastor who continued: "When I mentioned it, some groaned, others said, 'We are in a recession,' and this I heard, 'We are in debt, pastor,' but we went ahead, and in three months time we had a new baby church going, and its income that first month was $600.00. We gave up five families to nurse the new babe along, but in less than one year we had five families who took their places." It was reported that for the first month they had 60 in Sunday school, 40 in church, and 33 out for mid-week prayer meeting.

"Start a new church and have a million-dollar experience for a thousand dollars," stated Rev. Gibbs. "The law of reproduction applies to individuals and churches alike," said this preaching enthusiast. Now they are planning for another babe in another section of the fast growing Inland Empire. Divide and multiply is a law of God, and it is working in the Pacific Northwest.

FROM THE POPULATED MID-WEST

Rev. Arthur Bray, Wesleyan Methodist pastor, told of taking over a church in Oak Park in Illinois. He started with twelve people, and three of them opinionated trustees who wanted to close shop, sell the building, and go out of business. In eight and a half years they have built this church to a place of real stability, and at the same time have given birth to four new church babies. "Church extension is my consuming passion," said this man of God who told of a publicity stunt that worked in which he purchased a "Homburg hat," "a dilapidated old bus," and went driving down the streets advertising his Sunday school and church. He related that one man got so enthusiastic that he put $15,000 from wages into the new enterprises. Another man sold his home and invested half of the money in church extension work. Now, after giving birth to four new babes, this church still has more members than they had before. "Divide and multiply," is their cry.

AMONG THE SCANDINAVIANS

Rev. Harold Erickson, from Rockford, Illinois, stated that the Evangelical Free Church has had growing pains in this city, which is said to be the strongest Scandinavian city in America.

They raised $16,000 for their first babe.

They expended $18,000 when the second child arrived.

An investment of $25,000 was necessary for the third child.

"You can read more about this in the February 1958 issue of Christian Life," said Pastor Erickson of the Evangelical Free church of North America.

NOW WITH THE MISSIONARY CHURCH ASSOCIATION

Fourth panel speaker was Rev. R. Bingenberg, of the Missionary Church Association, who told of going into a rapidly growing sub-division with a returned missionary as the new pastor. All labor was donated on the building which cost $9,000, and which was worth $20,000. This group used a combination parsonage-church as its first unit. This church, which started in March, 1957, already has an option on a plot of land for the starting of another new church. They are following the Evangelical church extension pattern in

ITEMS OF INTEREST

LYNWOOD GROUND-BREAKING

Architect Don Lindgren's final plans for Lynwood's first building unit have been accepted. Ground breaking ceremony is planned for the afternoon of May 4th on the church property at S. E. 162nd and Taylor Streets. Walter Bolitho has been chosen as the contractor.

Most of the $15,000 bond issue has been sold. There are still some $100 and $50 bonds available. At 5% interest they are a good investment. Information concerning them may be obtained through the Yearly Meeting office or by contacting the pastor, George Palmer.

NOTICE: BOLIVIAN SHIPMENT

Send or bring all items to be included in the next shipment of baggage to Bolivia to: Isaac Smith, 912 E. Sherman, Newberg, Oregon. It helps to have all items well marked for whom, and from whom. Personal items for the Cammacks should be in by June 18. Mission items and those for other missionaries should be in any time up to the close of Yearly Meeting, August 20.

It has been the policy to ask each one who sends in items for Bolivian shipment to pay for the costs of shipping. The costs per pound of the many shipments has varied, depending on the rates they obtained and the nature of the shipment, as well as the compactness of the items. At present from ten to fifteen cents per pound will cover all costs in getting various items to Bolivia. All who send goods are encouraged to send in fifteen cents per pound, since this is ample to cover freight on any item, and in practically all cases allows some margin to help pay freight charges for which no money comes in, such as donated goods from outside sources, outgoing missionary freight, and mission-ordered goods.

The yearly cost of freight shipments to Bolivia is a big item. Any additional gifts of money to help in this would be received with great

MAPS OF

BOLIVIAN MISSION FIELD

Due to the fine work of two young couples of Oregon Yearly Meeting, the Mission Board is happy to announce that maps of the Bolivian Mission Field are now off the press. After making a careful study of official and military maps of Bolivia, Paul and Phyllis Cammack combined that with their own knowledge of the country to produce a very fine original map. From this original, Stanley and Shirley Putman, of First Friends, Portland, did the art work and made the necessary layouts for the printers. Stanley Putman is a commercial artist and his help has been invaluable. Many hours of work went into this project, and the Mission Board expresses its gratitude to the Putmans and Cammacks for making this possible.

STANLEY AND SHIRLEY PUTMAN

The maps are of good size and appear in three colors. They are very attractive and give a comprehensive view of the work. Copies will be sent to the various meetings with the hope that they will contribute much to the understanding and interest in the OYM mission program.

—Gladys Cook, chairman of Map Committee.

MINISTERS' CONFERENCE

The annual Ministerial Conference was held April 7 to 11 at Redmond, Oregon. All sessions were held in the Community Presbyterian Church. The ministers and their wives stayed at the Redmond Hotel.

The conference began on Monday evening with a challenge brought by Willard Kemmon, outgoing president of the Ministerial Association, on the necessity of realizing the urgency of our ministry.

Gerald Dillon spoke on the pastor's private life and the pastor's public life based upon the advice of Paul to Timothy. Dr. Arthur Roberts gave two presentations on "The Hard Sayings of Jesus" during the expository hour. Oscar Brown spoke on "New Power in Our Prayer Meetings."

Dr. Alvin Roberts spoke to the group on the Church Extension Foundation. Yearly Meeting concerns were presented to the ministers by Dean Gregory. During this session, the Parsonage Women held their meeting under the direction of Fern Mills, president. Program chairman, Frances Hicks, presided over the discussion of ideas designed to help parsonage women in their everyday living.

As an added feature to the conference this year, two outside speakers were obtained. Dr. Mildred Bangs Wynkoop, professor at Western Evangelical Seminary, and Dr. Edison Habegger, president of Cascade College, each brought three messages. Dr. Wynkoop spoke on the subject of preaching holiness, while Dr. Habegger brought the inspirational messages.

During the conference a prayer room was open at all times for quiet meditation. There were also special periods of prayer during the meetings. These days of retreat were times of rich inspiration and blessing to the approximately 100 people who attended at least part of the conference.

The annual business meeting was held on Thursday afternoon. Part of every afternoon was reserved for recreation and relaxation. Helen Willcuts was the cook for the group.

GREENLEAF ACADEMY

The month of April finds the Academy knee-deep in various activities. The first of the month brought to a close the school and church revival services with Rev. Roy Clark, from Friends Bible College, Haviland, Kansas, where he is the head of the music department. His Holy Ghost-led messages and music was an inspiration to all, and many students found new victory.

The junior play, "Paint the Town Pink," was presented April 14 and was considered a success. Several musical groups were entered in the district Music Festival held April 10, 11, 12. Two entries received a one rating, and the Academy choir, directed by Mrs. Gwynn, received a two.

Thursday the 17th was the night of the annual twirp party which the boys at least enjoyed. For you who don't know what a twirp party is, it is a party to which the girls ask the boys, pay expenses, furnish transportation, and open doors.

Friday night, the 18th, was the choir and band concert with the theme of "April Nights."

A new student, Linda Hollenbeck, has moved with her parents from Missouri and is now attending the Academy.

PORTLAND QUARTERLY MEETING

Portland Quarterly Meeting met April 25, 26, 27 at Piedmont Friends Church. David Fendall was the speaker at the Ministry and Oversight meeting on Friday evening. He brought a concern based on Eph. 5:14, "Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light." He stressed the need for the church today to be alert to the needs about us, and to be living witnesses for Christ in seeking to bring the lost to Him.

At the worship hour on Saturday the speaker was Scott Clark, pastor of Chehalis Center in Newberg Quarterly Meeting. His text was 2 Sam. 24:24, "... neither will I offer burnt offerings unto the Lord my God of that which cost me nothing."

The speaker during the missionary hour was Gladys Cook, a member of the Yearly Meeting Board of Missions. She told of some of the special projects of the mission work, and also presented the new maps of our Bolivian mission field.

At the 4:30 period George Palmer gave information on the bonds which are being sold to help finance the construction of the new Lynwood Friends Church. Allen Hadley showed colored slides of the location and the area where the church will be built.

During the next period Richard Swisher, chairman of the Quarterly Meeting Finance Committee, presented Robert Morrill who gave us information on the proposed United Budget for next year, and encouraged each church to make proportionate monthly payments to United Budget and Fixed Expense so that they will not be behind at the end of the year.

At 6:00 the host ladies served a wonderful dinner, after which the business meeting was held.

The Christian Endeavor rally was held Sunday afternoon with Orville Winters as speaker bringing a splendid message on the theme, "Christ's Touch." Whatever Christ touches is changed.

SOUTHWEST WASHINGTON QUARTERLY MEETING

The seventh session of Southwest Washington Quarterly Meeting was held April 19 at First Friends Church, Vancouver, Wash. The opening period of the day was devoted to a consideration of the needs of George Fox College ably presented by Dean Williams. The Quarterly Meeting was happy to welcome Herbert Sargent of Springbrook who gave the message at the devotional hour.

The highlight of the day was a panel presentation by four laymen on the topic "How We Can Improve our Church Business Meetings." This panel was first presented on Thursday evening to the Ministry and Oversight. It was so well received by this body that it was requested that it be presented again Saturday morning for the whole Quarterly Meeting.

Members of the panel were Gerald Lemmons of Rose Valley (moderator), Robert Dickson of Oak Park, Alfred Neal, and Don Lindgren of First Friends Vancouver who spoke in order on the subjects: (1) the Importance of the Discipline (2) Following the Discipline correctly (3) Speaking to Business (4) Responsibilities of the Officers.

In introducing the subject, Gerald Lemmons emphasized the fact that the Discipline contains the statement of faith, and that it is the only human source of authority for the conduct of business by the local church. He suggested that knowing the Discipline enables participation on the Quarterly and Yearly Meeting levels, and increases understanding of and interest in the work of the church.

Robert Dickson presented the argument that correct business procedures are easy to develop and that there is no excuse for carelessness in God's business. Following the Discipline correctly also secures uniformity in action among the churches.

Alfred Neale emphasized the fact that the philosophy underlying the Friends plan of conducting business is the same philosophy that directs the entire life of the Christian. Meetings need to be reminded that guidance from God will be granted if sought. When such guidance is received, the resulting unity will dissolve the partisan spirit which results in majorities and minorities. Thus, votes in Friends business meetings are discouraged. The duty of each member to exercise his right of "speaking to business" was urged for "it is a matter of collective action to find the mind of the Lord."

Don Lindgren ably discussed the various duties of Monthly Meeting officers and their qualifications. He underlined the need for the presiding clerk to possess spiritual discernment. His main job is to listen to the discussion in order to determine the desires of the meeting, to be impartial, and to keep business moving. The importance of good records kept by all officers and committee chairmen was stressed. Attention was called to the importance of the nominating committee and its great responsibility. It was urged that more time and prayer be taken for the work of this committee.

Members in attendance at Quarterly Meeting were edified by this presentation and were encouraged to study the Discipline more carefully.

BROTHERHOOD

Many of the March Brotherhood meetings were privileged to have Kenneth Antone, an Indian evangelist, and John Kearns, a Quaker pioneer missionary, bring very inspiring and challenging messages.

Did you know that in these United States there are still Indians praying to trees, rocks and images? Why? Because no one has ever told them about the true God and His Son Jesus Christ.

I would like to call your attention to Article 2 of the Constitution of our Brotherhood.

"The object of the organization shall be to deepen the spiritual life of the men of Oregon Yearly Meeting, and to bring them into a closer fellowship, and to quicken their interest in the work of the church.

"The further object shall be to promote definite projects, home or foreign, which shall be agreed upon by the executive committee and passed upon by the meeting.

"A further object shall be to encourage prayer, Christian stewardship—including time, abilities and possessions—and the deepest Christian experience possible."

When we consider the work of the church yet to be done, and the many here at home and abroad who have not heard the gospel story, have we failed in our objective? Are you doing your part?

There isn't much news on the Holly Park project. They are still short of funds. The city is planning their sewer for them. As soon as the plans are received the sewers will be put in. We are praying that sufficient funds will come in for this.

—Walter King, vice president

SECOND FRIENDS PORTLAND.—This past month has been a busy one for our C.E. The young people sponsored a pre-Easter revival for both us and the adults. Dean Kenneth Williams from George Fox College was our evangelist, and Bud Mardock was in charge of the music. The first Sunday afternoon of the revival the C.E. had visitation, after which there was a time of fellowship in the church basement. Bud Mardock spoke to us during the C.E. hour. On Easter Sunday most of the C.E. 'ers went to the sunrise service then came to the church for an Easter breakfast. That night in C.E. Dean Gregory spoke to us, just before the last service of the revival. We are looking forward to the spring formal banquet for the graduating classes.

AROUND GEORGE FOX COLLEGE

BENEFIT RECITAL

Miss Caryl Jean Short, instructor of piano, will present a benefit piano recital on May 14, at 8:45 p. m. in Wood-Mar auditorium. The entire proceeds will be used in the piano replacement fund.

Three new practice pianos are urgently needed for use by students in the Music hall. The three needing replacement are in such condition that they are beyond economical repair. Any person having or knowing of anyone who would be interested in donating or selling at a very reasonable price to the college, either a grand or upright type, it would be greatly appreciated if such a person would notify President Ross or Mrs. Mary Hazelle, head of the music division, at once.

STUDENT RECITALS

Three student recitals are scheduled for the month of May.

A voice, piano and organ recital will be held on May 7 at 8:30 p. m. On May 21 at 8:30 p. m. Faye McCord, organ, and James McDonnell, piano, will present their senior recital. May 30 at 8:30 p. m. Joyce Hester, Newberg, senior soprano, major in music, will be presented in a voice recital with Faye McCord as accompanist. All recitals will be held in Wood-Mar auditorium.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Alfred T. Sulmonetti, Circuit Judge for Multnomah County, has been selected by the senior class to be the Commencement speaker June 1, at 3:00 p. m. in Wood-Mar auditorium.

Prior to his appointment by the late Governor Paul Patterson in 1954 as Circuit Judge, he carried on a private law practice for 20 years.

Judge Sulmonetti graduated with an A. B. degree from Drake University in Iowa, and received his LL. B. in 1935.

Besides being an elder in the First Christian Church of Portland he is teacher of the adult Bible class of 150 members.

The Baccalaureate address at 11:00 a. m. at the Newberg Friends Church on June 1 will be given by T. Eugene Coffin, a 1935 graduate of the college and pastor of the Alamitos Friends Church in Garden Grove, California.

He will also be the speaker at the annual Alumni banquet held in the college dining hall Saturday evening, May 31, beginning at 6:30 o'clock.

ACCREDITATION PROGRESS

On Wednesday, April 23, Dean Thomas Kerr, of the University of Idaho, and serving in his capacity at the Executive Coordinator of the Higher Commission, visited our campus and spent the day with the faculty and administration in outlining the impending steps to be taken in the accreditation process. As now outlined, the process will take the next year, during which time a complete study of the college in all its departments will be undertaken. This is done following criteria set up in what is called "A Guide for Self-Evaluation and Accreditation of Higher Schools."

According to the information gained from Dr. Kerr, and by the cooperation of other school administrators, we understand that this is a very involved and serious procedure, costing a great deal in time and money, and may necessitate additional help in the college office.

Dr. Kerr was quite insistent that a better financial situation must be forthcoming, and that steps should now be taken to increase the salary scale.

END-OF-YEAR FINANCES

Under our present system of auditing, it is impossible to know the exact financial picture until all accounts can be assessed, and the amount of the endowment can be figured in. However, if it becomes necessary, we may ask a number of substantial alumni and friends of the college to underwrite a portion of the accounts on or about July 1. Other colleges have been following this procedure for years, keeping the books open for some days following the actual end of the fiscal year, and then doing their best to make up the lack.

It is very important for us to do all we can to keep the budget in balance for moral reasons, in order not to increase the debt, and to show a satisfactory situation to the accrediting committee. This is the last full year of operation before the committee comes to evaluate us in April, 1959. This annual audit will be of especial importance.

We are appealing, then, to all alumni, churches, and friends to seriously consider the claims of George Fox at this time. The time between now and about July 10 will be very crucial in the history of our school. Please pray and give.

NEWBERG DRIVE TO BEGIN MAY 15

The progress of the Newberg Drive as part of the over-all Debt Liquidation Campaign has elicited a great deal of interest and enthusiasm. For the first time in history the city as a unit is actually staging an official drive through the Chamber of Commerce to help lift the college debt.

At a meeting of the committee held recently in the chambers of the United States National Bank, it was unanimously agreed to put the solicitation part of the drive into effect on or about May 15. The committee itself is working on general lists of donors, while the college office staff helps to engineer the entire procedure. Friends are encouraged to remember this part of the campaign in their prayers.

To date progress of the campaign has now reached the $100,000 mark, for which we praise God and thank the many donors throughout Oregon Yearly Meeting, alumni, former students, and friends throughout the world.

VIEW BOOK

A George Fox College eight-page View Book was a part of the recent March-April issue of the college BULLETIN. The View Book edition went to all prospective high school seniors on our mailing list. Additional copies were printed and will be made available to any high school student interested in knowing more about the college. Alumni, former students, and ministers may have additional copies for student solicitation upon request from Director of Public Relations, George Fox College, Newberg.

HEACOCKS IN BOLIVIA

no restrictions, except they will have to come to his office each time with papers for him to stamp. That is a regular procedure when departing from any town and entering another. I prayed while waiting that what ever might happen some good would come out of it. It surely did, as everything they wanted worked out, and by my stubbornness, and not knowing their language, I at least saved the boat. As we leave at 3:50 for Waukie (that's not the way it is spelled but is pronounced that way) Ralph is standing at the steering wheel outside the cabin and sticks his head in the door and says, "Now you sure have something to write home about." "Yes!" I said. "I am glad to be able to write home." Well, that's the story as it happened. Hope you like it. I read my notes of the experience to all the missionaries last evening assembled in Willcuts' house. They got a big laugh out of it, but were all thankful everything turned out so well.

NEEDED, 100,000 BABIES

America—"Reproduce your kind; divide and multiply."

Out from this Evangelistic and Church Extension Commission came the heart cry that 100,000 new churches would be built during the next 20 years if the Lord tarries. Last year $868,000,000 was spent in church buildings, and it will average $1,000,000,000 a year for the next five years.

Needed! One hundred thousand new churches in America preaching the old fashioned gospel of the Son of God. This means that the same number of pastors and Sunday School superintendents are needed. It will include one million new officers and teachers, and should include twenty million born again believers. It will take twenty billion dollars to do the job.

Said Rev. Jared F. Gerig, chairman of the commission, "I have a serious feeling that America is the last in God's list of nations to carry the gospel message forth, and if we fail judgement will fall and the end will come."

KANSAS PASTORS' ALLIANCE

The Pastor's Alliance sessions of Kansas Yearly Meeting were held in the Friends Church, at Tulsa, Oklahoma, April 14-17. Milo Ross, president of George Fox College, was the guest speaker. Mr. Ross' messages were inspirational, and served well as an arrow to direct Friends pastors in a constructive, evangelistic and practical ministry. The two main concerns of the guest speaker were: "The Mission of Friends," and "What Constitutes the Christian Ministry." The ministers were challenged to a deeper appreciation for our church—its history and our mission.

Paul Barnett ably gave an exposition of the Epistles of John. Other subjects of interest considered were: Visitation Evangelism and the great needs of our mission field in Africa. Five missionaries who are home on furlough were in attendance, as well as two others, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Bales, who are under appointment to go to Belgium this summer for schooling in preparation for work on our foreign field.

Robert Hutson, pastor of the new congregation at Enid, Oklahoma, was elected president for the coming year.

FOR SALE.—In Greenleaf, Idaho, one acre of property with new two-bedroom home, carpeted front room, birch cabinets in kitchen, full basement with two bedroom, bath and recreation room completely finished. Coal stoker heat. A garage, barn and chicken house combined. Located on oiled road. If interested write Morris E. Ankeny, Rt. 2, Caldwell, Idaho.

Everett Heacock and Virginia Helm being introduced to the Bolivian Yearly Meeting by Ralph Chapman.

AMONG THE CHURCHES

PORTLAND QUARTERLY MEETING

HILLSBORO

Frederick B. Baker, pastor

Pre-Easter revival series at Hillsboro Friends church with evangelist Joseph Harris and song leader W. Irwin Heinrichs from March 9-23 was one of the high peaks of the entire year. Revival theme was that of the sanctified life. The church was greatly encouraged in new zeal for future conquest. Average attendance was 53 for the entire 15 services, with a low of 21 and a high of 90. Results were gratifying.

In cooperating with "The Standards of Excellence" goals of the Yearly Meeting Board of Christian Education the SS reports a 45% increase in attendance for the first nine months of the church year. Committee on Christian Education sets its goal to see a 50% increase by the end of the year on June 30.

The Teacher's Training Course is helping the Christian Education committee and the SS to work towards a capacity SS in the days ahead. The educational unit has been designed for a school of 200. Departmentalization in the SS, visitation and plans for a DVBS are all on the agenda for greater growth and efficiency.

FIRST FRIENDS (Portland)

Gerald W. Dillon, pastor

Several young people from the membership training class and adults who have been members since the beginning of the year were welcomed into membership on Easter Sunday.

We had 441 in SS on Easter Sunday. Our 1958 SS attendance averages 310 to compare with 1957's 264.

Our pastors reported a time of spiritual refreshing at the Redmond ministers' conference. Dick and Joan Logan stayed at the parsonage with the children.

Gerald Dillon spent April 14-21 at the NAE convention in Chicago.

Sharie Lovegren has been chosen top girl music student at Franklin high school. She is a member of the National Honor Society.

April 20 was college Sunday. Milo Ross spoke in the morning services. The GFC choir presented a concert of sacred music at the 7:30 service.

Our missionary conference will begin April 27 with Elmer Kilbourne speaking at the opening service. It will be held six days.

Pat Evans and Karla Field were co-hostesses at the Marie Chapman Missionary Union. A tape recording of the Four Flats was enjoyed. Beatrice Benham reported on Quarterly Meeting WMU rallies to the day-time WMU.

MAPLEWOOD

Douglas Brown, pastor

A goal of "100 by Easter" was accomplished by counting down to the smallest nose. We pray this influx brought about by the Easter program will not drop too sharply, but will show the result of much calling and inviting done the last few weeks.

Many congratulations were received by the SS for the well performed Easter program of recitations and music. Marjorie Brown directed the singing and accompanied one especially lovely number on her violin.

Paul Heywood, teacher of the junior boys' class, won the SS contest recently with close to a 90% attendance. Leon Pruitt, also teacher of a junior boys' class, came in a close second. Girls, take heed!

Special evangelistic meetings are being well attended. The meetings started April 13, closing April 20, with Marlin Witt of Nampa, Idaho, as evangelist. He is the guest of Geneva and Walter Bolitho.

A gas furnace has now been installed in the church, which also heats the annex, giving both a more even heat.

PUGET SOUND QUARTERLY MEETING

EVERETT

Leroy Neifert, pastor

The highlight of the past month here was our observance of Easter Sunday. We were most gratified that a large number of the parents were present to enjoy the program presented by the children during the SS hour. Each class took some part in the program and several numbers were sung by the junior choir. During the worship hour the GFC choir gave their sacred concert. The church was filled almost to capacity and many expressions of appreciation for the very fine concert were voiced.

After the concert a ham dinner was served to the choir in the church basement, with Mrs. Dudley Pierce acting as hostess. Mrs. Pierce is the mother of Gerald Pierce, a member of the choir. Ladies of the church assisted in preparing the meal.

On April 13 the birthdays of John and Clara Frazier, former pastors, were honored in the morning worship hour. A poem, "It's Service that Measures Success," was read by Elva Neifert, and Shirley Pierce sang, "He Bought My Soul at Calvary," dedicated to the Fraziers.

The sign on the front of the church is being renewed with a fresh coat of paint. This is a project of the high school SS class.

McKINLEY AVENUE

William Murphy, pastor

On Easter Sunday evening we were privileged to hear a sacred concert by the George Fox College choir. The singing and testimonies of this group are always a great blessing.

Mrs. Guy Talmadge has gone to New York for an extended visit with her daughter and her family.

Naomi Martin and Barbara Janson were home during spring vacation. Other out-of-town visitors the past two weeks were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Perry of Spokane; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Groenig of Oswego, Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. Philip Harmon and Sandra, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Harmon, Jr., and Judy, Marilyn and David, all of Oregon; and Mrs. Vallen Olson, who has been away from this community for several years.

Robert Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Perry, arrived April 20th from Miami, Florida, for a two-week visit with relatives and friends. This is his first opportunity to visit here since moving to Florida 12 years ago. Mr. Perry's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clint Brown and Linda, of Shedd, Ore., are also visiting here during part of his stay.

Our pastor has been given a leave for the next two weeks to conduct special services at Hayden Lake, Idaho.

FRIENDS MEMORIAL (Seattle)

Paul E. Goins, pastor

The men of the church worked hard several nights to re-finish the floor in the sanctuary in time for Easter. We are very grateful to the Woodwards for the new center aisle strip which was also laid the week before Easter.

The five local churches in this area cooperated in a Good Friday service at the Revenna Methodist church. The five pastors spoke on the seven last sayings of Jesus on the cross.

The SS presented a very fine program during the SS hour Easter morning. We were very happy to have the George Fox choir with us in the afternoon. They sang to a full house.

The CE met early this month for an April Fool's party in the church basement. They report having a good time.

We are looking forward to our DVBS, June 9-20. The teachers had their initial meeting this month at the home of Lois Beck, director. Teachers this year include, Peggy Cannon, beginners; Charlotte Emigh and Ruth Palmer, primary; Elletta Eichenberger and Carolann Palmer, juniors; and Paul and Kay Goins, intermediates. Others are helping in music, recreation, handicraft and baby sitting.

We are very happy to welcome as members of our church, Lloyd and Peggy Cannon; and Ted and Elletta Eichenberger, Ronda and Randy.

SALEM QUARTERLY MEETING

SOUTH SALEM

John Fankhauser, pastor

Many from our church attended the meetings of the Salem Spiritual Crusade, March 24-30, with Rev. Samuel Doctorian from Beirut, Lebanon. Rev. Doctorian has an outstanding, Spirit-filled ministry, which stirred the hearts of all who attended.

A film strip was presented during the SS hour Easter morning. A dedication service was held, with five babies being dedicated to the Lord. The Easter day services closed with the showing of the challenging film, "The Centerville Awakening."

Our pastor attended the ministers' conference at Redmond. The Ambassadors class recently enjoyed a skating party. Refreshments were served later at the home of the Douglas Yeaters.

Rebekah WMU met April 17th at Joan Fankhauser's. The group is working on layettes for Bolivia.

Nancy Nordyke has been playing the organ for the Sunday worship services, in the absence of her mother, Eileen Nordyke, who is recovering nicely from her recent operation.

Charlotte Gruber is recuperating at home from surgery on her leg.

ROSEDALE

Donald Lamm, pastor

The revival services held March 5-16 with Oscar Brown, with Richard Zeller as song leader, were a blessing to all. We feel our church has grown spiritually, although we did not see an interest by the unsaved during the services. Two weeks after the close of the revival three were saved in our morning worship service.

Also in March we enjoyed the Paul Cammacks in our meeting. They had charge of both morning and evening services. A time of fellowship and refreshment followed the evening service.

We are thankful for Buck and Jackie Shoop, who have organized a junior church. The attendance has grown each Sunday. May the Lord bless them as they continue in this work.

Easter morning a program was given by the junior and intermediate groups. A baby dedication was held in the worship service.

The WMU ladies met for an evening meeting at the church April 3rd, with Beatrice Benham as the speaker.

April 17 a party was given for the boys' class by their teacher, Ed Jones.

SPRAGUE RIVER

Gerald and Elaine Cronk, pastors

We continue to be encouraged by developments in the work here. The SS attendance through March held as high as the February average, and has gone up some thus far in April.

We thank the Lord for continued attendance of newcomers at the SS.

A new thing in our church experience was the formation of a mixed chorus composed of people of the church and community. This group met a few times for practice and presented a program of Easter music at the Easter Sunday evening service. The program was well received by an audience of about 60.

There seems to be a desire to continue the chorus group, with regular practices for future programs. It is our prayer that this may prove a blessing in the work of the church.

Kenneth Magee's junior class presented a play, the story of Pilate's wife, at the Easter Sunday evening service.

A number of our people are planning to attend Quarterly Meeting at Talent, April 18-19.

TALENT

A. Clark Smith, pastor

Breakfast was served in the church basement to about 50 people on Easter morning. This was followed by morning devotions by the pastor. A program was given during the SS hour.

The choir sang two numbers for the morning worship service. This was their first appearance.

Mr. and Mrs. John Barger presented two children, Johnnie and Georgie, for dedication in the morning service. A film, "Behold Your King," was shown in the evening.

The WMU sponsored the giving of two sunshine baskets to two of our members—one to Mrs. Bruce Paul who underwent surgery, and one to Mrs. George Hartley who suffered a severe heart attack.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyio Tycksen and family have moved to Portland because of a transfer. We miss them.

Our pastor and wife attended the sessions of the ministers' conference at Redmond, Ore. They report a very profitable conference.

The Talent church was host to the sessions of Salem Quarterly Meeting April 18th and 19th. Evert Tuning stayed over and spoke at the morning service. His wife Virena and Thelma Rose also were in the service. Nathan Pierson and wife Hazel were in the Medford services. Nathan spoke at the afternoon service at Ashland.

MARION

Charles Morgan, pastor

Our young people had charge of the Easter sunrise service this year. Immediately after the service they prepared and served a very good breakfast of bacon and eggs in the annex to about 30. The SS presented a short program during the last of the SS hour, and most of the 188 attending stayed for the church service too.

Charles and Gladys Morgan were able to go to ministers' conference, and brought back such good reports of the meeting.

During Charles' absence on Wednesday evenings (because he is attending seminary), the members are taking turns leading prayer meetings.

Russell Pickett and Douglas were received into the membership of Marion Friends church recently.

A speaker system for our mother's room was installed this month and has already been enjoyed by several.

The intermediate SS classes enjoyed an "Egg Head" party recently. The young people spent the evening making table decorations.

Several from here were able to attend the meetings held in Salem by the Rev. Samuel Doctorian.

We are now prayerfully planning for our DVBS tentatively set for a June 2 opening.

EUGENE

Evert Tuning, pastor

Our attendance graph went right off the chart Easter Sunday with a record attendance of 157. The children gave their program at 10:30 and the morning worship service followed at 11:00 a.m. The young people had charge of the evening service.

Palm Sunday evening the Choral-airs singing group of Christian business men, brought us the gospel in song and instrumental numbers.

Barbara Armstrong was hostess to the WMU this month at her home in Cresswell. We were fortunate to have Mrs. Harry Holt, a neighbor of Barbara's, as our speaker. Her fascinating account of how the Lord is using them in bringing the Korean orphans here to love and homes is nothing short of miraculous. Her book "Seed from the East," is very interesting and a blessing to read.

Evert and Virena Tuning, Thelma Rose, Marjorie Simmons and Harold Wilhite attended Salem Quarterly Meeting at Talent and stayed to attend the Ashland anniversary.

The primary, junior and junior-high SS classes enjoyed an evening of skating at the Fern-Ridge Roller Rink this month. Delbert Fowler and George Bales along with teachers, Milford House and Dick Beebe furnished transportation for about 25 who attended.

Work-days and work-nights continue at the church with the classroom and hall area being spackled and painted.

S.W. WASHINGTON QUARTERLY MEETING

FOREST HOME

Walter and Gladys Cook, pastors

Our junior choir still meets for practice each week, and sings frequently for SS or church services, having several songs for Easter. They have also sung in the home of shut-ins.

Easter was a fine day of blessing in our services with special music, a nice program by the SS with a short play, and good attendance.

SS attendance has recently been awarded for faithful attendance for these members: Viva LaFrance for 8 years, and Luella Crisman and Edwin and Betsy Knobel for 7 years.

Larry Barnes, one of our high school seniors, has won first place in the Roadside Safety driving contest held for the two cities here.

Our April meeting of the WMU was held at Joy Brewster's home on April 17th, with good attendance. Song books were mended, and plans for Mother's Day made.

Viva LaFrance took 3 girls of her SS class to Portland for a day "out." She treated them to dinner and they enjoyed seeing the famous penguins, and doing some shopping. Lorel Ann Barnes, Kathy O'Hara, and Carol Wiesman made the trip. We are just beginning our 2 weeks' revival services with Orville Winters and his wife Lois coming to help us.

ROSEMERIE

Alden and Esther White, pastors

A number of our people have been absent recently because of sickness.

Louisa Fich is in San Leandro, Calif., visiting one of her sons.

Visitors to our church during March were Ralph and Mildred Parsons who live at Laurel, Wash., Mrs. Lillie Hendricks and Isabelle Hendricks from Seattle. Lois and Evan Jones, and their daughters were with us for the morning service of March 30th. Dean Gregory was also a welcome visitor that morning.

Exom Elliott was able to be in the service again March 30 for the first time since his illness in December.

Our SS contest closed Sunday March 16th. We were able to raise enough money to almost completely pay for the folding tables and chairs we recently purchased.

About 40 people attended the "music night" sponsored by the Pathfinders on the evening of March 21st. The ladies of the WMU served refreshments afterward.

Several of our children enjoyed an Easter egg hunt on the parsonage lawn April 5th.

A number of our young people attended the Easter sunrise service in the Kiggins Bowl on Easter morning. A good breakfast was served them after the service at the Burnett home.

There 102 in SS Easter Sunday morning! Wouldn't it be wonderful if every Sunday was Easter? 94 of these stayed for church.

OAK PARK

J. Earl Geil, pastor

Our WMU met March 27th for an all-day meeting. About 14 ladies attended.

Mrs. Darling stayed at the Geil home with the children while they attended the ministers' conference at Redmond, Ore.

We were pleased to welcome seven new members into our church April 6: Mrs. Gohman, Gladys Allen, Candy and Don Allen, Gladys Weiss, and Mr. and Mrs. Schirmer.

A large group from our church traveled to Beacon Rock State Park April 6 to our annual sunrise service which we have held for the last four or five years. Over 100 attended the service and breakfast that followed, then returned to our church where a wonderful program was presented. Over 230 were in attendance and enjoyed it very much.

We were glad to have some of the young folks who are away at college with us Sunday morning, April 13.

Mrs. Lois Darling was honored at a pink and blue shower April 11 at the church. Vie Sunby, Alyce Templer, Grace Dickson and Clarice Sunby were hostesses for the occasion. A very nice evening was enjoyed. Refreshments were served to about 28 ladies.

BOISE VALLEY QUARTERLY MEETING

CAMBRIDGE

Quincy Fodge, pastor

Our pastor and wife attended the ministers' conference at Redmond, Ore.

Recently our pastor and his wife and one other person were asked to visit and pray with a sick lady. She was in a critical condition, having had a stroke. The doctor feared she might have another. As prayer was offered Jesus definitely touched her, and today she is much improved.

We expect to have Roy Dunagan of Fairfield, Idaho, with us for a revival May 14 to 25.

Our missionary offering for March was $104, which was about $20 more than the total for the previous 15 months.

Our monthly potluck dinner was held at the Campbell home with 35 people in attendance.

Eighty people were present for the Easter morning service. Eighteen children were dedicated. A program was given in the evening to a congregation numbering 56.

The WMU met April 14 at the Morse home.

Twilight Vespers, by Quincy and Eileen Fodge, can now be heard over KRWG, Forest Grove, Ore. Dial 1570 each Sunday evening from 5:30 to 6:00.

Our SS attendance for the first eight months of the fiscal year was 29. In March, 1958, it was 37.

The film entitled "The Angel in Ebony" was shown in our church on Wednesday evening, April 16.

WOODLAND

William and Mary Harold, pastors

The last service of a two weeks' revival meeting was on Easter Sunday evening. Marlin Witt was the speaking evangelist, with Wayne Piersall the song evangelist. Most of us were drawn closer to the Lord, several of our young people were sanctified, and one boy was saved during these meetings. We are still praising God for these blessings and trusting that the revival fire will continue to burn in our hearts.

During the absence of our pastors at ministers' conference, Wayne Piersall took charge of the services in our church.

An Easter sunrise service with breakfast following was sponsored by the CE. Everyone attending reported a blessed time of worship and Christian fellowship.

Jean Foley spent her spring vacation with her father, Wayne Foley. We were happy to have Jim Aitken of Rose Valley in our services during this time.

Other recent visitors have been Miriam Adams of Seattle, John Adams of Long Beach, Calif., and Mrs. William Adams and little son, Billy, of San Francisco. Jennie Adams is visiting her parents, Pope and Pearl Adams.

We were very happy to have Phil and Georgia Lamm and little son, Douglas, of Caldwell, in the service on Sunday, April 20. They were visiting at the home of Fred and Lela Williams.

NAMPA

Clare Willcuts, pastor

A record SS attendance of 274 was reached on Easter Sunday. The following Sunday phonograph records were broken over the head of Harold Antrim, SS superintendent; Clare Willcuts, pastor; and Helen Morse, Jr. SS superintendent, signifying the breaking of all records.

March 28 the cradle roll mothers were guests at a party held in the church. It was an evening of enjoyment and Christian fellowship.

The old story of the tortoise and the hare has just been rewritten by Nampa SS. Our SS contest just turned the tables with the "Hares" coming in victorious. 140 gathered in the church basement as "guests" of the "Tortoise" side for a dinner—all furnished by the poor, slow turtles. Decorations consisted of rabbits, carrots, and lettuce.

We are now in the midst of an attendance contest with Caldwell. SS superintendents were exchanged, with Harold Antrim going to Caldwell, and Glenn Koch coming over here.

Nampa was host to a SS workshop under the leadership of Gene Hockett and Gordon St. George.

Wilma Roberts Missionary Society was host to the Greenleaf Tina Knight society in April. Japan was the theme of the evening.

WHITNEY

Walter P. Lee, pastor

Our pastor, Walter Lee, and assistant pastor, Laura Shook, were both ill and had to miss the services on March 30. In their absence, Alan Olson, brought the message at 11:00 o'clock, and the young people of the church brought the evening messages.

A special Easter program from some of our SS classes was held during the SS hour on Easter. In the evening service the choir, under the direction of Arnold Lee, gave the cantata entitled, "The First Easter."

On prayer meeting night, April 9, the Ernest Fritschle family was with us. After the prayer meeting they showed a sound-color film and some slides of their work in India. Ernest gave a talk of the work there, after which they were given a shower of items which they need to take back to India when they return.

A farewell "get-together" was held at the home of Sidney and Beulah Olson, April 1, prior to their leaving the following Friday for their new home in Medford, Ore.

Walter and Carol Lee attended the annual convention of the NAE in Chicago, and while there the pastor also took care of some business for the Yearly Meeting Board of Missions.

GREENLEAF QUARTERLY MEETING

RIVERSIDE

Robert Morse, pastor

Several of our group attended Easter sunrise services at Lizard Butte, after which the young people enjoyed an Easter breakfast at the parsonage.

An Easter program was presented in the closing exercises of SS with each class participating.

Paul and Phyllis Cammack were with us on April 13. A potluck dinner was held in their honor after the morning service. Ervin and Muri Hodson are moving to Silverton. They have been such a blessing and help in the church and community. We certainly will miss them, and pray for God's blessing upon them.

We are glad to have the Keith Puckett family attending our services now. Our WMU met with Mrs. Puckett for our April meeting.

HOMEDALE

Willard Kennon, pastor

Our pastor attended the ministers' conference at Redmond, Ore., the week following Easter.

The beginners department held a tea and program for the mothers one afternoon in March. The Easter theme was used in decorations and refreshments.

A family night dinner was sponsored by the Lucy Wright Guild March 14th. It was well attended. The birthday theme was used, with the guests seated according to the month of their birth. The tables were decorated with birthday cakes and seasonal decorations. A program of readings and musical numbers were given by the guests, and a short devotion by the pastor.

We are happy to have Mrs. Nellie Murphy with us again after spending the winter in California with relatives. Golda Stansell has also returned from several weeks' visit with her daughter and family in California.

Guest speakers include Beatrice and Ernest Fritschle, and Gordon St. George.

We miss Lois Beeson and Esther Keister from our services. They are recovering from surgery, and we trust will be able to worship regularly with us soon.

CALDWELL

Richard Cossel, pastor

The Nampa and Caldwell Friends churches are having an attendance contest during April and May. The loser serving the winner. This has brought our attendance up. It makes us all very happy, and increases the need for the new church.

We were glad to have Edwin Clarksons with us, home from college for Easter. We are glad to have all the other visitors also.

We just completed a very wonderful and inspiring revival. Many souls were won for Christ. The home visitation by the evangelists and pastor was greatly appreciated and has much to do with the success of the revival. Many prayers were answered. God is still on the throne. This revival and answered prayer proves it.

We are glad to have Marvin Hall back home with us. He has just completed his six months active duty in the service at Fort Ord, Calif.

Grace Howard had the misfortune to fall and break her leg recently.

We are glad to have the pastor's mother with us for a while helping Esther with the twins.

Work is progressing on the new church. We are very anxious for it to be completed. We need it more and more each Sunday.

GREENLEAF

Oscar N. Brown, pastor

The film, "Centerville Awakening" was shown March 23 at our evening service.

Much blessing is coming to those who attend the different prayer groups in our community. There are eight or nine groups who meet during the week besides Wednesday night.

Our most important news this month is the real revival we experienced. Roy Clark, of Haviland, Kan., was our evangelist. Each morning at 11:00 the academy students would come to the church for their chapel. A special feature, "The Preacher at the Piano," was enjoyed at each meeting. Phil Lamm and Harold Ankeny were in charge of the music, with Agnes Tish and Louise Clarkson at the organ and piano. A youth choir and men's chorus was organized under Roy Clark. They sang at different times during the ten days from March 26 to April 6. Besides all the special music which was enjoyed, the church was deepened with many being saved, sanctified, and taking new ground under the Spirit-filled messages of our evangelist.

On April 3, Roy Clark appeared on television in Boise with his feature, "Preacher at the Piano."

A beautiful and important feature of our Easter morning service was a dedication of babies.

Harold Ankeny led our prayer meeting April 9, in the absence of Oscar Brown, who was at ministers' conference at Redmond.

INLAND QUARTERLY MEETING

QUINCY

J. Harley Adams, pastor

Do to the grave illness of Harley Adams' uncle, they had to go to California. Those who filled the pulpit during Harley's absence were Clarence Scudder of Moses Lake, and Rev. James Havens of Wenatchee. In the evening service the Ralph Kelloggs of Wenatchee showed pictures of Jerusalem and Egypt.

Our contest closed with Entiat in first place, Wenatchee in second and Quincy came in a close third. We feel that the contest was a blessing to our SS and church. We had a good gain in attendance in both.

Ruth and Fred Reynolds, of Nampa Friends church, are here helping in our church while Fred works with Harley.

Our Easter services were well attended, with many new folk coming.

SPOKANE

Floyd Dunlap, pastor

A new attendance record was set in SS on Easter Sunday morning when 166 people gathered to see the all-SS Easter program. Another record fell that morning when 117 were present for the morning service. Because we finally went over 100 in a morning service, our pastor sang a solo on the following Sunday morning.

On Easter Sunday evening the Communicators (young married people) SS class presented "The Challenge of the Cross," a pantomime with readings by Esther Dunlap and Ron Watson. Following was a rendition by Floyd Dunlap of the Easter story in poetry.

Following our revival services with the Klewins of Eugene, Ore., 17 people were received into church membership on Easter Sunday. During the two-week campaign it was a special blessing to see young married people at the altar for the first time.

The young people conducted a recent prayer meeting for the Billy Graham crusade in San Francisco, presenting recordings of Billy Graham and his team.

For the past several weeks Mrs. Maxine Eckley has been confined to Deaconess hospital. She has been suffering from cancer for about eight years. Remember her in prayer.

NEWBERG QUARTERLY MEETING

SHERWOOD

Gordon St. George, pastor

The Sherwood Community Friends Church is on the march. There is never a dull moment. On Easter Sunday our attendance was 232, and a wonderful program was presented by the children of the church. Miss Joyce Hester sang "The Holy City," and our pastor brought a short Easter message. Colleene St. George and Marian Snider, chalk artists, performed while the junior choir sang.

The Home Builders class, one of the classes that won the contest, had its outing on Saturday, April 12. The members took their families, and 51 in all were present for a day of fun. (By the way, this was the one and only perfect day at the beach.)

Our pastor is on a tour of the SS's of the Yearly Meeting. We expect him to be back in about ten days.

We are keeping above our average of 158 in 1958—the total being 160 to date. Our SS is growing in interest and numbers, and we are beginning a new contest—"The Battle of the Sexes"—men and boys against the women and girls. It promises to be interesting.

Our special features in the SS have been very interesting and inspiring. Our superintendent, Mrs. Fanno, is finding new talent in our own group each week.

April 13, a group of about 34 new members were received into the church. This included parents and their children.

CHEHALEM CENTER

Scott and Grace Clark, pastors

Our Easter program was given Sunday morning, as the different ones did their parts, God was with us in a gracious way. We give Him the glory in all that we accomplish each and every day.

Dedication service for our new addition was on Easter Sunday at 3:00 p.m. Dean Gregory was the speaker. He encouraged us to keep on working, and God would bless our efforts.

Several from here attended the service at Springbrook Friends church on April 17th. Rev. Kim, a Korean minister, was the guest speaker.

Robert Fiscus, our assistant pastor, brought the evening message April 20. May God bless Robert as he studies and labors in doing the Lord's will.

WMU met in home of Zella Williams, with 11 members present. The women worked on a quilt to be sent with returning missionaries, and also prepared used greeting cards for the SS's on the mission field.

SPRINGBROOK

Herbert Sargent, pastor

On April 5 the CE group sponsored a "car wash" to raise some extra money. They had a good time, but became very tired by the time it ended.

The SS, under the direction of Ruth Mills, presented a very nice program on Easter morning.

We were glad to have Irwin Alger of Idaho with us on April 13. He brought the morning message.

The WMU was host to the Quarterly Meeting WMU groups and their husbands on April 17 to hear Rev. Kim, a student at Western Evangelical Seminary. We enjoyed his message very much.

Dean Kenneth Williams presented the needs of the college in the evening service April 20.

NEWBERG

Charles A. Beals, pastor

Our church supper honoring those graduating this year was held on Wednesday evening, March 26. Seven grade school graduates, four high school graduates, and nine college graduates were guests of honor. Jerry Carr presided, Paul Mills was speaker.

The SS Easter program was given by the beginners, primary, and junior departments during the SS hour on Easter morning.

The church has a new tape recorder by which shut-ins can hear Sunday morning services. This recorder was given to the church by Thelma H. Green in memory of her parents, Martha and Elmer Green.

The three-hour Good Friday service was held in the Baptist church. The Easter sunrise service was held on the high school field.

Marilyn Winters led prayer meeting April 9, when our pastor was at ministers' conference at Redmond.

Peter Becker, of the American SS Union, presented their work in our church on Sunday evening, April 20, with a sound color film entitled, "Proclaim Liberty."

George Fox College Day was observed on April 20 by a presentation and explanation of the Twenty-Five Dollar Club and an opportunity to pledge.

Our pastor presented a tape recording of a message by Arthur Roberts at ministers' conference to our prayer meeting on April 16.

HOW TO HELP AN OUTPOST PASTOR

Quincy Fodge, pastor of our outpost at Cambridge, Idaho, who, along with his wife, is a very capable musician, has taken on the agency of several musical items, and is prepared to offer them to Friends churches and Friends pastors at a discount.

One of these items is the Wollensak tape recorder. They weigh only 18 pounds and have the fidelity of $600 recorders. They sell for $199.50, plus $7.50 for Vinyl cover. There will be a sizable discount from this price for churches and pastors.

He is also agent for Thomas electric organs, priced from $599 up. For those who want the very best in organs, he is also agent for the Conn, priced from $995 up.
